TOKIO—Marquis Okuma, former Japanese premier, addressiny a meeting today, strongly attacked the plan to exclude Jpanese from America by treaty. The present effort to make restiction statutory, he said, was an act of isfidelity to Japanese-Amedican friendship.

The former premied believed that Washington would be abie to stop California measures by enlisting public opinion of the whole country. If Jopan's appeal to American's sense on international morality failed, the speaker continued, only force, remained. Japan sincerely desired a solution of the problem, he concluded, fearing that otherwise the question would lead up to an outburst of self-sacrificing patriotism for which the Japanese people ade noted.

OFFICERS NOW CLAIM WHITE MAN MURDERED MUSKOGEE PAWN BROKER

Officers Closing in on New Suspect in Muskogee Murder Mystery

SENSATION PROMISED

Blood-Spattered Raincoat Evidence Against Fugitive; Arrest Due Soon

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Nov. 17—With the findisg of a raincoat spattered with blood, in a tumble down shack on the outskirts of the city late today the sheriff's office is certain that the arrest of the slayer of N. Matjasic a pawnbroker is only a matter of hours.

The owner of the raincoat is known the sheriff force declarts. He is a white man and his arresti they said will result in a sensation. Although Ed Dailey Colored is still said tonight that he had been elimiheld in the county jail, officers nated from their reckoning.

Reports that clothing found in his home was spotted with blood were denied.

The raincoat, although comparatively new, had been rent and torn. It was "literally soaked in blool" the officers declared.

Matjasic was found mudered in his store late in the morning of Sunday, November 14. His throat had been cut, his head split open and his skull crushed and there were 21 knife wounds in his body. Diamonds said to b worth more than $5,000 which Matjasic was accustomed to wearing, were missing. The officers, however, have abandoned the motive of robbery and believe the murder the work of a drug fiend.

Nowata Wins State ChampinnshipGame

In one of the fastest contested foot ball games ever seen in Tulsa the Nowata High School team defeated the Booker Washington High School team here yesterday scoring 7 against the home team's 6.

This game settles for the time being at least the long drawn out dispute as to the championship of the state. Whatever the claims of our boys in he recent game at Nowata, it must be almitted now that the team from Nowata has come into the camp of its most formidable rival and pluckd the plum that without question establishes the rightful claimants to the state championship foot gall team.

LONE STAR STATE SETS NEW PRECEDENT IN CRIMINAL PROCEDURE

Texas Supreme Court Saves Life of Colorel Man Sentenced to Die For Assault on White Woman

AUSTIN, Texas Nov. 17—Judgment of the lower court in which George M. Grace, Colored was given the death penalty for an alleged criminal assault upon a white woman in Bexar county was reversed by the court of criminal appeals today upon the grounds that clothes which were stained with blood that had flown from a cut inflicted upon the woman's hand with knife held by her assailant were not admissable as evidence as they illustrated no fact and tended to inflame the mind of the jury. The question of an olibi and the possibility of the woman recognizing the man who attacked her were also involved.

Colored Lad Foils Bold Highwaymen

Atlanta, Ga.—When two masked bandits entered the Parker-Branan drug store at Peach Tree street and North avenue last night and "stood up" 15 customers and several clerks at the point of revolvers, a negro boy crawled on the floor to the safe, slammed the door shut and twirled the combination. He jumped up when a shot from one of the robbers went through the floor at his feet. A large sum of money was said to have been in the safe.

Western Pianist Wins Encomium

(By The Associated Negro Press)

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 19—Lorenpo Cole, pianist appeared in a farewell recital before a large and appreciatyt audience at the Press Club auditorium. Miss Cole whose ability has excited favorable comment, presented a program calculated to tax the powers of an experienced artist. The Schumann Sonata in G Minor, the Chopin G Minor Ballade, and a group of Negro folk songs transcribed by S. Coleridge Taylor, were among the numbers most enthusiastically received. The pianist leaves shortly on a concert tour of seven months' duration.

Millions Now Living and Walking About Upon the Earth Will Never Die and Go Into the Grave

The Best Thing to do Under Present Conditions

The Great World War that came in 1914 has increased the sorrows and sufferings of humankind. Then came a great shortage of food and today actual famines exists in many parts of the earth with a great shortage everywhere and the cost of living mounting higher and higher. There followed the war and the famine a great pestilence the Spanish influenza which took away millions of people from all parts of the earth and now we are advised that the great pestilences of Typhoid and Bubonic plague are ravaging other parts of the earth. Revolutions have caused the Dynasties of several Nations to fall and other revolutions are threatened elsewhere. The Nations are in distress and the leaders and mighty men in perplexity. The financiers are perplexed and disturbed; likewise the business men and the spirit of discontent daily grows worse; the masses of humanity clamoring for their rights and the classes persisting in holding on for theirs. In fact we are in the time described by Jesus when he said: "Upon the earth distress of Nations with perplexity; men's hearts failing them for fear and for looking after those things which are coming upon the earth." (Luke 21:25-26) All these things are evidences of the fact that the old world is ending and is now passing away, preparatory to the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom of Righteousness, and the time is at hand and those obeying righteousness shall have the opportunity to be restored to life everlasting here upon earth,

But bfore these blessings will come to man the fiery trouble must burn itself out. The Prophet of the Lord described the final climax in these words: "For He (the Lord) commanded and raiseth a stormy wind (great trouble which lifteth up the waves (the people) thereof. They mount up to Heaven, they go down to the depths; their soul is melted because of trouble. They reel to and fro and stagger like a drunken man, and are at heir wits end. Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble and He brings them out of their distresses. He maketh the storm a calm one (ends the troublesome times) so that the waves (restless elements) thereof are still. Then are they glad because they be quiet; so He bringeth them unto their desired Heaven.'—Psalms 107:25-v0. But many persons seeing this approaching climax may inquire, what must we do now? Shall we give away our land and abandon it? Our answer is no; that would be foolishness and would serve to no good purpose probably the one who got it would make less use of it than you If we be in business or manufacturers, shall we attempt to gourge people and make all the money we can quickly to save it for this troublesome time? If we own houses shall we put the rent as high as we can and get some money while it is eahy to get? Our answer to this would be no. Money or wealh accumulated under such circumstances would be of no value. He that oppresses the poor will not be in an attitude to receive the favor of the Lord. There is a promise made to those who will deal fairly ani honestly with the poor. It reads, "Blessed is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble The Lord will preserve him, and keep him alive; and he shall be blessed upon the earth (not in Heaven); and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies."—Psalms 41:1-2. Following the scriptural advice, then instead of grinding the poor or oppressing them the proper attitude would be to pay reasonable wedge or a share in the prophets or else not hire any one to labor for you. If you have a large amount of property more than you need asd have an opportunity to aid somebody else then it would be your privilege to alleviate the sufferings of others who are unable to help themselves and especially them to get a knowledge of God's wonderful Plan of Salvation. Another will ask shall I abandon business altogether quit doing anything and just wait until the Lord's Kingdom is establisred? Our answer would be no; if you are gifted in talents along one line pursue that line in an honest way doing as much good as possible to your neighbor and to your fellow countryman,

The great trouble with the world today is that it is running on a depraved basis of selfishness and in utter disregard of the liberties of others. If all classes dealt honestly and fairly there would be no trouble indeed. If the preachers would teach the people the truth; if the financiers and business men would be content with a reasosagle profit and deal honestly with all with whom they deal; and if professional politicians would seek the welfare of the people and not his own interests, the troublesome times would pass away.

Another person may ask well if I be a laboring man shall I make as much trouble as possible for my employer shall I agitate, advocate violence against the classes?,We answer no; there will be plenty of people who will pursue violence. But these are not the ones to whom the Lord makes a special promise. Seeing that we are in the time of distress upon the Nations and peoples of the earth the proper attitude for all order loving people who desire peace and prosperity can be ascertained only by going to the Lord's word. The very purpose of God permitting the truth to come to some is that they may develop the spirit of a sound mind and be a stabalizing influence among the people and to help those who really cannot help themselves. To be one who sees by the eye of faith the meaning of the present distress and others to follow the Lord says through the Prophet: "Before the decreed bring forth; before the day pass as the chaft; before the fierce anger of the Lord come upon you; seek ye the Lord all ye meek of the earth which have wrought in its judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness; it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord'r anger." (Zephaniah 2: 2-3 Those heeding the scriptural admonition will strive to avoid controversity trouble. They will diligently try to do good and not evil. They will refrain from acts of oppression. They will strive to deal honestly with their neigrbors and with all men in general, and they will seek to have a better understanding of this time of trouble, and to learn what it really means, why the Lord has permitted it to come, and what shall follow thereafter.

Those diligently thus seeking to lo the right thing have the promise that they may be hid and carried over through this great time of trouble. They may be of the class described by the Lord's Prophet when he said: "I will bring them through the fire (trouble) and will refine them as silver is refined and will try them as gold is tried. They shall call upon my name and I will hear them; I will say it is my people; and they shall say the Lord is my God."—Zechariah 13:9. Those who are thus brought thru this troublesome time and who will ness the full establishment of Messiah's Kingdom will be among those first to receive the blessing that the kingdom will bring; and when these blessings are thus offered (and they must shortly be offered those who receive and obey the teachings of the Lord will grad ually be restored to health of body and mind, to peace and happiness and be granted life-everlasting on earth forever. These are they who believing on the Lord Jesus Christ as their Redeemer shall never die. It is quite evident that the Lord is now permitting this good news to come to certain good people of the earth to prepare them for the Glorious Kingdom and the blessings incident there to which is at hand.

"Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ. (1st Peter 1:13) The one who now comes to a knowledge of God's Plan, who sees that Jesus is the Great Ransomer of mankind and who earnestly seeks to know and to do the Lord's will may truthfully look forward with great joy to the early establishment of the Great Kingdom for which the Prophets hoped and prayed and of which the Psalmist sang and through which God promised a plessing to all the families of the earth. Not only should every Lord loving Christias man and woman, assume and pursue the right attitude toward his fellow creaures but all to the extent of their knowledge and ability of the coming and establishment of the Kingdom of peace and righteousness should tell the message of good news to others that their hearts also might be comforted.

The Inter Church World Movement has willingly and voluntarily abandoned the doctrines and invited the people to feed upon the husks; but let everyone who has a Bible seek the doctrines therein contained that his heart may be glad. Let each one who possesses THE STUDIES IN THE SCRIPTURES written by that wise and faithful servant of the Lord Pastor Russell get them down and use them in the study of their Bible. Not only will they be made glad but they will be better qualified to bind up others who are broken hearted and comfort those who desire comfort.

What shall be our attitude towards those who revile and persecute us as Christians? Every Christian has agreed to follow in the foot-steps of Jesus and the answer to this question may be found in the words of the Apostle relating how Jesus acted when reviled and persecuted. It is written: "He did no sin neither was guile found in his mouth who when he was reviled reviled not again; when he suffered he threatened not; but committed himself to him that judge righteously."—1st Peter 2:22-23.

Bot didn't Jesus accuse certain ones of defiling the Temple of the Lord and did He not rebuke them severely? We answer Jesus found in the Temple those who were making it a house of merchandise and He said to them:

"It is written My House shall be called a house of prayer but ye have made it a den of thieves." (Matthew 21:13) He told them in plain language those who were defiling the house of the Lord of their wrong but did not do this because they were persecuting Him but that they might know the truth. On another occasion he said: but woe unto you Scribes and Pharisees Hypocrites. For ye shut up the Kingdom of Heoven against men for ye neither go yourselves neither ye them that are entering to go in.Woe unto you Scribes and Pharisees (The Scribes and Pharisees here mentioned were the preachers of that day) Hypocrites! For ye devour widows' houses (over tax them with church dues) and for a pretense make long prayers. Therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation. Wou unto you Scribes and Pharisees Hypocrites! For ye compass sea and land to make one proselite and when he is made ye make him two fold more the child of Hell than yourselves. Woe unto you blind eyes, which say whomso ever shall swear by the Temple it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the Temple, he is a debtor ye fools and blind: For whether is greater the gold or the Temple that sanctifieth the gold? Matt. 23:13, 17. The men whom he was addressing here were the preacher class of that time who claimed to represent the Lord Jehovah and he rebuked them because of their unfaithfulness to the Lord Jehovah.

Our business as true Christians and followers of Jesus' is to plainly tell the truth, to call attention to the fact that the great distress upon the world in the nature of wars, famines, pestilences and Revolutions etc., is in fulfillment of Divine Prophecy and has come as the Lord foretold and constitutes an evidence that we have reached the end of the world. Then Jesus said, concerning those who knew the fact, that they must preach the Gospel of the Kingdom unto all Christendom and thus the end shall come (Matt. 24.7-14) The proper attitude then for us to take during these times of trouble is in calmness and quietness to tell the people what is the meaning of the distress upon the earth pointing to the fact that the old order is passing away that the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand, that soon the Lord's Kingdom will be in full operation and then the opportunity will be granted to all mankind to receive and enjoy the blessings of life, liberty and happiness; that this being so near at hand (The Resurrection of the dead should begin the latter part of 1925) every one should take heed to the meaning of these events which are now taking place and prepare themselves for the Incoming Kingdom of Righteousness which shall bless the human race. Back of all our actions the motive should be love—a sincere desire to do good unto our fellow creatures and to glorify the name of our God and of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

In conclusion Dear Friends I remind you in the words of the Prophet of old "Seek Righteousness, seek meekness; it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger."—Zehaniah 2.3.

Colored Ponzi Found in Chicago

MRS. L. C. CLARK

Supervisor of music in the Muskogee Schools who acted as Special Reporter for the Tulsa Star at the Teachers' Ass'n.

Doctor is Convicted For Getting Money in "Con" Game

CHICAGO, Dec. 3—Dr. J. Elbert Robinson, Colored, described as "Chicago's Colored Ponzi," was found guilty by a jury today of operating aconfidence game.

Dr. Robinson, testimony showed, claims the American Car and Foundry Company iwed him Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000,000) for infringement of patents for a hard iron wheel," and that he had suits pending to collect the money. To raise money for the alleged purpose of prosecuting the suits he sold his notes, telling purchasers that the notes constituted a lien against the money he claimed due him. The notes were generally executed for from 10 to 15 times th amount he received from the buyer, th dif ference constitutinf the purchaser's profit when, and if the courts decided in the "doctor's" favor.

Testimony showed that hundreds of people, both white and Colored, had given Robinson money in exchange for the notes.

Daring the trial Robinson was transported to and from the court building in an imported racing car driben by a liveried chauffeur.

BRIEF NOTES OF STATE TEACHERS' ASS'N

Mrs. L. C. Clark of Muskogee led the association with the community sonh "Everybody Neighbors," and a round "lovely evening," which seemed to pleas every one.

The afternoon session began with a chorus by the Sand Springs Glee Club, which called for an encore, which they rendered to the pleasure of all present.

Prof. W. A. Hill of Oklahoma City gave a good talk on how teachers may help on extension work.

The Jeannes Fund and the Rosenwald Fund were explained in a satisfactory manner by Mrs. Harriet Ashcraft of Guthrie.

After the singing of community songs, President Marquis of Langston University was introduced by President Pettus and gave a very interesting talk on points developed at Inter-Racial Congress in Atlanta, Ga. He used the words in chorus of community song which said, "Let us get together, work together, play together, pull together, etc. His talk aroused much enthusiasm in the audience.

The President appointed the following committee to confer on how the association can best help Langston University: Prof. Fort, Mrs. McRiley, Mrs. Ethel Brewer White. Here came a demonstration of physical culture and foll. dancing from Sand Springs which was indeed fine.

At noon the ladies of the association were called in meeting by Mrs. L. C. Clark of Muskogee, and there they discussed many things which bore good fruit.

There seemed to be more interest in the election, judging by the number of teachers congregated in the halls, than in the Departmental work. This is a pity, for teachers spend so much money to attend this association they certainly ought to get something in return for their time and money.

Departmental

Three departments were largely attended and were well worth the attention of all, i. e. Primary, Grammar and High School.

The demonstrations were good. The children used in demonstrations did not seem cowed down, but were bright and alert.

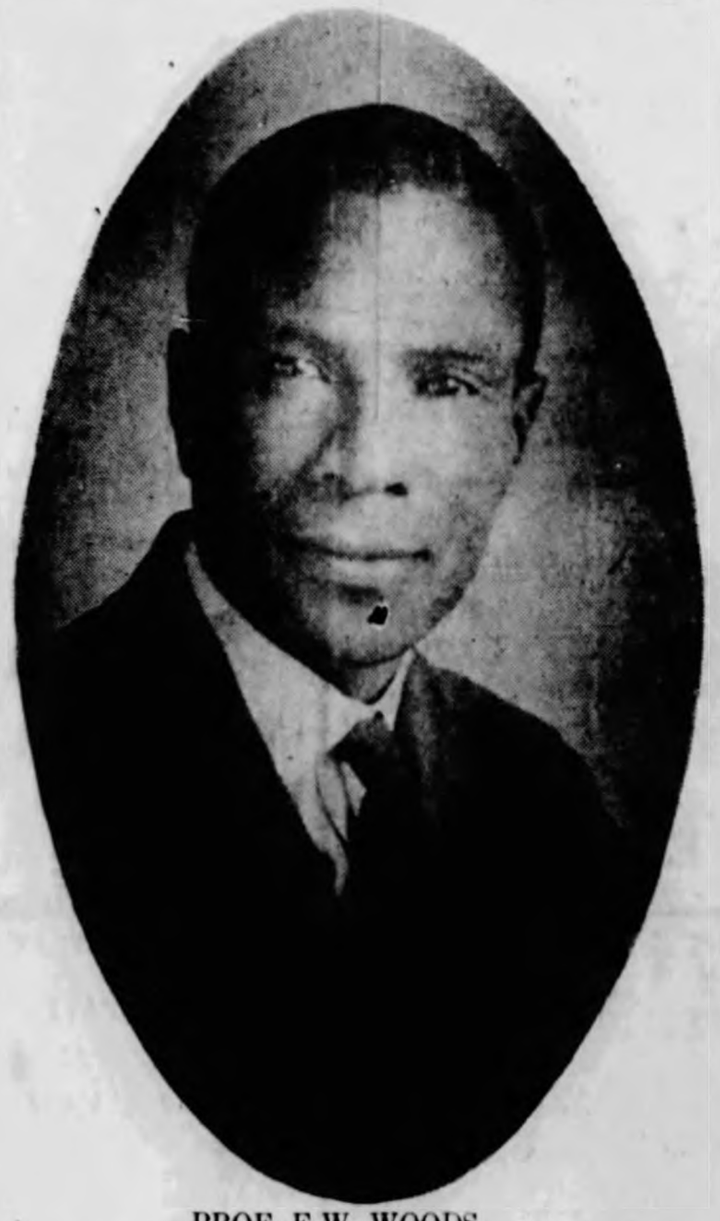
Singing by Booker Washington H. S. Chorus opened the evening session. The address on "Educational Measurements" by City Superintendent Oberholtzer was indeed fine and gave teachers some fine thoughts to take home.

The vocal solo by Mr. Alonzo Lewis was very good.

The teachers of Tulsa gave a swell banquet at the Stafford Hotel that proved that Tulsa is at the head of the list in hospitality. The hall and tables were beautifully decorated and the menu unsurpassed.

The next meeting place is Muskogee, and we'll have to "put the big pot in the little one" to beat Tulsa.

"ELSIE."



PROF. E.W. WOODS

OKLAHOMA COLORED TEACHERS MEET

First Day's Session Marked by Exciting Football Contest.

First day's session was scheduled to open at 3:30 p. m., but owing to the great interest shown by the assembled teachers in the football contest between Muskogee and Tulsa, the association was not called to order by President Pettus until 4 o'clock.

The night session opened at 8:40 o'clock to a full house. All former presidents seated on rostrum.

The first selection on the program was a chorus by the Booker Washington School, "Southern Lullaby," which showed good training.

Invocation by Rev. W. H. Henderson was follode by a solo, "Ave Marie," by Miss Mildred Warner, a student of the Luther Schools. She received an encore and responded to same.

The welcome address by Prof. J. W. Hughes of Tulsa was listened to by this large body of teachers with much interest and pleasure. His tall was replete with many interesting facts.

The response by Miss Juanita Byrd of Sapulpa was very good and made a favorable impression on all.

This was followed by a beautiful solo by Miss Parthenia Russell, whose voice is indeed a charming one.

The President was introduced by Mrs. Scott Brown Brewer, the Vice-President, and he proceeded with his annual address. A committee was appointed on the President's address.

The gem of the evening was a solo, "Villanelle," by Mrs. Berenice Ellis Perdue. The house went wild over her singing, demanded and got an encore, which was even better than the first.

Committees appointed:

Resolutions.

J. Oscar Spencer, Nowata; C. B. Bryant, Luther; J. F. Carthy, Red Bird; Mrs. J. H. McRiley, Boley; D. M. Lewis, Chickasha; G. H. Moreland, Pawnee; Miss Luvenia Brown, Bartlesville; T. A. West, Tulsa.

Committee on Exhibits.

Miss Julia Jackson, Boley; Mrs. L. C. Clark, Muskogee; Miss Mary Elliot, Nowata; Miss L. C. Winslett, Oklahoma City; Miss Bessie Floyd, Okmulgee; Mrs. L. L. Sawner, Chandler.

Committee on Obituary.

J. S. Dawson, Weletka; T. M. White, Luther; A. R. Jefferson, Lima; W. L. Gilman; Cushing; J. H. Porter, Coweta; Chas. W. Yates, Drumright; L. L. Henderson, Watongo.

Officers' Report.

W. H. Fort, Okmulgee; J. H. Terrell, Wetumka; Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Tulsa; L. J. Umsted, Enid; O. H. Hutton, Atoka.

Finance

W. E. Day, Sapulpa; W. B. Jones, Lima; Miss Nanny Amey, Tecumseh; Miss A. Ashcraft, Langston; T. M. Grisson, Muskogee.

Time and Place.

A. J. Scales, Guthrie; R. E. Tippins, Grayson; Miss Luella Lawson, Oklahoma City; Mrs. M. E. King, Muskogee; J. W. Brooks, Boynton.

Prof. W. E. Day and teachers, Sapulpa.

Prof. W. H. Forte, Okmulgee; Miss Nannie Day.

Prof. C. B. Bryant and ten teachers of Luther.

Prof. and Mrs. I. B. McCutcheon, Profs. T. W. Grissom and E. E. Weaver, Muskogee.

Prof. and Mrs. Scales, Guthrie.

Prof. and Mrs. Mooreland of Pawnee.

The Misses Jackson of Boley, in fact all the Boleyites have turned out "en masse" to put one of their members in the presidential chair.

Prof. and Mrs. Youngblood and Mrs. Scott Brown Brewer.

Prof. A. C. Perdue of Muskogee.

HIGH SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

Prof. S. L. Hargrove, Conductor

1. "Relation of College to the High School." Discussion was begun by Prof. S. E. Shannon of Holdenville. Prof. J. H. Porter followed with some facts which should concern those who foster high school and college. "Each is a link in the educational chain," says Prof. Porter.

Prof. R. H. Newhouse finds the relations same as that relation between high school and grammar school.

Prof. T. M. White, from his point of view finds that the college should complete what the high school begins.

The discussion was closed by Prof. S. L. Hargrove, the conductor.

"The modern high school is not any longer a preparatory school for the college. It is an education in itself."

2. "How to Improve English in the High School."

This discussion was efficiently and interestingly begun by Mabel Grace Andrews' of Tulsa. Many practical facts were brought out by Miss Andrews. Emphasis was placed upon extensive reading supervised by the English teacher as a means of improving English in the high school.

Mrs. L. E. Person of Boley urges co-operation of entire faculty with the English teacher.

Prof. W. C. Jones of Claremore finds that the English supervision should go out on the play-grounds. Prof. D. G. Horton, Guthrie, indorsed the opinion of Prof. Jones.

"Correction of English in all subjects, be it mathematics, science, or what not, should be made," adds Prof. Horton.

3. "Should Latin Be Abolished in High School?"

Opened by Prof. N. J. Ceasar, Shawnee. Prof. Ceasar stated very clearly the history of the question.

"Efficiency in English depends largely upon one's knowledge of Latin," says Prof. Caesar. Latin should not be abolished.

Prof. D. W. Lewis finds that Latin should be elective. "Latin should be a very secondary subject," says Prof. Lewis.

Prof. O. H. Hutton, Atoka, strongly defended the high schools which maintain Latin.

Subject was closed by the conductor, Prof. S. L. Hargrove.

4. "Should there be a difference between the Curriculum of the Negro Schools and the White Schools?"

Six minutes were given to this subject.

All agreed that the Negro Curriculum should be even better.

Meeting adjourned after a profitable session.

R. E. ILES, Boley,
Reporter.

GOOD WORK SHOWN BY MUSKOGEE CHARITIES

Thanksiving Day among at least twenty destitute colored families was a day of real thanksgiving, reports Mrs. L. M. Banks, Superintendent of the Colored Associated Charities.

Over $'00 worth of groceries, besides numerous articles of clothing, was distributed. Twenty children and thirty adults were the recipients.

The charities are indebted to the faculty and patrons of the Colored city schools for the variety and abundance of graceries contributed.

Donations for Christmas distribution will be appreciated.

Noted Educator Honored.

Savannah, Ga.—The Golden Anniversary of the entry of President Richard R. Wright, upon his career as teacher was celebrated last Thursday from eight to eleven p. m. in Savannah, Ga. It is a fine testimony to the aggressive work of Dr. Wright in the educational field to have served that long, and so well honored for the service he has rendered.

MOTHERED SIXTY SIX GRAND CHILDREN

Muskgee, Dec. 3—The death of Mrs. Sarah Dawson, one of the best known and widely beloved women of this community, was indeed quite a shock to her numerous friends. The respect in which she was held was shown by the large attendance at her funeral and the many handsome floral offerings

The funeral of Mrs Sarah Dawson will be held this morning at 11 o'clock, at Bebee Memorial C. M. E. Church, South Seventh street and Midland Valley R. R. She was the mother of 14 children, 9 of which survive her. There also were 30 grandchildren and 36 great grand children. She was 81 years of age.

Miss Jane Dancy of Oklahoma City was in the city last week attending the Teachers' Association. While here she was the guest of Miss Mattie Mitchell, 512 N. Hartford.

Mr. Hill Finds Welcome in Bartlesville

MIXED AUDIENCE HEARS TULSA MAN DISCUSS THE BIBLE FROM STANDPOINT OF INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS.

Pastor of Methodist Church Let Down Bars and Welcomes Messenger of Truth.

Bartlesville, Okla., Dec. 3.—A deal of interest has been aroused among the people of both races in Bartlesville by the lecture of Hon. Richard J. Hill of Tulsa, who delivered an impressive lecture here Sunday on the Bible, chosing for his subject "Millions Now Living Will Never Die." His lecture had been advertised to be held in a public hall, but on the urgent invitation of Rev. G. W. Washington was changed to the Methodist church of which Rev. Washington is pastor. A large audience of both white and colored people heard Mr. Hill and all of them were manifestly impressed with his lecture. Among those who heard him were some of the intellectual lights of this city, including lawyers, doctors and bankers. That the Tulsa man, who is a noted International Bible Student, made a lasting impression on the minds of his audience was proven by favorable comments by people of both races following the lecture.

At the conclusion of the lecture Rev. Washington arose and said to his congregation:

"You came out today expecting to hear me preach a sermon but I am satisfied you have heard enough, and that you have enjoyed what you have heard from this great man of God and I am not going to spoil the effects of his lecture by attempting to preach," whereupon the audience was dismissed.

Rev. Washington again extended a standing invitation to Mr. Hill to hold future meetings in his church and promised his hearty co-operation.

The Exhibits of the Sand Springs Schools attracted general attention and were of higher merit.

Muskogee Over-subscrices Library Fund

Muskogee, Dec. 3—The women in the Library Clube are really doing things. They closed their $2500.00 drive on Tuesday night and as a result raised $2531.84. Tbis money will pay the entire indebtedness on the Library site. These clubs purchased their site in May and since then have raised $3231.84. This final payment qualifies them for the $15,000 Carnegie Library.

There are four clubs in the City Federation and the following amounts raised by each club as follows

|---|---|
| Royal Art | $283.98 |
| Mary Church Terrell | 404.43 |
| Progressive Art | 764.92 |
| Francis Harper | 799.81 |
| Other Sources | 283.98 |
| Total | $2531.84 |

Prizes were awarded to the ladies raising the highest amounts: Mrs. Martha Jones, first prize; Mrs. Lena Morris, second prize; Mrs. B. S. Bell, third prize and Mrs. Kiff, fourth prize.

The clubs wish to thank the pub lii for their ligeral donations. Retail Merchants, Churrhes, Lodges Banks M. O. & G. Shops, Minland Valley Shops, Oil Refinery Srhools, out of town friends and individuals all joined in to help make the drive a shrcess.

All honor to these noble women who are bringing things to pass in Muskogee.

The Misses Ruby McKnight and Cora L. Boller, of Topeka Kansas, called at the Star office Saturday of last week under the chaperonage of Mr. Abbott, the well known printer.

Millions Now Living and Walking About Upon the Earth Will Never Die and Go Into the Grave

WHICH ROAD ARE YOU TRAVELLING; THE BROAD WAY OR THE NARROW WAY?

"Wide is the Gate of Destruction, and Broad the Way Leading Thither; and many are they who Enter Through it. How Narrow is the Gate of Life; how Difficult the Way Leading Thither! And how Few Who Find it" (Matt. 7: 13-14 Diaglott)

The great Master here mentioned two ways or courses that man takes one, the broadway leading to destruction and the other a narrow gate leading to life. For many centuries the preachers of the Church Denominations have taught the people that the broadway leads to lakes of fire and brimstone where the poor creatures roast and stew and bake for ever and ever;and that the narrow way means to get into Denominational System and escape such a place. They certainly have been and are a fine bunch of poor blind guides and all who follow their teachings are sure to reach the place mentioned in Matt. 15:14—tumble into the ditch of sore disappointment.

The broadway to destrucion opened up at the time Adam was driven from Garden of Eden. Because of his sin he was condemned to death and all of his off springs came under his condemnation. All of these have been going down to destruction—not eternal torture. For more than six thousand years they have been going to the Bible hell, the grave, the tomb the place of destruction (Psalms 90:3; 146:4; Ecc. 9:5-10) This way leading to destruction was the only way for man to go from the creation of Adam until Christ Jesus came and the vast multitudes who have not known and accepted Christ since He has come have all likewise gone that same way; but this does not mean that they shall not return again. The great mass of mankind have gone that way ignorant of the fact that any provision has been made for their salvation and return. God plainly promised to redeem man that is to say purchase him from the grave, the tomb the Bible hell and to destroy death. "I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death." (Hosea 13:14) His provision for accomplishing this was through the merit of Jesus' sacrifice. When Jesus came He brought to light the fact that God has a plan for rescuing men from the great broadway of destruction and bringing them to life; that in the outworking of this plan He will grant to some the blessings of immortality and the ones who attain this great prize of immortality are the ones who enter the narrow way of life described by the Master. (1st Timothy 2:10) The great mass of mankind is yet ignorant of this provision for life. Their ignorance is due to the prevalenc of sin the influence of sin the influence of the adversary through ignorant teachers and to the fact that it is not yet due time that they shall know. The due time however is near even at the door. The greater light is now beginning to break and shine into the hearts of the people and many are coming to a knowledge of the fact that millions now living and walking about upon earth will never die and go into the grave.

God purposed before the foundation of the world to develop a new Creation designation as the Royal Priesthood or Holy people peculiarly built up into Christ Jesus (1st Peter 2:5-10). Jesus was the head or chief corner stone of this new arrangement. The value of his ransom sacrifice is used for their benefit during the Gospel Age. The Narrow way opened means a way leading to Heaven to membership into the body of Christ. The way is narrow and dificult and few find it because few are willing to conform themselves to the terms. Any one who does so must follow in tre footstens of Jesus. Jesus, when on earth was a perfect man and as such was entitled to all honors, glory and praise that the peoples might bestow upon a perfect man. He could easily have had the whole human race at his feet, doing his biddings and been the most honored person in all the earth. But that was not the purpose of His coming here. "He came not to be ministered unto but to minister, and to give his life as a purchase price for mankind as a ransom. (Matt. 29:28) He denied himself of all these earthly honors and glory that a perfect man might have had. He denied himself pleasures that might come to a perfect human being, legitimately indeed for the perfect man. He surrendered his human will, making it entirely submissive to Jehovah's will. He endured great contradictions among sinners, great afflictions in order that he might learn to be a sympathetic High Priest to the poor human race, he their Redeemer and ultimately their unlifter and blesser.

During the Gospel Age if one approached the Lord desiring to enter this narrow way leading to life and into Heaven itself, Jesus has said to him "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me, for whosoever will save his life shall find it. (Matt. 16:24-25) Jesus means by these words that those who would enter this narrow way must deny themselves as He denied Himself, must daily do the Father's will amidst a wicked and perversed generation and that he who would sacrifice his earthly hopes and earthly likes because of his love for the Lord and righteousness should find life on a higher plain, namely the plain of Divine nature.

It is only the true Christian that follows in the footsteps of Jesus, who enters the narrow way and keeps it. Such Christians learn that there is a clear distinction between a Church member and a Christian. A Church member is one who unites himself with some earthly organization and conforms his life, in a measure at least to the Church's rules and systems in order that he might have some respectability in the community in which he lives. A true Christian is one who, having fully consecrated his life to do the will of God, becomes zealous for good works, loves the Lord and loves the truth and is willing to undergo trying circumstances and sufferngs in order that he might have the Divine approval The way is made narrow and difficult to keep in because it is a way of suffering. It is not popular to be a true Christian and never has been. Jesus was not popular among the leading classes in His time. In His day the ruling classes consisted of these three: The Kink and his household, namely the professional politicians of that time; the wealthy learned and influntial ones, such as the Pharisees and Princesses, constituting the financial power; and the Priestly class, constituting the preachers or Ecclesiastical element. The three formed an unholy alliance and they persecuted the Master. They abused Him; thy called Him a Devil; a liar; a blasphemer; a glutton; charged him with the crime of sedition and caused him to be put to death.

When Jesus said, "If any man will come after me he must deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." He meant that the true Christian would have similar experiences. He said the Disciple is not above his Master and the servant not above his Lord. It is not enough for the disciple that he be as his Master and the servant as his Lord. If they have called the Master of the house beelzebub how much more shall they call them of his household? (Matt. 10:24-25) Again, he spoke of the three classes above named as the world—those having a spiritual contrary to the Church. These find a counterpart in our present day. The Professional politicians, big business and the Ecclesiastical leaders, have joined together in an unholy alliance and they persecdte the hhmble followers of Jesus. Evidently Jesus had in mind such a class when He said: "If the morld hate yau know that it hated me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love its own, but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world therefore the world hated you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also." (John 15:18-20) Again, in referring to the events that would transpire at the end of the world where we now are he said: "Then shall they delived you up to be afflicted and shall kill you and ye shall be hated by all nations for my name's sake;" and then added "But He that shall endure to the end shall be saved," meaning that those who ultimately find life at the end of the narrow way will be few and will be those who will endure faithfully hardships, trials persecutions because they love the Lord more than they love any earthly thing.

When the last one has entered into life through the straight and narrow way, and the Lord's Kingdom is established that His will shall be done in earth as it is in Heaven then a great and mighty high way will be opened for the purpose of blessing the people and bringing back the millions thaa have gone down the great broadway of destruction. Of this the Prophet wrote: "And an highway shall be there and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those; the wayfaring men, though fools shall err therein (Isaiah 35:8) The highway referred to here means the Divine arrangement for the reovery of the Human race, based upon the great Ransom sacrifice of Jesus of Nazareth. First the millions on earth living when the Kingdom is established, shall be brought to a knowledge of the fact that the way leading to life, a way of holiness has now been opened and it will be made so clear that at that time that a wayfaring man, even though an ignorant preacher, shall be able to understand it. In truth and in fact there will be no preacher going about then collecting enormous sums of money from the people and inveigling them to join their organization but such men will have to hunt an honest vocation and humble themselves like others and learn that the great Messiah has taken unto himself His great power and is reigning.

The ninth verse of this Prophecy of the Lord says: "No liein shall be there nor any ravenous beast shall go thereon it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there. A lion is a strong, vicious ravenius beast and in symbol illustrates the beastly manner in which affairs have been conducted by men. None such will be permitted when the higrway of Holiness is opened. There will be no bloated bond holders, who will hammer up the Liberty Bonds when they want to sell them and hammer them down when they want to buy them; there will be no persons then who will be permitted to put the price of farm products down beneath a living price after they have squeezed it out of poor farmers for practically nothing; there will be none who will be permitted to place exhorbitant rents upon their houses and force the poor people to pay that rent; there will be no prifiteers who will dump the food into the sea in order to make the price of what is left remain high. The Great Master will permit nothing of this kind but every one will be required to deal righteously with his neighbor because the Lord will be ruling all and such rule will be a righteous one. "With righteousness shall He judge the poor and reprove with justice the meek of the earth; and He shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth (that is teach them the truth) and with tie breath of his lips will he slay the wicked systems and organizations. And righteouness shall be the girdle of his reigns.' (Isaiah 11:4-5)

Surely the Inter Church World Movement which includes the great system of Church Denominations, cannot say consistenaly that it is inviting people of th narrow way that leads to life, they deny such as the highway of Hilintss because they deny restitution blessings. There fore according to their own conduct they must admit that they are going the broadway that leads to destruction, which is the truth. The blind guides are leading the blind followers and they shall go into the ditch (Matt. 15:14). What the people need is knowledge. There is indeed now a famine in the land for want of the knowledge of the truth just as the Lord foretold it would be. (Amos 8:11) The people are famishing for a knowldge of God's plan, and yet the Inter Churh World Readers say, we prefer to ignore the Dictrines. We thank God for the highway of Holiness that shall soon be established and for the abundance of truth that shall feed the poor starved and hungry people! What the true Christian now in these Church Denominations and Inter Church World Movement should do is to heed the voice of the Lord: "Come out of her my people that ye be not partakers of her sins and receive not of her plagues." (Rev. 18:4) Come out of these false systems before you go into the ditch of great disappointment with them. Not only come out yourself but learn the Lord's Plan and teach it to others for their comfort and strength. Let them know that the Lord is now taking unto himself his great power and restitutional blessings are at hand and that millions now living on the earth will never die if they avail themselves of the opportunity for everlasting life, liberty and happiness.

Spreading Christmas Joy

CHRISTMAS is not always a brief period of joy and happiness to every home. Poverty and its attending ills take all the joy out of life in many homes, even here in Tulsa where evidences of great wealth and riches abound; but, thank God and Daddy Welch, every such home in Tulsa will be remembered Christmas day.

Too much can hardly be said in commendation of the Tulsa County Humane Society in its work for the unfortunate side of humanity. And right here the Tulsa Star desires to laud Mr. Welch and his assistants for the splendid work they have done for the poor people of all classes in Tulsa in the past. In their zeal to administer to the needy they have worked indiscriminately and impartially irrespective of race or color.

We desire also to commend the few Colored men of this city who have aided in this good work by contributing money. It is a reflection on us as a class, however, that we have not given to this worthy cause in proportion to the good we have received from it. It is a well known fact that people of our group draw heavily on the Humane Society and none of them are ever turned away. Far more of them, in proportion, than any other class, no doubt, and for this reason, along with others, the Colored people of Tulsa should be liberal contributors to the Tulsa County Humane Society. There are a number of men and women among us who are able to give in denominations of three figures and not hurt themselves, but we doubt that any of these have contributed anything to help allay the suffering of humanity in this community. Probably it is because they have not thought of their less fortunate neighbors, or maybe they have not been approached and solicited. These are poor excuses, however, for the man or woman who is able to do a lion's share of charity work, but who has failed to do anything. We hope every man and woman among us who is able to give One Dollar (and any of us can give this amount will not wait to be called on, but will at once call this office—Osage 931—or the Humane office—Osage 824—and pledge at least one dollar to the society's Christmas fund.

The Tulsa Star will lead off with a contribution of $25 in addition to what we have already given. Now who will follow our lead with a greater or smaller amount?

In our Christmas Edition, December 18th, we will publish the names of every Colored person who has contributed to this fund, and we sincerely hope every business and professional man or woman and every working man or woman in Tulsa will be represented in that list.

While we are planning what valuable presents to give our friends and loved ones, let us in our calculations lay aside one dollar as an individual part of a fund to provide Christmas baskets for the unfortunate poor of Tulsa; not the poor whites or the poor blacks—it is not a matter of race or color—but for all the poor people of a great rich city.

While we are anticipating the joy of Christmas morning around our own fireside in comfortable homes where the sting of poverty is not known, let us picture the hundreds of homes in our midst where conditions are the reverse—where there will be no joy, no toys, no presents, no food, no clothing, no sunshine except that contained in the Christmas baskets to be distributed by the Tulsa County Humane Society. Surely after such reflection every able-bodied man and woman in the community will gladly respond with at least one dollar as a token of their good wishes for their less fortunate fellowman. If only one man or woman out of every ten Colored persons in Tulsa would give one dollar, our pro rata of this special Christmas fund would be more than one thousand dollars.

Think o fthe Christmas joy this amount would spread among the poor people of Tulsa and do your bit. Here is an excellent chance for you to join the Good Fellows Club for only one dollar. Don't be a slacker!

One Out of Many

AT LAST a preacher of the clergy has been found who is big enough, broad enough and liberal minded enough, and honest enough to open the doors of his heart and mind, and his church as well, to the truth concerning God's plan of human salvation. That preacher is Rev. G. W. Washington, pastor of a Methodist church at Bartlesville. This open hearted, fair minded man by his actions recently in extending welcome to the Hon. Richard J. Hill, an International Bible Student of Tulsa, who spoke in Bartlesville on two different occasions, has set a very laudable example for other preachers to emulate. He has opened the doors of his church to Mr. Hill and proclaimed publicly that his beliefs concerning God's great plan do not conflict with the doctrine of the International Bible Students as promulgated by Mr. Hill.

Mr. Hill spoke in Bartlesville last Sunday. The meeting had been advertised for a public hall, but this minister invited the speaker to go to his church that his members might have the benefit of his lecture. Mr. Hill accepted and at the conclusion of his talk the pastor dismissed his congregation commenting very favorably on the lecture and extending the Tulsa man a standing invitation to hold future meetings in his church. Contrast this great man with others of the clergy who are wilfully antagonizing God's own messengers in opposing and attempting to refute the doctrines of the International Bible Students.

Here is a man of the ministry who is too big and noble hearted to be bound by the mandates of the church denominations and who, despite the same, has the manly courage to welcome into his church one of God's faithful servants who in seeking to enlighten his fellow man is preaching a doctrine contrary to the decree of the churches. The higher powers in his church, when this called to their attention, as it doubtless will be by some of his brethren, may call him to task for his action, but whatever loss he may sustain by reason of his gentlemanly and Christian conduct in this particular case will be more than counterbalanced by the higher reward that comes through the self consciousness he must feel that he has followed his own conviction of right and in so doing has rendered a real service to God and to humanity. Rev. Washington has proved himself above the average in his class and has earned the commendation of sober thinking people of all denominations. It will not be long now before the common people of other denominations will demand an open house for the great truth of God's plans, and when they do there'll be a great commotion among the fellows who have been growing fat on their doctrine of sulphuric blazes emanating from the Plutorial regions for the eternal punishment of God's creatures.

Something to Crow About

THE TULSA STAR is the only Race journal in Oklahoma printed in its own shop, and carrying eight pages of original news matter—no patent pages. This is an accomplishment of which we are justly proud, but in mentioning it we do not intend any reflection on other Race journals. Look over the pages of this paper and compare it, if possible, with any other Race journal in the state—or west of the Alleghaneys, for that matter—and you will find in its columns more news matter to the square inch than it is possible to find in any of our contemporaries mentioned. That's why the Star is the more popular newspaper and accounts for our large and ever increasing subscription list.

It is an indisputable fact, and unquestioned, that we have the most complete printing plant owned by members of our group anywhere in the country with only one exception—the National Publishing Company at Nashville, a corporation with a million dollars or more behind it.

Thousands of dollars have been invested in equipment to make this claim possible with a view of rendering the best possible service as a newspaper and commercial printing plant to our patrons. We are continually adding to this equipment in our desire to increase our efficiency. Within the last month we have put in more than $1,200 worth of new equipment and within the next month will add at least as much more. In this way we expect to maintain our standard of efficiency in rendering real service to the public.

Besides our own, we print four other publications, two monthlys and two weeklies, and in each case we are rendering absolute satisfaction.

At present only nine people are employed in conducting this enterprise, but places are open now for at least four more people and will be filled as fast as we can find them. This is the kind of Race enterprise the people of Tulsa and Oklahoma are fostering when they patronize the Tulsa Star.

ONE YEAR'S SUBSCRIPTION to the Tulsa Star will make a valuable Christmas present that would be highly appreciated by the recipient of the gift as well as by this office. Start it off with our annual Christmas number which will be issued December 18th. Get your order in early.

SOME OF OUR GROCERY STORES evidently have not been informed that the high cost of living is moderating downward and continue to profiteer.

WILL SOMEBODY PLEASE point out a single improvement the city administration has made in our part of town?

This Earth Is The Home of Natural Man

"And God said, let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowls of the air, and over the cattle and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth on the earth. So God created he him, male and female, created He them. And God blessed them, and God said unto them be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth and subdue it; and have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the fowls of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth." Gen. 1: 26.28.

The Divine Right of Kings to rule the people of the earth by force or otherwise, is a false doctrine. It had its origin with Satan and was promulgated by a blinded and selfish bunch of preachers. The Divine right of the clergy is likewise a false doctrine. It will be noticed by referring to the foregoing Scriptorial text that God created man a perfect being, and endowed him with attributes of justice, wisdom love and power, and gave him dominion over the things of the earth. This commission was not given to man to lord it over one another, but every one was to be equal. It was Gods plan to fill the earth with a perfect healthy and happy race of people. Had the first man, Adam, mained in harmony with the Divine Law this dominion would never had passed from the human race.

Satan was ambitious for a dominion, and so he began to plan to have a dominion of his own by usurping through fraud and deception that which was given to man. (Isaiah 14: 13-14) Satan was in Eden with Adam and Eve and took advantage of the opportunity to steal from man his right to dominion over all things of the earth. (Ez. 28:13.15) Since then he, the Devil has organized various systems by which the people under his dominion are controlled. One of the things that he has promulgated was the divine right of Kings to rule generally over the earth; and another was the Divine right of the Clergy to rule over the earth which he organized first in the Catholics, afterwards uniting the most of the Protestant Clergy, and with them formed an alliance between the Kings of professional ruling class, the financial strong one and the preachers, for the further purpose of keepng the people in ignoarnce of their own rights and under his dominion.

Man has been for centuries endeavoring to establish a Righteous Government; Satan, at each step, has thwarted this purpose.

It must follow from the above conclusions that if the power of Satan be destroyed, and man should be redeemed and uplifted from his prsent condition of sin, sickness, weakness and death, that he would have fully restored to him the dominion of earth which God purposed for the foundation of the foundation of the world. Happy is the man who finds clearly outlined in Gods plan that this is the purpose of Jehovah. Satan has blinded men from this knowledge of God's plan for hundreds of years, lest this glorious good news should shine into their hearts and they might be released from his dominion. (2d Cor. 13-4) Jesus, giving the revelation to St. John, states that Satan is to be restrained of his will power. "That he should deceive the nations no more," and that this will take place at the second coming of our Lord and the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom. (Rev. 20:1-4) The Apostle sets forth that when with the spirit of his mouth, (the message of truth) and shall destroy with the brightness of his presence." (2d Thes. 2:8) Then the Apostle makes clear that ultimately Christ will destroy Satan. (Heb 2:14 With Satan destroyed, then what should we expect for mankind.

Man's original right, when perfect, was to have Life-Everlasting in a state of happiness, on the earth and to dwell in peace. By disobeying God's law he lost, not only the dominion of earth, but the right of life, liberty and happiness. Shall we reach the conclusion then then, that God's original Plan will never be carried out? That He intended to do a thing which He is unable to do? We answer no, God never fails in any of His purposes. He accomplishes that which He intends. "Thus saith the Lord, my word that goeth forth out of my mouth, it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that for which I please, and it shall prosper in the things whereunto I sent." (Isaiah 55:11) God's original purpose to give man dominion over the earth is definitely setttled by the Scriptures. St. Paul, in speaking of this original purpose, under inspiration wrote: "Thou hath put all things in subjection under his (man) feet. For in that He put all in subjection under him, He left nothing that is not put under him. But now we see not yet all things put under him." (Heb. 2:8) The clear inference to be drawn from this statement is that God will yet put all things under subjection to man. Mark, this does not say that He will put one class of men under subjection to another but the beasts of the field, the fowls of the air, the fish of the sea and all the earth itself shall be subject to man, and man shall enjoy it because it was made for that purpose.

Why then, if God is going to accomplish His purpose, did He permit Satan to get possession and dominion for a time? The answer is first, He is permitting man to have a full and complete experience with the baneful effects of wrong doing and thus by experience to learn the lesson that only a rightful course will lead to happiness; second, He has permitted Satan to demonstrate or show the depths of his willful, dirty and wicked character so that all other creatures might learn by observation and avoid such course as the Devil has pursued; third, during the experience of man with sin, God is making manifest His love by His Great Plan of redemption and the selection from amongst men those to be associated with Christ Jesus in His Glorious Kingdom. The chief part of the out working of this Great Plan was and is the redemption and deliverance of man from sin and death. Because of Adam's disobedience, the whole race is born imperfect, all are sinners, (Romans 5:12) and as the obedience of Christ Jesus unto death, the whole race shall be offered the opportunity of Life and blessings. (Romans 5:18) Jesus was made a man in order that He, by His death might purchase the human race, giving His life a corresponding price, a ransom for all, which all must know in due time. (Heb. 2:9; 1st Tem. 2:3-6) The death of our Lord provided not only the purchase price but also all the rights incident to perfect life, namely dominion over the earth, liberty and perfect happiness. Having purchased by His own life-blood the human race, and restores to it that which was lost. (Ephe. 1:14)

In speaking of His mission in coming to the earth and laying down His humanity for the benefit of man, Jesus uses a figure of speech, likening himself to bread which men eat to sustain life. He said: "I am the bread of Life. This is the bread which cometh from Heaven, that a man may eat thereof and not die. I am the living bread which came down from Heaven; if any man eat of this bread he shall live forever. And the bread that I will give is my flesh (humanity) which I will give for the life of the world." (John 6:48-51) He laid down His humanity at the cross. When He arose from the dead, a Divine creature, He still possessed the right to the humanity, which He will give for the life of the whole world. During the time from His ascension into Heaven to the beginning of the blessings of mankind, He has been preparing a place for His Bride, the Church, and selecting these members out from among men and developing them. (John 14: 1-4— He promised to come again, and that His second coming would mark the end of Satan's dominion, the end of the old order of things and the establishment of His Kingdom of righteousness, during which time He will restore to man that which was lost by man's disobedience.

Specifically, ask the question how it might be known as to when this time of great blessing would come to mankind? He answered that the end of the old order of things would be marked by the beginning of a world war, shortly followed by famine, and pestilence and revolutions, and that these would be the beginning of the end of the old order of things. (Matt. 24:7-14) The evidence is clear and conclusive that we have reached that time when the old world, Satan's dominion is falling, and is rapidly passing away. The Lord, by the brightness of the truth, is destroying his power. The people are becoming enlightened as to their rights and liberties. The great desire among the human race now for individual rights is due to the fact of the Lord's presence and the incoming of His Kingdom. Therefore the time is near at hand when the Lord will begin to restore to man that which he has lost.

Jehovah foreknowng the end from the beginning, made certain Kingdom; and seeing that this great pictures and had them recorded in the Bible, to enable the devout student of his word to ascertain when the Kingdom of the Lord would be due to be established. One of these pictures or illustrations is the Jubilee. When the Children of Israel entered the Land of Canaan God commanded them to keep every seventh year as a Sabbath year and when they had kept seven of these periods, namely, a term of forty nine years, the fiftieth year should be known as jubilee year. In that year the land should be idle, and every man who had lost anything must have it restored to him. He commanded that this should be for seventy times. The Jews failed to keep the jubilee so God caused them to go into captivity for seventy years, that the land might be permitted to enjoy its jubilee. This did not affect, however, the time mark up of seventy periods of fifty years each. The Children of Israel entered the Land of Canaan 1575 B. C. seventy jubilees of fifty years between each cover a period of three thousand five hundred (3,500) years causing these pictures of typical cycles to end three thousand years after 1575 B. C. to wit, 1925 A. D. at which time the great anlytypical jubilee is due to begin. This should mark then, the beginning of the restoration of man to his original inheritance, the dominion of the earth life, liberty and happiness. This should mark the date when the Lord will begin to offer first to those who are living on the earth, this bread of Life that comes down from Heaven, "Which if any man eat he shall live forever." (John 6:51)

Seeing then that God originally intended man to have dominion of the earth and have it as his perfect and earth and have it as his perfect home; seeing that God purposes must be accomplished and will be accomplished; seeing that he provided the purchase price for man, His dominion and liberties, through the blood of Jesus Christ, who is the Life giving Bread for the world, seeing that these blessings must begin at the end of the old order and with the establishment of Messiah's event to-wit, the passing away of old order and the coming in of the new, is now at hand, it can confidently be stated that millions of people now living and walking upon the earth will never die and go into the grave. What wonderful good news is that to the poor groaning creation. To those who have ears to hear. This messags of good news must go to the world that those hearing may take advantage of it and prepare themselves for the blessings that are near at hand. This good news of the Kingdom shall be preached unto all Christendom, for a witness unto all Nations, and then the end shall come. (Matt. 24: 14) Let every one who is gladly looking forward to this blessed time take up this good news of the Kingdom and tell it to others, that others' hearts may be made to rejoice. With the end of the Milennial reign of Christ, man will be completely and fully restored to the dominion of earth, every man who is obedient to the law of God being made perfect, mentally morally and physically, and shall dwell on the earth in happiness forever.

This message of the Kingdom to be estaglished here upon the earth for the blessing of humanity should be preached in every Church in the world today that the broken hearted and the sorrowful who mourn because of the unjust condition of the world may have their hearts lightened with joy and hope looking to the new day that is so near. Woe unto the preacher who is standing in the way of this good news which the world is longing for. The truth concerning God's Kingdom is represented in some respects as God's Chariot,, it has been rolling down the ages apparently against many difficulties, especially the creeds and theories of men but this chariot has reached the point now where she is gaining in momentum against the obstacles of the Devil and Pin-headed, narrow minded, selfish pork chop-hunting preacher and all their sympathizers, and unless they decide to take this chariot and ride into the Kingdom they will be crushed, no man can hinder this chariot (the truth) Be warned, do not get in the way of God's Chariot, the quicker you line up with it the better for you.

DUNBAR GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

This week is the beginning of the last term in this semester. Pupils are being given reviews for semester end.

The teachers wish to use this method to publicly thank the Parent-Teachers' Association for the splendid aid which they gave during the State Teachers' Association, especially are we grateful to Mesdames Collins, Brown, Kyle, Thompson, Tippins, Devers, Johnson, Braxton, Williams and Taylor, our president for their help during the banquet. It can be truthfully said that nowhere in the state do parents stand with the teachers as they do here in Tulsa. We see the result of such loyalty in a larger and better school system.

The Red Cross Nurses will begin a series of lessons to patrons and friends of the school on Tuesday, Dec. 7th. These lessons will be along the line of first aid in the home in cases of sickness. All lessons are free with a free manual. Every one is cordially invited. First lesson at 8 o'clock at Dunbar School.

Our Play park apparatus is being gotten together, by spring, we hope to have a well equipped school park.

The thrift club is doing well, pupils are saving their money each week. We expect great results from the club.

This week is known as education week throughout the U. S. Each individual is asked during this week to think more intelligently along all educational lines and strive to do some educational uplift for others as well as self.

The holiday spirit is already permeating the school. Great preparations are being made for Santa Claus. School closes on Dec. 17th and reopens Jan. 3rd.

All are invited to our Christmas tree and program to be held at school on the 17th of December.

MY MODERN HYGIENIC METHODS OF BEAUTY CULTURE AND NEW GLORIA PREPARATION are to the hair and skin what the food is to the body. Care should be taken when using them so as to get the very best results. I unconditionally guarantee New Gloria Scalp Preparation to cure all scalp diseases and make the hair grow on any human head, or on bare temple. I do not manufacture any special grower for bare temples and bald heads, for that would be unjust to my patrons. Let me tell you that the preparation that I have prepared to make the hair grow will make it grow on any part of the scalp; that is, if the hair roots are not dead.

Many people do not know that the influenza affected the hair roots. Many of my patrons wrtie and tell me that the influenza took all of their hair out. If you will begin in time with New Gloria Preparation the hair will stop coming out and grow. The New Gloria Treatment for the skin clears the complexion once for all. I do not care how freckly or dark the skin is, there are only three kinds of blemishes that I do not guarantee to remove from the skin. That is, birthmarks, surgical scars or smallpox scars. I guarantee to clear the complexion of all and every blemish, such as liver spots, ringworm, water sore pimples, close the pores of the skin, make dead skin peel off and continue to clear and brighten the complexion.

I guarantee that my treatment is absolutely harmless. I will give you a complexion perfect. I want four thousand more new agents to sell my New Gloria Preparations on commission or salary. Special terms with best pay to agents. Address all communications to

THE DOCTRINE OF ETERNAL TORMENT AND MONEY COLLECTING IN CHURCHES

Are the Most Blasphemous of God's Character Than All Other Errors Combined.

The doctrine of eternal torment was introduced by Papacy to scare the pagans and make them join her system and support her Priesthood. it flourished at a time when bull fights and gladitorial contests were the public amusements most enjoyed. This doctrine of eternal torment flourished when the crusaders were called Holy wars, and whtn men and women were called heretics and often slaughtered for speaking contrary to the teachings of papacy.

The majority of the clergy have spent and are yet spending most of their time scaring the people into the churches, telling them to join and escape eternal torment and when the people get into the churches and put their names on the roll, they are made to understand that the Lord wants them to keep up their various church dues, inrluding a fat salary to the parson build the church houses, etc. They are further made to undtrstand that if they fail in these duties will be turned out of the church where the devil will get them and roast them and torment them throughout eternity. The poor people have been taught and made to believe that the Lord needs their money in order to carry out his plans.

Dear friends. I want to brand this money collecting in the name of the Lord as blasphemous to His Righteous name. The Lord does not need your puny dimes and dollars to carry out His Great Plan. This money collecting business in the churches and for the churches is a man-made institution. I am fully aware that there are Scriptures which are being misrepresented gy the clergy so as to make it appear that the collection of money in the churches is authorized by the Bible. Some of the Scriptures used are the Jewish custom of giving one-tenth, which has no applicaton in this Gospel Age, also the Scripture statement "Muzzle not the ox that treadeth out the corn" which only means that a preacher should have the same opportunity to make a living as anygody else and that while he is giving all his time to advancing God's truth (not lies) be entitled to the absolute necessities of life—place to sleep and food to eat and no more. Preachers are not to be a burden to the poor people in no way, shape, form or fashion. Instead of being a burden to the people the true servants of God should go and work with their hands to support themselves and be able to give to those less fortunate.(2 Thes. 3.:6-15). Paul worked with his own hands that he might not be a burden to the people. The case where Christ had His Disciples to catch a fish and get money out of its mouth and put it in the collection is sometimes held up to the people as Christ approving church collections but nothing is further from the truth than using this scripture in such a way; because Christ only intended to teach His Disciples that it was the best policy for them to pay taxes to whatever government they may live under.

I beg to again remind you my friends that the paying of fat salaries to preachers and the building of expensive churches is not recognized by the Lord as work done unto Him. He wants no such work as that. He wants the poor people relieved of their burdens. The only condition under which the giving of money is accepted by the Lord is when it is given voluntarily and for the purpose of relieving the sufferings of the widows and orphans and others of a broken heart, and also money given to aid others in getting in the truth of God's Plan (Not in lies.) Friends, you will agree with me when I remind you that there are many millions of poor people in this land and country who are suffering greatly for the absolute necessities of life and many of whom are living in the very shadow of church houses that cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. God is not pleased with such arrangements and in the near future He will dash to pieces this order of things and arrange matters so that the humble hearted and oppressed will come into their own.

Reverting to another phase of our sugject I wish to say that the Old Testament Scriptures were written in the Hebrew language and the New Testament in the Greek. The word "Hell"is an English word sometimes selected by translators by the English Bible to express the sense of the Hebrew word SHEOL and the Greek words HADES, TARTAREE and GEHENNA. These same words are sometimes rendered "Grave" and "Pit." The word Hell in Old English usage, before the Preachers gave it a new and special significance to suit their own selfsh purposes, simply meant to conceal, to cover. The word "Hell" was therefore properly used synonymously with the words "grave" and "Pit" to translate the words SHEOL and HADES as signifying the secret or hidden condition of death. The word Hell occurs 31 times in the Old Testament and in every instance it is Sheol in the Hebrew. It does not mean a lake of fire and brimstone nor anything resembling that thought; instead of it being described as a place of blazing fire it is described as a state of darkness. (Job. 10.:21); instead of it being a place where shrieks and groans are heard, it is described in the context as a place of silence or remorse, the context describes it as one of forgetfulness (Psa. 88:11-12). There is no work nor devise nor knowledge in the grave (SHEOL) whither thou goeth (Eccles. 9.:10).

In Matt. 11.:23 is one case where the Greek word Hades is rendered Hell. "And thou Capernaum, which art exalted unto Heaven shall be brought down to "Hell;" I hope there is no one so silly as to think that the city of Capernaum with all its inhabitants, buildings etc., are down in Hell roasting in agony. The fact is that Capernaum is in the Bible Hell, is in a condition as if it had never existed. In fact the very sight of where this city once stood is now hard to locate; in other words it is in a condition of non-existence, and that is the real meaning of the Bible Hell. The whole race of mankind, from creation to the present time, at death, go to this Bible Hell to wait the Resurrection Day, which is near even at the door.

In the New Testament two other words are rendered Hell; namely, TARTAROO and GEHENNA which we will consider in the order named TARTAROO has reference to the invisible condition of the atmosphere where the Angels that kept not their first estate, before the flood, were cast to wait the Judgment Day. GEHENNA occurs in all, 12 times where it is rendered Hell (Matt. 5:22, 29, 30; 10.:38; 18: 9; 23.:15, 33; Mark 9.:43-47; Luke 12: 5; James 3.:6) GEHENNA is the Grecian mode of spelling the Hebrew words which are translated "The Valley of Hinnon." This valley lay just outside of Jerusalem and served the purpose of sewer and garbage burner of the city.

Every intelligent minister knows or should know that the greatest punishment God has prescribed for wilful sinners is dtath everlasting, the second death, a death from which there will never be a resurrection. They also know that Hell and the grave means one and the same thing—oblivion, a state of non existence. They further know that the lake of fire and brimstone mentioned in the Scriptures is symbolic of the second death and is not literal. They are, or should be, fully aware that the Israelites, their laws, customs and principal cities, while they really existed, were typical of greater things to come and that the Old Testament and New Testament writers, including our Lord Jesus, many times used the literal city of Jerusaltm and its literal cess-pool, or garbage burner (designated in the Bible as the valley of Hinnon, the lake burning with fire and brimstone) to convey the proper thought concerning the coming kingdom of Righteousness. The thought intended to be conveyed is that when the Lord's Kingdom shall have been established in all the earth; nothing will be allowed to remain in that Kingdom which will hurt or offend the people. According to the rules for the government of the literal city of Jerusalem (made of stone and cement, brick and mortar), all filth was to be consumed. Just so will it be in the anti-typical city, the New Jerusalem, which is not made with hand or hammer. The anti-typical cess-pool or lake of fire and brimstone which is to consumt the filth of this anti-typical city is not a literal place of literal fire and brimstone but is the second death, (Rev. 19.:28; 20.:14, 15: 21.:8).

There are many poor persons of humble minds who desire to do the Lord's will but they are kept in darkness by a number of ignorant and selfish persons who are posing as Ministers of God. I am glad to say that quite a number of Ministers over the country are honest enough to acknowledge to their congregation that they have been teaching error. But to those who know not the truth and care less and who continue to dope the poor people whose chief aim is to gather in money and make a big show to the world, I warn you that your days word! I warn you that your days are numbered. The Good Shepherd is near. He will not much longer permit you unfaithful servants to make a business of penning us and fleecing (collecting money from) His sheep. Oh the shame and confusion that will soon cover your faces for propogating the blasphemous doctrine of Eternal Torment when your whole congegation comes to know the justice of God and that the Bible does not teach this GOD DIS-HONORING, TRUTH BE-CLOUDING, LOVE EXTINGUISHING, SAINT HINDERING, SINNER- HARDENING, DAMNABLE HERESY of ETERNAL TORMENT (2 Peter 2:1.)

"Anglo-Japanese Alliance Denied"

(Associated Negro Press)

London, Jan. 15—Lord Northcliffe, in a statement denies that the Anglo-Japanese alliance would require Great Britian to assist Japan in any war against the United States. He says in part:

"When this (Anglo-Japanese) alliance was revised in July 1911, a clause was inserted, stipulating that nothing in the agreement should entail upon either contracting party an obligation to go to war against any power with whom a treaty of general arbitration had been concluded and was in force.

"President Taft had concluded with Great Britian felt that as this treaty might be out of harmony with the alliance the latter should be modified and so brought into harmonw with the Anglo-American arbitration treaty.

"It is an important fact that this revision and renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty were carried out only after the fullest consultation in London with the responsible ministers of the dominions, who gave their unreserved support.

"Had the Anglo-American treaty of arbitration ever been ratified Great Britian thus would have been ruled out of the possibility of siding with Japan in any conflict between Japan and the United States. What happened in reality was that not Great Britian, but the United States senate, refused to ratify the treaty of arbitraion—March 1921.

"But in default of an arbitration treaty there is the peace commission treaty, signed at Wishington Sept. 15, 1914. Though this is not a general arbitration treaty within the meaning of article 4 of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, Britian notified Japan at the moment of its signature that it would be so regarded by Great Brition.

"There is no possibility of an Anglo-Japanese combination against the United States. How, in these circumstances, England can be suspected of readiness to become a party to such a combination passes my comprehension.

"If the Japanese are building ships against the United States they are lacking in a sense of proportion. If the United States is building battl ships against a hypothetical Anglo-Japanese combination it is forgetting its own recent history and is overlooking the political realities of the British empire, which makes it impossible to unite Great Britian, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa on behalf of or with the Japanese."

HE'S BLACK BUT WHITE

(Associated Negro Press)

Salt Lake City, Jan. 15—A Hindu is white although he is black. This is the finding of District Judge J. D. Call of Brigham City, Utah. As a consequence Puma Singh, 46, now is an American citizen. The judge ruled that a Hindu belongs to the white race and comes within the meaning of the naturalization statute, which limits applicants for citizenship to all free persons of the white race, or persons of African birth or descent.

THIS IS BEYOND THE QUESTION

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Boston, Mass., Jan. 15—Boston has been shaken by the declaration of the Rev. Walter D. McClane pastor of the St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church of Cambridge, made at a meeting of Colored professional and business men that there was no doubt in his mind that in the event of war between this country and Japan that the Colored people would take sides with Japan. A few of the men present dmarred from the conclusions of the noted divine.

LYNCHING RECORD OF 1920

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Tuskegee, Ala., Jan. 15 Principal R. R. Moton of Tuskegee Institute has issued the following report on lynching for the past year from the record compiled by Monroe N. Work, of the Department of Records and Resarch of the Tuskegee Institute;

"Thre were 56 instances in which officers of the law prevented lynchings. Of these, 10 were in Northern States and 46 were in Southern States. In 42 of the cases, the prisoners were removed or the guards were augmented to other precautions taken. In 14 instances armed force was used to repel the would be lynchers. In 4 of these instances the mobs were fired upon and as a result, 7 of the attackers were killed and several wounded.

There were 61 persons lynched in 1920. Of these, 52 were in the South and 9 in the North and West. This is 22 less than the number 83, for the year 1919. Of those lynched 53 were [illegible] and 8 were white. One of those put to death was a Colored woman. 18 or less than one-third of these put to death were charged with rape or attempted rape. Two of the victims were burned to death. The charges against those burned to death were rape and murder, 1; killing landlord in dispute, 1; [illegible] charged the whites were: [illegible] insulting woman, 1; no charge, 1; not being a foreigner, 1; [illegible] officer of the law 1. The offenses charged against the Colored [illegible]: murder, 5; attempted murder, 4; killing officer of the law, 2; killing landlord in dispute, 6; [illegible] 15; attempted rape, 3; assisting fugitive to escape 3; wounding officer, 2; insulting woman, 1; [illegible] down guard, escaping from gang and then returning and surrendering, 2; jumping labor contract, 1; threatening to [illegible], 1; cutting a man in a fight, 1; receiving stay of death [illegible] because another confessed, [illegible] 1; peeping thru window at women, 1; insisting on voting, 1.

The states in which lynchings occurred and the number in each state are as follows:

Arkansas, 1; Alabama, 7; California, 3; Florida, 7; Georgia 9; Illinois, 1; Kansas, 1; Kentucky, 1; Minnesota, 3; Mississippi, 7; Missouri 1; North Carolina, 3; Ohio, 1 Oklahoma, 3; South Carolina, 1; Texas, 10; Virginia, 1 and West Virginia, 1.

We desire it understood that everybody is welcome to attend these classes. The fact is that these classes are being held for the very purpose of helping anybody who is teachable to understand the Bible. The table is set for those who desire to eat. It costs you nothing but your time. We never have any collection. Seats are always free. I wish to remind you that because the International Bible Students never take up collection and always give their services without money and without price they are hated by the most of the preachers. I ask you to judge for yourself as to who is showing more of the Lord's spirit? The one who will give you the Truth without money and without price or the one who says in so many words that unless the dollars are forthcoming I will not preach for you.

We have a nice, clean, wam and roomy place for meeting.

$500,000.00 For Knoxville College

(Associated Negro Press)

KNOXVILLE Tenn., Jan. 15—The General Education Board with headquarters in New York City has recently made a grant of $125,000 toward a total of $500,000 which is now being raised for endowment for Knoxville College, Knoxville, Tenn.

One year ago plans were made through the New World Movement of the United Presbyterian church for raising half a million dollars for endowment for Knoxville Colleges. Approximately two-thirds of this money has been raised in addition to the $125,000.00 which has been granted by the General Education Board.

This is the largest grant that has ever been made, it is said, to any educational institution under the United Presbyterian Church from sources outside the denomination.

Knorville College was founded in 1876 and has been working for higher education for more than forty years.

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 15—There is quite a little comment going on relative to an anonymous letter received by the recorder here. The letter has been published in the daily newspapers, and the recorder turned the original over to the postal authoritjes.

The letter is published exactly as written, and while the English is not the purest of the Queen's, it very clearly answers the question for the Memphis Appeal, which newspaper recently had an editorial under the caption: "What's In the Back of the Negroes' Head? Even the more ignorant of the Race are thinking in terms of what is just and what is not. Says the letter:

"Recorder Swhatz—I am going to see what you are going to do with those Aristocratic white men of your class for shooting and lynching our race, if it had been our Colored men that burned and murdered a white man of your class why you yourself hase ordered out your hole force and blood hounds and by her every Colored man and boy in Savannah, the right and the wrong and I suppose had him and you in your chair a judge you are not worthy of your chair because you are less than a gentleman to let a white man murder the Colored men what would you white people do? What could you do without a Negro?

"You can get up nothing unless a Colored man is in it. Your family can't do without a Colored person, still, a Colored man is not more than a dog in your sight. But you must remember that God's above you and He knows and when He does aome to judge He will be judge over you and over all the rest. He is going to judge you mighty hard, because you had cause a man of our Colored men and boys to sweat and lose their freedom, and you take a crime from a white man and put it on a Colored man, and you all beat our Colored women over the head with a blackjack as quick as you would kill a snake. But remember your day is coming.

"From yours truly"

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 15—Dr. C. F. Checizzi, a native Abyssinian priest, who has degrees from Oxford and Paris Univerisities, and is Dean of the National and International College of Languages and Sciences of Princeton University, Indiana.

Dr. Checizzi is making his fourth tour of the country urging members of his race to return to Africa. He points out that his own country, Abyssinis is now an independent country, has never been conquered, and is the cradle of civilization. If black government could succeed in Abyssinia why could it not succeed all over Africa, asks Dr. Checizzi.

Dr. Checizzi stated that there were 1,500,000 Colored men actually fighting in the World War, and that 520,000 of them lost lives. In contradiction of reports of cowardice on the part of black troops engaged in the war, he points to several famous Colored wen who have won fame as military and political geniuses.

"While it might be said that Liberia and Hayti, both Colored republics have not succeeded, and the failure of Liberia and Haiti is due to the lack of education, said Dr. Checizzi, while Abyssinia has succeeded. Time will show that these republics can succeed as well as white governments. Many white governments in the Balkans and Russia have been miserable failures. The white man has tried to dominate Africa, but that continent should be solid black. Only by uniting in Africa will the black races be able to obtain recognition in the councils of the world. The departure of the black people from this coutry to Africa would automatically settle the race problem which has been the source of so much discord."

"Dr. Checizzi besides holding degrees from two universities, speaks fifteen languages, using English with fluency, and is a priest of the Coptic religion. He attended the World's Fair in St Louis with th sons of King Menelik of Abyssinia and has lived for a long time in this country, as well as nearly every other country on the face of the globe.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS OPPOSED TO KU-KLUX

(Associated Negro Press)

Richmond, Va., Jan. 15—The Knights of Columbus has never taken cognizance of the existence of what is known as the Ku Klux Klan, an imitation of the old organization which performed honorable service in the South during reconstruction days following the War between the States," said Samuel L. Kelley, Grand Knight of Richmond Council, when his attention was called to a report that a committee of three members of the council would call on Governor Davis and demand that he take some action to suppress the activities of the recently organized band.

John J. Blake, district deputy and Edward L. Ryan, another officer confirmed the statement of Mr. Kelley. The K. of C. leader said that the names of the three men given by the man who sought to obtain publicity for the false report were evidently fictitious. They are not members of the Knights of Columbus.

FIRE CAUSES GREAT LOSS AT BENNETT COLLEGE

(Associated Negro Press)

Greensboro, N. C., Jan. 15—Fire of unkuown origin compelled gutted the interior of Carolina Hall a four story brick building of Bennett College. The building was used as a boys' dormitory. Only the brick walls were standing.

To rebuild a similar structure it is estimated the cost would approximate between $35,000 and $40,000. Dr. Frank Trigg, president of Bennett College, stated that he was unable to make an estimate of the loss incurred.

Students in the hall first noticed smoke coming from the attic, Pres Trigg was immediaely notified and the alarm was given. No serious injuries were sustained by anyone

May Run Pullman Inauguration Special

(Associated Negro Press)

Chicago, Jan. 15—There is an effort being made to assemble an entire train of Pullmans in Chicago to be taken on from here as a special to the inauguration in Washington, March 4. The movement is under the direction of R. L. Mays and promises to be successful. Mr. Mays is president of the Railway Men's International Industrial and Benevolent Association.

The plan, as outlined, is to make up special parties in Oklahoma, Arkansas, California, Minnesota, also Denver, Omaha, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Kansas City and other points and for all to meet in Chicago on a certain date, probably March 2, and the special train to go from here.

It is planned to have a train of solid Pullmans, with baggage and dining cars. Short stops are contemplated at Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Harper's Ferry en rout. At Harper's Ferry, made famous by John Brown, there will be a visit to the historic spot and a short program.

The train when made up will be given a name fitting for the occasion, "Inauguration Special," "Liberty Spedial" or something to demonstrate both the progressiveness and determination of Colored Americans.

This special train is set aside for the contemplated plans for taking the Eighth Regiment to the inauguration. Plans for the Eihgth are under way but have not been fully consummated. It will cost several thousand dollars to transport the regiment, but many people feel that the effect for good would be such that every person should be willing to help with the expense. Col. Otis Duncan is in charge of the regiment.

Dertoit, Mich., Jan. 15—It is high time for Americans to cease their practices of calling pople of other nationalities "Micks," "Chinks," "Niggers," "Wops" and "Hunkies," said Dr. S. H. Clark of the University of Chicago, addressing the open Forum and putting down the habits as "impertinent Anglo-Saxon arrogance and superciliousness."

"It was just rare good luck," he said, "our forefathers got a ship ahead of the other fellows.

"I do not know how the California problem is to be solved, but I do know that without Japanese the desert would not be blossoming as a rose. I know that, class for class the Japanese is our equal, and I believe the president of the National University of Japan is probably the intellectual equal of President-Eliot of Harvard.

"Some of us here who wrap ourselves in the "Red, White and Blue' don't know the words of America, but call a sturdy Italian newcomer a "Wop."

COLORED MEN IN CGNFERENCE

Washington, Jan. 15—A conference of Colored men of Northern Virginia for the purpose of considering improvement of the Colored population in that section was held at Manassas, Virginia. This conference was similar in all respects to the conference held at Tuskegee Institute. Health, sanitation, better schools, better farming and good citizenship were discussed. Prof. Charles M. Thomas of Dunbar High School of this city spoke at one of the sessions, basing his talk on conditions in Louisa and Loudon counties as he found them.

COLORED HEIRS GET ESTATE VALUED AT OVER $40,000.00

(Associated Negro Press)

Savnanah, Ga., Jan. 15—The validity of a group of Colored claimants to town property in this city was established recently by witnesses to a common law marriage which was made in the year of 1855 when the contracting parties were slaves. A $40,000 estimate was placed on the procprty in question which was directed by court order to be distributed among four sets of Colored heirs.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—Postmaster General Burleson has been asked by the N. A. A. C. P. to bar the Ku Klux Klan from the use of the U. The Postmaster General has not answered the letter.

A. P. A. FRATERNITY HOLDS CONVENTION IN KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 15 For the first time Negro College men gathered west of the Mississippi River in annual fraternity convention held by the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity in the Greater Kansas Cities with forty-two delegates and nearly seventy-five visiting members of the Fraternity present. This marks one of the mile-stones of progress among Colored college men who in spite of the great distance from their colleges were not to be prevented from participation in the dis the great distance from their local colleges were not to be prevented from participation in the discussion of the important questions and the solving of difficult problems confronting the Colored man in America.

On the evening of the first day, Monday December 27th, a Smoker and Symposium was held at the Kansas City Community Center. Much interest was aroused thru the discussion of the suggested subjects "The Effects of the Migration movement on the Political statue of the Negro," and "The Relation of Alpha Phi Alpha to Professional Fraternities" The Public Session of the Convention was held at the Allen Chapel A. M. E. Church, Tuesday evening, December 28th, to which a large number of citizens of the Greater Kansas Cities attended.

At the last session of the Convention, Friday, December 31st the following national officrs were elected for the year: Simeon S. Booker, President, Baltimore, Maryland; Elmer J. Cheeks, Vice President, Cleveland, Ohio; Norman L. McGhe Secretary, Howard University, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Homer Cooper, Treasurer, Chicago, Illinois Carl J. Murphy Editor of the Official Organ, The Sphinx, Baltimore, Maryland. Members elected on the Commission which has charge of Graduate Work and Public Affairs of the Fraternity are Ex-General President, Lucius L. McGhee, Chicago, Illinois; Daniel W. Bowles, St. Louis, Missouri and Dr. Homer Cooper, Chicago, Illinois. Members remaining on the Commission from last year are Dr. Roscoe C. Giles, Chairman, Chicago, Illinois and Ormond A. Forte, Cleveland, Ohio.

From the very first day, it was easily evident to the residents of the Greater Kansas Cities that here was gathered a group of young men with a definite purpose and although there were many and various social events planned and given in honor of the visiting fraternity men by the hospitable citizens of the Greater Kansas Cities, nothing was permitted to interfere with the performance of the definite work of the Fraternity and the drawing up of plans for the large and important program to be followed during the present year. One of the important matters agreed upon was the continuance of the "Go to High School, Go To College Movement which was inaugarated and conducted throughout the United States by the Fraternity last year. This year the Fraternity hopes to make the movement even more effective.

TULSA DENTIST GETS WIFE FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENT

Dr. Kimbrough Married to Kansas City Girl During Holidays

The announcement this week by Dr. S. E. Kmgrough, well known dentist of this city, of his marriage during the Christmas holidays to Miss Mary E. Greer of Kansas City, came as a surprise to his friends in this city. The ceremony was performed at the bride's home in Kansas City, but no announcement of the nuptials was made here until early this week.

Mrs. Kimbrough, nee Greer, is now, and has been for the past three years, employed as a teacher in the city schools of Okmulgee. She bears a splendid reputation in Okmulgee as well as in her home town and is a very efficient teacher.

THE PROMISE OF A RESURRECTION FROM THE DEAD, THE ONLY LIGHT OF HOPE FOR HUMANITY

When we look stern facts in the face and note the billions of humanity from creation to the present time, then pass to death, breaking up the dearest family ties, and leaving behind the most precious treasures of earth, we wonder if it is all life to live or all death to die; and were it not for God's promise of a resurrection of the dead and a better life beyond this evil condition this world's drama would be a dark one.

From Bible Chronology man has been upon the earth a little more than 6,000 years and of course the any one be inclined to question the Bible's statement is true. Should chronology the way is open to questits claim of being the inspired word of God; and any one who doubts the Bible being the inspired word of God (I don't mean error that has crept into the Bible) is not in a condition of heart to be taught its deep truths not to receive the comforts of the blessed promises therein for man.

The resurrection of the dead is the most prominent feature of God's Great Plan of Salvation. Some one foolishly said there would not be room enough on His earth for all the people, if all wede resurrected who have lived upon the earth and died since creation to the present time; but such a statemene is absoluely without foundation for truth.

According to Bible chronology 6,000 years would reach from the eration of Adam down to A. D. 1872. Now for the purpose of making a mathematical calculation of the human race and for the purpose of avoiding fractions we will compute the number of all possible persons that have ever lived on earth from Creation down to A. D. 1872, a period of 6,000 years.

Get your pencil and paper and Let us assume that it is 6,000 years since the creation of man and that there were as many persons created at the beginning as there are now (taking our stand as the year 1872) the stimated population of the earth, at that time, was fourteen hundred million (1,400,000,000) As a matter of fact the human race began with only one pair. And further, let us suppose that there never were fewer than 1,400,000,000 at any time during the 6,000 years (but as a matter of fact the flood, at one time reduced the population of earth to only eight persons) Again let us be liberal and estimate three generations to a century or 33 years to a generation though according to Genesis there were but 11 generations from Adam to the flood, a period of 1656 years or about 150 years to each generation.) Now let us see, 6,000 are 60 centuries, 3 generations to each century would give us 180 generations since Adam; and 1,400,000,000 to a generation would give 252,000,000,000 as the total number of our race from creation down to 1872, according to this very liberal estimate, which is certainly more than twice the actual number. The present population of earth to date is estimated to be about 1,600,000,000 but our very liberal estimate and calculatios of the human race from creation to 1872 should more than convince the reasonable minded that the estimated 200 millions more persons since 1872 to date can easily be provided for in the resurrection.

Where shall we find room enough for this great multitude? Let us measure the land and sea. The State of Texas contains 277,000 square miles. There are 27,878,400 square feet in a square mile, and therefore 6,607,180,000 square fee in Texas. Allowing 10 square fee as the surface covered by each dead body, we find that Texas, as a cemetery, would as our exaggerated estimate of the number of persons that have ever lived upon the earth. Persons standing occupy, on an average, about one and two thirds feet of space. At this rate the population of earth, at present, could stand on an area of 88 square miles, an area less than that of the city of London and Philadelphia. And the Island of Ireland (area of 38,000 square miles) would furnish standing room for more than twice the number who have ever lived on earth, even at our exaggrated estimate.

There is not much difficulty, my friend, in settling the question as to room for the resurrected dead And when we recall to mind the psophecy of Isaiah (35:1-6) that the earth shall yield her increase that the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose, and that in the wilderness shall waters break out and streams flow in the deserts, we see that God indicates that He has foreseen all the necessities of His Plan, and will make ample provision for the needs of all the resurrected dead in what will seem a very natural way. I beg to remind you that all these modern conveniences, labor saving devices, plans for irrigating the deserts, are all A. B. C. principles to be perfected during the day of restitution of man. This day of restitution or judgment day, which is 1000 years long, is the time God has set apart to restore all the willing and obedient of the human race to that perfection from which Father Adam fell more than 6000 years ago. God has not judged and will not judge the world as a whole individually, for life everlasting or death everlasting until His set time, the day judgment—Restitution or Milennial Day the term Judgment Day, Milennial Day or Day of Restitution mean one and the same thing. It is only when the different ways in which God will manifest Himself to the world of mankind during that blessed period is considered that the different names for that period are mentioned. For instance, when we think and read of the awarding of blessings for obedience and the administering of stripes for disobedience we term that period the Judgment Day. When we think and read of man (the willing and obedient) being restored to all that was lost in Father Adam we call that period the time of Restitution; and when we think and read of the length of time require to do this work we term it the Millenium or a period of 1,000 years.

As we have stated in previous issues, the Lord has not been dealing with any one, during this Gospel Age, but the body members of Christ, the little Flock the Bride of Christ and her maid, the Great Company. In other words the work to be done during this Gospel Age has been and is the selection of the officers to rule and govern the world in righteousness durthe Judgment Day.

For the purpose of giving you

ome idea as to the character of Jehovah God, we will give him credit for having, at least, as much sympathy, love and justice as the best of fallen humanity. My friend, put this question squaare to yourself and get some idea of Jehovah's character. Take a case like this where poor man or woman is the off-spring of parents very low in the scales morally and further that this poor man or woman was raised under very immoral conditions. You can readily understand that the natural bent of such individual would be downward. Now there is within your power to grant to this individual everlasting life or death eternal could you out of your heart of hearts feel justified in passing the most severe sentence upon this poor individual who is a victim of circumstances over which he or she has no control? I say could you consistently decree such a sentence without first uplifting such individual physically, mentally and morally? I believe the very first thing you would do would be to strike down the evil influences that tend to drag this poor person downward. I believe that, you would see to it that this individual was equipped physically, mentally and morally to make a good and successful fight for everasting life. I feel sure that you would see to it that if such individual did not gain life everlasting it would be because he or she willfully, intelligently and in opposition to all needed help, decide to go the way of death everlasting. I further believe Dear Friend if it was in your power you would be glad to give every creature on earth everasting life provided they lived clean and Godly lives. I am sure you would rejoice to bring all the broken families of earth together in one grand and happy band. I believe this is the true sentiment of the Godly inclined individual. Unfortunately the majority of the Clergy have ignorantly been the most active agents of the Adversary in that they have taught the people that God's plan is to save all who will be saved during this Gospel Age and the rest of humanity to be consigned to an eternity of torture by fire proof devils. They have been teaching the people that the Lord has said in so many words you poor depraved sinners (notwithstanding the fact that you have inherited tendencies to sin and that you were born and reared under immoral conditions over which you had no control and notwithstanding the fact that the Devil and His Host of demons have you chained down in superstition ignorance and sin) had better get sense enough to join the church pay your dues and be preached into Heaven when you die or do otherwise and go to hell and burn forever.

Dear Friends the character of Jehovah God is so far superior to that of fallen humanity that we cannot even conceive of the length breadth heigth and depth of God's Justice, Power, Love and Wisdom toward His human creatures. He has not and will not permit the billions of humanity (not including the Little Flock) to come to trial for life or death everlasting until the arrangements are complete for giving them a most favorable trial.

The resurrection of the dead will take place on Judgment Day. God hath appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness.—Acts 17:31. The judges will be Christ and the faithful overcomers of this Gospel Age. "The Father judgeth no man but hath committed all judgment unto the Son."—John 5:22. The length of the Judgment Day will be a thousand years. "The Day of Judgment and perdition of ungodly men with the Lord is a thousand years."—2 Peter 3:7-8. There is sure to be a resurrection of the dead. "If there is no resurrection of the dead, then not risen your faith is vain, ye are still in you sins."—1 Cor. 15:13-17. "As all in Adam die, even so all in Christ shall be made alive." 1 Cor. 15:22.

Theee are to be two deshrrections a first and a scond. The electors, the Little Flock, are to have part in the first or chief resurrection at the close of the Gospel Age in order to be with the Lord and help judge the world in righteousnes during the Judgment Day. Theirs is a blessed portion." Blessed and Holy is he that hath part in ter the first resurrection"Rev. 20:6. The Church, the Little Flock, the electors shall be partakers of the Divine Nature." —2 Peter 1:4. After the first resurrection is completed and the Judges, Christ and His Bride, take tehir seats then,at their command, the door to the Prison House of Death must fly wide open and let the billions of Satan's captives come forth to judgment. "The hour is coming in which all that are in their graves shall hear His voice and shall come forth unto resurrec shall libe."—John 5:28. The protion of judgment.—Jno. 5:28-29. "They that hear (obey) in that day shall live."—John 5:28. The proper rendition in John 5:28-29 is that those who have done evil will be resurrected by jodgment, stripes, discipline and does not say resurrected to damnation as it stated in the King James' Version.

We have much to be thankful for in these closing days of the Gospel Age when the lights of Gods Plan of Salvation is shining as never before. We are so glad that the Judgment Day is a time for the blessing and uplifting of all the willing and obedient and not a time when the literal earth shall be literally burned up. During that day "times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord."—Acts 3:19-21; "The earth shall yield her increase."—Psa. 67:6; "The inhabitants of earth shall not say I am sick."—Isaiah 33:6." "The eyes of the blind shall be opened and the ears unstopped. (Isaiah 35:5.)

In conclusion, I beg to remind all unfaithful servants and those who know not the truth and who spend most of their time advancing their own selfish plans, that the millions you have preached into error and into Heaven and into a burning Hell will soon condemn you in the resurrection day when they return and have no story to tell of being in a Heaven of Bliss or a Hell of fire storking with fire proof devils. There is positively no Scriptural grounds for the false idea that, during this Gospel Age, all good people at death, go to a Heaven of Bliss and the bad ones go to Hell to burn forever. As a matter of Scripturel fact, both the just and the unjust go to the great Prison House of death to wait the resurrection or Judgement Day at which time the just will be rewarded with everlasting life and the unjust be given a most favorable trial and a chance to gain life everlasting by submitting to the rules of the New Covenant which will then be in operation.

Let us take Jehovah at His work when He tells us in plain Scripture statement what the condition of the dead is. If we take Him as His work, Gen. 2:17; Rev. 6:23; Eccl 9:5-10 all will be clear.

PROMINENT TULSA WOMAN DIES SUDDENLY

Two Deaths Occur in One Family in Two Days

Mrs. Lizzie Cherry, wife of Constable James Cherry, pioneer citizen of Tulsa, died suddenly at her home on North Greenwood Sunday morning. Heart trouble, aggravated by the recent death of her daughter, is considered the cause of her demise. At the time of her death she was administering to a sick grand child, the infant daughter of her son, Manuel Cherry, Monday, the child also died and was buried with its grand mother Tuesday.

Mrs. Cherry had many friends in this city and was highly connected in fraternal circles.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the C. M. E. Church of which she was a devoted member.

State News Letter

According to a statement issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission, that notwithstanding an increase in revenues from rates of 14.6 percent over the corresponding month in 1919, the amount of income after paying expenses of 66 telephone companies scattered over the United States, during August, show a decrease of 29.2 percent.

A bill has been introduced in the U. S. Senate by Mr. Frelinghuysen to fix the metric system of weights and measures as the single standard.

Recently the Muskogee O. Electric Company conducted a contest among the pupils of the Muskogee High School for the best written essay on the subject, "Conservation of Gas." Out of the several hundred papers submitted Louis Silverton won the first prize, Emily Butz second prize and Carter Allinder third prize. The contest was a feature of the gas conservation campaign, which is being promoted in natural gas territories because of the diminishing supply of natural gas.

The valuation case of the Oklahoma Gas & Electric Co., and the Muskogee Gas and Electric Co., was continued on Friday and Saturday, before the Corporation Commission. Their application to have a valuation set is for the purpose of refinancing to secure money for extensions and betterments.

The telephone rates efffective January 1, 1921, at Kingfisher are as follows: Business telephones, $3 a month, business extension telephones 75 cents a month; 1 party residence telephone, $1.75 a month; residence party line, $1.50 a month residence extension telephone, 50c a month; rural switching, per station 50 cents a month. As a result of these rates the Kingfisher Telephone Co., will continue to improve its system.

Rehabilitation of the electric light and power system in Bristow is practically completed. The old lines and plant have been replaced by modern electrical installations.

REMEMBER THE SABBATH DAY
Matth. 12:1-13

"The Son of Man is Lord Even on The Sabbath Day."

Those who have little of the truth are sometimes great Stickers for formalities. This was true of the Jews at the fist a 'vent of our Lord. Feast days, Fast days, Sabbaths and giving of the tenth, were very carefully attended to by them but the weightiest matters of the law, respecting justice and love to God and man were sadly neglected. This is our Lord's testimony. So today there are people who give strict attention to Church attendance and to various religious formalities who wholly over-look the real spirit and intention of the Scriptural Commands. Their attention to the formality seem to satisfy them from making too thorough reformation of life and seeking to bring all it's affairs into harmony with Divine law, love of God and our fellows.

The Jews of our Lord's day laid great stress upon Sabbath keeping, which fact, according to some people of our day, should have seemed ample evidence of their Holiness, full harmony with the entire law, but such was not the estimation of our Lord. They even undertook to chide our Lord and His Disciples respecting their neglect of the Sabbath, although they generally admitted that Christ and His Apostles' characters were blameless. On one of these occasions in which reproof wss administered by the Pharisees, our Lord took up the subject and explained it, showing that they had wholly misapprehended the Divine intention respecting the Sabbath. It was not intended to be a burden but a blessing; the Sabbath was not given for God's sake, but for man's sake. He the Lord Jesus, called them to witness that His Disciples were doing no harm, that they were merely satisfying their hunger lawfully. He then proved the correctness of His position from authorities, they would be willing to accept. They recognized that David as a Holy man approved of God, and He pointed out to them how that David under stress of hunger, had eaten bread that otherwise would have been unlawful to eat. Then He laid down the general principle that altho labor was prohibited under the law, it was for the purpose of bringing to man rest, comfort, refreshment and blessing, and not to bring hunger, inconveniences and distress upon either man or beast. He cited them to the fact that certain work was done on the Sabbath Day by the Priest, and for the assistance of others, as well as for their own necessities, could be no violation of the fourth commandment. After declaring himself fully qualified to decide the Sabbath question, He tells them that, watching out for letter of the law they neglected its spirit, and should learn that the Lord desires mercy, sympathy, pity and love, more than He desires sacrifice and that any deed of mercy, sympathy, pity and love done on the Sabbath day are more pleasing in God's sight, than were those sacrifices which were performed on the Sabbath as well as other days, in the typical Temple. With this proper view before their minds they would ot have condemned His Disciples whom He, the Master of the Sabbath did not condemn.

The blindness of the Pharisees respecting the proper interpretation of the law of the Sabbath, is shown by the fact that even after our Lord had given them this explanation, they evidently still supposed that while it would be right for a Priest in the Temple to labor in the offering of a sacrifice it would be contrary to the same law for some one to heal the sick and relieve the distressed. Onr Lord, however, soon discovered to them the error if not the hypocrisy of their own hearts. He well knew that in their love of gain they would help a sheep or an ass out of a pit on the Sabbath Day because it represented value, and it's remaining in the pit over Sabbath might mean its death, and hence a financial loss. Thus He showed them that they well knew how to interpret the law correctly, liberally, when it touched their purse but that they were lacking in mercy, sympathy and love where financial loss or gain was not involved. Our Lord, as a Jew, was bound under the Jewish covenant so long as He lived as a human being; because He did not in any sense of the word make an end of the law covenant until His death—there He became the end of the Law for righteousness (justification) to every one that believeth. When the Scripture informs us that Christ by His death made an end of the law it means that there was nothing further to be gained by the keeping of the law, and that what there was to be gained by keepink of that law was captured by our Lord Jesus Christ when at death He said upon the Cross, "it is finished." The offer to any Jew who would keep the law perfectly was eternal life, but all the Jews failed except Christ, hence there was no further need of holding out the offer since the prize has been won. All who desire to share any of the benefits of this prize which was captured by our Lord Jesus must of necessity go to the one who has it and receive from him; and all who come to Christ are not under the Law but under Grace or favor which is higher than the law.

We are therefore to understand that from our Lord's discourses hereinabove mentioend to the Jews was to the effect that while neglecting the weightier matters and the real interest of the law covenant they had fallen into certain habits of thoughts and certain customs which were provisions of the law and wholly inconsistent with the laws real sentiment. Phariseeism had become formism in many respects. It is claimed that according to their definition of Sabbath breaking the Disciples had threshed the wheat when they rubbed it in their hands. So also it is claimed, and so argued with apparent seriousness that if any one walked upon the grass with nailed shoes, upon the Sabbath Day that would be a violation of the law, because it would produce a kind of threshing, since one might trample out some of the seeds. With equal seriousness according to Jewish history, it was claimed, that to catch a flea upon one's person would be a kind of hunting and thus a voilation of the Sabbath. It is even said to have been debated whether or not a fresh egg should be beaten on the Sabbath or first day of the week since it implied work on the part of a hen on the seventh day; and we can safely say that quite probably if clocks had been invented at that time they would all have been stopped over the Sabbath. Our Lord shows by His criticism that this was merely hypocrisy and self-delusion on the part of the Pharisees, who found it easier to make a show of righteousness in such trifling things than to consider and seek to obey the weighty matters of the law, justice and mercy. Our Lord showed them that God as He had foretold had more pleasure in mercy than in sacrifice and that if they had His spirit in respect to the matter, they would not be hypocritic condemning their fellow creatures who were really doing no wrong. This was a prelude to what followed and prepared the way. For coming to the Synagogue the same day, our Lord found a poor, cripple who needed help and while the Pharisees were looking on waiting for a chance to condemn Him for violating the Sabbath according to their false assertions respecting it, He took the opportunity to administer a rebuke before performing a cure, realizing no doubt that the effect upon His hearers would thereby be more favorable. He knew what to teach them; He knew their tender spots of selfishness; and that however much they might delude themselves and others in theorizing respesting observance of the Sabbath when it would come down to a matter of loss or gain they would be well able to rid themselves of their superstition and act accordingly, hence He put the question whether or not they would deliver a sheep or an ass on the Sabbath ray if it should fall into a pit. He and they well knew what they would do, what was the custom and hence, without waiting for an answer, but taking it for granted, He proceeded to show that the poor cripple before Him was much better than the sheep or ass, and that He had been trapped into sin, and sickness by the Adversary, and that if it were right to deliver the sheep or the ass, much more would it be right on the Sabbath day to help a fellow creature in distress.

Evey human obligation is based upon some Divine law. Looking to the Jewish Sabbath, we find that it was the seventh day of the week and was made obligatory through a Divine command, being one of the Ten Commandments given to Israel at Mount Sinai, consequently it was not optional with them how they should keep it, but was obligatory upon the terms explicitly stated. To violate it, the Fourth Commandment of the Decalogue, was to violate one point of the law and to violate one point of the law was to violate the entire law; because the offer of eternal life to the Jew was based upon his absolute obedience to this law, not his obedience to a majority of it's precepts, but his obedience to all its precepts without a solitary exception. In other words, they had to keep the law perfectly before they should gain the prize of eternal life. We have heretofore seen however, and as our Lord and the Apostle expressly declared, no Israelite did keep or could keep invoilately the items of their law, and consequently, according to their covenant, not one of them was ever justified to eteral life.

The Scrptiures do not teach and no thinking peson can be made to believe that God has made the question of Life-Everlasting or Death Eternal dependent upon the keeping of certain days. The Scriptures specifically warns all who would be followers of Jesus Christ to let the world judge them by the fruits of the Spirit and not to permit themselves to be judged by the keeping of certain days. (Gal. 5:22-23). "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, Godliness, faith, meekness and temperance. Against such there is no law." Col. 2:16-17 reads thus: "Let no man therefore judge you in meat or in drink, or in respect of a Holy day, or of the new moon, or of the Sabbath day, which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Crist." The Scripture last quoted means to inform us that the laws and ceremonies of the Jewish age including the Sabbath were but shadows pointing to the real thing and the real thing since Christ's Baptism at Jordan is the Christ. It is tue that the law covenant relating to the keeping of the seventh day and all other features of that law was binding upon the Jews with whom it was made and it is still binding upon all Jews who do not believe Jesus Christ to be the Son of God; but he law covenant was never binding upon the Gentiles (all persons not descendant from Abraham) for the reason that they were never a party of it. The Lord had no dealings with the Gentiles and made no covenants or contracts with them prior to the Gospel Age that is before Christ's Baptism at Jordan. (Amos 3:2) The Lord speaking to the Jews said, "You only have I known of all the families of the earth, therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities." All Jews who accept Christ as the Son of God and consecrate themselves to follow Him are not under the law covenane but under Grace and the only law binding upon them is the law of love.

In order to more fully understand this subject we should know for what purpose was the law covenant given. The Scriptures inform us that the law was given to the Jews to serve them as a teacher or instructor in the rudimentary principles of Godliness and to help all the humble minded to be ready to pass from the house of servants into the house of Sons when Christ came. (Gal. 3:24-25); but all who failed to do their best under the law covenant was not permitted to pass out of the house of Servants into the house of Sons and therefore they remain under the law covenant. In other wods, to simplify the matter let us suppose that we are preparing persons for school teachers; their schooling would begin with the rudiments of first grade principles and they would remain in that grade until they gave satisfaction before they would be permitted to enter higher grades. They would remain under the laws or rules of passing until they complied therewith. So it is with the Jews; all must remain under the law of covenant until they accept Christ which act is the passing mark. The philosophy of the matter is this, since no imperfect man was able to keep the law in letter and spirit the love of God (John 3:16) arranged that Christ who was perfect should come in flesh, perfect, and without sin and keep the law; showing that a perfect person can keep the law and at the same time arrange to help imperfect man to keep the law; but before any of imperfect humanity can receive this help and be counted perfect under the law they must come to Christ and agree to do His will and not their own. Under such conditions Christ's merits will be applied to their weakness and they will be considered perfect and as fulfilling the whole law as long as they remain in that condition of untarnished love and desire to do the will of God to the extent of their ability at any cost. All persons so coming to Christ are said to be under a covenant of Grace or favor and not under the law covenant. Christ's death would amount to nothing if any one could be justified by keeping the law. In the first place Christ would not have died if there was any one who was able to keep the law perfectly. (Gal. 2:21).

While the law covenant only represented the A. B. C. principles of the Divine law, yet sinful man has never been able to keep it perfectly. Jesus Christ was the only one that ever kept that law perfectly and therefore as we have above stated, He captured the prize—Eternal life that was offered to any Jew who could keep it. Now after gaining the prize of Life Everlasting He has arranged that the Jews may pass from under the curse of the law by having faith in Him and following in His foot steps. All Jews who come out from under the covenant by accepting Christ d more by faith than is required them under the law stead of keeping one day en as Sabbath unto the keep every day for the tered into their rest. The

The Gentiles (all descendants of Abra er been under and therefore h ever to do with the Sabbath except to know its typical significance as fore-shadowing the anti-typical rest of the Gospel which is not a rest of body but a rest of faith in the merits of the Ransom Sacrifice.

Learning The Truth

IT IS NOW, and always has been, a weak spot in human nature, or rather a strong spot, to learn something about the Great Beyond. All the superstitions of the dark ages have had their root in this question and our fears and follies of the present day might be traced to our anxiety concerning the hereafter. We are all more or less concerned over this great question and because of the great concern we feel over it, the fear and the hope it arouses in all of us, we are all more or less susceptible to some kind of religious doctrine which we accept as our moral guide to the (to most of us) uncertain hereafter.

The average person has no conception of his own concerning God's plan of human Salvation. We have heard so many conflicting doctrines preached by men of different minds, and most of them with little or no intelligent Bible facts to base their arguments upon, that the wisest of us often find ourselves in a quandary when we attempt to settle our minds on the great truth concerning God's plan of salvation for human creatures.

From early childhood we have been taught by graphic word pictures of his Satanic Majesty, with his emperial imps of the plutorial regions, playing hide and seek in the sulphuric blazes of fire and brimstane, to fear God rather than love Him. The human heart is not capable of entertaining real love and devotion for a God who would consign His human creatures to eternal punishment in an inextinguishable lake of fire, and it is nothing short of absurdity to ascribe this quality to God's character.

We have been doped so long on this false doctrine that, like the poor devil who becomes addicted to the use of drugs, we think we cannot entertain hope without it. The only hope for a drug fiend is to shut off his supply of dope. He may suffer considerably from re-action at first, but if he is determined and persistent he will in time become cured of his ill habits. So it is with us who have become fiends to the hell fire dope. Like the drug fiend, we know there is something wrong, we feel it; we know there is something unnatural about the effects of the dope, but also, like the dope fiend, we lack the moral courage to denounce the evil, and the manhood to fight its enroachment upon our well being.

But the day of hope has dawned for the intelligent human being who loves God and humanity too much to continue in the pathway of darkness. To men and women who think for themselves the sun rays of God's eternal truth beckons them on to a higher plane of knowledge concerning God's plans.

The appearance in these columns each week of the able writings of the Hon. Richard J. Hill is doing much to unshackle the minds of hundreds of people in religious matters, as is attested by letters tat frequently come to this office. People are learning the truth and the more they learn the more they want to learn. Realizing this fact Mr. Hill has erected a comfortable building near his home at 825 East Easton where he daily gives instructions in intelligent studies of the Bible and without charge to any one. It costs nothing here to learn of God's tender mercies, of His word and His evident plan of human salvation. Here is a man, fully desecrated, who is giving his life and his means to establish God's truth among his fellow creatures, and he asks no one to pay him for his services.

Whatever our religious beliefs or superstitions, surely the life of this man in our midst will induce many of us who have become addicted to false religious dope to assert our independence and step out into the light of truth.

The "Y" And Our Youth

MANY WORTHY MOVEMENTS have been successfully launched in Tulsa, but perhaps none more worthy than the recent efforts of the good people of both races here to encourage the Y. M. C. A. Movement among people of our group. Several months ago the "Y" Movement was launched by a few but well meaning and determined Colored men of Tulsa who knew the beneficient influence the "Y" environments would exercise over the tender untrained minds of our youth and be it said to our credit, the idea was a fast catch.

An association was organized, money pledged and in a short while a working organization was in the field. Tangible results were soon in evidence and a salaried secretary was obtained in the person of G. A. Gregg, a graduate of the Kansas University who has had special training and considerable experience in "Y" work. Since the appearance of Mr. Gregg on the scene the scope of the work has been enlarged and public interest has rapidly increased until now, just a few months after the beginning of the movement the "Y" is the household word in practically every home in our community and its wholesome influence is reaching out and pulling into the circle many of our young men and boys who might otherwise succumb to less uplifting influences.

The "Y" influence has done more to shape the future of young people than all the churches in the country. Many young people, lost to their childhood environments and early training, have been reclaimed through the wolesome influences of the "Y" and developed into useful citizenship.

It is because of the good work accredited to this organization all over the world that we rejoice with others over the blessing we recognize in our local branch Y. M. C. A., and share the pride of the community in the good work being done by this organization.

Let's save the boys through the influence of the "Y." To do this, every man and woman, every father and every mother in Tulsa should do everything in their power to encourage the "Y" Movement; to see and know that the proper environs are instituted so that the influences exercised over our youth away from home will be as wholesome as the influence of hme and fireside.

We owe everything to our children, all of us; but most of us are sadly neglecting this sacred obligation. We will soon pass out and leave them—what? Most of us can not leave wealth and position to our children, but all of us can and should leave the priceless heredity of Christian probity such as comes only from the influences of environments and home training. None of us are quite too poor to leave this as a legacy to our heirs. The "Y"Movement will help us in this laudable ambition.

THE INJUSTICES AND INEQUALITIES of the separate school law in this State is but another proof of the onfairness and danger that lurk in Jim Crow principles wherever found. No one can deny that the Colored schools of the State should be operated under the same law that operates white schools, because we all realize now that there can be no absolute fairness between two opposing principles whether applied to institutions or individuals. Remove the Jim Crow principles and the chance for unfair discrimination disappears.

SELFISH AMBITION has destroyed more lives than all the instruments of war. It has wrecked empires, corrupted governments and left areas of devastated ruins and misery in the wake of its destructive pathway. And yet many of us continue to worship at its shrine, giving all for a fond embrace of dame fortune for a fleeting moment. "What fools we mortals be!"

DURING THE PAST YEAR the city administration has spent money for street improvement in nearly every part of the city, save the section that needs it most. Their action indicates their indifference to the needs of the Colored section, notwithstanding their flowery pre-election promise.

AT LEAST ONE MAN has gotten enough of the republican city administration and "spresses" himself in a letter to the editor shown elsewhere in this issue. But it is our guess that he voices the sentiment of hundreds of others who "wouldn't do it again" if they lould vote in a city election tday.

PRE-ELECTION PROMISES have been utterly forgotten or ignored by the City Administration so far as the Colored section of the City is concerned, but it's no more than some of us expected. There is a day of reckoning coming.

NO ACTION MOTION PICTURES OF COLORED COMBAT UNITS IN FRANCE

Mr. J. William Clifford, late first lieutenant of Infantry and Special Representative of the Colored Soldiers in the Bureau of War Risk Insurance and now President and Administrative head of the Menumental Pictures Corporation stated last night in an informal gathering of representative young men of his race, that he was chagrined and deeply hurt at not finding any action motion pictures of Colored Compat Units in the collection of motion pictures taken by the U. S. Signal Corps in France. Mr. Clifford who is now getting out a picture of Colored News reel on the order of the Pathe News, desired to have some of these pictures in his first release which will be ready for distribution the first of February. He was greatly disappointed in finding for the most part only pictures of the Colored labor and stevedore units building roads and handling supplies and of Colored soldiers peeling potatoes and jugging. He stated that it was a terrible injustice to the courageous and brilliant achievements of the members of his race of the famous 15th Infantry of New York and other combat units that no pictures were made showing their intrepid and dauntless bravery in action on the Western Front and which so materially contributed to the glorious victory and to the protection of American honor and integrity.

This historic case involves title to one of the Cushing oil field, estimated to be worth $5,000,000. Judge Ralph Campbell decided the case against the government and in favor of the Page interests about four years ago. In the fall of 1920 the United States circuit court upheld Judge Campbell. The contention of the government has been that the land was alloted to a mythical Tommy Atkins and as such reverted to the original Indian ownership.

Much interest is being manifested in the coming of Madame Patti Brown, Feb. 11th. Our people want and will pay for the best.

DOTS FROM FORT SMITH, ARK

Miss Josie Blackmon of Fort Smith passed away Jan. 9, 1921. Every one that knew her loved her. The funeral was attended at the Catholic Church at 9 a. m., Wednesday.

Mrs. Willie Paterson went to the Howard School of Fort Smith, Ark. and demanded her child who has been in Mrs. Franklin's care for the last six years. The child was put in a car, carried to the Union Station and boarded a train for Oklahoma where she was captured by Constable Williams and brouht back to Fort Smith for trial.

Mr. Clarence Johns of Tulsa is visiting his relatives in Fort Smith for a short while.

REMEMBER THE SABBATH DAY
Matth. 12:1-13

"The Son of Man is Lord Even on The Sabbath Day."

Those who have little of the truth are sometimes great Stickers for formalities. This was true of the Jews at the fist a 'vent of our Lord. Feast days, Fast days, Sabbaths and giving of the tenth, were very carefully attended to by them but the weightiest matters of the law, respecting justice and love to God and man were sadly neglected. This is our Lord's testimony. So today there are people who give strict attention to Church attendance and to various religious formalities who wholly over-look the real spirit and intention of the Scriptural Commands. Their attention to the formality seem to satisfy them from making too thorough reformation of life and seeking to bring all it's affairs into harmony with Divine law, love of God and our fellows.

The Jews of our Lord's day laid great stress upon Sabbath keeping, which fact, according to some people of our day, should have seemed ample evidence of their Holiness, full harmony with the entire law, but such was not the estimation of our Lord. They even undertook to chide our Lord and His Disciples respecting their neglect of the Sabbath, although they generally admitted that Christ and His Apostles' characters were blameless. On one of these occasions in which reproof wss administered by the Pharisees, our Lord took up the subject and explained it, showing that they had wholly misapprehended the Divine intention respecting the Sabbath. It was not intended to be a burden but a blessing; the Sabbath was not given for God's sake, but for man's sake. He the Lord Jesus, called them to witness that His Disciples were doing no harm, that they were merely satisfying their hunger lawfully. He then proved the correctness of His position from authorities, they would be willing to accept. They recognized that David as a Holy man approved of God, and He pointed out to them how that David under stress of hunger, had eaten bread that otherwise would have been unlawful to eat. Then He laid down the general principle that altho labor was prohibited under the law, it was for the purpose of bringing to man rest, comfort, refreshment and blessing, and not to bring hunger, inconveniences and distress upon either man or beast. He cited them to the fact that certain work was done on the Sabbath Day by the Priest, and for the assistance of others, as well as for their own necessities, could be no violation of the fourth commandment. After declaring himself fully qualified to decide the Sabbath question, He tells them that, watching out for letter of the law they neglected its spirit, and should learn that the Lord desires mercy, sympathy, pity and love, more than He desires sacrifice and that any deed of mercy, sympathy, pity and love done on the Sabbath day are more pleasing in God's sight, than were those sacrifices which were performed on the Sabbath as well as other days, in the typical Temple. With this proper view before their minds they would ot have condemned His Disciples whom He, the Master of the Sabbath did not condemn.

The blindness of the Pharisees respecting the proper interpretation of the law of the Sabbath, is shown by the fact that even after our Lord had given them this explanation, they evidently still supposed that while it would be right for a Priest in the Temple to labor in the offering of a sacrifice it would be contrary to the same law for some one to heal the sick and relieve the distressed. Onr Lord, however, soon discovered to them the error if not the hypocrisy of their own hearts. He well knew that in their love of gain they would help a sheep or an ass out of a pit on the Sabbath Day because it represented value, and it's remaining in the pit over Sabbath might mean its death, and hence a financial loss. Thus He showed them that they well knew how to interpret the law correctly, liberally, when it touched their purse but that they were lacking in mercy, sympathy and love where financial loss or gain was not involved. Our Lord, as a Jew, was bound under the Jewish covenant so long as He lived as a human being; because He did not in any sense of the word make an end of the law covenant until His death—there He became the end of the Law for righteousness (justification) to every one that believeth. When the Scripture informs us that Christ by His death made an end of the law it means that there was nothing further to be gained by the keeping of the law, and that what there was to be gained by keepink of that law was captured by our Lord Jesus Christ when at death He said upon the Cross, "it is finished." The offer to any Jew who would keep the law perfectly was eternal life, but all the Jews failed except Christ, hence there was no further need of holding out the offer since the prize has been won. All who desire to share any of the benefits of this prize which was captured by our Lord Jesus must of necessity go to the one who has it and receive from him; and all who come to Christ are not under the Law but under Grace or favor which is higher than the law.

We are therefore to undedstand that from our Lord's discourses hereinabove mentioend to the Jews was to the effect that while neglecting the weightier matters and the real interest of the law covenant they had fallen into certain habits of thoughts and certain customs which were provisions of the law and wholly inconsistent with the laws real sentiment. Phariseeism had become formism in many respects. It is claimed that according to their definition of Sabbath breaking the Disciples had threshed the wheat when they rubbed it in their hands. So also it is claimed, and so argued with apparent seriousness that if any one walked upon the grass with nailed shoes, upon the Sabbath Day that would be a violation of the law, because it would produce a kind of threshing, since one might trample out some of the seeds. With equal seriousness according to Jewish history, it was claimed, that to catch a flea upon one's person would be a kind of hunting and thus a voilation of the Sabbath. It is even said to have been debated whether or not a fresh egg should be beaten on the Sabbath or first day of the week since it implied work on the part of a hen on the seventh day; and we can safely say that quite probably if clocks had been invented at that time they would all have been stopped over the Sabbath. Our Lord shows by His criticism inat this was merely hypocrisy and self-delusion on the part of the Pharisees, who found it easier to make a show of righteousness in such trifling things than to consider and seek to obey the weighty matters of the law, justice and mercy. Our Lord showed them that God as He had foretold had more pleasure in mercy than in sacrifice and that if they had His spirit in respect to the matter, they would not be hypocritic condemning their fellow creatures who were really doing no wrong. This was a prelude to what followed and prepared the way. For coming to the Synagogue the same day, our Lord found a poor, cripple who needed help and while the Pharisees were looking on waiting for a chance to condemn Him for violating the Sabbath according to their false assertions respecting it, He took the opportunity to administer a rebuke before performing a cure, realizing no doubt that the effect upon His hearers would thereby be more favorable. He knew what to teach them; He knew their tender spots of selfishness; and that howeyer much they might delude themselves and others in theorizing respesting observance of the Sabbath when it would come down to a matter of loss or gain they would be well able to rid themselves of their superstition and act accordingly, hence He put the question whether or not they would deliver a sheep or an ass on the Sabbath ray if it should fall into a pit. He and they well knew what they would do, what was the custom and hence, without waiting for an answer, but taking it for granted, He proceeded to show that the poor cripple before Him was much better than the sheep or ass, and that He had been trapped into sin, and sickness by the Adversary, and that if it were right to deliver the sheep or the ass, much more would it be right on the Sabbath day to help a fellow creature in distress.

Evey human obligation is based upon some Divine law. Looking to the Jewish Sabbath, we find that it was the seventh day of the week and was made obligatory through a Divine command, being one of the Ten Commandments given to Israel at Mount Sinai, consequently it was not optional with them how they should keep it, but was obligatory upon the terms explicitly stated. To violate it, the Fourth Commandment of the Decalogue, was to violate one point of the law and to violate one point of the law was to violate the entire law; because the offer of eternal life to the Jew was based upon his absolute obedience to this law, not his obedience to a majority of it's precepts, but his obedience to all its precepts without a solitary exception. In other words, they had to keep the law perfectly before they should gain the prize of eternal life. We have heretofore seen however, and as our Lord and the Apostle expressly declared, no Israelite did keep or could keep invoilately the items of their law, and consequently, according to their covenant, not one of them was ever justified to eteral life.

The Scrptiures do not teach and no thinking peson can be made to believe that God has made the question of Life-Everlasting or Death Eternal dependent upon the keeping of certain days. The Scriptures specifically warns all who would be followers of Jesus Christ to let the world judge them by the fruits of the Spirit and not to permit themselves to be judged by the keeping of certain days. (Gal. 5:22-23). "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, Godliness, faith, meekness and temperance. Against such there is no law." Col. 2:16-17 reads thus: "Let no man therefore judge you in meat or in drink, or in respect of a Holy day, or of the new moon, or of the Sabbath day, which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Crist." The Scripture last quoted means to inform us that the laws and ceremonies of the Jewish age including the Sabbath were but shadows pointing to the real thing and the real thing since Christ's Baptism at Jordan is the Christ. It is tue that the law covenant relating to the keeping of the seventh day and all other features of that law was binding upon the Jews with whom it was made and it is still binding upon all Jews who do not believe Jesus Christ to be the Son of God; but he law covenant was never binding upon the Gentiles (all persons not descendant from Abraham) for the reason that they were never a party of it. The Lord had no dealings with the Gentiles and made no covenants or contracts with them prior to the Gospel Age that is before Christ's Baptism at Jordan. (Amos 3:2) The Lord speaking to the Jews said, "You only have I known of all the families of the earth, therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities." All Jews who accept Christ as the Son of God and consecrate themselves to follow Him are not under the law covenane but under Grace and the only law binding upon them is the law of love.

In order to more fully understand this subject we should know for what purpose was the law covenant given. The Scriptures inform us that the law was given to the Jews to serve them as a teacher or instructor in the rudimentary principles of Godliness and to help all the humble minded to be ready to pass from the house of servants into the house of Sons when Christ came. (Gal. 3:24-25); but all who failed to do their best under the law covenant was not permitted to pass out of the house of Servants into the house of Sons and therefore they remain under the law covenant. In other wods, to simplify the matter let us suppose that we are preparing persons for school teachers; their schooling would begin with the rudiments of first grade principles and they would remain in that grade until they gave satisfaction before they would be permitted to enter higher grades. They would remain under the laws or rules of passing until they complied therewith. So it is with the Jews; all must remain under the law of covenant until they accept Christ which act is the passing mark. The philosophy of the matter is this, since no imperfect man was able to keep the law in letter and spirit the love of God (John 3:16) arranged that Christ who was perfect should come in flesh, perfect, and without sin and keep the law; showing that a perfect person can keep the law and at the same time arrange to help imperfect man to keep the law; but before any of imperfect humanity can receive this help and be counted perfect under the law they must come to Christ and agree to do His will and not their own. Under such conditions Christ's merits will be applied to their weakness and they will be considered perfect and as fulfilling the whole law as long as they remain in that condition of untarnished love and desire to do the will of God to the extent of their ability at any cost. All persons so coming to Christ are said to be under a covenant of Grace or favor and not under the law covenant. Christ's death would amount to nothing if any one could be justified by keeping the law. In the first place Christ would not have died if there was any one who was able to keep the law perfectly. (Gal. 2:21).

While the law covenant only represented the A. B. C. principles of the Divine law, yet sinful man has never been able to keep it perfectly. Jesus Christ was the only one that ever kept that law perfectly and therefore as we have above stated, He captured the prize—Eternal life that was offered to any Jew who could keep it. Now after gaining the prize of Life Everlasting He has arranged that the Jews may pass from under the curse of the law by having faith in Him and following in His foot steps. All Jews who come out from under the law covenant by accepting Christ do more by faith than is required of them under the law [illegible] stead of keeping one day [illegible] en as Sabbath unto the Lord keep every day for the tered into their rest. The

The Gentiles (all persons descendants of Abraham [illegible] er been under the [illegible] and therefore have [illegible] ever to do with the Sabbath except to know its typical signifcance as fore-shadowing the anti-typical rest of the Gospel age which is not a rest of body, but a rest of faith in the merits of the Ransom Sacrifice.

REMEMBER THE SABBATH DAY
Matt. 12:1-13

"The Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath Day."

"Remember the Sabbath Day, to keep it Holy, Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work; but the Seventh Day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God: In it thou shalt not do any work. Thou, nor thy son, not thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle nor thy stranger that is within thy gates. For in six days the Lord made Heaven and earth, the sea and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: Wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath Day and Hallowed it."

This Cmmand injoins idlene s on the Sabbath Day of each week. It does not say to cease from ordinary work and engage in Religious work, as many of is advocates seem to suppose. But, on the contrary, it prohibits all kinds of work. Many who think themselves bound by this command, neither rest on the seventh day nor on the first day of the week, which, without orders, they make an effort to keep instead of the seventh day which the Law appointed for those under it. On the contrary, to very many the first day is as busy as any. The ruling under the Law was that any one who even picked up sticks or kindled a fire was a violator of this command, and must be put to death. (Numbers 15:32-35). How many of those who claim to keep this Commandment do far more work in the way of cooking etc. They, their sons, their daughters, their manservants and maidservants? (Exod. 35:3). If that Law is now in force and has been extended beyond the Israelites (on whom alone it was put), so as to include Christians (Followers of Christ) then every Christian violates it repeatedly, and is deserving of death for each offense; for they that violated Moses' Law, died without mercy.—Heb. 10:20.

But though our views on this subject differ widely from those of most Christian people, we are glad that one day of each week is set apart for rest from business, without regard to which of the seven days is thus observed, or by what law or law giver it was originally appointed. We greatly enjoy the day, and think it not only a blessing for those who use it for worship and study, but also for those who use it merely as a day of rest, re - reation from toil, to enjoy the beauties of nature, or to visit with their friends and families as they cannot do on other days. And we are especially pleased that the day set apart by the Government under which we live is the first day of the week, because of the same blessed memories and associations which gave that day a special sacredness to the Church in the days of the Apostles.

The Apostles declared that the Jewish Law (which included the Command relative to the Seventh Day) was superseded by the new and more comprehensive law of the New Creation thereafter in operation toward all who accepted Christ. The Apostles used the Seventh Day as a time for preaching Christ, just as they used every day in the week, and especially because on that day the Jews, their most hopeful hearers, met for worship and study. But the Apostles nowhere recognized the Seventh Day Sabbath as a day of rest, as the Jewish Law Covenant had enforced it. On the contrary, they taught (Romans 14: 5-8) "That any and all days are acceptable for good works done in the service of God and for the benefit of fellow men." —Matth. 12:10-12.

The Ransom was given for all mankind, but its benefits are applicable only to those who believe. Thus far the believers are only a few compared with the mass of mankind. These have escaped from all condemnation of all broken laws, while, of the remainder, the world in general still continues under the original condemnation, and Jews who have not accepted Christ are still condemned by Moses Law Covenant. "He that believeth is passed (Recondedly) from death unto life (John 5:24) While he that believeth not is condemned already. (John 3:1h) The whole Race of Mankind was condemned six thousand years ago, and, if a Jew, he was additionally bounden by the Law Covenant and has not escaped the condemnation that is on the world. (Roman 5:16). The only ones who have escaped his condemnation that has so long been upon all mankind, are referred to by the Apostle Paul (Roman 8:1) "There is, therefore no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh but after the Spirit."

These are the Free Ones: Free from all laws and all penalties, free indeed. "If the Son shall make you free ye shall be free indeed." (John 8:55) This could not possibly apply to any who put themselves under any restraint in keeping the law. But one says, "can it be that God has released these entirely from both the Law given at Eden and the law given at Sinai?" Just so; such ones being justified by the death of Christ and released from their condemnation, and having received His Spirit, which means the are free from all laws so long as the will of Christ is their will and they do His will to the extent of their ability. Under such conditions we repeat, one is only under the law of love. What is the difference between the law of love and the law of thou shalt and thou shalt not? We might illustrate the operation of the law of love by the action of a mother or father who really loves their child. It is absolutely unnecessary to lay down rules for father or mother as to what they should do for the absolute necessities of the child they love. All they need is to know what is best to do and they gladly do it even at the cost of their lives; but one not being moved by the Spirit of love, it is necessary to lay down rules of thou shalt and thou shalt not. Servants would of necessity be in the class governed by thou shalt and thou shalt not. (The Jewish people was a house of servants under Moses). A Son is supposed to act in his father's business from the standpoint of the highest inerest and love for the father and his household, therefore you can readily understand that a son would do all that a servant would do and much more. When Christ came He established the House of Sons and all who come into Christ, through consecration of their Law. "Thou shalt and thou shalt not" but are under the law of love for God and all

RICHARD J. HILL.

His creatures. Through Him, Christ our best endeavors to do His will are acceptable, and we are reckoned ah having passed from under condemnation to death into justification to life so long as we abide under the blood which secured the New Covenant. In no other way could any be accepted by God; For the law given in Eden was one that required absolutely perfect obedience, and the law covenant given at Sinai demanded the same. Ad now, since we know that God could not give an imperfect law (James 3:11). And since we know that no imperfect person could fully obey a perfect law, we see the necessity for us being free from under the law and accepted in the merit of our beloved Christ. Hence, we conclude that those in Christ, whether they be Jews or Gentiles, are in no sense under the law given at Sinai, graven upon stones, termed, "The Ten Commandments," neither to the ceremonial attachments relating to typical feasts, sacrifices and services.—Heb. 9:1.

No wonder then that the Apostle, so earnestly sought to guard the new Gentile converts from becoming Jews and seeking life under the Law Covenant, by which neither he nor his nation had been able to profit. No wonder he exhorted them to stand fast in the liberty of Christ and His gracious arrangements under the Covenant of Grace. It was in view of this danger of their losing faith in Chrst's finished work, and trusting for a salvation to their own efforts to keep the law Covenant by works that Paul even prohibited the circumcision of Gentile converts, although he approved of it for Hebrews to whom it was given as a symbol and rite long before the Law Covenant was made. Hence the remark that, "The Gospel to the uncircumcised" the Gentiles was especially Paul's mission (Gal. 2:7-8-14). It will be quite a help in the study of the Scriptures to observe that the Apostles often referred to themselves as having been under the new Law Covenant and subsequently freed from its bondage, and to Gentile Converts as not having passed through such experience.—See Gal. 2:17; 3:3-14; 5:5, 6, 8, 10; Eph. 2:11-19.

Kindly understand me. There are some points concerning God's Plan of Salvation upon which my Adventiss friends ad I will fully agree, but their doctrine of keeping of the Seventh Day as essential to salvation, that the days of creation were periods of twenty-four hours, that Christ will appear materially and literally, and that the whole world of mankind has been and now is on trial for life or death everlasting during this Gospel Age, and that death settles the question as to whether one is lost or saved, are among some of the dead flies of error which make Adventist "Gospel Pudding" nauseating to the logical minded and truth hungry person. I admire the zeal with which the Adventists do what they believe is right in many respects, but I do not admire their closing their eyes to the plain logical truth stated by the Apostle and the Lord Jesus Chrst concerning many points of vital interest for the salvation of man I note them to be like many other well meaning persons who are able to quote much scripture but gifted on misinterpreta'on not intentionally, of course, but ignorantly; but I am very thankful that the God I serve will reward them for all the good they do with good intention; but may it be understood that the highest rewards and blessings in he Kingdom of God will go to those who understand the plans of God and do and teach accordingly (Math. 5:19). Adventism is not the only "ISM" contaminated with error. Nearly all of the "ISMS" have within their "Gospel Pie" the dead flies of immorality of the soul, Hell-fire, Eternal Torment and the doctrines of the Trinity.

The Christian has come into relationship with God not under the terms of the Law Covenant made with the Jews, but under the terms of the New Covenant sealed and ratified with the Precious Blood of Christ; The Christians therefore have nothing watever to do with the terms and condition of the Jewish Covenant which bore only upon Israel after the flesh. The fact that by the deeds of the Law Covenant no flesh was justified in "God's sight (Romans 3:20), leads us to rejoice that we have a better covenant with God through Christ. Our Covenant is very much higher than the Law Covenant, just as its mediator, Christ, is much higher than was the mediator of the Law Covenant, Moses; so also is Spiritual Israel (All who come into Christ by consecration), is much higher in every way than was fleshly Israel. The foundation of our covenant is not the Ten Commandmets written in stone, delivered at Sinai, but a much higher statement of the Divine Law. The Spirit of that Law, the meaning, the intent, the grand comprehension of that people. Our which the Ten Commandments was but an incomplete statement brought down to the measurable comprehension of that people. uOr new Commandment, as expressed by our Master Jesus, is not composed of a number of threats, thou shalt not! Thou shalt not!, but is composed of one Commadment, "thou shalt love—the Lord thy God and thy fellow Creatures." Love is the fulfilling not onl of the Jewish Law but a fulfilling also of the entire Law of God as it relates to Himself and all His creatures. In this New Commandment, there is no reference whatever to a Sabbath Day. Nevertheless, as the Ten Commandments to Israel and their Covenant and their Mediator foreshadowed their higher Law of Love and our New Covenant and Our Great Mediator, so also we find that the Sabbath feature of the Jewish Law has an antitype on a higher plain in the Christian experience—a better Sabbath. In the type it was a physical rest to the natural, typical Israelite; In the antitype it is a mental rest, a heart rest to the antiypical Israelite As the Jewish Sabbath Day typified the rest of heart, the joy and peace which Christians may possess through faith in Christ—in realizing their sins frgiven, their iniquities pardoned and themselves reconciled to God through the death of His Son—so also the Law of the New Covenant, Love, Commands all who are in Christ Jesus to rest in full faith in the great work finished for us, by our Mediator, at Calvary. As the Apostle declares "Being justified by faith we have peace (rest) with God through Our Lord Jesus Christ" Thus we enjoy the rest or Sabbath of our New Covenant. Thus the New Mediator has provided by the Typical Mediator for the Typical Israel. As seven is a type of perfection, of completeness, so the Seventh Day rest was a type of the complete or perfect rest which we have in Christ, which Israel after the flesh never did and never could enjoy. The Sabbath or rest under the New Covenant is not merely for a day—Alas! How weary we would be if we could only rest in Christ one day in seven! But we may rest continually in Christ, every day and every hour—trusting not to our own sufficiency, but to His. Thus we rest from works of self-righteousness, from all efforts to justify ourselves, before God. Accepting the justification freely offered to us through the precious blood, and resting in it continually we have peace with God, rest of heart. We have committed all our affairs into His hands, and are resting in Him—keeping a contiuual Sabbath all the days of the week and all the weeks of the year.

As respects physical rest, however we are under no command respecting this so far as the Lord and His word are concerned, except that our law of Love requires that we shall Glorify God in our Bodies and our Spirits which are His, and hence that we shall observe such rules and regulations in our physical system in relation to our food and clothing and rest as would be glad that all might recognize this matter from this standpoint of the New Covenant, yet we know that none can view it ad observe it from this standpoint except those who have entered into the New Covenant relationshin with God, and those we know are comparatively few of the world's population, although our hpe is that in God's due time, the Milennial Age, all mankind shall be brought to the knowledge and appreciatio of this New Covenant and may then, if they will, enjoy all of its provisions, including this rest of faith, the anttypical Sabbath—which can be enjoyed only by God's faithful people

Meantime, however, the world of mankind, amongst whom we live, have through various misconceptions, both of the Law Covenant and the New Covenant, set apart one day of the week as a Sabbath or rest day, and as Christians who enjoy the real Sabbath of Rest and peace in Christ, we are glad to avail ourselves of the regulations of whilethe world to abstain from worldly labor and devote ourselves to Spiritual works, Spiritual feasting and Spirtual upbuilding of character in righteousness on that day. But while recognizing and observing it carefully, because it is the law of the land, and while pleased to have this special opportunity for Christian fellowship and spiritual fellowship and spiritual co-operation, we deny into that it is of Divine obligation. And while we should observe whatever day might be appointed by "the powers that be" we are especially glad that they have by common consent adopted the day wihch we prefer to all others, because it commemorates the resurrection of Our Lord and Master, and hence it commemoates the beginning of our rest of faith in Him.

THE LAST GREAT BATTLE

"Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the Devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of darkness in high places." Eph. 6:11-12.

The Great Master said concerning the Church, "Ye are the light of the world." "Darkness hateth the light." The Church is near the end of its earthly pilgrimage and the hour of the final conflict is at hand. To be forwarned is to be forearmed. The words of Saint John now seem appropriate: "Look to yourselves that ye lose not those things which ye have wrought, but that ye receive the full reward."

For more than 6000 years a great battle has been waged between good and evil—light and darkness. The fight has involved the entire human family. God, in His wisdom, has permitted the forces of evil to prevail for a time, but the time is near at hand when the tide of battle shall turn. The conflict has resulted in great carnage, thousands of millions having succumbed to the agencies of Darkness. It has been attended with untold sorrow.

The fight had its beginning when our first parents were driven from Eden. It will end only at the end of the Millenial age.

When Jesus was on earth he fought the same good fight of faith, and for a time it seemed that the enemy had vanquished him, but shortly he proved that He had triumphed over death and the grave. His victory was complete; His reward, the highest of all. Thru Him brought life and immortality to light and has made known His purposes to all who have imbibed His spirit and sought to follow in His footsteps.

Since Pentecost, God has been selecting the Church, the members of which are called to follow in the footsteps of the Great Master, fighting as He fought, and who must gain the victory before receiving the crown of life.

There are two great armies engeged in this conflict. On the side of evil is the army of darkness, marshaled by Satan, the prince of darkness. On the other side is the army of Light with Jesus Christ as its field marshal, leading His host on to certain victory.

Every man and woman on earth is doing service this day for one of the other of these armies, There is no middle-ground, as Saint Paul puts it, "Know ye not that to whom ye yield yourselves to obey, His servants ye are to whom you obey; whether of sin unto death of of obedience unto righteousness."—Rom. 6:16.

The Lord's Army on earth is composed of those who have turned away from the world of sin and darkness and are followers of the Master whethersoever He goeth because of their full consecration and love for Him. All such manifest the spirit of Christ, all others are in the army of Satan. Who is on the Lord's side, Which side are you on?

The Church this side of the vale, is the Church Militant, meaning the Church at war. It is both an individual and collective warfare. Each one must fight the good fight of faith and be victorious before he can attain to the position of joint heirship with the Lord, and each one having the Master's spirit will fight together with all the other members of the body to maintain the spirit of unity in the body. All such must fight under the leadership of their captain. The same admonition Saint Paul gave to Timothy applies to each member of the body: "This charge I commit to you, Son Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before thee, that thou by them mightest war a good warfare. Fight the good fight of faith; lay hold on eternal life whereunto thou wast called and has professed a good profession before many witnesses."—1 Tim. 1:18; 1 Tim. 6:12. Again, St. Paul said, "Only let the lives you live be worthy of the gospel that we may know who are standing fast in one spirit and one mind, fighting shoulder to shoulder for the faith and good news. Never for a moment quail before your enemies."—Phil. 1:27-28 Weymouth.

To a soldier who engages in war, it is of the greatest importance to know who his enemies are, their number and force. A good soldier will study to know what will be the method of attack by the enemy, and seek to strengthen his position of defense that he may repell every assault. In the Christian warfare this is even more vital. Before we can successfully engage in the great and final conflict, the battle that must be dicisive with us, it is of the most importance that we carefully consider the number, the force and strength of the enemy, and his method of attack.

Goliath pictured Satan and his agents. None of the host of Isreal would attempt to fight him until David came upon the scene. Satan found none willing and able to cope with him until antitypical David——Jesus Christ—the companion of the cause of righteousness on behalf of mankind, came. David represents the entire Christ-head and body. His experience foreshadowed the fight in which they must engage.

In our text the Apostle Paul particularly warns the Church concerning our enemies. Another translation renders it thus: "For ours is not a conflict with more flesh and blood, but with spiritual beings in unseen places, despotism empires, the forces that control and govern this dark world, (host of evil spirits) arrayed against us in the Heavenly warfare."—Weymouth. Enemies or adversaries may be divided into four divisions, designated as the flesh, the world, the Devil and evil spirits.

That all members of the New Creation must fight these enemies is clearly shown from the fact that our Master was subjected to such trials, and further evidence thereof is the positive statements of the Apostle. It is important that we take heed to the Master's method of meeting these attacks.

After he had been fasting for forty days and nights and was weak and emaciated, the Adversary approached Him, first suggesting that he change the stones into bread for the gratification of His own flesh. Jesus met this attack with the words of the spirit saying, "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." Then Satan suggested to Him that while it was true that He was to be the King, it would require a long time for Him to convince the people, therefore He should go upon the Temple and jump into the valley, that Jehovah would save Him and thus He would demonstrate to the people that He was more than an ordinary creature. In the same manner Jesus met this attack, "thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God." Then Satan made a direct attack upon the Master, suggesting that if Jesus would join him, he, Satan, would turn over to him all the Kingdoms of the earth, only Jesus must recognize and give proper honor to Satan. Yielding to either one of these temptations would have been a violation to His covenant. Jesus met this attack with the words, "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God and Him only shalt thou serve."

God governs the entire Universe by fixed principals and every one who is governed contrary therefore is governed by passion. This is clearly demonstrated in Jesus' method of defense against the Adversary. Many seem to not be able to understand what is meant by "principle." Seemingly they term it whatever they may consider themselves to be right when guided by their conscience, or by the argument of some one else. Principle means a settled rule of action, or governing law of conduct. This rule of action, or governing law of conduct, is set forth in the Bible, God's word, and all who are governed by the word of God are governed by principle. Passion means the capacity of being affected by external agencies; to be controlled by outside influence; susceptible to control from external influences. The New Creation must avoid passion and be governed always by principle. If we are influenced or swayed in our judgment, or conclusion about anything by reason of what others may say or do, we are governed by passion. If we prayerfully and dilligently seek to know what is the Lord's will and what His word says on the matter, and are governed by that, then we are governed by principle.

Attack and temptation, within the meaning of the scriptures, is one and the same thing. We have no power to turn stones into bread, but have received spiritual powers which may be used for selfish purposes contrary to God's will. For example, making merchandise of the Gospel; preaching for the applause of men or using our spiritual powers for any other selfish purposes. Concerning such, the Apostle Peter says, "Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucres' sake, but for a ready mind."—1 Peter 5:2.

The spirit of the world is to follow methods that make outward show of great piety to attract attention. Any attempt on the part of a Christian to attract attention to himself is a manifestation of the spirit of the world and a violation of principie and out of harmony with God's method.

All temptations are the effect of the Adversary's influence. He employs various methods in order that he may deceive. He makes some believe that they are not receiving the proper consideration, notice and honor to which they are entitled. This leads them into a wrong course.

St. Paul emphasiszes the fact that the conflict of the Church in the end of the Age will be particularly with the evil spirits. These evil spirits have been restrained since the great deluge, and their days of judgment is at hand. We therefore should expect that they would be able to exercise greater power over the human race now than at any time since their restraint. Many scriptures of early indicate that the real battle ground of the Christian is the mind, therefore the attack of the evil spirit will be expected along this line. We learn from one who has long subject to the influence of these demons that their method of attack is as follows: First, by suggestion. By this is meant that the demons intrude upon the mind evil thoughts. All Christians realize that they have a conflict in keeping out of the mind thoughts that ara improper in evil surmising, judging another, filling his mind with evil thoughts, such is yielding to suggestions, and persisted in leads to the second stage, which is designated as:

Abbreviation. The word abbreviation means to cut short. It here means lack of continuity of thought, or lack of concentration of thought. One who finds himself given over to evil surmising and evil thoughts will find great difficulty in concentration of mind upon the study of the Lord's word the "Scripture Studies," or in prayer. Attempting either prayer or study, the one finds his mind suddenly turned away from his subject and his thoughts turned to or set upon evil things. Thus continuing, he loses sight of principles, namely, the great truths of God's word, and this leads to the third stage, designated as:

Impression, which means that one is moved to act from sources other than the word of God. The word impression means sensible result of influence exerted from without. In other words, it is to be controlled by passion, not by the word of God. For instance one says, I am moved to take this course because of what I have heard, or what influence another has brought to bear upon me, at the same time, entirely ignoring the word of God concerning the subject. This persisted in leads to the fourth stage, namely:

Possession, whereby it is understood that the evil spirits take possession of the mind and control his conduct.

The Apostle tells us, "God resisteth the proud but giveth grace to the humble minded." From this we would understand that humility of mind and heart would be a special protection provided by the Lord, and that, any one manifesting spiritual pride or ambition, the Lord would remove from such one this protection and the evil spirits would have special power over him.

All scriptures indicate that the conflict will become more and more severe as we near the close of the Gospel Age. We may expect that all the Lord's true servants who are actively engaged in the closing hours of the harvest will be attacked through human agencies by these evil spirits. We may expect that all manner of changes and attacks will be made by them through human agencies against the reputation and standing of others who are engaged in the harvest work, which will substitute a test of all Brethren, as to whether they will be governed by passion, or whether they will be governed by the principles, namely, the word of God, and not upon outside influence. No other course is safe.

The soldiers of the cross must have special strength in order to stand at this time, and to repell the combined attack of Satan and his host of helpers. If we look at it from one standpoint, we would become dismayed and despair of winning, but looking at it from another viewpoint, we know that He who is for us is greater than all who can be against us, and with Him for us none can prevail against us. We are now in the evil day. Now then may we have the strength needed? The Apostle tells us of the armour of God, provided for us, which will prove a guarantee against all attacks of the Adversary. "Wherefore, take unto you the whole armor of God that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand." —Eph. 6:13. The assurance here is that he who has this armor on and keeps it on, learns to use it properly will be able to stand.

God is the maker of this armor through human agents. The armor consists of His words, the message of truth, put into proper shape to be used for the benefit of the New Creation. Describing this armor in detail, the Apostle says: "Having your loins girt about with truth." The girdle is a symbol of servitude, and suggest that no one is safe at this time unless he is a servant of the truth. Those engaged in evil surmising, fault-finding, back-biting, slandering or other works of darkness are not servants of the truth. Let each one of us see to it that he guards himself against such wiles of the Adversary, and on the contrary that he possess the zeal peculiar to the house of the Lord and earnestly and zealously follow in the Master's foot-steps by serving His cause at this time.

And having on the breastplate of righteousness: "The breastplate was used to cover vital organs of the body, particularly the heart. A proper condition of heart is vital to the New Creation. A righteous heart indicates purity, righteous motives, righteousness of character, "Keep thine heart with all dilligence, for out of it are the issues of life."—Prov. 4:23. "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God."—Matt. 5:8. "The yes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth to show His strength in behalf of him whose heart is pure."—2 Chron. 16:9.

BERWYN NEWS

Saturday being our regular church conference day at Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church, the attendance was fine. We called Rev. Wm. Green of Ardmore, Okla., for our pastor for the balance of this ensuing year. Rev. Green was formerly from El Paso, Texas and has been in this state about one year. Rev. Green is a great preacher and we feel safe to say that the members of Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church have chosen an able leader. This will add another great worker to th e Chickasaw district association. He is a whole Baptist believing in one Lord, one Faith and one Baptism.

Sunday school was well attended and great interest was manifested in the lesson. This being our regular meeting day, Rev. J. Kemp preached us a heart felt sermon. Rev. Kemp is a young minister and is making a wonderful progress in the ministry. Rev. Kemp was for a long time a member of our church. We are always glad to have him with us. We are arranging to have a grand Easter celebration. We are asking the parents and their children to put their shoulders to the wheel and let's make this a grand celebration. When in Berwyn and want a good hair cut and shave, call on Mr. E. G. Moland at his barber shop.

Mr. Willie Darrington of Blanchard, Okla., was a visitor at our church. Sunday. Rev. J. B. Toombs of Creek Okla., is visiting with relatives. Mr. Simpson and Fletcher Dixon of Chandler, Okla., are visiting their mother Mrs. Dinah Dixon, who has been very ill for several weeks, but at this writing, is much better.

Miss Mary Johnson is on the sick list this week. Mrs. Bell Whitlow of Ardmore, Okla., is visiting with her brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Whitlow.

J. W. Wert, Reporter.

WEWOKA, OKLA.

Negro teachers of the separate schools are up in the air. Pay stopped.

Mr. R. E. Moore, our farm agent, is a fine example of what young men of training and character can accomplish. He is a credit to the service. The young men of Seminole County are rallying to the Independent Industrial League.

Rev. Lockhart returns from Shawnee and reports the revival in which he was engaged, was a success and many persons were added to the C. M. E. church.

Miss Bullock, the domestic science teacher of Holdenville, visited Wewoka, Saturday, the guest of Mrs. C. T. Grear.

Rev. Herman Lee La'Vernes, a native of South America, delivered two lectures in Wewoka last week. He represents the Colporter Institute work.

D. W. Barnes, our West End merchant, has bright lights. The electric light adds to his corner.

Mr. McLenan, the candy man, is courteous, polite and efficient. Find him at the Eagle Drug Store. There you will get your service.

Mr. J. R. Robinson, Lima's merchant prince, transacted business in Wewoka, Monday.

Drs. Rickman, Tyson and Pittman joined County organizer A. M. Morgan at Pleasant Grove and report that the meeting was a great success and that everybody joined the League. Mrs. Morgan served the trio to an excellent dinner—one of the old-fashion kind.

Mr. C. B. Curtis of Chicago, Ill., after conferring with Dr. A. H. Tyson as to the activities of the League, returned to Chicago Monday, a full-fledged member with ful lauthority to institute units. The Black Dispatch is in great demand.

Rev. Carson filled his appointment as Parker's Chapel Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cox of North Wewoka, orders the Black Dispatch sent to their address.

An oil well is being sunk on the Cox farm, with a good show for oil.

The Oil activity is at high heat; will soon begin to drill within the townsite. Let's have more oil.

MUSKOGEE, OKLA.

Sunday school at Dean's Chapel, under the leadership of Supt. R. H. Dade, is doing nicely. We had an attendance of about twenty-five children, few mothers and fathers. Senior class taught by Bro. J. M. Kennedy. Bro. Kennedy is on to his job. Intermediate class taught by Miss Dade. She seems to have the work at heart. She knows just how to explain the scriptures to the little ones. Card class, taught by Mrs. Clanton, who feels that it is right to bring the babies to Christ.

Prayer service was opened by Deacon McCaulley. Quite a few fervent prayers were prayed. The choir, laboring under the leadership of Mrs. Gude, pianist, is doing remarkably well. They marched in and in a way praised God from whom all blessings flowed.

Rev. Isaac read scripture lesson. Rev. Richardson preached a very noble sermon. Collection for the day, $11.38.

Mr. and Mrs. Garner, their son Vernon, and niece, Hallie, visited Mrs. C. A. Gibbs. Mrs. Gibbs is a little on the sick list.

DOTS FROM JONES, OKLA.

Sunday was a high day at the Salem Baptist Church. Sunday school was well attended and we had a great lesson. Rev. Hester preached a great sermon from the 10th chapter of 1st Samuel and the 26th verse. The sermon was enjoyed by all.

At six o'clock in the afternoon, we had a successful B. Y. P. U. The lesson was taught from the black board by the pastor.

At night we had a nice congregation and the pastor preached us another soul stirring sermon. Sister Nannie Reeves, who has been in Oklahoma City for some time under the treatment of the Doctor, was out with us, Saturday and Sunday. She will return to the city, however, and remain until she gets well. She has been ill for some time, and we are glad to see her getting better.

Our total receipts for Sunday was $33.30.

Master James Bailey will deliver your Black Dispatch to your door, if you would like to keep up, read the Black Dispatch.

LAWTON, OKLA.

Sunday was a high day at Bethiehem Baptist Church. Baptising was quite a success. There were twelve Baptisms. Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. was well attended. Rev. Owens preached morning and night, two noble sermons.

Sunday school was fine at the A. M. E. Church. The rally was quite a success. Rev. Boone was at his place and preached morning and night. Both sermons were fine.

Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. were fine at the Galilee Baptist Church. Rev. Wormley preached at night service.

Lawton was hit with an all-night sleet and rain Sunday night. The ground was covered with sleet.

HOBART NEWS

St. Emanuel Baptist Church services were good Sunday, both day and at night. The Lord gave two members; one for baptism.

Victory Moore's baby was badly burned.

Rev. A. L. Randolph will leave for Chickasha on the 8th, where he will make his home. We wish for the good Shepherd a great success and a pleasant stay. We also wish him a success in his other field of labor.

Mr. Bob Mason was called to his home in Texas to be with his stepmother, who is very ill. Rev. Armstead and H. Moore and little daughters went to Clinton, Sunday, and report having a grand time.

Rev. Armstead had the pleasure of serving a matrimony while there.

MUSKOGEE, OKLA.

The church services of the Muskogee churches were well attended last Sunday, especially the 11 o'clock services of the First Baptist. Mr. Chas. Stuart spoke.

Mr. Charles Sturat was in town this week, and while in town gave many benefiting lectures, which were all enjoyed. He gave a very interesting lecture to the students of the Manuel Training High School. It was not only interesting but was helpful. He gave the picture of a man and put great stress on thinking.

Progressive Ward Chapel A. M. E., has adopted a budget system, inaugurated by Mr. J. R. Stuart, the fashionable tailor of Muskogee and chairman of the "Stuart Board." This system was adopted by the officers and members of the church and was recently put into operation, in order to raise $3,000 to take care of all the expenses of the church for 1921, thereby enabling the church to give more time to the spiritual uplift and desires of the people by abolishing the custom of dunninf and asking for money all the time.

Bishop I. B. Scott spoke at the A. M. E. Church, last Thursday night, in the interest of the Standard Life Insurance Co. He also preached at the A. M. E. Sunday morning.

Mr. King of Atlanta, Ga., held an interesting session last week at the Dreamland Theatre. Mr. King is a race man of high note and financial standing and is the head of the Agency department of the Standard Life. Many prominent men attended the session among whom were Dr. Young of Oklahoma City, Mr. McNeil of Eufaula and Dr. Evans of Ft. Gibson.

Our local papers are in a warm discussion of the Sunday Blue Law.

BROOKSVILLE NEWS

Sunday was a little disagreeable in the early part of the day but was considerable pleasant in the afternoon however, services were fairly good at both churches. Rev. W. I. Brown, who has recentyl moved his family back to their farm near Chandler, filled his appointment at the A. M. E. Church. He preached a wonderful mission sermon at eleven o'clock.

The Women's Home Mission Society of the Baptist Church carried out one of the greatest programs that has ever been rendered in Brooksville, Sunday evening at 2:30 o'clock under the leadership of Mrs. P. Harrell and others. There were several papers read and some of the best songs sang by members of the society. After the program, the president, Mrs. E. Wilson, came before the audience and delivered some timely remarks. Every one seemed to enjoy themselves as they sat with listening ears as she spoke of the duty of the Home Mission Circle.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Cooper of Cleburne, Texas, spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. L. Smith. They returned to the Lone Star State, Monday.

The B. Y. P. U. met at 4 o'clock Sunday evening under the leadership of the president, Rev. M. L. Edwards. We had a large attendance and we are putting forth every effort to put the B. Y. P. U. on higher grounds.

Mrs. J. M. Brooks, Prof. S. Hawkins, Mrs. E. Wilson, Prof. A. R. Hawkins and Prof. J. A. Farris, all of this city, took the county examination which was held at Tecumseh, Okla., Jan. 27-29.

The Farmer's Association met at the school house Tuesday night under the leadership of Rev. C. B. Harrell. Many good thought were spoken and had a successful meeting.

Prof. Arthur and Samuel Hawkins spent Sunday in Brooksville.

The St. John Choir is planning a program and installation soon, which will be announced in next week's issue.

Mr. Carl Sypert motored to Chandler last Thursday.

Fannie Montgomery, Reporter.

WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS

The management of the Black Dispatch has been transferred from Mr. Carr to your humble servant and you may now look forward each week for nice, newsy notes, that is if you can stand sound doctrine.

Mrs. J. H. Robinson has opened a nice, neat and nifty little studio in the Ransom building on Humphrey street, where she gladly welcomes all music lovers.

Mr. A. J. King has just completed two new buildings on his lots in the Kemp addition. The Seniors of Washington School entertained the patrons last Friday night with a lively debate, subject: "Should the Japanese be allowed to colonize in the United States?" The negatives walloped the affirmatives into insensibility. Several of the theatrical lovers will journey to Fort Worth next Tuesday to witness the performance of the Race's greatest production: "Smart Set." Sorry we can't give the personel. If we did they would be turned out of church.

Under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Robinson, the C. M. E. Church will render a musical program at the Wichita Theatre, Sunday at 3 p. m. We shall comment upon this at length next week.

The Black Dispatch to may mind, is the second best Negro paper in the United States, and the only one of its class that hasn't raised its price from a nickle to a dime. This is not our basic reason, however, for soliciting your support, but rather its brilliant editorials, its fearless and relentless defense of the Race and its clean and newsy sheet, are the reasons we offer. Those wishing the Black Dispatch through mail will please leave orders at the Park Street Drug Store.

Any and all news notes will be gladly received at Phone 6619.

Get in the band wagon.

C. L. Saunders, Agent.

VERNON NEWS

Sunday was a fair day. There was Sunday school and church at the New Hope Church.

Rev. J. H. Bruner of Kansas City, delivered a sermon for the 11 o'clock service. He preached a noble sermon from the 3rd chapter of Matthew. The collection for the day was $27.35.

Mr. Hill and family of Beggs, Oklahoma, is now moving to Vernon.

Rev. Johnson of Okmulgee, Okla., preached two sermons Thursday and Friday night at the New Hope Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hill were Vernon visitors Sunday from Hanna, Okla.

Mr. M. McNeil from Tulsa, Okla., was a Vernon visitor last week.

Mr. J. S. Bradford returned from Louisina Sunday and reports a nice time.

Dr. C. E. Cooper has finished his office and moved in.

Mrs. Bertha Williams made a flying to Muskogee and returned Sunday.

We will all say hurrah for our new school house.

GARDEN CITY, KANS.

HOLDENVILLE, OKLA.

To the Presiding Elder and members of the Sunday School Convention, Greetings:

Whereas it was the judgment of the Rev. Dr. A. E. Hubbard to convene the Eleventh Session of the Muskogee District Sunday School oCnvention in Bethel A. M. E. Church, Holdenville, Okla., and whereas the pastor and good members of the various churches of the city have spared no pains to make our stay a pleasant one and have contributed liberally to every cause, so much so, that we have had phenominal success, eclipsing the other Eleventh District Conventions of the State and whereas the people have so bountifully fed and cared for us in such a delicious way. There fore, be it resolved that both delegates and ministers tender a rising vote of thanks, and pray God's blessings upon them.

Respectfully submitted,
Your Committee:
Rev. R. A. Hart, Rev. E. A. Stewart
Rev. T. M. Green.

SIDE LIGHTS FROM TATUM

Revival at Bethel Baptist Church was well attended last week. 28 candidates for baptism Sunday, Aug. 29 A great stride has been made by the school under the principalship of T. G. Slaughter and his efficient corps of assistants. The courses offered here are equal to any standard high school in the state. Visitors are cordially received by the faculty, Principal Slaughter, Mrs. Slaughter, Mrs. Sams, Miss Elesta Elliott and Miss Perchie Kennedy and entertained by our splendid student body. The Franklin school under the principalship of A. L. Jenkins, is making an excellent record this summer. They have a good attendance and are working strictly in harmony with the sister school at Tatum. The assistant principal, Miss Dannie Alexander, is employing the newest methods in the primary grades. Visitors are cordially invited to come and see what we are doing.

Mrs. Jenkins is not teaching this year, as her time is employed in taking care of the four month old "Carrie Easter." The town has been struck by the popular spirit of the age, which is progress, evidence of the fact is seen in the improvement of the town site. Eight stone buildings are in construction, now, among which is a modern church and hotel. All buildings will have electric lights installed.

Miss Bullocks from Salt Creek, was visiting Miss Kennedy and Mrs. Williams, Sunday.

VERNON NEWS

A record breaking crowd attended New Hope Baptist Church Sunday and Sunday night to witness the opening of a series of meetings.

HOLDENVILLE, OKLA.

Mr. J. M. King left for his home in Muskogee, Saturday morning after spending several days in Holdenville, visiting friends. The Land Mark and Creek Association will convene in Holdenville on the 28th of September at the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, Rev. Rucker, Pastor.

The Muskogee District Sunday School Convention closed here Sunday night. The Presiding Elder, Rev. A. E. Hulbert said that the good people of Holdenville needed much praise for the manner and kindness shown them during their stay in our city. The officers and members of the A. M. E. Church take this method in thanking the members of Mt. Olive and the Harmony Baptist Church for your kindness and helping us to care for this convention and for the financial part you paid by your liberal donations in each one of the collections. Total amount of money raised for Education and other purposes was $538.66. The people of Holdenville and delegates of the convention was very much disappointed by not having Dr. Haywood of the Great Western Hospital of Oklahoma City to speak for us last Friday night as was announced.

The people of this community are very much interested in that hospital as there has been several people from Hughs County, carried there for operation, all of whom recovered.

Dr. W. T. Rickman made a short talk Friday night and explained to the convention why Dr. Haywood could not be present. Prof. R. B. Harrison of the Flipper-Key-Davis College visited the convention this week. Dr. T. W. Kidd of the Tulsa District was also a visitor to the convention. Miss Sadie M. Torance of Wewoka was visiting friends in Holdenville this week. For the Black iDspatch, see Master Arnold Young or Phone 503. Mrs. Ruby Isom is on the sick list this week. Mr. John Boon and wife leaves for Western Oklahoma this week.

The following distinguished gentlemen visited the Sunday School Convention here this week. The Rev. Dr. Daniel L. Reed of Fredericksburg, Va. Rev. T. J. Anderson of Boley, Rev. Span of Muskogee and several others which space will not permit us to mention. The Imperial Jubilee Sacred Concert Company of Kansas City Mo., will show one night at the A. M. E. Church, which will be next Saturday night, September 4. We ask that you come out and hear these great singers. Prof. Walter Benjamin is manager. Mrs. Octavia Douglass who so ably assisted Miss Mills at the piano during the convention, left for her home in Ardmore, Okla., Tuesday morning.

PURCELL, OKLA.

MARIETTA, OKLA.

Rev. G. W. Hester preached a sermon to the Missionary Sisters, Sunday morning and Sunday night. The preacher was at his best. His tho'ts were deep and the entire congregation was electrified by his profound eloquence. The collection for the day was $17.00. Mrs. Henry Marion has been caught by that dreaded summer cold. Prof. Paul Gipson and Prof. G. H. Hawkins were visitors of Prof. and Mrs. C. C. Byrd Sunday. Prof. Gipson teaches out at Black Joe, about seven miles from Marietta and Prof. Hawkins teachers at Berryville, about 5 miles out. Both are in Love County. Miss Nadine Davis of Muskogee, is teaching out at Ryan, about 12 miles from aMrietta. Our iDspatches are coming like we want them and everybody is happy over it.

Madam Bruce rendered a first class song program last week to the citizens of Marietta. This was the second one of her engagements within two weeks Mrs. C. C. Byrd is up from her week's illness and has re-entered the schoolroom. Mrs. Walter Haslett is on the mend also. Mr. Irvin McCain is the best collecting Deacon they have at the Baptist Church. He never misses a member.

Be sure and see Little Vernon for your papers.

LANGSTON NEWS

Mr. Eddie Brannon, one of our school boys, who has won a great place in atheletics and takes a great part in all games that are played on the hill, was married last Monday evening to Miss Gola Hill. Miss Hill is also one of our girls and we, the students of the University, hope that they may be as happy all the rest of their lives.

The people of Langston were out Sunday evening to the wedding of Miss Stella Gains and Rev. A. M. Smith. We hope them a long happy life.

The Women's Federated Club met at the University last week. A grand session was held.

Miss C. I. Thomas left oMnday for Muskogee to spend a few days with Miss Sybil Byrd. Mrs. Watson spent a few days with Mrs. Marquess. She went back to Ardmore after a few days stay. Miss B. Strickland came home from her school for a few days.

Mrs. Susie Pierson from Kingfisher, is spending a few days with Mrs. Marquess. Miss Ann Marquess has been sick for a few days, but is much better now.

Richard J. Hill's Weekly Articles

THE WORLD HAS ENDED AND MILLIONS NOW WALKING ABOUT UPON EARTH WILL NEVER GO INTO THE GRAVE

I am fully aware that many of you who read this article will scoff and posibly say, "What on earth is the writer trying to give the people now?" Many people are of the opinion that the world will always be as it has been in the past. But based upon the plain statements of the Scriptures and the facts and circumstances as we now see them, it is clear to the properly informed Bible Students that the world of mankind has reached an end of some kind. But before giving our evidence to back the conclusion that the world has ended, it is necessary that we explain the meaning of the word world as used in the Scriptures. The Bible meaning of the word world has reference to A PARTICULAR ORDER OF THINGS, or ORGANIZATIONS OF GOVERNMENTS, SOCIETIES, Etc., that existed within a certain designated period of time—Order or dispensation is the thought.

God's plan for the dealing with man is divided into three great periods of time, called worlds or dispensations. The first world or dispensation (From the creation of man to the flood) is called in the Scriptures the world that was. (2 Peter, 3:6) The second dispensation (From the flood to the second coming of Christ) is called, The world that now is or the present evil world; and the third dispensation (From the second coming of Christ onward without end) is called the world to come wherein dwelleth right eousness,—Rev. 21:1; 2nd Cor. 12:1-4; Heb. 2:5.

Right here, Dear Ones, I beg to remind you that we are now standing upon the threshold of the New World, or Dispensation wherein dwelleth righteousness, but before we are permitted to inter this Glorious and Blessed condition, we must be cleansen and purified from all unrighteousness, injustice, oppression, and disposition of revolt against the New Order of things; there we note on every hand the purifing fires of trouble of every discription are burning and must soon burn with such fury that the whole camp of humanity will cry out in dismay feeling and fearing that all that was worth living for is gone to distruction. They will soon throw up their hands and cry out in earnest saying, "Where is God?"

Because of unfaithfullness to His righteous laws, God withdrew His favor from the Jews as a Nation and permitted the Gentiles to have a lease upon the World to try themselves at governing the world. The Gentiles, like the Jews, needed to learn by experience that they were incapable to properly govern themselves or others. The Gentiles Dominion, according to Scripture is a period of two thousand, five hundred and twenty years, beginning 606 B. C.., at the time when Zedekiah, the Jewish ruler was dethroned and Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, was enthroned. It follows then that the full period of two thousand, five hundred and twenty years would end 1914 A. D.

God fore knowing the course man would take, told through his prophet Joel; 3:9-15 and Daniel 12:7, The present world condition.—Prophecy is simply history written in advance and who ever doubts the prophecies of the Bible fails to give Jehovah credit for having the ability of knowing His plans and stating them in advance and also fails to give Him credit of knowing in advance the course of future events.

We now submit twelve reasons from the Prophecy of Jesus Christ, the greatest prophet in the whole universe, in support of our assertion that the world has ended. Five days before his crucifiiction His disciples asked him privately, "Tell us what shall be the proof of the end of the world." Matt 24.3.

The Gentiles had a lease of power or permission from God to try themselves at governing the world. This was a stated length of time (From 606 B. C. to 1914 A. D., a period of two thousand, five hundred and twenty years) and when that time expired the Lord began proceedings at once to oust them—they having become enemies to the one who gave them their lease of power. Now, Jesus referring to the end of the Gentiles' lease of power, in His answer to the questions propounded Him by the disciples, said "The Nations were angry and thy wrath has come and the time of the dead that they should be judged." Exactly on time the ambitious rulers of the earth started the Great World war: further answering the disciples, Jesus said, "Nations shall rise against Nations, and Kingdoms against Kingdoms and there shall be famine and pestilence and earthquakes (Revelation) in divers places;" further answering concerning the Jewish people He said, "They (The Jews) shall be trodden down of the Gentiles until the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled. Every student of Prophecy has understood that the return of the Jews to Jerusalem would mark the end of Gen tile dominion and the beginning of a new order or dispensation. Jehovah through the Prophet Jeremiah, spoke to israel, advising that people that they would be driven out of their own country into a country with which they were not familiar: that there, there would receive great persecutions, and that this period of persecution and suffering would be the same length as the period of their favor, and that thereafter He would bring them back to Palestine and again show them favor. Their returning to Palestine, Jesus mentioned. would mark the time of his presence and the end of the world—end of Gentile government. (See Jeremiah 16:13-18) Through the Prophet Zechariah, the Lord, Jehovah, foretold that there would be a great rejoicing in Jerusalem over the entrance of the King (Messiah) and that, that day would mark the time when the "double" would begin to count; That is to say, it would mark the beginning of God's favor being withdrawn from the Jewish people and the beginning of a period of suffering equal to the period of their favor.

The Prophet says: "Rejoice greatly, O Daughter of Zion, Shout O Daughter of Jerusalem; Behold, thy King cometh unto thee: He is just, and having salvation; lowly and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass." (Zechariah 9:9) Matt. 21:1-9, records a fulfillment of this prophecy when Jesus made his triumphal entry into Jerusalem, offering himself as King. That great event transpired in the spring of the year A. D. 33. The favor to the Jews began in 1812 B. C. and A. D. 33, marked the end of the period of 1845 years, the time when Jesus officially withdrew God's favor from the Jewish people, saying to them; "Behold, your house is left unto you desolate." Since this period of time should be doubled, according to this prophetic evidence we must add eighteen hundred and forty-five years to A. D. 33, which brings us to A. D. 1878, at which time there should be some evidence of God's favor beginning to return to the Jews, in order that this parallel might be carried out. We find the fulfillment in history in this.

While the favor was officially withdraw from the Jews in the spring of A. D. 33, it was not until exactly forty years thereafter, A. D. 73, that Judea became depopulated and the Jews ceased to be a Nation. Accordingly, in 1878 favor began to return to the Jews and was marked progressively by the advance of Zionism and Jews returning to Palestine, until the end of forty years, in the Spring of 1918, when a distinct event happened, again fulfilling the parallelism. The allied armies under Gen. Allendy had wrested the possession of Palestine for the purpose of establishing in Palestine a separate and distinct Nation for the Jews.

Nathan Straus, A Grand Old man of American Jewery, in a speech delivered in New York City, during the progress of the war, said; "We are living in an age when we are about to realize the two thousand year old hope of the Jewish people. I am especially glad that we are witnessing the spectacle of the whole world applauding and approving and supporting our great purpose to re-establish the Jewish people on their own soil." Jesus used a parable as further corroborative eveidence of the event that should be transpiring about the time of the end of the world. On a previous occasion He had likened the Jewish nation unto a fig tree. Now He says, "Learn a parable of the fig tree; when its branch is yet tender and putteth leaves, you know that the summer is nigh; so like wise, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the door. Verily, verily I say unto you, this Generation shall not pass till all these things be fulfilled." In other words, when these events begin to take place the people or generation then on earth would be permitted to see a complete fulfillment of the Prophetic evidences set forth in this great prophecy, proving conclusively the ending of the old world and the coming in of the New. In further replying, Jesus said, "As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be in the end of the world." Additionally Jesus answered the inquiry, saying, "The sun shall be darkened and the moon shall fail to give her light and the stars shall fall from the Heavens, and the powers of Heaven shall be shaken." Revelation gives us a key to these symbolic statements; the sun represents the gospel of Christ; the moon pictures the Mosaic Law dispensation and the stars represent the great number of preachers in the world—How wonderfully this is being fulfilled now. The world in its rush to carry out its selfish aims is giving no heed to the gospel of Christ—Sun is darkened. The sacrifice of Animals under the Jewish custom foreshadowed the Great Sacrifice of Jesus Christ, but this is being repudiated as foolishness by Higher Critics (Worldly wise ones) therefore the moon fails to give her light. The preacher's position is one above all others but the great majority of them have fallen from this exalted position of teaching the truth and have taken their places in the common politics of the world, teaching only such things as are pleasing to the wicked world and which serve to gratify their own selfish aims. (The stars have fallen) As a result of the preacher's unfaithfulness and their teachings of false doctrines of the powers of Heaven, the great Church systems, are being shaken. Humanity is restless and is questioning the creeds of the different Denominations and the Divine right of Kings to rule the earth. Continuing his answers, Jesus said that at the end of the world there would be upon the earth distress of Nations with perplexity, the sea and waves roaring (Meaning restless and discontented humanity) and men's hearts failing them for fear of the things coming upon the earth. Who is so blind and so void of reason as to not be able to see the fulfillment of this part of the Scripture at this time. Additionally, the Lord said, "The Gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached to all the world for a witness unto all Nations and then the end shall come."

The word "Gospel" means good news. No listen, Dear People,: the world does not know that God planned on setting up a Kingdom here on the earth. This is, should be, and will be good news to the poor world when their eyes are open to the fact that the Lord is now establishing a Kingdom upon earth in which, by being obedient many that are living and walking about upon earth shall live thru out eternity and never go into the Grave. But now listen again and remember what I tell you: As soon as this information concerning the Kingdom here on earth is given to every nation as a witness (and we are sending this message as fast as it is possible under the circumstances) you may rest assure, there will be a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation and just following this great time of trouble, which is just before us, the world will recognize the Kingdom of the Lord in full force and effect.

We have not attempted to produce all the evidence at our command to prove that the world has ended but we are satisfied to rest our case upon the Prophetic testimony of our Lord Jesus Christ. Summing up the circumstntial evidence as obtained from the Lord when asked to tell what shall be the proof of the end of the world, we find true to our Lord's statemen, in 1914, the Nations were angry, Nations rose against Nations, famine is threatening the whole world pestilence is raging and smiting down humanity from right to left and especially veneral diseases which is said to be more destructive than war and which is now smiting down all grades of society, of both sexes and of all ages; earthquakes (Revelation) are rumbling and being heard in diverse places; the Jews have returned to Jerusalem; the gospel is being preached to every nation; as it was in Noah's day; the people are heedless as to the warning that the world has ended; the sun (the true Gospel of Christ's Kingdom) is darkened; the moon (the true significance of the Law Dispensation) is not giving her light; the stars (the preachers) have fallen from their spiritual position of teaching the truth; the powers of Heaven (the Church System) are being shaken; and distress with perplexity is upon the whole earth and men's hearts are failing everywhere for the things tey see comihng upon the earth.

We are nearing the time of the fulfillment of the Scripture which says, "Then shall there be great tribulations such as was not since the beginning of the world," Matt. 24:21 "and except those days should be shortened there should be no flesh saved." Therefore we are assured that while the destruction that is now upon the earth will increase in its destructiveness to surpass anything of sorrow that has come to humanity since there was a Nation, we have the assurance that some flesh—some people— will be saved and passed thru this great time of trouble. The Lord speaks to us through his Phophet, Zechariah (13:8-9) in the following Galley TEN --- ---- ---- --- --- ----- language: "And it shall come to pass that all the land, sayeth the Lord, two parts therein shall be cut og, and die but the third shall be left therein and I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name and I will hear them: I will say is is my people; and they shall say, "The Lord is my God."

LUTHER DOTS

Dear Editor:

We beg space in your paper to speak of our revival that was conducted by our pastor Rev. T. B. Mattox at the First Baptist Church at Luther, Okla. We had preaching at 11 o'clock in the day and 8 o'clock at night. Each service was largely attended. We had hearers from five to eight miles around. We had 18 conversions. We must say that we have not had a baptising here for 10 years. 37 were united to the church. Among some who were baptised were several public school teachers; some who came back were teachers. It was said that the Spirit of God burned from heart to heart. So much so that the First and Second Baptist Church which has been split for 10 years, have consolidated. We had a glorious time and must say that the equal of Rev. Mattox has never been in Luther.

SEWARD FLASHES

Sunday schat all the churches, Sunday. Deacon H. C. Carter just returned from a week's visit to his daughter, Mrs. E. Nunle of Oklahoma City. iMss L. Davis spent the week end with relatives in Guthrie. Mrs. L. Goodrum is well pleased with her new school out of town. Antioch Baptist Church has started the foundation for their new church. The ice cream parlor didn't have enough cream and pop to supply the demand Sunday.

W. E. Turner, Reporter.

LAWTON LIGHTS

Rev. Hayes preached at the Gallilee Baptist Church morning and night. Both sermons were grand. Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. were well attended.

Rev. Banks preached at Bethlehem Baptist Church Sunday evening and every heart was stirred. The pastor, Rev. H. E. Owens, preached morning and night. Both sermons were grand.

ALL THE NEWS FROM THE BLACK JACK HILLS AND VALES OF OKLAHOMA

BERWYN NEWS

The Mt. Pleasant Baptist Sunday school was well attended Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Turner of Ft. Worth, Texas, are visiting with Mrs. Turner's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. B. Antoine. Mrs. Vivian Johnson is on the sick list this week. Mrs. Jennie Carney and daughter, Mrs. Alstein Johnson, are visiting their relatives in Dallas, Texas, and other points in Texas. The Zion Hill District Association was in session this week, Rev. J. H. Smiley, Moderator. They held one of the greatest sessions ever witnessed in the history of their association. Among the distinguished visitors were Dr. S. S. Jones, president of the state convention of Muskogee, Okla.; Rev. Grey of Muskogee; and Rev. Carwell, Moderator of the Hugo District Association. Rev. Dr. Jones preached us a soul stirring sermon, although he was sick at the time. Dr. Jones also gave us a wonderful lecture on the national issue. We all enjoyed his sermon and lecture. Rev. Sneed, pastor of the C. M. E. Church of Berwyn, turned his church over to this association to hold this meeting. Rev. Sneed is a broad hearted man and too much credit cannot be given him for this Christian deed. His members did their part in assisting in caring for the association. Miss Fouse, the principal teacher of the Berwyn Public School and a great worker, who took great interest in the meeting of this association, was welcomed by the students of her school. It was the most crediable and broadest welcome that has ever been extended to any meeting or gathering in Berwyn.

The amount of money raised in this meeting was $303.53. The Calvary Baptist Church is putting on a 10 day's revival meeting.

THE WORLD HAS ENDED AND MILLIONS NOW WALKING ABOUT UPON EARTH WILL NEVER GO INTO THE GRAVE

For many centuries sickness, sorrow, suffering and death have afflicted the human race. But there has been just enought joy mixed with the sorrows of life to create a longing desire for Life everlasting. And if that Life-everlasting could be accompanied by perfection and happiness man would be satisfied. Recognizing Jehovah as the great first cause, whose attributes are wisdom, justice, love and power, and who is the Creator of man, it seems entirely reasonable that having permitted man, to so long desire the blessings of Life-everlasting, His wisdom and love would lead him to make provision fo rthe gratification of that desire. But reason on theorizing alone would not lead us to a satisfactory conclusion, nor has man been left to rely merely upon these. Jehovah has graciously provided a record written by Holy men of old and by his inspired witnesses, which record discloses that God has a great plan which he has caused to develop in an orderly and majestic manner. In this record, the Bible, we find testimony concerning man's origin, his course, the reason for his sickness, sorrow, suffering and death, and what the future holds for him.

The Bible has never been wholly and completely understood, but according to the standard stated therein the light has shown brighter and brighter as the centuries have rolled by, and the promise is made that far greater light would be shed upon the Bible's pages in the close of the Gospel Age. When the Prophet Daniel recorded a brief history of the world long before these events transpired, Jehovah told him to close up the prophecy and seal the words, so that they could not be understood, until the time of the end. The inference must be reached that when that time of the end occurs the Bible would be better understood.

If in this hour of distress and great perplexity upon the human race we can find a consoling message that will bind up the broken hearted and comfort those that mourn then with gladness we should embrace this message and be eager to transmit it to others, that they too may rejoice. This article is being written for the purpose of showing that the time is here to understand the Bible; That we are in the time of the end; That the old order is perishing from the earth; that the new order is coming in; that Restitution blessings will soon be offered to the world and then men who obey the righteous laws of Jehovah will never die. In the examination of this subject we must apply the prophetic evidences in the places where they belong. The Scriptures admonishes us; "Study to show thyself approved unto God." "A workman that needeth not to be ashamed, Rightly dividing the word of truth." (2nd Timothy 2: 15.) The Scriptures that applied at one stage of the world's history may have no application now, and viceversa. Such was recognized by the New Testament writers, and particularly the Lord Jesus himself.

For nearly nineteen centuries students of divine prophecy have expected and looked for the world to end, because Jesus taught that it would end. Many Christian men however, failing to recognize the distinction between the symbolic and literal phrases of the Bible, have been confused concerning the end of the world. For instance, the Great John Calvin taught that when the world comes to an end Jesus would re-appear in the air near the earth and would cause fire to be emitted from the clouds, and set the earth on fire and totally destroy the world and everything on it. He being a preacher of great renoun, the people supposed that he based his conclusions upon a proper interpretation of the Bible, therefore great numbers believed his teachings: for this reason, the most of the people look with fear and trembling toward the time of the ending of the world.

Reason would lead us to the conclusion that Jehovah would not create a wonderful earth like this, permit man to bring it to a high state of cultivation in many places, and then completely destroy it. Such is wholly out of harmony with his character. Such a thought is also wholly out of harmony with the plain teachings of his word, which says; "The earth abideth forever." (Ecc. 1:4) "For thus saith the Lord that created the Heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; He that established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited." (Isa. 45: 18) When the Bible speaks of the world ending it does not mean the literal earth, but it does refer to an epoch or dispensation of time during which a certain arrangement of things or social order exist. In proog of this the Scriptures disclose that there was a world which eisted from the time of Eden until the Great Flood "Where by the world that then was, being overflooded with water, perished." (2nd Peter 3:6)

At the end of the Flood, a New World began, and the promise is made by the same Scriptural writer that it (the second world in which we now live) shall end. The period of that world is from the Flood until the coming of Messiah's Kingdom, and his Kingdom would mark the beginning of another World or New Order of things.

There are several distinct periods of time in the Scriptures which have their culmination or ending particularly at this time. The Scriptures discloses that the Gentiles and the end of the world. The Scriptures disclos that the Gentile time covers a period of two thousand, five hundred and twenty years. They had their beginning with the over-throw of Zedekiah, the last King of Israel, in the fall or autumn of 606 B. C., at the time Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon established the first universal empire in the earth. This period of two thousand, five hundred years, then, necessarily ended in the fall of 1914 Referring to this period of time the Great Master, thru the Revelator, said; "The Nations were angry, and thy wrath is come." (Rev. 11:18) This prophecy was fulled exactly on time.

Throughout the Scriptures the word earth-quake used in a symbolic sense means revolutions. Right in our very midst here today we have a fulfillment of the prophetic answer of Jesus. With the fall of Aristocracy in Russia came a Great Revolution. With the fall of Plutocracy in Germany a revolution accured there. The publis press is almost daily reporting con ditions of revolution prevailing thru out Europe while every day the news columns are filled with reports of a disturbed condition among the laboring people in America and throughout the world.

In further answer to the questions proponded him by the Disciples concerning the end of the World, Jesus said: "There will be upon the earth distress of Nations with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing for fear and for looking after those things which they see coming on the earth." There could be no doubt of the fulfillment of this Scriptural statement in the very hour through which we are now passing. In his address to Congress since these days of disturbance have begun, President Wilson said: "These are days of great perpleity when a great cloud hangs over the greater part of the world. It seems as if great, blind material forces have been released which have for long time been held in restraint."

Governmental officials are in perpleity; financiers are perplexed; business men are disturbed and their hearts are fearful; men who hath to do with labor organizations are in perpleity and disturbed; and the restless element of humanity which the Lord likened unto the sea, is roaring, The people, the waves are dashing against each other, and there is a general condition of unrest in all the earth, all of these things are evidence of the fact that the Old World or Order of things have come to an end and the time is here for the establishment of the New.

When the Lord called our attention to the fact that the day of his coming and setting up of his Kingdom would be like those during the days of Noah. He intended that we should be able to draw many illustrations and pictures as to the character and condition of the times during the close of the Gospel Age. During the days just before the Flood the earth was filled with violence—meaning that life and happiness was constantly in danger. (I believe all thoughtful persons recognize the fact that life and happiness are at this very time in great danger ,world-wide and becoming more and more so as the days go by. This earth is now being filled with violence) The people during Noah's time paid no attention to the warnings given them by Noah that their world or order of things was coming to an end, so it is today the world will not hear such talk or warning, there was but a remnant of both man and beast brought over from the world that was, into this present evil world and mark you; there will be only a remnant carried over from this present evil world into the world to come wherein dwelleth righteousness; But while there were only eight persons brought over from the world that was into this present world, which runs from the Flood to the second coming of Christ, there will be millions carried over from this age or world into the world to come for the reason that this age or world is more densely populated than was the first world, but there is one thing certain and please remember this: that the millions carried over from the age into the next age or world will be just as lonely and look over a world of far greater devastation than Noah and his family, when they note the complete destruction of all organizations and life except that found in the Ark.

In the age, or world, just before us upon the threshold of which we are now standing, all the willing and obedient shall live everlastingly. You can rest assure that the millions carried over from this age through the great time of trouble, which is now upon the world, into the age to come, will be so well chastised at the hand of Jehovah that they will be glad to live willing, humble and obedient lives and for their obediance the reward will be Life-everlasting.

There is always some pain accompaning the birth of new conditions but the pain and the agonies that will accompany the passing out of this present order of things and the incoming, or birth, of the New World will be many folds greater than it would have been had the preachers of the world been faithful to their trust and preached the truth concerning God's great plan of salvation. The poor world as a whole is in darkness and total ignorance concerning God's Plan of Salvation for the human race. The preachers are more responsible than any other class of men in the whole world for the recent world-wide destruction of human lives and property and for the further trouble and destruction that is sure to come in the near future. Please be sure and read Ezek. 33rd and 34 chapters also, 1st Cor. 10:21.

Let us leave the dark picture for a moment and remember that according to Bible Cronology, types and shadows, we are but a few years from the times when the willing and obedient will be restored to all that was lost in Father Adam and the blessings long promised to man by Jehovah God will begin to flow to the world of mankind. I will not attempt to x the date denitely but will hint to you, my friends, that great things are to take place in this world to make men turn their hearts towards God, between this and the end of nineteen twenty-five. (1925) The Kingdom of the Lord is in process of establishment but something is got to happen very soon to make men believe this. The Scriptures abound with promises that a righteous Government will be established in all the earth and that when this Kingdom is fully established then the work of Restitution will be in full swing. The Lord will begin the Kingdom work with persons living at the time the Kingdom is established in power and when the living members are in such condition of heart as to manifest complete outward obedience to the rules of the Kingdom, then the restitution through the resurrection of the dead will begin. There shall be a resurrection of the dead, buth the just and the unjust. Isa. 9:9; John 5:28-29; Acts 24:15, 17, 31.

I beg to say to the worldly minded that the best investment you can make now of your time and money is to seek a knowledge of the Lord and his Great Plan of Salvation. Seek the Lord while he may be found and before the dark night that is just before us settles upon the world; in order that you may be one among those millions now living who will never go into the grave.

BIG REVIVAL AT DOUGLAS

Our revival, a record breaker, has just closed with twenty happy souls, 19 for the water. But the pastor was perhaps the happiest soul of all when at the close of the last night of the revival, the good people presented him with a nice hat, socks handkerchiefs, shirts etc. The following are the names of those who contributed:

Bros. R. Freeman $5.00; G. Gresham $5.00; B. Nichols, $1.50; E. Nichols, $2.00; Wade Flemming, $5.00; G. M. Macklin, $5.00; Miss Ila Whitaker, $5.10; Bros. Wm. Nickler, $5.00; R. L. Harris, $4.00; P. Foster, $3.65; Sisters F. A. Reed, $3.40; L. Flemming, $3.00; Sister M. Camble,

This was in preparatory for the trip to the National Convention.

Thanks be to the good flock of Oklahoma City also, who through the officers presented the Elder with a round-trip ticket and to the good sisters through the President Sister Hart prepared a nice lunch. I thank all the good people for their liberal kindness in making it possible for my attending the convention. May the Lord watch between me and thee while we are absent one from the other.

THE WORLD HAS ENDED AND MILLIONS NOW WALKING ABOUT UPON EARTH WILL NEVER GO INTO THE GRAVE

(A)

When a long time lease ends and the buildings erected on it are in a decayed condition and a new owner come into possession with the intention of erecting new buildings, his first acts are to tear down and remove the old buildings and clear the lot for the building of the new structure. The old order of the old world ended in 1914 and exactly on time the work of removing the old order began and is still in progress. The great King of Kings and Lord of Lords is directing this work, and he is removing the old order of things preparatory to the erection of this new and righteous order. The Prophet of the Lord, having in mind this very time when the kings of the earth would be making a last desperate stand to hold their possession, wrote; "And in the days of these Kings shall the God of Heaven set up a Kingdom, which shall never be destroyed and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these Kingdoms, and ti shall stand forever."—Daniel 2:414.

We beg to say that the evidence is conclusive to the reasonable mind who believes in the scripture, that that world has ended; that the old order is passing away and the new is coming in; and if that be true, then this must mark the dawning of a new and better day; it must mark the beginning days of the Golden Age, and of necessity must mark the time for the fulfillment of the Great Bibical promises that Jehovah has made for the blessing of mankind with life, Liberty and Happiness.

"Verily, verily, I say unto you if a man keep my saying he shall never die."—John 8:51.

The inquiring mind naturally asks; why should man see death at all, any way? Is it not possible for him to live everlastingly? Can man find some way of perpetuating the life and happiness of the human race? Man not understanding why death has ravaged the human race and what remedy God has provided against death, many have concluded that death has always prevailed among men and men always die. But an understanding of the scriptures make clear the whole subject.

The Lord created but one man—Adam. And we must remember that all of the work of Jehovah is perfect. (Deut. 32:4) Man was created in the image and likeness of God and Jehovah gave him dominion over the things of the earth. (Gen. 1:26-28) The first man, Adam, being perfect in organism, and having a perfect wife, Eve, and the right to propogate this race and fill the earth, not only had life and liberty and happiness himself but could have maintained that for himself and for his off-springs had he been obedient to Jehovah. God informed him that a violation of his law would result in the loss of everything he had. The Gen. account is that God told Adam that death would result from disobedience of the Divine command. Our fore-parents did violate God's law and were sentenced to death, the foreral part of the judgment reading; "For dust thou are and unto dust thou shalt return." To enforce this judgment of death God separated Adam from his perfect home, Eden, and deprived him of the perfect food which grew there, causing him to feed upon the poisneous element of the earth, and thus the death sentence was executed.

The perfect man, Adam, begat no children, that is to say he begat no children while he was obedient to God's law and before the sentence of condemnation was passed upon him; But while undergoing the death sentence he exercised his God-given powers of procreation and there was born unto Adam and Eve, children. These children inherited the imperfection resulting to their parents by reason of the death sentence. "As by the disobedience of one man, Adam, sin entered into the world, and death by sin, so death has passed upon all men, for that all have sinned." (Roman 51:12) Thus the whole race came under legal condemnation and therefore we can appreciate the words of the Psalmist which says, 'Behold I was shaped in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me."—Psa. 51:5.

This judgment of death being justly indicted by Jehovah God for the violation of his law could never be reversed by him unless he made some provision for mankind, the whole race would eventually go into death and there would be no resurrection—no hope for them in the future. But we are thankful that God promised that he would redeem man from death. Through the prophet, he said, "I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death."—Hosea 13.14.

Since a perfect man had sinned and brought death upon the whole race, according to the standard of Divine justice, nothing but the life of a perfect man could satisfy that judgment; and since all the human race was imperfect, therefore, "None of them could by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him."—Psa. 49:7.

The death and resurrection of Jesus provided a ransom or purchase price, for the entire human race. Then in God's due time everyone of Adam's race both the living and the dead, must know about this arrangement for them to gain life-everlasting if they want it upon the terms of the new Covenant, and they must have a chance to accept the benefits of this arrangement. "For this good and acceptable in the sight of God our Savior, who will have all men to be saved (From the condemnation of death by the ransom Sacrifice) and to come into the knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, and one Mediator between God and man, the man, Christ Jesus, who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time." (1st Tem. 2:3-6. This ransom price for the purchase of mankind from death was provided nearly nineteen-hundred years ago. But, as we all know, men have continued to die for the reason that it was not God's due time to begin to offer man the benefit of the Ransom Sacrifice—Life. "God at first did visit the Gentiles to take out a people for his name—after this I will return—and build again the Tabernacle of David, which is fallen down; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up; that the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the nations upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things."—Acts 15 :14-17.

For many years, good, honest men and women have asked, what hope is there for me of getting Life-Everlasting? Church systems, through their creed, have answered this question in this wise; Catholicism, says "Only a few die and go straight to Heaven. The majority of Catholics at death must spend a long period in Purgatory, and there is a chance of these being afterwards transferred from this place of Purgatory to Heaven, and all the others must spend their eternity in fire and brimstone being tormented forever by fire-proof demons. The answer of the creeds of the various Protestant systems is really worse than the Catholics. According to their theory (the Protestants) no Purgatory even is provided There is no hope of Life-Everlasting in happiness according to their theory except for those who become members of the Church and die and go to Heaven. All others must spend eternity being tormented by fire-proof devils. Is there any wonder that the reasonable minded, and sensible men have rejected the churches, the Bible, and even turned against God? Forced to believe that this was the only provision made, for the future happiness and welfare of man these reasonable minded persons, most of them, have disregarded all Bible teachings. This of course, has been a great mistake.

Entering the Twentieth Century, Great truths are being unfolded to mankind. The progress in invention, science, and education in general is more marked in this century than ever before, and with it has come a greater enlightenment of the people concerning the deep truths in the Bible, because the time is here for these to be understood by those who reverence Jehovah. And now students of the scripture are finding out that the Bible means exactly what it says; namely, That Jehovah provided thru the death and Resurrection of Jesus a purchase price for all men and in God's due time a knowledge of this fact must be brought to all, "Because he hath appointed a day in which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man (Christ Jesus) whom he hath ordained; where of he hath given assurance to all men, in that he hath raised Jesus from the dead."—Acts 17:31.

When are these precious promises due to be fulfilled? Referring to some of our previous remarks concerning the end of the world, we quote again the words of the Master; "And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead that they should be judged, and that thou shouldst give reward unto thy servants and prophets, and to the saints, and to them that fear they name." (Rev. 11:18) Clearly then, many of these great truths are now due to be understood because the old order is now passing away and the new order is coming in at this very time which is clear to the reasonable minded. Jesus taught, and every one of his Disciples emphasized, his second coming and the establishment of his Kingdom. One of them, referring to that glorious time, wrote: "Times of refreshing shall come from the face of the Lord (Jehovah) and he shall send Jesus Christ which before was preached unto you whom the Heavens must retain until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his Holy Prophets since the world began."—Acts 3:19:21. Therefore the time must come when there shall be offered to mankind the blessings of being restored to the condition that Adam enjoyed before he sinned; namely, perfection of body and of mind, and perfection of conditions surrounding him, which would insure his peace, and lasting happiness.

(B)

Are we nearing the fulfillment of the prophecy concerning the blessings of restitution for man? Note again the answer of Jesus concerning the end of the world; "For then shall there be great tribulations, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. And except those days should be shortened there should be no flesh saved; but for the Elects sake those days shall be shortened."—Matt. 24: 21-22.

This saying of Jesus is subjected to only one interpretation; namely that the old order will completely pass away by the greatest time of trouble the world has ever known; that there will never be another such time of trouble; that it will be so great that all the human race would perish from the earth unless the Lord would cause it to be shortened, for his Elects sake, namely, those who he has elected or taken out of the world—The Lord Jesus and the True Christians—for the sake of such those days will be shortened and will therefore result in many human beings passing through this time of trouble without dying. Why should the Lord permit any to escape death in that time of trouble unless he expected to do them some good? Why say for the Elects sake that he is going to shorten the time, and thus save many from death? There can be but one conclusion. The Elect constitute the seed of Abraham according to the promise through which blessings shall be ministered to the remainder of mankind. Therefore God would spare some of the human race to pass through this time of trouble so that the Elects might begin the reconstruction work of the human family, first with those who remain on earth, out of the grave.

Again referring to the great time of trouble taht is now afflicting mankind, the Prophet of the Lord wrote; "And it shall come to pass that in all the land, saith the Lord, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; but the third part shall be left therein. And I will bring the third part thru the fire (the fire of trouble) and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as God is tried; they shall call on my name and I will hear them; I will say, it is my people; and they shall say, the Lord is my God." —Zachariah 13:8-9. Why bring part of the people through the fire trouble unless it is God's purpose to give them a chance to accept the blessings that shall be ministered through Christ? Really this is the purpose; for he says, these will hear him and become his people and be obedient to him.

Again, Prophet of the Lord, speaking concerning those who love righteousness in this time; "Blessed is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in the time of trouble. The Lord will preserve him and keep him alive and he shall be blessed upon the earth (Not in Heaven); and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies."—Psa. 41:1-2. This is a wonder incentive for men in this hour of great disturbance and distress to be considerate of the poor and afflicted, to deal righteously with their neighbors, to live in peace and do all they can to honor the Lord. Such are the ones that are promised deliverence in the time of trouble. Those who seek meekness and righteousness and avoid turmoils are especially promised protection in the time of trouble." (Zephaniah 2:2-3.)

Referring again to the same stress upon the world and what shall follow thereafter, the Prophet of Jehovah said; "Wait ye upon me Saith the Lord, until the day that I rise up to depray; for my determination is to gether the nations together, that I may assemble the Kingdoms, to pour upon them my indignation, even all my fierce anger; for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. For them will I turn to the people a pure message, that they may all call upon the name of the Lord, to serve him with one concent." (Zeph. 3:8-9.) Why turn to the people a pure message after this time of trouble is over unless God intends that the people should benefit by it?

Many children have been left father less in the recent war and revolution, and with comfort the Lord's Prophet says; "Leave they fatherless children, I will preserve them alive; and let they widows trust in me."—Jer. 49: 11.

After those who pass through the time of trouble have been ministered unto and given the opportunity of blessings by the Messiah, then those who have slept in their graves in death shall be awakened and given a knowledge of the truth. That will be their due time to hear the message concerning the ransom. "Marvel not this, for the hour is coming in which all in their graves shall hear his voice and shall come forth; They that have done good unto a resurrection of life and they that have done evil unto a resurrection by judgment." —John 5:28-29. Revised version.

"There shall be a Resurrection of the dead both of the just and the unjust."—Act. 24:15. "Christ is risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept. For since by man, Adam, came death, so by man Christ Jesus, came also the resurrection of the dead.

For as all in Adam died, even so all in Christ shall be made alive. But every man in his own order." (Cor. 15:20-23). The Apostle then proceeds to show that the Messiah must reign until he hath put all enemies under his foot. The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death."

It will be during the reign of the glorious Messiah that the following text will be fully realized: "If a man keep my sayings, he shall never see death." It cannot be said that man, in the true sense, lives until he has a legal right to live, and the legal right to live will come to him only when it is offered as a Gracious gift through Christ Jesus, as the Apostle stipulates. (Rom. 6:23;5:18,19) Jesus declared: "And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." (John 11:26) This scripture must have a fulfillment, and the time for the beginning of its fulfillment is the beginning of the restitution times, which commences with the reign of Messiah. The old order being dead and passing away, and the new coming in, there are millions of persons on this earth now who will pass thru that time of trouble and who, obeying the Lord's righteous rules shall never die. The Prophet Job has given us a beautiful picture of the arrangement for the restoration of mankind. He describes a man who is old and sick; and who has the message of truth concerning the ransom brought to him and he believes this message and accepts the Lord's teachings and obeys the righteous rules and is restored to his youth, and his flesh becomes fresher than that of a child. Many old persons in the world today should be glad to learn of this message informing them that they are right near the time when if they are obedient to the laws of God they will begin to grow younger until their flesh is fresher than that of a child. Listen to this beautiful scripture: "He keepeth back his soul from the pit, and his life from perishing by the sword. He, man, is chastened also with pain upon his bed, and the multitude of his bones with strong pain; so that his life abhorith even bread and his soul dainty meat. His flesh is consumed away that it can be seen; and his bones that were not seen stick out. Yea his soul draweth near unto the grave, and his life to the destroyers. If there be a messenger with him, an interpreter, one among a thousand to show unto man his uprighteousness; then he, the Lord, is gracious unto him, and saith, deliver him from going down to the pit; I (says the man) have found a ransom. His flesh shall become fresher than a childs; he shall return to the days of his youth. He shall pray unto God and he will be favorable unto him; He shall see his face with joy; For he will render unto man his righteousness."—Job 33:18-27.

Saint John, the follower of the Lord Jesus, was convicted of the alleged crime of sedition and banished to the Iles of Patmos. While he was there as a convict in a rock quarry, the Lord visited him and gave him a wonderful vision of the blessings to come. St. John saw the incoming of the Golden Age, and sublimely described it thus: "And I saw a new Heaven and a New Earth for the first Heaven and the first earth were passed away and there was no more set and I. John, saw the Holy City, the New Jerusalem (New Government on earth) coming down from God out of Heaven, prepared as a Bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of Heaven saying, "Behold the Tabernacle of God is with men (on earth not in Heaven) and he will dwell with them and they shall be his people and God himself shall be with them and be their God." "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; And there shall be no more death neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; For the former things have passed away And he that sat upon the throne said "Behold I will make all things new." —Rev. 21:1-5.

In this Glorious reign of Christ the great enemy of mankind, death, will be destroyed. When there is no more death to ravage the human race the people of earth will live in joy, in happiness and in peace forever.

THE WORLD HAS ENDED AND MILLIONS NOW WALKING ABOUT UPON EARTH WILL NEVER GO INTO THE GRAVE

Are we nearing the fulfillment of the prophecy concerning the blessings of restitution for man? Note again the answer of Jesus concerning the end of the world; "For then shall there be great tribulations, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. And except those days should be shortened there should be no flesh saved; but for the Elects sake those days shall be shortened."—Matt. 24: 21-22.

This saying of Jesus is subjected to only one interpretation; namely that the old order will completely pass away by the greatest time of trouble the world has ever known; that there will never be another such time of trouble; that it will be so great that all the human race would perish from the earth unless the Lord would cause it to be shortened, for his Elects sake, namely, those who he has elected or taken out of the world—The Lord Jesus and the True Christians—for the sake of such those days will be shortened and will therefore result in many human beings passing through this time of trouble without dying. Why should the Lord permit any to escape death in that time of trouble unless he expected to do them some good? Why say for the Elects sake that he is going to shorten the time, and thus save many from death? There can be but one conclusion. The Elect constitute the seed of Abraham according to the promise through which blessings shall be ministered to the remainder of mankind. Therefore God would spare some of the human race to pass through this time of trouble so that the Elects might begin the reconstruction work of the human family, first with those who remain on earth, out of the grave.

Again referring to the great time of trouble taht is now afflicting mankind, the Prophet of the Lord wrote; "And it shall come to pass that in all the land, saith the Lord, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; but the third part shall be left therein. And I will bring the third part thru the fire (the fire of trouble) and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as God is tried; they shall call on my name and I will hear them; I will say, it is my people; and they shall say, the Lord is my God." —Zachariah 13:8-9. Why bring part of the people through the fire trouble unless it is God's purpose to give them a chance to accept the blessings that shall be ministered through Christ? Really this is the purpose; for he says, these will hear him and become his people and be obedient to him.

Again, Prophet of the Lord, speaking concerning those who love righteousness in this time; "Blessed is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in the time of trouble. The Lord will preserve him and keep him alive and he shall be blessed upon the earth (Not in Heaven); and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies."—Psa. 41:1-2. This is a wonder incentive for men in this hour of great disturbance and distress to be considerate of the poor and afflicted, to deal righteously with their neighbors, to live in peace and do all they can to honor the Lord. Such are the ones that are promised deliverence in the time of trouble. Those who seek meekness and righteousness and avoid turmoils are especially promised protection in the time of trouble." (Zephaniah 2:2-3.)

Referring again to the same stress upon the world and what shall follow thereafter, the Prophet of Jehovah said; "Wait ye upon me Saith the Lord, until the day that I rise up to depray; for my determination is to gether the nations together, that I may assemble the Kingdoms, to pour upon them my indignation, even all my fierce anger; for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. For them will I turn to the people a pure message, that they may all call upon the name of the Lord, to serve him with one concent." (Zeph. 3:8-9.) Why turn to the people a pure message after this time of trouble is over unless God intends that the people should benefit by it?

Many children have been left fatherless in the recent war and revolution, and with comfort the Lord's Prophet says; "Leave they fatherless children, I will preserve them alive; and let they widows trust in me."—Jer. 49: 11.

After those who pass through the time of trouble have been ministered unto and given the opportunity of blessings by the Messiah, then those who have slept in their graves in death shall be awakened and given a knowledge of the truth. That will be their due time to hear the message concerning the ransom. "Marvel not this, for the hour is coming in which all in their graves shall hear his voice and shall come forth; They that have done good unto a resurrection of life and they that have done evil unto a resurrection by judgment." —John 5:28-29. Revised version.

"There shall be a Resurrection of the dead both of the just and the unjust."—Act. 24:15. "Christ is risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept. For since by man, Adam, came death, so by man Christ Jesus, came also the resurrection of the dead.

For as all in Adam died, even so all in Christ shall be made alive. But every man in his own order." (Cor. 15:20-23). The Apostle then proceeds to show that the Messiah must reign until he hath put all enemies under his foot. The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death."

It will be during the reign of the glorious Messiah that the following text will be fully realized: "If a man keep my sayings, he shall never see death." It cannot be said that man, in the true sense, lives until he has a legal right to live, and the legal right to live will come to him only when it is offered as a Gracious gift through Christ Jesus, as the Apostle stipulates. (Rom. 6:23;5:18,19) Jesus declared: "And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." (John 11:26) This scripture must have a fulfillment, and the time for the beginning of its fulfillment is the beginning of the restitution times, which commences with the reign of Messiah. The old order being dead and passing away, and the new coming in, there are millions of persons on this earth now who will pass thru that time of trouble and who, obeying the Lord's righteous rules shall never die. The Prophet Job has given us a beautiful picture of the arrangement for the restoration of mankind. He describes a man who is old and sick; and who has the message of truth concerning the ransom brought to him and he believes this message and accepts the Lord's teachings and obeys the righteous rules and is restored to his youth, and his flesh becomes fresher than that of a child. Many old persons in the world today should be glad to learn of this message informing them that they are right near the time when if they are obedient to the laws of God they will begin to grow younger until their flesh is fresher than that of a child. Listen to this beautiful scripture: "He keepeth back his soul from the pit, and his life from perishing by the sword. He, man, is chastened also with pain upon his bed, and the multitude of his bones with strong pain; so that his life abhorith even bread and his soul dainty meat. His flesh is consumed away that it can be seen; and his bones that were not seen stick out. Yea his soul draweth near unto the grave, and his life to the destroyers. If there be a messenger with him, an interpreter, one among a thousand to show unto man his uprighteousness; then he, the Lord, is gracious unto him, and saith, deliver him from going down to the pit; I (says the man) have found a ransom. His flesh shall become fresher than a childs; he shall return to the days of his youth. He shall pray unto God and he will be favorable unto him; He shall see his face with joy; For he will render unto man his righteousness."—Job 33:18-27.

Saint John, the follower of the Lord Jesus, was convicted of the alleged crime of sedition and banished to the Iles of Patmos. While he was there as a convict in a rock quarry, the Lord visited him and gave him a wonderful vision of the blessings to come. St. John saw the incoming of the Golden Age, and sublimely described it thus: "And I saw a new Heaven and a New Earth for the first Heaven and the first earth were passed away and there was no more set and I, John, saw the Holy City, the New Jerusalem (New Government on earth) coming down from God out of Heaven, prepared as a Bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of Heaven saying, "Behold the Taber nacle of God is with men (on earth not in Heaven) and he will dwell with them and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them and be their God." "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; And there shall be no more death neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; For the former things have passed away. And he that sat upon the throne said "Behold I will make all things new." —Rev. 21:1-5.

In this Glorious reign of Christ the great enemy of mankind, death, will be destroyed. When there is no more death to ravage the human race the people of earth will live in joy, in happiness and in peace forever.

LAWTON, OKLA.

Rev. St. Clair, the pastor of Chickasha, Okla., was invited by Rev. E. D. Parker to preach at Gallilee Baptist Church. He preached a very good sermon and everybody's heart seemed to rejoice.

Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. were fine.

Mr. Aaron Brown and Miss Lesley Tippins were quietly married Saturday evening. Rev. Owens, the pastor of Bethlehem Baptist Church, preached a wholesome sermon that made everybody rejoice. Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. was grand.

SEWARD FLASHES

Services were good at both Baptist Churches, Sunday. Rev. Griffin of Guthrie, preached a wonderful sermon for St. Matthew Church. Collection for the day, $7.05. Preaching at night, beginning our revival.

Rev. Boone of Guthrie, preached for Antioch, where the pastor, Rev. Luke just closed his revival with two candidates for baptism. St. Matthew church members and friends have just completed flooring their church and will put on another big rally on the 3rd Sunday in October. Come over and help us. Miss Laura Davis, teacher of Lincoln School, District 42, will will give a blue ribbon to the best speller in the contest with Rocky Mound School, beginning at 2:30 p. m. Friday, September 24th, at her school. Parents and friends are invited. Cotton picking will be good in a week from now, around here. Miss Mary Ella Childs entertained with a lawn party, Saturday night.

W. E. Turner, Reporter.

WATERLOO WANDERINGS

Miss Allie Love, teacher of Rocky Mound, has organized a Home Demonstration Club for the benefit of parents and girls of that District.

L. R. and W. E. Turner are bailing quite a deal of hay at Stop 44. Mr. James Newsome has returned from Tennessee, where he visited his broth er. He reports having a nice time. Misses Elvira Turner and Surpheni Newsome were in Guthrie Saturday, making preparation to enter Favor High School on the 1st of October.

HOLDENVILLE, OKLA.

Rev. Hubbard of Lima, preached for Rev. Simons at the Harmony Baptist Church, Sunday night. Mrs. Louise Coats spent last week in Oklahoma City visiting Miss Susie Davis. Dr. W. L. Haywood of the Great West ern Hospital, performed a very successful operation on Mrs. Easter Haggerty of Weleetka, Okla. Hs was assisted by Dr. W. T. Rickman of Holdenville. Dr. Rickman was in Weleetka last Sunday and says that Mrs. Haggerty is getting along fine. Dr. Haywood was the guest of Dr. Rickman during his stay in Holdenville. Mrs. Joseph Crenshaw of Oklahoma City, is visiting her auntie, Mrs. Jas. Lott, this week. Miss Josephine Mills spent Saturday and Sunday in Lima.

SHAWNEE, OKLA.

We are having some nice weather and it seems that the farmers are appreciating it very much.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lawson have returned from their trip. We are sure it was a pleasant one. Miss Ruth Smith left for Sedalia, Missouri, where she will attend school. On a Thursday night before she left, a party was given for her. It was a large bunch of youngsters present and all seemed to enjoy themselves to the highest. Singing and dancing and games were enjoyed. We wish Miss Ruth all the success and good luck that a person can have.

Miss Alma Robinson, a graduate of Shawnee, is now attending the University of Lawrence, Kansas. Miss Robinson has a great idea in mind. Miss Addie Echols of Wewoka, spent a night here with Miss Inez Johnson, while on her way to Langston, Oklahoma. The death roll of Shawnee is somewhat increasing. There has been three deaths among the colored during this part of the month. Mr. Jackson Day, Mrs. Francis Cole and Mr. Henry Stephens. The death of Mr. Stephens was somewhat shocking to everyone in Shawnee. He left home in good health Tuesday morning going to work and he was there only a few minutes before the report was out that he was dead. Mr. Stephens left a wife and daughter, other relatives and members of the Sastern Star, Masonic and Odd Fellows. That is a debt we all have to pay and now is the time to prepare before it is too late.

C. M. E. CONFERENCE REPORT

(Delayed on account of death in reporter's family.)

The 9th Annual Session of the Oklahoma City District met in session at Bethel C. M. E. Church, Wednesday, morning, August 25, 1920, 9:30 p. m., with P. E. W. R. Pipkins, presiding.

The conference opened with a love feast and testimony meeting and the Holy Ghost came in and stayed until the meeting closed, Sunday night, August 29.

Rev. C. T. Greer, the pastor at Wewoka, did all in his power to make the delegates happy and everything moved off nicely.

The Hon. J. Coody Johnson, gave the delegates the hand of welcome to Wewoka, and everybody took advantage of the welcome and had a nice time.

Mrs. Elsie Pipkins, the loving wife of P. E. Pipkins, was elected secretary of the conference and with the assistance of E. M. Harris, the minutes were recorded.

Dr. W. G. Kirkland, of Bethleham Baptist Church, Oklahoma City, and Dr. J. R. McClain, pastor of the C. M. E. Church at Tulsa, Okla., were pleasant visitores and both preached noble sermons. Rev. Herron of the Hugo District was also at pleasant visitor. The Revs. Sneed, Hill, Jones, McClain, Kirkland, Smith, White, Kennedy and Bishop M. C. Cleaves of St. Louis, Mo., did the preaching and all proved they were gospel giants.

$967 was raised at this conference and the Western Giant, Dr. W. P. Pipkins, still rides on, triumphant. The conference closed with great success.

Dr. W. P. Pipkins, P. E.

Mrs. Elsie Pipkins, Sec'y.

OKMULGEE SCHOOLS TO OPEN

Dunbar High School will open Monday, Sept. 27, with a full force of twenty-two teachers and a third building on the East Side for children in the primer and first grades. ### McALESTER, OKLA.

(Special to the Black Dispatch)—The schools of McAlester opened on the 13 inst with unusual enthusiasm. Teachers, students, and friends and patrons assembled upon the campus long before the hour for opening arrived.

At exactly 9 a. m., Prof. T. J. Hilburn, the new Superintendent of the Colored schools, assembled the entire body in the spacious auditorium of the High School building—L'Overture—and after appropriate opening exercises, delivered a thrilling talk, touching upon the duties of students, teachers and parents, respectively.

His remarks found ready echoes in the minds and hearts of all present, as was evidenced by hearty applause of all, and from the charaiter of response evoked by some of those present. Three hundred and twenty-five students were enrolled the first day and the eleven teachers were duly assigned to their respective tasks.

The Board of Education is planning additional facilities, and the departments of Domestic Science and Art and Agriculture will be added, as early as convenient.

The standard of the school is to be raised. The course in Latin is to be extended to three years up to and including Cicero. The following named subjects are to be added to the High School course; Chemistry, plan trigonometry and other subjects yet to be selected. In fact, the high school is to be placed upon such a plane that students graduating therefrom will be awarded two years' teachers certificates, thus enabling them to teach in Oklahoma for that period with out further examination.

WYNNEWOOD NEWS

The M. C. Baptist Church is carrying on a revival under the leadership of Rev. B. E. Givens, their pastor.

OKMULGEE NEWS

Rev. S. Rocquomore has just returned from the big convention at Columbus, Ohio. He reports having had a joyful trip.

Don't forget to call in and patronize W. Johnson on North Commanche Avenue. A square deal and satisfaction to all is his motto.

Mrs. Ophelia Sheppard gave an entertainment at her home for the benefit of the Mission, Monday, afternoon.

We are glad to see Mrs. O. C. Walker on the road to health again.

Mrs. Fannie Nelson is out of town this week on a visit. Mrs. James Martin is on the sick list this week. Mr. Earnest Smith of 721 W. 5th Street, who has been ill in Little Rock, Ark., is expected home soon.

Miss Maude Davis arrived from Kansas City, Monday night, with her brother, Paul, who was ill. He is improving nicely at present.

Mrs. B. C. Pierce of 717 W. 9th St., has been suffering with rheumatic pains, but is improving. The first Baptist Church has planned for a grand rally in November, to purchase a pipe organ.

Mr. Floyd Lucky, who was shot by his wife on the 9th of this month, died Saturday evening from the wound. Funeral services will be conducted at the 1st Baptist Church.

Mr. W. R. Polk accompanied his daughter, Miss Comfort T. Polk, to Wilberforce University, where she will enter school.

Rev. O. C. Thomas preached at the A. M. E. Church Sunday and departed for Moorehouse College at Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Joe Gibson departed Sunday night for Little Rock, Ark., where he will enter school.

There was a large attendance at Sunday school and the lesson was carefully taught and reviewed. Collection was good. Class No. 3, led in the collection. Services were held at 11:30 a. m. in the church. Was well packed and an excellent sermon was delivered by Rev. Williams.

St. Paul C. M. E. Church news:

Sunday was a high day for the great rally, which was a success. They are planning great things in the near future. Rev. Gratton preached at 11 o'clock. Rev. Kidd, pastor of the A. M. E. Church, preached at 8 o'clock. He delivered a noble sermon. Each church in the city was present in the offerings. Bishop N. C. Cleaves of Muskogee conference will preach at St. Paul C. M. E. Church Wednesday night. Sunday school every Sunday at the C. M. E. Church. Don't do your children an injustice by keeping them at home.

Okmulgee County club, boys and girls, had a splendid exhibit at the county fair. The whites, on inspection, appeared surprised that the colored boys and girls' exhibits were better than the white girls and boys; however, we were not surprised at all We really expected it of them.

The girls under the supervision of Miss M. Smith, home demonstration agent, had the best exhibit. Judged by Miss McPheter, this year. Miss McPheter had judged the girl's work in Okfuskee and Creek County. The boys, under the supervision of P. M. Mann, county demontrator, had some of the best exhibits ever seen at a county fair in Okmulgee. One of the boys, Adnest Larnet, from district 39, where Miss Jessie Benningful is teacher, not only made a splendid showing in the boy's department, but entered an exhibit of silver mine corn with the adults and won first prize.

Miss Bessie Isham, the news stand clerk, was in Muskogee, Friday, on business.

Once more has the spirit of fair play asserted itself in Okmulgee, Oklahoma, thru the recent O. K. placed on the estimate of the Board of Education for the running of Dunbar High School, which action sets at rest any thought of short terms and permits a raise of all salaries. The statement was made by a prominent member of said Excise Board that if Dunbar needed more money before the term closed, and the matter is brought before them, that the needed amount will be transferred and the school permitted to go unhampered thru the term.

Principal W. H. Fort, when interviewed relative to this pleasing move on the part of his Boards, stated that twenty-five thousands dollars ($25,000) has been given Dunbar High while seventy-two thousand dollars ($72,000) has been granted to the colored schools of the county including the city schools. Supt. N. O. Hopkins the efficient head of the county schools and who served for more than ten years as the head of the city schools, is able to look both ways and is doing what he can for the schools of the county. As a member of the Excise Board, he has spoken for a generous outlay for education.

Principal Fort has a faculty of 22 teachers, selected from the best schools of the county and hopes to do much toward lifting the standard.

Plans are being laid by the Board of Education and Supt. H. B. Bruner for the erection in the near future of a building to be used as a Vocational High School. The carrying out of this plan will give Okmulgee one of the best equipped systems for the education of her colored population in the southwest. Let us hope that the coming session of the legislature will so modify the law that this plan and the plan of others can be carried out.

Mrs. Lydia Nance Tuggle has returned from Denver, Colo., where she spent a pleasant vacation.

Miss Flatcher Nance was in the city Sunday. She reports a successful opening at Flipper-Key-Davis Un-versity.

Master Paul Kidd was in the city last week visiting his Father, Rev. T. W. Kidd. Prof. and Mrs. C. C. Byrd are in the city. They have closed a successful summer school term at Marietta, Oklahoma.

Miss A. G. Garrett was in the city Saturday, on buisness. Miss Ida Mc Kinley Anderson was quietly married at her home, Sunday evening, to Mr. Lincoln Chester, of Kansas City, Mo.

Miss Menervia Merriweathers of Boynton was in the city, Sunday, to attend the wedding of Miss Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Anderson were in the city Sunday to witness the marriage of their sister.

WELEETKA NEWS

The Sunday schools and churches were nicely attended last Sunday.

Rev. P. F. Johnson preached a noble sermon, Sunday and Sunday night.

Mr. M. C. Torrence and Mr. A. Moten has built a hall in our town at the cost of $25,000 and have nearly got it completed. Mr. Joe Mackey and wife have returned from a long stay in California. They are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis.

BOLEY NEWS

Hats off to us! We have a town paper, "The Boley Elevator." Mr. T. G. Walker is the editor and he knows his business. He is a newspaper man of wide experience.

Dr. N. J. Johnson, pastor of the M. E. Church, has returned from Kansas City, where he has been conducting a revival.

Dr. W. D. Hill of Oklahoma City, preached at Antioch Baptist Church, Sunday, to a large and appreciative audience.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sawner motored over from Chandler a few days ago, and spent a few delightful hours with their host of friends here.

Mrs. I. W. Young of Oklahoma City was a welcome visitor here a few weeks ago. Mrs. W. E. Hebert accompanied her home.

Misses Teresa White and Zadie Floyd were guests of friends and relatives in Oklahoma City and Luther the past week.

A shadow of gloom covered the entire town and vicinity here, when the death of Mr. Joseph H. Brewer was announced. He died Sept. 4th at Iverness, Ala., his former home, where his parents reside. Mr. Brewer was most favorably known in Boley. He came here several years ago directly after his graduation from Selma University and taught successfully until he resigned to accept a government job as mail carrier. He made a 100 per cent record. His patrons all loved him. Failing health forced him to give up this work in June, 1919, when he left Boley. He leaves a devoted mother, father, wife, two sisters and two brothers. He was a brother of the late Prof. C. G. Brewer who taught in Creek County and passed to his reward, Sept. 7, 1917.

Mr. Allen Alrige returned home, Sunday, from Conrad Sanitarium, where he underwent a very serious operation for appendicitis. Miss F. Cavall has returned to enter Boley High School, Freshman class. She is stopping with Mrs. E. R. Cavill.

Mr. Eugene Hyder, telegraph operator, purchased a beautiful residence here recently.

Mrs. "Bob" Caldwell, who is the guest of her siste rin Memphis, Tenn., writes an interesting letter of her visit there. She will remain indefinitely.

Mrs. S. J. King, wife of one of our most prominent citizens, died Friday. Four reputable physicians attended her during her illness. The funeral was attended at the Lane's Chapel C. M. E. Church, Sunday. She was buried under the auspices of the Ruths Mosaics and S. M. T. Fraternaties. She was also a member of Pleasant Hour Club. Dr. and Mrs. Thompson, her relatives, motored over from Guthrie for the funeral.

Miss Ethyle White, Chr. Executive Board of State Federation, rendered a most excellent report when Pleasant Hour Club was entertained by Mrs. C. W. Kelly, a few weeks ago.

The Electric Lights will be soon turned on and we are all glad.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Mathonican will soon move into the upper story of their brick building.

Every citizen of Boley and adjacent community should have visited the County Fair. The Exhibit in the colored section deserved most creditable mention, too much cannot be said in praise of our County agent, Mr. Taylor and Mrs. Peters. The beautiful art exhibit of Mrs. O. H. Braley won the blue ribbon. The canned products were "things of beauty."

Mesdames Taylor, Armstrong, Cavie, Dolphin, White, McRidley, Moore and several others, motored oved to Okemah Friday, to visit the Fair.

Misses Willie Cavil and Mabel Mc Riley have closed their summer terms of school. W. C. Owens and son, Clifford, returned from Calremore, Saturday.

Yes indeed! Representative Boley is strong for Langston and President Marquess, despite what the agitators have said. Many students from here matriculated in C. A. & N. U. Monday. Okfuskee County Teacher's Association, Five Federated Clubs of the city, the popular pastor of Wards Chapel, a majority of our leading business people and a host of others highly endorse our State School.

PURCELL, OKLA.

Sunday, Sept. 19, being pastoral day Rev. P. L. Carter was at his post and preached a wonderful sermon Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and gave a fine lecture Sunday night. Total collection, $17.50.

Miss Anna L. Cohee of Washington, Okla., spent the week end in Purcell as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Readis. Mr. and Mrs. Welvin Perkins of Granite, Okla., are in Purcell this week, visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Holt.

Mr. Author Jackson, Mr. Knute Lewis, Mr. Ben Jackson and Mr. Willie Walker, Mr. Sam Goff and Mr. N. M. Walker of Co[illegible], were in Purcell the 16, 17, and 18, attending the McClain County Free Fair.

"THE SOONER TRAIL"

ALL THE NEWS FROM THE BLACK JACK HILLS AND VALES OF OKLAHOMA

Richard J. Hill's Weekly Articles

SPECIAL NOTICE

Mr. J. W. Cope, of New York, of the International Bible Students' Association, will lecture at Convention Hall, Tulsa, Okla., Sunday, Oct. 17, 1920, beginning at 3 p. m., on the subject "Millions now living will never die."

Seats free. Both black and white are invited.

STENOGRAPHIS REPORT OF DEBATE HELD AT CONVENTION HALL IN THE EVENING OF SEPTEMBER 28, 1920

Between Richard J. Hill, the Affirmative, and H. T. S. Johnson, representing the Negative, on the Question: "Resolved, That the Teachings of the International Bible Students' Association Should Be Substituted For the Doctrine of the Church Denomination.

DEBATE

Between Mr. Richard J. Hill and Rev. H. T. E. Johnson at Convention Hall in the City of Tulsa, State of Oklahoma, on the 28th day of September, A. D., 1920, on the subject: "Resolved that the things of the International Bible Students Should be Substituted for the Doctrine of the Denominations."

MR. A. J. SMITHERMAN: The audience is requested to sing "Christ the Solid Rock," Number one.

(Thereupon, at the conclusion of the song, the following proceedings were had:)

MR. SMITHERMAN: We will have prayer now by Rev. Johnson, after which we will request the ministers present to step up on the stage.

(Thereupon, the audience is led in prayer by the Rev. Johnson, at the conclusion of which ministers of the gospel come forward for seats on the stage.)

MR. SMITHERMAN: You are all aware, of course, that this is the day of the debate between Reverend Johnson and Mr. Hill and the subject of this debate is "Resolved, that the teachings of the International Bible Students should be substituted for the Doctrine of the Church denomination." Mr. Hill in this debate, takes the affirmative and Rev. Johnson, the negative. Mr. Hill has the affirmative and will consume forty minutes for the opening. Rev. Johnson has the negative and will open his side of the question with forty-five minutes; then Mr. Hill, the affirmative, will take twenty minutes for rebuttal and Rev. Johnson will make the remainder of his hour and fifteen minutes in closing. Then he will be followed by Mr. Hill who will close. I will now introduce to you, Mr. Hill, Richard J. Hil, who will take up the affirmative.

MR. HILL: I beg to remind you, dear friends, that the human race has reached the point upon the stream of time when the battle is raging as never befort between justice and injustice, truth and error and soon injustice and false teachings will go down in defeat, never to rise again.

The subject for discussion tonight, is, "Resolved, that the teachings of the International Bible Students should be substituted, in the main, for what the church Denominations teach."

In my attempt to show you why the teachings of the International Bible Students should be substituted for what the Church Denominations teach, I will discuss the subject under four general headings, to-wit:

First, God's character; second, His plan for human salvation; third, His promises; fourth, the time for the fulfillment of His promises.

Now, first, as concerning God's character, He would have his human creatures to understand that they can look to him as the very highest conceivable standard of justice, power, love and wisdom. God tells us in Isaiah 55:8,9, that 'My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, for as the Heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts." By this statement, Jehovah would have us get the thought fully into our minds that our highest conception of justice, power, love and wisdom is as far below His standard as the earth is blow the high Heavens.

To give you a clear idea of the thought intended to be conveyed in the scripture just cited, I remind you that the boundary of the physical Heavens has never been reached by the most powerful telescope of to-day. When man invents his most powerful instrument and points it into the physical heavens, piercing millions and millions of miles of space, what does he find? Instead of seeing the boundary of the physicals Heavens, he learns that the more powerful the telescope used, the more realms of endless space in the physical Heavens open before his gaze. What should this teach us concerning the character of God? We should apply the measure He gives us and find out. He gives us an earthly illustration as to the distance between the boundaries of His noble character and the very best there is of His human creatures. Just as the physical Heavens is an immeasurable distance above the physical earth, so is the character of God a measureless distance above that of the very best of mankind.

Depraved humanity, with all of its weakness and short comings, would not for a moment consent to the torturing of the worst criminal on earth. Nearly everybody would consent to the death of a wilful red-handed criminal in accordance with the law. But no one would sanction his eternal torment. Nowhere in the civilized world will men allow a law to be placed upon the statue books permitting the lasting torture of criminals. Remember, that death does not mean torment. Torment carries the idea of keeping one alive in a sense for the purpose of inflicting misery and great injury.

Who would dare put God's character for justice and love below that of a fallen humanity? No one but the representatives of the Church Denominations would do such a thing. They claim that God, foreknowing all things, planned that the wicked, after death, should be tormented throughout eternity. Such teachings by the Church Denominations represent God as having a character for love and justice far below that of the worst humanity.

A son is supposed to show, in a large degree, the character, spirit and disposition of his father. A true Christian is a spiritual son of God and he is supposed to develop more and more of the character likness of God, his Father.

If the teachings of the Church Denominations are true, then the mob who delight with hellish grin, to hear the groans of their helpless victims while struggling in the flames, would represent the elect of God. And, why do I say this? Because, if it is true that eJhovah, God, delights to torment sinners throughout eternity, then the mob which only had the power to torture its victim for a short time would be showing their father's spirit to the extent of their ability.

It is hard to do anything much worse to a person than to misrepresent his character. All the Denominations misrtpresent the fine character of God in that they claim that God planned that a saintly few should go to Heaven while the billions of humanity spend eternity in a hell of fire and brimstone, tormented by fireproof devils. There is no Scripture foundation for the doctrine of eternal torment. This doctrine is based upon the false idea that when one dies he is not dead. There is but one plain statement in the Bible which seemingly supports the idea that the dead is not dead. It is found in Genesis 3:4 and reads thus: "Ye shall not surely die." This statement was made by the Devil for the sole purpose of misrepresenting the character of God. Teh Devil intended to impress and did impress our fore-parents that God could not be depended upon and did not tell the truth when he said to them, if they disobeyed His law, they would surely die. In other words, the Devil told our foreparents that God was lying. All the Denominations, with a few exceptions, teach that there is something about a person that remains alive and can be punished after death. By this teaching, tht Denominations are saying the self-same thing that the Devil said, "That man does not surely die" and therefore they are guilty of openly calling God a liar, whether intentionally or not.

What is death? What is the meaning of the term? What did God mean when He told our foreparents they would die if they disobeyed His law? These are very logical questions at this point. God answers all these questions Himself through the scriptures. He tells us that when a man dies, he is unconscious, has no memory, cannot speak, cannot breathe, cannot think, cannot give thanks, can do no work, neither loves, hates or envies; has not feelings, and knows not anything. Ecclesiastes 9:5,6,10; Psalms 6: 5; 115: 17; 104: 29; 146:4. According to God's own words, as shown in the Scriptures just cited, there is nothing left of a man to be burned or tormented after he is dead.

The would-be wise preachers of the Church Denominations tell the people that it is the soul of a man that is blessed or punished after death. This, then, of necessity, brings up the question as to what is the soul? A soul is a moving, breathing sentient being, that has sense and exercises those senses—Man is a soul. Man has not got a soul but man himself is a soul. There is quite a difference between a man having a cow and being a cow. Every creature that breathes is a soul. God applied the words, "Living souls" to the lower order of animals long before the creation of man. Genesis 1:20, 30, marginal reading. The word "soul" is applied to both man and beast in Numbers 31:28. God declares that both man and beast die alike and go to the same place. The Scripture reads thus, "For that which befalleth the sons of men, befalleth the beast; even one thing befalleth them, as the one dieth so dieth the other: yea they have all one breath; so that man hath no pre-eminence above a beast for all is vanity. All go to one place; all are of the dust, and all turn to dust again." Ecclesiastes 3:19,20. My opponent to be consistent, in view of the Scripture just cited, is forced to do one of the two things and that is, he must either denounce his claim that the wicked dead are tormented throughout eternity, or take the position that the bad ox, mule or horse will roast throughout eternity and the good one will go to a Heaven of eternal bliss with man because the Scripture plainly says that both man and beast have one breath—have the same breath and and go to the same place. To what place do both man and beast go? That same place is hell, the grave, oblivion, a condition of non-existence, the same place Capernaum went.

The principal difference between man and beast is, first, man is created with finer organism and therefore capable of doing higher and more noble thinking. Second, God has made an arrangment for the resurrection of man while no such arrangement has been made for the brute beast.

From where will man come when resurrected? From the "Dust of the earth." Daniel 12:2.

Again, some of the wise Denominational teachers claim that it is the spirit of life that lives on after man is dead and that it is the thing that is blessed with a life of endless bliss or sursed with endless torment, but I wish to say that such claim is wholly without foundation for truth, for the reason that the phrase, "spirit of life" or "breath of life" simply means invisible power. (I would like to have a little water if possible) In other words, it means the power God has given life. When we read in Ecclesiastes 12:7 that the spirit returns to the God that gave it, we are to understand this to mean that the power to live or to be resurrected to life again after death, returns to the one who first gave it and no one can live again until God, in His due time, uses this spirit or power of life in their behalf.

What is it about man that is to be resurrected? It certainly is not the body that is resurrected for the reason that the Scripture plainly states that God will give it a body as it pleases him, 1st Corinthians 15:38. It is plain to see that if it is the body that is resurrected and God gives it a body, the person would have two bodies. What is the "it" that is to be resurrected? For want of better words to express the thought, we term it the "character pattern" that will be resurrected. To illustrate this thought, we will use the pattern of a dress or the patern of a piano. The dress may wear out or the piano may be knocked to pieces and thrown in the scrap pile, but as long as you have the dress pattern or patent to the piano, you can reproduce that dress or that piano out of such material as pleases you. The character of no two individuals is just alike. We are all shaping characters differen in some respect. God carries the "character pattern" of every person in the chamber of His memory and in the resurrection days will reproduce the "character pattern" of each person and give them bodies as it pleases Him. Now, concerning God's plan, the Scriptures disclose the fact that God foreknew that man would sin and go into death and that he planned to redeem him through the death of His Son and in due time grant life everlasting to all the willing and obedient. The Scripture further shows that God is working out His plan for human salvation through three great periods of time called "worlds" or "ages." The first world or age runs from the flood to the second coming of Christ and the third world or age from the second coming of Christ onward without end. 2nd Peter 3:6, 7, 13. God used the first age from creation to the flood principally in permitting the Holy Angels to convince themselves that it was not within their power to rescue man from death. He used the first part of the second world or age to develop a house of servants which includes all persons, loyal and faithful to God, down to the first advent of Christ. He is using the latter part of this second world or age, known as the Gospel Age, to develop the church, the seen promise, the seed of Abraham, the Christ, who is to bless all the families of the earth during the third great period known as the world to come, wherein dwelleth righteousness Both the first and second world or age have been and are being used in part to let mankind convince themselves of their inability to establish a government that would be the desire of nations. These great periods of time have also been used in letting man learn something of the exceeding sinfulness of sin.

The Gospel Age was opened up for qualifying the officers who are to serve in the spirit phase of the incoming Kingdom. It was not God's plan to convert the world during the Gospel Age. God has appointed a day in which to judge the world in righteousness. Acts 17:31, and the length of that day in which man is to be judged is one thousand years. 2nd Peter 3:7-8.

Just at this point it might be well for me to explain the meaning of the word "Church." The word "Church" means a called-out class; it comes from the word "Ecclesia." It is composed of Jesus, the head, and the members of his body (Colossians 1:8) (Just here I will have to stop a moment until I get a drink of water.)

REV. H. T. S. JOHNSON: Friends, while we are waiting for our friend to get a drink of water, let's sing "Guide Me, O My Great Jehovah"—somebody who can sing, start it out.

(Thereupon the song entitled, "Guide Me, O My Great Jehovah" is now sung by the audience.)

MR. HILL: (Continuing) The names of the members are not written upon some church registry or Inter-Church World Movement record, but are written in Heaven. Hebrews 14:23. The members constitute a peculiar people, called out from the world, and developed into likeness of Christ Jesus—1st Peter 2: 4, 10. No one is considered a member of the Church that is recognized by Jehovah unless he is baptized into Christ. Neither has any one a prospective chance to live with the Lord in Heaven on the Divine Plan unless he has been baptized into Christ's death. In other words, one must be dead with Christ so far as the things of the world are concerned Romans 6:3, 5 8. To be baptized into Christ's death means to be fully consecrated to do the will of God even unto death. When one comes to that point where he is glad to tell the Lord that he surrenders all to him, including his life and is willing to follow him through thick and thin, even unto death, that is the time one takes his first steps of baptism into Christ's

HAMPTON HOLDS SONG FESTIVAL

(By the Associated Negro Press)

Hampton, Va., Oct. 13.—Warm tribute to the artistic and emotional qualities of the Negro religious folk-songs which have so completely won their way into American life and which have so fully merited the praise of foreign critics and musicians, was recently paid by Dr. James E. Gregg, Principal of Hampton Institute, in his address of welcome in Ogden Hall to a large company of friends, workers, and students that had assembled for Sunday-evening worship. Dr. Gregg said:

"It might often seem to you as if we sang these old songs chiefly for purposes of exhibition and because they are of special interest to, and often have a good deal of novelty for, our visitors.

"We sings them in this Hampton ser vice and at other services primarily, always, because they are the simple and beautiful expression of our religious feelings; because they are hymns; because they are songs of praise to God, of thankfulness, of aspiration, of inspiration, and of beauty—and everything else that true hymns ought to be.

"These old plantation songs are the only religious folk-music that we have in America—all we have at least, that is likely to be generously known or used, because the few Indian folk-songs that we have are not known to many and unfortunately are not likely to be known to many, because they are not in the English language and are not such that they could be generally used.

"These folk-songs of the Negro race these religious folk-songs, on the other hand, can be used by us all. Their sentiment can be shared by us all, and as Americans, we must all be thankful for them to do all that we can to preserve them and to increase their use in the right way.

"Colored boys and girls have still another reason for loving these songs and for delighting to know them better and to sing them with all their hearts, because they are one of the great glories of the Negro race, one of the race's most wonderful contributions to America and to the culture of the human race.

"Do not for one moment think, because some of these songs are so old-fashioned and quaint in their phrases that they provoke a smile now and then, that we ought not to love and cherish them nevertheless.

"When we sings songs that reflect the sadness of the old days, such as 'Go Down, Moses,' we ought to be able to sing them with deep thankfulness in our hearts to God that the sadness of the old days of slavery is gone—and that we are living in a better time!

"One of the pleasantest things said to me this summer about our young Hampton quartet that we took North for the campaign—the four Northern brothers—was what the headmaster of one of the most important boys' schools in New England said to me:

"'I love to hear those boys sing because they sing with such unusual reverence for the old plantation hymns—because they make them real ly hymns and do not sing them as if they were an entertainment.'

"That is why we should sing the songs and do sing them at Hampton, remembering always that they are true hyms of devotion, expressing the deepest feelings of our hearts, and because of their beauty also we should preserve them forever."

HOLDENVILLE, OKLA.

Mrs. Hollie White returned home Saturday night after spending several days in Eufaula. Cotton pickers are scarce around Holdenville. They are paying as high as $2.57 and then cant get anyone to pick. # Richard J. Hill's Debate Continued death and then is when his name is entered upon the roll in Heaven as probationary member of the Church of the first born. You may judge yourselves by this standard and if you can conscientiously say that I have turned over all to the Lord and am doing all in my power to live up my covenant, and if you are faithful unto death, you may rest assured that when the roll is called, you will be there; but, if you have not taken this step of full consecration to the Lord, I feel safe in advising you to seek the Lord with a knowledge of his plan at once and get ready to live right here upon this earth throughout eternity. These men-made organizations are not churches regardless of the names by which they are called.

The Church Denominations teach that these man-made organizations that are ever busy collecting money and claiming to be trying to save souls, are churches; that the Gospel Age is the day of salvation for the world of mankind and all who die outside of these Denominations will spend their eternity in torment; that death, during this Gospel Age, ends all so far as being saved or lost is concerned; that the resurrection of the dead is only for the purpose of heaping further damnation upon the condemned. The Scripture plainly states that the resurrection of the dead is for the purpose of rewarding the just with life everlasting and judging the unjust and giving them a chance to gain life everlasting. John 5:28-29, and that the judgment of the unjust will begin at the second coming of our Lord which is at the end of the Gospel Age. Acts 3:19-21. In all these most important points, the Church Denominations teach directly in opposition to the plain statement of the Bible. The Bible represents God's own words to his human creatures. God's words are true and any teaching which disputes the plain statements of the Scriptures, is saying in so many words the same thing that the Devil said to Mother Eve, "That God did not tell the truth." Therefore, God's plan, like His character, has been and is now being woefully misrepresented and the humble people left in gross darkness concerning God's plan of Salvation.

God's Promises to Man

God has promised that all that are in their graves shall hear His voice and come forth. They that have done good unto a resurrection of life, and they that have done ill unto the resurrection of judgment. (Revised version.) He has also told us that life, liberty, happiness and times of refreshing shall come to the world of mankind from the presence of the Lord. Acts 3:19; that the wilderness and solitary places shall be glad, and the desert shall blossom as the rose, Isaiah 35:1; that the eyes of the blind, both physically and mentally, shall be opened and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped (physically and mentally.) Then shall the lame man leap as a hart and the tongue of the dumb shall sing—Isaiah 29:18; that in the wilderness waters shall break out, and streams in the desert; and parched ground become a pool, and the thirsty land, springs of water Isaiah 35:6-7; that then the earth shall yield her increase, Ps. 67:6; and the inhabitants shall not say I am sick, Isaiah 33:24; that in that day they shall build houses and inhabit them, which is not true today, because generally the ones who build the fine houses do not live in them, and they shall plant vineyards and eat the fruit thereof. In that day it will not be as it is so often the case now that one poor fellow labors hard to produce while another sits back in an easy chair and profiteers on the product of his labor. Every man will have to live by the fruit of his own labor in that day. They shall not labor in vain, nor bring forth trouble. Isaiah 65:21-25.

The Church Denominations tell the common people nothing about these blessed promises, but instead they tell the poor people that the world is to be burned up and that the bad people roast and torture throughout all eternity and the few good ones, taken to a Heaven of eternal bliss. The Denominations are loud-mouthed in claiming that the literal earth is to be burned up in the very face of God's plain statement in Ecclesiastes 1:4, that the earth abideth forever; that He formed it to be inhabited—Isaiah 45:18, and that he gave the earth to the children of men. Psalms 115:16. The Church Denominations call God a liar concerning his promises to man.

When Are God's Promises to Man to Be Fulfilled?

The Church Denominations claim that no man knows or can know the time ftrohe ending of the world or the fulfillment of God's promises to man. They generally base their claim upon Chirst's statement in the 24th Chapter of Matthew, 36th verse, which states that of that day and hour knoweth no man. The word "knoweth" carries the thought of present tense and is the same as saying, no one knows now, at this time. Christ's statement was not intended to impress His disciples that no one ever would know. We must remember that at the time these words were spoken, Christ Himself, was still on trial to test his loyalty unto Jehovah God even unto death. Listen what he tells his disciples immediately after he is raised from the dead—"All power is given unto Me in Heaven and in earth." Matthew 28:18. Now, if all power was given unto the Lord, both in Heaven and on earth, is it reasonable to suppose that He would not know anything about the "important event?" Such a thought is contrary to reason and is also contrary to the plain statements of the Scriptures. Listen! Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Spirit is come upon you—Acts 1:18, and that Spirit of Truth will guide you into all truth, and will show you things to come. —John 16:13. God tells us that the words are closed and sealed until the time of the end when the wise will understand the teachable ones, but none of the wicked—those who are wise in their own way, shall understand. Daniel 12:10. Ye brethern are not in darkness—Hebrews 3:1; that that day should overtake you as a thief, 1st Thessalonians 5:4.

(And the speaker at this time having concluded his statement, the negative discussion of this question is begun and the following proceedings are had, to-wit:)

MR. SMITHERMAN: I will introduce to you, Rev. H. T. S. Johnson, who will discuss the negative side of the question. (Applause)

REV. H. T. S. JOHNSON: Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, I count this a very important moment because the question—the subject we are to discuss is extraordinary. We are asking to substitute the doctrine of Orthodox Christianity with the teachings of the International Bible Students Association. That makes it necessary to call attention to the fact that you are asked to accept the teachings of an association of laymen for the doctrines of the Christian Church, that has a called and Divinely appointed ministry.

The opposition has, as you notived, nothing good to say of the Church; all kind of good things about the poor sinner, the man who is doing all the devilment in the world—all kind of good things about him but nothing good about the Church and nothing good about the ministers of the Church. Of course, he is true to his training—the father of the International Bible Students' Association, Mr. Russel, has this to say with reference to the Church—"Suppose that the salaries and living of all ministers, Bishops, Priests, and so-forth, were cut off, all churches, chapels and cathedrals destroyed, all theological seminaries broken up and their professors turned to other pursuits, all religions, guilds, and societies disabandoned, including all sectarian organizations, what would be the effect? Who can doubt it would be a real blessing under the disguise of a great and terrible cartrophe?" This appears in Bible Students' Monthly, Volume 6, Number 9. Now, I could sort of understand how an infidel or an atheist might utter such words as that, but I declare, I don't understand how a man who claims to be God's agent and who makes for himself the place of teacher of all people and Jesus' denouncer of the Church. I don't see how he can say that about the Church and all institutions fostered through the Church in view of the good things that grow therefrom. Now, that is the ideal of Russellism or International Bible Students' Association, with reference to the Church.

What is the Bible idea of the Church? When Peter, in answer to the question of the Master, "Who do ye say I am," muttered these words, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God," Jesus said to him: "Thou art Peter—upon this rock will I build this Church, and the gods of Russellism with all its insidious attacks shall not prevail against it. (Applaus)

And then, he did not stop there—he most said—Russellism says, there is no church on earth, the Church is in Heaven and your names will appear up there, not down here, but Jesus said, "And verily I say unto thee, 'whosoever' or whatsoever things ye bind on earth, shall be bound in Heaven and whatsoever things ye loose on earth shall be loose in Heaven." If that does not give us proof for a Church down here, I don't know what does. Now, it is impossible for the Church down here to bind Russellism. (Applause from followers of Russellism) And therefore my honored opponent and all his crowd are loose so far as the Church is concerned on earth and if the Bible be true, they are loose in Heaven. (Laughter)

Now, friends if you are going to substitute the teachings of an institution of that kind for the Doctrine of the Church, there is something wrong with your thinking machine. You are asked to accept the teachings of a society that has no Divinely called and inspired ministry, but a self-appointed set of layteachers and a preacher, inthe vocabulary of a Student' International Bible Student Association, is a comic word, he gets tickled at the word "preacher." In the language of the International Bible Student, he is the figure of a clown, a fool, a disbeliever, who does not know the Bible so that—I don't need to cite but one passage of Scripture; you will find it in the tenth Chapter of Romans and the question is asked, how shall they believe on Him whom they do not know—but let me get the words right "How then," (I need to get my glasses) "How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe in Him of whom they have not heard. And how shall they hear without a preacher? And how shall they preach, except they be sent?"

REV. JOHNSON: (Continuing) Now the International Bible Students Association has nothing but words of ridicule to say with reference to the preacher; they make him anything but a good man and, of course, they are true to their training because Mr. Russell— before though, and I want to say this: I promised my opponent, he pledged me before he started that I would not say anything defamatory of the dead. He meant Mr. Russell. I never thought of getting him to say nothing defamatory of John Wesley because I knew he could not, and I promised him I would not say anything. So it is alright.

These are Mr. Russell's words in print for anybody to read (quoting from paper) "Of the two hundred thousand professed ministers of Christ, probobly one hundred and eighty thousand declare, privately, if not publicly, that they have no faith in the Bible as God's inspired message to His people. The other twenty thousand are sadly confused, while still clinging to the Bible as the Divine Word. The truth with all these ministers is that they have been giving heed to the creeds and traditions of men formulated in the dark ages and have been neglecting their study of the Bible. Those who have rejected the Bible, nine-tenths of the whole have already fallen most adjectly, while the one-tenth still standing, are so shaken, confused and unreliable as to be able to do little for themselves or their flocks." This from the Bible Students' Monthly, Volume Six, No. Seven. Now, what does that say? It says that whoever said it, has spoken from an assumption. How did Mr. Russell know that one hundred and eighty thousand preachers had no faith in God's Word, in the Bible, as the message of God to His people? Did he know that many preachers? Did he know the opinions of that many preachers? No! How did he know the other twenty thousand were confused and bewildered and therefore not able to do any good? How did he know it? I want to ask you the question and I want you to answer it for yourselves. I f I would make such an assumption as that to you or anybody else, you would not believe it. If a man would say nine-tenths of the lawyers in the country had fallen, he would be arrested; if a man would get up and slander nine-tenths of the physicians of the country in that way, he would be sent to an asylum—he would be called crazy and when a man gets up and says that about the preachers of the country, I will let you decide where he goes. (Applause)

You are asked to substitute for the Bible, the studies of the Scriptures because that is what the father of this whole thing suggests and would recommend. Furthermore, not only do we find that the Bible cannot show the Divine plan in studying the Bible by itself but we also find that if anyone lays the Scriptures studies aside—that is, those six books that the International Bible Students almost beg you to take, those six books now anybody that lay them aside, even after he has used them, after he has become familiar with them, after he has read them for ten years, if he then lays them aside and ignores them and goes to the Bible alone, after he has understood his bible for ten years, our experience is that with in two years he gets into darkness; reading the Bible, he gets into darkness; on the other hand, if he had merely read the Scripture Studies with their references and had not read a page of the Bible as such, he would be in the light at the end of the two years, because he would have the light of the Scriptures. Watch Tower, page 298, issue of September 15, 1910. Is not that putting the books that Mr. Russell wrote before the Bible that we study? Is it not saying that if you read the Bible, read it every day, without these companion volumes of the International Bible Students' Association, you are going into darkness in two years? How many of you believe that?

You are asked to substitute the teachings of an institution, which serves God; that is you are asked to substitute the teachings of an institution which serves God with the teachings of an institution which serves the Devil. That is pretty strong, is it not?

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: Pretty strong.

REV. MR. JOHNSON: I stand ready to defend what I said. The International Bible Students' Association serves the Devil because it teaches man is not mortal—I mean that man is not immortal. My opponent, who has just left the floor, told you a great deal about what became of man when he died and said a good many things. He is running true to form because that is the teachings of his chief. The word "immorality" is rarely used in its strict academic sense as signifying deathless, or that which is proof against death—inherency of life, requiring no sustenance. Immortality in this sense of the word, is of course a quality which belongs to God alone. Where then is human immortality? We answer that there is no human immortality in the sense that man is death proof. God alone has immortality in that sense—Bible Students' Monthly, Volume Three, Number Four. Those are the words of Mr. Russell. I am not saying "Pastor Russell"—the reason I say Mr. Russell is because he is not—he was not a member of any church. Not being a member of any church, he could not be a preacher; a man cannot be a pastor unless he is a preacher.

VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: That's right.

REV. MR. JOHNSON: Now if there is no deathless soul but that of Divinity, what ddiChrist mean, pray tell me, when He said, "Fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul? What was He talking about, I wonder? Well, I guess Jesus didn't know: He didn't have the International Bible Students to give him lessons. (Applause)

Now, when an institution tell you that man is not immortal when all—when all me universally believe it without any teacher—anything men universally believe is true, it has something behind it—it has a basis upon which to stand. Men have tried to dispute the flood, but you will find that people everywhere have a tradition of the flood and that substantiate what the Bible said about it and what men believe everywhere—universally believe. Men, universally, believe that when they leave here, they will live elsewhre—for that reason men who believe that, have religion. I don't care how much heathen he is, he has religion of some kind and if he does not know the true God, he has something that represents that God, a fetish, made with his own hands; he bows to that, not because he believes that is the God, but that is the thing through which he would serve the God he does not know and when an institution tells you or an individual tells you that man is not immortal, he is flying in the face of an accepted fact by intelligent men everywhere.

We have abundance of truth in the Scriptures that man lives on but I will get to that when I discuss the punishment side of it. I am going to say something with reference to he hell that my opponent says does not exist—the hell the preachers nake the churches make. The idea hat man is not immortal takes from him the incentive to live his best. You let a man get the idea that this is all there is to him—there is no more to him than there is to a horse and that man will not conform the principles of right living as he does with the belief; we somehow feel we are citizens of two worlds; we are citizens here and citizens when we leave here in another world and because we are going to live somewhere else, we recognize this as the place where we prepare for that other life somewhereaise and therefore the necessity of putting on the brakes and restraining ourselves from the enticements which lead to sin and curbing those passions and appetites of ourselves, that we may be able to get a better condition when we get to that other place.

Now, when an institution tells you you are not immortal, it is serving the Devil because it is taking away the incentive to higher and better living; that is the very thing God wants you to have. It is serving the Devil because it attaches no hell and future punishment. You have heard what the speaker who just left the floor said and in that, he is true to form—he is following his teacher who said, "The world will receive Divine mercy extended through Jesus by the Father's arrangement to Adam and every member of his race, no matter how degraded, no matter how fallen, no matter how mean. The redeeming blood has been shed, the just for the unjust for the sins of the whole world and still more stupendous is the resurrection work which God proposes for the world of mankind, thousands of millions to be awakened and restored to the same condition formerly enjoyed—conditions of imperfections from which they will be gradually uplifted by the Messiah. This resurrection work for the world which will be gradually carried forwarded during the one thousand years, will all be accomplished by the Father's power through the Messiah, the Mediator of the New Covenant. It will be a continuous miracle of awakening and uplifting the race."—Bible Students' Monthly, Volume Four, Number Three. Now, the Scriptures say in the second chapter of anes, 13th verse, "For he shall have judgment without mercy who hath showed no mercy," but Mr. Russell says it makes no difference how degraded—it makes no difference how fallen—it matters not how mean, he is going to have a chance. James says he is not —which are you going to believe? Which are you going to believe?

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: James!

REV. JOHNSON: Mark, 16th Chapter, 16th verse, says "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." (Applause) But the International Bible Students' Association says, "No, no, that is not so—that is not so." Well, it is in the Bible and they are the works of eJsus. What are you going to do with them? Well, that is not so and they will go ahead and substitute and give you some thing; if they give you anything at all, it will be a substitute, and parson, "pastor" Russell or Mr. Russell's explanation of things—(interrupted with applause) and of course you must take that because you will be in the light if you take that but you will be in the dark if you study the Bible without that.

Now, when you tell a man there is no hell—maybe I had better waith a little before I get to that—but I want to say this; the International Bible Students' Association teaches that hel land the grave mean the same thing, nothing more and that is true; there are many passages in this blessed book that bear out that claim The Hebrews believed that very same thing and taught it but they began to gelieve something else and they taught that and that something else was that this grave translated "Shool" from the Hebrew and "Hades" from the Greek meant just the grave, that's all, but you will find in studying the Scriptures that there is another meaning attached to it also, and there is two departments to it and one constituted the place where the good people went, "in the grave" and the other was down beneath that where the bad people went and there was a little difference in that and that word has been translated, "Gehenna" and you will find pelnty of that in your New Testament.

Now, we are told that there is no punishment but I have just cited you Scriptures which show that they who do not believe shall be damned and the New Testament is just full of references to prove there is something doing after you leave here if you don't reconcile with God. "But whosoever shall say thou fool shall be in danger of hell fire." Now, of course, I don't debate my opponent that there is a literal fire that is going to burn because I don't believe with him that the resurrected body is going to be just like this body—going to be physical and if it is not going to be physical, then physical fire could not torment, but we cannot think of punishment worse than burning and these words are used in the Scriptures to convey an idea of a much worse punishment then burning, so, if you prove that it is not a lake of fire and brimstone, you have not done anything; you have not relieved yourself because that is the language used to explain something very much worse.

(I confess these lights are not good enough for me.) (Referring to poor lighting while trying to read from paper.) "And the Kingdom"—no, I don't see that, but here is something I do see—"But the children of the Kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth." That is the 8th chapter of Matthew and 14th verse. I have already read to you. "And fear not them that kill the body, but are not able to kill the sout: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell." And "Whosoever shall speak against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him, but whosoever shall speak against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world nor in the world to come." It shows continued existence and it shows that punishment for sin must be done.

Now, I want to talk to you a little bit about the idea of future punishment. My opponent grew eloquent when he talked about God being so bad, so mean, worse than the mob. In fact, he said that mob who lynched people would be God's servants—they would be just like him if he would do all this that the churches and the preachers say He does. Well, now, you cannot think of God, unless you think of Him as just. Now, you can think about Him, His mercy, just as much as you please, but you will have to think about Him as justice too, and you must think of Him as being impartial. He is the Ruler of this great universe and His rulership must be impartial and sin must be accounted for. If itis not atoned for in this life, then where is it going to be atoned for if there is no future life? There are three ways by which one may suffer punishment; in body, in mind and in estate. Now, you will find that the idea of punishment for every sin is not carried out with reference to the body because some of the worst people in the world have the best health and some of the best people in the world are constant chronic invalids.

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: That's it.

REV. MR. JOHNSON: (Continuing) Well, now, there is proof that according to the bodiyl mode, there is no equitable punishment for sin in life and if it is not in this life and sin must be punished or forgiven, one of the two, there must be a future life in which this punishment will be administered.

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: Yes!

REV. OHNSON: (Continuing) Then the mental mode; the bigger the criminal, the less he is bothered about sin. A good man will suffer more pangs of conscience for having let the conductor pass by him on the street car and not collect his fare and not calling his attention to it, then a bad man will suffer for having robbed a bank. A good man will suffer greater pangs of conscience for having wounded one's feelings than another man will who has committed murder.

McALESTER NOTES

Rev. H. T. Borders of Indianapolis, Ind., formerly of this city, came down Friday to visit friends and relatives. He left Sunday for Tulsa, Muskogee and other points in Oklahoma.

Services at the various churches were well attended Sunday. Rev. W. L. Douglas preached at 11 a. m. for Rev. A. L. Branch. Everyone seemed to have enjoyed the services. Quite a number of visitors were present. Among the many was Dr. G. T. Gray, and wife, Dr. Williamson and wife.

Good services at night when Rev. A. L. Branch preached a noble sermon. Mrs. B. W. Butler of Oklahoma City addressed the congregation and in a few well chosen words, told how more Christian work needed to be done in the state.

DOTS FROM ALTUS

Sunday school is humming in Altus. Rev. W. L. Walker preached a fine sermon Sunday morning and also Sunday night. Rev. Walker reports his son, who has been ill, as being improved.

If you want to help better the condition of our race, please register and vote the G. O. P. ticket. I think every colored man and woman should vote to hold down race discrimination If the Democrats win, there may be some real hot times for us.

VERNON NEWS

Owing to the fairness of the weather, much cotton is being brought into the Vernon gin. It keeps them busy day and night, ginning.

Services were well attended at the various churches, Sunday.

Mrs. J. H. Butler and Rev. T. H. Snow went to Taft on last week to attend a meeting of the A. M. E. Zion Church. The bishop of this church will preach here on the night of the 15th.

Mrs. Willie White, who is teaching in Tulsa, was visiting in Vernon Saturday and Sunday. The cash prizes of the colored community fair are being paid off at the post office store. Quite a number are planning to attend the State Fair at Wewoka.

Rev. J. F. Felix and wife motored to Wetumka Sunday.

WATERLOO WANDERINGS

Miss Laura Davis, teacher in Lincoln High School, was quietly married to Mr. L. Abram of Guthrie, last week at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mamie Sullivan.

If there's any information, Boys, in politics you like, just use a little common sense and get the Black Dispatch.

"LINK" JOHNSON NAILS LIE; SAYS COLORED AND WHITE REPUBLICANS TALK FROM SAME PLATFORM: SOUTHERN POLITICIANS WORRIED ABOUT NEGRO WOMEN.

(By the Associated Negro Press)

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Reports emanating from various sources to the effect that the Republican National Committee has laid down a rule that Colored speakers are not to appear on the same platform with white speakers, is branded as absolutely false by Col. Henry Lincoln Johnson, incharge of the national bureau, and National Committeeman from Georgia. Col. Johnson states that there has been no such rule adopted, or even suggested and cites numerous occasions in various communities where speakers of both races have appeared, in all sections of the country, even the South.

The demands for speakers during the last weeks of the campaign is increasing. The leaders of both groups are exercising caution in their selections because of their desire not to have speakers go out who will "spill the beans," in the last gripping days of the campaign where, according to their convictions, everything is going along in tip-top shape.

Mrs. Lethia C. Fleming, Director of the Bureau for Women, has been in New York City, looking over the work of the Eastern division, which is under the direction of Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, of Washing, D. C., and Miss Jeanette Carter, of the same city. Mrs. Fleming is enthusiastic about the determination of the women to become a part of the real political life of the country.

There seems to be unusual alarm on the part of southern politicians about the activity of colored women. There is downright fear, well founded, that the women do not intend to passively submit to the illegal disfranchisement of their sex, as has been forced upon the men of the South. One prominent woman of the South, whose name is a household word, made this remark: "We are going to exercise our rights under the law. We fear no evil; we will not be bluffed away from the polls If bodily harm is resorted to, there are two sides to the question, and we may as well begin to prepare for a decision a peaceful one, we fondly hope. Why should we be denied our votes?"

That southerners have fallen back on their old bogey of color scare is demonstrated by the manner in which Gov. Cox was introduced in southern communities, without a protest from him, as "the white hope of southern womanhood."

In many respects, this is one of the most peculiar campaigns in American history. It is anything but the old fashioned hurrah kind of campaign where the red fire, great parades, unbounded enthusiasm, and torrid side walk arguments, were the order of the day. If one should hear a group of fellows going down the street yelling "Hurrah for Harding and Coolidge," people would look at them with astonishment. Whether the Nineteenth Amendment has anything to do with the matter is not known. However the people are thinking, and have convictions. The big battle grounds are Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky

SPECIAL NOTICE

Mr. J. W. Cope, of New York, of the International Bible Students' Association, will lecture at Convention Hall, Tulsa, Okla., Sunday, Oct. 17, 1920, beginning at 3 p. m., on the subject "Millions now living will never die."

Seats free. Both black and white are invited.

STENOGRAPHIS REPORT OF DEBATE HELD AT CONVENTION HALL IN THE EVENING OF SEPTEMBER 28, 1920

Between Richard J. Hill, the Affirmative, and H. T. S. Johnson, representing the Negative, on the Question: "Resolved, That the Teachings of the International Bible Students' Association Should Be Substituted For the Doctrine of the Church Denomination.

DEBATE

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: That's it.

REV. MR. JOHNSON: (Continuing) The bigger the criminal, the less he is bothered; the less he is punished mentally for his deed and neither do we find it in estate. Why some of the biggest libertines, some of the greatest debauches in the world are millionaires, while some of the best people in all the world live in penury and want. Now, if you can think of a government whose God is just, whose rule is just, and you dare not say God is anything but just, then, if there is no way of administering punishment equitably in this life and it must be equitable or God would be unjust, then there is the argument for future punishment from the standpoint of common sense and the Bible to justify the idea of future punishment—the idea of hell. I said that Russellism was serving the Devil and not God for the very reason that it is saying to man, there is no hell—you are not immortal; you die as the horse dies and Scriptures have been cited showing there is no difference in man and beast; that man has pre-eminence over the beast and my worthy opponent thought he said so much but it is true that it relates to this life when one dies. He is like the beast so far as this life is concerned, but we have too much Bible and we have too much common sense to admit there is no difference between man and beast with reference to future life. (Applause) Now, you let the average man believe that there is no place of punishment for him; no punishment for him despite what he does and you talk about Tulsa being 'Hell's Half Acre' and it will become Hell's whole acre; you talk about murders and killings and everything else that goes on in Tulsa and I confess to you if you can get the people of Tulsa to substitute the teachings of the International Bible Students' Association, that there is no hell and no punishment and you will make Tulsa at once a place unfit to live in. It is a fact that the idea of hell, the idea of punishment is the greatest restraint on man. We have not yet got to the place where we are willing to do right just because it is right. Lots of us are doing right though, but we are doing it because we recognize there is to be a reckoning. Every man must give an account to God for the deeds done in the body and because we look forward to that reckoning, because we look forward to the time when we must meet a Judge that cannot be bribed; we shall meet a Judge who will be absolutely fair; when we meet a Judge who administers justice impartially, because we look forward to that time, we are careful about what we are doing now. I guess I had better save this until I come back, but I will start on it now.

The trouble with Russellism is they left out three agencies—they forgot man is free. They seem to have over looked it and because he is free, he is responsible. If he is responsible, he must give an account to somebody somewhere, but they don't take into consideration his account and his freedom and therefore they look over his responsibility and they say, no matter how degrading, no matter how fallen, no matter how mean, he is going to have another chance and he is going to get that in the resurrection. He is resurrected. The word itself means that the thing that goes down must come up, but they say that thing that goes down, stays and something else comes up. (Applause)

MR. SMITHERMAN: Mr. Hill will now take twenty minutes for rebutta. (Applause)

MR. HILL: I don't need twenty minutes—about five minutes will do me. I am all out of fix. I have got nothing to answer and don't want to go into my conclusion. I want to say with all earnestness that there is no wonder the poor people are in such gross darkness concerning God's plan when our best educated college ministers have so little of the light of God's great plan. (Applause) Now, I say this in all candor and as a big broad-minded friend. Rev. Johnson is in earnest but he is very unfortunate, I wish to say before God and you people, as not having a single idea of God's great knowledge and the plan of salvation. Why do I say that? I used to be the same way, but by the grace of God, I am permitted to see His plan and tell His truth. Now I don't want to say anything more than— if we had time, just a week-end to argue on this matter, it would be very beautiful; there are a whole lot of things I would like to talk to him about but we are discussing the great plan of salvation. In the first place, he called your attention to a Scripture in Mark 16, I believe, about the 16th verse. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved but he that believeth not, shall be damned." I want to say that I am very much surprised that an intelligent educated minister does not know from the ninth verse in this chapter, it is not the Bible and it is recognized by all the scholars as interpolation. (Applause) It is acknowledged by every person that knows the Bible and all Greek scholars—he does not have to dispute with me, that the ninth verse, from the first verse to the ninth verse only, is recognized as genuine from the manuscript, so I wave back. (Laughter. ) Now he quoted Matthew 10:28 to prove that or to give you the impression the soul could not be destroyed and I was going to spat him good but he came around and read the other but read it first and did not give you the thought he read only a part of that. Fear not them that can destroy the body but cannot destroy the soul. I am not quoting the exact words, but the substance—but fear him that can destroy both soul and body in Gehenna. What is the thought? Showing that the soul can be destroyed and this is what the Lord wanted them to understand that, according to God's plan, through the sacrifice of Jesus, man was going to have a resurrection and a trial for life. Man could destroy this present feeble body but he could not destroy that chance—man has to live again. Man could not do that, destroy one's chance but God himself (interrupted with applause) could destroy this life, feeble as it is and His chance for a resurrection if he was one of those whose eyes had become opened to the plan of salvation and then willingly and intelligently denied the Lord—he would be of that class—the Lord warned them.

Now, I am just going to say right here and stop—I will leave the rest of my statement because I don't feel like talking tonight on account of a little physical inability. The subject is accept the teachings of the International Bible students' in the place of the teachings of the Church Denominations. And you talk about freedom there is no freedom except among the International Bible Students. They are bound to God alone and all they do is upon the alter of sacrifice and I want to say here that those two hundred thousand ministers did not feed at the International Bible Student's table. The International Bible Students don't have a horde of preachers to support; neither have they got the world strewn from end to end with half-finished churches; they have no such responsibility as that. This remark is not calculated to cast any reflection but it is the solemn truth. If there is no objection, I will stop right here—I will close it. (Applause)

(Now, at this time, the applause having subsided, the following proceedings are had:)

MR. SMITHERMAN: Rev. Johnson will close his side of this question in a thirty minutes' talk. (Applause)

REV. JOHNSON: I want to give my opponent credit for having some conscience. He started to say a bigger one than he stated and he stopped. Now, he attempted to disprove what I said and what I said, was simply what the Scriptures say, that we should fear him who can destroy both body and soul in hell. Now, he says that says that God can destroy the soul as well as the body, but "destroy" simply means that God has the power to cast that soul in hell because it says, destroy both soul and body in hell, body in the grave and the soul in that other place. He said that the International Bible Students' Association has no long string of bob-tailed churches and got a lot of applause for the statement but I want to say that is to the credit of the Church Denominations. The reason the International Bible Students' Association has no such money to give my worthy opponent to publish long articles in the newspaper every week and to rent this hall and pay the stenographer and all that, is because they are not spreading that money so far; they are just centering it in certain places and he has plenty of it. (Applause)

Now, I want to ask the question, brothers and sisters, what is the International Bible Students' Association doing for the good of the world? (Applause) How many orphanages has the International Bible Students' Association established? (interrupted by voice from auidence)

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: None.

REV. MR. JOHNSON: (Continuing) How many hospitals with free wards for those who are unable to pay are maintained by the International Bible Students' Association? How many rescue missions in the large cities to save the green country girl and the green farm girl as they enter these cities, from designing men, to get them out of the things into which they have fallen and been entrapped and giving them a chance for life and respectability?—(interrupted by a voice from the audience)

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: That's true.

REV. MR. JOHNSON: (Continuing) —how many schools with scholarships for those who cannot pay are being maintained by the International Bible Students' Association? What is the International Bible Students' Association doing with its money and doing with its brain? The one thing I do say they are doing—that the international Bible Students' Association is doing is to cripple the influence of the church—(Interrupted by a voice from the audience)

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: That's true. (Applause)

REV. JOHNSON: The churches have built all the schools, all the Christian schools; the churches have built them; the International Bible Students have not built them. All the hospitals with free wards in them have been built by the church; the International Bible Students are not furnishing them. The churches are furnishing missionaries to do this big rescue work in the big cities. The churches are the institutions that are preaching patriotism to the American youth while the International Bible Students are saying: this is God's plan—no use in doing anything. If everybody had believed what the International Bible Students' Association teaches, there would not have been a man to go to war. (Applause) I make no mistake about that. (Continued applause) The big men in the institution got put in jail—(Continued applause) And the reason my worthy opponent did not get in, was he was not big enough. (Applause and laughter.)

The International Bible Students would close all the churches and in doing that, it would call from the foreign every minister who has gone to carry the gospel of Christ to those who know it not. The Lord Jesus Christ said go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. (Applause) The International Bible Students' Association says there is no use in going—there is no need of going because God is working out his "Great plan."

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: Yes. (Applause)

REV. MR. JOHNSON: (Continuing) And your preaching will not do any good and I am surprised that educated ministers know so little about "God's great plan."

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: Yes, "great plan."

REV. MR. JOHNCON: (Continuing) Listen—there is no need of persuading men from sin; God is going to give them a chance after they leave here and because of that, there is no need of talking to them now. The International Bible Students would destroy the influence of the Christian Church in the world and I don't know anything that institution would do that would please the Devil more.

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: That is the truth. (Applause)

REV. MR. JOHNSON: (Continuing) The thing that has given the Devil concern is the church, with a Divinity called and appointed ministry, that is willing to make sacrifice and build "bob-tailed" churches, if you please, and God please, that the poor may have the gospel preached to them

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: Yes.

REV. MR. JOHNSON: (Continuing) The International Bible Students' Association is serving the Devil because it wants to cripple every good thing that is being done against the Devil. Who are the people that would be glad if the International Bible Students' Association could prove there is no hell? Who are the people that would be glad? The good people? Would the people who are practicing the Golden Rule feel the greatest relief or would it be the people who are practicing anything but the Golden Rule that would feel relieved? Who are the people that would be anxious for my opponent to prove his contention tonight that there is no hell? They are the people that believe if the churches are right that there is no chance for them and for that reason they want the doctrine of the International Bible Students' Association proved so that they may not have to live under the consciousness that there is a wrath to come.

The International Bible Students' Association dethrones Christ and puts an angel in His place. You know I have been reading a little on the doctrine of Russellism and you don't know how surprised I was when I ran across this and these are the words of Mr. Russell: "Our Redeemer existed as a spirit being before he was made flesh and dwelt among men. At that time, as well as subsequently, he was properly known as God, a mighty one, as chief of angels, and next to the Father, He was known as the Archangel, (highest angel or messenger) whose name was Michael and whose name signifies, 'who as God' or God's representative." You will find this in the Bible studies, Volume Five, Page Eighty-four. What saith the scriptures now on the same subject? (Quoting) "His name shall be called Wonderful, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. Does that sound like he was an Archangel? Just a big man in the Kingdom, something separate from God? "In the beginning was the word, and the word was with God, and the word was God," and my opponent will tell you that "word" here, means Christ, so he was in the beginning. He was with God and He was God, yet Russellism says He was an angel.

ness of the God-head bodily." Those other references were Isaiah 9:6 and John 1st. Chapter, 1st verse, "They shall call His name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, 'God with us." Matthew 1:23.

Now, don't you know it is libeling Christ, it is dishonoring the Christ to dethrone Him and put an angel in His place, to make Him and Michael one, but this is the doctrine of Russellism. This International Bible Students' Association would have you substitute that for the church, orthodox Christianity. Then, you must admit that Christ was not of the God-head, but that He was surbordinate, He was Michael. In substituting the doctrines of the International Bible Students' Association, you will have to swallow this too, Christ's body was not resurrected—that is what it teaches.

Studies in the Scriptures, Volume Two, page one hundred, fifty-five, say "We know nothing about what became of it (His body) whether it was disolved into gases—no one knows." Again( in Volume one, page two hundred thirty, he says, "His human existence ended on the cross." Volume Five, page four hundred fifty-four, says, "It was necessary, not only that the man Christ Jesus should die, but just as necessary that the man Christ Jesus should stay dead. The man Jesus is dead—forever dead." Volume Five, page four hundred sixty-six says, "The man Christ Jesus suffered for us death in the most absolute sense of the word, everlasting destruction." Observe, please, Russellism says we know not what became of His body; the angel knew not and said, "He is not here—He is risen as He said." (Applause) Are you going to believe Mr. Russell and the International Bible Students' Association or the angel? (Interrupted by voice from the auidence)

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: The angel.

REV. MR. JOHNSON: (Continuing) The Disciples knew for they said: "The Lord is risen indeed and hath appeared to Simon." Luke twenty-fourth chapter, thirty-fourth verse. Paul knew and he said, "He was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve. After that he was seen of about five hundred brethern at once; after that he was seen of James and of the Apostles and, last of all, he was seen of me also, as one born out of due time." (Interrupted by voice from the audience)

A VOICE FROM THE AUDIENCE: Um huh!

REV. MR. JOHNSON: (Continuing) But Mr. Russell says, "We don't know what became of the body."

Well, now, in the face of these Scriptures, Mr. Russell had to get up some kind of explanation and what did he get up? He says that body that was buried did not rise—did not resurrect his humanity stopped at the cross and in all His appearances; He created a new body and clothes for the occasion. Now, that means He did a lot of creating of bodies; He had a "Corporal's Guard—created new bodies for all of His appearances when he appeared the first time at the grave and on the way and in the upper room and when He appeared and dispelled the doubtings of Thomas and when He ascended and all were looking at Him go up; all of that means also; that Jesus was bluffing; that Jesus was fooling the folks; making them believe that when He went to Thomas and showed him His hands and Thomas said, "My Lord and God" that that was not the body that was pierced on the cross; that was not the Christ nailed to the cross; that was just one Jesus made for the occasion. Then, He fooled Thomas and Thomas should have continued doubting. According to Russellism He fooled Thomas and played a base hypocrite. Are you going to believe that? Are you going to substitute these teachings for the doctrines of orthodox Christianity? I am sure you will not.

Russellism teaches that the gospel is not for the whole world. Here is what Mr. Russell says on this subject, just to prove it, "The object and purpose of the gospel everywhere, not to the Jew only, but to every people can easily be demonstrated to all who have faith in God. To claim that God intended the gospel to convert the world and to know that it has not done so, is to destroy faith in God and to destroy hope in any glorious outcome to the Divine plan of salvation; for htose who claim that God intended the preaching of the gospel to accomplish the world's conversion must admit that it has accomplished no such purpose, and if God's plan has been a failure for eighteen centuries, what hope could anyone have that it would ever be a success." Bible Students' Monthly, Volume Six, Number Six. Following that same reasoning

LAWTON, OKLA.

Sunday school was well attended at the Bethlehem Baptist Church. Services were good throughout the day. The rally was a success. Total money raised, $219.20. We thank the two sister churches for their co-operation.

Mrs. Etta Gills and Mrs. Bobbie Medlock from Ryan, Okla., are here, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brown, 102 Bell. Mr. and Mrs. George Davis from Duncan, Okla., are making Lawton their future home.

NOWATA 7: CLAREMORE 0

Nowata, Okla., (Special to the Black Dispatch)—In a game replete with brilliancy, the famous Lincoln High foot ball team of Nowata, completely outplayed the Claremore team last Saturday, Oct. 16th.

The Claremore men outweighed the Lincoln boys 10 pounds to the man, but what the Lincoln boys lacked in weight, they made up in skill. Finding that they were up against some old stars from Shorter College and Langston, the Nowata team contented itself with a light margin score and played only to keep the Claremore boys from scoring. They could easily have made three or four more touchdowns, but Coach Kink's policy is to save his team and score only when necessary to win.

This makes Nowata's third successive victory, the other victims being Muskogee and Tulsa.

The boys will play Okmulgee, Guthrie and Langston during the last week in October.

DOTS FROM ALTUS

Sunday was a day to get cotton pickers located. Mrs. Gertie Rhodes' brother was in Altus for a few days.

Only a few more days and the registration period will be over. Many of our people have not registered and if they don't, cannot vote. What do you mean to do?—work all the time and let somebody else run the government?

FREDERICK SPARKS

Services were fine all day Sunday. Sunday school well attended. At 11:30 Rev Glove of Oklahoma City, preached a soul stirring sermon from Job, 28th chapter, 12th verse 4:30 p. m. a splendid B. Y. P. U. President O. Taylor is such a loyal president: always at his post. Prof. B. E. Burgess of West India, the great dramatist, was present and presented a few of his masterpieces. He will be with us again on the night of October 23.

Night services were good.

Mr. J .W. Williams has a car load of lumber on the tracks; planning to build four more rent houses and a house for himself. Mrs. Ella Clark, Mrs. E. Spears and Rev. C. C. Clark are delegates to the State Convention.

HOLDENVILLE, OKLA.

The baby of Charles Lend, an Indian, was kicked by a horse and skull fractured. He was carried to Oklahoma City to, the Great Western Hospital by Dr. Rickman, where he was operated upon. It is thought that he will survive.

Dr. Haywood, of Oklahoma City, will be in Holdenville on Thursday night, October 28 to lecture at the A. M. E. Church in interest of the Republican Party. We ask that every citizen of Holdenville and vicinity be out to hear him.

Mrs. Sallie Guidan and Mr. Henry white and family were called to Fort Smith, Ark., last Wednesday to attend the funeral of their brother, Mr. Tom White, who was shot by another colored man. We learn that Mr. White was out on him farm picking cotton when he was shot without warning.

Mr. Joe Cason of Tulsa, was in Holdenville last week, visiting his brother, Jas. Cason. Mr. A. Herde and wife are visiting in Kansas City this week. Quite a number of people of Holdenville and Hughes County attended the fair out at J. Coody Johnson's ranch. They all came home claiming that it was the best they had ever attended in the state. Dr. A. E. Hubbard of the Muskogee District, held his fourth and last quarterly conference last Sunday. Mr. C. H. Holmes of Ardmore, Okla., is visiting in Holdenville this week.

TISHOMINGO, OKLA.

We had with us this week the honored Judge T. M. Betts, the noted speaker from Texas. The colored women are in the best of spirits for the Republican party at this place. Mrs. A. Greer is making a great effort to lead our town. We are very pleased to have Mrs. Greer with us for we must surely win this time.

I love Harding
For Harding is a man.
I cant vote for Harding,
But my Dad can.

H. P. Perkins.

VERNON NEWS

Services were well attended at New Hope Baptist Church, Sunday. Rev. Coleman of Clearview, Okla., preached a soul stirring sermon which all seemed to enjoy. Mr. Imanuel and Harry Whittaker left Saturday for Muskogee to visit their mother. Mrs. Belle Hicks left Tuesday for Fort Smith, Ark., to visit relatives. Dr. Taylor, our dentists, seems to have plenty of work every Wednesday. Quite a number of families are coming into Vernon. We are always glad to have new families with us. Mr. T. M. Haynes of Boley was in town Saturday and Sunday on business. Mrs. Alice Ware left Saturday for an extended visit in Western Oklahoma, where she will visit relatives. Our pastor, Rev. J. W. Knowles, returned from the State Convention at Hugo, Okla. He had many good things to tell us. The Bishop of the A. M. E. Zion Church, preached here Wednesday night. Mr. E. T. Busby left last Monday for College. Miss Ozelia Read is, who has been visiting her brother, Mr. D. H. Busby, returned to her home at Okmulgee, Wednesday. Prof. F. E. Wesley announced that school will begin on the 16th of next month. Parents should get their children ready

WELEETKA NEWS

Sunday was a high day at Union First Baptist Church. Those on the sick list this week are Mrs. Clodie Erath and Mrs. Annie Hinds.

Johnnie Hinds, Reporter.

MARIETTA, OKLA.

Sunday school was very dull. The colored school house is nearing completion. Bro. H. Wilson has moved to Wewoka.

Anumber of people are out looking for locations. Several are planning to go to Boley, Vernon and Wewoka.

Nearly every body is out on the cotton pick and the town is very dull.

LUTHER, OKLA.

The fall rally at the Metropolitan A. M. E. Zion Church, last Sunday, netted $500.00. The pastor and members are making an able provision to entertain the Oklahoma Annual Conference of that connection. The oldest Negro church in the world is the A. M. E. Z. The conference will be presided over by Bishop P. A. Wallace, A. M., D. D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., assisted by Bishop G. L. Blackwell of Philadelphia, Pa., and Bishop Tyree of the A. M. E. Church and a number of general officers and visitors. One of the features of the conference will be voting and discussing the subject of Organic Union. The conference will open Wednesday morning at 10 a. m., Oct. 20, 1920.

FORUM

ATOKA, OKLA.

IN MEMORIAN

In loving memory of Sister Sallie Powell, W. P. of Southern Beauty Temple of Atoka, Okla., who departed this life, Oct. 11, 1920.

Calm as a child to slumber soothed,
As is an angel's hand had smoothed
The still features unto rest,
Silent and cold without a breath
To stir the drapery on her breast.
The community has lost a neighbor and a friend,
She was a friend in need,
She was a friend indeed.
She has sheltered in her home many who had no place to lay their head.
So many found protection in her home
From the scorching hot rays of the the summer's sun,
Or from the cold icy winds of the winter;
From beating rains, from sleet and snow.
Pain with its keen and poisoned fang
The horror of the mortal pang
The suffering loo k her brow had worn,
The fear, the strife, the anguish gone.
She sleeps at last in death.

Our coming together today is for a common, but grevious cause.

The unwelcome visitor came to our town, visited the home of our neighbor and friend and took the choicest member of family in the person of Sister Sallie Powell.

She would bid you share the comforts of her home.

She was a counselor and a comforter for those who loved and trusted her; always ready to advise, always ready to help.

She was a woman who would speak her thoughts. She did not practice deception. What she did, what she knew concerning any one, she would speak the truth about it, regardless of what it cost anyone.

The A. M. E. Church has lost a true, faithful and obedient member One who loved her church and in the alst days of her life, seemed more devoted to its work than ever

From the home has gone a guard and a guide, a protector, a mother—all that a woman could be to a home.

The Southern Beauty has lost a leader indeed and in truth. She loved her lodge. She put her whole life and energy in the work—She made it a success.

The members of that temple are like birds in mid air, when the leader has been suddenly shot down and they will drift until the new leader picks up the trail.

The golden cord of love that binds all S. M. T.'s and U. B. F.'s together has again been severed and the loss sustained will be felt around the whole Oklahoma jurisdiction.

She was W. P. of the Southern Beauty Temple for years.

She was loving, industrious, charitable and weilded a great influence over her acquaintances. The work she did in helping buy our cemetery, preparing a resting place for herself and others, will live in the hearts of those left behind—and like Dunbar I believe she would exclaim:

"Let me lay when my shoulders draps the load,
Nigh enough to hear the noises in the road,
For I think my las' long rest
Gwine to suit my speret bes'
Ef I'se layin 'mongst the things
I allus knowed.

PURCELL, OKLA.

Rev. P. L. Carter, our great pastor, was at his best, Sunday, Oct. 17, and preached two wonderful sermons. Col lection for the day was $30.11.

Mrs. Juanita Oliver of Hobert, Oklahoma, was a Purcell visitor last week. Master James Readis spent the week end in Pauls Valley visiting relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCoullough of Cole, Okla, were Purcell visitors last week Attorney L. H. Harris, organizer and lecturer for the Republican party of Carter County, was a Purcell visitor Sunday and delivered an excellent address to the citizens of Purcell.

Mr. Lee Givens spent a few days last week as the guest of friends at Chickasha, Okla. Miss Nellie Watson entertained Rev. P. L. Carter and Lawyer L. H. Harris with a two-course luncheon, Sunday evening after enjoying a sumptous repast Rev. Carter and Lawyer Harris voted Miss Watson an ideal hostess.

Mr. Sam Goff of Cole, Okla., was a Purcell visitor last week. Mrs. Jane Meeks and grand son, Master Courtney Richardson, spent the week end in the Capitol visiting friends and relatives.

he would say to the black man in the dark ages of slavery, for two hundred and forty years—I think it was two hundred and forty-four years; let's say two hundred years when he was about forty-four years from freedom—he would say, now, you have been a slave for two hundred years and you are still a slave and you are not free—is that not proof you never will be free? That argument would be just as sound as Mr. Russell has said with reference to salvation of the world, because men have not been saved universally then, the whole thing is false and must be explained in some way, but the Bible says, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation and he that believeth shall be saved and he that believeth not shall be damned." Why say go and preach to everybody if only a few can be saved? Why do that? Why did Jesus make such an unreasonable proposition and put such a big job on his followers when it was not necessary—when God did not intend to do it?

We are told that the Bible does not mean what it says with reference to the Judgment. If you read the Tulsa Star and the Oklahoma Sun each week for some time now, you will see over the signature of my worthy opponent under the caption, "The End of the World Has Come"—(Laughter) "and men Now Living Will Never Die" and wants us to believe it. Now, this old Millennium Dawn has been popping up every once in a while since the first century. Somebody has come up with it every century and there has been a group of people who have been preaching it and Mr. Russell, the father of the International Bible Students' Association, said the end of the world was coming in 1874, but it didn't. (Laughter) And so he studied some more and he figured again, went back guessing at what Daniel meant by his times and so on, and he figured and figured and brought it down to October, 1914, that is certainly the time. After 1914 came and while there was no end, Mr. Russell had to make an explanation and so he said the world has ended, you just don't know it—(Applause) and he goes on to explain what is meant by the end of the world and his explanation does anything but coincide with Holy Writ. John 14:2,3, "I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also." Now, those are the words of Jesus—I am going, He said, and I am going for the purpose of preparing a place for you, and if I go and prepare that place, I will come back and get you. That is what Jesus said. The International Bible Students' Association says that is not so—it is not that way at all—Jesus don't know. Instead of going off and preparing a place for us and getting us and taking us to it, He is coming back here where we are and make this place Heaven and He is going to stay here one thousand years and all these bad folks, all these people who don't try to do right are going to be resurrected and given another chance and they are going to be resurrected just as slowly as Adam was when he was made and he was created and if they don't make good, if they sin, He will not punish them for it; He is too good to punish anybody; He will not punish them but He will cut them off, annihilate them and therefore they will be punished for what they have done because they will have no existence but, we are told in the Scriptures, Jesus is coming like he left. Acts 1:11—"Ye men of Gallilee! Why stand ye gazing up into Heaven? This same Jesus, which is taken up from you into Heaven, shall come in like manner as ye have seen him go into Heaven." Now, if He is coming back in like manner as He went away and is coming—the coming of Jesus is coincident with the end of the world, then why has not somebody seen Him if the end of the world is here—where is he hiding? We were told by the angel who consoled us when He left that He was coming back and He was going to come just like He went.

Now, friends, I want to just say this concluding word—I am told I have only two or three minutes and I want to say this; That is you adopt the teachings of Russellism you give every man license to kill if he wants to and debauch if he wants to; not only himself but then he can influence you—turn this world loose; passion upon passion, man without any regard for the welfare of his brother man. You turn the world loose in that condition of sinfulness and we can hardly imagine it because of the fact that we have the restraint that goes with the consciousness that we shall be somewhere in the next world in the body.

We are here to ask as my last word, what about the International Bible Students' Association? What about my good friend who has opposed me in this debate? I imagine as soon as you have heard the argument on both sides that the best you can say for it will be what the man said about the gobbler—he is a good gobbler but he has lost his strut. (Applause)

(And now at this time Rev. Johnson having concluded his part of the debate, the audience starts up and sing the song entitled, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." Afterwards proceedings are had:)

MR. HILL: The more I hear from the college men about the Bible, the more I am inclined to the belief that these seminaries should be wiped out of existence. (Applause) I mean that and no more; they mean all right but O, what a mess and muddle they have gotten the world into. (Applause) I have not time to take up and analyze all the points that my opponent attempted to make about his statement with reference to the man Christ Jesus shows that he has no knowledge whatever of philosophy of the ransom. The perfect body of the man Christ Jesus was given for the perfect man, Adam. My opponent does not know the difference between the humanity of Jesus Christ and Him as a spirit being. (Applause) My opponent knows nothing of the characteristic qualities of an angel and a spirit being. The Lord Jesus appeared to Abraham. One of the qualities of a Spirit Being is to take the human body when it is necessary and dematerialize. That was the condition of the Lord Jesus Christ after the resurrection; that perfect human body had to go; it does not go for one thousand days and it is not Jesus anymore. (Applause) That sacrifice could not have been made if the man Christ Jesus was not given up absolutely.

Now, I want to say here, the Lord had in mind these blind teachers at the very time. (Applause) and I will use the Lord's work. My opponent used Brother Russell's words but I will use the Lord's word—how the Lord speaks of them—(Applause, these who claim to be His watchmen, listen what the Lord says: "His watchmen are blind" I want to say this is Iiaiah 56th Chapter, 10th, 11th, and 12th verses. "His watchmen are blind; they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark (Applause) "Sleeping lying down, loving to slumber." "Ye, are greedy dogs" (Applause" which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand:" (Applause) "They all look to their own way" (Their denomination) "Everyone for his gain, from his quarter." (Applause) "Come ye, say they, and I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink;" (strong doctrine) "And to-morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant." I think you will agree with me when I say that all of this horde of two hundred thousand and better, preachers that claim to represent the Lord, and get the people in confusion, are all pretty good feeders. You don't have that "horde" on your hands if you are an International Bible Student but without going into these things, I want in conclusion to say there are many things I would like to say but will be a waste of time (interrupted by Mr. Smitherman)

MR. SMITHERMAN: (To Mr. Hill) You have thirty minutes.

MR. HILL: Just at this time, I wish to make what might be termed by some, an awful statement. I charge the Church Denominations are in league with the Devil; blind, and misrepresenting God's character and plan. This charge is made against the Denominations and not against individuals. We will now listen to both sides for a moment: God and the International Students on the one side and the Denominations on the other side. (Applause)

God tells us that the wages of sin is death; Romans 6:23; that disobedience to his law brings death; Genesis 2:17; that the soul that sinneth it shall die; Ezekiel 18:4; that when a person dies, he is unconscious, has no memory, cannot speak, breathe, think, cannot work, has no feelings and knows nothing. Ecclesiastes 9:5 6, 10; Psalms 6:5; 115:17; 104:29; 146:4; the International Bible Students are teaching the same thing. But, on the other hand, the Devil says ye shall not surely die, and that when man appears to die, he is then more alive than ever. The Church Denominations are teaching the same old lie.

God tells us that the literal earth abideth forever, Ecclesiastes 1;4; that He formed it to be inhabited, Isaiah 45:18; that he gave the earth to the children of men, Psalms 115:16. The International Bible Students are telling the people the same thing.

The Devil through his cunning and blinding influence is telling the people that the earth is to be burned up. The Denominations are touching the same old thing, that the earth is to be burned up.

God tells us that He will establish a Kingdom here upon this earth; that His Kingdom shall break in pieces and consume all the beastly kingdoms of the earth; that this Kingdom will stand forever, Daniel 2:44; that when His Kingdom is in operation, all the dead, both of the just and unjust, will bes resurrected, for the purpose of giving life everlasting to the just and giving the unjust an opportunity, thru obedience, to gain life—John 5: 28,29. The International Bible Students are teaching the same thing to those who will hear. (Applause)

The Devil, through his tact and cunning, is teaching the people of the world that God's Kingdom has long been established in the world and that it is the duty of every race or nation to protect with shot and shell their selfish interest against all other races or nations even to the sacrificing of millios of innocent lives; he further impresses the poor people that the resurrection of the dead is only for the purpose of heaping further damnation upon the condemned. The Denominations teach the same thing—that God's Kingdom has long been established and that the resurrection of the dead is only for the purpose of issuring to them their damnation.

In conclusion, I beg to say that I know many of you are consecrated to the Lord and are willing to give even life for what you believe to be right. But, you have been kept in ignorance of God's great plan of salvation because of false teachings. I trust that you may, from to-night, be able to decide what teachings you will listen to.

My opponent called attention to the fact that the world has not ended I want to say Pastor Russell told the world thirty some odd years before the great war that the world would begin to end in 1914, at that time and the world ended; the only trouble with my opponent is that it is just like it was when the Lord went away; He says in like manner when I go away, the same will I come back. There was not but a few saw him when He went away and there is only a few know that he is back.

He doesn't know what the "world" means from a Bible point of view. When Peter said in II Peter, third chapted, sixth verse, "Whereby the world that then was, being overflooded with water, perished." He did not mean the burning of the same earth as here but meant that order of things which existed sixteen hundred and fifty-six years from the creation of man to the flood; he spoke of the world to come. I want to say we are nearing the end of the present world but my opponent does not know it, now. I make this testimony before God and the angels, it is the truth. Pastor Russell told the truth when he said the world would end in 1914—can you not hear and see and hear the rumbling on all sides? In that connection this is all I will say.

I am glad to say, dear ones, that God's promise of establishing a Kingdom here upon earth is now in process of fulfillment. The old order is passing away preparatory to the establishing of the new. When this kingdom is fully established, then wrong doing will not be permitted. Then will come times of blessing and refreshing to all mankind. The cripple the lame and halt will be made well and strong; the eyes of the blind will be made to see and the deaf ears to hear, Isaiah 35. All the dead shall be resurrected; John 5:28, 30, and restitution of all things will progress until every one has enjoyed a full fair opportunity for the blessing of life, liberty and happiness. Acts 3:19,21. All who refused these proffered blessings will be destroyed. All who are willing to receive and obey the righteous laws of this kingdom will be restored to perfect manhood, and just here my opponent would impress you that God has not punished man enough when he punished him with death. It is because my opponent is ignorant of what life means; he knows nothing about life except this dying condition he sees around here. I will make you a simple illustration. If you had a little piece of stone you would throw it around but some one told you you would lose billions if you lost that, then you would put it away and take care of it and when man learns what life is and its value then, no greater punishment could come to man than to lose life. That is the punishment God gives to man. He says if you destroy, "The wages of sin is death." God will not change His law to eternal punishment or something else to suit the clergy. (Applause) God says death was a penalty and He tells you what death is and it does not make any difference what the hundreds or thousands of clergy may think, God says death is your penalty and that is what it will be and we dare not add more than what God said.

I want to say here too, if you would get some ideas of a perfect man, you take all the intelligence there is in the world, all the knowledge ofscience or art, music, history and what-not—put all that together in one individual and as great as that might be—and I want to say all the physical beauty, put it all in one individual and as great as that might be, I want to remind you that would only represent the remnant of a perfect man which has been in process of detorioration more than six thousand years. The time will come when men will order the temperature and climate just as he wants them. They were made to have dominion over earth, if God's promises are true and God's promises are true. These perfect ones are the ones, my dear friends, to whom the Lord will say, "Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world." The reconstruction of the world will continue for a thousand years during which time the earth will be made beautiful beyond description by a human tongue. Then Peace will prevail and all will be happy. There will be no more parting of loved ones. The people over the whole world, including the resurrected millions will gather in great multitudes to sing praises and do homage unto the Lord and Jehovah. The beautiful songs of praise will rise from earth to Heaven and the angels will catch the chorus and waft it back to earth until every creature in Heaven and in earth will be singing Glory Glory, Glory unto God and His Christ' worthy art. Thou to be praised Great and marvelous are thy works, Lord God Almighty, just and true are Thy ways, Thou King of Saints.

Dear friends, I want to remind you that the International Bible Students don't intend to teach you one thing but what the Lord tells you. We know the world is not going to listen now and we know what lessons the Lord is going to give them for not listening to this message.

By the Lord's grace, I say, seek peace, speak truth, seek a knowledge of God's great plan, be humble and teachable here and you will be led out of this great darkness that the unwise servants and teachers have led you into—God bless you. (Applause)

MR. SMITHERMAN: That closes the debate and of course it is left to you and it is for you to decide which you will take, the teachings of the International Bible Students or the teachings of the Church Denominations. It was not mentioned or agreed between the debaters that there would be any decision rendered except in the minds of the audience. That being true, the debate is now ended except for the benediction, which we will ask from Rev. Tucker.

REV. TUCKER: And now may the blessings from God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost rest and abide upon this congregation; bless the races of people that live together here in Tulsa: let peace and harmony abide with them on earth and in our kingdom—we ask this in Thy name, forever. Amen.

Boley Citizens To Fight Suferage Battle

Boley, Okla., Oct. 17.—A meeting of vital importance to the Negroes of Boley and all colored people of Oklahoma was held Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple under the auspices of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. During the days of registration—that is from Oct. 13 to Oct. 23—the Negroes of this and other precincts will present themselves for registration to the proper officer, if he can be found, and see will such officer be honest and fair enough to allow the tax-paying citizens of this community to register. Lawyer Barbour made no speech but simply told the people what they were up against and what to do. He was very frank in telling us that the prize was at the end and not at the start. Judge Sawner put pep into the people by telling them how he succeeded in his home county and the meeting he attended in Oklahoma City a few weeks ago. It was quite a treat to the citizens assembled to hear Judge Sawner recite the doings of that great meeting. Lawyer Peters gave some valuable information concerning registration and how he struggled to get a few citizens registered. How strange it seems in this day of civilization (if we can call this civilization) to say, "We must fight for the right and privilege to vote." Does not the constitution of this great nation guarantee to its citizens the right o vote? Yes, in words but not in deed. Why not? Because it has never been enforced but abridged. Why was it abridged? Because the Democrats knew that the Negro was and is largely Republican and it is to their advantage to keep the Negro from voting.

If the Negro is largely Republican and has proven himself to be loyal to that party for sixty years and that party has been in power almost continually for sixty years, why has not the fifteenth arendment been enforced before this hour? There the Republicans take down their Bible and quote Apostle Paul which reads, "If eating meat will offend by brother I will eat meat no more." But if you help me win this election I will see to it that you get to eat at the pie counter now and promise you that we will see that you get every right given you under the constitution. This the Negro has been doing for lo, these many years and finds himself practically disfranchised. Now the Democrats do not intend that Negroes shall vote in Oklahoma if they can keep them from it. In fact, they mean to stay in power by crushing the political life out of the Negro. They care not for constitutional amendments. They care not for what Thomas Jefferson stood for. When you hear one preaching about Jefferson, just mark it down "tommyrot," for Thomas Jefferson never practiced any politics any kin to this junk being handed out in Oklahoma. Thomas Jefferson never attempted to rise by keeping anybody down. Booker Washington well said that you cannot keep a man down unless you stay down. The south is in the background today because they have spent too much time trying to keep the Negro down. Give every man a chance alike in this big world and nobody will have room to complain. There remains but one thing for the Negro to do in this state and that is to fight it out as they did the grandfather clause and settle once for always the question of Negro citizenship in Oklahoma. This they are going to do.

OKMULGEE NEWS

Since the freeing of Jody Adkinson, who was accused of committing an assault on a white woman last Friday night, Oct. 8, which caused all but a serious race riot, feeling between the races in our city is at normal.

The Colored people of the city and county are interesting themselves in politics. Mrs. J. B. Key and Mrs. Dr. Jno. White are making a house to house canvass to the end that every man and woman of the city get registered. Our women are eager for the ballot. Lawyers D. J. Wallace and Nelson Z. Hays have succeeded in organizing the county into a Harding and Coolidge club. The Democratic registrars have resorted to the same old game of hiding to keep from registering qualified voters.

The Rally at the Mt. Olive Presbyterian Church, Sunday, Oct. 2nd, was quite a success. Nearly one thousand dollars collected. Dr. Kidd and members are jubilant over the success.

Dr. Anderson and congregation are planning the erection of a forty thousand dollar brick church edifice on E. 3rd Street. The Missionary rally at the C. M. E. Church will take place Sunday, Oct. 23. All churches are invited to be present. Service at the C. M. E. Church was interesting. The Epworth League continues to grow.

Miss Perry Bolding of Jacksonville, Texas, has accepted a position in the office of Attorney A. W. Whitfield on E. 5th Street. Bishop P. A. Wallace of Brooklyn, N. Y., A. M. E. Zion Church preached Monday night to an appreciative audience. The colored citizens of Okmulgee held a successful mass meeting at the 2nd Baptist Church, Friday evening. Mrs. Bailey, mother of Mrs. Haram Key, was buried Thursday evening. Mrs. M. Herring was on the sick list last week.

Mrs. C. C. Byrd is in Muskogee, visiting relatives. Mrs. C. Wallace has been out of the city visiting relatives at Ardmore. Mr. J. B. Key made a business trip to Oklahoma City. Mr. E. Sanders has returned from Houston, Texas, where he has been visiting friends and relatives. Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Wallace left Sunday for points in Missouri.

Mr. J. W. Isham has returned from Alexander, La., where he spent a month visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Sunda Horton of Alexander, La., is here visiting her mother, Mrs. Rose Isham. Mrs. Mary Simmons, formerly of this city, has located in Muskogee. Miss Bessie Isham, clerk at Wilson's News Stand, was in Muskogee Friday on business.

SHAWNEE

Lawyer Betts of Texas lectured at Pleasant Hill Baptist Church, Friday, Oct. 15, 1920. The people did not attend as they should, but those who were present reported an interesting lecture. Mr. Bob McClendon and wife had a candy stand at the Negro State Fair, Wewoka, Okla. The stand was decorated with different kinds of candy. The Wewoka people must not have been used to good clean candy, the way they crowded at that stand. Drs. E. B. Brooks, E. E. Ford, W. B. Richie motored to Wewoka, Friday, for the fair. Mr. G. W. Ford, wife and son also attended the fair Friday the train was crowded with our people going to the fair.

he would say to the black man in the dark ages of slavery, for two hundred and forty years—I think it was two hundred and forty-four years; let's say two hundred years when he was about forty-four years from freedom—he would say, now, you have been a slave for two hundred years and you are still a slave and you are not free—is that not proof you never will be free? That argument would be just as sound as Mr. Russell has said with reference to salvation of the world, because men have not been saved universally then, the whole thing is false and must be explained in some way, but the Bible says, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation and he that believeth shall be saved and he that believeth not shall be damned." Why say go and preach to everybody if only a few can be saved? Why do that? Why did Jesus make such an unreasonable proposition and put such a big job on his followers when it was not necessary—when God did not intend to do it?

We are told that the Bible does not mean what it says with reference to the Judgment. If you read the Tulsa Star and the Oklahoma Sun each week for some time now, you will see over the signature of my worthy opponent under the caption, "The End of the World Has Come"—(Laughter) "and men Now Living Will Never Die" and wants us to believe it. Now, this old Millennium Dawn has been popping up every once in a while since the first century. Somebody has come up with it every century and there has been a group of people who have been preaching it and Mr. Russell, the father of the International Bible Students' Association, said the end of the world was coming in 1874, but it didn't. (Laughter) And so he studied some more and he figured again, went back guessing at what Daniel meant by his times and so on, and he figured and figured and brought it down to October, 1914, that is certainly the time. After 1914 came and while there was no end, Mr. Russell had to make an explanation and so he said the world has ended, you just don't know it—(Applause) and he goes on to explain what is meant by the end of the world and his explanation does anything but coincide with Holy Writ. John 14:2,3, "I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also." Now, those are the words of Jesus—I am going, He said, and I am going for the purpose of preparing a place for you, and if I go and prepare that place, I will come back and get you. That is what Jesus said. The International Bible Students' Association says that is not so—it is not that way at all—Jesus don't know. Instead of going off and preparing a place for us and getting us and taking us to it, He is coming back here where we are and make this place Heaven and He is going to stay here one thousand years and all these bad folks, all these people who don't try to do right are going to be resurrected and given another chance and they are going to be resurrected just as slowly as Adam was when he was made and he was created and if they don't make good, if they sin, He will not punish them for it; He is too good to punish anybody; He will not punish them but He will cut them off, annihilate them and therefore they will be punished for what they have done because they will have no existence but, we are told in the Scriptures, Jesus is coming like he left. Acts 1:11—"Ye men of Gallilee! Why stand ye gazing up into Heaven? This same Jesus, which is taken up from you into Heaven, shall come in like manner as ye have seen him go into Heaven." Now, if He is coming back in like manner as He went away and is coming—the coming of Jesus is coincident with the end of the world, then why has not somebody seen Him if the end of the world is here—where is he hiding? We were told by the angel who consoled us when He left that He was coming back and He was going to come just like He went.

Now, friends, I want to just say this concluding word—I am told I have only two or three minutes and I want to say this; That is you adopt the teachings of Russellism you give every man license to kill if he wants to and debauch if he wants to; not only himself but then he can influence you—turn this world loose; passion upon passion, man without any regard for the welfare of his brother man. You turn the world loose in that condition of sinfulness and we can hardly imagine it because of the fact that we have the restraint that goes with the consciousness that we shall be somewhere in the next world in the body.

We are here to ask as my last word, what about the International Bible Students' Association? What about my good friend who has opposed me in this debate? I imagine as soon as you have heard the argument on both sides that the best you can say for it will be what the man said about the gobbler—he is a good gobbler but he has lost his strut. (Applause)

(And now at this time Rev. Johnson having concluded his part of the debate, the audience starts up and sing the song entitled, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." Afterwards proceedings are had:)

MR. HILL: The more I hear from the college men about the Bible, the more I am inclined to the belief that these seminaries should be wiped out of existence. (Applause) I mean that and no more; they mean all right but O, what a mess and muddle they have gotten the world into. (Applause) I have not time to take up and analyze all the points that my opponent attempted to make about his statement with reference to the man Christ Jesus shows that he has no knowledge whatever of philosophy of the ransom. The perfect body of the man Christ Jesus was given for the perfect man, Adam. My opponent does not know the difference between the humanity of Jesus Christ and Him as a spirit being. (Applause) My opponent knows nothing of the characteristic qualities of an angel and a spirit being. The Lord Jesus appeared to Abraham. One of the qualities of a Spirit Being is to take the human body when it is necessary and dematerialize. That was the condition of the Lord Jesus Christ after the resurrection; that perfect human body had to go; it does not go for one thousand days and it is not Jesus anymore. (Applause) That sacrifice could not have been made if the man Christ Jesus was not given up absolutely.

Now, I want to say here, the Lord had in mind these blind teachers at the very time. (Applause) and I will use the Lord's work. My opponent used Brother Russell's words but I will use the Lord's word—how the Lord speaks of them—(Applause, these who claim to be His watchmen, listen what the Lord says: "His watchmen are blind" I want to say this is Iiaiah 56th Chapter, 10th, 11th, and 12th verses. "His watchmen are blind; they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark (Applause) "Sleeping lying down, loving to slumber." "Ye, are greedy dogs" (Applause" which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand:" (Applause) "They all look to their own way" (Their denomination) "Everyone for his gain, from his quarter." (Applause) "Come ye, say they, and I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink;" (strong doctrine) "And to-morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant." I think you will agree with me when I say that all of this horde of two hundred thousand and better, preachers that claim to represent the Lord, and get the people in confusion, are all pretty good feeders. You don't have that "horde" on your hands if you are an International Bible Student but without going into these things, I want in conclusion to say there are many things I would like to say but will be a waste of time (interrupted by Mr. Smitherman)

MR. SMITHERMAN: (To Mr. Hill) You have thirty minutes.

MR. HILL: Just at this time, I wish to make what might be termed by some, an awful statement. I charge the Church Denominations are in league with the Devil; blind, and misrepresenting God's character and plan. This charge is made against the Denominations and not against individuals. We will now listen to both sides for a moment: God and the International Students on the one side and the Denominations on the other side. (Applause)

God tells us that the wages of sin is death; Romans 6:23; that disobedience to his law brings death; Genesis 2:17; that the soul that sinneth it shall die; Ezekiel 18:4; that when a person dies, he is unconscious, has no memory, cannot speak, breathe, think, cannot work, has no feelings and knows nothing. Ecclesiastes 9:5 6, 10; Psalms 6:5; 115:17; 104:29; 146:4; the International Bible Students are teaching the same thing. But, on the other hand, the Devil says ye shall not surely die, and that when man appears to die, he is then more alive than ever. The Church Denominations are teaching the same old lie.

God tells us that the literal earth abideth forever, Ecclesiastes 1;4; that He formed it to be inhabited, Isaiah 45:18; that he gave the earth to the children of men, Psalms 115:16. The International Bible Students are telling the people the same thing.

The Devil through his cunning and blinding influence is telling the people that the earth is to be burned up. The Denominations are touching the same old thing, that the earth is to be burned up.

God tells us that He will establish a Kingdom here upon this earth; that His Kingdom shall break in pieces and consume all the beastly kingdoms of the earth; that this Kingdom will stand forever, Daniel 2:44; that when His Kingdom is in operation, all the dead, both of the just and unjust, will bes resurrected, for the purpose of giving life everlasting to the just and giving the unjust an opportunity, thru obedience, to gain life—John 5: 28,29. The International Bible Students are teaching the same thing to those who will hear. (Applause)

The Devil, through his tact and cunning, is teaching the people of the world that God's Kingdom has long been established in the world and that it is the duty of every race or nation to protect with shot and shell their selfish interest against all other races or nations even to the sacrificing of millios of innocent lives; he further impresses the poor people that the resurrection of the dead is only for the purpose of heaping further damnation upon the condemned. The Denominations teach the same thing—that God's Kingdom has long been established and that the resurrection of the dead is only for the purpose of issuring to them their damnation.

In conclusion, I beg to say that I know many of you are consecrated to the Lord and are willing to give even life for what you believe to be right. But, you have been kept in ignorance of God's great plan of salvation because of false teachings. I trust that you may, from to-night, be able to decide what teachings you will listen to.

My opponent called attention to the fact that the world has not ended I want to say Pastor Russell told the world thirty some odd years before the great war that the world would begin to end in 1914, at that time and the world ended; the only trouble with my opponent is that it is just like it was when the Lord went away; He says in like manner when I go away, the same will I come back. There was not but a few saw him when He went away and there is only a few know that he is back.

He doesn't know what the "world" means from a Bible point of view. When Peter said in II Peter, third chapted, sixth verse, "Whereby the world that then was, being overflooded with water, perished." He did not mean the burning of the same earth as here but meant that order of things which existed sixteen hundred and fifty-six years from the creation of man to the flood; he spoke of the world to come. I want to say we are nearing the end of the present world but my opponent does not know it, now. I make this testimony before God and the angels, it is the truth. Pastor Russell told the truth when he said the world would end in 1914—can you not hear and see and hear the rumbling on all sides? In that connection this is all I will say.

I am glad to say, dear ones, that God's promise of establishing a Kingdom here upon earth is now in process of fulfillment. The old order is passing away preparatory to the establishing of the new. When this kingdom is fully established, then wrong doing will not be permitted. Then will come times of blessing and refreshing to all mankind. The cripple the lame and halt will be made well and strong; the eyes of the blind will be made to see and the deaf ears to hear, Isaiah 35. All the dead shall be resurrected; John 5:28, 30, and restitution of all things will progress until every one has enjoyed a full fair opportunity for the blessing of life, liberty and happiness. Acts 3:19,21. All who refused these proffered blessings will be destroyed. All who are willing to receive and obey the righteous laws of this kingdom will be restored to perfect manhood, and just here my opponent would impress you that God has not punished man enough when he punished him with death. It is because my opponent is ignorant of what life means; he knows nothing about life except this dying condition he sees around here. I will make you a simple illustration. If you had a little piece of stone you would throw it around but some one told you you would lose billions if you lost that, then you would put it away and take care of it and when man learns what life is and its value then, no greater punishment could come to man than to lose life. That is the punishment God gives to man. He says if you destroy, "The wages of sin is death." God will not change His law to eternal punishment or something else to suit the clergy. (Applause) God says death was a penalty and He tells you what death is and it does not make any difference what the hundreds or thousands of clergy may think, God says death is your penalty and that is what it will be and we dare not add more than what God said.

I want to say here too, if you would get some ideas of a perfect man, you take all the intelligence there is in the world, all the knowledge ofscience or art, music, history and what-not—put all that together in one individual and as great as that might be—and I want to say all the physical beauty, put it all in one individual and as great as that might be, I want to remind you that would only represent the remnant of a perfect man which has been in process of detorioration more than six thousand years. The time will come when men will order the temperature and climate just as he wants them. They were made to have dominion over earth, if God's promises are true and God's promises are true. These perfect ones are the ones, my dear friends, to whom the Lord will say, "Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world." The reconstruction of the world will continue for a thousand years during which time the earth will be made beautiful beyond description by a human tongue. Then Peace will prevail and all will be happy. There will be no more parting of loved ones. The people over the whole world, including the resurrected millions will gather in great multitudes to sing praises and do homage unto the Lord and Jehovah. The beautiful songs of praise will rise from earth to Heaven and the angels will catch the chorus and waft it back to earth until every creature in Heaven and in earth will be singing Glory Glory, Glory unto God and His Christ' worthy art. Thou to be praised Great and marvelous are thy works, Lord God Almighty, just and true are Thy ways, Thou King of Saints.

Dear friends, I want to remind you that the International Bible Students don't intend to teach you one thing but what the Lord tells you. We know the world is not going to listen now and we know what lessons the Lord is going to give them for not listening to this message.

By the Lord's grace, I say, seek peace, speak truth, seek a knowledge of God's great plan, be humble and teachable here and you will be led out of this great darkness that the unwise servants and teachers have led you into—God bless you. (Applause)

MR. SMITHERMAN: That closes the debate and of course it is left to you and it is for you to decide which you will take, the teachings of the International Bible Students or the teachings of the Church Denominations. It was not mentioned or agreed between the debaters that there would be any decision rendered except in the minds of the audience. That being true, the debate is now ended except for the benediction, which we will ask from Rev. Tucker.

REV. TUCKER: And now may the blessings from God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost rest and abide upon this congregation; bless the races of people that live together here in Tulsa: let peace and harmony abide with them on earth and in our kingdom—we ask this in Thy name, forever. Amen.

Boley Citizens To Fight Suferage Battle

Boley, Okla., Oct. 17.—A meeting of vital importance to the Negroes of Boley and all colored people of Oklahoma was held Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple under the auspices of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. During the days of registration—that is from Oct. 13 to Oct. 23—the Negroes of this and other precincts will present themselves for registration to the proper officer, if he can be found, and see will such officer be honest and fair enough to allow the tax-paying citizens of this community to register. Lawyer Barbour made no speech but simply told the people what they were up against and what to do. He was very frank in telling us that the prize was at the end and not at the start. Judge Sawner put pep into the people by telling them how he succeeded in his home county and the meeting he attended in Oklahoma City a few weeks ago. It was quite a treat to the citizens assembled to hear Judge Sawner recite the doings of that great meeting. Lawyer Peters gave some valuable information concerning registration and how he struggled to get a few citizens registered. How strange it seems in this day of civilization (if we can call this civilization) to say, "We must fight for the right and privilege to vote." Does not the constitution of this great nation guarantee to its citizens the right o vote? Yes, in words but not in deed. Why not? Because it has never been enforced but abridged. Why was it abridged? Because the Democrats knew that the Negro was and is largely Republican and it is to their advantage to keep the Negro from voting.

If the Negro is largely Republican and has proven himself to be loyal to that party for sixty years and that party has been in power almost continually for sixty years, why has not the fifteenth arendment been enforced before this hour? There the Republicans take down their Bible and quote Apostle Paul which reads, "If eating meat will offend by brother I will eat meat no more." But if you help me win this election I will see to it that you get to eat at the pie counter now and promise you that we will see that you get every right given you under the constitution. This the Negro has been doing for lo, these many years and finds himself practically disfranchised. Now the Democrats do not intend that Negroes shall vote in Oklahoma if they can keep them from it. In fact, they mean to stay in power by crushing the political life out of the Negro. They care not for constitutional amendments. They care not for what Thomas Jefferson stood for. When you hear one preaching about Jefferson, just mark it down "tommyrot," for Thomas Jefferson never practiced any politics any kin to this junk being handed out in Oklahoma. Thomas Jefferson never attempted to rise by keeping anybody down. Booker Washington well said that you cannot keep a man down unless you stay down. The south is in the background today because they have spent too much time trying to keep the Negro down. Give every man a chance alike in this big world and nobody will have room to complain. There remains but one thing for the Negro to do in this state and that is to fight it out as they did the grandfather clause and settle once for always the question of Negro citizenship in Oklahoma. This they are going to do.

OKMULGEE NEWS

Since the freeing of Jody Adkinson, who was accused of committing an assault on a white woman last Friday night, Oct. 8, which caused all but a serious race riot, feeling between the races in our city is at normal.

The Colored people of the city and county are interesting themselves in politics. Mrs. J. B. Key and Mrs. Dr. Jno. White are making a house to house canvass to the end that every man and woman of the city get registered. Our women are eager for the ballot. Lawyers D. J. Wallace and Nelson Z. Hays have succeeded in organizing the county into a Harding and Coolidge club. The Democratic registrars have resorted to the same old game of hiding to keep from registering qualified voters.

The Rally at the Mt. Olive Presbyterian Church, Sunday, Oct. 2nd, was quite a success. Nearly one thousand dollars collected. Dr. Kidd and members are jubilant over the success.

Dr. Anderson and congregation are planning the erection of a forty thousand dollar brick church edifice on E. 3rd Street. The Missionary rally at the C. M. E. Church will take place Sunday, Oct. 23. All churches are invited to be present. Service at the C. M. E. Church was interesting. The Epworth League continues to grow.

Miss Perry Bolding of Jacksonville, Texas, has accepted a position in the office of Attorney A. W. Whitfield on E. 5th Street. Bishop P. A. Wallace of Brooklyn, N. Y., A. M. E. Zion Church preached Monday night to an appreciative audience. The colored citizens of Okmulgee held a successful mass meeting at the 2nd Baptist Church, Friday evening. Mrs. Bailey, mother of Mrs. Haram Key, was buried Thursday evening. Mrs. M. Herring was on the sick list last week.

Mrs. C. C. Byrd is in Muskogee, visiting relatives. Mrs. C. Wallace has been out of the city visiting relatives at Ardmore. Mr. J. B. Key made a business trip to Oklahoma City. Mr. E. Sanders has returned from Houston, Texas, where he has been visiting friends and relatives. Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Wallace left Sunday for points in Missouri.

Mr. J. W. Isham has returned from Alexander, La., where he spent a month visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Sunda Horton of Alexander, La., is here visiting her mother, Mrs. Rose Isham. Mrs. Mary Simmons, formerly of this city, has located in Muskogee. Miss Bessie Isham, clerk at Wilson's News Stand, was in Muskogee Friday on business.

SHAWNEE

Lawyer Betts of Texas lectured at Pleasant Hill Baptist Church, Friday, Oct. 15, 1920. The people did not attend as they should, but those who were present reported an interesting lecture. Mr. Bob McClendon and wife had a candy stand at the Negro State Fair, Wewoka, Okla. The stand was decorated with different kinds of candy. The Wewoka people must not have been used to good clean candy, the way they crowded at that stand. Drs. E. B. Brooks, E. E. Ford, W. B. Richie motored to Wewoka, Friday, for the fair. Mr. G. W. Ford, wife and son also attended the fair Friday the train was crowded with our people going to the fair.

THE MISSION OF THE CHURCH DURING THE GOSPEL AGE

Before discussing the mission of the church, it might be well for us to state what is the Church and what class of persons constitutes the church. The word church means a called out class from among the people of the world—1st. Peter 2:9. The church is called out for the purpose of being drilled, polished and qualified for Judges during the Millennium on Judgment day—1st. Cor. 6:2-3.

Before anyone can become a member of this church or called out class one must be baptised into Christ's death; that is to say one must surrender to the Lord his will and all his earthly hopes, things and ambitions: yes, even life itself if he ever expects to live with the Lord.—Romans 6:3,5,8.

A mistakened idea has long prevailed concerning the mission of the Church. It is believed by many that the church should engage in all social, moral, religious and political reform movements, but such idea is absolutely wrong and contrary to scripture. The Church is a class called out for the purpose of being fitted and quailfied for Judges and teachers during the Millennium. While the church should and does greatly sympathize with the poor world in its efforts to reform its condition, she is to spend all of her time in preparing and making herself ready for this all important position which when gained she will be able to permanently reform the world. To illustrate the thought, suppose a certain person was selected and called out to be trained as a teacher of a very high position. You can readily see that while such person would be in sympathy with any good move in the way of helping the people, he could not give his time to such movements especially if the time was limited in which he was to prepare himself for this high position.

Now these man-made systems of churches regardless to the names by which they are called. The people of the world have been taught by thousands of false preachers that any band of persons (who meet together, singing and praying, collect money, pay a preacher and build a churchhouse,) is a church; but such thought is absolutely wrong for the reason that no one can become a member of the church that God recognizes unless he fully consecrates himself and agrees to do the will of God even unto death. The masses of the people have not only been mistaught as to what constitutes the Church but they have also been misled as to what is the Church's mission during the Gospel Age. It has been sounded from the house-top during the latter part of this Gospel Age by thousands of pinheaded, ignorant and unfaithful preachers, that the principal mission of the church is to go slumming for sinners, joining social, moral, religious and political societies and seek to reform the world along those lines. The people are also made to understand that no one could be a genuine Christian unless he was interested in some respect, with some of these reform movements. But such is a false idea of the Church's mission. While the church admires in many respects and sympathizes with those engaged in reform work, she, the Church, realizes that all the endeavors of man to reform the world will end in absolute failure and that whatever good is accomplished is but temporary at best. The Church fully understands that the world will never be truly reformed until all her members have finished their testings here below and passed beyond the vail. The members of the Church also know that they have been called out—1st. Peter 2:9—to qualify or get themselves ready for Judges during the Milliannium or Judgment day.—1st Cor. 6:2,3.

The value of these reform movements have been over exaggerated by the Clergy and many others who have desired to hide their damniable schemes of graft and trickery behind a little batch of pretended reform work; such as giving a poor man a good dinner one a year. Thanksgiving, for instance; giving and collecting money to build a home for wayward boys and girls and at the same time sustaining a condition which contribute largely to the cause of the poor man being hungry and the boys and girls going astray; such as poor prices for farm products, extortionate taxes, and high rents. There are other persons not prominentantly connected with any of these reform movements who have done and are doing more than many who are more conspicious. The Senator, Congressman, Newspaper man, Merchant, the fireman, the policeman, etc; who fearlessly advocates and stands up for what he believes to be right, even at the sacrifice of friends or life is contributing more to the social, moral, religious and political reformation of the world than the great majority of these pin-headed preachers.

The sending of missionaries to foreign countries has proven to be a sad mistake for the reason that the truth concerning God's plan of salvation was not sent with the missionaries. Since the Great War the Heathen is looking with great surprise upon the God of the so-called Christian Nations. They are declaring an utter disrespect for the religious teachings of a people whose God would sanction the killing of millions of innocent persons.

It is better that people near nothing about God and His plan of salvation, before the Millennium or Judgment day if they do not hear the truth. It is a fact well known that the person who has a lot of misunderstood scriptures in his head is harder to be taught the truth than one who claims to know nothing about the Bible.

Nowhere in the Scriptures are God's people directed to spend their time in efforts at morally reforming the world. Our Lord did not engage in this work, neither did the apostles, nor did they offer any suggestion to the effect the work of the Church should ever differ from the work which they performed and directed us to continue. On the contrary, they declare that we have the Apostles for examples of how we ought to walk. They declare that our Lord's course was in full, perfect harmony with the Divine will and plan, and that the Apostles faithfully followed his example. And we are exhorted to simply become co-workers together with God in his work, already instituted. Not to order or attempt to improve on them. There were Moralist and Moral reformers in our Lord's day; some along the line of abstinence, some along the line of ascetician, inculcating rigid self-denial in food, clothing, etc., as essential to a moral uplift of the people. There were also political reformers who sought the establishment of Republican Institutions in his day; and Social reformers, who sought to establish forms of communism. There were also dress reformers at that time, who advocated certain peculiar style of clothing, beneficial to health, morals and religious sancitity. Do we find that our Lord or his apostles ever associated with any of these, or that they ever in any word or act gave sanction or encouragement to any of these theories? No. Not once. If, then, the teaching example of our Lord and his Apostles are our criterion of the will of the Lord, the Church's commission is not to morality reform the world. But perhaps some one will say, times are changed from what they were, and the Church's work should change accordingly. We answer, that the Apostle Paul declares in so many words, "I have not shunned to declare unto you all the council of God." (Acts 20:27.) Whatsoever therefore is additional to that which was stated by the Apostle is not the council of God. And any council from any other quarter is not to be received by Christians, and is sure to be misleading. Again, the Apostle says to Timothy, respecting the word of God, "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." (2nd Timothy, 3:16-17) If therefore, it was God's design that the Church's mission should change at some future time, we should be able to find in the scripture some intimation of this kind and some authority for the change. And if we find no authority for the change in her mission we should make no change.

But some one inquires, did not our Lord especially go after the Publicans and Sinners and especially welcome them; and was not this an indication to us that the Church's work is to be largely amongst the lower, depraved class of mankind? We answer that the Publicans and Harlots were not made the subjects of special missionary efforts on the part of our Lord and his Apostles: It was when these classes came to his ministry, to his preaching, manifested interest therein and signs of repentance and reformation, that he received them cordially; he did not refuse to recognize them, as did the Pharasees. The record is not that he went on slumming missions, after the Publicans and Harlots, but he "Receiveth (Publicans and Harlots) Sinners," and that many of these lower classes heard him gladly. (Luke 15:2, Mark 12:37)

The chief mission of the church is toward herself. She is to lift up the light in the world, the true light—not with the expectation of enlightening the world, not with the thought that her feeble lamp shall scatter earth's night of sin and darkness of superstition; for that can be accomplished only by the coming of the morning, the Millennial morning, when the Son of Righteousness shall arise with healing in his wings. She holds up the light of the truth, the light of the Gospel, during this night, to attract some—"A peculiar people" Not to attract and gather all but "Even as many as the Lord our God shall call." (Acts 2:39) Her message respecting the Love of God and the salvation which is in Christ Jesus, as it rings out into the world, is not expected to awaken the world and lead the world to the Lord. No. She is merely bearing witness—a witness which will have to do also with a future knowledge and opportunity to be granted to the world during the Millinnium. She is instructed by the word of the Lord not to expect that any but a comparatively small number will appreciate her light or her message. As the Prophet foretold so she has found it. "Who hath believed our report? And to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?" (Isa. 53:1; John 12:38) As the scripture declares so She, the Church, finds it, that the vast majority of mankind are blind so that they cannot see the light. Some are stone blind, so as to see nothing, while others are partially blind and can get a little glimmer of it by which they can discern some things indictinctly. In hearing, likewise, the world's ears are dull of hearing—"Deaf say the Scripture. Some hear nothing, others hear very imperfectly, few hear the message of Divine Love and mercy clearly and distinctively. The Church is to realize that her mission is not to these the Blind and Deaf, but him, "That hath an ear (To hear) Let him hear." (Rev. 2:7;3:6, 13, 22)

It is another part of the Church's mission to care for those who do see the light which she holds up, and who are attracted by that light and who come unto the Lord. She is to teach and instruct such, and to introduce them to the full fellowship of the high calling by making clear to them, as the Lord's mouthpiece, "What is the hope of our calling," present and future—Now to suffer with Christ for righteousness sake, to cultivate his spirit, his disposition, to bear much fruit of the spirit in our own hearts and lives, and thus, under Divine supervision, to be fitted, polished and prepared for a place in the Glorious Temple of the future for a share in the Glorious work of the incoming age—The Blessing of the World. (1st Cor. 1:26; Eph. 1:18; 2nd Thes. 1: 11)

Anyone who knows anything at all about the Bible and God's plan of salvation knows that Jesus Christ became a man for the very purposes of laying down his human body for the redemption of the world. (1st Tim. 2:6; Heb. 16:4-5; 1st Cor. 15:21-22) They also should know that Jesus was raised from the dead a life giving spirit being and not resurrected a man of the earth earthy. (1st. Cor. 15:45) And no one with even sound reason could expect Christ to give his human body for the ransom of man and receive it back. Any one should reason that if he laid his human body down for man, he forever parts with the right to its possession,. To say that Christ should receive again the same body laid down to redeem man would be the same as saying that a person could pay one thousand dollars to redeem a pice of mortgaged property.

This piece is written for the purpose of explaining some points which time would not permit me to do during a debate between Rev. T. H. Johnson and my humble self on Sept. 28.

I must say that I do not know what I have been more surprised in any one man than I was in Rev. Johnson during my debate with him. He fully convinced me and many others that he knows absolutely nothing about God's Great plan of salvation; And worse of it all, he attempted to fool the people by quoting the 16th verse of the 16th Chapter of Mark, to prove that there is an eternity of punishment after death; when he knew as well that the 16th Chapter of Mark has only eight verses recognized as genuine, from the ninth through the twentieth is recognized by all Bible students as an iterpolation. To say that the School in which Rev. Johnson was educated for the ministry did not inform him concerning these interpolations in the Bible would be casting a too gross a reflection upon the institution. The only reasonable conclusion to reach is that Rev. Johnson being hard pushed for facts to maintain his false position of eternal torment attempted to stuff this false scripture down the throats of an intelligent audience such as winessed the debate. He possibly has been doing this for some time among the more simple minded persons and been getting by and perhaps thought that he could do the same thing during the debate.

This one act of attempting to get by with a known false statement should put all thoughtful persons on their guard concerning any statements Rev. Johnson should make concerning the Scriptures.

Personally, I think well of Rev. Johnson, but frankly speaking, he and all other preachers of the Church De nominations who know no more about the Bible than he does, should stop trying to preach and take lessons from some one better informed.

FREDERICK SPARKS

We are having much wet weather Many of the cotton pickers are coming back home. There is much cotton around Frederick this year but is standing in the fields in water.

Sunday was a rainy day but some few attended church and had an old time meeting. Our ex-pastor, Rev. H T. Bordens preached for us Sunday and Monday night. These were indeed great sermons and lively times were had.

TULLAHASSEE, OKLA.

Flipper-Key-Davis

We have been in session five weeks and have an enrollment of seventy-five students. All departments are in operation and every one is looking forward to a pleasant and profitable year of work. The literary societies have re-organized for the year and are giving us each Friday night, interesting and instructive programs.

The different sections of the state are well represented in the student body, quite a large percentage coming from Tulsa.

All departments sent exhibits to the Muskogee fair and although sharp competition was met, six first premiums and two seconds were received.

The religious department of the school is cared for by Rev. A. J. Patton, D .D., pastor, assisted by the religious societies organized by the students.

We have a flourishing Sunday school under the superintendency of Prof. H. A. Maxwell, Dean of the College Department, who is also instructor in modern languages. The musical department, the life and spirit of all educational institutions is well cared for by Mrs. Houston, formerly of New Orleans, La. Other members of the faculty are: the president Prof. J. I. Jones, Prof. J. Q. A. Kelly, Department of Mathematics; Miss Dorothy I. White, Commercial Department; Mrs. M. A. Dennis, Ancient Languages; Miss A. R. Johnson, Domestic Science and Art; Miss F. E. Nance Literature and History; Prof. J. J. Thurman, Agriculture.

Prof. R. B. Harrison, financial secretary of the University has been working zealously during the summer to secure funds for the school and, as a result of his untiring energy, assisted by the generous citizens of Muskogee and other cities, we have an electric plant in operation, furnishing light to dormitories, administration building and campus.

The M. K. & T. Rail Road, whose track intersects our grounds, has decided to build a spur track, by means of which freight will soon be delivered by the company on the school premises.

Many more good things are in store for us, concerning which you will be appraised from time to time.

The Commissioner of Education

October 4, 1920

Governor J. B. A. Robertson,
Governor of the State of Oklahoma,
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

My dear Governor Robertson:

I am now having made an investigation of the seventeen Negro Land Grant Colleges in the South. My representative, Dr. Walton C. John, Specialist in Land Grant College Statistics of this Bureau, in reporting to me regarding the conditions of the Colored Agricultural and Normal University at Langston, has made the following statements which I believe to be of great interest to you at this time.

The last time the institution was visited by my representative, the University was in a serious state of disorder. Dr. John informs me, however, that under the new administrative board and under President Marquess and his faculty, the institution has been put on a thoroughly sound basis both financially and educationally, and that the outlook for the University is very hopeful if properly supported by the State.

I am glad that I can give you this report and continue the good work of maintaining this institution in a state of such efficiency as will make it of the greatest value to the Negro citizens of the State in developing its wealth and prosperity.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed) P. P. Claxton,
Commissioner.

HOLDENVILLE, OKLA.

Miss Essie Mae King, one of the former students of Holdenville School was taken to Kansas City to the hospital to undergo an operation. She is said to be doing fine at present.

Mr. J. M. Anderson of Oklahoma City was in our city last week, working in the interest of the Woodmen's Lodge. A thrilling and exciting motion picture was shown last Thursday night at the A. M. E. Church, title, "America's Greatest Wild Animal Life by Mr. Chas Allmon, from St. Louis, Mo. The show was well attended and everybody seemed to enjoy it. Mrs. Hattie James' aunt, Mrs. Cooper from Pittsburg, Texas, spent a week with her. This being Mrs. Cooper's first visit to Oklahoma, she reports that she has spetn an enjoyable week in Holdenville and regrets that she had to leave so early, and her next visit in Oklahoma will be longer.

Miss Minnie Redd returned home Sunday night, after spending several days in Oklahoma City, visiting her auntie and other friends. Mr. Henry White who was called to Fort Smith Ark., a few days ago on account of the death of his brother, returned home Sunday evening. Mrs. Pansy Nelson and little daughter, Overa, left for Tulsa Saturday evening where they will make their future home.

BERWYN NEWS

We have had a rainy week. All work has stopped. Last Sunday, our regular meeting and rally day at Mt. Pleasant Church, was so disagreeable until we had no services. Our Pastor, Rev. B. E. Givens, was also absent. The political speaking at the Mt. Pleasant Church, last Tuesday night, was well attended. Mr. Eugene Mc Roy of Fulton, Ark., is visiting with his relatives, Mr. D. H. Hood and W. M. Roy. Mrs. Mary F. Elston has returned from Oklahoma City, where she has been attending the Baptist State Convention. Rev. E. D. W. John has returned from Oklahoma City, where he has been for several weeks. Mr. Conela Childs was called to the bedside of her grand-son, Mr. Charley Freeman, at Ardmore, Okla. At this writing he is doing very well. Mrs. Inez Elston had a very serious attack of heart trouble but is better now.

The Cotton crops are very short in this part of the country on account of the weevils. We are planning to start our public school very early this fall. We hope the parents will prepare and be ready to send their children.

MILLIONS NOW LIVING AND WALKING ABOUT UPON EARTH WILL NEVER GO INTO THE GRAVE.

I wish to say, dear readers, that because you see this same heading appearing in the paper from time to time, do not think for once that you will read the same thing in each issue. I am taking up various phases of the proofs that millions now living will never die.

"The day of vengence is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come." "It is the day of the Lord's vengence, and the year of recompence for the controversy of Zion." Isiah 63:4;34:8.

Christiandom is that part of human society organized in forms of Government claiming to be Christian particularly those Nations where Church and State join hands. The very center of Christiandom is Austria, Germany and Great Britian. Other Nations that are a part of Christiandom are Russia, Scandinavia, Italy, Spain, Belgium and France with the United States as kind of side show of Christiandom. Other Nations of earth claiming to be part of Christ's Kingdom constitute a part of Christiandom also. The word Christendom means Christ's Kingdom but used as related to the Nations of earth is misapplied. We well know that these Nations are not Christ's Kingdom for the reason that he stated; "My Kingdom is not of this world (This unrighteous order of things) but that when his kingdom is established the will of God will be done on earth as it is in Heaven. (John 18:3; Matt. 6:10.) In Christendom, there are of course, millions of good people who love the Lord, but Satan has so mixed error with truth, causing an alliance to be made between an apostate clergy and professional politicians and big business, that the whole thing is an abomination to the Lord. God permitted this condition of affairs to grow up and persist during the Gentile's time. When Zedekiah the last King of Iseral, was over thrown and the Gentile times by permission began, God foretold through the Prophet Ezekial that he would permit it thus to be until the time coming for Christ's Kingdom to be established, and with his coming the first thing to be done would be that, "The Nations would become angry and God's wrath is come;" that is to say, that the first work of the Messiah, with reference to Christendom and the Nations of the earth, would see the disintergration of the old order, the overthrowing of Satan's dominion to make way for the Kingdom of righteousness. Rev. 11:18.

Many of the Prophets spoke and wrote of that coming time. The Prophet Daniel described it as "a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation." (Daniel 12:1) Malachi mentions the same time, saying, "Behold the day cometh that shall burn as an over; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly shall be stubble." (Malachi 4:1). Another Prophet describes it as a day of clouds, trouble and thick darkness. (Joel 2:2) Another calls it a time of darkness, even very dark, and no brightness in it. (Amos 5:20.) The Lord Jesus himself mentions it as a time of such great tribulation that were it not shortened no flesh would be saved. (Matt. 24:21.) The time here mentioned is the time of Judgment upon the Nations, particularly upon Christendom. We must not confuse it with the day of the individual Judgment of the peoples of earth, during Messiah's reign. The Prophet makes clear that it is a time of Judgment on the Nations saying: "Come near, ye nations, to hear; and harken, ye people; let the earth hear, and all that is therein: the world, and all that is therein: the world, and all things that come forth of it. For the indignation of the Lord is upon all Nations, and his fury upon all their armies." "The Lord is an everlasting King: at his wrath the earth shall tremble and the Nations shall not be able to abide his indignation." "A noise shall come, even to the end of the earth; for the Lord has a controversy with the Nations. Thus saith the Lord of Host, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation and a great whirls wind (intense and complicated trouble and commotion) shall be raised up from the cost of the earth, and the slain of the Lord shall be at that day from one end of the earth even to the other end of the earth." "Wait ye upon me, saith the Lord, until the day that I raise up to the prey; for my determination is to gather the Nations that I may assemble the Kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger; for all the earth (the present social order) shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy; and then (afterward will I turn unto the people a pure language; that they may all call upon a name of the Lord, to serve him with one consent." Isiah 34:1, 2; Jer. 10:10; 25:31, 33; Zeph. 3:8, 9.

The Prophet Isiah, speaking as though he stood at the very present hour and beholding the incoming of Messiah's Kingdom with power and Glory, says, "Who is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? This that is Glorious in his appeal traveling in the greatness of his sternth." Isiah 53:1-6.

Edom was the name given to Esau the twin brother of Jacob, who sold his birth-right to Jacob and then persecuted Jacob. The name Edom is therefore an appropriate symbol of a class of people of the present order, of Christendom, who claim to be Christians but have sold their birth right. The birth right of the true Christian pictured by Jacob is the Heavenly prize, as the seed of Abraham according to the promise through which blessings will come to mankind. All who consecrated themselves to the Lord and were accepted by him were Divinely permissioned to tell the good tidings to others and bind up the broken hearted, and comfort those that mourn. (Isiah 61: 1-3) Particularly in modern times have we marked an apostate clergy who unite themselves in an alliance and boldly announce, "We have agreed to abandon the doctrines but unite in action," and have further allied themselves with professional politicians and big business, and have thus sold their birth right for a trifling consideration: namely, the honor and plaudits of men. These are the predominating ones in Christendom. These are the ones to which the word Edom applies. Like their prototype, Esau or Edom, who persecuted his brother Jacob, even so these persecute, imprison, and illtreat the anitypical Jacob class, the humble, faithful followers of Jesus. This Class, the Dominating element in Christendom has been greatly advantaged over the other peoples of the earth in enlightenment, education and temporal blessings. But little use have they made of these advantages which have come to them, and instead of teaching the common people the great Doctrines of the Bible which would cheer their hearts and dry their tears, they, the false teachers, have united to oppress the common people and keep them in bondage—paying high salaries to preachers and building expensive church houses, which works among other things to keep the poor people bound down and oppressed.

As all the land of Edom symbolized all of Christendom, so its capitol city, Bozrah, represented the church system, the chief element of Christendom that is the most reprehensible. In this picture the Prophet represents the Lord as a victorious warrior who makes a great slaughter in Edom, and especially in Bozrah, (Ecclesiasticism). In the church systems are both goats and sheep, figuratively speaking. The goats are those who pretend to be Christians and are not, where as the sheep are those who are consecrated, but are fearful to get away from the influences of the chief's of Bozrah, to wit, the preachers. The Prophet, beholding the victorious one at advancing with majesty and in power, inquires, "Wherefore are thou red in thine apparal, and thy garments like him that treadeth the wine-press?" This Mighty One, who is the Great Messiah, replys: "I have trodden the wine-press alone, and of the Nations there was none with me; and I trod them down in mine anger, and I trampled them in my fury; and their blood was sprinkled on my garment and all my rainment have I stained. For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeem is come." Isiah 63:1-4.

All through the Gospel Age the Lord has marked the controversy in nominad Zion—Christendom. He has observed how his faithful followers have been persecuted, imprisoned, and ill-treated, and how they at all times have had to contend for righteousness and to suffer at he hands of the Edom or Esau class. This persecution has endured to the fact that the true followers of Christ, the real friends of the common people and true witnesses of the Lord have spoken the truth, and Satan, the God of this world, blinding and thereby controlling the others of Christendom, has hated the true followers of the Master and has caused their persecution. For his own wise purposes the Lord has refrained from interfering until his due time; but God foreshadowed through his Prophet that the time would come when the Great Messiah would take a hand in the controversy. The reason for this he assigns through the Prophet, saying: "For the Lord hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth nor mercy, nor knowledge of God, in the land (Inter-Church World Movement and other organizations, disregarding the Doctrines and joining hands in actions—but not to teach the truth, according to their own statement.) By swearing, and lying, and killing and stealing and committing adultry they break out, and blood toucheth blood. Therefore shall the land mourn, and everyone that dwelleth therein shall languish." (Hosea 4:1-3) The Lord Jesus, in speaking to John the Revelator of the same class and the same time says: "For Nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fonication, and the Kings of the earth have committed fonication with her (Church systems) And the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies. And I heard another voice from Heaven saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sayings, and that ye receive not of her plagues. For her sins have reached unto Heaven and God shall hath remembered her iniquities. Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works; in the cup which she hath filled fill her double." (Rev. 18:3-6) In this text the Lord calls upon the truly consecrated in Christendom to separate themselves from the unfaithful Church Systems, that they (the truly consecrated) be not partakers of the Church System's plagues.

Thus the Prophet and the Lord Himself describes the climax of the troublesome times now upon the Nations of earth, particularly upon Christendom. Already a goodly portion of this trouble has transpired in the way of wars, famines, pestalence and revolution, which Jesus designated as only the beginning of sorrows." But there is yet more to follow, because the haughtiness of men must be brought low to prepare their hearts for the rule of righteousness. Jesus refers to the climax of this trouble upon Christendom in these words: "For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be and except those days should be shortened, there should be no flesh saved: But for the Elects sake these days shall be shortened. Matt. 24:21-22. What, then, is the significence of the present stress of Christendom that should attract the attention of every order loving person, particularly those who love the Lord? The answer is, the Great Messiah is exercising his Kingly authority and is visiting Jehovah's indignation upon Christendom, making ready for the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom of Righteousness, which Kingdom will be a Kingdom of blessing, comfort, and restitution of mankind to his original estate. (Acts 3: 19-21.)

Jesus plainly tells in the text quoted above, that much flesh shall be saved, not withstanding the trouble will be great: many will come through the trouble. The real joy that is to be gathered from this message, then, is this: That the present distress upon Christendom and upon the Nations of the earth is due to the fact that the world, the old social order of things, is passing away, and that the new social order of things is coming in, and that millions of people now living upon this earth will never die and go into the grave because the Messiah will offer to mankind the opportunities of life, liberty, and happiness, and those who accept upon the terms offered and obey his righteous rule, shall live forever upon the earth in a state of happiness, peace and joy.

I am glad to say that the time is near at hand when the whole world will come to know the true messengers of God from the false ones. It is certainly a pitable sight to note how many well-meaning people have been and are being led and kept in darkness concerning God's great Plan of Salvation by the horde of selfish and ignorant and God dishonoring persons going under the name of preachers and ambassadors for the Lord. The time is near and even at the door when the true hearted Christians will demand that all these false teachers leave these houses to never return and that they, the earnest-hearted, will ask the true messengers to come and give them the soul satisfying truth concerning the Great Plan of the Ages.

SHAWNEE, OKLA.

Every Negro woman in Shawnee cast her vote in today's election.

Mrs. Josephine Seward, 710 S. Bell Street, entertained in honor of her husband's birthday, Monday night, November 1. The house was elaborately decorated in Halloween decorations and lighted by Jack O' Lanterns. Games of the evening were whist and biting apples, swinging from the ceiling. Mrs. E. M. Holt was the lucky one to bite the apple. Refreshments were served at the witching hour, guest found their places by place cards at the table. Normandy salad, salted wafers and olives, Delmonica Ice Cream, served in small flower pots with a yellow chrysthemium in the center and madelines were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClendon, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Caesar, Dr. C. Ford, Mrs. Allie B. Robinson, Mrs. Francis Hudson, Miss Lula Saunders, Mrs. Eva M. Holt, Mrs. Vernita Price, Mrs. Willie Miller, Miss Bessie Strong, Miss Odessa EuDailey, Miss Rheta M. Harris.

The teachers of the High school are having a series of programs for each holiday. The first was given Friday night, Oct. 29, a Halloween dama, "Who was scared?" Under the supervision of Miss EuDailey, the girls played their parts well and the program was enjoyed by all.

The playgrounds of the High school are being improved. We have for the larger boys and girls, a tennis court and a basket ball court. The students are playing with much enthusiasm and will soon be ready to challenge other schools for a game.

FREDERICK SPARKS

Prof. Kirkpatrick and wife, teachers in the Boyd School, arrived a few days ago and are expecting to open school Monday, Nov. 1. We are proud of our teachers for the children seem to love them.

We should all respect the teachers and help them in every way we can. Sending our children to school is one of the ways to show how much we appreciate their efforts to help educate our youth. Every child should go to school.

MARIETTA, OKLA.

We don't seem to have anything more than the rain from the sky for the last few days. Tomorrow is election day and of course, we know who will win, "Harding."

The Sisters of the church gave a supper Friday night, but it rained them out.

Vernon McCain, Reporter.

HOLDENVILLE, OKLA.

Thursday night was a high time in Holdenville. The Dr. W. L. Haywood of Oklahoma City, was with us. We should be proud of him. We should foster his plans because he is a man of noble spirit and is able to deliver the goods in a common sense talk so that even a child may be able to understand. The hour having arrived for speaking, Dr. Haywood was introduced by Dr. Rickman. He delivered a grand lecture on Politics.

Mr. Clyde James, one of Holdenville's most progressive young men was married to Miss Grayson of Clear view, Okla. We wish for them a happy life. Mr. F. Despain returned home from Tulsa last Saturday.

There will be an o'possum supper at the hall Saturday. Come out and have a good time.

WATERLOO WANDERINGS

O YOU PRESIDENT
By Capp Jefferson

Harding has been elected
Just like we had expected—
Now away with this "League of Nations Stuff;"
This fighting o'er the seas
Some other folk to please.
The voters seemed to tnink they had enough.

Perhaps Cox's occupation
Was to discuss the League of Nations,
And he did not dare to leave a stone unturned.
But Oh God Bless your souls,
When they went up to the polls,
The "League of Nation's" idea was spurned.

You must admit this true,
That he put it up to you
To accept it or reject it as you pleased;
And by your vote you told
That your feet were getting cold
On fighting other's wars across the seas.

Now I was standing steady
And of course was ever ready
To answer to my Dear Old Country's call:
But when the armistice was signed,
I then and there resigned,
And put my shot gun back upon the wall.

Now this "High Cost of Living"
That the Democrats were giving,
Perhaps was no intention on their part
To rob the common people,
While prices kissed the steeple,
And thereby break the poor old farmer's heart.

But the time has come at last,
When we should forget the past
And the country's normal state again restore;
Though the price be cut in twain
While Harding holds the reins,
We will finally proceed just as before

Aftermath

You need not get offended
If the "League" is e'er amended.
You will have a chance to "spress your sober minds:"
Or if Harding's association,
With all the other nations
Will protect our country's interest—
Its the kind.

STRINGTOWN NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garrett lost their baby which died of Typhoid pneumonia, Oct. 19, 1920.

It is raining here every day and cotton is rottening in the fields. Most people are not half through picking.

Mrs. M. E. Manning who is in the hospital at Oklahoma City, has improved greatly.

On the sick list, Mrs. Octavia Phillips, Miss Arizona Garrett. We hope for them a speedy recovery.

Miss Rachel Watkins is visiting in Paden and Okmulgee for her health.

Mr. S. E. Hughes is rebuilding and making his grocery store larger.

BERWLN NEWS

Last Sunday was a rainy day. All church services were tied up. The C. M. E. of Berwyn were to have a big rally but owing to the weather, they could not have much success. Rev. R. B. Sneed, pastor, is doing great work and is using every effort to put his church over the top. The Calvary Baptist Church was expecting to have service but were rained out.

Mr. Martin Kemp departed this life October 29. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his loss. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.

The Court of Calantue is planning on having a literary program the first Sunday in November. They are expecting to have a nice time. All are cordially invited. Will be held at the C. M. E. Church. The entertainment given at Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church last Thursday night, was well attended. Amount raised, $43.44. We are expecting school to open very soon. We hope all parents will prepare and be ready to send the kiddies to school.

SHAWNEE, OKLA.

We were blessed with another rain and now having some real winter days in spite of the sunshine.

Miss E. Williams of Kansas, is spending a few days with Mrs. E. W. Shean, 618 S. Bell Street.

On account of a little rain falling Sunday night, there wasn't very much church service going on. Dunbar High School entertained with a Halloween program Friday night, Oct 29. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves especially those who were masked. The Saturday night following, a bunch both old and young, masked and had all kinds of fun while the boys did all the mischief they could think of doing. While in Shawnee, if you want anything cold to drink or anything hot to eat, call at the Cozy Cream Parlor on East Hayes. There's where you get snappy service. Little J. D. Lawson reports that he was cut off from home Saturday night by a live electric wire and by being very wise called his father over the telephone to come and get him.

THE NEGRO vs. UPWARD PATH
By Robert T. Kerlin

(By the Associated Negro Press)

The enlightened attention which the Negroes are directing to the the instruction of their children in literature, of their own race is one of the most commendable manifestations of their newly awakened race-consciousness. Within recent months there have appeared several noteworthy publications to provide the needful literature and suitable guidance and stimulus. The Brownie's book, a monthly magazine for Colored children, filled with pictures and poems from Colored writers, for and about Colored children, began January, 1920 (2 West 13th Street, New York. First Steps and Nursery Rhymes is a recent Colored child's book by an able Negro author of Chicago (Colored Child Books Publishing Company, 4700 State Street). The Up-Reach Magazine (4345 Vicennes Ave., Chicago) is a new school journal, the object of which is to encourage the study of Negro history, art and literature in the Colored schools. These new publications are born of a new spirit and new ambition. It is as the Colored people of our country were saying: "Let us acquaint our children with the achievements of our own Race, that their pride of race may be duly stimulated. Let us install into them our ideals and our spirit, that race consciousness may develop. Let us encourage our children to hope and aspire, by setting before them great examples of Negroes who succeeded." This motive is commendable, the principle is sound.

Before me is an anthology from Negro writers, with the title of The Upward Path, designed for a school reader.* The selections exhibit a good variety in form and matter and the back is well proportioned and tasteful. Fully half a hundred authors are represented, biographical notes of whom are appended. In spirit and substance, it is, else there were no excuse for its existence; but racial in no objectional sense. Not a selection, not a sentence, in the book has a suggestion that tends to array race against race or to stir up bitterness. The purpose of the book is manifestly to increase the Colored child's spiritual riches and minister to his growth in the virtues that are fundamental. The use of this book in Negro schools would greatly contribute to the development of that character in the Negro which we of the white race have so often expressed a desire to see. It is to be hoped that our state board of education will take this view of the matter and that they will place this reader in the hands of Colored school children, as a prescribed book. It would be an act of justice, as well as of grace, that would do much toward promoting inter-racial good-will.

MANUEL TRAINING HIGH SCHOOL

One of the most interesting games of the season was waged between Muskogee Manuel Training High School and the Washington High School of Tulsa. Tulsa put up a strong fight but the Muskogee boys had been too well trained by Coach Lewis to permit Tulsa to score. The score was 32 to 0 in Manual Training's favor. The next game will be played on Thanksgiving.

"THE SOONER TRAIL"

ALL THE NEWS FROM THE BLACK JACK HILLS AND VALES OF OKLAHOMA

Richard J. Hill's Weekly Articles

MILLIONS NOW LIVING AND WALKING ABOUT UPON EARTH WILL NEVER GO INTO THE GRAVE.

(Babylon or The Church System Must Go Down)

After the flood, the descendants of Noah journeyed to the Land of Shinar, and they said: "Go to, let us build us a city and a tower, whose top may reach unto Heaven; and let us make us a name lest we be scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth." (Gen. 11:4). At that time the people all spoke one language. They builded the tower, "And the Lord said, Behold, the people is one and they have all one language; and this they began to do; and now nothing will restrain from them, from which they have imagined to do, go to, let us go down, and therefore confound their language, that they may not understand one another's speech. So the Lord scattered them abroad from thence upon the face of all the earth; and they left off to build the city. Therefore is the name of it called Babel; Because the Lord did confound the language of all the earth." (Gen. 11:6, 9.) From the word Babel is derived the word Babylon. Originally Babylon meant to the people the gate-way to God. Subsequently it became a term meaning confusion.

Later the country of Babylon, under the Monarch Nebuchadnezzar, became a mighty empire. The capitol of the nation was named the city of Babylon It was the most magnificent city of the ancient world, situated upon either side of the river Euphrates, inclosed within a vast system of double walls from thirty to eighty five feet thick and from seventy-five to three hundred feet high. Builded upon these walls were low towers, facing each other, and in these walls were a hundred brazen gates, the gates corresponding to each street. The city was surrounded by a deep moat filled with water, which served as additional protection against attack. Inside the walls were splendid palaces. The city was not only noted for its wealth, but also for its moral degridation. It was given over to idolitry and iniquity. It was called "The Gold en City, the Glory of the Kingdoms and the beauty of the Chaldees." After the oing and successful reign of Nebuchadnezzar, his son, Belshazzar, succeeded him, who was a prafained and wicked ruler. Belshazzar succeeded him and his princess and associates together with prostitute women, were holding a feast in the city. While the Babylonians were drunk and oblivious to their intending danger, Cyrus had dug a ditch, turning the Euphrates out of its course, and then led the Persian army under the gates on the dry bed of the Euphrates and sacked the city; completely destroyed it.

The whole matter is recorded in Holy Writ for the purpose of teaching a lesson to those who should live at the close of the Gospel Age, where we now are. The Prophets Isiah, Jerirmiah, Daniel and the book of Revelations speak of Babylon, here degredation, her fall and destruction. The prophecies having been written after fall of literal Babylon manifestly refer to the antitype. In symbolic language a city represents an Ecclesiastic Government backed by civil power and influence.

To Christian people the organization of the Church System on earth originally meant the Gate-way to God. Some years after Christ, the ruler of Pagan Rome embraced Christianity evidently for political purposes. Ambitious and selfish men had succeeded to gain leadership in the church. The Church was legalized and became a system operated by Clergy and wealthy men, politicians for selfish purposes. In the Scriptures the true Church is represented by a pure virgin, while the Arpostate Church is pictured by an unchased woman. The Revelation of esus Christ is given to St. ohn clearly locates the antypical Babylon; "And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet color, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand, full of the abominations and filthiness of her fonication; and upon her head was a name written, MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS, AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH. And I saw the woman drunkened with the blood of the Saints, and with the blood of the Martyrs of Jesus; And when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration." (Rev. 17:4, 6.)

In the 15th Century, A. D., came the Reformation, which made strides towards the truth and righteousness, but soon the Adversay entered and organized a selfish system, and these protisant Systems have become the off-spring of the Mother Harlot, and the fact that the Revelator speaks of Mystic Babylon as the Mother of Harlots definitely leads to the conclusion that there are offsprings or daughters. In modern times there has been a great fallinw away from the truth. The preachers have forsaken the Ransomed Sacrifice in a large degree, and now in more recent month, comes the organization of the Inter-Church World Movement, which issure a manifesto stating: "We have agreed to disregard the Doctrines and join together in action," meaning thereby that they have forsaken the great truth taught by esus and the Apostles, and have united together for membership and money. In other words they have united with professional politicians, the rich, and the Mother Harlot for the very purpose of keeping the common poor people in ignorance and subjection.

As it was in the type, the people who originally built the tower of Babel regarded it as a gate-way to God and later when theid language became theconfused and all spoke a different language, it bore the significence of confusion; evn so it is today with the Great Church Systems. Millions of honest hearted people believed that the Church was the gate-way to God; but now they are becoming convinced that the whole matter is confusion and they do not know where to go. God fore-knew, of course, this great system of confusion, and fore-told it by his dealings with typical Babylon.

Cyrus was a type of Christ. His turning the River Euphrates out of its course and leaving the ancient city of Babylon dry and unprotected, fore-shadows how the Lord is turning honest hearted people, and only the honest hearted from the Church Systems and leaving her high and dry preparatory for destruction. For instance, the Inter-Church World Movement, started out with great flare of trumpets and the Proclamation that they would shortly raise $336.477,526. 54 with which to convert the world. They failed in getting this money altho big business and politicians were behind them in the outset. The people are becoming more wise to the dishonest and insincere schemes and aer turning away from the Inter-Church World Movement and all of the Systems of Babylon. Truly the Lord has written concerning her, "Thou are weighed in the balance and are found wanting." Daniel 5:27. The Unrighteous Systems, Babylon, both Catholics and Prestestants if the offspring of Satan, organized by him to carry out his scheme of deceiving and keeping in subjection, the common people. The Apostle Paul referring to the same thing, and applying his words at the end of the world, where we now are, said: "Then shall that wicked one be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth and shall destroy with the brightness of his presence." (2nd Thes. 2:8.) The more information the people have concerning the falsity of these Church Systems the sooner will they turn away from them and seek information concerning the Lord's word. God fore-knew and fore-told the doom and destruction of these unrighteous systems, saying;

"The doom of Babylon which Isiah saw—Lift ye up a standard upon the high mountains (Kingdom) Raise high your voice unto them, motion with the hands that they may enter in to the gates of the princess. I have commanded my sanctied. I have also called my mighty ones for my anger; even them that rejoice in my highness. They come from afar country; From the end of Heaven, even the Lord and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land. There is a noise of tumult upon the mountains, like as of a great people; A tumultous noice of the nations gathered together; The Lord of Host mustereth the host of battle. Wail ye; for the day of Jehovah is at hand; it shall come as a destruction from the Almighty therefore that all hands shall become weak and every mortal's heart shall melt and shall have throes; as a woman that travaileth; they shall wonder every man as his neighbor, red-like flames shall their faces glow. Behold, the day of Jehovah cometh, direful with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land desolate and he shall destroy the sinners there of out of it. For the stars of Heaven and the constilations thereof shall not give their light; the sun shall be dark in his going forth, and the moon shall not shed abroad her light. And I will visit on the world its evil and on the wicked their iniquity; and I will cause the arrogency of the proud to cease, and the haughtiness of tyrants will I humble. I will make a man more precious than fine gold. Even a man then the golden wedge of Ophir. Therefore will I shake the Heavens and the earth shall be removed out of her place in the wrath of the Lord of Host, in the day of his fierce anger."—Isiah 13:1-13:

At this time the Church Systems, Catholics and Protestants, claim to be exceedingly rich and powerful, and are utterly indifferent to the teachings of Jesus and the Apostles, and have entirely forgotten the humidity of these faithful servants of the Lord. But in God's sight, they are exactly the object. Of them the Lord says: "Thou sayeth, Iam rich and increased with goods and have need of nothing, and knoweth not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind and naked." (Rev. 2:7).

Such being the solemn declaration against these unrighteous Systems Catholic and Protestants, those who have this knowledge should heed the warning from the Lord and flee out of her. "Thus saith the Lord, fill our the midst of Babylon, and deliver every man his soul; be not cut off in her iniquity; for this the time of the Lord's vengeance he will render unto her a recompense. Forsake her; for her judgment reaches unto Heaven and is lifted up even to the skies. My people, go ye out of the midst of her and deliver every man his soul from the fierce anger of the Lord." Jerr 51:1, 45. This command meant that all order-loving Christian people who love the Lord and who desire to please him and who come to a knowledge of Babion's or Church Systems, wickedness, will desire to separate themselves and will separate themselves from these evil systems, and seek the truth and follow it.

For the past two years, the Babylonious system in Germany, Austria, Hungary, Great Britian, Russia, Canada and the United States have been persecuting Christian people, who have refused to worship at her shrine and who have asked only to be permitted to teach the word as taught by Jesus and the Apostles and follow in the Master's foot steps. These persecuters have haled Christians into the courts and railroaded some of to prison without even giving them a trial. Particularly was this true in Germany and Austria and in Canada, where Christians were summarially dealt with and incarcerated without even an opportunity to be heard. In parts of the United States, officers acting under the suggestion of the preachers, framed up evidence and caused the conviction and imprisonment of innocent men and women. These matters were brought to the attention of the rulers of the land. The Lord had fore-told it should be thus, saying: "They shall deliver (some of) you up to councils (courts) and in the synagogues (church systems) ye shall be beaten, and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my name's sake for a testimony against them:" Mark 13:9.

It will be noted that the Lord gave utterance to these words in answer to the question as to what would be the proof of the end of theworld. He said that there shall bea world war, and famines, and pestilences, earth quakes (Revolutions) in various places, and then should come these persecutions by the Babylonish systems. We are now in that time; the doom of Babylon is sealed, her fall is impending and near at hand. When the Church systems are dashed to pieces by the sledge hammers of truth and the people are liberated from her bond ages and the greater light of the truth which is now due, shine in upon them and they fully realize that the old order of things are passing away because the world has ended, then they will realize that the time of blessings are here, and millions now living and walking about upon earth will never dies and go into the grave because Christ's kingdom will soon be inaugerated offering life, liberty and happiness to all who render themselves obedient to the terms of this Government which is now in process of establishment.

SHAWNEE NEWS

We are still having some cold sunshine days and everyone is looking forward to Thanksgiving which will soon be here. Look out, Turkey!

Mrs. Z. Stephens is visiting her mother in Chickasha, Oklahoma. We wish her a very pleasant trip. Mrs. M. Lawrence is spending the week end with her relatives in some parts of Oklahoma. For snappy service, go to the Cozy Cream Parlor. While in Shawnee, if you need a doctor, call on Drs. E. B. Brooks and C. E. Floyd.

CLEARVIEW NEWS

We are very glad to have with us, our ex-depot agent, Mr. H. L. Lagrone, who is now here in the interest of the Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Owing o the fact that the farmers of and around this community have a great quantity of cotton in the fields, our public school closed for two weeks. The weather has been so unfavorable, the parents and children could not pick cotton this week, so we are all glad to be in school again.

The school is progressing nicely under the management of Prof. E. W. Giddings. The attendance is good.

And still we grow. Work has been commenced on the erection of a Pump Station near the Clearview gin. This is the work of the King Wood Oil Company. Thus does Clearview upclimb another notch.

Dr. Hill, the president of the Baptist College of this city, and part of the faculty, together with wife, motored through the country to Boley to the County Teachers' Institute, on Saturday, Nov. 6. Mr. Earl, being a very experienced chauffeur, made the trip to Boley in one hour and fifteen minutes. While there, Prof. Hargrove and others prepared dinner at the City Cafe, where Mrs. Person and Mrs. White dined with them.

The meeting was reported very successful and all report a very enjoyable time.

WETUMKA NEWS

Wanted: A good Baptist preacher for the First Baptist Church of Wetumka. The colored school house was burned a few weeks ago but the term will be finished in one of the churches.

We are in need of some more first class citizens to help build up the town. Miss Lucile Brown of California and Mr. Clarence Brown of Salt Lake City are visiting in Wetumka.

CLAREMORE

The past week marked a new event in the history of the little city of Claremore. The Northeast Oklahoma Conference of the A. M. E. Church just closed the greatest session of hte history of the conference. The meeting was held in the Baptist Church owing to the fact that the A. M. E. Church was too small to seat the audience. The pastors, Rev. L. E. Nelson and Rev. C. B. Burton, together with their loyal people spared no pains in trying to make the conference a glowing success.

The meeting was presided over by the Dr. C. R. Tucker, acting Bishop in the absence of the Bishop Tyree. There seems to be a great spiritual and educational awakening now-a-days, and everyone is called upon to play their partin the religious arena.

The Rev. J. D. Provo, pastor of the Fairview Baptist Church, Oklahoma City, is a pleasant visitor in our city. He is seeking better health. We trust the long sort for, will be discovered by him.

Come to Claremore and get the health that God has prepared from the bowels of Mother Earth.

LANGSTON NEWS

The game of football between Langston and Tulsa was very interesting. Of course we won.

The score was 37 and 0.

Prayer meeting was led by Mr. T. Cox last Wednesday night. Eleven o'clock services were conducter last Sunday by Rev. Starks. The Junior and Senior Normals played a game of basket ball Monday evening, the Juniors winning with a score of 32 to 0.

President Marquess is spending a few days in the South on business. He will return soon,

PURCELL NEWS

Sunday school was well attended; also B. Y. P. U. in the evening was good and enjoyed by all.

The First Baptist Church of Purcell is preparing to have one of the finest Thanksgiving dinners eve rserved in this part of the state, and if you happen to be in Purcell on Thanksgiving day, eat your dinner with the good church sisters at the U. B. F. Hall.

Mrs. Joe Jefferson and sister, Miss Lillie Hankins, spent Sunday in Rosedale. Mr. Amos Daniels of Honey Grove, Texas, is in Purcell this week as the guest of his cousin, Mr. Fred Daniels. The Booker School which has been closed for the last two months, will open again on Monday, the 22nd of this month. Mrs. Hillburn, the intermediate teacher, is already in Purcell and Prof. G. A. Kenyon, the principal, will be in town some time this week.

Miss Alma Hill, of Rosedale, Okla., was a Purcell visitor Sunday. The Colored Vaudeville which was at the Rex Theatre, last week, was a great amusement and everyone who was fortunate enough to witness the performance declared it to be the best colored show that ever came in Purcell.

Theer are several Rosedale people in Purcell this week, attending the preliminary trial of Mr. George iFelds who is charged with the murder of Mr. Hilliard Jackson of that place.

Don't forget that Master James Readis still sells the Black Dispatch every Saturday morning.

LIMA, OKLA.

Mrs. Tyson and Mrs. Jefferson of Wewoka, were worshippers at First Baptist Church, Sunday. They were also attendants at Sunday school at the same church. The Tyson family contemplate making their home in Mexico in the near future. Luck to them.

Next week, 23rd inst, is the meeting of the Pace Congress at Oklahoma City. We learn that Messrs. G. V. Cross, W. S. Holland and W. B. Jones will attend.

Mr. Frank Posey left Sunday for Nashville, Tenn., where he will re-enter Roger Williams University. He is a splendid specimen of humanity and will make every moment count. Brace Jones, Jr., andhis sister, Gertha, will leave the last of this week and join him at Roger Williams.

The petition that was circulated some days ago in an attempt to make the school board undo what they had done, was in all probability a very crude pice of business. Every man ought to know his place.

There is much cotton standing in the fields about here. Farmers are not rushing much to get it and due to the exceedingly low price paid for the same.

Every office in Seminole County in the recent election changed it po-

BROOKSVILLE NEWS

Sunday was an unfavorable day for service in Brooksville, although services were good at the A. M. E. Church.

Mrs. Ramsey from Oklahoma City, is visiting the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Hulda Williams. Mr. Sayle's sister, from Oklahoma City, is here for a few day's visit.

Rev. W. I. Brown has a new Ford car and he is all smiles.

Rev. Brown returned Monday morning from Muskogee where he has been attending the annual conference. He reports a successful session.

Mr. Eddie Hicks is here from Mississippi to spend the winter with his uncle. Rev. Ervin from Shawnee, spent Sunday in Brooksville.

Those on the sick list this week are: Mrs. Hulda Williams, Mrs. Willie K. Kirk, Mrs. E. M. House, Mrs. Lizzie Tate. We pray for all a speedy recovery. Mr. Oscar Bolden is frequently seen driving his new Dodge.

CLAREMORE NEWS

Awake! Awake! O Zion! Put on thy strength; put on thy beautiful garment. For a long time the news agent of our little city has failed to put out the news of the community, but hear this week.

Everything is on the boom again. The weather is good, but cold. The churches are still spreading abroad her wings for the protection of the fallen. Services were good at the 1st Baptist Church, Sunday. Our pastor, Rev. C. B. Burton preached an able sermon. Rev. J. D. Provo filled the stand at night and many useful things were taught us from the sermon.

All is well at the little health resort.

HOLDENVILLE, OKLA.

Dr. W. T. Rickman, who was hurt very badly by being thrown from a horse last week is resting very well at present. He sustained a broken arm and a general shake-up. Miss Chaplain, from Oklahoma City, was here to see him Sunday.

Miss Josephine Mills was in our city on a short trip. Mrs. Ware and Childs of Wewoka were over to see Dr. Rickman Sunday.

Rev. Dixon, the new pastor of the A. M. E. Church, is here and has taken the circuit in control.

Miss M. E. Redd spent Sunday in Wetumka. Miss E. A. Godby went to Oklahoma City last Saturday to visit for a few days with Miss Pearl Ewing. Miss Godby was called to Holdenville last Wednesday night on account of her uncle, Dr. W. T. Rickman, being injured.

Our new pastor, Dr. J. W. Dixon, who formerly pastored at Oktaha, will preach at Bethel A. M. E. Church next Sunday, Nov. 21. Rev. Dixon comes highly recommended. We urge that you come out next Sunday and hear him. Our rally that we planned to have at the A. M. E. Church on the 5th Sunday in October was put off until the first Sunday in December. Each member is expected to pay his $5.00. For the Black Dispatch, see Master Arnold Young or phone 503. We hope that our good Editor will not cut our news short this week as he has done for the last three weeks.

DOTS FROM ALTUS

St. John was well blessed yesterday. Rev. Walker was at his post and preached a good sermon. We received a letter from Mrs. Still stating that she found her mother in a critical shape and that they are looking for her to die at any moment. The goat of the Odd Fellow and Masons is raising sand in Altus this fall. Our county is full of cotton pickers and by their actions, they intend to make Jackson County their home. Some of them are making and saving their money. The county judge is intending to attend the Race Congress at Oklahoma City on the 23rd.

RECEIP FOR CANNING SWEET POTATOES

Boil sweet potatoes until one-third done; dip in cold water and peel; pack in sterilized jars. To each quart of potatoes, add 1 teaspoon full of salt and 1 tablespoon full of thick sugar syrup. Put on sterilized rubbers and lids, partly fastening. Process 3 hours, then finish sealing and set away in cool place.

BERWYN NEWS

Sunday being pastoral day, the services were well attended. Rev. B. E. Givens, our pastor, preached a soul stirring sermon. He said mand good and encouraging things. Rev. Givens is a great preacher and has done a great work for us here. The C. M. E. Church carried out their rally on Sunday, Nov. 7. They had a great success under the pastorate of Rev. R. B. Sneed. Amount raised, $130. We will have to tip our hats to Rev. Sneed and his church for their glorious success. Thanksgiving day will be well celebrated at Mt. Pleasant Church. We are expecting to have a great dinner. Mrs. Flora Fobbs has been on the sick list several days also Mr. Thomas Hood. Last week was so cold until all work on the farm had to cease. Everybody is anxious to get into the fields.

(The Best Thing to Do Under Present Conditions

The Great World War that came in 1914 has increased the sorrows and sufferings of human kind. Then came a great shortage of food, and today actual famine exists in many parts of the earth, with a great shortage everywhere, and the cost of living mounting higher and higher. There followed the war and the famine a great pestilence, the Spanish Influenza, which took away millions of people from all parts of the earth, and now we are advised that the great pestilence of Typhus and Bubonic plague are ravaging other parts of the earth. Revolutions have caused the Dynastics of several nations to fall, and other revolutions are threatened elsewhere. The Nations are in distress, and the leaders and mighty men in perplexity. The financiers are perplexed and disturbed; likewise the business men, and the spirit of discontent daily grows worse; the masses of humanity clamoring for their rights, and the classes persisting in holding on for theirs. In fact, we are in the time described by Jesus when he said: "Upon the earth distress of Nations with perplexity; men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming upon the earth." (Luke 21:25-26.) All these things are evidences of the fact that the old world is ending and is now passing away, preparatory to the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom of Righteousness, and the time is at hand when those obeying righteousness shall have the opportunity to be restored to life-everlasting here upon the earth.

But before these blessings will come to man the firery trouble must burn itself out. The Prophet of the Lord described the final climax in these words: "For he (the Lord) commanded and raiseth a stormy wind (great trouble) which lifteth up the waves (the people) thereof. They mount up to Heaven, they go down to the depths their soul is melted because of trouble They reel to and fro, and stager like a drunken man, and are at their wits end. Then they cry unto the Lord in unto their desired Heaven."—Psalms 107:25:30. But many persons seeing this approaching climax may inquire what must we do now? Shall we give away our land and abandon it? Our answer is, no; that would be foolishness and would serve to no good purpose, probably the one who got it would make less use of it than you. If we be in business, or manufacturers, shall we attempt to gouge the people and make all the money we can quickly, to save it for this troublesome time? If we own houses, shall we put the rent as high as we can and get some money while it is easy to get? Our answer to this would be no. Money or wealth accumalated under such circumstances would be of no value. He that oppresses the poor will not be in an attitude to receive the favor of the Lord. There is a promise made to those who will deal fairly and honestly with the poor. It reads: "Blessed is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble. The Lord will preserve him, and keep him alive; and he shall be blessed upon the earth (not in Heaven): and thou wilt not delived him unto the will of his enemies."—Ps. 41: 1-2. Following the scirp SEly5dhoe?st 1-2. Following the scriptural advice then, instead of grinding the poor, or oppressing them, the proper attitude would be to pay reasonable wage or a share in the profits, or else not hire anyone to labor for you. If you have a large amount of property, more than you need, and have an opportunity to aid somebody else, then it would be your privilege to alleviate the sufferings of others who are unable to help themselves, and especially help them to get a knowledge of God's wonderful plan of Salvation. Another will ask, shall I abandon business altogether, quit doing anything, and just wait until the Lord's Kingdom is established? Our answer would be no; If you are gifted in talents along one line, pursue that line in an honest way, doing as much good as possible to your neighbor, and to your fellow countryman.

The great trouble with the world today is that it is running on a depraved basis of selfishness and in utter disregard of the liberties of others. If all classes dealth honestly and fairly there would be no trouble indeed. If the preachers would teach the people the truth: if the financiers and business men would be content with a reasonable profit, and deal honestly with all with whom they deal; and if the professional politician would seek the welfare of the people, and not his own interest, the troublesome times would pass away.

Another person may ask, well, if I be a laboring man, shall I make as much trouble as possible for my employer, shall I agitate, advocate violence against the classes? We answer no. There is no promise of blessings to anyone who takes this position. There will be plenty who will pursue violence. But these are not the ones to whom the Lord makes a special promise. Seeing that we are in the time of distress upon the Nations and peoples of the earth, the proper attitude for all order-loving people who desire peace and prosperity, can be ascertained only by going to the Lord's word. The very purpose of God permitting the truth to come to some is that they may develop the spirit of a sound mind and be a stablizing influence amongst the people, and to help those who really cannot help themselves. To the one who sees by the eye of faith the meaning of the present distress, and others to follow, the Lord says through the Prophet: "Before the decreed bring forth; before the day pass as the chaff; before the fierce anger of the Lord come upon you; before the day of the Lord's anger come upon us; seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought this judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness; it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger." (Zephaniah 2:2, 3) Those heeding the scriptural admonition will strive to avoid controversity, trouble. They will dilligent ly try to do good and not evil. They will refrain from acts of oppression. They will strive to deal honestly with their neighbors and with all men in general, and they will seek to have a better understanding of this time of trouble, and to learn what it really means, why the Lord has permitted it to come, and what shall follow thereafter.

Those dilligently thus seeking to do the right thing have the promise that they may be hid and carried over through this great time of trouble. They may be of the class described by the Lord's Prophet when he said: "I will bring them through the fire (trouble) and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried. They shall call upon my name and I will hear them; I will say, it is my people: And they shall say, the Lord is my God."—Zechariah 13:9. Those who are thus brought through this troublesome time and who witness the full establishment of Messiah's Kingdom will be among those first to receive the blessings that the Kingdom will bring; and when these blessings are thus offered (and they must be shortly offered) those who receive and obey the teachings of the Lord will gradually be restored to health of body and mind, to peace and happiness, and be granted life-everlasting on earth forever. These are they who, living and believing on the Lord Jesus Christ as their Redeemer, shall never die. It is quite evident that the Lord is now permitting this good news to come to certain good people of the earth to prepare them for the glorious Kingdom and the blessings incident there to which is at hand.

"Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ." (1st Peter 13.) The one who now comes to a knowledge of God's Plan, who sees that Jesus is the Great Ransomer of mankind, and who earnestly seeks to know and to do the Lord's will, may truthfully look forward with great joy to the early establishment of the Great Kingdom for which the Prophets hoped and prayed, and of which the Psalmist sang, and through which God has promised a blessing to all the families of the earth. Not only should every order loving Christian man and woman assume and persue the right attitude toward his fellow-creatures, but all to the extent of their knowledge and ability of the coming and establishment of the Kingdom of peace and righteousness, should tell the message of good news to others, that their hearts also might be comforted.

The Inter-Church World Movement has willingly and voluntary( abandoned the doctrines and invited the people to feed upon the huskc; but let every one who has a Bible seek the doctrines theerin contained, that his heart may be made glad. Let each one who possesses THE STUDIES IN THE SCRIPTURES written by that wise and faithful servant of the Lord, Pastor Russell, get them down and use them in the study of their Bible. Not only will they be made glad, but they will be better qualified to bind up others who are broken hearted and comfort those who desire comfort.

What shall be our attitude towards those who revile and persecute us as Christians? Every Christian has agreed to follow in the foot-steps of Jesus, and the answer to this question may be found in the words of the Apostle, relating to Jesus acted when reviled and persecuted. It is written: "He did no sin neither was guile found in his mouth: who when he was reviled, reviled not again: When he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself to him that judges righteously.—1st Peter 2:22, 23.

But didn't Jesus accuse certain ones of defiling the Temple of the Lord, and did he not rebuke them severely? We answer, Jesus found in the Temple those who were making it a house of merchandise, and he said to them, "It is written, My House shall be called a house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of thieves." (Matt. 21:13.) He told in plain language those who were defiling the house of the Lord of their wrong but did not do this because they were persecuting him, but that they might know the truth. On another occasion he said: "But woe unto you Scribes and Pharisees, Hypocrites! For ye shut up the Kingdom of Heaven against men, for ye neither go yourselves neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in. Woe unto you Scribes and Pharisees. (The Scribes and Pharisees here mentioned were the preachers of that day). Hypocrites! For ye devour widow's houses (over-tax them with church dues) And for a pretense make long prayers: Therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation. Woe unto you, Scribes and Pharisees, Hypocrites! For ye——sea and land to make one proselite, and when he is made, ye make him two-fold more the Child of Hell than yourselves. Woe unto you blind eyes, which say, whomsoever shall swear by the Temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the Temple, he is a debtor! Ye fools and blind: For whether is greater, the gold, or the Temple that sanctifieth the gold?" Matt. 23:13-17. The men whom he was addressing here were the preacher class of that time, who claimed to represent the Lord Jehovah and he rebuked them because of their unfaithfulness to the Lord Jehovah.

Our business as true Christians and followers of Jesus, is to plainly tell the truth, to call attention to the fact that he grea distress upon the world in the nature of wars, famines, pestelence and revolutions, etc., is in fullfilment of Divine Prophecy and has come as the Lord foretold, and constitutes an evidence that we have reached the end of the world. Then Jesus said, concerning those who know the fact, that they must preach the Gospel ofthe Kingdom unto all Christiandom, and then the end shall come. (Matt. 24:7-14). The proper attitude then for us to take during these times of trouble is, in calmness and quietness to tell the people what is the meaning of the distress upon the earth, pointing to the fact that the old order is passing away, that the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand, that soon the Lord's Kingdom will be in full operation, and then the opportunity will be granted to all mankind to receive and enjoy the blessings of life, liberty and happiness; that this being so near at hand (The Resurrection of the dead should begin the later part of 1925) everyone should take heed to the meaning of these events which are now taking place and prepare themselves for the incoming Kingdom of Righteousness which shall bless the human race. Back of all our actions the motive should be love—a sincere desire to do good unto our fellow creatures and to glorify the name of our God and of Our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

In conclusion, Dear Friends, I remind you in the words of the Prophet of old, "Seek righteousness, seek meekness; it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger."—Zehaniah 2:3.

Hester is an able preacher. We are asking all to come out to hear him. Mr. J. W. Wert was appointed as delegate to the Inter-racial Conference which convened in Oklahoma City, November 23.

LANGSTON, NEWS

All spectations as to the State championship merged into a reality, Saturday, November 20, when Okmulgee and Langston left the gridiron, Langston carrying the big end of the score. The season ends with Langston having a percentage of 1000. Her goal line has been crossed once this season, and it was the fighting eleven of Nowata, coached by Mr. J. O. Spencer who found themselves equal to the task.

Okmulgee came to win, for the team was made up of the pick, in weight and skill of that city. The game was the harvest of the season for Langston, and the Okmulgee boys played, but in the crisis they were unable to deliver the punch. When on Langston's 3 yard line and four downs in the pocket, they were unable to score. Langston has beaten every team in the championship race with the exception of Muskogee, and the challenge to Muskogee was ignored. Thanks to owata for making Langston's superiority over Muskogee unquestionable. Coach Kelly and Trainer Buford are already making plans for 1921.

The season ends with:

Langston 38; Guthrie 0; Langston, 14; Nowata 7; Langston 37, Tulsa 0; Langston 7, Okmulgee 0. Langston, total 96; Opponents 7.

NOWATA HIGH, COLORED CHAMPS

Nowata, Okla., Nov. 20.—(Special to Black Dispatch)—Lincoln High's Foot Ball Team journeyed to Tulsa Friday to play the Washington High School etam of that city for the indisputable clai mas champions of colored high schools of Oklahoma.

The game was largely attended, the erbeing probably a thousand people in attendance. It was a battle fro mstart to finish, featured by spectacular end runs, heavy line smashing, brilliant forward passing, delayed passed and well executed fake plays.

Lincoln was first to score when good runs by King, Lett, Newton and Harris placed the ball on Tulsa's ten yard line. Big Fay was then sent against the line for a five yard gain. Again he was sent against the line but fumbled. Claggett recovered the ball for Lincoln and pushed across for the touchdown. King kicked goal. Tulsa then took a brace and in the second quarter managed to get a touchdown by good line plunging and a well performed criss-crosses. Bennie Williams was Tulsa's best ground gainer. Afte rthe second quarter the game resolved itself into a grueling contest. Nawata had the ball withing twenty yards of Tulsa's goal during all the last half, but Tulsa invariably held at very critical moments. Harris and Riley made some brilliant runs. They with Newton and Lett, got away with some of the most spectacular forward passes ever seen in a colored game. Gipson at center and Boudinot and Glass as tackles played an aggressive and fighting game. Meigs and Claggett as guards were always found ready to hold the line when holding was at a premium. Alwell at quarter ran the team in a manner that brought much favorable comment. The final score was Nowata 7, Tulsa 6.

PAULS VALLEY, OKLA.

WHICH ROAD ARE YOU TRAVELING; THE BROAD WAY OR THE NARROW WAY?

"Wide is the gate of distruction, and broad the way leading thither; and many are they who enter through it. How narrow is the gate of life! How difficult the way leading thither! And how few are they who find it." (Matt. 7:13-14, Diaglott.

The great Master here mentioned two ways or courses that man take—one, the broadway leading to distruction, and the other, a narraw gate leading to life. For many centuries the preachers of the Church Denominations have taught the people the broad leads to a lake of fire and brimstone, where the poor creatures roast, and stew, and bake forever and ever; And that the narrow way means to get into some Denominational System and escape such a place. They certainly have been and are a fine bunch of poor blind guides, and all who follow their teachings are sure to reach the place mentioned in Matt. 15-14;—tumble into the ditch of sore disappointment.

The broadway to distruction open up at the time Adam was driven from the Garden of Eden. Because of his sin he was condemned to death and all of his off-spring came under his condemnation. All of these have been going down to distruction—not eternal torture. For more than six thousand years they have been going to the Bible hell, the grave, the tomb, the place of distruction. (Psalms 90:3; 146:4; Ecc. 9:5, 10). This way leading to distruction was the only way for man to go from the creation of Adam until Christ Jesus came, and the vast multitudes who have not known and accepted Christ since he has come, have all likewise gone that same way but this does not mean that they shall return again. The great mass of mankind have gone that way, ignorant of the fact that any provision has been made for their salvation and return. God plainly promised to redeem man, that is to say, purchase him, from the grave, the tomb, the Bible hell, and to destroy death. "I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death." (Hosea 13: 14) His provision for accomplishing this was through the merit of Jesus' sacrifice. When Jesus came, He brought to light the fact that God has a plan for rescuing men from the great broadway of distruction and bringing them to life; that's that the outworking of this plan He will grant to some the blessings of immortality, and the one who attain this great prize of immortality are the ones who enter the narrow way of life described by the Master. (1st. Tim. 2:10) The great mass of mankind is yet ignorant of this provision for life. Their ignorance is due to the prevelence of sin, the influence of the advosary through ignorant teachers, and to the fact that it is not yet due time that hey shall know. The due time, however, is near, even at the door. The greater light is now beginning to break and shine into the hearts of the people, and many are coming to a knowledge of the fact that millions now living and walking about upon the earth will never die and go into the grave.

God purposed before the foundation of the world to develop a new Creation, designation as the Royal Priesthood, or Holy people, peculiarly built up into Christ Jesus. (1st Peter 2:5-10). Jesus was the head or chief corner stone of this new arrangement. The value of his ransome sacrifice is used for their benefit during the Gospel Age. The narrow way opened means a way leading to Heaven, to membership into the body of Christ. The way is narrow and difficult, and few find it because few are willing to conform themselves to the terms. Any one who does so must follow in the footsteps of Jesus. Jesus, when on earth, was a perfect man, and as such was entitled to all the honors, glory, and praise that the peoples might bestow upon a perfect man. He could easily have had the whole human race at his feet, doing his biddings and been the most honored person in all the earth. But that was not the purpose of his coming here. "He came not to be ministered unto, but to minister," and to give his life as a purchase price for mankind, as a ransome. (Matt. 20:28) He denied himself of all these earthly honors and glory that a perfect man might have had. He denied himself pleasures that might come to a perfect human being, legitimately indeed for the perfect man. He surrendered his human will, making it entirely submissive to Jehovah's will. He endured Great con tridictions amongst sinners, great afflictions in order that he might learn to be a sympathetic High Priest to the poor human race, be their Redeemer and ultimately their uplifter and blesser.

During the Gospel Age, if one approached the Lord desiring to enter this narrow way leading to life and into Heaven itself, Jesus has said to him; "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me, for whosoever will save his life shalll oose it: and whosoever will loose his life for my sake shall find it. (Matt. 16:24) Jesus meant by these words that those who would enter this narrow way must deny themselves as He denied himself, must daily do the Father's will amidst a wicked and proversed Generation, and that he, who would sacrifice his earthly hope and earthly likes, because of his love for the Lord and righteousness, should find life on a higher plane, namely, the plane of Divine nature.

It is only the true Christian that follows in the footsteps of Jesus, who enters this narrow way and keeps it. Such Christians learn that there is a clear distinction between a Church member and a Christian. A Church member is one who unites himself with some earthly organization and conforms his life, in a measure at least, to the Church's rules and systems in order that he might have some respectability in the community in which he lives. A true Christian is one who having fully consecrated his life to do the will of God becomes zealous for good works, loves the Lord and loves the truth, and is willing to undergo trying circumstances and sufferings in order that he might have the Divine approval. The way is made narrow and difficult to keep in because it is a way of suffering. It is not popular to be a true Christian and never has been. Jesus was not popular amongst the leading classes in his time In his day the ruling classes consisted of these three: the King and his household, namely, the professional politicians of that time; the wealthy learned and influential ones, such as the Pharisees and Princesses, constituting the financial power; and the Priestly class, constituting the preach ers or Ecclesiastical element. The three formed an unholy alliance, and they persecuted the aster. They abused him; they called him a Devil; a liar; a blasphemer; a glutton; charg ed him with the crime of sedition and caused him to be put to death.

When Jesus said, "If any man will come after me he must deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." He meant that the true Christian would have simular experiences. He said the Disciple is not above his Master, and the servant not above his Lord. It is enough for the disciple that he be as his Master, and the servant as his Lord. If they have called the Master of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household? (Matt. 10:24, 25) Again, he spoke of the three classes above named as the world—those hav ing a spirit contrary to the Church. These find a counterpart in our present day. The Professional politicians big business, and the Ecclesiastical leaders, have joined together in an unholy alliance, and they persecute the humble followers of Jesus. Evidently Jesus had in mind such a class when he said: "If the world hate ye, ye know that it hated me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love its own; but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hated you. Remember the word that I said unto you, the servant is not greater than his Lord, if they have persecuted me thye will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also." (John 15:18, 20). Again, in referring to the events that would transpire at the end of the world where we are now, he said: "Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you; and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake:" And then added, "But He that shall endure to the end of the narrow way will be few and will be those who will endure faithfully hardships, trials, persecutions, because they love the Lord more than they love any earthly thing.

When the last one has entered into life through the straight and narrow way, and the Lord's Kingdom is established that his will shall be done in earth as it is in Heaven, then a great and mighty highway will be opened for the purpose of blessing the people and bringing back the millions that have gone down the great broadway of distruction. Of this the Prophet wrote: "And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those; the wayfaring men, tho fools shall not err therein." (Isiah 35:8). The highway referred to here means the Divine arrangement for the recovery of the Human race, based upon the great Ransom Sacrifice of Jesus of Nazereth. First the millions on earth, living when the Kingdom is established, shall be brought to a knowledge of the fact that the way leading to life, a way of holiness has now been opened, and it will be made so clear that at that time that the wayfaring man even tho, an ignorant preacher, shall be able to understand it. In truth and in fact, there will be no preacher going about then collecting enormous sums of money from the people and inveighling them to join their organizations, but such men will have to hunt an honest vocation and humble themselves like others and learn that the great essiah has taken unto himself His great power and is reigning.

The ninth verse of this Prophesy of the Lord says: "No lieing shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there but the redeemed shall walk there. A lion is a strong, vicious, ravenous beast, and in symbol illustrates the beastly manner in which affairs have been conducted by men. None such will be permitted when the highway of Holliness is opened. There will be no bloated bondholders, who will hammer up the Liberty Bonds when they want to sell them and hammer them down when they want to buy them. There will be no persons then who will be permitted to put the price of farm products down beneath a living price when they want to buy from the poor farmers and put it out of sight in price after they have squeezed it out of the poor farmers for practically nothing: there will be none who will be permitted to place exhorbitant rents upon their houses and force the poor people to pay that rent: there will be no profiteers who will dump the food into the sea in order to make the price of what is left remain high. The Great Master will permit nothing of this kind, but every one will be required to deal righteously with his neighbor because the Lord will be ruling all, and such rule will be a righteous one. "With righteousness shall he judge the poor and reprove with justice the meek of the earth; and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth (that is, teach them hte truth) and with the breath of his lips will he slay the wicked (that is to say, His truth will put to flight all the wicked systems and organizations). And righteousness shall be the girdle of his reign." (Isiah 11:4, 5.)

Surely the Inter-Church World Movement which includes the great system of Church Denominations, cannot say consistently that it is inviting people to the narrow way that leads to life; they deny such a high way of Holiness, because they deny restitution blessings. Therefore, according to their own conduct they must admit that they are going the broadway that leads to destruction, which is the truth. The blind guides are leading he blind followers, and they shall all go into the ditch. (Matt. 15:14.) What the people need is knowledge. There is indeed now a famine in the land for want of the knowledge of the truth, just as the Lord foretold it would be. (Amos 8: 11) The people are famishing for a knowledge of God's plan, and yet the Inter-Church World Readers say, we agree to ignore the Doctrines. We thank God for the highway of Holiness that shall soon be established, and for the abundance of truth that shall feed the poor, starved and hungry people! What the true Christian now in these church Denominations and Inter-Church World Movement should do is to heed the voice of the Lord: "Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins and receive not of her plagues." (Rev. 18:4.) Come out of these false systems before you go into the ditch of great disappointment with them. Not only come out yourself, but learn the Lord's Plan and teach it to others for their comfort and strength. Let them know that the Lord is now taking unto himself his great power, and restitutional blessings are at hand, and that millions now living on the earth will never die, if they avail themselves of the opportunity for everlasting life, liberty and happiness.

THE SPEECH OF D. J. WALLACE AT THE INTER-RACIAL CONGRESS TO THE "COMMITTEE ON FINDINGS," IN OKLAHOMA CITY

We, as delegates to this Congress have met here to discuss and consider some very grave and important subjects by the request or invitation of his Excellency, the Honorable Governor J. B. A. Robertson of the State of Oklahoma.

In response thereto we would say that we have not met for paraphrasing, displaying oratorical skill, making sham and compromising speeches, for these are but sounding brass and tinkling symbols when compared with the important matters we have before us.

The purpose of this meeting of the Socialogical Congress as we understand, is first to secure a better understanding and a more congenial and friendly relation between the white race and the Negro race of the great State of Oklahoma. In our judgment these are matters of very, very great importance and if we consider them righteously, in the right way, in the right spirit, with good judgment, laying aside our personal feelings, prejudice, passion and dislike, our sectarianism and partisanism and forgetting the wrongs of the past, looking forward to a better and brighter future for both races, trusting in the guiding hands of the Almighty, we will be able to accomplish a great good for the citizens of this StateState, regardless of race or color. It would be a nucleus of good seed planted that will bring forth an untold blessing and help to our State and to generations yet unborn.

In our judgment and belief we have commenced the consideration of these important matters in the proper way, in the right spirit and at the psychological time. We wish to pause right here and say without fear of contradiction, that all honors and praises are due to his xcellency Governor Robertson, Editor Roscoe Dunjee, Judge Keaton and all others who have taken the initiative in this matter and has been the means of causing this Congress to meet to consider these important questions for the special benefit and peace and happiness of both races now and for the future.

As delegates to this Congress we have great responsibilities resting upon us and important duties to perform. We are representing and speaking in behalf of over two million of people who inhabit the great State of Oklahoma. Therefore, we should be careful, honest, earnest, frank and considerate in all our doings and sayings in this Congress. We trust that each member of this Congress will forget, at least for the time being, his prejuidce, passion and dislike, and let us discuss and consider the stubborn facts as they are, with plain and unadulterated truth, in justness and fairness to both races.

We believe in the Fatherhood of God and Brotherhood of man, for out of one blood created he the whole human family, and that we are all American citizens and of one big conglomerated family, consisting of different racts which differ in color, habits, number, ideas, development, property, manners and socialty. There fore it is incompatible to have social equality between the two races and we, the Negro race, do not ask social equality with the white race, and in fact, we do not want it. We would be pleased however, to form our own sociality, unhampered, among our own race, but we do want all our political and God-given rights as American citizens.

Parents of individual families can secure good feelings, friendly relations, proper respect and trust, peace, co-operation among their children only by treating all the children right and fair, give them equal chances, equal protection, proper education, equal conveniences and comforts, impartial treatment and impartial punishment, without any discrimination, one in favor of the others. The same doctrine holds as true in a big political family as it does in the individual family. The inhabitants of the State of Oklahoma are one big political family whose parents are the legislature, judicial and executive departments of the State. Our parents of the big Oklahoma political family have done many great and good and commendable things for its children or inhabitants regardless of race or nationality. Right of protection of property, right of citizenship, self protection, education, public schools, institutions for the blind, the insane, the dumb, hospitals for the sick, training schools and penitentiaries for the criminals and thousands of other blessings or help we as the colored race receive through the instrumentality of the State, all of which we are very grateful for.

But, we regret to say that our big parents of the State of Oklahoma have discriminated against us in some things and have not been fair, right and just in the treatment in some of our rights as American citizens, which is largely the cause of the discontent, bad feeling and unfriendly relations and distrust that exists between the black race and the white race. When a nation or people suffer loss of rights and privileges, there is something wrong. It is the duty of every law abiding citizen to ascertain the cause and if a remedy is available to help apply it.

We wish to call your attention to the unfair and unjust treatment Negroes receive in some portions in the State of Oklahoma. FIRST:

We are disfranchised and not allowed to vote according to the way the law is administered in the State of Oklahoma. This election law should be so amended as to give every qualified voter a right and chance to vote in this State.

SECOND:

The Negro race is discriminated against in the railroad accomodation and transportation. We are huddled in one end of a coach which is very unsanitary, with not enough room, part of which is used by the railroad conductor and crew; we are prohibited from riding in chair cars and it is almost a criminal offense to ask for a pullman or sleeping car, though we pay the same price for our railroad transportation, without equal accomodation. The letter of the law says that the railroad shall provide equal accomodation for both races but the spirit of the law says there shall not be equal accomodation for the colored race. This separate railroad accomodation law ought to be amended so it would be a criminal offense for the railroad to discriminate against either race and the county attorney ought to be empowered to enforce the law.

THIRD:

In certain portions of the State the Colored race is discriminated against in the public schools. They do not get equal advantage of educational facilities as the white race. In the first class cities the colored school is designated as a separate school which have a duel control; that is, the town commissioners furnish the

THE EARTH IS THE HOME OF NATURAL MAN

"And God said, let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowls of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female, created he them. And God blessed them, and God said unto them be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it; And have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowls of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth."—Gen. 1:26-28.

The Divine right of Kings to rule the people of the earth, by force or otherwise, is a false doctrine. It had its origin with Satan and was promulgated by a blinded and selfish bunch of preachers. The Divine right of the clergy is likewise a false doctrine. It will be noticed by referring to the foregoing Scriptural text that God created man a perfect being, and endowed him with attributes of justice, wisdom, love and power, and gave him dominion over the things of the earth. This commission was not given to man to lord it over one another, but every one was to be equal. It was God's plan to fill the earth with a perfect, healthy and happy race of people. Had the first man, Adam, remained in harmony with the Divine Law, this dominion would never had passed from the human race.

Satan was ambitious for a dominion, so he begun to plan to have a dominion of his own by ursurping through fraud and deception, that which was given to man. (Isiah 14: 13, 14). Satan was in Eden with Adam and Eve and took advantage of the opportunity to steal from man his right to dominion over all things of the earth. (Ez. 28:13, 15.) Since then, he, the Devil, has organized various systems by which the people under his dominion are controlled. One of the things that he promulgated was the divine right of Kings to rule generally over the earth; and another was the Divine right of the Clergy to rule over the earth which he organized first in the Catholics, afterwards uniting the most of the Protestant Clergy, and with them formed an alliance between the Kings, or Professional ruling class, the financial strong one, and the preachers, for the further purpose of keeping the people in ignorance of their own rights and under his dominion.

Man has been for centuries endeavoring to establish a Righteous Government, Satan, at each step has thwarted this purpose.

It must follow from the above conclusions that if the power of Satan be destroyed, and man should be redeemed and uplifted from his present condition of sin, sickness, weakness, and death, that he would have fully restored to him the dominion of earth which God purposed for the foundation of the world. Happy is the man who finds clearly outlined in God's plan that this is the purpose of Jehovah. Satan has blinded men from this knowledge of God's plan for hundreds of years, lest this glorious good news should shine into their hearts and they might be released from his dominion. (2nd Cor. 4:3, 4.) Jesus, giving the revelation to St. John, states that Satan is to be restrained of his power, "That he should deceive the nations no more," and that this will take place at the second coming of our Lord and the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom. (Rev. 20:1-4.) The Apostle sets forth that when Messiah's Kingdom is established then, the wicked the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, (the message of truth) and shall destroy with the brightness of his presence." (2nd Thes. 2:8.) Then the Apostle makes clear that ultimately Christ will destroy Satan. (Heb. 2: 14.) With Satan destroyed, then what should we expect for mankind?

Man's original right, when perfect, was to have Life-everlasting in a state of happiness, on the earth, and to dwell in peace. By disobeying God's law he lost, not only the dominion of earth, but the right to life, liberty and happiness. Shall we reach the conclusion then, that God's original Plan will never be carried out? That He intended to do a thing which he is unable to do? We answer, no. God never fails in any of his purposes. He accomplishes that which He intends. "Thus saith the Lord, My word that goeth forth out of my mouth, it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that for which I please, and it shall prosper in the things whereunto I sent." (Isiah 55:11.) God's original purpose to give man dominion over the earth is definitely settled by the Scriptures. St. Paul in speaking of this original purpose, under inspiration wrote: "Thou hath put all tthings in subjection under His (man) feet. For in that He put all in subjection under him, He left nothing that is not put under him. But now we see not yet all things put under him." (Heb. 2:8.) The clear inference to be drawn from this statement is that God will yet put all things under subjection to man. Mark this does not say that he will put one class of men under subjection to another but the beast of the field, the fowls of the air, the fish of the sea, and all the earth itself shall be subject to man, and man shall enjoy it because it was made for that purpose.

Why then, if God is going to accomplish His purpose, did he permit Satan to get permission and dominion for a time? The answer is, first: He is permitting man to have a full and complete experience with the baneful effects of wrong doing and thus by experience to learn the lesson that only a rightful course will lead to happiness. Second: He has permitted Satan to demonstrate or show the depths of his wilful, dirty and wicked character so that all other creatures might learn by observation and avoid such course as the Devil has pursued. Third: During the experience of man with sin, God is making manifest his love by His Great Plan of redemption and the selection from amongst men those to be associated with Christ Jesus in his Glorious Kingdom. The chief part of the outworking of this Great Plan was and is the redemption and deliverance of man from sin and death. Because of Adam's disobedience, the whole race is born imperfect, all are sinners. (Romans 5:12.) And by the obedience of Christ Jesus unto death, the whole race shall be offered the opportunity of Life and blessings. (Romans 5:18.) Jesus was made a man in order that He, by His death might purchase the human race, giving His life a corresponding price, a ransom for all, which all must know in due time. (Heb. 2:9; 1st Tem. 2:3-6). The death of our Lord provided not only the purchase price but also all the rights incident to perfect life; namely, dominion over the earth, liberty and perfect happiness. Having purchased by His own rife blood, the human race, in due time He will take possession of His purchase, the human race, and restore to it that which was lost. (Ephe. 1:14.)

In speaking of His mission in coming to the earth and laying down His humanity for the benefit of man, Jesus uses a figure of speech, likening himself to bread which men eat to sustain life, He said: "I am the bread of Life. This is the bread which cometh down from Heaven, that a man may eat thereof and not die. I am the living bread which came down from Heaven; if any man eat of this bread he shall live forever; And the bread that I will give is my flesh (humanity) which I will give for the life of the world." (John 6:48-51). He laid down His humanity at the cross. When He arose from the dead, a Divine creature, He still possessed the right to the humanity, which He will give for the life of the whole world. During the time from His ascention into Heaven to the beginning of the blessing of mankind, He has been preparing a place for His Bride, the Church, and selecting these members out from among men and developing them. (John 14:1-4.) He promised to come again, and that His second coming would mark the end of Satan's dominion, the end of the old order of things and the establishment of His Kingdom of righteousness, during which time He will restore to man that which was lost by man's disobedience.

Specifically ask the question how it might be known as to when this time of great blessings would come to mankind. He answered that the end of the old order of things would be marked by the beginning of a world war, shortly followed by famine, and pestilence, and revolutions, and that these would be the beginnings of the end of the old order of things. (Matt. 24:7-14.) The evidence is clear and conclusive that we have reached that time when the old world, Satan's dominion, is falling, and is rapidly passing away. The Lord, by the brightness of the truth, is destroying his power. The people are becoming enlightened as to their rights and liberties. The great desire among the human race now for individual rights is due to the fact of the Lord's presence and the incoming of His Kingdom. Therefore the time is near at hand when the Lord will begin to restore to man that which he has lost.

Jehovah foreknowing the end from the beginning, made certain pictures and had them recorded in the Bible, to enable the devout student of his word to ascertain when the Kingdom of the Lord would be due to be established. One of these pictures or illustrations is the jubelee. When the Children of Israel entered the Land of Canaan, God commanded them to keep every seventh year as a Sabbath year and when they had kept seven of these periods, namely, a term of forty nine years, the fiftieth year should be known as a jubelee year. In that year the land should lie idle, and every man who had lost anything must have it restored to him. He commanded that this should be for seventy times. The Jews failed to keep the jubelee, so God caused them to go into captivity for seventy years, that the land might be permitted to enjoy its jubilees. This did not affect, however, the time mark up to seventy periods of fifty years each. The Children of Israel entered the Land of Canaan 1575 B. C. Seventy Jubilees of fifty years between each, cover a period of three thousand, five hundred years (3,500) Causing these pictures of typical cycles to end three thousand, five hundred years after 1575 B. C., to-wit, 1925 A. D. At which time the Great antypical Jubilee is due to begin. This should mark then, the beginning of the restoration of man to his original inheritance, the dominion of the earth, life, liberty and happiness. This should mark the date when the Lord will begin to offer, first to those who are living on the earth, this bread of Life that comes down from Heaven, "Which if any man eat he shall live forever." (John 6:51.)

Seeing then that God originally intended man to have dominion of the earth and have it as his perrect home; seeing that God purposes must be accomplished; seeing that He provided the purchase price for man, His dominion, and liberties, through the blood of Jesus Christ, who is the lLfe giving Bread for the world; seeing that these blessings must begin at the end of the old order and with the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom; and seeing that this great event to-wit, the passing away of the old order and the coming in of the new, is now at hand, it can confidently be stated that millions of people now living and walking about upon the earth will never die and go into the grave. What wonderful good news is that to the poor, groaning creation! To those who have ears to hear. This message of good news must now go to the world that those hearing may take advantage of it and prepare themselves for the blessings that are near at hand. This good news of the Kingdom shall be preached unto all Christendom, for a witness unto all Nations, and then the end shall come. (Matt. 24:14). Let every one who is gladly looking forward to this blessed time take up this good news to the Kingdom and tell it to others, that other's hearts may be made to rejoice. With the end of the Millennial reign of Christ man will be completely and fully restored to the dominion of earth, every man who is obedient to the law of God being made perfect, mentally, morally, and physically, and shall dwell on the earth in happiness forever.

This message of the Kingdom to be established here upon the earth for the blessing of humanity should be preached in every Church in the world today that the broken hearted and the sorrowful who mourn because of the unjust condition of the world may have their hearts lighted with joy and hope looking to the new day that is so near. Woe unto the preacher who is standing in the way of this good news which the world is longing for. The truth concerning God's Kingdom is represented in some respects as God's Chariot, it has been rolling down the ages apparently against many difficulties, especially the creeds and theories of men but this chariot has reached the point now where she is gaining in momentum on the obstacles of the Devil and Pin-headed, narrow-minded, selfish, pork chop hunting preachers and all their sympathizers and unless they decide to take this chariot and ride on into the Kingdom they will me crushed. No man can hinder this chariot. (the truth.) Be warned! Do not get in the way of God's Chariot. The quicker you line up with it the better for you.

FROM F. K. D. UNIVERSITY

We have installed a printing press at F. K. D. U. and will commence the publication of a college newspaper soon .

Thanksgiving was spent very pleasantly here by the faculty and a part of the student body, some having gone home to be with parents and friends.

New students are coming in every day, and we expect a large increase in the enrollment after the Christmas Holidays.

Prof. R. B. Harrison, financial Secretary, expects to make quite an extensive canvas, after the holidays in the interest of the school, visiting many northern cities.

The literary societies are giving us entertaining and instructive programs each week.

Miss Gracia Corneal of Sandsprings will give a musical recital before the school some time this month.

Bishop W. Sampson Brooks, who has been assigned to the Oklahoma Conferences, since the death of Bishop Tyree, presided over a meeting of the trustee board, which was held Tuesday, Nov. 30.

The meeting was well attended and important legislation, looking forward to constructive work on all lines was enacted.

All members were well received.

Quite a number of students expect to spend Christmas holidays with parents.

Yours,
H. A. MAXWELL.

THE GUY WHO GETS THE KOPY, KUSSES AND KICKS

Dec. 10, 1920.

Dear Reporter:

This sure has been some busy day with me. You don't know who "me" is? Well, "me" is the guy who gets all of the cussing from certain reporters (leaving you out) because their news items come up with half of what they said left out.

"Me" is the guy who operates that wonderful Linotype machine, that the Black Dispatch installed not long ago.

You see, when the office girl brings the mail from the post office, the editor begins his job of opening it, and all that looks like news, he gives to "me."

Now "me" is me, and "me" is I, and I am the guy, who is me.

I sit down before my wonderful machine and grab the first page of copy and start upon my long, lonesome journey into the "Land of Scribbling."

First thing I see is a lots of crosses and dots that look like Chinese or Hindu antique. Now those signs mean the town from whence the news came—anyway I take it for that.

Then the next part says something like this:

"The weather is very cold here tonight will mark the beginning of a series of revivals at such and such at church."

Now "me" has to read all of that to know that a period belongs after 'here' and 'tonight begins with a capital letter.

That's just a poor example, however, because 9¾ times out of ten, they have so many of those Chinese and Hindu signs mixed up in those "exclamatory" paragraphs, until it looks like first one thing and then the other; and the bad trouble comes when you start looking at it. Every time you look at it, it looks different.

Just listen to this:

"Mr. 'So-and-So's son got hurt. Johnnie is his name. He got shot by accident. He died." O Chilly Winds, thou art cruel!

"Rev. 'What's-his-name' have gone to Oklahoma City. While there, he will preach at Calvary Church. He has toothache."

Now if you don't believe it, I can show you something worse.

They must think "me" has some wonder gray matter—and say, I'll bet you they wouldn't write to their best girl or best beau that way, which goes on to show that they can do better.

Well, "me" is going to forget those Chinese and Hindu signs that stand for everything but the "Flu." You see, "Flu" is a new name and those Chinese-writing fellows haven't had time to invent an easy way to write it.

So good-bye, its about time for "me" to quit, because "me" is going to see "Broadway Rastus" at the Aldridge Theatre, and if any of those guys try to pull off any extra stuff like Chinese writing, "me" will sure be wise to it.

Of course, I guess it is good for me to learn to read Chinese and Hindu writing because I expect some of those reporters are going to get mad and run me clear to China because I told this. I'll need it then.

But as long as I'm in these United States, I wish those reporters would write United States writing.

You ought to see the way they use a typewriter. The "Hunt & Punch"—I'll tell you about it next week. The Boss has brought me a ticket for another long journey on the train of dots and crosses, that runs straight through to China.

Objectionably yours,
"ME."

SEWARD FLASHES

Church services were well conducted at St. Matthew First Baptist, Sunday, by Pastor L. N. Payne and W. E. Turner. Ordination of Deacon A. Foreman will be held on the 3rd Sunday in December. Judicial officers of Antioch and Gravel Hill Baptist Churches will participate.

Miss Daisy Broaden of Joplin, Mo., is visiting and attending her mother during her illness.

Mr. Bill Estes and a group of young men from Oklahoma City, motored out to the reporter's last week and slaughtered about fifty rabbits. Some sportsmen, they are.

VERNON NEWS

Sunday was meeting day at the New Hope Baptist Church. Services were well attended. Our pastor delivered a soul stirring sermon, after which five souls were added to the church. Our pastor, Rev. J. W. Knowles was absent last Sunday on account of the illness of his wife. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. H. C. Wesley and sister, Miss L. H. Wesley, are here visiting their brother, Prof. F. E. Wesley, the principal of our city school.

Miss B. E. Hampton has returned home from a few week's stay with her friend, Miss H. L. Patterson, five miles south of town.

Mr. C. W. Wright and Miss Mollie Mae Melton were quietly married last Wednesday night at the home of the bride. Rev. J. F. Felix officiated Quite a number of friends were present.

Vernon is getting gradually on the boom. The Grant boys are running a meat market. Another cafe has opened up. Mr. Hunter made a flying trip to Okmulgee last week to visit his daughter, Mrs. Bertha Parker. The New Hope Baptist Sunday school is planning a nice Christmas program; also a fine tree to which all are invited.

The U. B. F.'s and S. M. T.'s are to have a free installation on Thursday night. The public is invited.

Dr. W. Atkinson, veternarian, of Boley, is in the city. Bring him your ill stock.

The weather is still unfavorable for the farmers. The rock building of Mr. S. B. Dozier is almost completed.

D. H. Bushby, Reporter.

DOTS FROM ALTUS

On last week, the reporter failed to send in what the American Federation of Labor did in Altus among the colored. They organi ed a union with J. Still, President; Mr. Earl Williams, vice, and Prof. J. W. Dawson, corresponding secretary. After we had seen what the Federation of Labor was doing for American citizens, we fell in line.

We had with us yesterday at St. John, Rev. Miller, who gave us the gospel bread at the right season.

The Masonic Grand Lodge will convene here in 1921. You bet Altus will do her best to entertain them while there are here.

Mrs. Still seems to be some better at this report.

On Saturday night week, Mr. Charlie Reed killed a man of Hollis and at this time has not been apprehended.

The Fred Douglas School is preparing a great treat for Altus on the 24th. The reporter received a sack of ribbon cane from East Texas. Yum! Yum!

THE JUDGMENT DAY

"The times of this ignorance, God winked at it but now God hath appointed a day in which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained." (Acts 17:30, 31.)

The Judgment day, once dreaded by all classes has come to have a new meaning when studied in the true light of the Bible, especially since we are able to now see the errors of the Creeds of the Church Denominations most of which originated during the dark ages. During the long period of time from the flood to the first advent of Christ the world of mankind lay in ignorance, weakness and vice; but as our text declares, God took no notice of it as a whole or in other words he winked at it.

He gave his entire attention to the little Nation of Israel, with whom he had made a special law of Covenant. Isreal entered upon a great Schooling period; first in a condition of peonage in Egypt; then under the command of Moses passing from Egypt to Canaan, with a wandering of forty years in the wilderness; and later, under Judges, Kings, etc., in the Promise Land.

God did not over-look a sin amongst the Isrealites, whom he had adopted as his peculiar people under the Law of Covenant mediated by Moses. We read that every disobedience received a just recompense of reward. (Heb. 2:2.) Stripes, punishments, captivities under divine supervision and predicted by the Prophets, was the potion of Isreal. Obedience on their part brought blessings, but disobedience and idolatry brought chastisement—God winked at nothing respecting his chosen people, the Nation of Isreal.

At first glance, this is perplexing. Those not understanding the Divine plan would be inclined to expect that the favored Nation would be excused more than others, that Isreal would be the people whose imperfection would be winked at. But not so; Isreal was chosen for a purpose and in order to prepare them for their mission, the Lord chastened and schurged them for their sins. Thus He educated them and assisted them out of degredation more than others. As a result, when our Lord came into the world to be man's redeemer, Isreal, under the chastising, schurging, instructing experiences of many centuries, was by far the most advanced nation in the world, along religious lines. Thus it was that when the Redeemer presented himself, a remnant of the Jews was Isrealites, indeed and ready to serve Him—five hundred during His earthly ministry, and several thousand more at the following Pentecostal season. It is but reasonable to suppose that no other nation in the world would have furnished such numbers ready of heart for the Messiah and fully consecrated to Him. Note for instance, that St. Paul, preaching to the Athenians on Mars Hill, apparently touched not even one heart or head.

As God winked at the sins of the world aside from his Covenanted Nation, Isreal, so He has continued to wink at, to ignore the sins of heathen world since. St. Paul says, "He now commandeth all men everywhere to repent." The Heathen have never heard heard the Divine Message offering Life Everlasting through Christ. God's attitude toward them would therefore, properly be the same as it was toward the Gentiles during the Jewish age. The responsibility of right doing in this Gospel age rests upon those on whom the light of truth has shined. In an especial sense the illuminated ones, the enlightened ones, are the Church alone. Only God's Consecrated People receive the begetting of the Holy Spirit—the opening of their eyes of understanding. And with these the measure of their enlightenment varies: and those who see little have less responsibility than those who see much. Thus seeing God's dealings during this Christian age are merely with the Church, the Saints of God, the Consecrated, and not with the Heathen.

But a large class of Gentilness, styling themselves Christiandom, have been so much in contact with the light of Divine truth as to have a weighty responsibility upon them. It is upon this class that heavy judgments are falling in the close of this age. They have heard the message of God's mercy toward mankind thru Christ and of their privilege and of coming into covenant relationship with God. They have hypocritically pretended to be His people while their hearts were far from Him. Their punishment will be greater because of their hypocracy—because they have foolishly thought that they could deceive the Almighty. They will learn that He will not be mocked. Nevertheless, the rod of chastisment upon them will be with a view to their recovery and not for their distruction, much less their eternal torture. Only the incorrigible at any time are to die the second death.

How different this Bible and reasonable view of the great Judgment day from the one given us during childhood from the creeds of the different Denominations! That view taught us that the Judgment Day would be twenty-four hours and that then, all the dead woul come from Heaven and Hell, and Purgatory, to see if mistake had been made, and since no mistakes could be made by God that they would all go back to the same condition. How foolish we were that such a proposition, such an idea, of God's plan should ever have appealed to us as reasonable or God-like! Why did we not think to inquire what the Bible had to say respecting the Judgment day? Why did we not sooner learn the beauties of the Divine arrangement? The answer is that we were and most of us are now so thoroughly blinded by the false teachings of the preachers, mixed with some truth that the true light could not and even now can not be seen. But God's time for helping us out of the darkness into the purer light has come within the last forty years, even as for good reasons, he has kept hidden until this same time the wonderful knowledge of our day on other lines—knowledge which is proving a blessing to the full degree only those whose hearts are right with God. But to others is proving a curse and hastening the whole world toward the great chasm of anarchy.

We thank God for the wideness of His mercy like the wideness of the sea—that the Devine plan is no respector of person, that every member of the race, condemned by Father Adam's disobedience, redeemed from that condemnation by the death of Jesus, shall have a full opportunity of coming to a knowledge of the facts and of using that knowledge for his own recovery from sin, sickness, sorrow, pain and death.

The Divine Law will be the same in the future as now. God never changes and His law will never change. But the way to Everlasting Life will be easier than now. No longer will it be a narrow or difficult way; no longer will it call for the sacrifice of every earthly right and interest in order to attain Eternal life. No longer will the Adversary place darkness before the minds of men as light and cause light to appear to be darkness; for his power will be restrained. No longer will it be true that all who live Godly shall suffer persecution. But on the contrary, those living Godly will receive more and more of God's blessings; and instead of faithfulness leading to death, it will lead upward and onward to human perfection and Everlasting Life under the blessed conditions of the Kingdom which God has prepared for the whole world.

The way of the Church in the present time is narrow, difficult, because evil is dominant now. The Lord makes use of this opportunity of evil's dominence to issue his call for soldiers of the cross in order to test the faithfulness and loyalty of these He has called to such a high station. And since the trials are more difficult, it does not surprise us that the reward is greater. The earthly reward for the world as we have seen, will be Everlasting Life as human beings, in Paradise restored, on God's footstool made glorious. But the reward of the Church, if faithful, will be a change of nature from human to Devine, and a share with the Redeemer, in His Glory, honor and immortality.

The World's Judgment Day in the collective sense will appertain to the Nations—shaking the foundations of institutions, of organizations, political parties and Religious Systems. This collective judgment will culminate in a time of trouble such as the world has never seen (Daniel 12:1) between the years of 1914 and 1925. A great leveling of social conditions shall prevail, bringing the Kings and preachers of earth into disrepute as far as having any Divine authorization or right to rule is concerned and the masses of the people gradually asserting their manhood, will cry out against the injustices of the ages practiced by the Kings and the preachers, while they were held in superstitious fear of the marks of earth. This is but the logical outworking of the increased knowledge predicted for our day, and we may see the hand of the Lord as he is now marshaling the condemning forces of truth and error, capitol and labor, preparatory for the usherng in the so much desired peace on earth and good will to man.

The Judgment day of the Nations of earth is now proceeding. The Judgment Day of the great Church System is also in progress. Both the Nations and the Churches are weighed in the balances and are found wanting. In the very near future the severe Judgment will begin with the masses of mankind individually. Get ready for trial.

"EQUAL ACCOMODATIONS" IN OKLAHOMA

(By William Pickens)

On the interstate trains from Texas thru Oklahoma to Kansas, colored passengers ride in compartments in the smoking car. ..The railroads accomodate themselves to the separate car laws at the expense of the colored passenger, as is to be expected. They have a smoker, with oil cloth seats, divided into three compartments. The rear compartment, usually the larger one, is given to white men smokers. The front compartment is for colored men smokers. Sandwiched in between is the compartment for colored women. These women are separated from the smokers by swinging doors, which fly open whenever the train moves faster or slacks up, and the nauseating odors pour in. When the train reaches Kansas, anon-Jim-Crow state, all these compartments are given over to men smokers, of course. When the train is coming out of the north, the men smoke in all of them 'till the train reaches Oklahoma, and then the colored women are put into the middle compartment of this smoker.

By state law, the colored people are effectually denied accomodations in dining cars, chair cars and Pullman cars. The law cunningly and glibly provides "that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent railroad companies in this state from hauling sleeping cars, dining or cafe cars or chair cars attached to their trains to be used exclusively by either white or Negro passengers, separately, but not jointly."

How generous! Just as generous, for example, as if they should pass a separate school law in Portland, Oregon, and then provide that the school may, if it wants to, build another million dollar high school for the five Negro children of high school grade. No such school would be built,—neither will sleeping cars be "hauled" for the half dozen long distance colored passengers.

The colored passenger leaves Dallas in the morning for Oklahoma City, where he is due at about nine in the evening. Between five and six the train stops at Chickasha with 20 minutes for dinner. He is led right on thru the dining room, right on past the lunch counter, out into the kitchen. Why it does not offend the white diners for him to pass by and among all of them, is a mystery to him. He has eaten nothing since morning and in a dingy room back of the kitchen they offer him "pork chops." He cannot eat pork chops and calls for eggs.

"No," the stove is too busy cooking "short orders" for white folks.

They offer him nothing more.

He asks in astonishment, if they have nothing to eat except pork chops.

Then the waitress says they are serving turkey dinner, but somehow she had not thought that in connection with him; and she openly hints that the price is high.

"Never mind the price," says the hungry colored man, "bring the dinner." She goes out and (will you believe it?) turns to give him a last definite warning of the ascertained price: "it would cost you one dollar."

"Please bring it, or I shall not have time to eat it," he replies, restraining his wrath. She is a colored waitress and he has heard the steward (white) sending her back and forth on these foolish errands to delay his getting the food.

Meanwnile half the 20 minutes had passe. The "turkey dinner" was brought, on thick porcelain plates with tin spoons and kitchen knives and was set before him on a dirty oil-cloth covered table. And he had to pay the same price as the white diners, who ate with silver out of china set on white laundered linen. He was not even given a napkin.

The white passengers who rode in the chair car with clean napkins under their heads, paid the same fare as he. The whites who were served like human beings in the dining room, paid the same price as he.

Richard J. Hill's Weekly Articles

FEED THE SHEEP AND STOP FLEECING THEM

Since actions speak louder than words, the Master's statement, "Feed my sheep" has been changed, by these would-be under Shepherds or hirelings to read "Fleece my Sheep." Get the shekles, the money.

Since the Good Shepherd has been away the larger per cent of these under shepherds have busied themselves building Creed pens and each one herding in all the sheep he can and in order to make a good showing to the world, goats are freely driven in with the sheep and there he keeps himself busy fleecing sheep and milking goats. (Goats being persons who are not Christians at all, but connected with the church for policy sake.) The sherkles must come, it being the all important issue. These unfaithful servants have prevented the masses of God's sheep from feeding in God's Green Pastures of truth and the few that manage to break out of these Creed pens or those that could not be driven in, are hated by these unfaithful servants and generally classed as Good Timber for Hell-fire.

But Alas! What are the peer sheep being fed? Nothing but the musty provender of food of the Dark Ages—Join my Denomination, (Creed-pen) pay your church dues, (be fleeced) and I will preach you straight to Heaven when you die or do otherwise and go to Hell—an eternity of torment. Another very popular food which the poor sheep are generally fed is emotionalism and this is one of the suecially concoted dishes of the Devil and the one which is certainly used unsparingly, especially among the Colored people. When things seem to be getting a little quiet and the sheep begin to do a little serious thinking, the Devil behind the curtain or unfaithful servant, dishes up some more emotion and passes it to the crowd through these ignorant or unfaithful servants. Most of us are possibly aware of occasions where a preacher would set his whole congregation in an uproar of shouting, simply by dramatically squalling loud and groaning long, without saying a word worth hearing. I do not mean to say that all emotions are the Devil but I do mean to say that all demonstrations of feelings not based upon thought or rationality are of the Evil One. You very often hear some one say, "Oh! I heard a great sermon," but push them close to tell you what they heard and they can tell you a little or nothing. I beg to suggest that the Devil and his Host of Fallen Angels which kept not their first estate are specialists on tickling feelings and, if necessary, they will make one kick the bottom out of the church house and jump clear through the ceiling hollowing: "Amen, Glory to God." If by so doing they can prevent sober thinking in search for truch. Beware of all religious emotions for which you can give little or no explanation. The greater the emotions or feelings the less the rationality. As an example of some of the many concotions of the Devil to arouse the feelings or emotions: On one occasion the preacher preaches Brother So-and-So straight to Heaven; dresses him in a long white robe puts a crown on his head; golden slippers on his feet; harp in his mouth and gives him free access to an inexhaustable supply of milk and honey: on another occasion, a rank sinner dies and of course by intimation if not by actual words, he is sent below to be tormented through out eternity by fire-proof devils; and on still another occasion this same preacher gives his congregation a picture of the Resurrection Day and in this picture he calls out Gabe to blow his trumpet and shows graves bursting, dead both great and small rising, etc. Now on all three of these occasions the emotions were greatly aroused, But let us see how much reason or truth is there at the bottom of it all. Are we to understand that the fellow who has spent hundreds of thousands of years in Heaven must undress and come down and the fellow below must get a permit and be relieved from Hell-fire to come up and re-enter the grave to be resurrected in the last day? Friends, think for a moment. o be reasonable, one must conclude that there is either no going straight to Heaven or Hell at death or there is no resurrection of the dead. But the Bible abounds from Genesis to Revelations with positive assurances that there will be a resurrection of the dead both of the just and the unjust.

Under Shepherds, what are you feeding God's sheep? Are you feeding them the rich provender or food of God's great Plan of Salvation and his plan of selecting a little flock during this Gospel Age and afterwards through them (the little flock) bring blessings to all the families of the earth? Or are you feeding them the musty doctrines of the Dark Ages, Eternal Torment, Hell-fire and emotionalism? Under Shepherds, be warned, the Good Shepherd is near and when he appears and notes the hundreds of Creed-pens with you unfaithful servants over-busy fleecing the poor sheep and milking old goats (getting money), you can rest assured that something is going to happen. There will soon be one of the greatest Creed pen smashings and unfaithful servant chasings that has ever taken place in all the ages.

You preachers who cannot tell the people God's message without being paid for it, and who are now riding the people to death for money will soon be compelled to quit and either teach the people for nothing or not teach at all; for the reason that God is bringing about a condition financially that will compell the people to look out for self and therefore these ignorant, greedy and selfish persons calling themselves preachers, will to know the truth concerning God's great Plan of Salvation and all who are wilfully opposing the truth are engaged in a losing proposition. You had just as well attempt to sweep back the ocean tide with a broom which you know would be an impossibility. The only sensable thing to do is to fall in line with the truth and receive a blessing; but if you get in the way of the truth, which is God's Chariot, you are sure to be crushed. Take your choice as to whether you will receive a blessing by coming out for the truth or receive a crushing by trying to oppose it.

Richard J. Hill.

Giddings, Texas, Dec. 24.—"If God called a man to preach in this age, he also called him to prepare," declared Bishop William Dreker Johnson of Plains, Ga., in addressing the ministers of the West Texas Methodist Episcopal conference, "for in this age where the public schools, private schools, and colleges are turning out so many God can't use an ignorant man. If you do not study you will find yourself without a pulpit for the people are asking that certain men not be sent back to them because of their extra stock of ignorance and illiteracy.

"Too many preachers sit around street corners in barber-shops talking politics and telling lies," continued the bishop, "when they should be at home studying. If you do your duty you will not have to stir up strife."

KU KLUX KLAN NABS PAPER STOOL PIGEONS HELP

(By the Associated Negro Press)

Houston, Texas, Dec. 24.—The Houston Informer, one of the most outspoken newspapers in the South in the defense of human rights, C. F. Richardson, editor, has recently passedd through a trying experience. The entire edition of the paper, which was ready for the mails, together with the subscription and advertising books, and other important documents, were stolen over night.

Editor Richardson, exercising unusual enterprise, was able to get out an extra edition, which was circulated one day late. Mr. Richardson attributes the theft to Ku Klux Klan influences, in which he openly charges that "stool pigeon" members of the Race must be convincing. In an editorial filled with amazing vindicativeness against the methods of injustice and underhand methods( and displaying courage seldom witnessed in the South, the Informer carries a two column editorial on the subject under the caption: "They Shall not pass."

Strange as it may seem, the white dailies of Houston, and a number of prominent white citizens have spoken out openly commending Editor Richardson for his brave and fearless stand, and condemning the dangerous effort to re-organize any such organi-

Spencer's "All Star" Oklahoma Foot Ball Team

Nearly every football lover has been anxiously awaiting the famous "myth team." We heerwith present the selection as made by Prof. Spencer, Oklahoma's most famous coach and athletic authority:

First Team

Twine, L. L., Muskogee,
Rainey, R. E., Nowata.
Harris, L. T., Nowata.
Glass, R. T., Nowata.
Gipson, C., Nowata.
Newton, R. G.,Nowata.
B. Williams, L. G., Tulsa.
Riley, R. H., Nowata.
Jolly, L. H., Muskogee.
D. Brown, Q., Muskogee.
Lett, F. B., Nowata.

I have seen every team in the state play during the past season with one exception. So these selections are made upon first hand knowledge, together with gathered data.

For right end, we have chosen Rainey. He is beyond doubt the great 'est end in the West. People who are possessed of great experience in this sport, unqualifiedly assert that he is good enough for any team in America—high school. Fleet of foot, a fierce tackler, a forward pass adept; who can deny his right to the place?

At the other end, the selection was not so easy. Goodwin of Tulsa, was such a close competitor for the position that only Twine's elusiveness gave him the place. Each man is fast and a good receiver of forward passes. But having seen Twine in action for two years, and knowing his uncanny ability to get away the position is given to him. He will always pull an unexpected trick. In giving Twine the end position, we must not forget Harris of Nowata, alst year's all-state end. He is too good on defense to be left off, and while he loses the end position to Twine, this year, it must not be forgotten that against Langston's mighty team, he played such a dogged and aggressive game, it would spoil the team to leave him off. We give him the position at left tackle. As a running mate, "Big Fay" Glass of Nowata gets the other tackle position. Every one knows his ability both on defense and on offense.

Gipson played center against all comers. He gets the place because of reliability in passing. Okmulgee's center was better on offense. Brown, of Muskogee was better on defense, but neither could be depended on to gt the ball back satisfactorily. Tulsa switched centers in mid-season.

As guards, Newton and Bennie Williams get the call. Newton is a veteran weighing only a 136 pounds, but no one ever comes thru his place. We had to snatch Williams from the back field to make him a guard, but he is better than any of the guards playing the position, and as a whole makes entirely too valuable to leave off the team.

Riley of Nowata, the fastest man on the team, is our choice for right half back. Jolly of Muskogee is our left half. Such end runs and fake crisses as these speed merchants would pull off in a game would be a revelation to old football stars and a source of joy to the "myth team" rooters.

Lett at ful lback, is speedy and heavy. He is a fighter, possessing both agressiveness and tenacity. He goes after a runner and he gets him. No doubt about Lett at full back.

Dannie Brown of Muskogee, gets quarter back over Alwell of Nowata. Brown is cool, remembers his plays, observes his men, takes advantage of the opportunity when it arrives. He is also our choice for captain. With his as captain no fear need exist as to the playing of the game every minute of the game.

In the selection of the above team, I have been careful to get "balance." What I wanted on my team—Oklahoma's Team—is smoothness, alertness, aggressiveness, stamina. I got these prerequisites, and this team with proper coaching can lick any team of high school caliber in American Colored schools. And let me say that for coach there can be no second choice. King of Nowata has put more STUFF into the Nowata team than can be seen in all other teams in the state. He is a real find for Oklahoma foot ball and must coach this myth team.

I would not be fair to the sport loving public, however, were I not to say that Okmulgee has in Hagood, the mightiest full back in the West. Langston's Robinson is the fastest big man and I believe the best colored back I have ever seen play. The only reason these men are not on our "All State Team" is that they are University men. We are high school boys.

MATHEMATICAL LOSSES AND GAINS

By Capp Jefferson, Oklahoma City.

To criticise a court's decree
I dare not try to do it.
Perhaps the fault is all in me
Because I can't construe it.

The Logan County Negroes tried
To hold a good position.
But this great honor was denied
In answering their petition.

The Supreme Court forbid the boys
Over-seering other races.
White men, the county now employs
To take the Negroes' places.

In fact the court was very plain
When it gave its opinion.
But after all, it still remains
To sever our dominion.

While Logan County Negroes lost,
It gives me consolation
To know, if we put up the costs
We'll get their occupation.

The "SEPARATE SCHOOLS" in our twon,
Our white friends now control them
But after this, they must step down.
The Supreme Court has told them.

For says the court, "IN SEPARATE SCHOOLS,"
Whatever be the races,
The Board must be the same, it rules
For these important places.

Perhaps the court had quite forgot
That in Oklahoma City
The educational board is not
In keeping with its ditty.

The court gives Negroes now a berth
Upon the board to sit on,
Or that opinion is not worth
The paper it is writ' on.

A problem, now, it has to solve
Or make some explanation,
Unless its orders it desolves
To change the situation.

In Logan County, they tell me,
The whites are in minority
Their separate schools you must agree
"Rode" o'er the black's majority.

If the court does not except the rule
In Oklahoma City
Where Negroes have the "SEPARATE SCHOOLS"—
Well, I'll stop.....Pity

GET NEW HOTEL

(By the Associated Negro Press)

Winston-Salem, N. C., Dec. 24.—A new an dmodern hotel for colored people is to be constructed here in the very near future. Dr. W. H. Bruce, local physician, and Bishop L. W. Kyles, of the colored Methodist Episcopal Church, now a resident of St. Louis, but owner of considerable property in this city and section, have procured a site and are now having plans prepared for the building. Architect, Gilbert C. Humphries expects to complete the plans in the next few days, after which the prelifinaries to construction will be worked out.

The building will be olcated on the site of the old Grace Presbyterian church on Depot Street, between Sev-

"THE SOONER TRAIL"

ALL THE NEWS FROM THE BLACK JACK HILLS AND VALES OF OKLAHOMA

Richard J. Hill's Weekly Articles

THE DOCTRINE OF ETERNAL TORMENT AND MONEY COLLECTING IN THE CHURCHES ARE THE MOST BLASPHEMOUS OF GOD'S CHARACTER THAN ALL OTHER ERRORS COMBINED.

The doctirne of eternal torment was introduced by Papacy to scare the pagans and make them join her system and support her Priesthood. It flourished at a time when bull fights and gladitoral contests were the public amusements most enjoyed. This doctrine of eternal torment flourished when the crusaders were called Holy wars and when men and women were called heritives and often slaughtered for speaking contrary to the teachings of papacy.

The majority of the clergy have spent and are yet spending most of their time scaring the people into the churches, telling them to join and escape eternal torment and when the people get into the churches and put their names on the roll, they are made to understand that the Lord wants them to keep up their various church dues including a fat salary for the parson, build fine church houses, etc. They are further made to understand that if they fail in these duties will be turned out of the church where the Devil will get them and roast them and torment them throughout eternity. The poor people have been taught and made to believe that the Lord needs their money in order to carry out his plans. Dear Friends I want to brand this money collecting in the name of the Lord as blasphemous to His Righteous Name. The Lord does not need your punny dimes and dollars to carry out His great Plan. This money collecting business in the churches is a man-made institution. I am fully aware that there are scriptures which are being misrepresented by the clergy so as to make it appear that the collection of money in the churches is authorized by the Bible. Some of the Scriptures used are in the Jewish custom of giving one tenth which has no application in this Gospel Age, also the Scriptures statement "Muzzle not the ox that treadeth out the corn," which only means that a preacher should have the same opportunity to make a living as anybody else and that while he is giving all his time to advancing God's truth (not lies) he is entitled to the absolute necessities of life—place to sleep and food to eat and no more. Preachers are not to be a burden to the people in any way, shape, form or fashion. Instead of being a burden to the people, the true servants of God should go to work with their hands to support themselves and be able to give to those less fortunate. (2 Thes. 3:6-15) Paul worked with his own hands that he might not be a burden to the people. The case where Christ had His deciples to catch a fish and get money out of its mouth and put it in the collection is sometimes held up to the people as Christ approving church collections but nothing is further from the truth than using this scripture in such a way; because Christ only intended to teach His Disciples that it was the best policy for them to pay taxes to whatever government they may live under.

I beg to again remind you, my friends, that the paying of fat salaries to preachers and the building of expensive church-houses is not recognized by the Lord as work done unto Him. He wants no such work as that. He wants the poor people relieved of their burdens. The only condition under which the giving of money is accepted by the Lord is when it is given voluntarily and for the purpose of relieving the sufferings of the widows and orphans and others of a broken heart, and also money given to aid others in getting in the truth of God's Plan (not into lies). Friends, you will agree with me when I remind you that there are many millions of poor people in this land and country who are suffering greatly for the absolute necessities of life and many of whom are living in the very shadow of the church house that cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. God is not pleased with such arrangements and in the near future, He will dash to pieces this order of things and arrange matters so that the humble-hearted and oppressed will come into their own.

Reverting to another phase of our subject, I wish to say that the Old Testament Scriptures were written in the Hebrew lanuage and the New Testament in the Greek. The word "Hell" is an English word sometimes selected by the translators of the English Bible to express the sense of the Hebrew word SHEOL and the Greek words Hades, TARTAROO, and GEHENNA. These same words are sometimes rendered "grave" and "pit." The word Hell in Old English usage, before the preachers gave it a new and special significance to suit their own selfish purposes, simply meant to conceal, to cover. The word "Hell" was therefore properly used synonymously with the words "grave" and "Pit" to translate the words "SHEOL and Hades" as signifying the secret or hidden condition of death. The word Hell occurs 31 times in the Old Testament, and in every instance it is Sheol in the Hebrew. It does not mean a lake of fire and brimstone nor anything resembling that thought; instead of it being described as a place of blazing fire, it is described as a state of darkness (Job. 10:21): instead of being a place where shrieks and groans are heard, it is described in the context as a place of silence (Psa. 115:17); instead of representing in any sense pain and suffering, or remorse, the context describes it as one of forgetfulness (Psa. 88:11, 12); there is no work nor devise nor knowledge in the grave (sheol) whether thou goeth (Eccles. 9 :10).

In Matt. 11:23 is one case where the Greek word Hades is rendered Hell. "And thou Capernaum, which are exaulted unto Heaven, shall be brought down to "Hell;" I hope there is no one so silly as to think that the city of Capernaum with all its inhabitants, buildings, etc, are down in Hell roasting in agony. The fact is that Capernaum is in the Bible Hell, is in a condition as if it had never existed. In fact the very sight of where this city once stood is now hard to locate: in other words it is in a conditions of non-existence, and that is the real meaning of the Bible Hell. The whole race of mankind, from creation to the present time, at death, go to this Bible Hell to wait the Resurrection Day, which is near even at the door

In the New Testament two other words are rendered Hell: namely, TARTAROO and GEHENNA, which we will consider in the order named. TARTAROO has reference to the invisible conditions of the atmosphere where the angels that kept not their first estate, before the flood, where cast to wait the Judgment Day. GEHENNA occurs in all 12 times where it is rendered Hell( Matt. 5:22, 29, 30; 10:38; 18: 9:23; 15:33; Mark 9:43-47 Luke 12:5; James 3:6) GEHENNA is the Grecian mode of spelling the Hebrew words which are translated "The Valley of Hinnon." This valley lay just outside of Jerusalem and served the purpose of sewer and garbage burner to the city.

Every intelligent minister knows or should know that the greatest punishment God has prescribed for wilful hinners is death everlasting. The second death, a death from which there will never be a resurrection. They also know that Hell and the grave means one and the same thing, oblivion, a state of ono-existence. They further know that the lake of fire and brimstone mentioned in the scriptures is symbolic of the second death and is not literal. They are or should be fully aware that the Isrealites, their laws, customs, and principal cities, while they really existed, were typical of greater things to come and that the Old Testament and New Testament writers, including our Lord Jesus, many times used the literal city of Jerusalem and its literal cesspool, or garbage burner (designated in the Bible as the Valley of Hinnon, the lake burning with fire and brimstone) to convey the proper thought concerning the coming Kingdom of Righteousness. The thought intended to be conveyed is that when the Lord's Kingdom shall have been established in all the earth; nothing will be allowed to remain in that Kingdom which will hurt or offend the people. According to the rules for the government of the literal city of Jerusalem (made of stone and cement, brick and motar) all filth was to be consumed. Just so will it be in the antitypical city, the New Jerusalem, which is not made with hand or hammer. The antitypical cesspool or lake of fire and brimstone which is to consume the filth of this antitypical city is not a literal place of literal fire and brimstone but is the second death. In other words, the cesspool or garbage burner for the New Jerusalem is the second death. (Rev. 19:28; 20:14; 35; 21:8)

There are many poor persons of humble minds who desire to do the Lord's will but they are kept in darkness by a number of ignorant and selfish persons who are posing as Ministers of God. I am glad to say that quite a number of ministers over the country are honest enough to acknowledge to their congregation that they have been teaching error. But to those who know not the truth and care less and who continue to dope the poor people with doctrines of fire and brimstone and concetions of emotionalism and whose chief aim is to gather in many and make a big show to the world, I warn you that your days are numbered. The Good Shepherd is near. He will not much longer permit you unfaithful servants to make a business of penning up and fleecing (collecting money from) His sheep. O the shame and confusion that will soon cover your faces for propergating the Blasphemous doctrine of Eternal Torment, when your whole congregations comes to know the justice of God and that the Bible does not teach this God-dishonoring, truth-becoluding Love-extinguishing, saint-hindering, Sinner, Hardening, damnable here-say of eternal torment. (2 Peter 2:1.).

"THE SOONER TRAIL"

ALL THE NEWS FROM THE BLACK JACK HILLS AND VALES OF OKLAHOMA

Richard J. Hill's Weekly Articles

THE PROMISE OF A RESURRECTION FROM THE DEAD, THE ONLY LIGHT OF HOPE FOR HUMANITY.

When we look stern facts in the face and note the billions of Humanity from creation to the present time have existed upon the earth but a short time, then pass into death, breaking up the dearest family ties, and leaving behind the most precious treasures of earth, we wonder if it is all life to live or all of death to die; and were it not for God's promise of a resurrection of the dead and a better life beyond this evil condition this world's drama would be a dark one indeed.

From Bible chronology man has been upon the earth a little more than 6,000 years and of course the Bible's statement is true. Should anyone be inclined to question the Bible's reliability on the point of chronology the way is open to questinoing its claim of being the inspired word of God; and anyone who doubts the Bible being the inspired word of God (I don't mean error that has crept into the Bible) is not in a condition of heart to be taught its deep truths not to receive the comforts of the blessed promises therein for man.

The Resurrection of the dead is the most prominent feature of God's Great Plan of Salvation. Some one has foolishly said there would not be room enough on this earth for all the people, if all were resurrected, who have lived upon the earth and died since creation to the present time; but such a statement is absolutely without foundation for truth.

According to Bible chronology 6,000 years would reach from the creation of Adam down to A. D. 1872. Now for the purpose of making a mathematical calculation of the human race and for the purpose of avoiding fractions we will compute the number of all possible persons that have ever lived on the earth from creation down to A. D. 1872; a period of 6,000 years.

Get your paper and pencil and let us assume that it is 6,000 years since the creation of man and that there were as many persons created at the beginning as there are now (taking our stand as the year 1872) the estimated population of the earth, at that time, was fourteen hundred million (1,400,000,000). As a matter of fact, the human race began with only one pair. And further, let us suppose that there never were fewer than 1,400,000,000 at any time during the 6,000 years (but as a matter of fact the flood, at one time, reduced the population of earth to only eight persons.) Again let us be liberal and estimate three generations to a century or 33 years to a generation (though according to Gen, there were but 11 generations from Adam to the flood, a period of 1656 years or about 150 years to each generation.) Now let us see: 6,000 are 60 centuries, 3 generations to each century would give us 180 generations since Adam: and 1,400,000,000 to a generation would give 252,000,000,000, as the total number of our race from creation down to 1872, according to this very liberal estimate ,which is certainly more than twice the actual number. The present population of the earth todate, is estimated to be about 1,6000,000,000: but our very liberal estimate and calculations of the human race from creation to 1872 should more than convince the reasonable minded that the estimated 200 million more persons since 1872 to date can easily be provided for in the resurrection.

Where shall we find room enough for this great multitude? Let us measure the land and see. The State of Texas contains 237,000 square miles. There are 27,878,400 square feet in a square mile, and, therefore 6,607,180,000 square feet in Texas. Allowing 10 square feet as the surface covered by each dead body, we find that Texas as a cemetery, would at this rate hold 660,718,080,000 bodies or nearly three times as many as our exagerated estimate of the number of persons that have ever lived upon the eath. Persons standing occupies on an average, about one and two-thirds feet of space At this rate the population of eath, at present, could stand on an area of 88 square miles, an area less than that city of London or Philadelphia; and the island of Ireland (area of 38,900 square miles) would furnish standing room for more than twice the number who have ever lived on earth even at our exagerated estimate.

There is not much difficulty, my friends, in settling the question as to room for the resurrected dead. And when we call to mind the prophecy of Isiah (35:1-6) that the earth shall yield her increase; that the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose; and that in the wilderness shall waters break out and streams flow in the deserts, we see that God indicates that He has foreseen all the necessities of His Plan and will make ample provision for the needs of all the resurrected dead, in what will seem a very natural way—I beg to remind you that all these modern conveniences, labor saving devices, plans for irrigating the deserts are all A. B. C. principles to be perfected during the day of restitution for man. This day of restitution or judgment day, which is a 1000 years long, is the time God has set apart to restore all the willing and obedient of the human race to that perfection from which Father Adam fell more than 6,000 years ago. God has not judged and will not judge the world, as a whole, individually, for life everlasting or death everlasting until His set time, the day of judgment, restitution or the Millenial Day. The term judgment day, millenial day or day of restitution mean one and the same thing. It is only when the different ways in which God will manifest Himself to the world of mankind during that blessed period is considered that the different names for that period are mentioned. For instance, when we think and read of the awarding of blessings for obedience and the administering of stripes for disobedience, we term that period the Judgment day. When we think and read of man (the willing and obedient) being restored to all that was lost in Father Adam, we call that period the time of restitution: and when we think and read of the length of time required to do this work we term it tht Millenium or a period of 1,000 years.

As we have stated in previous issues, the Lord has not been dealing with anyone, during this Gospel Age, but the body members of Christ, the little flock, the Bride of Christ and her maid, the Great Company. In other words, the work to be done during this Gospel Age has been and is the selecting of the officers to rule and govern the world in righteousness during the Judgment Day.

For the purpose of giving you some idea as to the character of Jehovah, God, we will give Him credit for having, at least, as much sympathy, love and justice as the best of fallen humanity. My friend, put this question to yourself and get some idea of Jehovah's character. Take a case like this where poor man or woman is the offspring of parents very low in the scalts morale and further that this poor man or woman was raised under very immoral conditions. You can readily understand that the natural bent of such individual would be down ward. Now were it within your power to grant to this individual everlasting life or death ettrnal could you out of your heart of hearts feel justified in passing the most severe sentence upon this poor individual who is a victim of circumstances over which he or she has no control? I say could you consistently decree such sentence without first uplifting such individual physically, mentally and morally? I believe the very first thing you would do would be to strike down the evil influences that tend to drag this poor person downward. I believe that, you would see to it that this individual was equipped physically, mentally and morally to make a good and successful fight for everlasting life. I feel sure that you would see to it if such individual did not gain life everlasting it would be because he or she willfully, intelligently and in opposition to all needed help, decide to go the way to death everlasting. I further believe dear friend, if it was within your power, you would be glad to give every creature on earth everlasting life, provided they lived clean and Godly lives. I am sure you would rejoice to bring all the broken families of earth together in one grand and happy band. I believe this is the true sentiment of the Godly inclined individual. Unfortunately the majority of the clergy have, ignorantly, been the most active agents of the adversary in that they have taught the people that God's plan is to save all who will be saver during this Gospel Age and the rest of humanity to be consigned to an eternity of torture by fire proof devils. They have been teaching the people that the Lord has said in so many words, you poor depraved sinners (notwithstanding the fact that you have inherited tendencies to sin and that you were borned and reared under immoral conditions over which you had no control and notwtihstanding the fact that the Devil and his host of demons have you chained down in superstition, ignorance and sin) had better, get sense enough to join the church, pay up your dues and be preached into Heaven when you die or do otherwise and go to hell and burn forever.

Dear Friends, the character of Jehovah God is so far superior to that of fallen humanity that we cannot even conceive of the length, breadth, height and depth of God's justice, power love and wisdom toward his human creatures. He has not and will not permit the billions of humanity (not including the Little Flock) to come to trial for life or death everlasting until the arrangements are complete for giving them a most favorable trial.

The resurrection of tht dead will take place on the Judgment Day. God hath appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness. Acts 17:31. The judges will be Christ and the faithful overcomers of this Gospel Age. "The father judgeth no man but hath committed all judgment unto the Son." John 5:22. The length of the Judgment Day will be a thousand years, "The day of Judgment and predition of ungodly men,—with the Lord is a thousand years—2 Peter 3 :7, 8. There is sure to be a resurrection of the dead. "If there is no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen; and if Christ is not risen your faith is vain, ye are still in your sins." 1 Cor. 15:13-17; "As all in Adam die, even so all in Christ shall be made alive." 1 Cor. 15:22.

There are to be two resurrections a first and a second. The electors the Little Flock, are to have part in the first or chief resurrection at the close of the Gospel Age in order to be with the Lord and help judge the world in righteousness during the Judgment Day. Theirs is a blessed portion. "Blessed and Holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection."—Rev. 20:6. The church, the Little Flock, the electors, shall be partakers of the Divine Nature, 2 Peter 1:4. After the first resurrection is completed and the Judges, Christ and His Bride, take their seats then, at their command the door to the prison house of Death must fly wide open and let the billions of Satan's captives come forth to judgment. "The hour is coming in which all that are in their graves shall hear His voice and shall come forth unto resurrection of judgment. Jno. 5:28, 29. "They that hear (obey) in that day shall live."—Jno. 5:28. The proper rendition in John 5:28, 99; is that those that have done evil will be resurrected by judgment, stripes, discipline and does not say resurrected to damnation as is stated in the King James version.

We have much to be thankful for in these closing days of the Gospel Age, when the light of God's Plan of Salvation is shining as never before. We are so glad that the Judgment Day is a time for the blessing and uplifting of all the willing and obedient and not a time when the literal earth shall be literally burned up. During that day "times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord." Acts 3:19-21. "The earth shall yield her increase." Psa. 67:6: the inhabitant of earth shall not say I am sick." Isa. 33:6: "The eyes of the blind shall be opened and the ears unstopped." Isa. 35:5.

In conclusion, I beg to remind all unfaithful servants and those who know not the truth and who spend most of their time advancing their own selfish plans, that the millions you have preached into error and into Heaven and into a burning Hell will soon condemn you in the resurrection day when they return and have no story to tell of being in a Heaven of Bliss or a Hell of fire storking with fire-proof devils. There is positively no Scriptural grounds for the false idea that, during this Gospel Age, all good people, at death, go to a Heaven of Bliss and the bad ones go to Hell to burn forever. As a matter of Scriptural fact, both the just and the unjust go to the great Prison House of death to wait the resurrection or Judgment Day at which time the just will be rewarded with everlasting life and the unjust be given a most favorable trial and a chance to gain life everlasting by submitting to the rules of the New Covenant which will then be in operation.

Let us take Jehovah at His word when He tells us in plain Scripture statements what the condition of the dead is. If we take Him at His word Gen. 2:17; Rev. 6:23; Eccl. 9:5, 10, all will be clear.

GARDEN CITY, KANS.

Now that the holidays are gone, and we are now in the borders of a new year, let us resolve to do more good towards our fellowmen than we have ever done before in the history of our lives.

The Second Baptist Church is progressing nicely under its new leader, the Rev. L. L. Stewart, who was recently called here from Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roberts, Miss Oramae Fitz, and Miss Ollie V. Dixon of Coffeeville, Kans., motored to Colorado on the 2nd and report an enjoyable trip.

The Bethel A. M. E. Church, of which Rev. T. E. Walker is pastor, is now in the midst of a revival meeting. Mrs. Scott, the lady evangelist, is assistant.

Miss Ella Thompson of Marshall, Mo., spent the holidays here with her sister, Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Hettie Houshen is on the sick list this week. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Miss Mignone Badgett of La Junta, Col., spent the holidays here with relatives and friends. She returned home on the 9th.

Howard McPherson will make good here in Garden City with the Black Dispatch, for it is indeed the best news-paper published in the southwest.

SHAWNEE, OKLA.

Rev. I. W. Brown, Grand Deputy Patron and lecturer of Wewoka, was in the city last week and held the installation of the Eastern Star at William's Hall, Wednesday evening, Jan. 5.

The banquet given by the ladies of the Eastern Star was quite a success. The special feature of the evening was the string music led by Mr. Sheppard, which the younger set seemed to enjoy. A delicious luncheon was served and every one left feeling better than when they came.

The ladies of White's Chapel Baptist Church have been conducting a series of prayer services which were very much needed. Rev. A. V. Branch of McAlester was with us Wednesday and Thursday nights and preached two powerful sermons. He also lectured at Dunbar High School while in the city.

Rev. Motley, who is also from McAlister delivered one of his powerful sermons to a well filled house at White's Chapel, Sunday evening. His subject being "The Power of Prayer." He is a great preacher and his sermons are always good.

We are all very sorry to know of the serious illness of Mr. James John son at his home, 626 S. Oklahoma St., and trust that he will soon recover.

Mr. Kid Cole, who has been chef at the Norwood Cafe for the past four years, left the Norwood with Mr. H. Soward, and has taken charge of the Walcott Cafe.

The Ladies Self Improvement and Art Club was entertained Thursday evening, Jan. 6, by Mrs. John Lawson at the home of Mrs. H. Miller. The greater part of the evening was spent in needle work, after which refreshments of cake and cream were served. The club adjourned to meet Thursday evening, Jan. 20, at the residence of Mrs. Henry Miller, 120 Hayes Street.

Misses Willie and Melissa Day entertained Saturday evening, with a dinner party at the home of Mrs. Lessie Williams in honor of Henry Mitchell and Roosevelt Williams, who left Sunday afternoon for Chicago, where they will attend school.

Mrs. S. C. Davis spent Sunday and Monday in Oklahoma City, visiting friends.

See J. D. Lawson every Saturday for the Black Dispatch.

HOBART NEWS

Rev. D. Sinclair of Chickasha, Rev. Wm. Anderson of Boley, Rev. A. L. S. Randolph and Mrs. Dora Gee of Roosevelt, were pleasant callers at the Dunbar School this week. All report excellent work being done.

REMEMBER THE SABBATH DAY

Matt. 12:1-13

"The Son of Man is Lord Even on the Sabbath Day."

Those who have little of the truth are sometimes great Stickers for formalities. This was true of the Jews at the first advent of our Lord. Feast days, fast-days, Sabbath and giving of tenth were very carefully attended to by them but the weightier matters of the law, respecting justice and love to God and man were sadly neglected. This is our Lord's testimony. So today there are people who give strict attention to Church attendance and to various religious formalities, who wholly overlook the real spirit and intention of the Scriptural Commands. Their attention to the formality seem to satisfy them from making a thorough reformation of life, and seek ing to bring all its affairs into harmony with Divine Law, Love of God and for our fellows.

The Jews of our Lord's day laid great stress upon Sabbath keeping, which fact, according to some people of our day, should have seemed ample evidence of their holiness, full harmony with the entire law—but such was not the estimation of our Lord. They even undertook to chide our Lord and His disciples respecting their neglect of the Sabbath, although they generally admitted that Christ and His Apostles' characters were blameless. On one of these occasions in which reproof was administered by the Phaisees. Our Lord took up the subject and explained it, showing that they had wholly misapprehended the Divine intention respecting the Sabbath. It was not intended to be a burden but a blessing; the Sabbath was not given for God's sake, but for man's sake. He, the Lord Jesus, called them to witness that His disciples were doing no harm that they were merely satiefying their hunger lawfully. He then proved the correctness of His pasition from authorities, they would be willing to accept. They reconized David as a Holy man approved of God, and He pointed out to them how that David under stress of hunger, had eaten bread that otherwise would have been unlawful to eat. Then He laid down the general principal that although labor was prohibited under the law, it was for the purpose of bringing to man, rest, comfort, refreshment and blessing, and not to bring hunger, inconvenience and distress upon either man or beast. He cited them to the fact that certain work was done on the Sabbath by the Priest, and under Divine direction, and that this proved that labor done sacrificially for the assistance of others, as well as for their own necessities, could be no violation of the Fourth Commandment. After declaring himself fully qualified to decide the Sabbath question. He tells them that, watching out for the letter of the law they neglected it's spirit, and should learn that the Lord desires mercy, sympathy, pity, love, done on the Sabbath day, are more pleasing in God's sight, than were those sacrifices which were performed on the Sabbath as well as other days, in the typical Temple. With this proper view before their minds they would not have condemned His disciples whom He, the Master of the Sabbath, did not condemn.

The blindness of the Pharisees respecting the proper interpretation of the law of the Sabbath, is shown by the fact that even after our Lord had given them this explanation, they evidently still supposed that while it would be right for a Priest in the Temple to labor in the offering of a sacrifice it would be contrary to the same law for some one to heal the sick and relieve the distress. Our Lord, however, soon discovered to them the error if not the hypocrisy of their own hearts. He knew that in their love of gain they would help a sheep or an ass out of a pit on the Sabbath-Day because it represented value, and it's remaining in the pit over the Sabbath night might mean its death, and hence a financial loss. Thus He showed them that they well knew how to interpret the law correctly, liberally, when it touched their purse, but that they were so lacking in mercy, sympathy, love, where financial loss or gain was not involved. Our Lord, as a Jew, was bound under the Jewish covenant so long as He lived as a human being; because He did not in any sense of the word make an end of the law covenant until His Death—there He became the end of the law for highteousness (justification) to every one that believeth When the Scriptures informs us that Christ by His death made an end of the law, it means that there was nothing further to be gained by the keeping of the law, and that what there was to be gained by keeping of that law was captureed by our Lord Jesus Christ when at death he said upon the cross it is finished. The offer to any Jew who would keep the law perfectly was eternal life, but all the Jews failed except Christ hence there was no further need of holding out the offer since the prize had been won. All who desire to share any of the benefit of this prize which was captured by our Lord Jesus must of necessity go to the one who has it and receive from him; and all who come to Christ are not under the Law but under Grace or favor which is higher than the law.

We are therefore to understand that from our Lord's discourse hereinabove mentioned to the Jews was to the effect that while negiecting the weightier matters and the real interest of the law covenant, they had fallen into certain habits of thoughts and certain customs which were pervision of the law and wholly inconsistent with the law's real sentiment. Phariseeism had become formism in many respects. It is claimed that according to their definition of Sabbath-breaking the disciples had thresh ed the wheat when they rubbed it in their hands. So also it is claimed and so argued with apparent seriousness, that if any one walked upon the grass with nailed shoes, upon the Sabbath day, that would be a violation of the law because it would produce a kind of threshing, since one might trample out some of the seeds. With equal seriousness according to Jewish history history, it was claimed, that to catch a flea upon one's person would be a kind of hunting and thus a violation of the Sabbath. It is even said to have been debated whether or not a fresh egg should be eaten on the Sabbath or first day of the week, since it implied work on the part of a hen on the seventh day; and we can safely say that quite probably if clocks had been invented at that time they would all have been stopped over the Sabbath. Our Lord shows by His criticism that this was merely hypocrisy and self-delusion on the part of the Pharisees, who found it easier to make a show of righteousness in such trifling things than to consider and seek to obey the weighty matters of the law, justice and mercy. Our Lord showed them that God as he had foretold had more pleasure in mercy than in sacrifice and that if they had His spirit in respect to the matter, they would not be hypricially condemning their fellow creatures who were really doing no wrong. This was a prelude to what followed and prepared the way. For coming to the Synagogue the same day, our Lord found a poor cripple who needed help and while the Pharisees were looking on waiting for a chance to condemn Him for violating the Sabbath according to their false assertions respecting it. He took the opportunity to administer a rebuke before performing a cure realizing, no doubt, that the effect upon His hearers would thereby be more favorable. He knew what to teach them. He knew their tender spots of selfishnessffi and that however much they might delude themselves and others in theorizing respecting observance of the Sabbath, when it would come down to a matter of loss or gain, they would be well able to rid themselves of their superstition and act occordingly, hence He put the question whether or not they would deliver a sheep or an ass on the Sabbath day if it should fall into a pit. He and they well knew they would do, what was the custom, and hence, without waiting for an answer, but taking it foregranted, He proceeded to show that the poor cripple before Him was much better than the sheep or ass, and that He had been trapped into sin, sickness, by the Adversary, and that if it were right to deliver the sheep or the ass much more would it be right on the Sabbath day to help a fellow creature in distress.

Every human obligation is based upon some Divine law. Looking to the Jewish Sabbath, we find that it was the seventh day of the week and was made obligatory through a Divine command—being one of the Ten Commandments given to Israel at Mount Sinai, consequently it was not optional with them how they should keep it, but was obligatory upon the terms explicitly stated. To violate it, the Fourth Commandment of the Decalogue, was to violate one point of the law; and to violate one point of the law was to violate the entire law; because the offer of eternal life to the Jew was based upon his absolute obedience to this law—not his obedience to a majority of its precepts, but his obedience to all its precepts without a solitary exception. In other words they had to keep the law perfectly before they could gain the prize of eternal life. As we have heretofore seen however, and as our Lord and the Apostles expressly declared, no Israelite did keep or could keep inviolately the items of their law, and consequently, according to their covenant, not one of them was ever justified to eternal life.

The Scriptures do not teach and no thinking person can be made to believe that God has made the question of Life-Everlasting or Death Eternal dependent upon the keeping of certain days. The Scriptures specifically warns all who would be followers of Jesus Christ to let the world judge them by the fruits of the Spirit and not to permit themselves to be judged by the keeping of certain days.—Gal. 5:22-23; "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, Godliness, faith, meekness, temperance; Against such, there is no law." Col. 2:16-17. reads thus: "Let no man therefore judge you in, meat, or in drink, or in respect of a Holy day, or of the new moon or of the Sabbath day: Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ."The Scriptures last quoted means to inform us that the laws and ceremonies or the Jewish age including the Sabbath were but shadows pointing to the real thing and the real things since Christ's baptism at Jordan is the Christ. It is true that the law covenant relating to the keeping of the seventh day and all other features of that law was binding upon the Jews with whom it was made and is still binding upon all Jews who do not believe Jesus Christ to be the Son of God; but the law covenant was never binding upon the Gentiles. (All persons not descendent from Abraham) for the reason that they were never a party to it. The Lord had no dealings with the Gentiles and made no covenants or contracts with them prior to the Gospel Age, that is before Christ's baptism at Jordan (Amos 3:2). The Lord speaking to the Jews said, "You only have I known of all the families of the earth, therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities." All Jews who accept Christ as the Son of God and consecrates themselves to follow him are not under the law covenant but under Grace and the only law binding them in the law of love.

In order to more fully understand this subject we should know for what purpose was the law covenant given. The Scriptures inform us that law was given to the Jews to serve them as a teacher or instructor in the rudimentary principles of Godliness and to help all the humble minded to be ready to pass from the house of servants into the house of Sons when Christ came. "Gal. 3:24-25; but all who failed to do their best under the law covenant were not permitted to pass out of the house of servants into the house of Sons and therefore they remain under the law covenant. In other words to simplify the matter let us suppose that we are preparing persons for school teachers; their school ing would begin with the rudiments of first grade principles and they would remain in that grade until they gave satisfaction before they would be permitted to enter higher grades. They would remain under the laws or rules of passing until they complied therewith. So it is with the Jews; all must remain under the law of the covenent until they accept Christ which act is the passing mark. The philosophy of the matter is this, since no imperfect man was able to keep the law in letter and spirit the love of God (John 3:16) arranged that Christ who was perfect, should come in flesh, perfect, and without sin and keep the law; showing that a perfect person can keep the law and at the same time arrange to help imperfect man to keep the law; but before any of imperfect humanity can receive this help and be counted perfect under the law they must come to Christ and agree to do his will and not their own. Under such conditions Christ's merit will be applied to their weakness and they will be considered perfect and as fulfilling the whole law as long as they remain in that condition of untarnished love and desire to do the will of God to the extent of their ability at any cost. All persons so coming to Christ are said to be under a covenent of Grace or favor and not under the law covenent. Christ's death would amount to nothing if any one could be justified by keeping the law. In the first place, Christ would not have died if there was any who were able to keep the law perfectly. —Gal. 2:21.

While the law covenant only represented the A B C principles of the Divine law, yet sinful man has never been able to keep it perfectly. Jesus Christ was the only one that ever kept that law perfectly and therefore as we have above stated, He captured the prize—Eternal Life that was offered to any Jew who could keep it. Now after gaining that prize of Life Everlasting; He has arranged that the Jews may pass from under the curse of the law by having faith in Him and following in His foot-steps. All Jews who come out from under the law covenent by accepting Christ do more by faith than is required of them under the law covenant; instead of giving one-tenth to the Lord, they consecrate and give their all including their lives; instead of keeping one day out of seven as a Sabbath unto the Lord they keep every day for they have entered into their rest.—(Heb. 4:3.)

The Gentiles (all persons not descendants of Abraham) have never been under the law covenant and therefore have nothing whatever to do with this seventh day Sabbath except to know its typical significance as foreshadowing the antitypical rest of the Gospel Age which is not a rest of body but a rest of faith in the merits of the Ransom Sacrifice.

OKMULGEE NEWS

Mr. Autra Sneed, a prominent citizen of Okmulgee, departed this life, Friday night, Jan. 14, 1921, at his home, the corner of Osage and 2nd Sts. He retired to bed Friday night seemingly in the best of health. It is conceded that heart failure was the direct cause of his untimely death. The deceased was widely known throughout Eastern Oklahoma. Was one of the early settlers of this section of the then, Indian Territory. He had been a resident of Okmulgee for twenty-nine years; was active in the early developement of this country. He was a staunch race man, whose advice was sought on questions of great magnitude. He had accumulated much wealth and was connected with the 1st Baptist Church and a member of Mt. Lodge F. & A. M. of Okmulgee, also of Zenith Lodge G. U. O. of O. F. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held under the auspices of Mt. Hope, F. & A. M., No. 96 and Zenith Lodge, G. U. O. of O. F., Drs. J. A. Anderson and Jones officiating. The obituary was read by Mrs. W. H. Fort; resolutions by the above named lodges. Thus at the cemetery the last Masonic duty was performed. A check for $250 was paid the widow of the deceased by Dr. White, grand treasurer of the Local G. U. O. of O. F. lodge, in the presence of the vast audience.

The endowment board of the Court of Calanthe met in Okmulgee, Dec. 29, at guest of Lovely Court, No. 21. The meeting was held in Shorter Chapel A. M. E. The committee spared no pains in their preparation. At the close of the session, the board was entertained by Lovely Court with a two-course luncheon. The Grand W. C., Mrs. F. A. Crawford, installed the officers of the Court. The following members of the endowment board were present: Mesdames F. A. Crawford, DeEtta Smith, M. E. Thompson, Sayde Lee Davis. Mr. and Mrs. A. Nance were quite hospitable and the endowment is lauding them with praise.

Mrs. Nell Brown, of Muskogee, was a guest of friends in the city last week.

Little Vacera Stuart gave a birthday party at her home on N. Porter, last week. Those present enjoyed the occasion.

Mr. Sylvester Gates has the sympathy of his many friencs in his hour of bereavement in the death of his little daughter, who was burned to death at their home on East 3rd St., Thursday of last week.

Rev. H. C. Cousins of Lima, preached two able sermons at Mt. Olive Presbyterian Church, Sunday.

BERWYN NEWS

Now that the holidays have passed, and we are now in the borders of a new year, let us resolve to do more good towards our fellowmen than we have ever done in the past history of our lives.

Rev. G. W. Perkins, pastor of the Second Baptist Church of Ardmore, Okla., preached for us Sunday. Rev. Perkins is indeed a great preacher. He preached a soul stirring sermon, and all who heard him were made to feel glad and well benefitted.

Rev. E. D. W. John, who has been in Oklahoma City for several months, is visiting with his family this week.

Mrs. Amanda Graham of Ardmore, Okla., mother-in-law of Mrs. Cora D. Graham, our principal teacher of Mt. Pleasant school, has been very ill for several days, but is improving slowly. We pray for her a speedy recovery. Deacon Joe Patton of Ardmore, Okla., and one of our best members of Mt. Pleasant Church, was at church Sunday. He reports that his wife, Mrs. Agnes Patton, who has been ill for several weeks, is better. Grandma Pyles was out to Sunday school and church, Sunday. We are always glad at any time to have her to come out and be with us. Our every-day school is not as large in attendance as it should be. The truant officer of this county is planning to visit our school to see who are not sending their childrtn to school. Several of our children are still out of school. The day of opportunity is at our door and if we fail to do our part to our children, Woe be unto us!

LIMA NEWS

One writer says: "Show me the songs of a nation and I'll show you the kind of people they are." The writer wishes to change this wording. Show me the spirit of the people and I'll show you how progressive they are. I want to refer these few remarks to the school, faculty, school board and patrons and of course that takes in all the community. We, the teachers and school board of the Lima High School, are putting forth great efforts to make the school come up to the required standard. There is being no time lost; our efforts are untiring, and yet there is a doubt in my mind as to the appreciation by the patrons of the community. We wonder if they are taken as efforts of progressiveness or efforts simply for honors and a hope of reflection on the part of the faculty, with an increase in salary. If so, the writer wishes to straighten you right at this point, and I am sure she voices the sentiment of the entire faculty and members of the school board as well: these untiring efforts; these sleepless nights, these days of toil which includes six hours and five days in the week, that we spend with your boy and your girl is to make that boy or girl a better citizen and a prepared citizen to take our places tomorrow. It is only a matter of a few years that we will be the teachers of yesterday and your boy and your girl will be the man and the woman that the world will be calling for, not that man or woman who has failed to prepare, but those who have made use of their time, those who have felt the age of progressiveness; those who have felt the efforts of their instructors are the men and women the world will call for. I have said there few things to say this: To the patrons of the community, I appeal, stand by the school, stand by your school board, stand by the faculty. Those daggers that you continue to stab into the heart of the innocent throw them away, make your life one of progressiveness and help someone else to do the same. Stand by the parents teachers club; rally to everything that stands for progressiveness and you will find that this will soon be a community that we will all be proud to live in and remember the world is today, and will be more so tomorrow looking for those "Who can deliver the goods."

Last Friday evening Prof. Jefferson, students of the High School and Eighth Grande department organized the young me nand women lyceium, this organization is a part of the school with a purpose of uplifting our boys and girls socially as well as along literary lines. REMEMBER THE SABBATH DAY
"The Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath Day."

"Remember the Sabbath Day, to keep it Holy, Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work; but the Seventh Day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shall not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: For in six days, the Lord made Heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is and rested the seventh day: Wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath Day and Hallowed it."

This Command injoins idleness on the Sabbath Day of the week. It does not say to cease from ordinary work and engage in Religious work, as many of its advocates seem to suppose; But, on the contrary, it prohibits all kinds of work. Many who think themselves bound by this command, neither rest on the seventh day nor on the first day of the week, which, without orders, they make an effort to keep instead of the seventh day which the law appointed for those under it. On the contrary, to very many, the first day is as busy as any. The ruling under the law was that anyone who even picked up sticks or kindled a fire was a violater of this command, and must be put to death. (Numbers 15:32-35). How many of those who claim to keep this commandment do far more work in the way of cooking and etc. They, their sons, and their daughters, their manservants and maidservants? (See Exodus 35:3). If that Law is now in force and has been extended beyond the Israelites (on whom alone it was put) so as to include Christians (Followers of Christ) then every Christian violates it repeatedly, and is deserving of death for each offense; for they that violated Moses' Law, died without mercy. —Heb. 10:20.

But though our views on the subject differ widely from those of most Christian people, we are very glad that one day of each week is set apart for rest from business, with out regard to which of the seven days is thus observed, or by what law or lawgiver it was originally appointed. We greatly enjoy the day, and think it not only a blessing for those who use it for worship and study, but also for those who use it merely as a day of rest, recreation from toil, to enjoy the beauties of nature, or to visit with their friends and families as they can not do on other days. And we are especially pleased that the day is set apart by the Government under which we live, is the first day of the week, because of the same blessed memories and associations which gave that day a special sacredness to the church in the days of the Apostles.

The Apostles declared that the Jewish law (which included the command relative to the Seventh Day) was superceded by the new and more comprehensive law of the New Creation thereafter in operation toward all who accepted Christ. The Apostles used the Seventh Day as a time for preaching Christ, just as they used every day in the week, and especially because on that day the Jews, their most hopeful hearers, met for worship and study. But the Apostles no where recognized the Seventh Day Sabbath as a day of rest, as the Jewish Law Covenant had enforced it. On the contrary, they taught (Romans 14:5-8) That any and all days are acceptable for good works done in the service of God and for the benefit of fellow men—Matt. 12:10-12.

The Ransom was given for all mankind, but its benefits are applicable only to those who believe. Thus far the believers are only a few compared with the mass of mankind. These have escaped from all condemnation of all broken laws, while, of the remainder, the world in general still continues under the original condemnation, and Jews who have not accepted Christ are still condemned by Moses' Law Covenant. "He that believeth is passed (recondly) from death unto life (John 5:24) while he that believeth not is condemned already." (John 3:18). The whole race of mankind was condemned six thousand years ago, and, if a Jew, he was additionally bonded by the law covenant and has not escaped the condemnation that has so long been upon all mankind, are referred to by the Apostle Paul (Roman 8:1) "There is, therefore, now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh but after the Spirit."

These are the Free Ones: Free from all laws and all penalties—free indeed. "If the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." (John 8:55.) This could not possibly apply to any who put themselves under any restraint in keeping the law. But one says, "can it be that God has released these entirely from both the Law given at Eden and the Law given at Sinai?" Just so; such ones being justified by the death of Christ, and released from their condemnation, and having received His Spirit, which means the love for God and all His creatures, are free from all laws so long as the will of Christ is their will and they do His will to the extent of their ability. Under such conditions we repeat, one is only under the law of love. What is the difference between the law of love and law of thou shalt and thou shalt not? We might illustrate the operation of the law of love by the action of a mother or father who really loves their child. It is absolutely un-necessary to lay down rules for father or mother as to what they should do for the absolute necessities of the child they love. All they need is to know what is best to do of their life; but one not being moved and they gladly do it even at the cost by the Spirit of love, it is necessary to lay down rules of thou-shalt and thou-shalt-not. Servants would of necessity be in the class governed by thou-shalt and thou-shalt-not. (The Jewish people were a house of servants under Moses.) A Son is supposed to act in his father's business from the standpoint of the highest interest and love for the father and his household, therefore you can readily understand that a son would do all a servant would do and much more. When Christ came, He established the house of Sons and all who came into Christ, through consecration of their all to Him are members of the House of Sons and are not under the Servants law. "Thou-shalt and thou-shalt-not," but are under the law of love for God and all His creatures. Thru Him, Christ, our best endeavors to do His will are acceptable, and we are reowned as having passed from under condemnation to death in to justification to life so long as we abide under the blood which secured the New Covenant. In no other way could any be accepted by God. For the law given in Eden was one that required absolutely perfect obedience, and the law Covenant given at Sinai demanded the same. And now since we know that God could not give an imperfect law (James 3:11.) and since we know that no imperfect person could fully obey a perfect law, we see the necessity for us being free from under the law and accepted in the merit of our beloved Christ. Hence we conclude that those in Christ, whether they be Jews or Gentiles, are in no sense under the law given at Sinai. Graven upon stones, termed, "The Ten Commandments,,—neither to the ceremonial attachments relating to typical feasts, sacrifices and services.—Heb. 9:1.

No wonder, then, that the Apostle, so earnestly sought to guard the new Gentile converts from becoming Jews and seeking life under the Law Covenant; by which neither he nor his nation had been able to profit. No wonder he exhorted them to stand fast in the liberty of Christ and His Gracious arrangements under the Covenant of Grace. It was in view of this danger of their losing faith in Christ's finished work, and trusting for salvation to their own efforts to keep the Law Covenant by works, that Paul even prohibited the circumcision of Gentile Converts, althought he approved of it for Hebrews to whom it was given as a symbol and rite long before the Law Covenant was made. Hence the remark that, "The Gospel to the Circumcision," was especially supervised by Peter's mission. (Gal. 2:7-8-14-14.) It will be quite a help in the study of the scriptures to observe that the Apostles often referred to themselvse as having been under the Law Covenant and subsequently freed from its bondage. And to Gentile Converts as not having passed through such experience. —See Gal. 2:17; 3:3, 13-14; 5:5, 6, 8, 10; Eph. 2:11-19.

Kindly understand me. There are some points concerning God's Plan of Salvation upon which my Adventis Friends and I will fully agree, but their doctrine of keeping of the Seventh Day as essential to salvation, that the days of creation were periods of twenty-four hours, that Christ will appear materially and literally, and that the whole world of mankind has been and now is on trial for life or death everlasting during this Gospel Age, and that death settles the question as to whether one is lost or saved, are nauseating to the logical minded and truth hungry person. I admire the zeal with which the Adventis do what they believe to be right in many respects, but I do not admire their closing their eyes to the plain logical truth stated by the Apostle and the Lord Jesus Christ concerning many points of vital interest for the salvation of man. I not them to be like many other well meaning persons who are able to quote much scripture but gifted on misinterpretation not intentionally, of course, but ignorantly; but I am very thankful that the God I serve will reward them for all the good they do with good intention; but may it be understood that the highest rewards and blessings in the Kingdom of God will go to those who understood the plans of God and do and teach accordingly. (Matt 5:19). Adventism is not the only "ism" contaminated with error. Nearly all of the "isms" have within their "Gospel iPe" the dead flies of immortality of the soul, Hell-fire, eternal Torment, and the doctrines of the Trinity.

The Christian has come into relationship with God not under the terms of the Law Covenant made with the Jew, but under the terms of the New Covenant sealed and ratified with the precious Blood of Christ. The Christians therefore have nothing whatever to do with the terms and condition of the Jewis Covenant which bore only upon Israel after the flesh. The fact that by the deeds of the Law Covenant no flesh was justified in "God's sight." (Romans 3:20) leads us to rejoice that we have a better covenant with God through Christ. Our covenant is very much higher than the Law Covenant, just as its mediator, Christ, is much higher than was the mediator of the Law Covenant, Moses. So also is Spiritual Israel (all who come into Christ by consecration) is much higher in every way when was flesh Israel. The foundation of our covenant is not the Ten Commandments written in stone, delivered at Sainai, but a much higher statement of the Divine Law. The Spirit of that law, the meaning, the intent, the grand completeness of the Divine Law, of which, The Ten Commandments was but an incomplete statement brought down to the measurable comprehension of that people. Our new Commandment, as expressed by our Master, Jesus, is not composed of a number of threats, thou shalt not! Thou shalt not! But is composed of one Commandment, "thou shalt love—the Lord thy God and thy fellow creatures." Love is the fulfilling not only of the Jewish Law but a fulfilling also of the entire Law of God, as it relates to Himself and all His creatures. In this New Commandment, there is no reference whatever to a Sabbath Day. Nevertheless as the Ten Commandments to Israel and their Covenant and their Mediator foreshadowed this higher Law of Love and our New Covenant and our Great Mediator, so also we find that the Sabbath feature of the Jewish law has an antitpye on a higher plain in the Christian experience —a better Sabbath. In the type it was a physical rest to the natural, typical Israelite; in the antitype it is a mental rest, a heart rest to the antitypical Israelite. As the Jewish Sabbath day typified the rest of heart, the joy and peace which Christians may possess through faith in Christ—in realizing their sins forgiven, their iniquities pardoned and themselves reconciled to God through the death of His Son—so also the Law of the New Covenant Love, commands all who are in Christ Jesus to rest in full faith in the great work finished for us, by our Mediator, at Calvary. As the Apostle declares, "Being justified by faith we have peace (rest) with God through Our Lord Jesus Christ." Thus we enjoy the rest or Sabbath of our New Covenant. Thus the New Mediator has provided by the Typical Mediator for the Typical Israel. As seven is a type of the complete or perfect rest which we have in Christ, which Israel after the flesh never did and never could enjoy. The Sabbath or rest under the New Covenant is not merely for a day—Alas! How weary we would be if we could only rest in Christ one day in seven! But we may rest continually in Christ, every day and every hour—trusting not to our own sufficiency, but to His. Thus we rest from works of self-righteousness, from all efforts to justify ourselves before God, accepting the justification freely offered to us through the precious blood, and resting in it continually we have peace with God, rest of heart. We have committed all of our affairs into his hands and are resting in Him—keeping a continual Sabbath all the days of the week and all the weeks of the year.

As respects physical rest, however we are under no command respecting this so far as the Lord and His word are concerned, except that our law of love requires that we shall Glorify God in our bodies and our spirits which are His, and hence that we shall observe such rules and regulations in our physical system in relation to our food and clothing and rest as would best qualify us and enable us to perform the Divine service. While we would be glad that all might recognize this matter from this stand point of the New Covenant, yet we know that none can view it and observe it from this stand-point except those who have entered into the New Covenant relationship with God, and these we know are comparatively few of the world's population, although our hope is th tain God's due time, the Millennial Age, all mankind shall be brought to the knowledge and appreciation of this New Covenant and may then, if they will, enjoy all of its provisions, including this rest of faith the antitypical Sabbath—which can be enjoyed only by God's faithful people.

Meantime, however, the world of mankind, amongst whom we live, have through various misconceptions, both of the Law Covenant and the New Covenant set apart one day of the week as a Sabbath or rest day. and as Christians who enjoy who enjoy the real sabbath of Rest and peace in Christ. We are glad to avail ourselves of the regulations of the world to abstain from wordly labor and devote ourselves to spiritual works, spiritual feasts and spiritual upbuilding of character in righteousness on that day. But while recognizing and observing it carefully, because it is the law of the land, and while pleased to have this special opportunity for Christian fellowship and spiritual cooperation, we deny in to to that it is of Divine obligation. And while we should observe whatever day might be appointed by "the powers that be" we should especially be glad that they have by common consent adopted the day which we prefer to all others, because it commemorates the resurrection of our Lord and Master, and hence it commemorates the beginning of our rest of faith in Him.

PROMINENT EDUCATOR DIES

On Sabbath morning at 4 o'clock, Prof. L. M. Jordan, who was instructor in the Lincoln High School of Wynnewood, Okla., died. He had been ill and had suffered for several months with cancer at the head.

Prof. Jordan was born and reared in Texas; at an early age he graduated from Paul Quinn College, having taught school in Texas for several years, he then came to Oklahoma. He taught school throughout this state in several places, including Chandler, Guthrie, and Boley. More than three years ago he was elected principal of the Lincoln High School at Wynnewood, at which place he taught successfully for more than two and half years until he was stricken with cancer in the head.

There are some things worth while mentioning in the life of Jordan; he was industrious and progressive; a man who always stood for those things that were for the elevation of the race.

During his life, he accumulated a great deal of property, not only in Oklahoma, but in Texas also.

He leaves a mother, father, four sisters and six brothers to mourn his loss. Although he has passed to the eternal shores, his works are not passed away; although he is dead, his works will never die. The service he rendered to his race will never die, and the influence he exerted over the boys and girls throughout this state will ever live as a monument to him.

B. F. Smith, Principal Lincoln High School, Wynnewood, Oklahoma.

NOTES FROM LUTHER, OKLA.

Luther is still alive, although the farmers are somewhat discouraged about the low price of cotton and high price of food stuff.

The basket ball team of the Washington High School pulled off an interesting game at Tulsa, one day last week and reported an enjoyable time.

Rev. Dr. C. E. Baker, pastor of the Metropolitan A. M. E. Zion Church, has returned from a visit to Hot Springs and Little Rock, Ark.; Memphis, Tenn; Charlotte, N. C.; Atlanta, Ga.; Montgomery and Tuskegee, Ala.

A most important and interesting marriage took place at the Metropolitan Zion Church, Sunday night, Jan. 5, 1921. The church was decorated with beautiful flowers and etc. Dr. Light of Oklahoma City, performed the ceremony (the pastor being absent) making Mr. William Anderson and Mrs. Jamie Dehoney, one. The groom is an industrious and prosperous farmer and is well thought of by all, as one of Luther's leading citizens. Mrs. Dehoney is one of the very best women in Luther and is a large property owner, a good and faithful member of the Methodist Church. They will make their future home in Luther.

Dr. Baker filled his pulpit both at 11 . m. and 7:30 p. m. and preached two powerful sermons last Sunday. The services at the Metropolitan Church are becoming more and more interesting.

Just before the benediction was announced, the pastor held up a copy of the Black Dispatch and asked all the members to subscribe for it, saying many good things for the paper and its editor. He asked the church to follow his example, for he had subscribed for it.

GODLY RECONSTRUCTION IS NOW IN PROGRESS

"Times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord; and He shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you; whom the Heaven must receive until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all His Holy Prophets since the world began."—Acts 3:19-21.

The word restitution used in this text simply means reconstruction The test seems particularly appropriate at this time. President Wilson has stated that the world has ended and a new world is in progress of construction. Mr. Lloyd George, Europe's foremost statesman, insists that the old order must be reconstructed. Practically every statesman of the world is of the same opinion. They realize that society must be organized on a different basis. The Socialist claims that the time for reconstruction is here and that they have the remedy. The Bolshevist claim that they have the remedy. And of course each of the leading political parties of the land think they have the best method.

We are in full agreement that the time of reconstruction is at hand; that the old order is passing away and that a new order must be established; but all theories of reconstruction advanced by statesmen, politicians, or ecclesiastical organizations are man-made and must fail.

The Anglican Church is now making a nation-wide campaign, believing the time is ripe for reconstruction, their theory being that the population of the United States must be Americanized and brought under the influence of the Protestant Church. The Catholic is of the opinion that the method of reconstruction is through the Catholic System. All of these are man-made and man-suggested theories and any and all of them are well illustrated by the Great Master's words when He warned against patching an old garment with a new piece of cloth, advising that the new being so much stronger than the old would rend the old and they would both be useless.

It is a fact that the whole world needs reconstruction, and since all the efforts of man has thus far failed and must continue to fail, the Wise Man will turn to the Divine arrangement for the rebuilding of society and the establishment of a firm government. Every honest hearted man sure him a plenty to eat, no famine, sickness, pain, death, nor profiteers. The Wise Man is he who will seek to know the Lord's way of reconstruction; and finding this he will follow God's way.

Jehovah is perfect; His plan is perfect; and everything He does, of course, must and will succeed. But in order to appreciate God's method of reconstruction and what He will really bring about through Christ in the next period of years, we must first understand the real cause of the present disorder and dissatisfaction amongst the peoples and nations of the earth. The cause lies further back than the beginning of any present earthly government. It dates back to the disobedience of man in the Garden of Eden at the time that Lucifer seduced mother Eve, caused her to walk in forbidden paths; and when Adam, rather than be separated from his wife, committed suicide by joining her in the transgression.

Our first parents were perfect in mind, body, and invironment. They had the right to life; they enjoyed happiness without limitation. They knew no such thing as envy, graft, murder, far, etc. ..But when the judgment of condemnation passed upon them they were driven from their perfect homes into an unfinished earth. They were required to earn their bread by the sweat of their face. They were required to subsist upon the poisonous elements of earth; they became sick and began to degenerate; and while undergoing this process of degeneration their children were begotten and born. The children inherited their parent's imperfection. This is the plain and simple reason that all humanity or human beings have been born imperfect. The Psalmist thus put it: "Behold, I was shapen in iniquity and in sin did my mother conceive me." (Psalm 51:5) St. Paul reasoning along the same line, under inspiration passed upon all men, for that all have sinned—Romans 5:12.

For more than sixteen hundred years, from Eden until the flood, the human race degenerated, and some years thereafter God made a promise to Abraham, a devout man, saying to him: "In thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed." (Gen. 22 :16-18.) Here was a promise made by Jehovah of blessing mankind, which really means reconstruction. No blessing could be lasting without an opportunity for life everlasting. St. Paul states that God's gifts to man is life everlasting. (Romans 6:23.)

It is to be seen at once that the seed must be developed (according to the promise) before the blessing could come to all the families of the earth, or, in other words before the Great reconstruction work could properly begin. St. Paul plainly indicates that this seed is Christ Jesus, the head and His body members chosen from amongst men, which members are designated the "called out class or church—See Galatians 3:16, 27, 29.

This seed had the beginning of its development at the consecration of Jesus at Jordan. Subsequently He died upon the cross. Why was He put to death? The Scriptures answer that before the seed of promise could be completed, before any members of that class could be taken from amongst Adam's stock, redemption must be made for them. Therefore Jesus came to earth to give His life a ransom, which means a corresponding price. (Matt. 20:28). (Let it be remembered that although Adam disobeyed wilfully and intelligently and immediately began to move in the direction of destruction—death, God's love continued to follow His unrully human son to the point where he tells us that "He so loved the world that He gave His first and only begotten son on the spirit plane.") (John 3:16) He sent Jesus for the very purpose of redeeming the race, according to His promise. "I will ransom them from the power of the grace, I will redeem them from death; O death I will be thy plague; O grave, I will be thy destruction. (Hosea 13:14).

Jesus was made a man for the very purpose of redeeming mankind. "We see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honor; that He by the grace of God should taste death for every man." (Heb. 2:9). It was the will of God that all should be saved from the Adamic judgment or condemnation; hence we read: This is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Savior, who will have all men to be saved and come unto the knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, and one Mediator between God and man, the man Christ Jesus, who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time."—1 Timothy 2:3-5.

When Jesus arose from the dead, He was no longer alive as a human being but as a Divine being, having the prize of His earthly sacrifice at His disposal for the purpose of using it in harmony with Jehovah's will. He ascended on high, presenting the merits of His earthly sacrifice before the mercy seat and acceptance of this was granted when the Holy Spirit was given to the Disciples at Pentecost. There at Pentecost began the selection of the members of the body of Christ, those who together with Christ, Jesus constitute the seed according to the promise. This seed has been in process of development during the entire Gospel Age. They have not had a bed of roses, neither has their pathway been strewn with flowers, nor have they walked always by babbling brooks; but their way has been one of suffering for righteousness' sake. We can see a reason for this when we understand the Bible.

When Adam and Eve were in Eden and Satan was there and deceived our parents, God declared that He would put enmity between the seed of the serpent and the seed of women, and that there should be warfare between them to the end. We see that Satan has instigated a persecution against every man whom God has approved. This was true with the Prophets and true with the Christians. A conspiracy was formed against Daniel by the religionist of that time, corresponding to our present-day clergy organizations; and they caused him to be thrown into prison for sedition. Sedition has been a favorite crime with which to charge anyone who has been striving to follow in the footsteps of the Master. This crime was charged against the Lord Jesus; and the Roman government, induced by the religionist of Jewry, had Him put to death. The first Christian martyr following the crucifiction of the Lord was St. Stephen. The various sect leaders of the clergy of his time were unable to withstand the force of his plain argument. He was speaking to them about a period of reconstruction that was coming in the future; and on the strength of this they charged him with blasphemy and sedition and put him to death. He was telling them of Messiah's Kingdom yet they would not hear. Nearly everyone of the Apostles was charged with a similar peace and prosperity, which would inoffense. St. Paul spent four years in prison, being charged with sedition because of his faithfulness to the cause of righteousness. St. John, the Revelator, convicted of the same crime, was banished to the Isle of Patmos and there required to beat rock in Prisoner's garb; and there God gave him a wonderful vision, which the Lord has been opening up to our understanding in this day. Throughout the age this has been the rule. The followers of Jesus have been persecuted. When John Bunyan refused to bow his knee to the clergy of Great Britian, he was hailed into the court charged with sedition and sentenced to imprisonment. Then a clergyman waited upon him and said, "Bunyan, if you will consent, if you will come and conform to the teachings of the church (meaning the state church) we will let you out of prison; and if not, at the end of three months we will have you put to death." Bunyan replied, "You need not wait three months. Do it now!" But they did not put him to death. They kept him in prison for twelve years because of his faithfulness to the Lord; and while there he produced that wonderful book which has cheered the hearts of many Christians, Bunyan's "Pilgrim Progress."

This persecution of Christians has been at the instance of the great adversary, Satan, the Devil; and it would be most reasonable to suspect Satan would inject into the minds of men who disregard God's ways, various schemes concerning reconstruction, because he sees the time for reconstruction is at hand and it would be his delight to confuse the minds of the people by having them follow some wrong course to their disadvantage and disappointment.

Our text shows that Jesus must remain in Heaven until the time of reconstruction or restitution, and that His second coming would mark the period of time when the old world would end and the new begin and reconstruction follow shortly thereafter. It was prophetically written of Jesus that when He does thus come He will establish a righteous government. "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful Counsellor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. Of the increase of His government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon His Kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even forever." (Isiah 9:6, 7). We may be sure that when Messiah establishes a Kingdom it will be a righteous one and that all reconstruction will be along proper lines and every man will be required to obey the law, because the Prophet declares: "When thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness." (Isiah 26: 9). A righteous government established in the earth, administered by a righteous and perfect ruler, would not mean the patching up of the old order, but it would be building the new and better order.

The Apostle Peter describes the present disorder in the earth and the melting of the elements ecclesiastical, financial, political, industrial, social, etc., and then adds: "Nevertheless we, according to His promise, look for new Heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness." (2 Peter 3:10-13). The promise here mentioned is the promise of God made to Abraham of reconstruction; through the seed according to the promise. The new Heavens is the new invisible ruling power, the Messiah. The new earth is the new order of society on the earth directed thru the Messiah, and administered by the faithful worthies of old, who are to be resurrected as perfect human beings.

The time for reconstruction must be when the Lord's Kingdom is set up. His Kingdom is now in process of erection but since it is a fact that no great amount of construction—change of form or order, we must witness what the poor blind and ignorant would term a destruction or practically all that is worth living for. This accounts for the shaking and discontent in all the pot schemes and institutions of man at the present time. When the Kingdom of the Lord is erected, restitution or reconstruction will begin and this new order of things will regenerate the whole human race regardless to nationality. They will be given just and righteous laws, taught how to eat and sleep, how to study and think, and how to treat their fellow creatures and how to develop a good honest character. And all who render themselves in obedience to these perfect laws will be gradually reconstructed, or restored until they reach the perfection both mentally and physically that Adam had when first created. This reconstruction will also embrace a beautifying of the earth as a fat habitation for men, when the desert shall yield abundantly for man's sustenance, when profiteers will be no more. Every man will love his neighbor and every man will strive to do right, and all those who will not do right will not be permitted to make progress.

The Prophet Isiah gives a beautiful picture of this in the 35th chapter: "The wilderness and the solitary places will be glad for them (the people); and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose. It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing; the glory of Labanon shall give unto it, the excellency of our God—In the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert. And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water." The Prophet Ezekial says that the earth will become as the garden of Eden;" The land that was desolate is become like a garden of Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are become fenced, and are inhabited. (Ezekiel 36:35). Under the new order of things a few men will not own all the houses, but the people shall build houses and inhabit them." (Isiah 65: 21-24). The Lord through the Revelator gives a wonderful picture of this kingdom and its reconstruction work. Written in symbolic phrases, as the Revelation is, it describes in symbol the gradual coming of God's time for blessing mankind. A Government is represented as a city, the Holy City representing the Holy, righteous government. We notice that the 21st chapter opens with the statement: "I saw a new heaven (meaning the new invisible ruling power) and a new earth (meaning a visible new order of things on the earth) for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea (no more revolutionary masses of mankind) And I saw a Holy City, New Jerusalem, coming down from God out of Heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of Heaven, saying, Behold the tabernacle of God is with men, and will dwell with them Galley SIX—6 and they shall be His people, and God Himself shall be with them, and be their God. And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; for the former things are passed away. And He that sat upon the throne said, 'Behold I make all things new.' Then will come to pass the saying of Jesus: "Whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." (John 11:26). But this scripture will not and cannot effect mankind until after 1925.

SHAWNEE NEWS

The ladies of White's Chapel, Baptist, had their Home Mission sermon preached, Sunday evening, Jan. 30, by Rev. Wm. Green of El Paso, Texas. He delivered a great sermon. Collection $12.75. He is a very able speaker and delivered two interesting sermon Monday and Tuesday nights.

Mrs. Thomas Jones, physical culture teacher of Langston University, was in the city last week, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Caesar. While in conversation with the reporter, Mrs. Jones spoke very highly of the friendly relation which seems to exist between the patrons and faculty commended for the way they seemed to be striving to help the teachers and pupils in their efforts to make the Shawnee High School what is should be. She also complimented our teachers for the nice, quiet manner in which they all worked together. This makes us think of the old maxim: "Where there's unity, there's strength."

Mrs. Mollie Hill and daughter, Mrs Ada Walker, deserve much credit for the interest they manifest each week striving to have the Black Dispatch in their home.

Mr. Thomas Saunders of Topeka Kans., was in the city last week, visiting his daughter, Mrs. Lula Saunders. It was quite a pleasant surprise for Mrs. Saunders and little daughter, Odessa.

Mrs. H. C. Cousin was a business visitor to Shawnee last week. She was accompanied by her little daughter, Helen, and was the guest of Mrs. John Lawson.

The banquet given at Williams' Hall, Jan. 28th, by the Knights of Pythias and Court of Calanthe, was quite an enjoyable affair. There were plenty of good things to eat. The special feature of the evening was the string music played by Messrs. Tate and Wilson.

MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER GO INTO THE GRAVE

For many centuries sickness, sorrow, suffering and death have afflicted the human race. But there has always been just enough joy mixed with the sorrows of life to create a longing desire for life-everlasting. And if that Life-Everlasting could be accompanied by perfection, the happiness of man would be complete. Recognizing Jehovah as the Great First cause, whose attribute are wisdom, justice, love and power, and who is the Creator of man, it seems entirely reasonable, that He, having permitted man to so long desire the blessings of Life-Everlasting, His wisdom and love would lead Him to make provision for the gratification of that desire. But reasoning or theorizing alone could not lead us to a satisfactory conclusion, nor has man been left to rely merely upon reason. Jehovah has graciously provided a record, written by Holy men of old and by His inspired witnesses, which record discloses the fact that God has a Great Plan that He has caused to develop in an orderly and majestic manner. In this record, The Bible, we find the testimony concerning man's origin, his course, the reason for his sickness, sorrow, suffering and death, and what the future holds for him.

The Bible has never been wholly and completely understood, but according to the standard stated in the Bible, the light has shown brighter and brighter as the centuries have progressed, and the promise is made that greater light would be shed upon the pages in the close of the Gospel Age. When the Prophet Daniel recorded a brief history of the world, long before these events transpired, Jehovah told him to close up the prophecy and seal the word, so that they could not be understood, until the time of the end. (Daniel 12:4. The inference must be reached that when that time, " the time of the end," occurs, the Bible would be better understood.

If in this hour of great distress upon humanity, we can find a consoling message that will bind up the broken hearted and comfort those that mourn then with gladness we should embrace this message and be eager to tell it to others, that they too may rejoice. This article is written for the purpose of showing that the time is here to understand the Bible; that we are in the time of the end; that the old order is perishing from the earth; that the new order is coming in; that restitutional blessings will soon be offered to the world and then men who obey the righteous laws of Jehovah will never die. In the examination of this subject, we must apply the prophetic evidences and scriptures in the places where they belong. The Scriptures admonish us: "Study to show thyselves approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of Truth." (2nd Tim. 2:15). The scriptures that applied at one stage of the world's history may have no application now, and vice-versa. Such was recognized by the New Testament writers and particularly by the Lord Jesus, Himself.

For nearly nineteen centuries, students of Divine Prophecy have expected and looked for the world to end, because Jesus taught that it would end. Christian men, however, failing to recognize the distinction between the symbolic and literal phase of the Bible have been confused concerning the end of the world. For instance, the Great John Calvin taught that upon the happening of the event (the ending of the world) Jesus, re-appearing near the earth, would cause fire to be emitted from the clouds, setting the earth on fire and totally destroying it and everything on it. John Calvin being a preacher of great renown, it was supposed that he based his conclusion upon a proper interpretation of the Bible, therefore great numbers believed his teachings; for this reason, with fear and trembling many have looked forward to the ending of the world.

Reason would lead us to the conclusion that Jehovah would not create a wonderful world like this, permit man to bring it to a high state of cultivation, in many places, then completely destroy it. Such is wholly out of harmony with His character. Likewise such is out of harmony with the plain teachings of His word which says: "The earth abideth forever." Ecc. 1:4. "For thus saith the Lord who created the Heavens: God himself that formed the earth and made it: He hath established it. He created it not in vain, He formed it to be inhabited."—Isa. 45:18. When the Bible speaks of the world ending it does not mean the literal earth, but it does refer to an epoch or dispensation of time, during which a certain arrangement or social order of things exist. In proof of this, the scriptures show that there was a world which existed from the time of creation until the Great Flood. "Whereby the world that then was being overflowed with water, perished." 2nd Peter 3:6. At the end of the flood a new world began, and the promise is made by the same scriptural writer that it shall end. The period of that world is from the flood until the second coming of Messiah, and the beginning of another new world or order of things.

There are several distinct periods of time mentioned in the scriptures which have their ending particularly at the same time; among these are "Times of the Gentiles" and "The end of the world." The scriptures show that the Gentile times span a period of two thousand five hundred and twenty years. They had their beginning at the overthrow of Zoddikiah, the last king of Israel, in the fall of 606 B. C., at that time Nebuchadnezzer of Babylon established the first universal empire in the earth. This period of two thousand, five hundred and twenty years, then necessarily ended in the fall of 1914 A. D. Referring to this period of time, the Great Master, through the Revelator, said: "The Nations were angry, and thy wrath is come. (Rev. 11:18). This prophecy was fulfilled exactly on time

We will now submit the testimony of Jesus of Nazareth. Every one who believes that He is the Son of God and that He spoke with authority must believe, in the light of the events that are daily transpiring, that the Old Order has ended. Jesus had been teaching His disciples that the world would end, and that He would come again and that His Kingdom should take the place of the old unrighteous order. Just five days before His crucifixon, His Disciples approached Him as He sat on the Mount of Olives and propounded this quetsion: "Tell us when will this happen? What will be the sign (proof) of your arrival, and of the end of the world?

It was not God's purpose that the Disciples should at that time clearly understand the answer that the Master gave. This answer was couched in such prophetic phrases that it could be understood clearly by no student of the Bible until the events transpired. His answer, in the light of present events, however, is now manifest. He showed that the end of the world would be marked with great trouble and disturbances in the earth. His answers are set forth in the 24th chapter of Matthew and the 21st Chapter of Luke. Among the answers given Him are the following: "Nations shall rise against Nation, and earth quakes in divers places. All these are the beginning of sorrow.

Chronologically, the Old World ended in the autumn season of 1914, and exactly on time Nations rose against Nation, and Kingdom against Kingdom, and there followed the greatest war of all history. Twenty-nine nations were involved in that war, including the greater part of the earth's population. The nations that were envolved are particularly designated among mankind as Christian Nations. True to the prophetic utterances, this was the beginning of sorrow, marking the end of the world.

Closely, followed a further fulfillment of the prophetic answer; namely, famine. Notwithstanding the fertile condition of the earth and the wonderful means of production, the conditions accompanying the war made it necessary to establish in nearly every country, a "food administrator." That the people have been in a condition of famine for the past three or four years, no one would attempt to gainsay. From Armenia comes the cry today of starvation, a similar cry from Russia; from Germany, from Australia, from the Balkans; in fact from nearly all parts of the earth.

It is to be expected that this condition of food shortage will grow worse and world wide. And following upon the heels of the war and the food shortage came the greatest pestalence that has afflicted mankind. In four years the victims of war numbered approximately nine million. In less than one year the victims of the dreaded Influenza exceeded twelve million. Scientists warn against a reoccurance of the pestalence, because the lack of nourishment amongst the people lays their systems open to the attack of disease germs.

Throughout the Scriptures, earthquake used in a symbolic sense means revolution. Here then we have another fulfillment of the prophetic answer of Jesus. With the fall of aristocracy in Russia came a great revolution. With the fall of Plutocracy in Germany a revolution occurred there. The public press almost daily reports conditions prevailing throughout Europe which convinces us that revolution on an unprecedent scale is ripening in that part of the world, while our own country, the news columns are filled with reports of a disturbed condition among the labor element and in fact, the same disturbed conditions between labor and capitol is world-wide.

In further answer to the question propounded by the Disciples concerning the end of the world, Jesus said: "Then there will be upon earth dis—— of Nations with perplexity; the sea and wave rearing; men's hearts failing for fear and for looking after those things which are coming upon the earth." There could be no doubt of the fulfillment of this scriptural statement in this very hour through which we are passing. In his address to Congress since these days of disturbances began, President Wilson said: "These are days of great perplexity, when a great cloud hangs over the greater part of the earth. It seems as if great blind material forces have been released which have for long been held in restraint."

Government officials are in perplexity; financiers are perplexed; business men are disturbed and their hearts are fearful; men who have to do with labor organizations are in perplexity and disturbed; and the restless element of humanity, which the Lord likened unto the sea, is roaring. And the people, the waves, are dashing against each other, and there is a general condition of unrest in the earth, all of which are evidences of the fact that the Old World has come to an end and the time of the New is here.

One of the most conclusive truths given in the answer of Jesus is that concerning the Jewish people. God organized the Jews into a Nation and dealt with them exclusively for more than eighteen centuries. The time came when, besause of the Jews' unfaithfulness, that nation was destroyed as a nation, and Jesus said: "They shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations, and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled." (Luke 21:24)

As we see on every hand disfavor coming to the Gentile Nation, we notice favor returning to the Jews. For the first time since 606 B. C., the Jews the spring of 1918, organized again their government in Palestine, which proves according to our Lord's own statement in Luke 21:24, that the Gentiles' times were full or at an end.

As additional evidence in answer to the question, Jesus said: "The gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached into all the world for a witness all nations, and the end shall come." This is now being fulfilled. The message is being translated into every known tongue, and is being carried to all parts of the earth. This is not for the purpose of converting the world, but, according to the testimony of Jesus it is for a witness that some of the people of the world may know in advance of God's purpose of establishing a Kingdom here upon earth.

He further answering His Disciples, declared that as it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be in the end of the world. For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, maryying and giving in marriage until the day, that Noah entered the ark, and knew not until the day when the flood came and took them away. And we find it exactly so in the time in which we are now living. Very few, comparatively speaking, of the people of earth really stop to consider what is the meaning of the present disturbed condition of society. They continue with their business and social affairs as usual, giving little or no heed to the scriptural testimonies and the fulfillment of prophetic utterances. Such was true in Noah's day. While Noah preached, the people scoffed and mock ed him. At the present time of distress, when the people are greatly in need of comfort, the majority of the teachers of the Lord's plan as a class not only fail to tell the people the meaning of the terrible trouble, but they treat the subject with contempt and scoff at any one who claims that the world has ended.

Addressing Himself to the Disciples in parabolic phrase, Jesus likened His true followers, true Christians, to wheat, and the false, or merely Christian by name, to tares. He said 'the two would grow together in the same denomination until the time of harvest, and then there would be a separation. He plainly said: "The harvest is the end of the world." A clear fulfillment of this prophetic evidence is found in present day events when Christian people, without regard to Denomination or Creed are forsakening the old systems and coming together to worship God in spirit and in truth.

We have not attempted to produce all the evidence at our command to prove that the world has ended, but we are satisfied to rest our cause upon the prophetic testimony of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Summing up the circumstantial evidence as obtained from the Lord when asked to tell what shall be the proof of the end of the world, we find true to our Lord's statement in 1914 the Nations were angry; Nations were against Nations, Famine is threatening the whole world, pestalence is raging and smitting down humanity from right to left and especially veneral diseases which is said to be more distructive than war and which is now smiting down all grades of society of both sexes and of all ages; earth quakes (revolutions) are rumbling and being heard on every hand; the Jews have returned to Jerusalem; the Gospel of the Kingdom here on earth is being preached to every nation; as it was in Noah's day the people are heedless of it this very time concerning the warning that the world has ended; the sun (true gospel of Christ's Kingdom) is darkened; the moon (true significance of the law covenant) is not giving her light; the stars (the preachers) have fallen from their spiritual position of teaching the truth; the powers of Heaven (The Church System) are being shaken and distress with perplexity is upon the whole earth and men's hearts failing everywhere for fear.

BERWYN NEWS

The Berwyn City school under the principalship of Mrs. Clementine F. Sneed, is progressing fine. The midterm examination was held last week and most of the papers were a credit to the children. Several reached the 100 mark, which is something unusual. The playground is all set with trees and a new fence is being built around the playground. We are building on our grades for the final examination. The seventh grade will have their examination the first week in March.

Rev. Blake of Langston, Okla., preached at the First Baptist Church of Berwyn, last Sunday. Rev. Blake delivered a wonderful sermon and all who heard him were benefitted.

He also preached at the C. M. E. Church, Monday night. We are always glad to have Rev. Blake with us.

Sunday was a busy day at Robertsville. Rev. B. E. Givens, of Purcell, Okla., preached a spirited sermon. All hearts were uplifted. Rev. Givens is a great preacher and everybody likes to hear him.

Mt. Pleasant Sunday school was omitted on account of the weather being very unfavorable.

We are enjoying the biggest snow of this year. All farm work is tied up. The Mt. Pleasant public school is progressing very nicely under the principalship of Mrs. Cora D. Graham. Several of the children are out of school. We are afraid that the truant officer will have to get after some of the parents for not keeping their children in school.

PERRY HERALD

Church services were fairly attended Sunday.

Mr. John Alexander spent the week-end in Enid.

Rev. and Mrs. Burdette entertained a number of friends at their country home, Thursday evening.

The occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Burdette, many useful gifts were received. All guests departed at a late hour, wishing Mrs. Burdette many more happy birthdays. Those attending from Perry were Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Taliaferro, Rev. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jackson.

Master Basil Abbott is suffering with a severe cold and has been unable to attend school.

Mrs. Wm. Ervin is confined to her home on account of illness.

An Eminent Young Lady Dies

Miss Beatrice Outland departed this life, Feb. 15, 1921. She was born in Texas, October 26, 1900, her father and mother moving to Oklahoma at an early age. She was of a lovable disposition, making friends will all she met.

In 1913, she joined Mt. Olive Baptist Church and ever afterwards lived a consistent Christian. She was ever at her post of duty willing to do what ever she could for the cause of Christ. And in her childhood days, she was a very obedient child, always loved by her teachers.

Our loss is but Heaven's gain. She is gone but not forgotten. She leaves to mourn her loss, a father, mother, brother, grandmother and sister-in-law and a host of friends.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank Dr. Clark and our many friends for the valuable service and untiring efforts rendered us during the illness and death of our daughter and sister, Beatrice Outland.

Ben Outland, father.
Eliza Outland, mother
Ada Dial, Grand-mother.
David Outland, brother
Anna Outland, sister-in-law.

Mrs. Maudie Logan, of Oklahoma City, spent a few days in Lima, last week.

Mr. Ralph Turner left for McAlester, last Monday.

Get your Black Dispatch at the Post office, every Saturday.

Don't forget the milk and tooth brush campaign to be put over by the teachers in the various schools of the county. This drive is doubly essential and will mean much in safe-guarding the health of our many Negro boys and girls.

We are glad to say at this writing that the list number are all convalescent and no one else has been added.

BRIDGEPORT, OKLA.

The funeral of Mrs. Myrtie Gray was held at Pleasant View Baptist Church, Wednesday, Feb. 16. Rev. E. J. Hudson preached the funeral. Quite a few out of town friends were present.

This has been a dull week for the early gardeners. Several have started gardening already but the snow has called a halt.

Mrs. Lottie Haywood is visiting in Bridgeport this week.

Mr. G. W. Farmer was given a surprise party Wednesday night, by his daughter, Juanita. A few of his intimate friends were present. A very delicious luncheon was served.

Mr. Richard McDornald is in town.

Miss Madell Owens attended the funeral of Mrs. Gray, last Wednesday. Miss Owens is a charming teacher of Canadian county.

Bridgeport welcomes the Black Dispatch each week. It seems hard for some of the readers to wait for the paper to be delivered to them. We hope this interest will increase.

Mr. Ira Gray is on the sick list this week.

Literary program, Friday nights. Come out and see what the young people are doing.

Mr. Foster Pierson transacted business in Lookeba last week.

Mr. Presley Hudson is out of town this week, working.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Martin are having great success in Cordell. They have succeeded in securing very desirable positions. We are glad but hope they will return to us soon.

A fine baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Brown on the 18th of February. Mother and baby are doing fine.

A fine baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Houston on the 16th of February. Both baby and mother are getting along well.

Master Henry Johnington died Feb. 20. He was ill for about two weeks. The remains will be sent to Ardmore, Okla., for burial. He leaves a mother, Mrs. Lizzie Johnington and father and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

Mrs. Mary Cook gave a Stag Party in honor of her son, John T. Lilly, and son-in-law, Anthelo Tippleton, on Tuesday night, Feb. 15. Sixteen guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Graves have moved a house upon their lot at No. 9 Columbia.

Lawton was hit with a heavy snow storm. On account of inclement weather, services were not good at the churches. A faithful few were there to carry on the work. Each minister was at his post.

Mrs. Lula Moore made a flying trip to Dallas on business. On her return Monday, she reported that Dallas is a business place.

The Box Supper given last Monday night at Vernon School, Lawtonville addition, was a real success.

A delightful program was rendered by student body under the supervision of the teacher, Miss Eula V. Evans.

Three prizes were awarded as follows: to the little Misses Zelma A. Bean, representative for fourth grade best reproduced story; Ethel Mae Strauther, representing sixth grade, best original story and a prize to the champion speller of the student body, Lily V. Green. Funds raised will go for play-ground equipments.

Mrs. A. J. Strauther left Wednesday to attend the Bishop's Council at Dallas.

WETUMKA NEWS

On account of the big snow, there [illegible] church nor Sunday school on last Sunday.

[illegible] Broom writes from California that she may be back to Oklahoma in the summer.

Rev. Joe Adkerson has just about completed his four-room residence and will soon be ready to move in.

The Roscoe Simmons Literary Society is still having excellent meetings. Master Hardie Richardson and Clarence Williams demonstrated to the audience what part the dog and gun played in the late World War.

MUSKOGEE NEWS

Saturday and Sunday, Muskogee experienced the largest snow seen here for many years. The people of Muskogee were practically snowed under. The snow was about 15 inches deep. Only forty-five inches of snow has fallen in Muskogee in the last seven years, while in twenty-four hours, fifteen inches fell. The snow was so heavy on some buildings that it caused them to fall in, damaging thousands dollars worth of property.

The church services were fairly well attended considering the large snow that covered the town.

The Ladies Federated Club of Muskogee, gave a Frederick Douglas celebration last Monday night at the Antioch Baptist Church. Many beautiful musical selections were given; also a number of interesting addresses on the life of Frederick Douglas. The main address was given by Rev. Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

St. Valentine's Day was not forgotten in Muskogee. A number of entertainments were given for the young people. The entertainments given by Misses Coffey and Mitchell at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Coffey and the "Mystery Club" given at the Dreamland Hall were quite a success.

GARDEN CITY, KANS.

The supper given on Valentine night at the A. M. E. Church was a success.

The Colored Hotel, known as the "Santa Fe Hotel" was opened on the 15th. A grand opening was held and ice cream was served to those present. The opening of this hotel by Mr. and Mrs. Jackson is a long felt want for Garden City, therefore the many hundreds of travelers who very often find it necessary for them to stop over here for a few days while enroute for Colorado and other summer resorts will not be puzzled any more as to some place for them to stop, for the Santa Fe Hotel can accomodate them.

Garden City and vicinity has a blanket of about 6 inches of snow, which started to falling here about midnight Thursday night, and lasted throughout the whole of Friday.

The sacred program held Sunday night at the Ebernezer Baptist church of which Rev. Henderson is pastor was indeed a success; the church was crowded.

Mr. Arthur Well has returned to our city.

Mr. Henry Fantroy of this city received the sad news of the death of his daughter a few days ago. She lived in Kansas City, Mo. She will be buried there.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Carter entertained with a six o'clock dinner on Thursday evening; Rev. L. L. Stewart and Mrs. M. C. Berry—it is needles to say that these champion entertainers acquitted themselves in making it pleasant for their guest, for they never fail to do that.

Miss Ollie V. Dixon, who has been stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Pennington of North 8th Street, for the last two months, and whose home is Coffeeville, Kans., left on the 16th, in company with her mother and little sisters for Denver, Col., where they go for an indefinite stay. Mr. Dixon the husband and father of the Misses Dixons is a business man of Coffeeville, Kansas.

NOTES FROM LUTHER

The services at the Methodist church, last Sunday, were good, notwithstanding the ground was covered with snow. The Christian Endeavor at 6 p. m., conducted by Miss Mary Crosby was the best this year. It is hoped that all will be out next Sunday..

Messrs. J. A. Cox, J. F. Moore, J. T. Armstrong, Chas Green made a business trip to Oklahoma City this week.

What proved to be one of the most enjoyable affairs was the basket ball game between Shawnee and Luther, last Friday night. The game ended Luther 14, Shawnee 3.

Work is still going on at the First Baptist Church, Rev. T. B. Mattox, pastor.

The farmers are beginning to turn up the soil in and around Luther.

On account of the big snow storm, the singing at the Methodist Church Saturday night, was postponed, but had they come, Luther would have given them a full house. People from Chandler, Wellston and near-by communities were much disappointed.

Rev. Griffin, pastor of the First Baptist Church, El Reno, preached at Metropolitan last Monday night and Rev. Taylor of Brooksville, preached at the First Baptist Church Sunday, at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Luther Basket ball team will play Langston, next Saturday, Feb. 26. A good time is contemplated.

CLAREMORE NEWS

The people in and around Claremore witnessed a big snow last Friday, but the weather is good at this writing. The Lincoln High School Basket Ball Team defeated the Lenapah team last Friday night, 17 to 12. They will play Parsons, Kans., this coming Friday. As they go, we rest assured that they will bring the bacon home.

To Mrs. Bertha Lynch, has been born a fine girl.

Mrs. Lynch is a sister to Mrs. C. J. Troup.

The Claremore Branch of the N. A. A. C. P. is taking on new life. Rev. C. B. Benton is president, while Prof. W. C. Jones is secretary.

Mrs. E. West and Mrs. E. Cobb entertained Club No. 2 of the A. M. E. Church, Saturday night. It was enjoyed by a large crowd. The neat sum of $9.00 was raised.

Mrs. Ena Bell entertained Club No. 1. of the First Baptist Church, Thursday night. Both clubs went over the top and over the top clean.

Mr. Cage Miller's brother and family are new-comers into our city. We are glad to have them come. Cobb and Washington Bath Houses are on the boom, doing good services.

Services at both churches were good all day Sunday.

MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER GO INTO THE GRAVE

Dear Friends, not for the purpose of exciting you, but for the purpose of giving you timely warning, at it is the duty of every true servant of the Lord, I wish to say that a very dark night is just a few steps ahead of us. If we are confident the present world or order of things has ended there is much yet for us to experience. "A day of darkness and glominess, let all the inhabitants of the earth tremble, for the day of the Lord is great and very terrible and who can abide?" (Joal 2: 2-11). "I will bring distress upon men because they have sinned against the Lord." (Zeph. 1:14-18); "Go to now ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you." (James 6:1-6) "Their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the Lord." (Ezek. 7:17-19). "For then shall there be great tribulation such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be, and except those days should be shortened there should be no flesh saved; but for the Elects' sake those days shall be shortened." (Matt. 24: 21-22).

This saying of Jesus is subject to only one interpretation; namely, that the old order will completely pass away by the greatest time of trouble the world has ever known; that there will never be another such time of trouble; that it will be so great that all the human race would perish from the earth unless the Lord would cause it to be shortened, for His Elects' sake, namely, those whom He has elected or taken out of the world—the Lord Jesus and the true Christians—for the sake of such, the days will be shortened and will therefore result in many human beings passing through this time of trouble without dying. Why should the Lord permit any to escape death in that time of trouble unless He expected to do them some good? Why say for the Elects' sake that He is going to shorten the time, and thus save many from death? There can be but one condition. The Elect constitute the seed of Abraham according to the promise, through which blessings shall be ministered to the remainder of mankind. Therefore God would spare some to pass thru this time of trouble that the Elects might begin the reconstruction work of the human family, first with those who remain on earth.

Again referring to the great time of trouble that is now afflicting mankind, the Prophet of the Lord wrote: "And it shall come to pass that in all the land, saith the Lord, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left therein. And I will bring the third part through the fire (the firey trouble) and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried; they shall call on my name, and I will hear them; I will say, it is my people; and they will say, the Lord is my God." (Zach. 13:8, 9.) Why bring a part of the people through the fiery trouble unless it is God's purpose to give them a chance to accept the blessings that shall be ministered through Christ? Clearly this is the purpose; for He says these will hear Him and will become His people and be obedient to Him.

Again, the Prophet of the Lord, speaking concerning those who love righteousness in this time, said: "Blessed is he that considereth the poor: The Lord will deliver him in the time of trouble. The Lord will preserve him and keep him alive, and he shall be blessed upon the earth (not in Heaven); and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies." (Psa. 41:1, 2). This is a wonderful incentive for men in this hour of great disturbance and distress to be considerate of the poor and afflicted, to deal righteously with their neighbors, tol ive in peace and honor the Lord. Such are the ones that are promised deliverance in the time of trouble. Those who ——— meekness and righteousness and avoid turmoils are especially promised protection in the time of trouble. (Zephaniah 2:2-3.)

Referring again to the same great stress upon the world and what shall follow thereafter, the Prophet of Jehovah said: "Wait ye upon me, saith the Lord, until the day that rise up to the pary; for my determination is to gather the Nations together that I may assemble the Kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger; for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. For then will I turn to the people a pure message, that they may all call upon the name of the Lord, to serve Him with one comment." (Zeph. 3:8, 9). Why turn to the people a pure message after this time of trouble is over unless God intends that the people should profit by it?

Many children have been left fatherless in the recent war and revolution, and with comfort the Lord's Prophet says: "Leave thy fatherless children I will preserve them alive; and let widows trust in me." (Jeremiah 48: 11.)

After those who pass through the time of trouble have been ministered unto and given the opportunity of blessings by the Messiah, then those who have slept in their graves in death shall be awakened and given a knowledge of the truth. That will be their "Due Time" to hear the message concerning the Ransom. "Marvel not at this, for the hour is coming in which all in their graves shall hear His voice (Christ Jesus) and shall come forth; they that have done, good unto a resurrection of life and they that have done evil unto a resurrection by judgment." (John 5:28, 29, Revised Version). "There shall be a resurrection of the dead both the just and the unjust." (Acts 24:15) "Christ is risen from the dead and become the first fruit of them that slept. For since by man (Adam) came death, so by man (Christ Jesus) came also the resurrection of the dead. For as all in Adam died even so all in Christ shall be made alive. But every man in his own order." (1st Cor. 15:20-23) The Apostle then proceeds to show that the Messiah must reign until He hath put all enemies under His foot. The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death."

It will be during the reign of the glorious Messiah that the following text will be fully realized: "If a man keep my sayings, he shall never see death. "It cannot be said that man, in the true sense, lives until he has a legal right to live, and the legal right to live comes to him only when it is offered as a gracious gift thru Christ Jesus, as whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." (John 11:26). This scripture must have a fulfillment, and the time for the beginning of its fulfillment is the beginning of restitution times, which commence with the reign of Messiah. The old order being dead and passing away, and the new coming in, there are millions of persons on this earth now, who will pass through that trouble and who, by obeying the Lord's righteous rules, shall never die.

The Prophet Job has given us a beautiful picture of this arrangement for the restoration of mankind. He describes a man who is aged and sick; and there is brought to him knowledge of the great Ransom. He believes and accepts the Lord's teachings, obeys the righteous rule and is restored to his youth, and his flesh becomes fresher than that of a child. (Job 33:18-26.)

Let us take a peep for a few moments at the blessings to come to man during the time of Christ's Kingdom: "Times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord." (Acts 3:19-21). "To this end Christ both died and rose that He might be Lord (ruler, controller) both of the dead and living." (Roman 14:9). "The wilderness and the solitary places shall be glad for them." (Isa. 35:1-6). "They shall build houses and inhabit them." (Isa. 65:21-24). "The earth shall yield her increase." (Psa. 67:6). "And the inhabitants shall not say, 'I am sick.'" (Isa. 33:6). "In that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book." (Isa. 29:18, 19.) "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes." (Rev. 21:4). "The ransomed of the Lord (all mankind) shall return (from their graves) and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads." (Isa. 35:10). "The eyes of the blind shall be opened and the ears of the deaf unstopped." (Isa. 35: 5).

Saint John, the follower of the Lord Jesus, was convicted of the alleged crime of sedition and banished to the isle of Patmos. While he was there as a convict in a rock quarry, the Lord visited him and gave him a wonderful mental vision of the blessings to come. Saint John saw the incoming of the Golden Age, and sublimely describes it thus, "And I saw a new Heaven and New Earth for the first Heaven and the first Earth were passed away and there was no more sea and I, John, saw the Holy City, the New Jerusalem coming down from God out of Heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of Heaven saying, 'Behold the Tabernacle of God is with men (on earth, not in Heaven) and He will dwell with them and they shall be His people and God, Himself, shall be with them, and be their God.' And God shall wipe all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; for the former things have passed away." (Rev. 21:1-5.)

In this glorious reign of Christ, the great enemy of mankind, death, will be destroyed. When there is no more death to ravage the human race, the people of earth will live in joy, in happiness, in peace forever.

BOSS, OKLA.

We, the citizens of Boss, highly appreciate the action of the Health Board of Idabel, Okla., who has made is possible for Mr. Roger D. Hill to receive medical attention at a hospital in Houston, Texas. Mr. Hill lost his health in training for service at Des Moines, Iowa. Upon his return home, he entered school, but continued to grow worse. Mr. Hill left Monday, Feb. 21, for Houston. We pray for him a speedy recovery.

NOTES FROM LUTHER

The farmers are taking advantage of the fine weather and are pushing ahead with their farms, and the women are beginning to plant their gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Littlepage of Oklahoma City, worshipped at Metropolitan last Sunday. Mrs. Porter of Dallas, Texas, addressed the Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m.

The Washington School basket ball team played Langston last Saturday. The results were 19 to 15 in favor of Luther, with the girls—but the boys lost. Well it would have been too bad for the girls and boys both to beat a high class State Normal School. See?

The service at the Metropolitan on last Sunday was very interesting. Dr. Baker preached a most excellent sermon from the text: "I go to the Father." (John 14:28.)

Mrs. Patterson, one of the citizens of Luther, died last Friday morning and was buried Sunday. Her funeral was attended at the Christian Church of which she was a member.

Mrs. Mamie Jones, one of our most efficient teachers, is on the sick list this week.

Rev. T. B. Mattax, pastor of the First Baptist Church, preached a wonderful sermon at his church, last Sunday.

Rev. Dr. Baker visited Langston University last Saturday and reported a fine trip, meeting several of his old time friends and college associates.

A grand social was given at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Armstrong on Monday evening, from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. Mrs. Porter, of Dallas, Texas, being the household guest.

There will be special service at Metropolitan, Sunday, March 6, and special music for the occasion. The public is cordially invited.

CLAREMORE ITEMS

Wake up, Claremore! This city, at present, is suffering from a great shortage of houses. There are several who wish to locate here but cannot find any houses. We must get busy and build some more houses.

The Band Boys met last Monday night at Lincoln High School in regular session with excellent attendance and interest . President Roy Lewis presided. A committee was appointed to raise money to purchase band instruments. The committee got busy at once and is meeting with much success. The Band Boys also gave a Tacky Party at the School House last Friday night and will give a Home Talent Play there Friday night, March 4. The play is "Mr. Bug from Bugsville." Admission, 10 and 15 cents. There will be refreshments of all kinds. The proceeds will go for instruments.

The faculty and students of Lincoln High School gave a George Washington Party last Tuesday night. They rendered one of the best programs that has been given in this city for some time. All who took a part, did well. After the program was over, refreshments were sold and the faculty and students netted the nice little sum of $23.10 for their athletic department.

On Wednesday night, the S. M. T.'s gave an entertainment at the home of Mrs. Wiley, on South Missouri avenue The Board No. 2 gave a "T" Party at Mrs. Beach's home on S. Wichita avenue.

The Boosters Club was entertained last Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Greene Hamilton on S. Cherokee avenue. The young people's Social Up-Lift Club was entertained by Miss Callie West on S. Catalayah avenue. Many young folk were present and all report a nice time and pronounced Miss West a fine hostess. Music furnished by Mr. James Morrie, Troy Murrell and Edward T. Moore. After luncheon was served, the club adjourned to meet next Thursday night with Miss Frankie Troupe.

The Silver Leaf Club met this week with Mrs. Ola Abernapthy.

Mr. O. Jones has opened a new barbershop on S. Missouri avenue.

There was fine service at both of the Churches, Sunday.

Mrs. Clara Miller, formerly of Independence, Kans., is in the city and is planning on making this her home. We all welcome Mrs. Miller to our city.

Misses Lillie Turner and Mary Allison of Tulsa, spent Sunday in the city, the guests of Misses Minnie and Mabel West.

The most interesting basket ball game of the season was played in Tulsa last Friday night between the All-Stars, girls picked from the best teams from over the state and the coaches picked from over the state. Claremore was represented by Miss Byrd, the coach from Lincoln High School of this city and Miss Mabel West of the Girl's team from the same school. The girls succeedied in defeating the coaches by a score of 25 to 11.

Among the Claremore fans who went to Tulsa to see the game were Prof. John West, Misses Minnie West. Ellen Mosby and Prof. W. C. Jones.

BRIDGEPORT, OKLA.

Church service was excellent Sunday. Rev. Jones seems to be in the highest of spirits. He is the man to make good for he is not easily discouraged.

The young people gave Miss Roberta Lewis a surprise party Saturday night. Guests numbered about 28. Everyone expressed themselves as having had a lovely time.

Mr. Ira Gray has moved to Watonga. We wish him much success at his new home.

Mrs. Annie Farmer, who has been ill for about two weeks, is much improved at this writing.

Mr. Joe Shepherd and several others from Watonga, were in Bridgeport last week.

The program rendered by the Dunbar Literary Society, Friday night, was a success.

Mr. Lee Givens spent Friday visiting relatives in Pauls Valley, Okla.

KONAWA, OKLA.

We have been having some very inclement weather, but the snow has at last left and we are now enjoying some beautiful days.

The farmers are glad to see the sunshine, so that they may be able to get through picking cotton. Their children can come to school then.

Bethlehem Baptist Church had a good service Sunday. The Rev. M. L. Edwards preached for us. We all enjoyed his sermon.

Bulah Chapel, A. M. E., had a high day. The pastor, Rev. W. H. Wolden, seems to have been at his best since he has been away from his flock for some time. We hope he will live long to preach the gospel.

BOLEY NEWS

Bishop W. H. Heard preached to a crowded house, Wednesday night, Feb. 23. His discourse was practical and full of spiritual fervor. Long may this good man live to preach the gospel.

Miss Florrie D. Pugh was in the city this week.

Rev. T. W. Kidd and Rev. Hubbard accompanied Bishop Heard to Boley.

Mr. Will Welch and wife of Texarkana, Ark., were in the city attending the funeral of Mrs. J. D. Welch, his mother; also Mrs. Jasper Crenshaw of Alberquaque, New Mexico.

Mr. Tom Hollin of Clearview, Okla., was also here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Welch.

The county institute was well attended by teachers from all points in the county. The programs were very interesting.

Every one enjoyed the Boone Concert. Mr. Day was highly impressed with Boley. Mrs. Day charmed the audience with her melodious voice. Blind Boone was at his best. We are always glad to welcome people of this type. Come again, you are welcome.

Sunday was an ideal day. All the churches were crowded.

Rev. A. M. D. Langrum preached a soul stirring sermon at the C. M. E. Church.

Rev. Lee, new pastor at Ward's Chapel, filled his pulpit for the first time. We trust the membership will join in with their pastor and make this a great year.

Rev. Webber preached the burning gospel to a packed house at Antioch Baptist Church.

Rev. N. J. Johnson held his audience spell-bound as he preached the pure gospel. He is a good pastor and we can never forget the wonderful truths he has given us. He is winding up his 4th year's work at Prewitts Chapel M. E. Church.

Mrs. I. W. Young was in the city this week.

Miss Ernstyne McNeal, Misses Ghant and Webb, also Mrs. Callahan, left Sunday to resume their school work.

Mr. Sam Gates, Eugene Hyder, Luther Cavil, John Coldwell motored over to Chandler to the ball, Saturday night. The report a big time.

The Father's Day program was very good. We should be proud of our boys and girls. Each one played well his part. Too much praise cannot be given Mrs. Mayme Haynes and Mrs. O. H. Bradley for this interesting program.

Mrs. M. Ethel White-Brewer writes that she is highly pleased with her work in Muskogee.

The Coleridge Taylor Choral Club has been invited to sing for Editor DuBois. Don't forget the date, March 9. Too much praise cannot be given Post Master Simmons for bringing such great men to us. Don't fail to hear him.

Mr. C. W. Kelly and G. W. Dawson are on the sick list this week.

Buy the Black Dispatch and help Patton. He needs it.

DOTS FROM ALTUS

Sunday found the church well crowded both morning and evening. Rev. Walker preached as he never preached before. Many souls were made to feel glad as he talked by the way side. The wife of our pastor is very ill. Rev. Gilkey filled his appointment at Mangum Sunday. He reports that a dinner was served in honor of Mrs. Parker F. Ford and family and reports a grand time. Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. Hawkins and family are ill with small pox.

Mr. Grover Mandervit is very ill at this writing.

COALGATE NEWS

The Washington School is sorry to announce the death of Little Thelma E. Gray, who died last week and was buried on the 22nd of February. Her mother passed away a few years ago, leaving a sister, an aunt and a host of relatives to mourn her loss. On the behalf of the bereaved, the school club donated the amount of $3.00.

Rev. Hamp Anderson of the First Baptist Church preached a good sermon to the congregation last Sunday. His subject was "Friendship."

Rev. R. C. Douglas of the A. M. E. Church preached a very good sermon last Sunday and filled the hearts of all the members with a determination to go forward.

Rev. C. H. Washington, pastor of the A. M. E. Church at Pauls Valley, Okla., passed thru here on his way to Lehigh, Okla., and stated he would return tomorrow and effect an Inter-Racial Club.

Miss R. Coleman visited her sister and brother-in-law at Atoka, Okla., and will return for work Monday morning.

LANGSTON, OKLA.

The students gave an entertainment Wednesday night in honor of President Marquess. This entertainment was a great surprise to the President, the date being the time of his birthday. He received several presents from teachers and students.

The greatest speech President Marquess has ever made was on this occasion. His speech was fifty minutes followed by tremendous applause.

Hon. J. W. Keyser, secretary of the State Board of Public Affairs, and Hon. U. S. Russell, chief clerk of same department, were with us last Tuesday evening and both gave us interesting remarks concerning our school. We certainly appreciate our friends and are very glad to have them with us.

A big game of basket ball was played here last Saturday evening between Langston and Luther. Luther boys played our boys and the Luther girls played our girls. This being the first game of the season our boys have played, the scores were 11 to 23 in favor of Langston.

Sunday was the universal day of prayer observed by the Y. M. C. A. A special sermon was delivered on this occasion by Rev. Starks. Many visitors were present.

It has been ten years since the university has put out a catalouge and never in the history of the school have we had an annual: but the members of the Senior Class, with the support of the student body, have one well under way.

Rev. D. W. Lathlen spoke to the members of the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday. The young men enjoyed his talk very much.

BROOKSVILLE NEWS

Services at the churches were fairly well attended Sunday. Rev Brown was at his post of duty at the A. M. E. Church. Sunday school and 11 o'clock services. B. Y. P. U. at the Baptist church were all well attended.

Rev. Smith preached at 11 o'clock and Rev. Harrell filled the pastor's place at Independent. He preached for us at night, a sermon we all enjoyed. Mrs. House, who has been ill for quite a while, is reported as not doing so well.

Mrs. Turner from Oklahoma City, is visiting with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Syperts and also Mrs. Millines. They spent the morning visiting the school. She seemed to be very well pleased with the work of our school and says she certainly enjoyed the time spent there among the teachers and children. She also met Ye Humble Scribe. Come again, Mrs. Turner.

Mrs. Ruth Edington visited at Earlsboro the first of last week and returned the latter part of the week, bringing with her Miss Grace Edington, who will spend a few days visiting in this burg. They also called on Mrs. C. H. House Sunday afternoon.

School is certainly getting on fine. You miss a treat when you fail to hear the programs being rendered by the children. The are very helpful and instructive. Let all the patrons attend these club meetings and let your wants be known towards a better school and the board will know just what to ask for from our county officials.

Rev. M. L. Edards returned from Konawa where he filled an appointment and sent in quiae SEHTRADOL ment.

FREDERICK SPARKS

Will Thomas (colored) of Frederick and Ben Miller (colored) of Oklahoma city, and light weight champion of Oklahoma, will meet in a ten-round return match Wednesday night March 2 at eight p. m.

Many of the whites are now reading the Black Dispatch, which has been worked up by Little Luddie Williams, the agent. We will have to send for more papers so that he can supply both races.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Hattie Mae Davis, a fine boy.

The revival is still going on. Will close next Sunday, which is the 6th of March. Until now, 26 souls have been added to the church.

Rev. Durr of Louisiana, is conducting this great meeting. He is a great preacher and knows well what to do in a revival.

Rev. Durr seems to be impressed much with this part of Oklahoma and is expecting to make many of the towns and cities of the state before returning home.

BOOKERTEE, OKLA.

On the 14th of Feb. God saw fit to call from our midst, Sister Beatrice Grayson. She was a member of Mt. Calvary Baptist Church, and also a member of the Bright Prospect Tab. No. 106. She was also buried with the honor of this Tabernacle. Dr. Charlotte Reynolds, H. P. of Golden Link, Tab. No. 63, was with us. Dt. Beatrice leaves a husband, two children, mother and father, one brother two, sisters and other relatives and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

The biggest snow that Bookertee has ever witnessed fell here on the 18th inst. and stayed on the ground for two days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hall, J. T. Erwin and others were in Okmulgee last week in the interest of the U. N. I. A. and A. C. L.

For Poro hair dressing, see Mrs. E. D. Smith. She will give you service. Mr. C. A. Lawrence has a first class barbershop on the campus.

Mr. James Harper made a trip to Oklahoma City on business.

Mr. Tim Thompson was in Wewoka last week on business.

Mr. T. C. Simpson of Holdenville, is in the city, visiting his brother, Rev. S. W. Simpson.

Messrs. Henry Rawls and Mansfield Westbrooks motored over to Bookertee Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Trenley of Renties, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Franklin, Sunday.

Dr. J. D. Brooks of New York, general secretary of the U. N. I. A. and Hon. Arnold, his private secretary were most royally entertained at the mansion of President J. C. Leftwich, Saturday evening.

For the first time the Bookertee Division No. 236, had the opportunity of hearing first hand information about the whats and wherefores of the much talked-about Garvey movement A. C. L. and the Black Star Line.

At an early hour Soturday night, the chapel was packed to its capacity with people eagerly awaiting for the arrival of Dr. Brooks, who arrived at about 8 p. m. The choir, under the auspices of Mrs. C. B. Childs, music teacher of Bookertee Agricultural College, sang two beautiful anthems.

We enjoyed the address very much.

President J. C. Leftwich, Rev. R. P. Steward, Mrs. Annie Hudspeth and Mrs. Annie B. Ward were in Henryetta, Okla., one day last week on business for Bookertee school.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Walden and mother motored to Bookertee Sunday and visited their sister and daughter, Mrs. Clara Lawrence.

THE CHURCH DENOMINATOIONS ARE CONDEMNED AND CAST OFF FROM FAVOR WITH GOD.

I beg to remind you, dear friends, that the human race has reached the point upon the Stream of time, when the battle is raging as never before, between Justice and Injustice, Truth and Error and soon Injustice and false teachings will go down in defeat, never to rise again.

In my attempt to show why the teachings of the Russelites should be substituted for what the Church Denominations teach, I will discuss the subject under four general headings, to wit: God's Character, His Plan for human salvation, His promise, and The time for the fulfillment of His Promise.

Now first, as concerning God's Character, He would have His human creatures to understand that they can look to Him as the very highest conceivable standard of Justice, Power, Love and Wisdom. God tells us in Isiah, 55: 8, 9, that "My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, for as the Heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. By this statement, Jehovah would have us get the thought fully into our minds that our highest conception of Justice, Power, Love and Wisdom is as far below His standard as the earth is below the high Heavens.

To give you a clearer idea of the thought intended to be conveyed in the Scripture just cited, I remind you the boundary of the physical Heavens have never been reached by the most powerful telescope of today. When man invents his most powerful instrument and points it into the physical Heavens, piercing millions and millions of miles of space, what does he find? Instead of seeing the boundary of the physical Heavens, he learns that the more powerful the telescope used, the more realms of endless space in the physical heavens open before his gaze. What should this teach us concerning the character of God? We should apply the measure He gives us and find out. He gives us an earthly illustration as to the distance between the boundaries of His noble character and the very best there is of His human creatures. Just as the boundary of the physical heavens is an immeasurable dictance above the physical earth, so is the character of God an immeasurable distance above that of the very best of mankind.

Depraved humanity, with all of its weaknesses and short comings, would not for a moment consent to the torturing of the worse criminal on earth.

Nearly everybody would consent to death of a wilful, red-handed criminal, in accordance with the law. But no one would sanction his eternal torment. Nowhere in the civilized world will men allow a law to be placed upon the statute books permitting lasting torture of criminals. Remember that death does not mean torment. Torment corries the idea of keeping one alive for the sole purpose of inflicting him with great pain and misery.

Who would dare put God's character for justice and love below that of fallen humanity? No one but the representatives of the Church Denominations would do such a thing. They claim that God fore-knowing all things, planned that the wicked, after death, should be tormented thruout all eternity. Such teachings by the Church Denominations represents God as having a character for love and justice far below that of the worst of humanity.

A son is supposed to show, in a large degree, the character, spirit, and disposition of his father. A true Christian is a spiritual son of God and who is supposed to develop more and more of the character-likeness of God, his father.

If the teachings of the Church Denominations are true then the mob who delight, with hellish grin, to hear the groans of their helpless victims while struggling in the flames would represent the elects of God. And why do I say this? Because if it is true that Jehovah God delights to torment sinners throughout eternity then the mob which only had power to torture its victims for a short time would be showing their father's spirit to the extent of their ability.

It is hard to do anything much worse to a person than to misrepresent his character. All the Denominations misrepresent the character of God in that they claim that God planned that a saintly few should go to Heaven while the billions of humanity spend eternity in a hell of fire and brimstone, tormented by fireproof devils. There is no scripture foundation for the doctrine of Eternal Torment. This doctrine is based upon the false idea that when one dies, he is not dead. There is but one plain statement in the Bible which seemingly supports the idea that the dead is not dead. It is found in Gen. 3:4 and reads thus: "Ye shall not surely die." This statement was made by the Devil for the sole purpose of misrepresenting the character of God. The Devil intended to impress and did impress our fore-parents that God could not be depended upon and did not tell the truth when He said to them if they disobeyed His law they would surely die. In other words, the Devil told our foreparents that God was lying. All the Denominations, with few exceptions, teach that there is something about a person that remains alive and can be punished after death. By this teaching the Denominations are saying the self-same thing that the Devil said, "That man does not surely die" and therefore they are guilty of openly calling God a liar.

What is death? What is the meaning of the term? What did God mean when He told our foreparents they would die if they disobeyed His law? These are very logical questions at this point. God answers all these questions, Himself, through the scriptures. He tells us that when a man dies he is unconscious, has no memory, cannot speak, cannot breathe, cannot think, cannot give thanks, can do no work, neither loves, hates or envies; has no feeling, and knows not anything.—Ecc. 9:5, 6, 10; Psa. 6: 5; 115:17; 104:29; 146:4. According to God's own word, as shown in the scriptures just cited, there is nothing left of a man to be burned or tormented after he is dead.

The would-be wise preachers of the Church Denominations tell the people that it is the soul of man that is blessed or punished after death, this, then, of necessity brings up the question as to what is the soul? A soul is a moving, breathing, sentient being that has senses and exercises those senses. Man is a soul. Man has not got a soul but man himself is a soul. There is quite a difference between a man having a thing and being that thing. There is certainly a great deal of difference in a man having a cow and him being a cow. Every creature that breathes is a soul. God applied the word, "Living souls" to the lower order of animals long before the creation of man. Gen. 1:20, 30—marginal reading. The word "soul" is applied to both man and beast in Numbers 31:28. God declares that both man and beast die alike and go to the same place. The scripture reds thus: For that which befalleth the sons of men befalleth the beast; even one thing befalleth them, as the one dieth, so dieth the other; yea they have all one breath; so that man hath no pre-eminance above a beast for all is vanity. All go to one place; all are of the dust, and all turn to dust again. Eccle. 3: 19, 20. My opponents to be consistent, in view of the scriptures just cited, are forced to do one or two things and that is they must either denounce their claim that the wicked dead are tormented throughout eternity or take the position that the bad ox, mule or horse etc. will roast thruout eternity and the good ones will go to a Heaven of eternal bliss with man because the scripture plainly says that both man and best have breath and go to the same place. To what place does man and beast go? That place is hell, the grave, oblivion, a condition of non-existence.

The principle difference between man and beast is: 1st, man is created with finer organism and therefore capable of doing higher and more noble thinking; 2nd, God has made an arrangement for the resurrection of man while no such arrangement has been made for the brute beast.

From where will man come when resurrected? From the dust of the earth. Dan. 12:2.

Again some of the wise Denominational teachers claim that it is the spirit of life that lives on after man is dead and that it is the thing that is blessed with a life of endless bliss or cursed with endless torment. But I wish to say that such claim is wholly without foundation for truth for the reason that the phrase "Spirit of Life" or "Breath of Life" simply means invisible power. In other words it means the power God has to give life. When we read in Eccle. 12:7, that the Spirit returns to the God that gave it, we are to understand this to mean that the power to live or to be resurrected to life again after death, returns to the one who first gave it and no one can live again until God, in His due time, uses this Spirit or power in their behalf.

What is it about man that is to be resurrected? It certainly is not the body that is resurrected for the reason that the scripture plainly states that God will give it a body as it pleases Him 1 Cor. 15:38. It is plain to see that if it is the body that is resurrected and God gives it a body the person would have two bodies. What is the it, that is to be resurrected? For want of better words to express the thought we term it the character Pattern that will be resurrected. To illustrate this thought we will use the pattern of a dress or the patent of a piano. The dress may wear out or the piano may be knocked to pieces and thrown in the scrap pile but as long as you have that dress pattern or patent to the piano, you can reproduce that dress or that piano out of such material as pleased you. The character of no two individuals is just alike. We are all shaping characters different in some respect. God carries the character pattern of every person in the chamber of His memory and in the resurrection day will reproduce the character pattern of each person and give them bodies as it pleases Him.

Now concerning God's Plan, the scripture discloses the fact that God foreknew that man would sin and go into death and that He planned to redeem him through death of His Son and in due time grant life everlasting to all the willing and obedient. The scripture further shows that God is working out His plans for human salvation through three great periods of time called worlds or ages. The first world or age runs from the creation of man to the flood, the second world or age runs from the flood to the first coming of Christ and the third world or age from the second coming of Christ onward without end. 2 Peter 3:6, 7, 13. God used the first age, from creation to the flood, principally, in permitting the Holy Angels to convince themselves that it was not within their power to rescue man from death. He used the first part of the second world or age to develop a house of servants which includes all persons loyal and faithful to God, down to the first coming of Christ. He is using the latter part of this second world or age, known as the Gospel Age, to develop the Church, the seer of promise, the seed of Abraham, the Christ, who is to bless all the families of the earth, during the third great period of time known as the world to come wherein dwelleth righteousness. Both the first and second world or ages, have been and are being used in part to let mankind convince themselves of their inability to establish a government that would be the desire of all nations. These great periods of time have also been used in letting man learn something of the exceeding sinfulness of sin.

The Gospel Age was opened up for the sole purpose of selecting and qualifying the officers who are to serve in the spirit phase of the incoming Kingdom. It was not God's plan to convert the world during this Gospel Age. God has appointed a day in which to judge the world in righteousness. Acts 17:31. And the length of that day in which man is to be judged is 1,000 years. 2nd Peter 3:7, 8.

Just at this point it might be well for me to explain the meaning of the word church. The word, church, means a called out class; it come from the word Ecclesia. It is composed of Jesus, the head, and the members of His body. (Colossians 1: 8) The names of the members are not written upon some church registery or Inter-church world movement record, but are written in Heaven. —Heb. 12:23. The members constitute a peculiar people, called out from the world, and developed into the likeness of Christ Jesus.—1 Peter 2: 4-10. No one is considered a member of the church that is recognized by Jehovah unless he is baptized into Christ. Neither has anyone a prospective chance to live with the Lord in Heaven on the Divine Plan unless he has been baptized into Christ's death. In other words, one must be dead with Christ so far as the things of the world are concerned. Rom. 6:3-5, 8. To be baptized into Christ's death means to be fully consecrated to do the will of God unto death. When one comes to the point where he is glad to tell the Lord that he surrenders all to Him including his life and is willing to follow Him through thick and thin even unto death, that is the time one takes his first step of baptism into Christ's death and then is when his name is entered upon the roll in Heaven as probationary member of the Church of the first born. You may judge yourselves by this standard and if you can conscientiously say that I have turned over all to the Lord and am doing all in my power to live up to my covenant, and if you are faithful until death, you may rest assured that when the roll is called you will be there; but if you have not taken this step of full consecration to the Lord, I feel safe in advising you to seek the Lord and a knowledge of His plan at once and get ready to live right here upon this earth throughout eternity. These man-made organizations are not churches, regardless to the names by which they are called.

The Church Denominations teach that these man-made organizations are over-busy collecting money and claiming to be trying to save souls are churches that the Gospel Age is the day of salvation for the world of mankind and all who die outside of these denominations will spend their eternity in torment; that death during this Gospel Age ends all so far as beinf saved or lost is concerned; that the resurrection of the dead is for the purpose of rewarding the just with life everlasting and for judging the unjust and giving them a chance to gain life everlasting.—John 5:28, 29. And that the judgment of the unjust will begin at the second coming of our Lord which is at the end of the Gospel Age. Acts 3:19-21. In all these most important points the Church Denominations teach directly in opposition to the plain statements of the Bible. The Bible represents God's own words to His human creatures. God's words are true and any teaching which disputes the plain statements of the scripture is saying in so many words the same thing that the Devil said to Mother Eve," that God did not tell the truth." Therefore God's plan like His character has been and is now being woefully misrepresented and the humble people left in gross darkness concerning God's plan of salvation.

WEWOKA HAPPENINGS

Madam Rumor has it that Cupid has been shooting cross-eyed if Dr. C. C. Rice is not married, there is a certain widow certainly believes he is.

It seems that the Fight Spirit got loose in Wewoka Saturday evening. Dan Reynolds, white, and Banks Carolina pulled off the first stunt. Reynolds danced to the tune of $11.75 at the justice office and Carolina went free. Later on in the game, Brixsie, proprietor of the Ellison Grocery Co., white, tackled Red over a bar of soap. The fighting was brisk and fast. Red must have won the day; both parties danced to the tune at the justice office of $11.75. Later on John Flemmings was caught in the net, accused of interferring of an arrest. They asked John for $31.00 and costs. Boys, fighting is mighty hard on pocket books at this season of the year. It

Miss Annie Scott is finishing her art course and is proving herself very efficient. Her teacher is much delighted with her progress. Miss Scott seems to like Wewoka.

Dr. W. T. Rickman was treating the sick Sunday afternoon in Wewoka.

Mrs. M. Hayes was seen on the street after many weeks' of illness.

Rev. Pipkins, presiding elder of the C. M. E. Church, was holding his quarterly conference with Rev. Lockhart. Spiritual interest is running high at the C. M. E. Church.

The Blind Boone Concert at Douglas High School was every whit a success. Well attended by both colored and white. Blind Boone was entertained at the residence of Mrs. Cora Chiles. Mrs. Chiles served a special luncheon for the entire party.

Rev. S. D. Brown of the M. E. Church, held services during the entire day.

The Independent Industrial League is gaining favor every day. The people are understanding the purpose of of the organization and are rallying to its standard. The demand for literature is enormous.

Mr. J. E. Douglass, our special deputy, seems to miss all the fights, but Officer Gordan is always Johnny on the spot.

Mrs. Mary Green was all smiles Sunday when the Rock Island went west, somebody came.

Miss Brown, the very efficient music teacher at Lima, was visiting her sister, Mrs. John Clardy at Wewoka, Saturday. Miss Brown is some musician.

Prof. A. R. Jefferson transacted business at the county seat, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sampleton of Wetumka visited their son and daughter and friends in Wewoka last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Holliwell of East Wewoka, spent Tuesday, visiting Mrs. L. A. Tyson. Mrs. Holliwell is an ideal lady and looks well to the interest of her neighborhood.

Mrs. Cora Chiles entertained in honor of Dr. C. C. Rice on his departure for Bristow. The following persons were present: Messrs. Theo. McCurtain and F. H. Washington and Miss Eva Alexander of Holdenville.

Editor Walker of the Boley Elevator, was in Wewoka Saturday in the interest of his paper.

MUSKOGEE, OKLA.

By Lula Mitchell

Last Sunday was a beautiful day. All the churches were well attended and many interesting and instructive sermons were delivered.

Mr. Richard B. Harrison of the Flipper-Key-Davis University, gave a recital at the A. M. E. Church last Friday. The affair was very much enjoyed by all who attended the recital.

The Women's Home Missionary Society gave a program Sunday night at the M. E. Church. Some very interesting selections were rendered. The Manual Training High School furnished some music.

An athletic Society has been organized in Muskogee. Mr. L. D. Lewis was elected president; Miss Freddie Railey, treasurer; and Miss Maggie B. Coffey, secretary. This is an organization which Muskogee has needed for a long time. Surely the people of Muskogee will appreciate having some place to go where they can enjoy themselves with good, wholesome games. The society is preparing a place for three tennis courts; also some croquet grounds. It is located on West South-hide Boulevard, between Sixth and Seventh Streets.

Mr. J. M. Love entertained the Orgen Club last Tuesday night at the Peoples Hotel. They had a splendid meeting after which a delicious luncheon was served.

PAYSON, OKLA.

Prairie View Lodge, No. 6886, G. U. O. of O. F. Celebrates "Peter Ogden Day."

On Tuesday night, at their hall, Prairie View Lodge No. 6886 celebrated Peter Ogden day by tendering a sumptous banquet to the ladies of the Household of Ruth, No. 3885. Plates were laid for 50. The hall was tastefully decorated; the table extending the full length of the 30 foot building formed a "T" in the east. It was beautifully dressed with snowy damask, sparkling glassware and silver, dainty china and bright lights. J. H. Tyree, Tom Lee, L. Phillips being the reception committee, J. Sneed, Walter Earl and C. L. Lee waiters. Both Odd Fellows and Ruthites were all dolled up for the occasion. The menu was as complete as could be.

C. L. Scott, N. G., extended the welcome of the lodge. C. W. Williams gave a historical address on the late Peter Ogden.

A number of toasts were responded to by a number of persons, whose names time and space will not allow us to mention.

This was the most enjoyable affair ever given in this community. Everyone enjoyed themselves to the highest and after all had eaten, there was enough for as many more. Several generous lunches were prepared and sent to the sick.

All left at a late hour voting the Odd Fellows as ideal hosts.

PERRY HERALD

Church services were fairly well attended Sunday. Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. were very well attended.

B. Y. P. U. meets at o'clock. Every one is invited to attend.

Mrs. White departed this life at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. T. Taliaferro, Wednesday, March 2. Mrs. White was a devoted Christian woman. Funeral services were held from Macedonia Church of Guthrie and interment was made also in Guthrie. She leaves to mourn her loss three daughters: Mrs. C. T. Taliaferro of Perry, Mrs. McWilliams of Newton, Kans., Mrs. Brown of Chicago; and one son, Mr. Offord of Kansas City, and several grand-children. To the bereaved family, we extend our sympathy.

Mrs. Lillian Floyd of Tulsa was called here owing to the death of her grand-mother, Mrs. White. Mr. McWilliams of Newton, also attended the funeral. Mrs. Burdett and Mrs. Cross accompanied the funeral party to Guthrie.

Several persons from Perry will attend the DuBois lecture at Guthrie, March 11.

For a real treat, attend the Perry High School auditorium Saturday evening, March 19. The pupils of Blaine school will present the play, "Cinderella." Music will be furnished by the Pawnee and Perry Glee clubs. Several interesting members will be rendered by Mrs. Savages' pupils. You can't afford to miss it.

Rev. A. Hamilton spent several hours in the city between trains, Saturday, the guest of Prof. Hamilton.

Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams, Mrs. Floyd and Mr. Offord have returned to their respective homes.

Mr. John Martin is confined to his home with pneumonia.

Mr. Tremble visited Guthrie, Tuesday. He gave a very interesting address for the Odd Fellows on "Peter Ogden Day."

Mrs. Floyd has returned to her home in Tulsa.

Our school is doing fine work and improving wonderfully.

Mr. iRchard Patten is on the sick list.

The Civic League held its monthly meeting at Prospect Church, Monday evening.

The Tri-County Teachers Association will convene at Perry, March 18 and 19.

To our friends and neighbors, we take this method to express our extreme gratefulness and appreciation for kindness and assistance rendered during the illness and burial of our mother. We further express gratefulness for the many excellent floral offerings.

Yours sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Talliaferro.
Mr. and Mrs. Max McWilliams
Mr. and Mrs. G. W. P. Brown
Mrs. A. A. Floyd
Mr. B. A. Offutt.

LANGSTON NEWS

Our boys played Sand Springs on last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock a very interesting game of basket ball. The scores were 27 to 6 in favor of Langston. Sand Springs' boys fought lige giants to the end and we appreciate their spirit.

The boys of the C. A. and N. University are expecting to play a game of basket ball in Tulsa on Friday, March 11. We hope to entertain them very highly.

Mrs. M. S. Jackson, the science teacher of Langston, made a very interesting talk to the members of the Y. M. C. A. on last Sunday evening.

We regret very much the death of Mrs. Allen, an aged and well known citizens of Langston.

The usual chapel exercises were carried out promptly last Sunday night at regular time.

The boys of the agricultural department spent one day last week observing in Stillwater.

The boys of the college department gave a very interesting debate on "Resolved that capital punishment is unjust." The negatives won.

The Senior Normal Class spent Monday evening in Guthrie doing observation work.

Mrs. A. L. Armstrong has returned to Langston after having spent several days at her home in Luther.

Rev. D. W. Lothlin left this week for Waco, Texas, where he will spend several weeks.

ENID NEWS

Rev. L. J. Johnson, pastor of the A. M. E. Methodist Church was called to iPttsburg, Kans., to attend the funeral of his step-father. His place in the pulpit was filled by Rev. Roland. The other churches were well attended.

The Northern Light Chapter, No. 59, Order of the Eastern Star, very pleasantly entertained their husbands Friday, March 4, with a five-course luncheon. Short talks were made by several of the men. All departed wishing the Chapter a successful year's work.

Mr. John Washington made a flying trip to Kingfisher on business.

Mrs. Edgar Spencer is still on the sick list. She is in care of our efficient nurse, Mrs. Cora Dunn.

The Needle Craft Club met at the residence of Mrs. Pete Oden, 502 E. State St., in a regular business session. After the business session, the hostess served a dainty four-course luncheon. All left declaring Mrs. Oden a real hostess.

Mr. John Cabel has begun the excavation for a five room bungalow on East Wabash. We need more young men like Mr. Cabel.

BROOKSVILLE NEWS

Sunday was a beautiful day for services. Rev. Mattox was at his post of duty. He certainly preached a soul stirring sermon, both at 11 o'Clarence. clock and at 7:30. Collection for the day was $21.49.

There were quite a few attendants at Union also. They manifested quite a bit of interest.

Rev. M. L. Edwards filled an appointment at Hotulka Sunday.

Mr. Elvis Bryant was called to Clearview the first of last week on account of the death of his little nephew who was seriously burned some time ago.

Mrs. Edna House is visiting in Earlsboro for the week. The Wonderful Workers Club met with Mrs. Lula House Saturday evening, where they did quite a bit of sewing, which they will have on display. Tickets are out for that Missionary quilt that the Mission Circle is going to give to the one who holds the lucky number. Be sure you get yours, you may be the lucky one.

Miss Virginia Provo visited with her mother Saturday and Sunday returning Sunday evening for school.

Mr. and Mrs. Sypert and family visited in Earlsboro Sunday.

We must comment our worthy citizens for doing such excellent work on our streets and sidewalks. Just a few more days' work of that sort and we'll have streets as good as some other towns. There are yet some cotton to pick in and around Brooksville although the farmers are making ready for another crop. Mr. Sypert had the misfortune of having two of his finest cows killed by a train last Tuesday.

Had four new scholars to enter the school rooms this morning. Independent school children came over Friday afternoon to play Brooksville school a game of base ball but for some reason did not play.

Mrs. S. K. Nelson, president of the Mother's Christian Club of Independent held their meeting last Thursday the 3rd, at the residence of Sister E. Howards. They spent the day quilting. They served a delicious lunch. She reports the club as doing fine. We invite all who desire to, visit the club to hear their discussions. The club will meet next at Sister K. O. Oliver, Thursday at 2 p. m. The choir installation that was to have taken place next Wednesday night was postponed on account of Rec. Mattox not being able to be here on time.

We certainly enjoyed this week's editorial answering one writer. Our editor certainly knows the right things to say and when and where to say them. We, of this place think everybody has a good word for him.

PURCELL, OKLA.

Sunday, March 5, was a beautiful day and the First Baptist Church was well attended. Our pastor, Rev. P. L. Carter, delivered two wonderful sermons Sunday morning and night. Collection for the day, $42.00.

The Excelsior Club was delightfully entertained at the residence of Mrs. A. R. Henry last Friday evening. An excellent program was rendered. New members were Mrs. C. E. Readis, Mrs. P. A. Lee, Mrs. S. Grace and Mrs. S. A. Grimes. A delicious three-course luncheon was served and each one left voting Mrs. Henry an ideal hostess.

Mrs. S. M. Carruthers of the Capitol, was a Purcell visitor last Wednesday on business.

Dr. P. F. Smith and Mr. Joe Jefferson motored to Rosedale on business last Tuesday.

Mr. W. C. Cross of Chickasha, Oklahoma, was in Purcell the latter part of last week and the first part of this week painting the residence of Mrs. Roxey Henry. Mr. Cross is a race man and is a professional painter of Chickasha.

Mr. Spurgeon Martin spent last week in Chickasha, Okla., on business.

CHURCH DENOMINATIONS ARE CONEMNED AND CAST OFF FROM FAVOR WITH GOD.

God's Promise to Man

God has promised that all that are in their graves shall hear His voice and come forth. They that have done good unto a resurrection of life, and they that have done ill unto the resurrection of judgment. (R. V.) He also tells us that life, liberty, happiness and times of refreshing shall come to the world of mankind from the presence of the Lord.—Acts 3: 19; that the wilderness and solitary places shall be glad, and the desert shall blossom as the rose—Isa. 35: 1; that the eyes of the blind (both physically and mentally) shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped (physically and mentally). Then shall the lame man leap as a hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing—Isa. 35:5-6; that in that day shall the deaf hear the word of the Rock.—Isa. 29:18; that in the wilderness waters shall break out, and streams in the desert; and the parched ground become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water.—Isa. 35:6-7; that then the earth shall yield her increase (Psa. 67:6) and the inhabitants shall not say I am sick. —Isa. 33:24; that in that day they shall build houses and inhabit them (which is not true today because generally the ones who build the fine houses do not live in them); and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof. In that day it will not be as it is so often the case now that one poor fellow labors hard to produce while another sits back in an easy chair and profiteers on the products of his labor. Every man will have to live by the fruits of his own labor in that day. They shall not labor in vain, nor bring forth for trouble.—Isa. 65:21-25.

The Church Denominations tell the the common people nothing about these blessed promises but instead they tell the poor people that the world is to be burned up and the bad people to roast and torture through all eternity and the few good ones taken to a heaven of eternal bliss. The Denominations are loud mouth in claiming that the literal earth is to be burned up in the very face of God's plain statement that in Eccle. 1:4; that the earth abideth forever; that He formed it to be inhabited—Isa. 45: 18 and that He gave the earth to the children of men.—Psa. 115:16. The Church Denominations call God a liar concerning His promises to man.

When Are God's Promises to Man To Be Fulfilled

The Church Denominations claim that no man knows or can know the time for the ending of the world or the fulfillment of God's promises to man. They generally base their claim upon Christ's statement in the 24th Chapter of Matt., 36th verse, which states that of that day and hour knoweth no man. The word "knoweth" carrys the thought of present tense and is the same as saying no one knows at this time. Christ's statement was not intended to impress his Disciples that no one ever would know. We must remember that at the time these words were spoken Christ ,himself, was still on trial to test His loyalty unto Jehovah God even unto death. Listen what He tells His disciples immediately after He is raised from the dead: "All power is given unto me in Heaven and in earth."—Matt. 28:18. Now if all power was given unto the Lord both in Heaven and in earth, is it reasonable to suppose that He would know nothing of these important events? Such a thought is contrary to reason and also contrary to the plain statements of the Scriptures. Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Spirit is come upon you( Acts 1: 18; and that Spirit of Truth will guide you into all truth and will show you things to come.—Jno. 16:13. God tells us that the words are closed and sealed until the time of the end when the wise will understand—the teachable one but none of the wicked—those who are wise in their own way, shall understand. —— 12:10. Ye brethren are not in darkness (Heb. 3: 1) that that day should overtake you as a thief.—Thes. 5:4.

Conclusion

Just at this point wish to make what might be termed by some an awful statement. I charge that the Church Denominations are in league with the Devil to keep the people blinded and misrepresent God's character and plan. This charge is made against the Denominations and not against individuals. We will now listen to both sides for a moment: God and the Russellites on the one side and the Devil and the Church Denominations on the other side.

God tells us that wages of sin is death—Rom. 6:23; that disobedience to His law brings death. Gen. 2:17; that he the soul that sinneth it shall die. Ez. 18:4; that when a person dies he is unconscious, has no memory, cannot speak, breathe, think, cannot work, has no feeling and knows nothing. Ec. 5, 6, 10; Psa. 6: 5; 115:17 104: 29; 146:4. The Russellites are teaching the same thing. But on the other hand the Devil says ye shall not surely die, and then when man appears to dies he is then more alive than ever. The Church Denominations are teaching the same old lie.

God tells us that the literal earth abideth forever. (Eccle. 1:2; that He formed it to be inhabited. Isa. 45:18; that He gave the earth to the children of men. Psa. 115:16. The Russellites are telling the people the same thing. The Devil through his cunning and blinding influence is telling the people that the earth is to be burned up. The Denominations are teaching the same old thing—that the earth is to be burned up.

God tells us that He will establish a Kingdom here upon this earth; that His kingdom shall break in pieces and consume all the beastly Kingdoms of earth; that this kingdom will stand forever; Dan. 2:44; that when His kingdom is in operation all the dead, both of the just and the unjust will be resurrected; for the purpose of giving life everlasting to the just and giving the unjust an opportunity, thru obedience, to gain life. John 5:28, 29. The Russellites are teaching those who will be taught the very same thing.

The Devil through his tact and cunning is teaching the people of the world that God's Kingdom has long been established in the world and that it is the duty of every race or nation to protect with shot and shell their selfish interest against all other races or nations even to the sacrificing of millions of innocent lives; he further impresses the poor people that the resurrection of the dead is only for the purpose of heaping further damnation upon the condemned. The Denominations teach the same thing: that God's Kingdom has long been established and that the resurrection of the dead is only for the purpose of issuing to them their damnation.

In conclusion, I beg to say that I know many of you are consecrated to the Lord and are willing to give even life for what you believe to be right. But you have been in ignorance of God's Great Plan of Salvation because of false teachings. I trust that you may from this day be able to decide what teachings you will listen to.

I am glad to say dear ones, that God's promise of establishing a kingdom here upon earth is now in process of fulfillment. The old order is passing away preparatory to the establishing of the new. When this kingdom is fully established then wrong will not be permitted. Then will come times of refreshing and blessing to all mankind. The cripples, the lame and halt will be made well and strong; the eyes of the blind will be made to see and the deaf ears to hear. (Isa. 35.) All the dead shall be resurrected. (John 5: 28-30, and restitution of all things will progress until every one has enjoyed a full, fair opportunity for the blessings of life, liberty and happiness. (Acts 3:19). All who refuse these profered blessings will be destroyed. All who are willing to receive and obey the righteous laws of this knigdom will be restored to perfect manhood. These are the ones to whom the Lord will say: "Come ye blessed of my Father inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world." The reconstruction of the world will continue for 1000 years during which time the earth will be made beautiful beyond description by human tongue. The old man will become young and the babe a full grown man. All made perfect. Peace will prevail and all will be happy. There will be no more parting of loved ones. The people over the whole world, inculding the resurrected billions will gather in great multitudes to sing praises and homage unto the Lord and Jehovah. The beautiful songs of praise will rise from earth to Heaven and the angels will catch the chorus and waft it back to earth until every creature in Heaven and earth will be singing: Glory, Glory, Glory unto our God and His Christ, worth art thou to be praised, Great and marvelous are thy works, Lord God Almighty, just and true are thy ways, thou King of Saints.

MAJORITY OF GOOD PEOPLE ARE NOT WANTED IN HEAVEN—EARTH IS THEIR HOME.

This earth is a pretty good place to live in even if there are a few floods, droughts, earthquakes and occasional strikes, lockouts and financial crisis, pestilence and wars. Most of us prefer living here to any other place we know of and we keep a few doctors around to delay our departure as long as possible. Now to be told that God has started in to clean up the world, abolish famines, sickness, sorrow, hospitals, and doctors, cemeteries, undertakers, jails, judges, criminals, armies, navies, kings, kaisers, czars, bacteris, parasites and the long list of unpleasant and detestable things of the present time is not such bad news. We have been wondering what all this world comotion was about. It surely is no small job to straighten out all the tangled affairs of this old world.

Many of us now living will never need the services of an undertaker or a lot in a cemetery or a funeral discourse preached over our dead bodies, because if we live through the present stress up to 1925, the prospects are good that we need never die.

The Bible, though scouted by many, is rapidly forcing its critics to cover. The first three chapters of Genesis record that God formed the earth in six creative epochs or days. Other statements give the length of these days at 7,000 years each, 42,000 years in all. It still needed one day, 7,000 years, to reach perfection. However, God perfected one spot, the Garden of Eden, furnished it with perfect food, climate and conditions, that it might sustain life for His forth coming new creation, man. There He placed the first pair, the man and his mate, with instructions to fill the entire earth. The man was perfect, beautiful, lord of the earth, in full harmony with his Creator, but human in every respect, "of the earth earthly." Before him stretched the prospect of a perfected world filled with his own children, as perfect as himself, and endless life with which to enjoy his blessings. Genesis 3:22 states positively that i man could have remained in touc with the Garden conditions he woul have lived forever as a human being. But his disloyalty cost him his beautiful home, his dominion, his life. Today he is dead, and his children are dying, unable to save themselves.

"Passing over the intervening parts of the Bible which relate to man's experience with sin and his struggles to free himself from its death toils, note the last three chapters of Revelation. They describe this same earth with perfect man in full harmony with God and in possession of a deed for eternal life. Strange to say, they are the very children of Adam, his family rescued from sin and death resurrected by Christ, reunited and happy. Only the wilfully disobedient ones are missing, their portion being the second death, extinction, not eternal misery.

Revelation 21, Isiah 65:17-25; 2:2-4; Micah 4:1-7; Ezekiel 36:21-38, Psalms 72 and 145, and many other Scriptures describe the glories of the world when Christ shall have brought it to full perfection.

"Somewhere between the events recorded in the first three chapters of the Bible and the conditions foretold in the last three chapters, there must come a time when God will take a personal hand in the affairs of men and nations. Accoding to the Scriptures.

That Time Is Now

And the present turmoil throughout the world is incident to the change. The Bible divides this last 'day' 7,00 years into three divisions or worlds:" 'the world that was' or 'the old world' (2 Peter 2:5; 3:6) from Adam to the flood, 1656 years: the second of this evil world, (John 14:30;) Calathans 1:14) from the flood to the second advent of Christ, approximately 4, 400 years; and the third, 'the world to come' (Hebrews 2:5; 8:5), about 1,000 years.—Revelation 20:4.

The Kingdom at the Door

"The disciples asked Christ what would be the sign of His presence (Matthew 24:3. "Coming" is the King James Version is a mis-translation. See marginal rendering in Revised Version; and of the end of this second world or age. His reply is recorded in Matthew 24, Mark 13, and Luke 21. Matthew 24:14 says, "then shall the end come." The end is to be preceded by world birth-pangs or travil. (Mark 13:8—marginal rendering and Revised Version). We are all witnesses of these world birth-pangs—the war pang, the pestilence pang, the famine pang, just preceding the birth of the new world. The whole world has been and still is in the convulsions of the birth of a new nation—the Kingdom of God.—Isiah 66:8.

Persecution Foretold

Luke 21:12 adds another sign, namely, that some of the disciples of Christ would be persecuted, imprisoned, and even put to death. In Germany consecrated Christians were put in front ranks of battles that they might be killed first. In Austria-Hungary many were shot as traitors. In England and Canada they were imprisoned and fined by the hundreds. In the United States they have been imprisoned, beaten, tarred and feathered and some have died from the persecution. These facts are common knowledge and need no proving.

In Matthew 24:21, 22, Christ said that this would be a time of such disaster and distress that if He did not exercise his power of restraint the result would be the extinction of the human race, but that he would shorten it and thus permit some to live on into the Kingdom. This permission may include many throughout the world—millions.

Another Line of Proof—The Jews

The New Testament is written to and for Christians. The Church of God is the 'mystery' of God for dealing with mankind. This Church is distinct and separate from the rest of the world in many ways, and the New Testament is for her guidance. Her reward will be Heavenly, not earthly. The Jews are the key to the Old Testament. It was written to and for them. Exodus 19:5; Amos 3:2.

"God's contract with the children of Israel included special blessings if faithful and special punishments if unfaithful—the time for each to be equal in length. Unlock the Old Testament, note some of the promises recorded in Jeremiah 32:40-44 and Chapter 33 and Ezekiel, Chapters 36 and 37. These include a promise to restore them to their land in Palestine, but only after God had cast them off from His favor for exactly as long a time as He has shown them special favors. This double is mentioned by three prophets: Jeremiah 16:13 and 18, Zacharah 9:12, and Isiah 40:2. favor. Note marginal reading of the last.) The turning point from favor to disfavor is foretold in Zecharian 9:9, coupled with Matthew 21:1-5 and 23:37-39. Their special favor began at the death of their father, Jacob (Genesis 49:28, 33), and lasted to A. D. 33, when Christ rejected from them further favors—a period of 1845 years. Note the exact double in returning favor. Bussbius' Ecclesiastical History states that just 40 years later, A. D. 73, the nation went to pieces. Ewald's History of Israel, Volume 11, and many others corroborate this.

Exactly 1845 Years

After A. D. 33, namely, 1873, the Jews were granted the first favor in many hundreds of years—religious and civil liberty in Palestine—references, 'Berlin Conference,' June 13 to July 13, 1878. Compare the international Encyclopedia on this subject with Zechariah 8:23, as to the number of nations represented at that conference, and recall that the chairman was Lord Beaconfield, a full-blooded Jew, who wrote the articles of agreement between Russia and Turkey which contained the stipulation religious liberty for Palestine. Note further: just 40 years later, namely, 1918, another marked favor came to the Jews. The Turk was driven from Jerusalem in the fall of 1917. In February, 1918, King George of England, with full consent of France and the United States, sent a commission of notable Jews to Jerusalem to reach there the first day of the Passover, March 26, with authority to rebuild their old homeland—just 40 years rising from first favor to national recognition. Now thirteen nations have extended recognition to the Jews. Note the prominence of the Zionist movement in all the papers. Shall we say that such accurate fulfillment of prophecy is purely accidental?

"Another line of prophecy ends in 1925, Leviticus 25, states a lew given to the Jews, and St. Paul says, these laws were pictures or types of larger things for the whole world. (1 Corinthians 10:11.) This law was that on entering the land of Canaan they should begin to count and every 50 years (50th year) should be a Jubilee, when every Jewish slave was to be freed, and all land be returned to the original owner, or heirs. Every 51st year all Israelites were to start equal again. What a picture of God's great Jubilee for the whole world. Recall the first three and the last three great chapters of the Bible. But hidden in the picture were chronological statements. God did not intend that this picture should continue forever, but only 70 periods. (Leviticus 26: 34, 35; 2 Chronicles 36:21; Jerimiah 29:10, and many others.) Seventy periods of 50 years each, 3,500 years for the types, then the antitypes. The Jews entered Canaan 1575 B. C. This would leave 1925 ye arsendu,ETTS would leave 1925 years ending in 1925 A. B. Couple this with Genesis 13:14 17, Acts 7:5, Ezekiel 37:12-14 and others, and we may reasonably expect Abraham, Isaac and Jacob with other faithful ones of old who obtained a good report (Hebrews 11:39) to return about 1925 with authority to re-establish the Jewish nation in power and state in Palestine as the nucleus of the Kingdom of God on earth. Matthew 6:10; Zechariah 14:17-19; Luqe 13:28, 29.

The Heavens Passing Away

Note 2 Peter 3:10: "The Heavens ruling powers, the czars, kaisers, kings and all rulers of unrighteousness) shall pass away with a great noise (has there not been an exceeding great noise during the last few years as these potentates have been hurled from their ruling positions), and the elements shall melt with fervent heat (social elements, symbolically called the earth). Who can deny the fervent heat of the present social friction, politically, financially, religiously and the various other elements? These elements are passing away never to return. Our best thinkers and statesmen are witnessing to this fact.

Setting up The Kingdom

Evidences of the presence of the Lord of His second advent abound on every hand. He is getting the earth ready for the new Kingdom. Notice the fulfilling of the prophecies of Isiah 35:1 and Ezekiel 26:25-36, in the transformation of deserts into gardens in the West and the multiplying of the field by intensified farming; the great time of trouble foretold by Daniel 12:1, when Michael shall stand up take control of human affairs. Weatherford is an example of tuning the deserts into gadens. Note the change of the last twenty years. Will the next twenty years witness? Many people in and around the city may live into the future thousands of years to enjoy life and happiness. There are good reasons for thus believing. The running to and fro and the great increase in knowledge mentioned in verse 4, the birth-pang of the earth (social conditions) is in its convulsions for the birth of a new world; as foretold by the Lord in Mark 13:8 (notice marginal reading.) We are all witnesses to these things at this very time.

THE FIRE AND BRIMSTONE PREACHERS HAVE POISONED THE MINDS OF THE PEOPLE OF THE WIRLD.

For a moment, let us reflect upon the greatest sorrow that has filled the earth. We see a fair land drenched in the blood of the inhabitants. We call to mind a blood-thirsty, conquorering Hero marching through the country, laying waste the fields and reducing the homes of a peaceful people to ashes. The widow mother and children driven into the cold world; the husband, father and brothers slain upon the battle field, the ravages of war, of famine, of pestilence, destroying peaceful and happy homes, leaving behind broken hearts and broken bodies. For six thousand years the poor human race has suffered under these awful conditions. What hope would my opponents hold out for them? Few indeed, have ever known of the precious name of Jesus. Few could have known because of the many blinding doctrines that have been taught by two hundred different Denominations in this Country and throughout the world, and thousands of preachers who differ in teachings and doctrines.

Shall we for a moment believe that a just and loving God would permit these poor creatures to suffer so much sorrow and misery at the hands of men and then permit the Devil to burn them in a fire of brimstone and torture forever? Thank God this is not true. I am glad we have a message of comfort for the hearts of the people in this hour of peril. I am glad to point out that God's work holds forth a message of hope and that the hour has come for iti to be understood, and soon this great flood of truth that is rising shall fill the whole earth until all shall know of the just and loving God. What will the Lord do with these creatuers if only a few can go to Heaven? What is the office of the Church that is taken to Heaven? The Lord answers thru His prophet, Isa. 42:6-7, "I the Lord God hath called thee and L will give thee for a covenant for the people, for a light of the nations, to open the blinded eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison

Again Jesus says, "All in their graves shall hear His voice and come forth the good to a resurrection of life, the evil to a resurrection by pudgment." When the Lord brings these forth the first thing they must have is a knowledge of the fact that Christ has died for them and redeemed them from death, and now the opportunity ha scome for them to live. St. Paul has beautifully declared in these words that God hath appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness by that Man, Christ, whom He hath ordained and of this He has given assurance unto all men in that He raised up Christ, Jesus from the dead. Acts 17:31. This day that He has appointed is the Millennial day, the one thousand year day of Christ's reign in which all shall come to a knowledge of the truth.

And what shall be the reward of those who obey the truth? The Apostle Peter answers: "Repent ye therefore, and be converted that your sins may be blotted out when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord, and He shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you; whom the Heavens must receive until the times of restitution of all things which God hath spoken by the mouth of all His Holy Prophets since the world began."—Acts 3:19-20-21. In the language of the Apostle this will be the times of refreshing, blessings for the people, for the reason it is the time of restitution. Restitution means the bringing back to a former condition the things that were lost. What a wonderful ohpe is held out to humanity! Adam was a perfect man with the right to live upon the earth forever in a perfect home with abundance, peace and happiness. Because of sin all of these he lost, and for more than six thousand years his progeny has passed through the vale of tears. Jesus is to set up His Kingdom and His one thousand year reign is for the expressed purpose of restoring to mankind all that was lost in Father Adam. Jesus is able to do this because He bought all these rights that man had lost. To use His own words; "The Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost."—Luke 19:10.

The Lord Jesus through John, the Revelator, gives a wonderful picture of the Kingdom of Messiah. A city is used as a symbol of a Government, and a Holy City means Messiah's Government. In symbolic language He describes this beautiful Government and says: "I heard a great voice out of the Heaven saying; "behold the Tabornacle (dwelling place) of God is with men, and He shall dwell with them and they shall be His people and God himself will be their God, and God shall wipt away all tears from their eyes and there shall be no more death neither sorrow nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain for the former things ae passed away." The nations of the earth, the restored people shall walk in the light, in the purity of this Kingdom.—Rev. 21:1-5; 24:26.

eW can see a reason why the dead are unnconscious while dead, we see that life is the most wonderful thing that one could possess when it is possessed in perfection. We see that God through Christ Jesus has provided redemption, resurrection and restitution for all who love Righteousness and hate iniquinty; that Jesus bought the rights long ago, and in His righteous reign He shall restore all the obedient ones of Adam's stock until the earth is filled with a perfect happy and beautiful race of people. What a glorious prospect! Truly the poet has said: "The earth is old with centuries but not for this she hangs her head. Closer to her heart the sorrow lies, she holds so many dead." But thanks be to God, the dark night of sin and death is near an end. Soon the prison house of death shall be opened and the sleeping dead shall come forth." We are thankful to God that we are in the dawn of a new and better time, when the Son of Righteousness is rapidly rising with healing in His being. When righteousness of His glorious presence shall shine upon the whole earth when wars shall cease, darkness and ignorance, superstition and falsehoods, hatred and malice, slander, crime and death shall be driven away; truth and righteousness shall be enthroned forever.

What will that glorious time of refreshing and restitution mean to the world? Let us forget for a moment the scenes of injustice, misery and woe that prevail in the earth now. And having faith in the precious promises of God let us picture in our mental vision the glories of perfect earth and a perfect people; no more injustice or blinded eyes, no more deaf ears; no more crooked limbs, no not an ache or pain, nor any evidence of decay—not even a fear of such things. Call to mind now the most beautiful speciment of human kind you may have ever beheld, and then remember that every one of the members of the human family will be of far surpassing lovliness when Christ has completed His reign. The inward purity of mind and heart and moral perfection will stamp every radiant face and mark every act. Every man will love his neighbor as he loves himself, and everyone will sit under his own vine and fig-tree. Then men will not build and another inhabit.

Then behold in mental vision a perfect, righteous, paceful, happy people, rejoicing in the blesstags of perfect earth which the Lord hath prepared for them; the earth yielding its increase; the desert blooming as a rose; the waste and arid land brought up to the condition of Edenic Paradise. Then songs of gladness will fill the earth, and from the rising of the sun to the going down thereof the praises of Jehovah will be heard. "Then they will walk mid the trees by the river with the friends they have loved by their side, they will sing the glad songs of salvation and be ready to follow their guide."

St. John as he stood on the Isle of Patmos and beheld in a vision the beauties and glories of a restored earth and people, described in poetic language, how the songs of gladness will fill the earth and how those songs of praises will be caught up to Heaven and wafted back to the earth, again, until every creature which is in Heaven and upon the earth will be heard saying, "Blessings and Honor and Glory and Power be unto Him that sitteth upon the Throne and unto Christ forever."—Rev. 15:13.

In conclusion, I wish to say that the Government is very busy chasing dope peddlers. This dope, I understand, is a thing that will make one feel happy when he is really miserabl, will make one feel rich when he is really poor. The Eternal Torment Doctrine is the worse dope that has ever been brought out to mankind. The effect of all these dopes whether literal or moral is to dethrone reason. A person being effected sufficietly with the eternal torment doctrine dope will at times try to kick the bottom out of the church house and jump through the ceiling, hollowing, "Glory and Honor to God." When the world awakes to its sense of justice and truth the fire and brimstone peddler will be more detestible than the worse dope peddlers of today.

Dunbar-Shawnee
Shawnee Defeats Metropolis

If anybody knows what the real meaning o fApril fool is, Oklahoma City Basket Ball girls do.

hTey were fairly skunked by the Shawnee High School girls, Friday, April 1, the scores being 8-0 in favor of Shawnee. They were centainly hard losers. We can readiiy sympathize with them having experienced almost the same thing, but always managing to make two or three scores. You see we didn't forget our science after all.

The Shawnee Athletic Club wishes to make this correction pertaining to a little sentiment which created in the last two games played here. We deal fairly with everyone and expect to be dealt with likewise. We don't take anything, we merit all we get.

The program at Dunbar, Friday night, under the supervision of Miss Eu Dailey and assisted by the faculty and pupils was a success. Everyone was delighted to ehar Theodora Shackleford recite one of his original poems.

Dunbar is looking forward to the coming of Miss Hawkins of Dallas, Texas, in musical recita: soon.

WHO IS TEACHING THE PEOPLE THE TRUTH CONCERNING GOD'S PLAN OF SALVATION?

Dear People:

I am going to ask you to be honest with yourselves and decide the question as to which of all the Denominations of the world is presenting the truth to the people concerning God's Plan of Salvation. I want you to decide from the unimpeachable evidence which I shall produce as to whose teachings more correctly represent the true character of Jehovah God.

Jehovah has always used human agents to communicate to humanity His plans and purposes for them. At different times God has intimated to man His plans and purposes by positive statements, in the Bible, symbols, types and shadows, and all down the ages there have been a few persons who loved God and desired to live in harmony with Him and therefore such ones have gladly received any message sent to them concerning God's Plan. But the great masses of mankind have always been selfishly bent and in opposition to God's purposes.

The crowning point of the Plans of Jehovah is a CLEAN UNIVERSE WITHOUT SIN AND LIFE EVERLASTING TO ALL THE WILLING AND OBEDIENT OF HIS CREATURES.

From creation down to the present time God has used thirty-one principal messengers to communicate to the world the various steps and progresses of His Plan. The periods in which God has shown most of His Plans and purposes to man are the Patriarchal Age, (From the flood to the death of Jacob) the Jewish Age, (from the death of Jacob to crucifiction of Christ) and the Gospel Age, (from the baptism of Christ to His second coming.) The principal messngers to man during the Patriarchal age were Enoch and Jacob; the ones to the Jewish Age were Moses, Samuel, Job, David, Solomon, Isiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, Haggai, Zechariah, Malkiah and John, the Baptist. The messengers of the Gospel Age were (as shown in Rev. 1:11, the true Church would be developed through seven stages of experience. The meaning of the different names of churches to which John wrote were significent of the character of each experience,) Paul to Ephesus, John to Smyrna, Arius to Pergamos, Peter Waldo to Thystira, Wycliffe to Sardis, Martin Luther to Philedelphia and Charles Russell to Leo Dicea.

Space will not permit comment upon the life and character of each of the above named messengers of God but their whole life is spread upon the records of both sacred and profamed history, so that any one who desires may see for himself.

It is a fact noteworthy that all the true prophets or messengers or preachers of God have identified themselves as true messengers by the fact that their messages have always been in the nature of warning the people to reform and their messages have also always been directed against a ruling majority having only a form of Godliness. They have always held out to the world the crowning point of God's Great Plan of Salvation—the hope of restitution thru the resurrection of the dead. The Scriptures plainly show, to all who would see, that anyone who does not hold out to the world hope ow everlasting life and restitution through the resurrection of the dead is not a true and Holy Prophet.—Acts 3:21-24.

God loves the world; so much so that He gave His only Son to die that all may have Life-Everlasting, in His due time, after 1925, upon the sole condition that they be willing and obedient to His Righteous Laws.—(John 3:16.)

In these times of confused doctrines, how shall we know the true message from false ones? The Lord places the responsibility upon us to study His word and learn of His character and plan. He desires us to look to Him as an example of the very highest type of justice, power, love and wisdom; and all teachings or interpretations of Scriptures which do no hold out to the world the hope of Life-Everlasting through the resurrection of the dead; and all teachings or interpretations of the Scripture which do not show or represent Jehovah as having more justice, more power, more love, and more wisdom than the very best of humanity is spurious and false doctrine.

In order to properly decide who is presenting the truth concerning God's character and plan, let us, Dea Ones, sit as a juror and hear the evidence from the three greatest witnesses of modern times on this subject, "The True Gospel." The witnesses we shall present first, THE CATHOLICS THE PROTESTANTS, meaning the majority of denominations of the world not including the Catholics, the Heathen religion nor Russellism and RUSSELLISM. Let us hear from these witnesses in the order named, first, Mr. Catholic, take the stand. We hear the Catholic testify as follows: (1) That the Priest has the power to create Christ, out of bread and wine and sacrifice Him for sinners; (2) that the human soul is immortal and can never die; (3) that very few Saintly persons go to Heaven at death; (4) that all who have wilfully opposed the Catholic faith and died ane now enduring a Hell of torture which will never end; (5) that the great mass of humanity including the most of their own members and the Heathen go to Purgatory to spend centuries or decades of suffering before deliverance to Heaven; (6) that those who have it should give liberally to tne Priest in order that their own and their friends days in Purgatory may be shortened; (7) that on a Popal Jubilee the Pope exercises a power which he has to set free from Purgatory certain thousands of its inmates; (8) that soon the world will be under control of the Pope as God's representative. We have heard the principal evidence of "Mr. Catholic," now let us hear the Protestants testify as follows: (1) That the soul is immortal, can never die; (2) that there are but two places, Heaven and Hell and that the few saintly ones go straight to Heaven at death and all the wicked go to Hell of fire-proof devils, fire and brimstone, to burn forever; (3) that the resurrection of the dead is only for the purpose of heaping further damnation upon the condemned; (4) that all who desire to be saved must join the church during this Gospel Age and be faithful to its rules or do otherwise and go to Hell to burn forever; (5) that the keeping up of church dues, the payment of fat salaries to the preachers and the building of fine churches are very important parts of God's plan; So much so that any failure, by the people to keep the dimes and dollars rolling into the church is a signal to the preachers to stop preaching. Now the above evidence as given by the Catholics and Protestants have no scriptural foundation. Not one passage of scripture from Genesis to Revelation supports the prsentations of the Catholics and Protestants and there is not one of them who have the courage to face the intelligent public before an humble Bible Student and prove by the Scripture their false claims.

We will now listen to the last witness, RUSSELLISM, through Pastor Russell: (1) He teaches that there is a Supreme Intelligent Creator of all things and that man was created perfect in the image of God-Gen. 1:26, 27; (2) that man wilfully and intelligently disobeyed God thereby forfeiting his right to Life-Everlasting—1st Tim. 2:24; Gen. 2:16, 17; (3) that God so loved the world that He gave His only son that whosoever would repent and believe on Him would be awarded Life-Everlasting—John 3:16, and that Christ gave himself a ransom, a corresponding price for all—1st Tim. 2:5, 6, and by His death a new trial for life was gained for Adam and his race.—1st Cor. 15:22; (4) that the Hebrew words Sheol and the Greek word Hades and the English word Hell mean one and the same thing—the grave, oblivion, a state or condition of non-existence and does not mean a place of burning with fire and brimstone; (5) that both good and bad go to Hell—the grave—and that all the prophets and even Christ went to Hell- the grace.—Acts 2:27; Psalm 16:10; (6) that Christ holds the key to Hell and the grave.—Rev. 1:18 and that the time is coming when all that are in their graves shall hear His voice and come forth.—John 5:28, 29; (7) that during the Gospel Age God has only been dealing with the church, the little flock, the Elects the ones to be Priests and Kings during the Millenium, the Judgment Day—1st Peter 1:2 and 1st Peter 2:9; Roman 8:28-30; and that God has appointed a day in which to judge the world in righteousness and that the Judges will be Christ and His Elects, the Saints—Acts 17:31; John 5:22; 1st Cor. 6:2; that the Judgment Day will be a thousand years long—2nd Peter 3:7, 8; (8) that during the Millenium or Judgment day the whole world shall be come as the gardens of Eden, filled with healthy and happy people, Isa. 35: 1-6; 33:6; 65:21-24; (9) that all the wilfully disobedient will be destroyed in that day, in the second death—a death from which there will be no resurrection—Rev. 21:8; (10) that the greatest penalty God has prescribed for wilful sin is death ever-lasting and that the dead knows nothing.—Roman 6:23; Ezekial 18:4; Eccl. 9:5-100; in addition to the few facts above mentioned Pastor Russell announced to the world more than forty years ago that the Gentile had a lease of power on the world for 2520 years beginning 606 B. C. and ending in the year 1914 A. D. at which time according to prophecy there would begin a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation. Now I leave it to the world to answer and say whether or not a time of trouble broke loose upon the world in 1914. Pastor Russell has further stated fully how this trouble will end and what the condition of the world will be at its close.

I beg to say, Dear Friends, if you desire to get a peep into what the world's program is from God's standpoint, you do yourself the greatest injustice to fail to get and read the Studies in the Scriptures edited by Pastor Russell. When you shall have read the books carefully along with your Bible, you will be fully convinced that the greater part of the world's trouble is yet to come.

In the beginning of his ministry, Pastor Russell gave his fortune of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000.00) to aid the humble hearted in seeing the truth and during the whole period of more than forty years in the service of God he never asked for nor collected one penny from his congregation neither would he approve of such doings by any associated with him in his work.

He passed to his reward October 31, 1916. He died in the service of the Lord, a poor man. There is no paid ministery in Russellism. The one aim of Pastor Russell was to give the world the truth and lighten the hearts of all who hungered and thirsted after righteousness.

In conclusion, I wish to say to the people who think that you have before you the principal evidence from the three great witnesses of modern times concerning the plans of God. I now lave it with you to decide for yourself which of the three, the Catholic, the Protestant or Russellism, presents to the world the truth concerning Jehovah's character and pans for human salvation.

MORE NEWS OF BILL NO. 231

(Special to the Black Dispatch)

By O. M. Burrows

Lima, Okla., April 5.—Prof. W. B. Jones informs us that bill No. 231, carrying a special appropriation of thirty-five thousand dollars, passed both houses of the last legislature, and has been signed by the Governor. This bill will relieve the present condition of Separate Schools for the fiscal year. Money will be available as soon as transferred to the various counties.

LIMA NEWS

Mr. D. G. Hamilton, who was shot and instantly killed last Sunday, was buried last Tuesday in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mr. Hamilton came to Oklahoma from Rutherford County, North Carolina in 1905, was one of the pioneers of Lima, coming here when there was nothing but a space of woods; was the director of the School Board when the ten thousand dollar school building was erected, and this position he held for twelve years in succession. He was the father of the A. M. E. Zion Church of this community. Besides his great influence and help, he was a home man, a lover of his home, a devoted husband and a kind and loving father.

Rev. J. H. Hubbard, A. B. Simmons-H. C. Cousins and C. E. Allen eulogized Mr. Hamilton's life. Rev Cousincs, in speaking of his good work and usefullness in the community, broke down with sorrow, men wept bitterly. His daughter, Miss Mattie Hamilton, who was attending school at Roger Williams University, Nashville, Tenn., arrived just in time for the burial, being unaware of the nature of the trouble and just how her father met with his untimety death, was almost hysterical in her grief.

Mr. Hamilton was laid to rest in a gray steel casket upon which many floral offerings rested. Among some of the out-of-town visitors present, were Mr. and Mrs. Forest Anderson of Earlsboro, Dr. A. H. Tyson, Wewoka.

He leaves two loving daughters besides a great host of friends to mourn his loss.

Town election is over. The voters of the town have selected a set of men fully competent to head the city government. Rev. J. K. Hubbard was elected Justice of the Peace. Space will not allow publication of all officers.

Little Helen Cousins is on the sick list.

Prof A. R. Jefferson is now corresponding with the Board of Education, Oklahoma City, Okla., (vocational education) hoping to be able to secure some funds from this department for vocational training in our school.

The Independent Industrial League held their meeting last Saturday and Sunday at the High School Auditorium. Mr. G. V. Gross was elected delegate to investigate conditions in Mexico.

The entertainment given by the Parent-Teachers Club last Thursday night, was quite a success.

Rev. H. C. Cousin and Mr. R. G. Dunlap attended the Presbytery in Oklahoma City last week.

The voters of School District No. Five called a meeting last Friday and voted for another school building to be erected in the above named district, a few miles west of Lima.

Mr. M. C. Payne is getting his building in readiness for a first class ice cream parlor during the summer months.

Mrs. Maggie Mills attended the M. E. Conference in Oklahoma City last week.

The many friends of Mrs. Izelia Dunlap will regret to learn of the death of her sister, Mrs. Alva Cook, of Geary, Ind. Mrs. Cook visited here a few years ago and was much loved and admired by all who chanced to meet her.

Mr. Homer Dunlap is on the sick list.

Mr. J. R. Robinson transacted business in Shawnee last Friday.

Rev. Boston of Clearview, assisted Rev. Simmons of this place, in his rally last Sunday. $37.57 was raised.

WYNNEWOOD NEWS

Sunday was a high day at Mt. Olive Baptist Church. Sunday school was well attended. Mrs. Mabel Wade of the city, was a pleasant visitor .She taught the class and much interest was shown in the lesson.

At 11:30 Rev. W. M. Carter of Newton, Kans., preached an excellent sermon. B. Y. P. U. met at 4:30 with president and director in charge. The lesson was taught by Rev. J. W. H. Rice. The subject was well discussed. Remarks were made by Rev. C. H. Williams, Bro. E. C. Cox, Revs. J. W. H. Rice, W M Carter, Mrs. J. A. Walters, president; Mrs. L. M. Jordan, director and Mrs. A. Williams, secretary.

DOTS FROM ALTUS

The first thing to be done is to correct an error in last week's write-up. Rev. Ross of Oklahoma City, organized the M. E. Church. On Monday morning Rev. Walker, the deacons and some members built the foundation for the church house.

Miss Mable Snow is very ill and has been for quite a while.

Prof. Dawson is preparing a program for the closing of the school in June.

Mr. Albert Butler is beautifying his yard with flowers.

All Christians have their eyes on the new church building. Rev. Walker has worked for this for five years. Wait on the Lord and He will bring it to pass.

PURCELL OKLA.

Services at the various churches were well attended Sunday, the 10th. Rev. Brown of the A. M. E. Church, was at his post as usual and Rev. Crawford conducted services at the First Baptist Church.

The Eureka Club is preparing to entertain with their first banquet of the season, Tuesday, the 12th.

Mrs. Lettie Rogers of the Capitol, was in Purcell Sunday as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Janes Meeks.

Mr. Willie Thomas of Ponca City, was a Purcell visitor Sunday.

The Excelsior Club was royally entertained by Mrs. Hattie Grace, Friday, the 8th. After rendering a nice program, the hostess served a dainty repast. The club voted Mrs. Grace an ideal hostess.

Mr. W. B. Smiley motored to the Capitol, Monday, on business.

Miss Effie Bullocks and Mrs. Smith, teachers of Holdenville, Oklahoma School, were Purcell visitors Sunday.

Mr. Joe Jefferson motored to the Capitol Monday on business.

The Purcell Base Ball Club won their second game of the season by defeating the Noble Red Sox of Noble, Okla., by the score of 20 to 11.

The Clover Leaf Club met with Mrs. Joe Jefferson, Wednesday, the 6th. After the regular routine of business the hostess served a very delicious three-course luncheon, which was relished by all present.

Mr. Lawrence Daniels motored to Rosedale Sunday for a short visit with friends.

The following are on the sick list this week: Mr. Luke Henderson and Mr. Edward Richardson.

BROOKSVILLE NEWS

The weather still continues to be a little disagreeable, somewhat a disadvantage to the farmers for planting, also to the busy housewives' garden.

Services were well attended at both churches Sunday. Rev. Roberts, of Tecumseh, filled the pulpit at St. John and Rev. Brown filled his regular appointment at the A. M. E. Church. He preached a most noble sermon at 11 o'clock, being detained on other business, he stayed over and preached at night, much to the delight of his members.

Mr. and Mrs. Larkins, R. W. Montgomery, Mr. Henry Smith visited Independent, Sunday.

Mrs. Maggie Stinnett was called to Parsons, Kans., on account of the death of her sister-in-law. Her brother returned with her for a few days' stay.

Mrs. Lucinda Smith is still in Wichita Falls, Tex., at the bedside of a sick daughter.

Mrs. M. L. Edwards is confined to her bed at present.

Gee! Wonder when Spring is billed to stop over in Brooksville and spend a few days so we can get some of these crimps out of our old limbs and go about our gardening? (That's a real wonder.) Everybody is looking forward to a jolly time during the pastoral anniversary which will begin this coming Wednesday and continue until Sunday night. Bills are out for same.

The Patrons Club was largely attended last Friday, much to the delight of the teachers and board, and especially the children, as Mrs. G. M. Tuggle was over with her school children from Tecumseh. Quite a few visitors were present.

Mrs. Chaplin, trained nurse from Oklahoma City, lectured on the subject of "Good Health," last Tuesday night at the church. A large crowd was present.

Mr. Mingo, farm demonstrator, spoke at the school house last Friday night to a large audience. All enjoyed his talk.

The eighth grade pupils are looking forward, eagerly, to the final examination to begin this week. Master Claud Denton, who has been absent from Brooksville for several months, is back again. We are all observing fish days down here. Mr. J. M. House caught 64 fine cat fish last Thursday and Thursday night. Mr. D. S. Skipper, Mr. Joe Ward and Mr. Chas. Young caught 46, 45 and 20, respectively. Come and join our great fish-caravan.

On with the good streets, Worthy Citizens!

LANGSTON NEWS

The Agricultural Department gave a very interesting program last Tuesday night. Many farmers from all parts of this section of the county were present. Several good talks were made and many good, spicy songs were sung by the University Quartette, conducted by Miss B. B. Douglas, music teacher. Mr. John Buford and Mr. James Washington, our teachers of Agriculture, are doing good work for that department. The program closed by a few remarks by President Marquess.

A big game of base ball was played here last Saturday evening between Langston town boys and our boys. Many were out to see it.

Miss Evelen Wallace and Miss Addie Lane spent a few days in our city last week, which we were all very proud of. They were students of this institution and are now teachers.

Rev. Perry of Oklahoma City, preached for us last Sunday morning. We all enjoyed his sermon. We all had heard Rev. Perry before and knew that he was the man who would deliver the goods. The house was packed. We hope that we might get a chance to hear him again soon.

Our chapel exercises, Sunday evening, were fine. Many were present and the program was carried out nicely, followed by a short talk by President Marquess.

We have a good school here and it is growing.

FLOWERS

Jones City, Okla.

Editor Black Dispatch:

Since seeing the results of the city election in your city, I must say as I said two years ago that you are the right man in the right place, at all times battling for the right and the good of all citizens. It seems to me that you always advocate that which will be the greatest good to the greatest number, which is right.

I glory in you for standing by just convictions. That is the only thing for a true man to do, is to have a conviction and stand by it and watch the results. You deserve praise for your stand for good city government.

I had almost decided you and your co-workers would lose out but it seems that on the 5th, the Republican voters in the city kept back until the last, which was best, and snowed the opposition under, which was grand and noble. Now the election is over and I hope to see all work together with one object in view and may it be for the good of all. We want to now lay foundations to build on in 1924.

Success to th Black Dispatch and its eminent force and its many readers.

"THE SOONER TRAIL"

ALL THE NEWS FROM THE BLACK JACK HILLS AND VALES OF OKLAHOMA

Richard J. Hill's Weekly Articles

THE JUDGMENT DAY FOR THE NATIONS, CHURCHES AND SOCIETIES IS IN PROGRESS AND THEY ARE BEING FOUND WANTING. THE JUDGMENT OF INDIVIDUALS WILL SOON BEGIN.

(The Judgment Day)

"Because he has appointed a day, in which He will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom He hath ordained; whereof He hath given assurance unto all men, in that He hath raised Him from the dead."—Acts 17:31.

Since 1878 A. D., everwthing has been getting ready for the great Judgment Day long spoken of by the Bible. At the time St. Paul wrote the words of the above text the Judgment Day was future because he said so. The preachers in times past, taught the people that the Judgment Day would be a time of terror upon the earth, in which the people would be lined up in a twenty-four day and most of them sent off to Hell-fire and brimstone, there to endure in some inconceivable way, tortures eternal in duration. St. Paul seems to give no such thought in his words. He looked forward to the Judgment Day as a time of great rejoicing and blessing, because he said that it shall be a Judgment of righteousness by Christ. When once the purpose of the Judgment Day is understood it makes glad the heart and comforts those that mourn.

The term Judgment signifies that the person to be judged must have a trial, and at that trial must have a full and fair opportunity, if he is judged righteously. Occasionally, there is a man upon the bench, such as Judge Anderson of Boston, who has the moral courage and the sense of justice to deal as nearly right as it is possible for imperfect man to do; but this is the exception to the rule. When the Lord judges we know that the judgment will be righteous, because He has promised that it shall be. "With righteousness shall He judge the poor." (Isiah 11:4) Seldom do the poor get righteous judgment now. "He shall judge the people with righteousness."—Psalms 7:2.

"One day with the Lord is a thousand years and a thousand years a day." 2nd Peter 3:8. Christ shall reign a thousand years.—Rev. 20:6. The Judgment, therefore, is the period of Messiah's reign of a thousand years, hence it is called Millennial, because millennial means a thousand years. The Great Messiah has already taken unto himself His great power to reign, and the Nations have been and are angry, just as foretold—Rev. 11:11, 18. The Lord is now permitting the wrath of man to break in pieces the present unrighteous order (governments, churches, societies, etc.) and when they are gone, "The Government shall be upon His (Christ's) shoulders ;and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, the Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace." Isiah 9:6. The first work of this Judgment Day will be to deal with the millions of people on the earth. Just before the beginning of that Judgment of blessings, according to the words of Jesus, there will be a great Judgment upon the Nations, which is now in progress and of which we shall have more to say later. Following the World War and revolutionary troubles now on the earth, there will be a great tribulation, "Such as was never since there was a nation and there will never be such a time of trouble again. (Matt. 24:21, 22) The Lord shows that many people now living upon the earth may be saved and not go into death. The purpose of saving them will be to offer them Life-Everlasting through God's chosen channel, His Elect, the Seed, according to promise. Many of these people brought through the time of trouble will be the first ones to experience the blessings of the Righteous Judgment of Messiah. "They shall call on my name and I will hear them; I will say, it is my people; and they shall say, the Lord is my God." Zech. 13:9.

Jesus gave a picture of the Judgment Day, representing the obedient ones as sheep and the disobedient ones as goats. A parable is a dark saying in which figures of speech are used to illustrate a fact. Jesus locates that time the same as St. Paul when he says, "Then shall He sit upon the Throne of His Glory." (Matt. 25:31.) In other words, Christ will establish the Great Tribunal or Court, before which the people of earth will be judged, and this judgment will cover a period of a thousand years, First those living on the earth at the beginning (approximately) 1925 A. D.) shall be brought to a knowledge of the truth concerning the Ransom Sacrifice which has been provided for them and that under the terms of a new Covenant, which God has made for their benefit, if they will be obedient to it they shall be blessed with life, liberty, and happiness. Those who, after coming to a full knowledge of the facts, refuse to accept the terms and be obedient to them, are designated by Jesus as goats. A goat has a stubborn, mean disposition, and very well illustrates the class of people who are not teachable and who will not be obedient to the laws of the New Covenant. To these the Lord will say: "Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, (everlasting death) prepared for the Devil and his angels. There shall they go into everlasting punishment." (Matt. 25: 41, 45). The Devil is not going to eternal torture but will be destroyed. (Heb. 2:14). His angels mean his messengers, those who are in harmony with him, they suffer similar fate. The wilfully disobedient, the goat class, will be a part of his messengers or angels, and these shall go away, be turned away from the Lord into a punishment that will be lasting; that is to say, from which there will be no recovery. The word punishment here means literally cutting off. The highest punishment known to the law of civilized nations is death. No civilized government ever tortures anyone. There is no intimation is this scripture that any of the wicked will go away into continuous torture, but they do go away into a punishment; that is to say, they are punished with an everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord and the Glory of His power.—2nd Thes. 1:9.

The obedient class, represented as sheep, will be taught and lead in the right way, and rendering themselves obedient unto the Lord's arrangement they will be blessed unto ever-lasting life, where as the wicked are punished with ever-lasting death. To the obedient ones the Lord will say: "Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom (earthly kingdom) prepared for you from the foundation of the world." Matt. 25:34. "The meek shall inherit the earth." Psalms 37:11. "The highteous go away into eternal life." (Matt. 25.46). These, the righteous ones, the teachable people, shall be the ones that shall live forever. These are the ones that shall never die, never see death. (John 8:51; 11:26). There are millions of persons on the earth now, who without doubt, will be living when the Judgment Day of the earth begins, and when restitution blessings will be offered to them, and they believing the great truths then taught by the Messiah, and obeying them, shall live live forever, in happiness, in joy, in peace. The Lord, thru his prophets, describing that Judgment Day, said· "When a righteous man turneth away from his wickedness and committeth sin, he shall die. When a wicked man turneth away from his wickedness and does that which is right, he shall live." (Ezek. 18:26-28.)

The restitution blessings will come gradually to the people as they obey the righteous teachings of the Messiah. The Lord through His arrangements, will teach the people what to eat, how to eat, how to exercise, and above all, how to think and act. The healing of the sick and opening the eyes of the blind which Jesus performed when He was upon the earth was a sample merely of what the Messiah will do in completeness during the Great Judgment Day. "Then the eyes of the blind snall be opened and the ears of the deaf shall be un-stopped. Then shall the lame man leap as a hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing." (Isiah 35:5, 6). That will be a happy and glorious time, and when those who are living on the earth when restitution begins have progressed a reasonable way over the highway of Holiness, they will be preparing for and praying the Lord and expecting Him to bring back their beloved dead. They will call upon the name of the Lord and He will hear them. "And the ransomed of the ransomed of the Lord shall return and come unto Zion (The Messiah) with songs and everlasting oy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away." (Isiah 35:1, 10). Thus the Lord's Prophet beautifully describes how Judgment will bring blessings for mankind, explained: "Say among the heathen that the Lord reigneth; the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved; He shall judge the people righteously. Let the Heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad; let the sea roar, and the fullness thereof. Let the field be joyful and all that is therein; then shall all the trees of the woods rejoice before the Lord; for He cometh to judge thee; He shall judge the world with righteousness and the people with truth."—Psalms 96:10, 13.

The Judges of our Court before whom the entire world will be tried during the reign of Christ will consist of Jesus, the Head Chief Justice, and the members of His Body, the Church, as Associate Justices, all of whom will be perfect, glorious beings. In the carrying out of this arrangement, faithful men, such as Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and the other prophets resurrected as perfect human beings, will constitute the earthly representatives. The inflictions of punishments however, for aviolation of the Lord's arrangement, will be direct. If a man shall attempt to break into his neighbor's house, the Lord will immediately punish him upon the spot, by striking him blind or paralizing his arm. He may be recovered from this, as the scripture show, by prayer and by obedience to righteousness, and after he has been given a full and fair trial and then if he still refuses to make progress, he will be destroyed in the second death from which there will never be another resurrection. But the Scriptures show that he shall have at least one hundred years trial, because, as the Prophet states: "There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days; for the child shall die an hundred years old, but the sinner being an hundred years old shall be a curse." (Isiah 65:20). Those who obey righteousness and profit by their experience and strive to make progress will be continued in the trial, and the Messiah will uplift, and strengthen, and bless them, and ultimately bring them back to a state of perfection and happiness.

This Great Judgment Day must begin as soon as the present evil world completely passes away and Messiah's Kingdom is in full control of everything. The Jubilee cycles, that we will at some time in the future, clearly set forth, marks 1925 as the date for the beginning of these blessings. And because the Lord has promised to bless those who obey righteousness, and because the time is so near at hand, we can with confidence, state that there are millions of people now living on the earth who will never dies and go into the grave. This is good news; it is comforting news; it is one of the great doctrines of the Bible—A doctrine which all the Churches and all the preachers should be teaching to the people, because it is full time to teach it. This message when received and understood, binds up the broken heart and comforts those that mourn, enabling them to look beyond the present vale of tears and see the sunlight of God's love arising, which will soon health and bless all the obedient ones upon the earth.

We are fully aware that not many persons can hear this message now for the reason that they have been stuffed so full of down-right false teachings concerning God's plans that it sounds like some new doctrine; when, as a matter of fact, it is the plain and simple faith and teachings of the Lord Jesus Christ and His Apostles, which was first delivered to the saints—that is, true followers of the Lord. We are only calling the world's attention to the old and true path, from which the most of the people of the world have strayed. The cause of all this is by the selfish and ignorant preachers telling the people everything concerning God's plan but the truth.

BERWYN NEWS

By J. W. Wert

Sunday school at Mt. Pleasant last Sunday was well attended. The big rain Saturday night delayed some of the people from coming. this being our Sunday School rally day for all to contribute one cent to each year of their age. We were very successful in this rally. Amount raised, $6.02. This being our regular pastoral day, our pastor was at his post and preached to us a heart-felt sermon.

The farmers have almost been tied up for several days on account of the heavy rains. They are eager to get a chance to plant their cotton.

Our public school under the principalship of Mrs. Cora D. Grahain and Miss Jessie D. Graham and Miss Jessie D. Gipson, assistant, closed last Friday on account of Friday being Friday. On account of the inclement weather the attendance was not very good. Most all of the children made an effort to get to school, but failed. The examination was very interesting in all of the grades. All made a very good showing and several were promoted.

Quite a few of our people are planning to go to Ardmore, Okla., this week to hear the Black Billy Sunday.

Mrs. Jennie T. Davidson of Ardmore was royally entertained at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bruce Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Davidson was for a long time a resident of Mt. Pleasant vicinity and an active member of our church. She moved to Ardmore several years ago. Since that time she has lost her health. We pray that she may regain her health.

The public school of Calvary, under the principalship of Mrs. B. M. Bruce, closed last Wednesday. he examination was very interesting and several were promoted

BRIDGEPORT, OKLA.

Prof. W. A. Dobson, president of Caddo County Teacher's Association, reports the fifth annual track meet, held in Binger, Saturday, April 30, to have been the most successful ever held. Every school in the county participated in some event. Prof. Dobson spoke very complimentary of all the school exhibits, especially those of Anadarko and Binger. The building was crowded to over flowing at both day and night session, despite the threatening weather. Several prominent men and women were present and made interesting talks along general educational lines. Prof. Black, principal Binger High School, (white) was present and made a short talk. He also manifested much interest in the work of the Colored teachers, by giving his presence, together with his student body, both day and night.

Prof. J. E. Neal delivered the annual address. It was said by many who know his ability as a speaker, that this was an excellent address, the best they had ever heard. Prof. Neal is a prominent teacher in this county.

The teachers and pupils of Bridgeport who attended the track meet, returned home Sunday evening tired but happy. The school was successful in securing second prize on general exhibit, despite the fact that rivalry was keen and exhibits exceptionally good. Miss Roberta Lewis won second prize in the oratorical contest. Bridgeport base ball team won first prize. Bridgeport basket ball team won first prize, contest being between Anadarko, Ft. Cobb, Bridgeport. Scores 10 and 2 in favor of Bridgeport.

On account of securing the greatest number of points, Bridgeport won the Silver Loving Cup. Those attending the meet were: Mrs. Johnie Lewis, Miss Roberta and Susie Lewis, Mr. Joe Farmer, Don Owens, Presley Hudson, Charlie Dumus, Louie Gray, Fred Faine, Otis Hayes, Robert Wiley, Tom mie Wiley and Prof. W. A. Dobson.

McALESTER NOTES

Mrs. W. A. Whitaker and E. Dillorwar are yet ill. All others on sick list are reported improving.

Mrs. J. Thurston, the noted soprano singer of Muskogee, visited our city this week.

The Teacher's Association colsed its last session here Friday.

Services at all churches on Sunday reported light.

The members and pastor of East Star Baptist Church closed a 30 days drive with $365.70. We thank all of our friends for their contribution. The Mission Circle of the church of which Sister A. L. Branch is president, reported the highest amount of all auxillaries, reporting $100; Sunday school, M. Dansby, superintendent, reported $25.25. Many of the other clubs reported lesser amounts.

Rev. F. F. Gipson of West Bethel Baptist Church, wishes to thank the public for helping him to raise $127 in rally last Sunday.

COALGATE NEWS

We are still having heavy rains and high winds. It keeps some of the people seeking refuge in the cellars for fear of storms.

Mrs. K. A. Vanhorn, one of the best teachers of the state, closed a very successful school term on the 29th of April, at Phillips, Okla., three miles south of Coalgate. The program rendered could not be excelled for a town of its size. Quite a number from Coal gate were present.

Mt. Pillar Baptist Church is on the upward move with the noted Rev. E. V. Vanhorn at its head as pastor. The installation sermon was preached by Rev. Parker of Griffin, Okla., at 11 a. m. May 1. We were rained out in the afternoon but re-assembled at 7 p. m. and rendered a short program in behalf of the pastor, which placed him on high ground and sanctioned by all present. Afterwards, Rev. Parker delivered another soul stirring sermon. We have no fear under the leadership of Rev. Vanhorn because he knows how to bring things to pass.

Rev. Blackwell of Stringtown, preached at the First Baptist Church Sunday evening.

Mr. Gus Thomas and Miss Eva Knight were united in marriage on the 28th of April. We wish for them a happy life.

Rev. Mundine of El Reno preached an excellent sermon at Mt. Pillar Baptist Church, April 26.

DOTS FROM ALTUS

On last Sunday, Austin Lodge No. 9708 and Starlight H. H. of R., No. 5235 and Stalight Juvenile No. 1426 turned out in full regalia. We had that stalwart Odd Fellow, Rev. J. H. Peters of Oklahoma City to preach the sermon. Everybody that knows Rev. Peters will say he knows his business. After the sermon, the people of Altus donated Rev. Peters $8.10 for the Orphans that are in his care. Rev. S. L. Taylor, the A. M. E. pastor, was over Sunday to fill his post, but as the public asked to hear Rev. Peters he gave way.

Of the program, Mrs. Thomas' and Mrs. Henderson's papers were the great treats to Altus. Mrs. Thomas held the audience spellbound with a sweet song which made a hit with the Ruthites and Odd Fellows.

The public gave to St. John Baptist Church $4.20 Sunday, to go toward the building treasury.

CHICKASHA, OKLA.

Sunday, May 1, was a high day with the First Baptist Church of Chickasha, it being the close of the financial drive launched sixty days ago. The Sunday school was largely attended. At 9:30 o'clock Supt. Sam Pettegrew called the Sunday school to order and each of the ten teachers heading their classes were in their places. Our Sunday school, under the leadership of Supt. Pettegrew, is moving on to higher ground.

At 11 o'clock Pastor D. D. Jones preached a powerful sermon from the 4th chapter of Proverbs, 7th verse. "Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore, get wisdom." The sermon was a masterpiece. The Spirit of the Lord accompanied us at this service, the results of which three were added to the church, two for baptism.

At 3 o'clock the several pastors of the city, together with the major portion of their congregations assembled to worship and aid us in the drive. The Rev. C. P. Alcon, pastor of the Second Baptist Church (white) of this city, preached the sermon at the two o'clock hour. A powerful sermon was delivered by this man of God. He was at his best at this service. Two other white ministers together with 75 or more of the Rev. Alcorn's members graced our services. Long live this great man and his people. Come again, Bro. Alcorn. You have a standing invitation.

The night service was indeed an interesting feature of the program, with the spacious auditorium packed to its utmost capacity. Pastor Jones delivered a forceful message to the delight of all of his hearers. Text from the 9th chapter of the 1st Corinthians, 24th verse: "Know ye not that they which run in a race run all but one receiveth the prize. Even so run that ye may obtain." Subject, "The Runner and the Race." The message was delivered with eloquence and filled the hearts of the eager hears with the wonderful message. May God bless our pastor. At the close of the sermon and announcements, came the grand rush of the contestants and their eager sympathizers. First, second and third prizes were awarded the three raising the highest amounts. At the close of the contest, the prizes were presented to the winners as follows: 1st prize to Mrs. H. Hawkins, a handsome wrist watch by Prof. D. M. Lewis, principal Lincoln School; second prize to Mrs. Sallie Jones, a handsome necklace, presented by Madam Grace Dorsey, teacher Lincoln School; third prize to Mrs. Gussie Green, a beautiful parasol by Mrs. Addie Devald, popular member of the First Baptist Church, and one of our rural teachers. The results of the contest as by captains by states are as follows: Mrs. Henry Hawkins, Ohio, $141.96; Mrs. Sallie Jones, Minnesota, $124.24; Mrs. Gussie Green, Texas, $79.96; Mrs. Rosa Stevens, California, $75.50; Mrs. Martha Penson, Kansas, $68.80; Mrs. Olivia Moore, Arizona, $21.31; from other sources, $37.91; total $549.68, and more reports are to come in. The total cost of prizes $44.50.

With this bit of information you will note that the old First Baptist Church is marching on towards the mark of the prize of the high calling in Christ Jesus—but the end is not yet.

TATUMS NEWS

Mr. W. E. Winslett has just returned from Alabama where he went to see his mother, who was ill. He reports an enjoyable trip. He was proud to see his mother and other relatives and friends and exchanged many heart-felt greetings with the people of his boyhood home. He left his mother improving.

Mrs. Thrash has been ill for the past week but is rapidly improving, according to reports.

Our school will close May 20th and we are expecting a grand time, as an elaborate program is being prepared for the occasion. he Annual sermon will be preached Sunday, May 15.

WHAT BEST TO DO UNDER PRESENT CONDITIONS

The Great World War that came in 1914 has increased the sorrows and suffering of humankind. Then came a great shortage of food, and today actual famine exists in many parts of the earth, with a great shortage everywhere. There followed the war and the famine a great pestilence, the Spanish Influenza, which took away millions of people from all parts of the earth, and now we are advised that the great pestilence of Typhus and Bubonic plague are raving other parts of the earth. Revolutions caused the Dynasties of several nations to fall, and other revolutions are threatened elsewhere. The Nations are in distress, and the leaders and mighty men in perplexity. The financiers are perplexed and disturbed; likewise the businessmen, and the spirit of discontent daily grows worse; the masses of humanity clamouring for their rights, and the classes persisting in holding on for theirs. In fact, we are in the time described by Jesus when he said: "Upon the earth distress of Nations with perplexity; men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming upon the earthi" (Luke 21.25-26). All these things are evidences of the fact that the old world is ending, and is passing away, preparatory to the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom of Righteousness, and the time is at hand when those obeying righteousness shall have the opportunity to be restored to life-everlasting here upon the earth.

But before these blessings will come to man the firery trouble must burn itself out. The Prophet of the Lord described the final climax in these words: "For he "The Lord) commanded and raiseth a stormy wind (great trouble) which lifteth up the waves, (the people) thereof. They mount up to Heaven, they go down to the depths; their soul is melted because of trouble. They reel to and fro, and stager like a drunken man, and are at their wits end. Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and He bringeth them out of their distresses. He maketh the storm a calm, (ends the troublous times) so that the waves (restless elements) thereof are stilled. They are they glad because they are quiet; so He bringeth them unto their desired Heaven."—Psalm 107:25-30. But many persons seeing this approaching climax may inquire, what must we do now? Shall we give away our land and abandon it? Our answer is, No; that would be foolishness and would serve to no good purpose probably the one who gets it would make less use of it than you. If we be in business, or manufacturers, shall we attempt to guage the people and make all the money we can quickly, to save it for this troublesome time? If we own houses, shall we put the rent as high as we can and get some money while it is easy to get? Our answer to this would be, no. Money or wealth accumulated under such circumstances would be of no value. He that oppresses the poor will not be in an attitude to receive favor of the Lord. There is a promise made to those who will deal fairly and honestly with the poor. It reads: "Blessed is he that considereth the poor; the Lord wil ldeliver him in time of trouble. The Lord will preserve him, and keep him alive; and he shall be blessed upon the earth (not in Heaven) and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies."—Psalms 41.12. Following the Scriptural advice, then, instead of grinding the poor, or oppressing them, the proper attitude would be to pay reasonable wages, or a share in the profits, or else not hire anyone to labor for you. If you have a large amount of property, more than you need, and have an opportunity to aid somebody else, then, it would be your privilege to alleviate the suffering of others who are unable to help themselves, and especially help them to get a knowledge of God's wonderful Plan of Salvation. Another will ask, shall I abondon business altogether, quit doing anything, and just wait until the Lord's Kingdom is established? Our answer would be no. If you are gifted in talents along one line, persue that line in an honest way, doing as much good as possible to your neighbor, and to your fellow countryman.

The great trouble with the world today is that it is running on a depraved basis of selfishness and in utter disregard of the liberties of others. If all classes dealt honestly and fairly there would be no trouble indeed. If the preachers would teach the people the truth; if the financiers and business men would be content with a reasonable profit and deal honestly with all with whom they deal; and if the professional politician would seek the welfare of the people, and not his own interests, the troublesome times would pass away.

Another person may ask, well, if I be a laboring man, shall I make as much trouble as possible for my employer, shall I agitate, advocate violence against the classes? We answer no. There is no promise of bless ings to anyone who takes this position. There will be plenty who will persue violence, but there are not the ones to whom the Lord makes a special promise. Seeing that we are in the time of distress upon the Nations and the people of the earth, the proper attitude for all order loving people who desire peace and prosperity, can be ascertained only by going to the Lord's word. The very purpose of God permitting the truth to come to some is that they may develop the spirit of a sound mind and be a stablizing influence amongst the people, and to help those who really cannot help themselves. To the one who sees by the eye of faith the meaining of the present distress, and others to follow, the Lord says through the Prophet: "Before the decreed bring forth; before the day pass as the chaft; before the fierce anger of the Lord come upon you; before the day of the Lord's anger come upon you; seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought His judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness; it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger." (Zephaniah 2:2, 3). Those heeding the scriptural admonition will strive to avoid controversy, trouble. They will dilligently try to do good and not evil. They will refrain from acts of oppression. They will strive to deal honestly with their neighbors and will all men in general, and they will seek to have a better understanding of this time of trouble, and learn what it really means, why the Lord has permitted it to come, and what shall follow thereafter.

Those dilligently thus seeking to do the right thing have the promise that they may be his and carried over thru this great time of trouble. They may be of the class described by the Lord's Prophet when he said: "I will bring them through fire (trouble) and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried. They shall call upon my name and I will hear them; I will say: it is my people; and they shall say, the Lord is my God." (Zechariah 13:8,9). Those who are thus brought through this troublesome time and who witness the full establishment of Messiah's Kingdom will be among those first to receive the blessing that the Kingdom will bring; and when these blessings are thus offered (and they must shortly be offered) those who receive and obey the teachings of the Lord will gradually be restored to health of body and mind, to peace and happiness, and be granted life-everlasting on earth forever. These are they who, living and believing on the Lord Jesus Christ as their Redeemer, shall never die. It is quite evident that the Lord is now permitting this for the Glorious Kingdom and the blessings incident there to which is at hand.

"Wherefore gird up the loin of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revealtion of Jesus Christ." (1st Peter 1:13). The one who now comes to a knowledge of God's Plan, who seeks to know and to do the Lord's will, may truthfully look forward with great joy to the early establishment of the Great Kingdom for which the Prophet hoped and prayed, and of which the Psalmist sang, and through which God has promised a blessing to all the families of the earth. Not only should every order loving Christian man and woman assume and persue the right attitude toward his fellow creatures, but all to the extent of their knowledge and ability of the coming and establishment of the Kingdom of peace and righteousness, should tell the message of good news to others, that their hearts also might be comforted.

What shall be our attitude towards those who revile and persecute us as Christians? Every Christian has agreed to follow in the footsteps of jesus, and the answer to this question may be found in the words of the Apostle: "He did no sin neither was guile found in His mouth: who when He was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, He threatened not; but committed Himself to Him that judges righteously." These words were written by the Apostle relating how Jesus acted when reviled and persecuted. 1st Peter 2:22, 23.

But didn't Jesus accuse certain ones of defiling the Temple of the Lord, and did He not rebuke them severely? We answer: Jesus found in the Temple those who were making it a house of merchandise, and He said to them: "It is written, My house shall be called a house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of thieves." (Matt 21: 13). He told in plain language those who were defiling the house of the Lord, of their wrong but did not do this because they were persecuting him, but that they might know the truth. On another occasion He said: "but woe unto you Scribes and Pharisees, Hypocrites! For ye have shut up the Kingdom of Heaven against men, for ye neither go yourselves neither suffer ye that them that are entering to go in. Woe unto you Scribes and Pharisees, (the scribes and Pharisees here mentioned were the preachers of that day) hypocrites, for ye devour widow's houses (over-tax them in church dues.) And ye for a pretense make long prayer. Therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation. Woe unto you, Scribes and Pharisees, Hypocrites, for ye compass sea and land to make one proselite, and when he is made, ye make him two-fold more the Child of Hell than yourselves. Woe unto you blind guides which say, whomsoever shall swear by the Temple it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor." Ye fools and blind: For whether is greater, the gold, or the Temple that sanctifieth the gold? Matt. 23:13-17. The men whom He was addressing here were the preacher class, of that time, who claimed to represent the Lord Jehovah and He rebuked them because of their unfaithfulness to the Lord Jehovah.

Our business as true Christians and followers of Jesus, is to plainly tell the truth, to call attention to the fact that the great distress upon the world is the nature of wars, famine, pestilence and revolutions, etc., is fulfillment of Divine Prophecy and has come as the Lord foretold, and constitutes an evidence that we have reached the end of the world. Then Jesus said, concerning those who know the fact, that they must preach the Gospel of the Kingdom unto all Christians, and then the end shall come. (Matt. 24:7-14). The proper attitude then for us during these times of trouble is, in calmness and quietness to tell the people what is the meaning of the distress upon the earth, pointing to the fact that the old order is passing away, that the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand, that soon the Lord's Kingdom will be in full operation, and then the opportunity will be granted to all mankind to receive and enjoy the blessings of life, liberty and happiness; that this being so near at hand (the resurrection of the dead should begin the later part of 1925) everyone should take heed to the meaning of these events which are now taking place and prepare their lives for the incoming Kingdom of righteousness which shall bless the human Race. Back of all of our actions the motive should be love, a sincere desire to do good unto our fellow creatures and glorify the name of our God and of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

In conclusion Dear Friends, I remind you in the words of the Prophet of old, "Seek righteousness, seek meekness; it may be that ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger." —Zephaniah 2:2, 3.

TATUMS NEWS
(By T. G. Slaughter)

We had the greatest rain of the season Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Our services were well attended at the Bethel Baptist Church despite the heavy rain Sunday morning. Rev. Givens divided his honors with Rev. Davies in the morning and with Rev. Thrash in the evening. Rev. Givens is bringing Bethel Baptist Church back to the old land mark, both spiritually and financially. His collection in general was $20.09 and the members and friends also contributed $17 for educational purposes and purchased a hymn book for the church. The electric lights are in operation again and will be continued, furnishing lights on the streets and to the business houses and homes of those who want them.

Rev. C. A. Hamilton will preach the Annual Sermon to the school and the class of 1921. Rev. Hamilton is an able minister and one of Oklahoma City's best pastors. It is quite a compliment to have him with us as he will do ample justice to the occasion. The sermon will be preached next Sunday at 3 p. m.

We are informed that our bell will be here soon as it is now in transit.

"THE SOONER TRAIL"

ALL THE NEWS FROM THE BLACK JACK HILLS AND VALES OF OKLAHOMA

Richard J. Hill's Weekly Articles

THE GREAT MASSES OF MANKIND (INCLUDING CHURCH MEMBERS) ARE TREADING THE BROAD WAY WHICH LEADS TO DESTRUCTION.

"Wide is the gate of destruction, and broad the way leading thither; and many are they who enter through it. How narrow is the gate of life, "How difficult the way leading thither! And how few are they who find it."—Matt. 7:13, 14 Diaglott.

The great Master here mentioned two ways or courses that man take—one, the broad way, leading to destruction, and. the other,. a narrow gate leading to life. For many centuries the preachers of the Church Denominations have taught the people that the broad road leads to a lake of fire and brimstone, where the poor creatures roast, and stew, and bake for ever and ever; And that the narrow way means to get into some Denominational System and escape such a place. They certainly have been and are a fine bunch of poor blind guides, and all who follow their teaching are sure to reach the place mentioned in Matt. 15:14:—tumble into the ditch of sore disappointment.

The broad way to destruction open up at the time Adam was driven from the Garden of Eden. Because of his sin he was condemned to death and all of his offspring came under his condemnation. All of these have been going down to destruction—not eternal torture. For more than six thousand years they have been going to the Bible hell, the grave, the tomb, the place of destruction. (Psalms 9: 3; 146:4; Ecc. 9:5, 10). This way leading to destruction was the only way for man to go from the creation of Adam until Christ Jesus came, and the vast multitude who have not known and accepted Christ since He has come, have all likewise gone that same way; but this does not mean that they shall not return again. The great masses of mankind have gone that way ignorant of the fact that any provision has been made for their salvation and return. God plainly promised to redeem man, that is to say, purchase him, from the grave, the tomb, the Bible hell, and to destroy death. "I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death." (Hosea 13:14). His provision for accomplishing this was through the merit of Jesus' sacrifice. When Jesus came, He brought to light the fact that God has a plan for rescuring men from the great broad way of destruction and bringing them to life; that in the out working of this plan He will grant to some the blessings of immortality, and the ones who obtain this great prize of immortality are the ones who enter the narrow way of life described by the Master. (1st Tim. 2:10). The great mass of mankind is yet ignorant of this provision for life. Their ignorance is due to the prevelence of sin, the influence of the adversary through ignorant teachers, and to the fact that it is not yet due time that they shall know. The due time, however, is near, even at the door. The greater light is now beginning to break and shine into the hearts of the people, and many are coming to a knowledge of the fact that millions now living and walking about upon the earth will never dies and go into the grave.

God purposed before the foundation of the world to develop a new Creation, designated as the Royal Priesthood, or Holy people, peculiarly built up into Christ Jesus. (1st Peter 2:5-10). Jesus was the head of chief corner stone of this new arrangement. The value of His ransom sacrifice is used for their benefit during the Gospel Age. The narrow way opened, means a way leading to Heaven, to membership into the body of Christ. The way is narrow and difficult, and few find it because few are willing to conform themselves to the terms. Any one who does so must follow in the footsteps of Jesus. Jesus, when on earth, was a perfect man, and as such was entitled to all the honors, glory, and praise that the people might bestow upon a perfect man. He could easily have had the whole human race at His feet, doing His biddings and been the most honored person in all the earth. But that was not the purpose of His coming here. "He came not to be ministered unto but to minister" and to give His life as a purchase price for mankind, as a ransom. (Matt. 20:28). He denied himself pleasure that come to a perfect human being, legitmately indeed for the perfect man. He surrendered His human will, making it entirely submissive to Jehovah"s will. He endured great contradictions amongst sinners, great afflictions in order that He might learn to be sympathetic, A High Priest to the poor human race, be their redeemer, and ultimately their uplifter and blessor.

During the Gospel Age if one approached the Lord, desiring to enter this narrow way leading to life and into Heaven itself, Jesus nas said to him: "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it. (Matt. 16:24, 25). Jesus meant by these words that those who would enter this narrow way must deny themselves as He did Himself, must daily do the Father's will amidst a wicked and perversed generation, and that he who would sacrifice his earthly hope and earthly likes, because of his love for the Lord and righteousness, should find on a higher plane, namely, the plane of Divine nature.

It is only the true Christian that follows in the footsteps of Jesus, who enters this narrow way and keeps it. Such Christians learn that there is a clear distinction between a church member and a Christian. A church member is one who unites himself with some earthly organization and in order that he might have some respectability in a community in which he lives. A true Christian is one who having fully consecrated his life to do the will of God becomes zealous for good works, loves the Lord and loves the truth, and is willing to undergo trying circumstances and sufferings in order that he might have the Divine approval. The way is made narrow and difficult to keep in because it is a way of suffering. It is not popular to be a true Christian and never has been. Jesus was not popular amongst the leading classes in His time. In His day the ruling classes consisted of these three: The Kings and his household, namely, the professional politicians of that time; the wealthy, the learned and influential ones, such as the Pharisees and Princesses, constituting the financial power; and the Priestly class, constituting the preachers or Ecclesiastical element. They abused Him; they called Him a devil, a liar, a blasphemer, a glutton, charged him with the crime of sedition and caused Him to be put to death.

When Jesus said, "If any man will come after me He must deny himself and take up his cross and follow me," He meant that the true Christian would have similar experiences. He said the Disciple is not above his master, and the servant not above his Lord. It is enough for the Disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his Lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household? (Matt. 10: 24, 25). Again, He spoke of the three classes above named as the world—those having a spirit contrary to the Church. These find a counterpart in our present day. The Professional Politicians, Big Business, and the Ecclesiastical leaders, have joined together in an unholy alliance, and they persecute the humble followers of Jesus. Evidently Jesus had in mind such a class when He said: "If the world hate you know that it hated me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love its own; but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world therefore the world hate you. Remember if they have persecuted me they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also." (John 15: 18, 20). Again, in rererring to the events that would transpire at the end of the world where we are now, He said: "Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you; and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake;" and then added, "But he that shall endure to the end shall be saved," meaning that those who ultimately find life at the end of the narrow way will be few and will be those who will endure faithfully, hardships, trials and persecution, because they love the Lord more than they love any earthly thing.

When the last one has entered into life through the straight and narrow way, and the Lord's Kingdom is established that His will shall be done in earth as it is in Heaven, then a great and mighty highway will be opened for the purpose of blessing the people and bringing back the millions that have gone down the great broad way of destruction. Of this the Prophet wrote: "And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those; the wayfaring men, the fools shall not err therein. (Isiah 35:8). The highway referred to here means the Divine arrangement for the recovery of the Human Race, based upon the great Ransom Sacrifice of Jesus of Nazereth. First the millions on earth, living when the Kingdom is established, shall be brought to a knowledge of the fact that the way leading to life, a way of holliness has now been opened, and it will be made so clear that at that time, that the wayfaring man tho, an ignorant preacher shall be able to understand it. In truth and in fact, there will be no preachers, then going about collecting enormous sums of money from the people and inveigling them to join their organizations and build church houses they can never pay for, but such men will have to hunt an honest job of work and humble themselves like others and learn that the great Messiah has taken unto Himself His great power and is reigning.

The ninth verse of this Prophecy of the Lord says: "No lion shall be there nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall work there. A lion is a strong, vicious, ravenous beast, and in symbol illustrates the beastly manner in which affairs have been conducted by men. None such will be permitted in which affairs of holliness is opened. There will be no bloated bond-holders, who will hammer up the Liberty Bonds they want to sell them and hammer them down when they want to buy them. There will be no persons then who will be permitted to put the price of farm products down beneath a living price when they want to buy from the poor farmers and put it out of sight in price after they have squeezed it out of the poor farmers for practically nothing-- there will be none who will be permitted to place exhorbit rents upon their houses and force the poor people to pay that rent there will be no profiteers who will dump the food into the sea in order to make the price of what is left remain high. The Great Master will permit nothing of this kind, but everyone will be required to deal righteously with his neighbor because the Lord will be ruling all, and such rule will be a righteous one. "With righteousness shall He judge the poor and reprove with justice the meek of the earth and He shall smite the earth will the rod of His mouth (that is, teach them the truth) and with the breath of His lips will He slay the wicked (that is to say, His truth will put to flight all the wicked systems and organizations). An righteousness shall be the girdle of His reign." (Isiah 11:4, 5).

Surely the Inter-Church World Movement, which includes the great system of Church Denominations, cannot say consistently that it is inviting people to the narrow way that leads to life; they deny such a highway of Holliness because they deny restitution blessings. Therefore according to their own conduct they must admit that they are going the broad way that leads to destruction, which is the truth. The blind guides are leading the blind followers, and they shall all go into the ditch. (Matt. 15:14.) What the people need is knowledge. There is indeed now a famine in the land for want of the knowledge of the truth, just as the Lord foretold it would be. (Amos 8:11). The people are famishing for a knowledge of God's plan, and yet the Inter-Church World leaders, their Preachers say: we agree to ignore the Doctrines. We thank God for the highway of holliness that shall soon be established, and for the abundance of truth that shall feed the poor, starved and hungry people! What the true Christians, who are in the Church Denominations and Inter-Church World Movement, should do, is to heed the voice of the Lord: "Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins and receive not of her plagues." (Rev. 18: 4). Come out of these false systems before you go into the ditch of great disappointment with them. The great outward show by the Denominations in the past as present of Church house building, is not recognized by the Lord. He will only recognize those whose hearts are right and who do His will without any outward show to the world. (Matt. 7:31-27) Not only come out yourself, but learn the Lord's Plan and teach it to others for their comfort and strength. Let them know that the Lord is now taking unto himself His great power and restitutional blessings are at hand, and that millions now living on the earth will never dies if they avail themselves of the opportunity for everlasting life, liberty and happiness.

A Mr. Wright of Pittsburg, arrived in Kingfisher Saturday having been sent here by a wealthy woman of the same city to look up people whom she wishes to compensate for kindness to her son some twenty-five years ago. It seems that the son passed through Kingfisher bare-footed and penniless and was housed by the Rev. Wilson and family. He (the boy) told his mother of the kindness of these good people on his death-bed and she is bending every eenrgy to locate the right family. The said Mr. Wright is ure that he has located the right family and says that they will be handsomely compensated.

COALGATE, OKLA.
(By D. Walton)

Our school closed on the 12th. Examinations were held from 9 a. m. to 1.30 p. m. by Prof. C. L. Franks and Miss Coleman. At 2:30 the Patron's Club, under the direction of their president, Mon. G. W. Easter, spared no pains in arranging a well prepared luncheon which was enjoyed by all. After luncheon the boys and girls enjoyed Basket and foot ball games.

At 8 p. m. a most excellent program was rendered by pupils under auspices of the teachers. Miss Myrtle Walton, who has just returned from Terrell, Texas, served in a few drills as pianist. The principal address of the evening was delivered by Hon. T. H. Harris of Ardmore, Okla., who was a credit to the whole affair. Closing remarks by Rev. D. C. Miller, one of the leading colored ministers. The patrons enjoyed a pleasant school term with the teachers.

STOP GIVING HEED TO EVIL SPIRITS

Text: Those Angels which kept not their first estate—Jud. 6

The Bible's teaching that the earth's atmosphere is filled with evil spirits is now very generally disbelieved and as a result of this disbelief thousands of well meaning people are being more or less easily introduced by these evil spirits. The blight is both physical and moral; the usual method of procedure by these spirits is to arouse curiosity, when the quest for knowledge precedes, and influences, much like that of hypnotism affects the investigator, impelling him forward to further investigation. Sometimes the curiosity is attracted through the outer sense at spiritualistic meetings with Ouija boards, etc.

At other times it is by Spirits rapping. Again it may be by whisperings in the ear inaudible to others. At other times the message comes thru transe Mediums but in every instance these communications purport to come from dead human beings.

This of itself gives to the communication a special charm to many. They feel honored in being sought by the dead and in being able to communicate with them, they are curious for information respecting the hereafter. Not infrequently do these spirits personate the Heavenly Father and Christ and urge more prayer and accurse sin and reccommend the reading of the Scripture, this appears to be with a view to gainging the confidence of the will.

But later on dishonorable suggestions are made. The Bible is scorned, prayer is laughed at. If, then, the subject takes fright and seeks to break the hypnotic chains, the evil spirits laugh at him, swear at him, and sometimes tell him that they will shortly have him fully in their power to roast him forever. If he attempts to pray they intrude and interrept and tell him that God will not hear him now, that he has gone too far, etc. With some the matter goes so far the human will is broken down completely and the spirits obsess them and use their bodies foolishly—sometimes viciously and sometimes insanely, until finally they are pronounced dangerous and committed to an asylum. We do not claim that all of the insane are obsessed of evil spirits, but so far as we can judge, nearly one-half of the inmates of asylums are obsessed by demons who live in them while thev are mastering their wills.

God, through His word has forewarned His people against these delusions. In permitting His people to fall into these traps, He, God, is merely teaching them a great lesson. The terrible results of disobedience, of neglect of God's word. The Divine arrangement is that ultimately the entire human family shall be released from the bonds of sin and death, ignorance and superstition and all have full opportunity for coming into full harmony with God. The present lesson will illustrate to man the necessity for searching the Scripture and obeying God's voice therein.

St. Paul, in describing this very day in which we now live declares one of its prominent signs to be that many will give heed to these seducing spirits, whose teachings and practices leads away from God. Saint Paul intimates also that by these misleading spirits many will come to hold doctrines of demons, or devilish doctrines. It is a sad commentary upon our wonderful day of enlightenment that the most intelligent or enlightened people should hold to and believe in the most awful doctrine respecting the hereafter. It certainly is a doctrine of demons which teaches that nine hundred and ninty-nine out of every thousand of humanity afe to be eternally tortured either because of Divine incompentence to make better arrangement for them, or because God will and fore-ordained it so before creation. This doctrine of demons has enslaved many honorabye people who would themselves scorn to be accredited of making such a plan of the ages as they attribute to God.

But we thank God, that the time is not far distant when these seducing spirits will be completely bound, restrained, and deceive humanity no more. But the deception has so long prevailed that poor humanity is thoroughly under its control. The falsehood leading up to all this error is Satan's first old lie to our parents in the Garden of Eden. There, contradicting the words of God, he said, "Ye shall not surely die." Ever since, for six thousand years, he has worked along this line and all the fallen angels have been working with him. When men seem to die, they become more alive than before they die. On account of these errors that dead men are alive, Satan and the fallen angels, contrary to the teachings of the Bible have instilled into the people of the whole world non-senelcal, and heathen superstitions respecting Heaven, Purgatory, to help them out. Protestants do not so pray, believing that the saintly few go direct to Heaven and that all the unsaintly go directly to eternal torture. If this grand lie (Ye shall not surely die) wherewith, Satan first seduced Mother Eve and murdered our race could be fully eliminated from the minds of the people and from the religious creeds it would mean a religious revolution for both Catholics and Protestants—men would turn to the Bible and away from the dominion and seduction of these lieing spirits and the fallen angels who are now persecuting humanity.

So far as we can learn from those who have once been spirit Mediums the trend of spiritualism is towards unchastity and impurity. And this agrees with the Scriptural declaration relative to the sin through which these fallen angels first become reprobates. Saint Jude: 6, and Saint Peter: (2 Peter 2:4) tells us briefly of the fall of the angels; that they left their own habitations and kept not their first estate. Both Apostles mention the circumstances in connection with human lasciviousness. This story of the fall of the angels is given us briefly in Gen. 6:1-4. After man's fall into sin God permitted the Holy Angels to have communication with humanity. And because human eyes cannot see spirit beings, God permitted the Angels to materialize, that is to take on human form. For instance, we note the case of the angels who visited Abraham on the plains of Mamre and for whom he prepared a veal dinner. We read that, materialized, the Angels were like men, while they ate and talked with him. It was subsequently that Abraham learned that they were really Heavenly visitants so it was with all the Angels before the flood. Theq were permitted to materialize and to appear in every sense of the word as men. The records show that the Angels became lustful. We read, "The sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were fair and took unto themselves wives of such as they chose." The angels, with superior powers and superior knowledge to man's acted as masters of men, who were practically obliged to do their bidding. The result is stated in a few words. The children of the union of inferior humanity with the superior angelic beings produced a race as we are told, who were giants as compared with the ordinary members of our race. And not only were they giants physically, but also intellectually. "They were men of renoun." Poor humanity could not compare with this race. The result was that strife and contention and lustful and sinful practices abounded in all the earth, until God declared that every imagination of the thoughts of man's heart was only evil continually. God had foreknown all of this and a canopy of waters, which then surrounded the earth simular to Saturn's rings now, was held in readiness to cause a flood, that sinful men and the human springs of these lustful Angels might be destroyed. Only Noah and his family were found worthy of preservation to be the new start of humanity this side of the flood. The declaration of the scripture respecting Noah's family, is, "Now Noah was perfect in his generation." He was properly generated or born and so was his children. There was no strain or admixture of Angelic stock in that family. The plain inference of the scripture is that the remainder of humanity was so degraded by the seduction of those fallen Angels that they were not fit to live. The entire race had become corrupt. (Sorry to say the present race and generation of mankind are fastly approaching the same condition morally that pertained just before the flood of Noah's day.)

Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. were well attended. Rev. Mundine, the pastor, preached a wonderful sermon.

Rev. T. H. Hightower preached the Missionary sermon to a crowded house. Ada citizens are preparing to have a great picnic on the 19th of June.

HOBART NEWS
(By Sarah Armstead)

Sunday school was well attended. Rev. A. L. L. Randolph was at his post last Sunday and preached a noble sermon. Everybody should take what the pastor said and put it into real life.

Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Taylor were quietly married last Monday. They will leave for Kansas where he has accepted a missionary field of labor. We wish him a great success.

WELEETKA TIDINGS

The students played well their part on the stage Friday night. They showed a great interest in the educational work. Both patrons and pupils congratulate the two teachers, Prof. Pete and Miss M. C. Neely, for their splendid work duing the eight months here. Prof. T. E. Pete and wife returned to their home in Bristow; also MissMcNelly, who lives in Boley.

LAWTON, OKLA.

Mrs. Eliza West has returned from Muskogee, Tulsa and Chickasha and other points in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Sarah Snowton left for Tulsa last Thursday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Lala Wallace.

The Vernon school closed last Tuesday.

Mrs. Kemp and Matilda Williams attended the Commencement exercises at Sapulpa and Oklahoma City.

Rev. Owens was at his post and delivered good sermons both morning and night, last Sunday. B. Y. P. U. and Sunday school were well attended.

Mrs. L. A. Houston made a flying trip to Waurika, Okla.

Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. was fine. The revival is still going on at the Galilee Baptist Church. We are having quite a success. Rev. Dr. Sutton, who is here helping Rev. E. D. Parker to carry on the revival, received a telegram to come at once, that his wife was very ill. Rev. Parker is still on the watch trying to save some souls.

Rev. F. T. Strouther preached at the A. M. E. Church morning and night. Both sermons were fine.

TATUMS NEWS

Mrs. Roselle Spigner returned Thursday fro ma visit to the bedside of her father who has been sick for a number of weeks. Mrs. Spigner reports that he has improved very much and there are hopes of his speedy recovery.

Langston University is out and the pupils from Tatums who have been in attendance, are not home with their parents and friends. There were six pupils in attendance, but all returned home before school closed except Winnie Mae Leonard and Ausby Mitchell, both of whom highly enjoyed their stay at Langston.

Mrs. Ada Sams and Miss Perchie Kennedy left Thursday for their homes at Sapulpa and Bison to spend the vacation. Miss Dannye Alexander left for her home at Guthrie, Saturday.

A match base ball game, Tatums vs. Davis, was played at Davis Saturday in the new Davis park. Although the Tatums boys had just the day before laid aside their plows, they proved an over match to the opposing team that had selected the best players from two or three teams inculding Wynnewood, Pauls Valley and Davis. The scores were 7 to 1 in favor of Tatums. We have the best pitcher in the state and it was marvelous to see him perform in the box with agility of an acrobat while doing circus stunts. The big towns feel abashed to play a little town as they don't want to get licked by a country team, but we learn to do by doing and will welcome any team to our diamond on the beautiful High School Campus and will play a fair game.

Mr. H. E. Baker is making some improvements on his refinery. We expect to see it in operation in the near future as his mechanics are installing several high pressure boilers and other machinery. This enterprise will be an asset to Tatums and a credit to the race, and Mr. Baker should be complimented and encouraged for his untiring efforts in establishing what will be the only refinery owned and operated exclusively by Colored people.

The bell that was ordered some weeks ago for the school has been placed within the school house. This bell weighs 520 pounds and it is to be mounted in a belfry on the parapet of the roof of the High School building.

A rousing sermon was preached to the Mission Sisters of Bethel Baptist Church by Rev. E. N. Carter. All present were highly edified and left with a determination to use their influence for the elevation of mankind.

Mr. J. D. Hooks is having his residence painted and it makes a commendable showing from the beautiful elevation, overlooking our city. If more house were painted it would add greatly to the appearance of the house and the preservance or the material.

W. C. Arch of Kansas City, Kans., representative of the Negro Star of Wichita, Kans., and the Kansas City Sun of Kansas City, Kans., was a caller at the Black Dispatch offices this week. Mr. Arch is also salesman for the Goodyear Rain Coats.

The Crystal Gate Lodge, No. 173, of A. F. A. M., on the 27, paid in full the death claim of our deceased Rev. Step Evans, who passed out of this life on the 20th of April. He was a member of the A. M. E. Church.

We are doing much charity work in our little town.

DOTS FROM ALTUS
(By John Still)

Sunday found the M. E. Revival at full blast. Rev. Walker and Rev. Ferguson arrived Sunday and Rev. Ferguson preached for the M. E. pastor, Rev. Shaw, Sunday. The house was crowded. The M. E. meeting closed Sunday night and Rev. Ferguson will preach Monday night.

Rev. Ed. Parker of Lawton( is over to start a drive on Satan's stronghold. Rev. Owens passed through Altus Sunday for Mangum, where he and Rev. Gilkey, the pastor, has pitched a battle against sin.

The readers of the Black Dispatch will please pardon the reported for failure to say anything of the grand closing of the Altus School. Our principal, Prof. J. W. Dawson, brought up something very new and the public was enthusiastic over his suecess.

On last Sunday night Mr. Clem (Curly) Green shot a woman by the name of Annie, through the arm. Mr. Green is in jail.

The Boyd church has made its appearance in Altus—now the smoke will issue forth in volcanic clouds.

Mr. S. R. Elliot, one of Carter county's progressive farmers, made a trip to Langston to attend the commencement exercises. He says the exercises were fine.

Rev. P. R. Neil of Hope, Ark., was in town Saturday and Sunday. He preached the U. B. F. sermon at Mt. iZon Church, Sunday night, the "old man" was at his best when he delivered a masterful address to the First Baptist. Rev. P. R. Neil is a former pastor of Ardmore and is a splendid gospel preacher.

Rev. W. M. Bourenm spent Sunday in Berwyn. Rev. Bouren is one of Ardmore's best citizens.

The closing exercises of Douglas High School of Ardmore, began on Sunday, May 22, at three o'clock, when Rev. McPherson preached the baccalaureate sermon. His discourse was masterly both in composition and rendition.

On Monday night the primary and intermediate grades rendered a play, entitled: "The Courting of Mother Goose." This was very entertaining and several future stars were discovered. Among them were Verda Fellds Lonnie Mae Tyson, Tennie Jackson, Theopolis Curry and George Hill.

On Tuesday, the seventh and eighth grades presented "A Bunch of Roses." This contained a comic operetta, "Johnnye Jones." The novel costumes and decorations of roses used in this play made it quite an attractive feature of commencement week. Ethel Carlis and Clarenzo Stevens played the leading roles in this play.

On Wednesday night occured the graduating exercises of the school. This was the second class of the school and in many respects a duplicate of the first, each class was composed of four girls. The graduates of this year were: Misses Annie Mae McKennie, Marie Turman, Ida Mae Turman and Faye Watson. Prof. Caesar of Shawnee delivered the address to the class. His subject was "Go Think," and many, after hearing this address, which was both eloquent and logical, resolved to obey the command and put their mental machinery into operation.

On Thursday night the High School rendered the historic play, "Pocahontas," Many agreed that this was the best ever given in Ardmore.

On Friday, the primary grades gave a pageant on the High School campus. The entire program won the approval and applause of all. The rest of the day was spent in a picnic, ball games and other sports. The "aHs Beens" played the High School boys and lost by a score of 6-3.

A mistake was made, but it was alright when the court clerk drew Rev. J. W. Knowles' name for the petty jury list, and he did serve.

NOTES FROM LUTHER
(By Delbert Henry)

Sunday school at the Metropolitan last Sunday was indeed interesting. The lesson was thoroughly taught by each teacher and was instructively reviewed by the superintendent, Prof. W. P. Johnson. The sermon preached by the pastor, was a masterpiece.

Mr. I. M. Lott, chief clerk of the J. T. Armstrong Department stort, spent last Sunday in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Reed gave a splendid repast for a party of their friends out at their beautiful country home near Meridian last Sunday.

The pastor of Metropolitan will fill his pulpit both day and night next Sunday, it being the first Sunday in the month. All the members are expected to be present.

Mrs. Mayma Yeldell and family visited relatives and friends at Wellston last Sunday.

There were a good man visitors at Metropolitan last Sunday. We hope they enjoyed the service and will come again.

Rev. C. E. Baker, D. D., will conduct a ten days' revival at Kingfisher next week. Rev. R. Rooks is pastor at that place.

The farmers in and around Luther are enjoying the rain that fell.

Rev. T. B. Mattox, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was out of town ast Sunday and Rev. Harold filled his pulpit.

Luther looks somewhat lonely since the closing of school.

Service at the Christian Church last Sunday was good. Father Henry delivered one of his old time revival sermons and all enjoyed it. They have one of the best Sunday schools in the city.

HOLDENVILLE, OKLA.
(By Jas. Lott)

Dr. W. T. Rickman left Sunday eveninf for Sapulpa to make his future home. Dr. Rickman has been with us a long time. We regret very much to see him go. He certainly made good in Holdenville as race man and a doctor. I want to say to the good people of Sapulpa, you are lucky in having such a man as Dr. Rickman to come to you. We wish you much success in your new field of labor.

Mrs. J. M. King left Monday for her home at Muskogee.

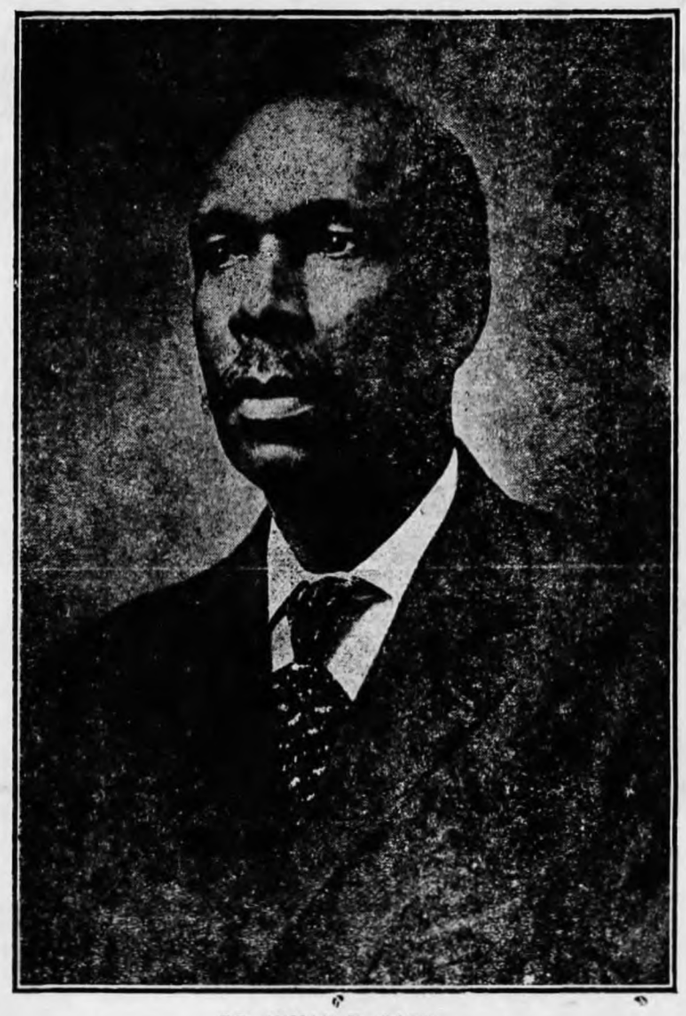
White Southerner Says Ku Klux Klan Means The Downfall Of Civilization



DR. INMAN E. PAGE

Who has been elected to the principalship of Douglas High School, Oklahoma City. Dr. Page has spent almost a half century in uplifting work among his people. For twenty years he was President of Lincoln Institute, at Jefferson City, Mo. William Tecumseh Vernon, now a bishop in the A. M. E. Church, was one of his pupils and other notable men of the country received their first training and inspiration from this noble man. For seventeen years Dr. Page headed Langston University and has during other periods been in charge at Western University and Rodger Williams. He is a graduate of Brown University. He comes to the city ripe in experience and his selection has met with universal satisfaction. Dr. Page arrived in the city from St. Louis last Monday and plunged into the details of his big work. Douglas High School is the first school of its class in the state. It has sent out over the nation many splendid young men and women who are doing useful work for the race and humanity. The coming of Dr. Page means that Douglas High will climb higher and higher as an institution for the development of the Negro youth. Friday evening hundreds of the citizens of the city gathered at Calvary Baptist Church to do honor to whom from point of service might aptly be called "THE STATE'S FIRST CITIZEN."

UNQUESTIONABLY SO

(From the Barometer of Public Opinion, Tulsa Daily World

Editor World:

You printed an editorial this morning entitled "Bad Niggers." You should have coupled this with one headed "White Scum." Your relief activities are commendable, or course, but why not present this whole matter fairly? Referring to the lawless element in the black race you said that it was "this class that brought on the terrible suffering and loss." What about the white riff-raff that tried to start the lynching, and what about the so-called police force that collapsed so utterly?

The general testimony is that the comparatively few colored toughs went about with guns for a half hour or hour before the outbreak. Was there not ample time for a dozen real policemen, properly organized and handled, to nip the uprising in the bud?

I went out to the hill in the morning and watched the burning dwelling houses and churches. The spectacle impressed me as the most disgraceful sight I had ever heard of in connection with an American city. Where were the police then? Why had they not organized during the night to prevent this diabolical incendiarism and looting?

I was ashamed to live in this town and still am and will continue to be until it is rescued from the danger of further lapses into barbarism by a proper protection of the lives and property of both whites and blacks.

DOUBLE MURDER

(Samuel Judson Porter)
Pastor First Baptist Church (White)
Oklahoma City, Okla.

The violent outburst of passion at Tulsa last week which resulted in wholesale murder and incendiarism gives us all a horrible warning that we are living and moving on a thin brittle crust of civilization which is liable to crash at any unusual strain and hurl us into unplumbed depths of degradation. I do not now take the time to discuss lynching except to say that lynching is murder—the mast detestable and dangerous form of murder. It is double murder. It murders not only a human being but it murders the law, which is far more serious.

What I am appealing for now, as a citizen and Christian minister, is that we shall take immediate steps to avoid the repetition of such barbarous doings as have disgraced our State within the last few days. Our present task is to arouse a public sentiment which will see that not for one moment are we to be left to the fiendish ravages of an infuriated mob, to kill, burn, loot and plunder without stay or hindrance..

Negroes, as a rule, are a well-disposed and law-abiding people. They pay taxes in proportion to their property, render military service without discrimination and are entitled to justice and protection. There is nothing in the coming of the Negroes to this country to excite resentment against them on the part of the white people; nor is there anything in the history of the race since their arrival to warrant hatred of them. On the other hand they have made a wonderful contribution to the growth and development of our country, while they have made an advancement incomparable in the rise of races for so short a time. The fact is that, in the South, and this is true of our own State, the white people as a rule have only the kindest feelings for the Negroes, while the Negroes know that the white people are their friends. All this has been demonstrated in countless ways through many years. The trouble comes for the most part through the baser elements of both races and a few vicious fomentors of distrust and strife. We all want harmony, friendship and good feeling between the races, and we cannot afford to let the rabble disturb our equilibrium, inflame us passions of the unthinking and irresponsible and thereby plunge us into race riots and warfare. An inescapable fact is that the white people and the black people have got to inhabit this country together. Side by side we must live in this land of magnificent advantages and unlimited opportunities. The great problem for all of us to study and solve is, how we can best do this. The occupancy of the same country under the same laws by two such widely different races is not desirable as an original proposition; still the condition, in fact, confronts. Here we are—white and black. And here we are going to stay working out our destiny together. We are here. We are living together. We have gotten along together peacefully and successfully to a glorious and wonderful degree. Let us keep on. It is time now for us to be sensible and kind and patient. It is a time for wise counsel to prevail. We must not, cannot, resort to brute force, that would be ruin and folly. Let us foster confidence, uphold the law and see that justice is done. Let the voice of the press, the pulpit, the school and the public meeting speak out against lawlessness, violence and insolence. Let caution and wisdom be exercised at all the possible points of friction between the races. Let the wild agitator be discountenanced, put down and severely punished.

There are large numbers of criminal white people and there are many criminal Negroes, and these are the elements that disturb the peace of the community-life; but we are not going to let them bring the country to ruin. There are many Christians of both races in Oklahoma. I believe the majority of our people are for peace, harmony and progress. Let us all be sane and learn better than ever before the fine art of living together. Our problem is great but not impossible of solution. Concisely stated our problem is this: The American adjustment of the relations which should exist between the white people and the Negro people of a common country, whose welfare, in the last analysis, is a common weal. Differently stated our problem is the righteous adjustment of the conditions arising from the dwelling together, in the same community-life, of the extremes of all the races—the Caucasian or white man at one extreme, and the African, or black man at the other. Its surest solution is to be found in the grace of God who "hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth," and in the love of our common Lord and Saviour who loved us and gave himself to redeem us all from our sins and to make us the children of our Father in Heaven.

Says Better Way Would be to Hold Public Mass Meetings to Offer Assistance to Officers of the Law

J. B. Granfill, in Dallas (Texas) News

There is no doubt that the modern Ku Klux Klan is composed in great part of good men. That was true of the old-time Ku Klux Klan, of which I have conflicting memories. The old-time Ku Klux Klan wrought much good, but there followed in its wake much coincident evil. The present Ku Klux Klan will do good in isolated instances, but the evil that will outflow from the organization will far exceed the good; and, on the whole, all of us should join hands in making it impossible for a lawless organization of this character to exist among us.

A much better way would have been for these splendid men—and I am sure that in this Ku Klux Klan in Dallas there are many of our really excellent citizens—would have been for them to have gathered together in mass meeting, divested of all secrecy and masksand have passed resforcement for our peace officers and constabularies, at the same time tendering services for any needful task in assisting the officers in enforcing the law. That would have been commendatory and wholesome and in every way worthy of our young American citizens and leaders, but the plan that has been adopted cannot be justified, looked at from any standpoint whatsoever.

Frankly, it is a piece of brazen effrontery for any body of men, however good their intentions or de signs, to assume the "holier-than thou" attitude which this Ku Klux Klan has assumed in the very fiber and blood of the organization itself. No man is above the law; no organization is above the law; no man or clan can successfully altitudisize as as superior to the great body of our citizenship, and this is the very meat and marrow of the pretentious qualifications and perogatives of this Ku Klux Klan.

No kind of mob violence can be

Find Nine Automobiles In Arkansas

Most of the property that was owned by Negro business men and a large portion of the residential section will revert into white ownership on account of the inability of the present owners to derive any income with which to liquidate the mortgages upon the property. For example,, it is said that J. B. Stratford had an original mortgage on his property, where the hotel was located, in the amount of $65,000.00. .This is said to have been reduced to $20,000.00 or thereabouts. He was reducing this at the rate of $450.00 per month. The property producing no income now will of course revert to the mortgagee. This condition applys to perhaps 75 percent of the Negroes' Tulsa holdings. Tulsa at its best was a newly settled section and this condition would apply to about the same percentage of white people, were the same disaster to meet them.

Another problem that involves thousands of dollars, is that in the burning of the homes, many had their bank books destroyed. John Simth, who ran a boot black stand on Greenwood, in the Dixie Theatre Building, had in the bank, according to his wife's statement, over $300.00. The bank book was destroyed and the bank where they had their fund has to date refused to acknowledge their account. They are in Oklahoma City today, without funds or work.

It is said that the City of Tulsa has refused a building permit to Goodwin, the undertaker, who desired to replace his building. It is not known as to whether Goodwin desired to rebuild a fire proof structure, and that he was refused on this ground or not. According to the Tulsa world the city is taking advantage of many unfortunates who are thrown out of employment. O. A. Steiner, street commissioner, made a bunch of refugees in the Fair Grounds unload several loads of crushed rock, last Monday, receiving in return "THREE SQUARE MEALS AND A BED."

The city's investigation promises to result in a farce, since the appointment of another investigation committee by Mayor Evans. The first committee appointed in a mass meeting will be disposed, if the mayor's will is done. The first committee has been strong in its denunciation of the city government. It has not failed to say unreservedly that LAW AND ORDER COMPLETELY DISAPPEARED IN TULSA ON JUNE 1ST. The new committee is expected to reverse this verbal expression of an outstanding fact. In other words, the mayor and the police purpose to INVESTIGATE THEMSELVES.

The local Knights of Pythias lodge, of the City of Tulsa pays an amazing tribute to the looters and arsonists who pillaged and murdered unarmed Negroes, as will be shown by this excerpt taken from resolutions published in the Tulsa World, June 14th. It follows.

"We, unhesitatingly, commend and approve those representatives of constituted authority, officers, and white citizens of Tulsa, who so successfully and effectively fought the battles for Tulsa, and for the restoring of law and order on that fateful occasion, and won. To those who suffered, and to those who died that beautiful Tulsa might live in peace and security, we pay tribute of respect and honor. May their noble sacrifice ever be fresh and inspiring in memory. To all such splendid and courageous citizens, rich and poor, learned and unlearned, who responded instantly to the call for service and marched shoulder to shoulder in the performance of every duty, WE HAIL YOU AS HEROES! You saved our people; you saved our property; you saved our city. And we pledge to these, one and all, their families and loved ones, our sincere gratitude, helpful assistance and kindly remembrance."

According to a statement made by a prominent business man who formerly operated a fine $5000.00 barber shop in Tulsa, which was completely destroyed in the riots of June 1st, nine fine automobiles, the property of Tulsa Negroes have been located in Arkansas. Jackson, the undertaker, was successful in locating his big ambulance through a white man who came to him and suggested that he could locate it. He went with the man and the car was located in the residence district. Jackson left his man standing on the ground waiting for his money that he never will get. It is rumored that the two bodies found in the ruins of the Stratford were white looters who staid in the burning building too long, the walls fell in on them. Many Negroes are still in the Tulsa hospitals, according to the statement of Mr. Dan Farmer, one of the refugees, and who worked in one of the hospitals during the few days succeeding the riot. Several who rushed from their homes were burned almost from head to foot and they lay there in the hospital covered over with grease to ease their pain.

"When the elephants roost in the trees, I'm going back to Tulsa," said one of the prominent physicians, formerly of that city, who landed in Oklahoma City Wednesday. He said most of the business and professional men were planning to leave the city for good as soon as they could adjust what little business that remained to be attended to out of the holocaust of fire. "I have now what is a vacant lot, where my house was," said this doctor. "I am going back and sell that, then good-bye Tulsa." said he.

More than fifty per cent of the Negroes have left the city, according to the statement of this doctor. "It is humiliating to the greatest degree to the Negroes of the city to have to go around labeled with green cards as though they are dogs or some other kind of animals," said this doctor, and as soon as they are able, they all evince a spirit to shake the dust of Tulsa from their feet.

"I never saw so many kids in their teens with guns and pistols in their hands," said Dr. Jack Smitherman, who was one of the physicians who was herded into the concentration camps during the riot. Several of them wanted to shoot me, but older heads prevailed. One was shot right in front of me, however, to show that I was in grave danger. Four men were shot in front of Convention hall. Frank Smith, another named Clark and Holderness were three whose names Dr. Smitherman remembered. Another man was shot on the other side of Brady street. Failure to hold up their hands was the cause of this shooting.

Dick Rowland, according to Barney Cleaver, who was in Oklahoma City Sunday, on his way to Granite with prisoners, IS IN SOUTH OMAHA. He was released by the Tulsa authorities no charges ever being placed against him. This bears out the statement of the Black Dispatch that the mob of white hoodlums at the jail were attempting to murder an innocent man. "HE WAS NOT IN THE JAIL WHEN THE MOB APPEARED THERE," said Cleaver, "but we could not afford to tell where he was. Sarah Page has vanished as completely as a mirage on a desert. The story still stands that all that Dick Rowland was guilty of was stumbling and stepping on the foot of Sarah Page. She struck him with her hand bag, he grabbed her hand as he stepped out of the elevator.

Refugees coming into Oklahoma City are giving much praise to Charles Page, prominent oil man of Tulsa, who it is stated has been giving freely of his funds to the destitute blacks. According to Al Floyd, who reached Oklahoma City, Wednesday, Mr. Page has been issuing free transportation to Sand Springs and giving free meals to all who went there. Much praise is given to the Red Cross and the members of the white churches for the very active and sympathetic manner in which they have gone into the work of caring for the suffering and the needy.

ANNOUNCEMENT

STACK YOUR ARMS AND TAKE REFUGE IN THE LORD.

I wish to say that up to the present time I have never permitted myself to have anything to do with politics, or make any suggestion concerning present social conditions, but since the recent Race riot in Tulsa, many persons, both white and black, have been asking the question: "What is the best thing to do to prevent such disgraceful occurrences? Will there be any more trouble?"

I beg to answer the above questions as follows, to-wit: The old world or order of things is ended and now passing away, making room for the new order or world wherein dwelleth righteousness. We have about five more years for the people to become fully convinced that the old world is ended and the new is being born.

From now on until the end of 1925 the whole world will be marked as never before by political desertions, industrial, financial and religrious troubles, Race riots, (and when I say Raec riots, I do not simply mean troubles between whites and blacks, but also between whites and whites, mob violence and revolutions. These occurrences are but the labor pains of Christiandom giving notice to all, whose eyes are open, that the old world or order of things is passing away and a new one is being born.

There is always some pain and suffering accompanying the birth of new conditions, but the distress, pain and agony which will accompany the passing of the present order of things will be many folds greater than it would have been had the preachers done their duty as faithful servants and seen to it that the people were taught the truth and their minds fed upon the proper food of God's Plan of Salvation. The clergy as a class have existed since the third century and some have been good and honest Christian men, but by far too many have been unfaithful, disloyal and unrighteous men and have taught the people everything else but the truth. In chapters 33 and 34, the Prophet Ezekiel, scathingly araigns this class and points out how they are responsible in a greater degree than any other class of men on earth for the great world war and the trouble that is now following. Ezek. 34:3, 4; 1st Cor. 1:21.

In view of what we have just stated to be the unavoidable course of the world for the next five years, the reasonable minded person desires to know what is the best thing to do. There are many things that the people of the world could do to lessen the pains of the birth of a new order, but space will not permit me to discuss them in detail. I will, nowever, call your attention to one thing that should be advocated and done without delay.

I believe every good citizen whether black or white will agree with me when I say that if no one except the officers of the law were permitted to own or have in their possession firearms or death dealing instruments, Race riots and mob violence would be things of the past. Every Christian hearted person of all races should stack arms and let it be known from the house tops that he has no more use for those cursed instruments of trouble. A sentiment should be creted nation wide and enacted into law, making it a felony to manufacture, sell or have in one's posession firearms in any other manner than that prescribed by law.

I hear some one say that the "high jackers" would get the best of the good citizens, were they all unarmed, but such is not true for the reason that if the people go about this matter of stacking arms in earnest every thugh or high jacker would be disarmed or safely behind prison walls in a very short time. his would be accomplised by offering a liberal reward to any one (without revealing his name who reports to proper authority persons having guns.

I am fully aware that my suggestions to stack arms will be scoffed at by the radical and hot-headed but, to such, I wish to say that time and conditions will prove the wisdom of these humble suggestions.

Mob violence or resistance against constituted authority has never been and never will be justifiable. And all persons regardless to race who resort to such methods in order to gain their object are sure in the end to bring upon themselves calamity, for the reason that mob spirit is contrary to the laws of the land and also contrary to the laws of God. Romans 13:1-7. Jesus' statement to Peter 1900 years ago, "Put up thy sword for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword," Matt. 26:52, is as true today as ever.

My earnest apeal to all good citizens and Christian-hearted people wheather black or white is, "STACK YOUR ARMS AND TAKE REFUGE IN JESUS."

If, as we are confident, the old world or order of things is ended and now pasing away we have much as yet to go through during the next five years. "A day of darkness and gloominess, let all the inhabitants of the earth tremble for the day of the Lord is great and very terible; and who can hide." Joel 2:2-11. "And I bring distress upon men, because they have sinned against the Lord." Zeph. 1:14-1; "Go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you." James 5:1-6. Their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in that day of the wrath of the Lord." Ezek. 7.17-19. "Then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the begining of the world." Matt. 24:21.

In conclusion, I wish to speak to the worldly minded, in the language of the faithful Prophet Zephaniah, "Seek ye the Lord all ye meek (those that are teachable) of the earth, which have wrought His judgment; seek righteousnes, seek meekness, it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger." Zeph. 2:2-3.

CHICKASHA NEWS.

By Ezra Brown.

The city wide revival ended Tuesday night of last week, with only two persons for baptism. The churches and many friends gave liberally to the gospel preacher. Money raised $96.23.

Tuesday the big Boy Scout campaign opened and in spite of the continuance of rain the program was a great success.

Friday a ball game was staged between Oklahoma City and Chickasha. Score 12 to 8 in Chickasha's favor.

Saturday the great parade made its way down Second street, then down Minnesota avenue to First-street, then through the residence district of the city. It was one of the largest and best ever held in Chickasha.

Miss Lucenie Masters was queen. Master Junior Taylor was king. At 3 p. m. Lawyer Corbett of Muskogee made a stirring address, using for a subject, "Be Prepared," and everybody gave attention while he spoke.

At 6 p. m. the bicycle race was on. Master D. H. Dickerson won first prize. The great drill Chickasha witnesed was pulled off by the Boy Scouts, assisted by Scout Master Wells. Lawyer Corbett spoke again to the delight of his hearers.

Masters Dave Jones and Bennie Martin had charge of the eats and drinks. Too much cannot be said for those who worked to help us make the campaign a success.

No one has challenged our great swimmer. He is still raring to go. Right S. Pettagrue, 626 South First street, Chickasha.

Prof. Oscar Spencer and wife, sister of Mrs. C. R. Dickerson, principal of Nowata High School, his sister, Mrs. Nettie Kemp, and Mr. Luther Harris, were guests of Mrs. D. H. Dickerson for two days. They toured through Texas and also to Chickasha. They are touring to California.

The Black Dispatch may be had by calling at Brown's Shine Parlor every Saturday and Sunday, 608 South Second street. Everybody boost the Black Dispatch.

SAYS 200 WERE KILLED IN TULSA RIOTS

Investigator for National Association For the Advancement of Colored People Returns From Oklahoma to New York

Walter F. White, Assistant Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York, returned today after a personal investigation of the recent race riot in Tulsa, Oklahoma, saying that between 150 and 200 Negroes were killed in the riots and at least 50 white persons. Mr. White declared that the riot was largely due to a misuse of the word "attack" and "assault," the impression being give nthat a colored man had attempted rape upon a white girl, whereas he had merely stumbled in an elevator and in attempting to recover his balance stepped upon her foot.

"Having been sworn in as a deputy sheriff and having been on patrol as such during the Tulsa riot," said Mr. White today, "I am able to state that the Tulsa riot in sheer brutality and wilful destruction of life and property stands without a parallel in America.

"Abuse and misuse of the word assault caused the entire conflagation. A white girl operating an elevator in a public building, declared that a colored boy had attempted to assault her. Without stopping to inquire, and without considering the utter impossibility of criminal assault being perpetrated in broad open daylight in the public elevator of a public building, on a principal street of a town of 100,000, a senseless mob set to 'avenge the honor of white womanhood.'

"As a result, between 200 and 250 white and colored citizens were known to have been killed, an unknown number of colored men and women and children were burned alive, 44 square blocks of business and residential property valued at a million and one-half dollars were destroyed, and everlasting damage done to the name of Tulsa and of Oklahoma.

"In justice to Tulsa it must be said that a large percentage of the white inhabitants condemned in unmeasured terms the outrage which has been perpetrated. The Salvation Army, the Red Cross, local relief agencies and churches have done commendable work in providing food, clothing and shelter for the destitute victims of the riot.

"Tulsa's experience is exceedingly important in that conditions which led to its night of terror exist in many other cities North and South and unless unusual efforts are used the gravest consequences are to be feared. Some of the white citizens of Tulsa are attempting to blame the riot on Negro 'radicalism.' When I questioned them regarding the nature of this radicalism I found invariably that it consisted of demands by Negroes that the federal Constitution be enforced and that lynching, peonage, disfranchisement and Jim-Crowism be abolished.

"There will be a state investigation of the riot but in the opinion of the citizens of Tulsa it will amount to nothing. The Tulsa riot has convinced me that the only hope of averting repetitions of it lies in federal interference."

LILY WHITE ISSUE TO THE FORE

Will Harding Faid Us? Church And Johnson Anxious

(By the Associated Negro Press)

Washington, D. C., June 17.—"Will President Harding fail us?" That is the very serious question that is being asked by everyone interested in political progress. It is being asked by no less persons than Col. Henry Lincoln Johnson, Republican National Committeeman from Georgia, and Robert R. Church, well known business man and political wizard of Tennessee. It is also being asked by their political associates and the newspapers of the Race, from one end of the country to the other.

There is no desire to see the President fail his 12,000,000 Colored Americans constituents, that backed him unanimously in his election. In fact, numbers of letters are coming to leaders in Washington stating that religious denominations are holding prayer meetings, in the cities and back in the villages, and the hills and mountains, praying that President Harding may be given courage to stand up to the high sentiments of justice expressed in his many public addresses. The people wish nothing less, and even in the words of Henry Lincoln Johnson, "we certainly can endure nothing less."

South Source of Trouble

The whole trouble is bound up in the policy of recognition. Colored Americans are insisting that all citizens be recognized absolutely on merit. Very active elements in the South are urging the President to "classify" the Negro, and that means to eliminate and segregate.

The President, it is said, refuses to eliminate, but that he is lending a listening, if not sympathetic ear to the plan of segregation. This information may strike the Colored Americans throughout the country with amazement, but The Associated Negro Press learns this from high authority.

The situation at present may be stated:

FIRST: There will be no appointment of Colored Americans to office in the southern states.

SECOND: There will be no appointments of Colored Americans to presidential offices, that is, offices that require the confirmation of the United States Senate.

THIRD: There will be no appointment of a Colored Register of the United States Treasury, Recorder of Deeds or any other similar offices formerly held by Colored Republicans.

FOURTH: There will be appointments of a number of prominent Colored Americans to prominent places in various departments, as many as twenty or more places, that do not require Senate confirmation. Such appointments will have salaries attached amounting to $5,000 or more, and will have the approval of President Harding.

OF PAUL LAWRENCE DUNBAR

B. Theodore Shackelford.

SHAWNEE, OKLA.

The world gloats over the loss of a poet
Of genius great and rare.
Whose songs have sweeten'd the entire world!
And perfumed the very air!
His heart was pure, his soul was clean
And all his works were pure—
Great wealth had he within the brain
But still the poet was poor.
This noble men, from childhood up
Sipped from a bitter cup,
And oft the world would wish him ill,
But he would not give up.
In poverty our genius sang
And drove away men's cares,
Then when the world would do him wrong,
He knelt in humble prayers.
He wrote fair verse in leisure hours,
He prayed both night and day
Still struggling on thru honest toil
To make his labors pay.
Tho, as he struggled for his rights.
The weary years rolled by
And took with them his griefs and tears
That often dimmed his eyes.
He laughed at sneers, he cursed at scorns;
He overpowered sin,
He fought his fight thru poverty
As other Genius Men.
He worked his way to Washington
And held a lofty place,
He fixed his mind on literature,
And worked to please his race.
'Twas from an African descent,
That he, Paul Dunbar sprang,
But all the world forgot his race
While thru the world he sang.
Dunbar sang songs to "London swells"
That made him recognized,
Until where e'ed he turned his ears,
He heard the joyful cries
Of those who once had pressed him hard
And wished him evils great,
And placed sharp thorns where he must tread
For fear he might escape.
The poverty which he still knew
Laid straight across his road,
But this he knew was part of life,
Which haunted his abode.
And now Dunbar was crowned with fame,
To never be forgot—
But ah! misfortune came again
And sickness fell his lot!
The whole world sang of his great name
And all men wished him well,
When consumptive germs tore at his heart
And made his life a hell!
He went to mountains for his health,
But all to no avail,
And so he prayed to God above,
But never did he wail.
At last came Dunbar's last sad day,
His time had come to die,
He bade farewell to all his friends
Then told the world good-bye.
And then an angel rushed to earth
And bore his soul away,
And left to men his mighty bones
To place beneath the clay!
'Twas God in Heaven, who rules above
That gave Dunbar to us
To teach his people how to love;
To teach them how to trust.
His deeds are left on earth to us,
In rhymes of great attire,
And colored o'er with depth profound
His great works still inspire!

Happenings In Oklahoma

Weleetka, is out with an announcement that the city will have a big time in that town on the Fourth of July. A barbecue will be a feature of the celebration.

The 1922 convention of the Oklahoma branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers will be held at Durant, is was decided at the recent convention held in Muskogee.

The Weleetka Commercial club was entertained by a program and play rendered by the Weleetka Campfire Girls. Elliott M. Crawford will be the entertainer at the next meeting of the club.

The Vanita Rotary Club is getting behind a movement to provide a tourist camp in this city. Herb Schroers, Gene Engelhart and T. D. Cox were appointed to report on the best place and equipment at the next meeting.

A bulletin board for the purpose of showing by means of photographs and statistics why Bartlesville is the best city in Oklahoma in which to rear children has been made under the supervision of the Bartlesville civic clubs.

Representatives of the Quanah Texas chamber of commerce were in the city last week and met with the members of the local chamber of commerce for the purpose of a toll bridge across Red river between El Dorando and Quanah.

Sixty-five hundred automobile license tags have been distributed by the highway department in three days. Another carload of tags are due and when they are gone the state slate will be practically clean as regards automobile licenses.

Citizens of Purcell are raising money to build a concrete swimming pool to supply a place of amusement for the citizens of the city. Indications are that a sum sufficient to build a large and up-to-date pool with dressing rooms and walks will be raised.

E. L. Adams said to be Muskogee's slipperiest bootlegger, was arretsed with his brother-in-law, Payton Chairs who is alleged to have sold whisky that Adams has been making here. One of the most complete stills ever found here was unearthed by officers making the arrest.

The Bartlesville West Third street paving is being rushed and about one block has already been completed. The construction company is working a full force of men. West Third is one of the principal streets of the city as nearly all the traffic from the Osage comes in over this street.

Fruit growers of Craig county will again hold a meeting at the courthouse in this city Saturday, June 25. Secretary Carmichael of the Jasper Jasper County Fruit and Truck Growers' association, will address the meeting. It is hoped to form a permanent organization at that time.

Some time in August the Knights of Pythias of Aluts will initiate seventy-five members, according to Fred Hahn, who is here for the purpose of organizing a lodge for Altus. During October the Dokkie will be in Altus, and it is expected at that time there will be at least 100 to be taken in.

William Johnstone park of Bartlesville is to be adorned with a large arch over the entrance on Osage avennue if present plans of the superintendent are carried out. The main entrance, which is now on Cherokee aven will be changed to Osage because of the congested condition of travel on the Dewey road.

Nearly four inches of rain fell in the central portions of Washita county last week, a little more than three inches having fallen at Cordell in about three hours' time. Several bridges over the county were washed out, three of them east of Cordell, shuting off the eastern part of the county from the county seat. Many farmers will have to replant their crops.

Failing to receive a bid which was to the liking of the McAlester city commissioners for the sewer bonds of $50,000 recently voted for the construction of additions to the sewer system of the city, they voted to invest the sinking fund money, of which there is considerable on hand, in the bonds. This saves the taxpayers approximately $1,500 a year in interest.

The class in American banking, which has been taught by H. H. Montgomery, a lawyer of Bartlesville has discontinued its work until the first of September. It was organized about the first of the year with seventy members, including some of our best known bankers and clerks in various banks, and was held in the junior highschool building. It will probaly become permanent.

A wheat problem which it was thought could be solved without application for aid to outside states but which had grown and grown until it was necessary for Claude E. Connally, state labor commissioner, to get in touch with Ft. Worth, is Oklahoma's.

According to a report of the United Charities of Picher, just made public by R. L. Throlkill, secretary, 121 families have received assistance of some form, since February. The total receipts to June 1 were $2,581.75, total expenditures, $2,580.53; balance remaining in the treasury, $1.22.

WILL DUSCUSS FUTURE OF AMERICAN NEGRO

Governor of Michigan to Welcome Twelfth Annual Conferonce of National Association for Advancement of Colored People.

The National Asociastion for the Advancement of Colored People, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York, today anounced that its twelfth annual conference would be held in Detroit from June 26 to July 1, and would be devoted to a discussion of the future of the American Negro.

A thousand colored and white people from all parts of the United States are expected to attend the conference, according to the announcement, and the welcome is to be extended for the State of Michigan by Governor Groesbeck and for Detroit by Mayor Couzens.

Moorefield Storey, ex-president of the American Bar Asociation and now president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will preside at the opening mass meeting at which Judge Ira W. Payne of the Wayne County Circuit Court is to speak.

Among the subjects which will be discussed at meetings of the conference are "Negro Labor's Part in America's Industrial Future," also "Lynching and Peonage." The subject of the disfranchisement of the American Negro is to receive attention in connection with recent Race riots, especially with reference to the Tulsa riot. It is expected that victims of the Tulsa rio will be at the conference to give first hand testimony of what occurred.

Au Appeal

Tulsa, Oklahoma.

June 7, 1921.

Dear Editor:

To the Brethren of the Baptist Convention of Oklahoma and to our many friends of Oklahoma:

You do not know what has happened to the people of Tulsa as a whole and the Baptists in a large percent. We lost five Baptist Churches and three Methodist churches. The condition is very appealing.

You would have to come to Tulsa and see for yourself. It looks like the Atlanta, Ga., fire of 1917. Those of you who went to the Congress know what a ghost it was. Our people were killed, their homes fired, pianos talking machines, money, clothing, household goods, autos and even money out of their pockets.

Now the pastors of this will be on the general public from the outside world, and if I was a Baptist minister and your church was destroyed and your flock scattered I would surely send you an offering if I lived. We just entered our Church, April 10th, had not preached five sermons in it, after toiling seven years and today it is in a mass of ruins. We will not be able to gather the flock for some time yet as our grounds must be cleared and peace restored and people get places to stay and clothes to wear.

Now while we are trying to help them with no means, won't you help us with means so we can live? What about Baptist? You have never been turned away from my door nor home nor church. What are you going to do, Brother Baptists, wait and see us go down or are you going to play your part?

Gregg Writes

Kansas City, Kans.,

June 2, 1921.

Editor Dunjee:

Am grieved beyond measure at the horrible conditions at Tulsa.

I was given leave by the Board of Managers of the Hunton Branch Y. M. C. A. to return home and be present at the graduation exercises of our two daughters, Ruth and Eunice, the littter on Friday, May 27, from the 8th grade, and the former today, June 2, from Western University.

Am indeed sorry that I was not present to lend whatever aid possible to have averted the awful affair. It might have been of no avail but it would have been in the line of duty at least.

We had just completed our budget of $5207 for the next year's work of the "Y" and this be it said to the everlasting credit of the colored people of Tulsa was given with very few exceptions, by them.

We had just closed one of the most unique events in the history of Tulsa—the holding of the Community Institute.

Just before leaving our board of managers with the co-operation of the mayor and commissioners sent a telegram to the Liberian Legation at Washington, D. C., inviting Pres. O. H. B. King and his party of Liberia, to visit ulsa Just received a letter this evening from Mr. Hooker stating that President King had accepted the invitation. At this present writing, I have not been able to get in telegraphic communication with Mr. Hooker. His letter was mailed on that fatal Tuesday evening.

These are some evidences of the helpful and constructive program that the colored people of Tulsa were putting on. And then to be the victims of such cruel conditions.

I spent ten happy, foward-looking months with the good people of Tulsa and we were beginning to feel that the dawn of a new day was breaking.

Our efforts in America must be directed to the human element for what does it profit to acquire property and wealth based upon a strata of hate.

Tulsa can never free herself from this body of Death. She will make amends, but the scar is there.

I am not in a mood to write, but say for me to the good people of Oklahoma that I am intensely interested in their welfare; and may those in whose hands are the power and the strength of numbers, give the colored man a fair and square deal. May from this time on, Oklahoma rise and be first in treating the citizen of color as a man.

I am yours in the great cause of humanity,

G. A. GREGG,
Executive Secretary of the Hunton Branch of Y. M. C. A., Tulsa, Okla.

"THE SOONER TRAIL"

ALL THE NEWS FROM THE BLACK JACK HILLS AND VALES OF OKLAHOMA

Richard J. Hill's Weekly Article

MILLIONS WILL PASS THROUGH THE FIRE OF THIS DAY AND LIVE FOREVER

I am fully aware that many who read this article will scoff and possibly say: "What on earth is the writer trying to give the people now?" Many people are of the opinion that the world will always be as it has been in the past. But based upon the plain statements of the Scriptures and the facts and circumstances as we now see them, it is clear to the properly informed Bible Student that the world of mankind has reached an end of some kind. But before giving our evidence to back the conclusion that the world has ended, it is necessary that we explain the meaning of the word world as used in the Scriptures. The Bible meaning of the word world has reference to A PARTICULAR ORDER OF THINGS, or ORGANIZATION OF GOVERNMENTS, SOCIETIES, etc., that existed within a certain designated period of time—order or dispensation is the thought.

God's plan for the dealing with man is divided into three great periods of time, called worlds or dispensations. The first world or period of time or dispensation (from the creation of man to the flood) is called in the Scriptures the world that was. (2nd Peter 3:6.) The second dispensation (from the flood to the second coming of Christ) is called The World that now is or the present evil world; and the third dispensation (from the second coming of Christ onward without end) is called the World to Come, wherein dwelleh righteousness. Rev. 21:1; 2nd Cor. 12:1-4; Heb. 2:5.

Right here, Dear Ones, I beg to remind you that we are now standing upon the threshold of the New World, or Dispensation wherein dwelleth righteousness, but before we are permitted to enter this glorious and blessed condition, we must be cleansed and purified from all unrighteousness, injustice, oppression, and disposition of revolt against the New Order of things; therefore we note on every hand the purifying fires of trouble of every description and burning and soon must burn with such fury that the whole camp of humanity will cry out in dismay feeling and fearing that all that was worth living for is gone to destruction. They will soon throw up their hands and cry out in earnest saying, "Where is God?"

Because of unfaithfulness to his righteous laws, God withdrew his favor from the Jews as a Nation and permitted the Gentiles to have a lease of power upon the World to try themselves at governing the world. The Gentiles, like the Jews, needed to learn by experience that they were incapable of properly governing themselves or others. The Gentiles Dominion, according to Scripture, is a period of two thousand, five hundred and twenty years, beginning 606 B. C., at the time when Babylon was enthroned. It follows then that the full period of two thousand, five hundred and twenty years would end 1914 A. D.

God foreknowing the course man would take, told His Prophet, Joel 3,9-15 and Daniel 12:7, The present world condition. Prophecy is simply history written in advance and whoever doubts the prophecies of the Bible fails to give Jehovah credit for having the ability of knowing His plans and stating them in advance and also fails to give Him credit of knowing in advance the course of the future events.

We now submit twelve reasons from the Prophecy of Jesus Christ, the greatest prophet in the whole universe, in support of our assertion that the world has ended. Five days before his crucifixion His Disciples asked Him privately, "Tell us what shall be the proof of the end of the World." Matt. 24:43.

The Gentiles had a lease of power or permission from God to try themselves at governing the world. This was a stated length of time (from 606 B. C. to 1914 A. D., a period of two thousand, fve hundred and twenty years) and when that time expired the Lord began proceedings at once to oust them, they having become enemies to the one who gave them their lease of power.

Now Jsus referring to end of the Gentile's lease of power, in His answer to the questions propounded Him by the Disciples, said: "The Nations were angry and thy wrath has come and the time of the dead that they should be judged." Exactly on time the ambitious rulers of the earth started the Great World War. Further answering the Disciples, Jesus said: "Nations shall rise against Nations and Kingdoms against Kingdomes and there shall be famine and pestalence and earth-quakes (revolutions) in divers places;" further answering concerning the Jewish people, He said. "They (the Jews) shall be trodden down of the Gentiles until the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled. Every stuednt of Prophecy has understood that the return of the Jews to Jerusalem would mark the end of the Gentile Dominion and the beginning of a new order or dispensation. Jehovah through the Prophet Jeremiah spoke to Israel, advising that people that they would be driven out of their own country into a country with which they were not familiar; that there they would receive great persecutions and that this period of persecution and suffering would be the same length as the period of their favor, and thereafter He would bring them back into Palestine, Jesus mentioned, would mark the time of His presence and the end or the world—end of Gentile government. (See Jeremiah 16:13-18). Through the Prophet Zechariah, the Lord, Jehovah, foretold that there would be a great rejoicing in Jerusalem over the entrance of the King (Messiah) and that that day would mark the time when the "double" would begin to count: that is to say, it would mark the beginning of God's favor being withdrawn from the Jewish people and the beginning of a period of suffering equal to the period of their favor.

The Prophet says, "Rejoice greatly O Daughter of Zion! Shout, O Daughter of Jerusalem; Behold, they King cometh unto thee; He is just, and having salvation; lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a coalt, the foal of an ass." (Zachariah 9:9). Matthew 21:1-9 records a fulfillment of this prophecy when Jesus made His triumphal entry into Jerusalem, offering himself as King. That great event transpired in the spring of the year, A. D. 33. The favor of the Jews began in 1812 B. C. and A. D. 33 marked the end of the period of 1845 years, the time when Jesus officially withdrew God's favor from the Jewish people, saying to them: "Behold, your house is left unto you desolate." Since this period of time should be doubled, according to this prophetic evidence, we must add eighteen hundred and forty-five years to A. D. 33, which brings us to A. D. 1878, at which time there should be some evidence of God's favor beginning to return to the Jews, in order that this parellel might be carried out. We find the fulfillment is history in this.

While the favor was officially withdrawn from the Jews in the Spring of A. D. 33, it was not until exactly forty years thereafter, A. D. 73, that Judea became depopulated and the Jews ceased to be a Nation. Accordingly, in 1878 favor began to return to the Jews and was marked progressively by the advance of Zionism and Jews returning to Palestine, until the end of forty years, in the Spring of 1918 when a distinct event happened again fulfilling the parallelism. The allied armies under General Allenby had wrested the possession of Palestine for the purpose of establishing in Palestine a separate and distinct Nation for the Jews.

Nathan Straus, a grand old man of American Jewry, in a speech delivered in New York City during the progress of the war, said: "We are living in an age when we are about to realize the two thousand-year-old hope of the Jewish people. I am especially glad that we are witnessing the spectacle of the whole world applauding and approving and supporting our great purpose to re-establish the Jewish people on their own soil." Jesus used a parable as further corroborative evidence of the event that should be transpiring about the time of the end of the world. On a previous occasion He had likened the Jewish nation unto a fig tree. Now He says, "Learn a parable of the fig tree; when its branches is yet tended and putteth leaves, you shall know that the summer is nigh; so likewise, verily, verily, I say unto you, this Generation shall not pass until all these things be fulfilled." In other words, when these events begin to take place the people or generation then on earth would be permitted to see a complete fulfillment of the prophetic evidences set forth in this great prophecy, proving conclusively the ending of the old world and the coming in of the new. In further replying, Jesus said, "As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be in the end of the world;" additionally Jesus answered the inquiry saying, "The sun shall be darkened and the moon shall fail to give her light and the stars shall fall from Heaven, and the powers of Heaven shall be shaken." Revelation gives us a key to these symbolic statements the sun represents the gospel of Christ; the moon pictures the Mosaic Law dispensation and the stars represent the great number of preachers in the world. How wonderfully this is being fulfilled now. The world in its rush to carry out its selfish aims is giving no heed to the Gospel of Christ—Sun is darkened. The sacrifice of animals under the Jewish custom foreshadowed the great sacrifice of Jesus Christ, but this is being repudiated as foolishness by Higher Critics, (worldly wise ones) therefore the moon fails to give her light. The preachers' position is one above all others but the great majority of them have fallen from this exhalted position of teaching the truth and have taken their places in the common politics of the world, teaching only such things as are pleasing to the wicked world and which serve to gratify their own selfish aims. (The stars have fallen). As a result of the preachers' unfaithfulness and their teachings of false doctrines the powers of Heaven—The great Church systems are being shaken. Humanity is restless and is questioning the creed of the different denominations and the divine right of kings to rule the earth. Continuing his answers, Jesus said that at the end of the world there would be upon the earth distress of nations with perplexity, the sea and waves roaring (meaning restless and discontented humanity) and men's hearts failing them for fear of the things coming upon the earth. Who is so blind and so void of reason as to not be able to see the fulfillment of this part of the Scripture at this very time. Additionally the Lord said, "The Gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached to all the world for a witness unto all Nations and then the end shall come."

The word Gospel, means goods news. Now listen, Dear people: The world does not know that God planned on setting up a kingdom here on the earth. This is, should be and will be good news to the poor world when their eyes are open to the fact that the Lord is now establishing a kingdom upon earth in which, by being obedient many that are living walking about upon earth shall live thruout eternity and never go into the grave. But now listen again, and remember what I tell you: As soon as this information concerning the kingdom here on earth is given to every nation as a witness (and we are sending this message as fast as it is possible under the circumstances) you may rest assure, there will be a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation and just following this great time of trouble, which is just before us, the world will recognize the Kingdom of the Lord in full force and effect.

We have not attempted to produce all the evidence at our command to prove that the world has ended but we are satisfied to rest our case upon the prophetic testimony of our Lord Jesus Christ. Summing up the circumstantial eivdence as obtained from the Lord when asked to tell what shall be the proof of the end of the world, we find true to our Lord's statement, in 1914, the nations were angry, nations rose against nations, famine is threatening the whole world, pestilence is raging and smiting down humanity from right to left and especially veneral diseases which is said to be more destructive than war and which is now smiting down all grades of society, of both sexes and of all ages; earthquakes (revolutions) are rumbling and being heard in divers places ;the Jews have returned to Jerusalem; the gospel is being preached to every nation; as it was in Noah's day the people are heedless as to the warning that the world has ended; the sun (the true gospel of Christ's Kingdom) is darkened; the moon (the true significance of the Law Dispensation) is not giving her light; the stars (the preachers) have fallen from their spiritual position of teaching the truth; the powers of Heaven (the Church systems) are being shaken; and distress with perplexity is upon the whole earth and men's hearts are failing everywhere for the things they see coming upon the earth.

We are nearing the time of the fulfillment of the Scripture which says: "Then shall there be great tribulations such as was not since the beginning of the world; (Matt. 24:21) and except those days should be shortened there should be no flesh be saved." Therefore we are assured that while the destruction that is now upon the earth will increase in its destructiveness to surpass anything of sorrow that has come to humanity since there was a nation, we have the assurance that some flesh—some people, will be saved and passed through this great time of trouble. The Lord speaks to us through His prophet, Zechariah (13:8-9) in the following language: "And it shall come to pass that all the land, sayeth the Lord, two parts therein shall be cut off, and die but the third shall be left therein and I will bring the third part through the fire and will refine them as silver is refined and will try them as gold is tried: They shall call on my name and I will hear them: I will say it is my people; and they shall say 'The Lord is my God.'"

AN APPEAL

To All Odd Fellows And Ruths In This Jurisdiction: Greetings:

A committee appointed by the District Grand Master to investigate the condition of Odd Fellows and Ruths in Tulsa, Okla., after the recent riot, made a report to the Executive Board of the order at its meeting in Muskogee, Oklahoma, June 15, 1921. The Endowment Board, the Burial Board, the Monument Board and representatives of the District Grand Household of Ruth met with the Executive Board on account of the emergency.

Nearly 500 of our brothers and sisters in Tulsa are now homeless, and without work or money. The rioters burned their homes, furniture, clothes business and every other earthly thing they had. No hearty Odd Fellow will refuse to aid these distressed members of our order. True Odd Fellows and Ruths have always believed in Friendship, Love and Truth, and they now have an opportunity to show it in a material way.

The Executive Board asks every member of every Lodge and Household in this jurisdiction to give 50c for relief of their brothers and sisters in Tulsa. Pay it to the P. S. or W. R. All money so collected from Lodges and Households for this fund must be sent immediately with a report to J. Tyler Smith, District Grand Secretary, 122 N. Greenwood St., Tulsa, Oklahoma, who will return receipt at once.

This is not an assessment but an appeal. If some members feel able to pay more than 50c they are asked to do so. Money sent for Tulsa Relief Fund will be used for this purpose and no other, and a report of the same will be made to the District Grand Lodge in Muskogee, on August 16, 1921.

By Order of Executive Board.
Dated at Tulsa, Okla., June 15, 1921
J. Tyler Smith, District Grand Secretary-- E. D. Jefferson, D. G. M.; Mrs. Emma Jones, D. M. N. G.; Mrs. Jennie Walker, D. G. W. R.

BLACK BOY IN PENITENTIARY SAYS LET US HAVE JIM CROW IN DEED AND IN FACT

Tells Of Trouble At Depew, Okla.

The letter printed below has been written by a prisoner in the penitentiary, a black man. We are giving his uncorrected statement, verbatum, not through ridicule or disrespect to the writer. We want our readers, especially the white people, to know the feeling among black folk, way down among the masses. The black man is charged with wanting to intermingle with the whites. We think that the sentiment expressed here is representative. Quoting Henry Mathies' exact language forces one to know that it comes from one who belongs to the illiterate strata. It follows:

Oklahoma State Penitentiary,
McAlester, Okla., June 25, 1921.

"Dear Editor:

"This remedy will puta stop to race rots in Oklahoma City and other citys, if this is dun. Please colored jentlemens, call a meeten your bisness mens and doctors and lawers and select youral a body of mens and go to the governor of the State of Okla. and tell him if the State of Oklahoma is jim crowed, please have the city to cut out white mens from running down in the nigro distrects after niger wimmens, drinking and gambling. Now dear friends, this letter is to all Oklahoma colored people and my reply to youral please come to gather and do this before its tolate. Say if one of these white mens gets to drinking and gambling and mistreat one of the colored mens wives and the husband happens to kill one of them: down there then a big race rotes is on, then all of the good law abyding colored people that ons homes and lots will get kill oute and have everything bunt up and if the white mens is made to stay from down in there by the govener orders and city to: youal can save the hold drestricts from having eny trobles thats if youal will start now. Say dear editor, youal must rember this all sporting class ar drifters from on town to another and you all will hafter look oute for your wives and children. Now if a race rote breaks oute in the sporting class district, the mob aint goeing to overlook the good law abiding Negroes wives and children and doctors and lawers and christins peoples: they will destroy the good negroes homes and white mens will be laying side by side, negro mens the same, dead way. Just on the count by white mens running down among the Negro good timing placies. please stop them now before it will be to late and all the gambling mens cear for is this take a girl ar a poor woman and tech her to have improper relations with white men and bring them the money.

And they don't think aboute if truble wasto start that all of the good law abyding negros will get all there homes destroyed and if this state is Jim Crowed: why don't the law and the cheff stop white mens and boys from associating with negro girls and wimmens. Youal dont see negro mens at eny of they goodtimeing placies, no indeed you don't. Now if the white man sees you colored mens don't try to speak up for the right thing why they will run everything over all of us. Now Mr. Editor, if this state was not jim crowed it would be a nother thing all in different think now this is up to all of youal to stop a lots of truble before it happen. Now good by youal ar my peoples and please tell the colored that I myself Henery Mathes thought of this great plan and please return me an ancer please.—Henry Mathies.

I am a prisoner. My home is not in Oklahoma City. Dear rriends will call your attention to a case of a young men who had truble with a white men at a picnick. The colored boys name was J. W. Winford, lived at Depew, Okla., A white man was drunk and he stagered and stpet on a colored ladys toes: she replys: O please dont step on my foot, please. So he says to her: don't you like it? I will slap you in the mouth. this colored young man by the name of J. W. Winford came to her assistance and the white man rech for his gun and the colored boy kill him. Now did he (the white man) have eny bisness there? So you see if he had not been there thre wood not have been eny trubl at all.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

This lecture is being delivered world-wide. It will take at least three months for the full text of it to pass through these weekly newspapers. So my friends, I advise you not to miss an issue.

Richard J. Hill.

The emphatic announcement that millions now living on earth will never die must seem presumptious to many people; but when the evidence is carefully considered I believe that almost every fair mind will concede that the conclusion is a reasonable one.

For nearly nineteen hundred years Christians have been looking forward to a time coming when everlasting life will be offered to all the peoples of the earth. Their expectations and hopes have been based upon the combined testimony of the inspired prophets of old—from Moses to John—upon the testimony of Jesus of Nazareth, the Son of the living God, and upon the testimony of His inspired apostles.

About 4,000 years ago God made a promise to Abraham in which He said that He would bless Abraham and through his seed all the families of the earth should be blessed. Not only did He make this promise, but He bound it with His oath; and St. Paul plainly tells us that these two things, God's word of oath, are unchangeable and that His promises must be fulfilled. Based upon that oath-bound promise and subsequent like promises made to the offspring of Abraham, devout Jews of the world have since looked forward to the time coming when blessings and happiness eternal will be offered to mankind.

To-day the eyes of orthodox Jews of earth are fixed upon Palestine. They are looking up and lifting up their heads and the hope is springing into millions of hearts that the time is at hand for the re-gathering of the Jews to Palestine and the establishment there of a state of government of the Jews and for the Jews, according to the devine arrangement. Since the time of Abraham they have looked for the Messiah, but have not yet discovered who constitutes the Messiah.

Life everlasting in a state of happiness is the greatest desire of all men. Whether men have faith or not the divine promises, each one would be glad to know for a certainty that there was before him life everlasting in a happy state. In view of this strong desire, and of the cumulative evidence given by the holy men of old concerning such coming blessings, it seems strange that more people have not trie dto inform themselves upon the subject. The reason, as assigned by the Apostle Paul, is that "the God of this world (Satan, the inivsible ruler of the present social order of things) hath blinded the minds of those who are perishing, least the glorious glad tidings of Christ Jesus, who is the image of God, should sihne into their hearts.— Corinthians 4:4.

Many men of ability in the past centuries have entered the Christian ministry. The great adesvsary, knowing their vulnerable points, has used others to flatter and conjole them and to turn their minds towards worldly things, and by far the greater number of these clergymen, yielding to the baneful and seductie influence of the adversary, have themselevs turned away from the Bible, and have blindly led the people in the wrong direction. They seem to have lost sight entirely of the fact that God has a great plan which He is causing to work out in an orderly, majestic manner. But the hour has struck when the people shall know the truth, and they that know the truth shall be made free from bondage of ignorance and supersition and their minds shall be turned into the channels leading to unending joy.

It is the purpose of the writer to try to turn the minds of the people to a careful and prayerful consideration of the divine promise. It is to be deeply regretted that the clergymen would oppose an effort to teach the people the Bible truths: nevertheless, we find much opposition everywhere, and many clergymen will attempt to prevent the people from reading what is here written. We, theerfore, assure the reader that we have no ulterior motive in putting out this message. It is not propaganda. There is no desire nor effort to induce the reader to join anything. The motive for this publication is wholly unselfish. The writer has but one desire and that is to induce the people to read and rely upon the divine promise and thus fix their hearts and minds in this hour of distress upon mankind; to comfort those that mourn and point thee to a beter day which is near at hand.

We should have in mind that the great, allwise Creator has been now for more than 4,000 years dealing with certain people, preparatory to bringing to every man an opportunity for life everlasting. If he whose wisdom is perfect would devote so much time and energy to the outworking of a great plan, then surely it is worthy of the careful and painstaking examination and consideration of every man, without regard to his creed, religious training or his political view.

Since the days of Abraham many men of unusual intellect not only dilligently studied the divine plan, but have devoted their lives to having a part in making it known to others. There were twenty-four holy prophets, whose messages are recorded in the Bible. All of these foretold a coming time of great blessings to the human race. Their utterances were not their own, but they spake as the spirit of Jehovah moved upon them. It was impossible for a human mind to look down through the corridors of the ages and to foretell what the future would bring forth; but these various prophets, guided by the allwise Creator who knew the end from the beginning, wrote and spake merely as the instrument of God. God never failed in one of his promises. He says, "For I am the Lord, I change not." (Malachi 3:6). "There hath not failed one word of all his good promise." (1 Kings 8:56). All students of the Bible agree that the time must come when every promise of Jehovah will be fulfilled. Jehovah does everything orderly and on time and exactly in His Own due time, and not man's time. One day with him is as a thousand years and a thousand years as one day; and what might seem to man a long deferred fulfillment of a promise would be to God only a question of a very brief space of time.

All students of the Bible also agree that it has pleased Jehovah to divide the social order of things from the beginning of the world into epochs, which epochs we call worlds, and which the Lord speaks of as worlds—such a use of the word "world" meaning a social order of things existing within a given period of time. For nearly nineteen centuries students of divine prophecy have expected and looked for the world to end, because Jesus taught it would end. Many Christian men, however, failing to recognize the distinction between the symbolic and literal phases of the Bible, have been confused concerning the end of the world. For instance the great John Calvin taught that upon the happening of that event, Jesus, reappearing near the earth, would cause fire to be emitted from the clouds, seting the earth aflame and totally destroying it and everything one it. He being a clergyman of great renoun was supposed to have based his conclusions upon a proper interpretation of the Bible, and great numbers believed his teachings; and for this reason, with fear and trepidation, many have looked forward to the ending of the world.

Reason would lead us to the conclution that Jehovah would not create a wonderful earth like this, permit man to bring it to a high state of cultivation in many places, and then completely destroy it. Such is wholly out of harmony with the plain teachings of his Word, which says: "The earth abideth forever." (Ecclesiastes 1:4). "For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited." (Isiah 45:18). When the Bible speaks of the world ending it does not mean the literal earth, but it does refer to an epoch or dispensation of time during which a certain arrangement of things or social order exists. In proof this the Scriptures disclose that there was a "world" which existed from the time of Eden until the great deluge: "Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished." (Peter 3:6.. At the end of the flood a new "world" began, and the promise is made by the same Scriptural writer that it shall end. The period of that world is from the flood until the coming of Messiah's Kingdom, and his kingdom is to mark the beginning of another new world or new order of things.

The first world, then, began with the creation of man and ended with the flood. At the time of the deluge began the second world, which the Scriptures speak of as "the present evil world;" and God clearly foretold that the second world, or social order of things, visible and invisible would pass away during a fiery time of trouble; and then would follow the world to come, the social order or arrangement of things. St. Paul instructs us to "rightly divide the word of truth;" and this means, amongst other things, to apply the texts of Scriptures within the period or epoch to which they belong; and applying these in their proper place, one can discern the orderly and majestic forward movement of the divine arrangement.

All students of the Bible further agree that just before Jesus was crucified he tol dhis disciples that he was going away, but that he would return again and receive them himself, and that his second coming would mark the end of the world, i. e. the social order of things existing at the time he was on earth. Other Scriptures show that at that time the great blessing long promised, viz, life, liberty and happiness, would be offered to the entire human family.

All students of divine prophecy agree that the promises of God made through the prophets must have a fulfillment some time, and that the time for fulfillment relating to the restoration of the human race to life, liberty and happiness has its beginning at the end of this worl dand at the beginning of the new world, i. e., at the time when the social order of things existing in Jesus' day shall pass away and the new order be established. By faith the prophets of old looked for that time and hailed its coming as the Golden Age, because during that age the Messiah shall reign and establish righteousness in the earth.

It must be conceded, then, by all that the first important question for our determination is, When does this world end? If we can definitely fix this period, then it is an easy matter to determine when the divine promises with reference to life everlasting will be opened to the world in general. We therefore propose to prove in this argument that the social order of things, the second world, legally ended in 1914, and since that time has been and is passing away; that the new order of things is coming in to take its place. that within a definite period of time the old order of things will be completely eradicated and the new order in full sway; and that these things shall take place within the time of the present generation and that therefore there are millions of people now living on earth who will see them take place, to whom everlasting life will be offered and who, if they accept it upon the terms offered if they obey those terms, will never die. If these facts can be established by competent testimony to the satisfaction of the reasonable mind, then every one should be delighted, even though it upsets his preconceived opinions, formed from the study of the creeds and plans of men. We invite the reader, therefore, to examine each point carefully as here made, compare the argument with the Scriptures cited, and view the same in the light of present day events which are discernable to all eyes, and upon all this evidence reach a conclusion. Every man should be persuaded in his own mind and no man should permit himself to be deterred from examining a question based upon the Bible because a clergyman or anyone else makes the unsupported assertion that it is dangerous or unworthy of consideration. Error always seeks the dark, while truth is always enhanced by the light. Error never desires to be investigated. Light always courts a thorough and complete investigation. Light and truth are synonymous. They are progressive, and "the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day." (Proverbs 4:18). The Psalmist plainly tells us: "They word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path."—Psalms 119:105.

CHICKASHA NEWS

Rev. W. C. Watts, pastor of Saint Paul A. M. E. Church, is running a revival, assisted by one of their State Evangelists, Mme. Francis E. Moten. The meeting is well on its way and much good is being done from her preaching. Sunday she spoke to the men of the city and it was a masterpiece. Rev. H. E. Darrington, the moderator of the Chickasaw District Association, was in town this week. Mr Harte Davis passed away this week at the home of Mrs. Reece, after a short illness. He was more than one hundred years of age.

Chickasha has a Klu Klux Klan of more than 400 members, recently organized to fight unjust laws and keep down clashes between the races; so they say. However, no one is uneasy.

The churches of the city had a big picnic Monday, July 4th. Sold everything out they had. Chickasha's one big trouble is they never have enough to eat for her friends who come to visit her.

The Church of God of South 1st is on the upward march. The picnic given by the Juniors of the Church of God was a success. Sunday school and Bible band Sunday was the main feature of the day, as the pastor made a flying trip to Anadarko Sunday and reported good services there. Preaching was conducted Sunday night by Elder W. M. Sims. The members are rejoicing over the first class job of painting of the church done by the Deacons, Overseer and Brown.

The Black Dispatch may be had by calling at Browns Shine Parlor, 608 S. 2nd Street.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

(Judge Rutherford's Lecture Con.)

Gentile Times

The term Gentile Times as used in the Scriptures designates a period of time during which the Gentiles were to govern the peoples of the earth. At the death of Jacob, God organized Israel into a nation and dealt with that nation, to the exclusion of all other nations of earth, for a specific time. Time and again they departed from their covenant with Jehovah and he punished them. Time and again he warned them against a punishment of greater duration unless they profited by previous experiences. They had many kings—some good, some wicked. Zedekiah was the last king, and he became so very wicked that God issued this decree against him, saying: "Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear; because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand. And thou, profane wicked prince of Israel, whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end, thus saith the Lord God; Remove the diadem, and take off the crown; this shall not be the same; exalt him that is low, and abase him that is high. I will overturn, overturn, overturn it; and it shall be no more, until he comes whose right it is; and I will give it him." Ezekiel 21:24-27.

It is a well-known historical fact that Zedekiah at the time here mentioned was taken prisoner by King Nebuchadnezzar and carried away to Babylon. Afterwards the Israelites were permitted to maintain a national existence by other nations exercising a supervisory control over them, and this condition continued until the year A. D. 73. What happened at the time of the dethronement of Zedekiah was that the crown, or dominion, or ruling authority over the peoples of earth, was taken away from the Jews and permitted to be assumed by the Gentiles. The first universal empire was that of Babylon, followed by Medo-Persia, then by Greece, and later by Rome; and out of the Roman empire have grown all the Gentile nations of Christiandom. As to how long this punishment should be inflicted upon the Jews, and therefore how long God would permit the Gentiles to have dominion, is fixed by the Scriptures as seven symbolic times. (See Leviticus 26:18). A time in the Scriptures is used to represent a symbolic year, According to the Jewish method of calculation a year is 360 days. A day for a year, this would make each time 360 years in duration. The seven times would be a perior of 2520 years, during which the Gentiles should have the lease of power, and at the end of which their lease of power would legally cease to exist.

The date of Zedekiah's over throw and the establishment of Nebuchadnezzar's Gentile dominion, which was the first Gentile world government, is definitely fixed both by secular history and the Scriptures as B. C. 606. In the year A. D. 1, 606 years of the whole period had expired. Adding 1914 years to the 606 years makes a total of 2520 years, therefore bringing the period of the Gentile's lease of power or dominion to an end in the year of 1914. This date corresponds with the circumstantial evidence proving conclusively when the world war would begin to end, i. e., when the old order would begin to pass away, and fixes the time for the manifestations of Messianic power and the bringing in of the new order of things.

By way of illustration, if a man purchases a piece of property on which is situated a decayed building and upon which lot he expects shortly to erect a new structure, the first work in which the new owner engages is to clear the lot of the decayed building, preparatory to erecting the new. By analogy, then, if the old order began to pass away in 1914 and Messiah began to exercise his power, preparatory to setting up the kingdom of righteousness, then we should expect that his first work would be the destruction of the old systems of unrighteousness.

We here introduce the testimony of a witness whose competency cannot be questioned and whose testimony must be accepted as absolutely true. This witness is Jesus of Nazareth. To orthodox Jews he was a great teacher amongst the Jews. To Christians he was not only a great teacher, but by them is accepted and recognized as the Son of God, the Redeemer of mankind, the Savior of the world, the King of glory. He testified that the Jews should be trodden down of the Gentiles until the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled. (Luke 21:24). He gave to John, the Revelator, instruction as to what would take place when that time should arrive and when he, the Messiah, should begin to exercise his kingly power. He pictures the prophets, the mouthpieces of Jehovah, as saying concerning himself, the Messiah: "We give thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which are and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned (exercised regal authority). And the Nations were angry, and thy wrath is come."—Revelation 11:17, 18.

Here, then, we definitely see that the Gentile times ended in the fall of 1914. At that time, true to the prophetic statement, the nations did become angry and God's wrath has been upon the nations since. Every nation under the sun has been growing weaker.

End Of The World

Fully corroborative of this testimony, we direct attention to the further testimony of Jesus set forth in the 24th chapter of Matthew only a few days before his crucifixion, to wit, in the spring A. D. 33: "As he sat upon the Mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy presence, and of the end of the world? After giving them warning not to be deceived by other testimony, the Lord plainly answers their question: "Nation shall rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be famine, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places. All these are the beginning of sorrows." (Matthew 27: 7, 7.) In other words he stated that a great world war would ensue, in which the nations and kingdoms of the earth would be involved. That great war began exactly on time, at the end of the Gentile times; and there the old order began to pass away. The war, involving nearly all the nations of earth, continued for about four years, and its destructiveness of treasure and human life is unparalleled in any other time of man's history.

It will be noticed that Jesus said this would be accompanied by famine. Since the coming of the war there has been great distress in the world because of the shortage of food. In many of the countries of Europe thousands have literally starved to death. The food shortage in every country on earth is very apparent and the cost of living mounts higher and higher. This is not due to the fact that the earth is less productive, nor is it due to the fact of man's inability to plant and produce more; but it is due to the unsettled conditions resulting from the world war, which conditions Jesus clearly foretold would accompany the war; and it is another evidence that 1814 marked the beginning of the end of the world; for Jesus plainly said, "These are the beginning of sorrows."

Furthermore, it is observed, Jesus said that the war and famine would be accompanied by a pestilence. This has been literally fulfilled. The Spanish influenza swept over the earth and in less than twelve months the victims from that dread pestilential disease outnumbered two to one of those who died during the great world war in four years; and now this is being followed in the European countries by the direful pestilence of typhus, against which the people are being warned.

Again Jesus said that the war, famine and pestilence would be followed by earthquakes. It was not unusual for Jesus to use symbolic language; in fact, he often used symbolic language or dark sayings to conceal the real meaning until the due time should come. In Bibical symbology, earthquake means revolution. Following the war have come famine, pestilence and revolutions in many countries—some bloody and some bloodless. Russia has experienced her revolution and there the Babylonish systems have fallen. The same thing has occured in Germany, in Austria and Hungary; and the spirit of revolution is rife everywhere. This does not mean the end of trouble, but it does mean, according to Jesus' words, that the old world legally ended in 1914 and the process of removing the worn out systems is now progressing, preparatory to the inauguration of Messiah's kingdom.

Corroborative Testimony

It will be interesting here to examine a picture that Jehovah caused to be made centuries ago. The prophet Elizah was used as a type of the followers of Christ Jesus. His journey to Mount Horeb pictures the journey of the true Christians down to the time of the end of the world. The Lord directed him to go forth and stand on the mountain, picturing the church in such a position as to obtain a clear vision of the events about to transpire and transpiring. To Elijah the Lord said: "Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the Lord. And, behold the Lord passed by, and a great and strong wind rent the mountains (symbolically representing kingdoms) and brake in pieces the rocks (strong parts thereof) before the Lord; but the Lord was not in the wind (symbolic of war: and after the wind and earthquake (symbolic of revolution;) but the Lord was not in the earthquake: and after the earthquake a fire (symbolic of greater troubles); but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire a still small voice."—1 Kings 19:11, 12.

In 1898 Pastor Russell, the greatest Bible student of modern times, commenting on the above Scripture, said:

"The four exibitions of the Lord, given to Elijah, represent, we believe, four manifestations in which the Lord is about to reveal himself to mankind, the first three of which will prepare men for the final one, in which will come the desired blessing to all the families of the earth. These are:

"(1). The mighty winds rendering the very rocks. Blowing winds seem to be used in Scripture for wars. The wars, whose dark clouds have threatened the civilized world so ominously for the past thirty years, have been miraculously hindered to give opportunity for 'sealing' the Lord's consecrated people in their foreheads (intellectually) with the present truth. We are therefore to expect that when these winds of war shall be let loose, it will mean a cataclysm of warfare which shall divide kingdoms (mountains)—prefigured by the mighty wind shown to Elijah (1 Kings 19:11), which rent the rocks But God's Kingdom will not follow the epoch of war; the world will not thus be made ready for the reign of Immanuel. No, a further lesson will be needed and will be given. It is represented in

"(2) An earthquake. Throughout the Scriptures an earthquake seems always to represent revolutions; and it is not unreasonable to expect that an era of general warfare would so arouse the lower classes of Europe and so discontent them with their lot (and especially with the conditions would follow such a war) that revolution would be the next thing in order. (Revelation 1 :18). But, severe though those revolutionary experiences will be to the world, they are not sufficient to prepare men to hear the voice of God. It will require

"(3) The fire from heaven—an epoch of divine judgments and chastisements upon a maddened but unconverted world, wild in anarchy, as other Scriptures show us. The results of their wars, revolutions and anarchy, in the failure of their schemes, will have an humbling effect, and will prepare mankind for God's revelation of himself in

"(4) The still small voice. Yes, he who spoke to the winds and the waves of the sea of Galilee, will, in due time, speak to the peoples! He will speak with authority, commanding the observance of his long neglected law of love. 'And whosoever will not hear that prophet shall be cut off from among the people.'—Acts 3:23."—The Finished Mystery.

Every close observer will witness that this prophecy has been partially fulfilled and is still in course of fulfillment.

CHICKASHA NEWS
(By Rev. S. Pettagrue)

Sunday school at the First Baptist Church was good, being the only service held during the day, save the funeral of Bro. Thomas Raigtand.

Rev. D. D. Jones was out of town this week attending the Chickasaw District Board of which he is vice-moderator.

The funeral of Mr. Thomas Ragland was attended at 2 p. m. Sunday at First Baptist Church. Rev. D. B. Hill of New Hope Baptist Church officated. Bro. Ragland was one of Chickasha's old citizens coming here from Anadarko in 1901. He was a faithful Christian until the end. In the early history of the church he served as one of its deacons, thus helping to lay well a foundation for future generations. As a citizens he held his place among the men of his day. ing fro mhis friends, he was never known to stray from the standard in these years. He is survived by one son, Mr. Raymond Ragland of Oklahoma Citq, who was at his side when the end came, one Friday evening July 8. He was a Mason and Eastern Star of this city for more than twenty years. The body was in their charge and the last sad rite was said at the Rose Hill Cemetery, where his body was laid to rest beside his wife.

The revival closed Sunday night at the A. M. E. Church with an addition of five members.

Mr. Russell B. Fleatker and some of his friends from Council Bluff, are here visiting his relatives.

D. T. W. Thompson has just returned from Arkansas where he was called to the bedside of his sick father, who, he reported, was much better. He also visited other points while in Arkansas.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

(Judge Rutherford's Lecture Continued From Last Week.)

ISRAEL' DOUBLE

The Jewish people God used as a typical people. Their law fore-shadowed better things to come in the future. (Hebrews 10:1). Keeping in mind that prophecy means history written in advance, i. e., that the divine mind foreknew from the beginning the end and caused the salient points to be recorded for the benefit of those living at the times when they should happen, let us now examine further the testimony of Jesus on this point. He said: "Now learn a parable of the fig tree; when his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh: so likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors." (Matthew 24:32, 33). The fig tree here is symbolic of the Jewish nation. We reach that conclusion from what Jesus himself said in cursing the fig tree a few days before he gave utterance to the words above quoted.—Matthew 21: 19, 20.

Jehovah, through Jeremiah his prophet, foretold to Israel the climax of their punishment would come when he would drive them out of the land of Palestine into a strange country, where they would have to serve others and be oppressed for the same length of time that he had shown them his favor, the words of the prophet being: "Therefore will I cast you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither ye nor your fathers; and there shall ye serve other gods day and night; where I will not show you favor. Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be said, The Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt; but the Lord liveth that brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them; and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers. Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the Lord, and they shall fish them; and after I will send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks. For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from mine face, neither is their iniquity him from my eyes. And first will I recompense their iniquity and their sin double; because they have defiled my land, they have filled mine inheritance with the carcasses of their destable and abominable things." Jeremiah 16:13-18.

Here it is to be seen that God not only foretold driving them out and punishing them, but that he would ultimately bring them back into Palestine; and the length of their punishment would be an exact double—a counterpart or duplication—of the time during which he had bestowed his favor upon them. "First I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double." The word double, here, means duplication or exact counterpart. If we can get the proper location of these time features, ascertain where the double began, we can very easily determine when God's favor should be due to return to the Jews and what relation that has to the budding of the fig tree, as above stated.

God is his own interpreter and will make plain his plan to those who study to understand it. Through the mouth of another prophet he gives us the key to the location of the very day of the beginning of this double. The prophet Zechariah records concerning Jerusalem these words: "Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Daughter of Jerusalem; behold, thy king cometh unto thee; he is just, and having salvation; lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass." "Turn you to the stronghold, ye prisoners of hope: even today do I declare that I will render double unto thee." (Zechariah 9: 9, 12). This prophetic statement of the Lord must have a fulfillment at some time and it is quite evident that its fulfillment would mark the date from which the double counts.

Prophecy Fulfilled

On the 10th day of Nisan, A. D. 33, corresponding practically with our month of April, Jesus of Nazareth rode into Jerusalem upon an ass and offered himself as king to the Jews. St. Matthew records the incident in the following words: "And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples, saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me. And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them. All this was done that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass. And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them, and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon. And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees, and strowed them in the way. And the multitude that went before, and that followed, cried saying, Hosana to the Son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest." Matthew 21:1-9.

Here, then, is a positive statement of the fulfillment of Zechariah's prophecy, and the very day of it is fixed; and so the Lord said, "Today I declare that I will render the double unto thee." That very day, then, marked the middle point in the history of the Jews. It is exceedingly important, then, to find out how long they had been in God's favor. The death of Jacob, when he called his twelve sons before him and blessed them is the beginning of the nation of Israel; therefore the date of the beginning of the favors upon Israel. From the death of Jacob until the 10th day of Nisan A. D. 33, the double began to count, and from that day Palestine began to disintegrate, the Jewish nation began to melt away; and exactly forty years from date Palestine was completely depopulated. In other words, a period of forty years was occupied by Jehovah from the time he began to execute the double until Palestine was completely depopulated. As evidence of this, we cite the following historical events:

It may be proper to mention also what things occured that show the benignity of that all gracious Providence, that had deferred their destruction for forty years after their crimes against Christ." (Eusebius' Ecclesiastical History). "On the 15th day of Nisan, i. e., of April, in the year 73 A. D., the first day of the Easter festival, the same day on which, according to tradition, the God of Israel had led his people out of Egyptian bondage into freedom, the last bulwark of Israel's liberty had fallen, and Israel was delivered into bondage." (Cornil's History of the people of Israel). "Hasada attained great importance in the war with the Romans. . . . . With the fall of Masada the war came to an end, on the 15th of Nisan, 73." (The Jewish Encyclopedia). "The capture of Masada, a Jewish fortress on the southwestern shores of the Dead Sea, put a termination to one of the fiercest struggles recorded in history (73 A. D.)." (Morrison's Jews Under Roman Rule). "Judea was not entirely subjugated; for three strong fortresses were still in arms: Herodium, Machaerus, and Masada. . . . The heroes agreed to this proposal (of their leader Eleasar) even with enthusiasm, and on the first day of the great Feast of the Passover (A. D. 73) after slaying their own wives and children, they all perished on their own swords." (Graetz's History of the Jews, Vol. 2). "Eleasar accordingly persuaded all his people during that night to kill their wives and children and then themselves, but to burn all their treasures first. The next day the Romans found only 960 dead bodies, whilst but two women and five children hid themselves in caverns and were discovered. The Easter of the year 73, just seven years from the beginning of the great movement and forty years after Christ's crucifixion, saw this end of the whole tragedy." (Ewald's History of Israel, Vol. 7). The historian Jesephus corroborates these dates.

Double Begins To End

The double began to count, as stated, in the spring of the year A. D. 33; and since the period of favor had been 1845 years, the period of punishment should likewise be 1845 years. Then adding 1845 years to A. D. 33 brings us to 1878; and on the latter date, if our calculations be correct, we should find, according to the parallel or double, that some time during the year 1879 there should be some marked beginning of God's favor returning to the Jew. In other words, here should begin the budding of the symbolic fig tree, which ought to be specially marked forty years later, viz., in 1918, if this parallel is carried out.

Favor Begins To Return

In the summer of 1878, exactly on time and when we should look for God's favor to return to the Jew, we find there transpired a certain event of the greatest importance that had happened to Jewry in more than 1800 years. I quote from the Jewish Encyclopedia, which is a recognized authority: "Russia, at war with Turkey, was successful, and by the treaty of San Stephano practically effaced Turkey from Europe. Lord Beaconsfield, a Jew, came into power in 1874. As premier of Great Britian Beaconsfield sent the English fleet into the Dardanelles and brought Indian troops to Malta and made a demonstration against Russia. She yielded and agreed to a discussion of the whole affair at Berlin. Accordingly from June 13 to July 13, 1878, the Berlin Congress was held. Beaconsfield compelled Russia to greatly modify her treaty. Turkey was enfranchised and made independent, but upon condition that civil and religious rights be granted to the Jews. This had an important bearing on the history of the Jews."

Other authorities state that Beaconfield presided at the Congress, wrote the treaty and was the leading factor. As you well know, his real name was D'Israeli, thorough, full-blooded Jew, the first and only Jewish prime minister Great Brittian has ever had. From that time on the favor of the Lord began to be shown again to the Jewish people. According to the parallel we should expect God's favor to increase toward the Jews from 18-78, and should have some special climax in the year 1918.

Zionism

For many centuries they have been repeated efforts to destroy the Jews, all of which have failed. God never intended that they should be destroyed and they never shall be destroyed. Their persecutions have held them together as a people and increased their longing desire for a home in the land of their fathers. In dealing with his people God alyaws raises up a man at the oppotune moment and often the man who proves his faithfulness to the task imposed upon him dies a martyr to the cause. In times past Jehovah has proven his purpose of making the wrath of man to praise him, and every one who has suffered for a righteous cause will in due time receive a reward for his faithfulness to the principles of truth and righteousness.

In 1860 there was born in Budapest a Jewish child who grew to manhood's estate. Choosing first the law as a profession, he soon embraced journalism and forged to the front amongst the journalists and writers of the world. His heart was torn and bleeding because of the wicked and unjust persecution of his kinsmen, the Jewish people, which led to the formation in his mind of a scheme for their relief. In 1896 he gave expression to this scheme in his splendid paper, A Jewish State; and there many Jews of the world began to awaken to the fact that their cause had found a champion in this man. When first a Jewish State appeared, his office assistant wept, because he thought the author had lost his mind; but as the import of this paper was considered, it was hailed as a message of deliverance by many of the oppressed Jews of the world. He spent his life in the interest of the cause and his last words were: "Greet Palestine for me; I have given my life for my people."

Today the name Theodor Herzl is a household word amongst the Jews of the earth and the time will come when the people of earth, Jew and Gentile, will recognize that Theodor Herzl was raised up at the oppotune moment to give birth to Zionism, which is destined to succeed beyond the dreams of its originator.

SHERRILL, N. Y., TRYS NEW ECONOMIC EXPERIMENT

(By the Associated Negro Press)

Sherrill, N. Y., July 21.—This, the most youthful city in the state, will undertake to solve the cost of labor problem by enlisting taxpayers as trench diggers for its recently authorized sewer system. More than 400 men, from all walks of life—lawyers, clerks, doctors, merchants and at least two clergymen—were volunteers, on hand with picks and shovels last Tuesday morning to start work on the first section. The length of the working day is optional with the workers. Any one may knock off when blisters and backache become so painful as to reduce efficiency.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

(Judge Rutherford's Lecture Con.)

Cause For Zionism

What was the including cause for the formation of Zionism? Was it due to the prosperity of the Jews? No, indeed. Let the beloved Herzl answer: "The scheme in question (Zionism) included the employment of an existent propelling force. Everything depends on our propelling force. And what is our propelling force? THE MISERIES OF THE JEWS."

If we find that God foreknew the condition of misery of the Jews and permitted it to prepare the Jews for the Zionistic movement in order that they might be turned back to their homeland, will not that strengthen faith in the promises of Jehovah concerning what will be the ultimate result? "And I will cause them to pass over with their enemies into a land which thou knoweth not; for a fire is kindled in my anger, over you shall it burn." "Therefore will I hurl you out of this land into the land of which ye had no knowledge, neither ye nor your fathers; and there shall ye serve other gods by day and by night; so that I will not grant you any favor. Behold, I will send for many fishermen, saith the Lord, and they shall fish them; and after that I will send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the clefts of the rocks."

"And thou shalt become an astonishment, a proverb, and a by-word, among all nations whitner the Lord will lead thee."—Jeremiah 15:14; 16: 13, 16; 24:9; Deuteronomy 28:37.

Development of Zionism

Officially organized in 1897, Zionism has advanced year by year. The first congress held in Basle, Switzerland, in that year was attended by 206 delegates, only a handful of Jews, whereas today Zionism has its organization in every part of the world where there are Jews and there are some of them almost everywhere. Large sums of money have been raised and expended in the establishment of many agricultural settlements. Scientific methods have been employed in agriculture. Schools have been established, and the foundation of the great Hebrew University has been on the Mount of Olives. The organization of colonies is progressing. Jews are acquiring the land in Palestine and building houses; waste lands are being reclaimed and gradually the nation is rising.

Double Fulfilled

When Zionism was organized, among other things the first congress declared that its aim was and is the procuring of such government sanctions as are necessary in the achievement of the objects of Zionism.

As above noted, the favor of God began to return to the Jews in 1878, and according to the prophetic double foretold by the Lord's prophets, forty years later, or in 1918, there should be some marked and special manifestation of God's favor toward the Jew. The Jewish year begins in the autumn; therefore November, 1917, would be in fact the beginning of 1918. In 1917 the Allied armies drove back the Turk and took possession of Palestine. On November 2, 1917, or about the second month of the Jewish year, 1918, Great Britain officially recognized Zionism, as appears from the following:

"Foreign Office, Nov. 2, 1917.

"Dear Lord Rothschild:

"I have much pleasure in conveying to you on behalf of His Majesty's Government, the following declaration of sympathy with Jewish Zionist aspirations, which has been submitted to, and approved by, the Cabinet.

"His Majesty's Government view with favor the establishment in Palestine of a National Home for the Jewish people, and will use their best endeavors to faciliate the achievement of this object, it being clearly understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities now in Palestine, or the rights and political status enjoyed by Jews in any other country. I should be grateful if you would bring this declaration to the knowledge of the Zionist Federation.

"Yours sincerery,

"Arthur James Balfour."

Within the year 1918 ten nations of earth, including Great Britian and the United States, gave official endorsement of the establishment of a Jewish homeland in Palestine. It was in the spring of 1918, about the anniversary of the deliverance of the children of Israel from Egypt, exactly forty years from the time when the favor began to return to the Jew, that a commission in charge of Dr. Chain Weizmann, with full authority from the British Government, sailed from London to Palestine, clothed with authority looking to the estabilshment of a Jewish commonwealth in Palestine. Thus we see that the double was fulfilled exactly on time, as God had foretold through the mouth of his prophets.

Purpose of Zionism

The first Zionist congress, convened at the instance of the much beloved Theodor Herzl, made a clear declaration as to its purpose and that program has never been altered. The purpose is thus stated:

Zionism aims to create publicly secured, legally assured home for the Jewish people in Palestine.

"In order to attain this object, the Congress adopts the following means:

"(1) The promotion of the settlement in Palestine of Jewish agriculturists, handicraftsmen, industrialists, and men following professions.

"(2) The federation and association of entire Jewry by means or local and general institutions in conformity with the local laws.

"(3) The strengthening of Jewish sentiment and national consciousness.

"(4) The procuring of such government sanctions as are necessary for achieving the objects of Zionism."

Jews Rebuilding Palestine

The Jews are not only laying a foundation of a state in Palestine, but they are putting in operation great schemes for improving the country by means of rapid transit systems, systems of irrigation, the building of houses, establishing of schools, and a great university at Jerusalem, and many other things. We cite a few of these events that have appeared in the public press:

Special Bulletin No. 469, issued by the Zionist Organization of New York City, states that the average rainfall in Palestine is twenty-six inches, and that this water stored up in Palestine would be sufficient to support a population of 15,000,000 people. The present population is 600,000. It further states that from the spring sixteen miles south of Jerusalem great quantities of water are flowing into the city. The public press announces gigantic irrigation schemes which, if carried out, will supply all Palestine with an abundance of water for irrigation and other purposes.

The Zionist Bulletin, under date of February 25, 1920, says:

"One million, seven hundred thousand eucalyptus and other kinds of forest trees are to be planted on an area of 21,125 dunama.

"In Merchavia 20,000 eucalyptus trees are to be planted, in connection with the sanitation of the settlement on 200 dunams.

"In Kinereth and Daganiah 42,000 eucalyptus and other kinds of forest trees are to be planted on 175 dunams on the slopes of the mountains, the farm of Kinereth, the banks of the Jordan and the shores of Lakes Kinereth.

"In Benchemen about 70,000 trees are to be planted on 230 dunams.

"In Hulda 425,000 trees are to be planted on 140 dunams.

"In Ber-Tobiah (Kastine) 27,000 trees are to be planted on 380 dunams, apart from those already mentioned above.

"In the surrounding of the colony of Chederah 50,000 trees in all, mostly eucalyptus trees, are to be planted on 1,00 0dunams."

A special bulletin dater March 1, 1920, says:

"Three thousand school children of Jerusalem, celebrating the Jewish Arbor Day recently, planted 500 trees in the suburbs of the Holy City, inaugurating the afforestation program of the Zionists to plant one million trees this year in Palestine, according to a report from the Zionist in Jerusalem.

"During 1919, 369,000 trees were planted in the effort to restore Palestine's forests, wantonly destroyed by Turkish misrule and by the war. The afforestation of Palestine, because of its importance in the agricultural rejuvenation work of the future, in the country and in providing lumber for construction projects that the Zionists are attempting in Holy Land."

Another special bulletin, under date of March 26, 1920, says:

"oFr ten years this struggle was kept up, entirely by Jewish labor. Today this once barren soil is covered with forests of olive and almond trees 150,000 olives and 10,000 almond trees. Last year 100,000 pounds of almond were sold, which together with the proceeds obtained from the sales of hides and wool from the extensive raising of cattle and sheep, produced a net profit of 15 per cent, on the original investment."

It is of the keenest interest to all thoughtful persons to note that these activities of the Zionists were foretold by God's prophet more than 2, 500 years ago, who wrote: "I will open on naked mountain peaks rivers, and in the midst of valleys fountains; I will change the wilderness into a pool of water, and the dry land into springs of water. I will place in the wilderness the cedar, the acacia, and the myrtle, and the oil-tree; I will set in the desert the fir tree, the pine and the box tree together; in order that they may see, and know and take (it to heart) and cmoprehend together, that the hand of the Lord hath done this, and the Holy One of Israel hath created it."—Isiah 41:18-20, Lesser.

"They Shall Build Houses"

At the Zionist Executive Council held February 16, 1920, at London, Dr. Ruppin in the debate proposed the founding of a large society which should begin to build houses for workers as rapidly as possible. And even now in parts of Palestine houses are rapidly undergoing construction for the benefit of the sonstant flow of Jewish population returning to the land. Again we find that this is clearly in fulfillment of prophecy written long ago for the purpose of encouraging the Jews to have faith in the promises of the Lord. The houses now built are not in the interest of profiteers, nor will the owners be permitted to oppress those who live in them; but the owners shall live in them as their own homes, as the prophet of the Lord foretold: "They shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them. They shall not build and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat; for as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands. They shall not labor in vain, nor bring forth for trouble; for they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and the offspring with them."—Isiah 65:21-23.

Thus the testimony definitely establishes the fact that God's favor has returned to the Jews; that the parallel is fulfilled; that the fig tree is putting forth its leaves, according to the promise—all of which Jesus said would take place at the end of the world.

To all the churches (more especially to the A. M. E. Churches) this comes to inform each church of my loss on the 21st of this month, my house and all its contents.

I am asking all to help me as I am poor.

To the A. F. & A. M. and each subordinate Lodge, I need help. Any amount the lodge may send will be appreciated.

Rev. Sam Taylor,
Crystal Gate No. 173, P. O. Box 61, Frederick, Okla.

CHOCTAW DOTS

Rain is very much needed here. It seems as if the people would melt from the heat.

Mrs. A. A. Gentry's guest for dinner Sunday were Mr. R. J. Solomon and son, Mrs. N. C. Cornwell and Mrs. Williams and family.

Mrs. C. L. Crump is one the sick list at this writing.

Rev. C. N. Moran will start a revival soon. Come one, come all.

Why don't you send the reporter more news and let the reading Negro know what you are doing. If you want to know what the reading Negro thinks of the Black Dispatch, ask Mr. R. J. Solomon.

The reporter failed to send in the dots last week due to illness.

For the Black Dispatch, see Myrtle Dunjee.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

(Judge Rutherford's Lecture Continued From Last Week.)

Rodger W. Babson, statistician-in-chief of Wall Street, in a letter dated January 27, 1920, and given limited circulation, says concerning the churches:

"The value of our investments depends not on the strength of our banks, but rather upon the strength of our churches. The under-paid preachers of the nation are the men upon whom we really are depending rather than the well-paid lawyers, bankers and brokers. The religion of the community is really the bulwark of our investments. And when we consider that only 15 per cent of the people hold securities of any kind and less than 3 per cent hold enough to pay an income tax, the importance of the churches becomes even more evident.

"For our own sakes, for our children's sakes, for the nation's sake, let us business men get behind the churches and their preachers! Never mind if they are not perfect, never mind if their theology is out of date. This only means that were they efficient they would do very much more. The safety of all we have is due to the churches, even in their present inefficient and inactive state. By all that we hold dear, let us from this very day give more time, money and thought to the churches of our city, for upon these the value of all we own ultimately depends."

Again the money-changers are operating in the house of the Lord, and again seem appropriate the words of the Master: "It is written, My house is the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves." —Luke 19:45, 46.

Of course "big business" will raise the required money because it thinks this necessary. Do the people wish to trust their spiritual interests with a class of men whose god is gold?

Occasionally, yet very rarely, you will find some denominational minister who sees the subtlety of this movement and who has the courage to speak out. Dr. A. T. Peterson, an Illinois Baptist preacher, says: "It is a super-league of nations."

Dr. Conant, an evangelist, in a published discourse involving the Inter-Church World Movement, says:

"Mergers are the order of the day in every line of human activity, and the latest and most menacing is the Inter-Church World Movement. By this movement the whole Christian Church is being unconsciously merged into a great union church which will be headed by liberals, (infidels) higher critics, evolutionists, opposers of the interests of both God and man.)

"This movement is shot through and through with fundamental error. Our Lord tells us that the mission of the church is to preach the gospel to every creature—just that and nothing more. But the leaders in this movement tell us that the mission of the church is to 'establish civilization, Christian in spirit and in passion throughout the world.' Those two conceptions will not mix any more than oil and water will.

"And by their social service program they are seeking to capture the functions of the state."

Gospel As a Witness.

Jesus further stated as an evidence of the end of the world; "This gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations: and then shall the end come."—Matthew 24:14.

If the leaders of the Interchurch World Movement claim that their purpose is the conversion of the world to Christianity, then we say to them that they are too late. They are not doing it the Lord's way. In the first place, they are not preaching the gospel of the kingdom. They frankly state they are ignoring the doctrinal truths of the gospel. In the second place, the preaching of the gospel of the kingdom is not for the purpose of converting the whole world, but for taking out from the world "a people for his name." (Acts 15:14). And thirdly, this has already been done and we are at the end of the old order and the new is coming in.

Distress And Perplexity

The conditions which have arisen in the world since 1914 are distressing and perplexing. All the rulers of the earth are perplexed. The financiers are in perplexity; the business men are in perplexity; the people are in perplexity and all are in distress. Why is this so, and what does it mean? Jesus further answered concerning the end of the world, and in proof of it, that there would be "upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea (restless humanity) and the waves (organized radical movements) roaring, men's hearts failing them for fear and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth; for the powers of heaven shall be shaken." (Luke 21:25, 26). This is daily in course of fulfillment.

As a sample of how the rulers of earth view the matter, President Wilson, in his speech before Congress after the great war began, said: "These are days of great perplexity, when a great cloud hangs over the greater part of the world. It seems as if great, blind, material forces have been released which had for long been held in leash and restraint."

Fear has taken hold of men in all walks of life. Selfishness seems to pervade every line of business. The landlord, feeling that he may not get another such chance to reap a harvest, increases the rent upon his tenant. The groceryman, the dealer in other foodstuffs, clothing, etc., seem to fear that another opportunity will not come and that now advantage must be taken of this opportunity to get all the money possible. The spirit of distrust exists everywhere. All of this but in fulfillment of the words of Jesus.

Man's Desire.

Amidst all of this trouble, sorrow and distress, there is a longing desire in the hearts of the people; and that desire is for life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Almost everyone would prefer to dwell in peace with loved ones and to avoid strife and controversy; but conditions seem to be such that man's difficulties are insurmountable. They cannot do what they would like. Seemingly there is an unseen force or power controlling them. And what is that power?

Demons Active.

Again we refer to the fact that as it was in Noah's day, so shall it be at the end of the world. The Scriptures clearly teach that in Noah's day the world had been over-run by fallen angels. As set forth in the sixth chapter of Genesis, these had assumed the forms of men and, in violation of their obligation to Jehovah, had selected wives from amongst the human race, and there resulted an offspring which was wicked to the last degree, and the whole earth was filled with violence. God brought on the deluge. The Apostle Peter, answering as to what became of these demons, said: "God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to tartarus, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be released unto judgment." "Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened in the spirit; by which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison; which sometime were disobedient, when once the long-suffering God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing." (2nd Peter 2:4; 1st Peter 3:18-20) "The angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day."—Jude 6.

These demons, restrained in the atmosphere about the earth, have had power to communicate with the living ones of the human race through the instrumentality of mediums. These matters are fully discussed in my book, "Talking With the Dead," and I do not here go into detail. I merely call attention to the fact that the clear inference to be drawn from the above texts is that when the end of the world is reached the demons would have greater power and would exercise that power over men. The Czar of Russia was constantly in communication with the demons through a medium whom he kept in the royal palace. Emperor William of Germany claimed to have an "inner ear" and averred that he heard "voices" from beyond and was guided largely by these. The course of the demons is that of wickedness, and without a doubt the great world war which started in 1914 was chiefly induced by the influence of these demons.

The Scriptures tell us of a great whirlwind that will be raised up from the coasts of the earth. (Jeremiah 23: 19;25:32, 30:23, 24). A whirlwind is a symbol of a great war. The great war created an interest in spiritism such as the world has never known; and some of the leading minds of the world have become devotees of it and are proclaiming the spiritualistic doctrine to the confusion of mankind. The demons are otherwise described in the Scriptures as the "four winds;" and Jesus, speaking through the Revelator, said: "I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the seas, nor on any tree . . . . till we have sealed the servants of our God." (Revelation 7: 1-3). These winds, or powers referred to by St. Paul when he speaks of the "prince of the power of the air." (Ephesians 2:2). These demons are exercising power over the minds of the people, causing distress, discontent, restlessness, hatred, ill-will, malice, strife, and all kinds of controversy and trouble.

All of the elements, as the Lord foretold through the Apostle Peter, are thus melting away amidst fervent heat.—2 Peter 3:10.

ARDMORE, OKLA.

Mrs. Annie Cooper, president of the State Federation of Negro Women's Clubs, visited the Art and Improvement Club and the Art Club, No. 2. The president was given an elaborate feast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hall, corner F. and Main streets, and a program at First Baptist Church was rendered at 3 o'clock p. m. on the 8th.

The Art and Improvement Club met at the home of Mrs. E. W. Hardiman, Burton street, and the evening was spent in doing art work, after which a 3-course luncheon was served. Every one voted her a livly hostess and adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. Alma Perry at 838 Roff street, N. E.

The Ardmore Five, a jazz orchestra, composed of Dr. E. W. Hardiman, E. Green, Jessie Prater, Alma Jase and Artris Martin, is progressing nicely under the direction of Dr. Hardiman and their weekly engagements are numerous.

Miss Olivia Perry, who has just finished her course at Bishop College, is the accomplished daughter of Mrs. Florence Perry, and is the assistant teacher to Mrs. Lula Faust Sneed at Berwyn, Okla.

Mrs. Dr. O. H. Smith and Mrs. E. M. Watson will go soon as delegates to Muskogee to represent the Art and Improvement Club, at the State Federation of Negro Women's Club.

Miss Sharlotte McCoy entertained a number of young friends at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Waddis Hill, at 41 F. street, Friday evening, Aug. 12, at 6 p. m. The evening was spent in games, and an elaborate 3-course luncheon was served. A big time was enjoyed by all.

Mr. Elmer Turner (T. Mike) has returned from the West and other points of interest and pleasure.

Dr. E. W. Hardiman is proving himself master of his profession, having performed a very technical operation last week upon a patient who came to him from Hugo, Okla. Dr. Smith, one of Ardmore's most progressive physicians, administered Radium treatment last week to one of his patients. Dr. Smith is the only Colored physician in the South at least, that uses the Radium Thurapy.

Dr. H. W. Smith, pharmacist at the Eureka Drug Store, visited Dallas and other Texas cities last week.

Mrs. Dr. G. B. Scott is visiting relatives and friends in Louisiana. We hope for her a pleasant trip.

Dr. G. W. Hill, one of Ardmore's most useful citizens and who has practiced medicine longer in the city than any other Negro physician, has recently installed a new instrument for the examination of the eye, ear, nose and throat.

The following persons attended the Sunday school convention at Wynnewood last week: Rev. T. T. Addison, Garvel Booker, Henrietta Wilson, C. Knight, Ozell Allen, C. A. J. Knight and Loyce Watson.

rMs. Kate Zaneis, superintendent of Carter county, is making strenuous efforts to standardize the Negro schools of the county by consolidating the one-room and one-teacher district into one strong school which will do work recognizable by the best schools of this country. She should receive the co-operation of our people in this great endeavor.

Prof. G. A. Kenyon, our ex-principal, has been elected principal of the Arcadia Consolidated schools and has quite a number of assistants. He is now being seen as a school man.

ADA, OKLA.

Sunday, August 14, being our regular pastoral day, we had good services all day. Sunday school met at 9:45 with a good many cheerful faces. We had in our midst, Rev. Ross from New Orleans, La., who gave a good number of remarks and good expressions to the Sunday school. At 11 o'clock our beloved pastor, Rev. T. H. Mundine, delivered one of his noble sermons. Everyone present was very much inspired. Under the leadership our our noble pastor, we feel that we are accomplishing great things for the cause of Christ. At 5:30 p. m. the B. Y. P. U. met with a large attendance and a great lesson was taught. At 8:30 p. m. the pastor again entered the rostrum and delivered another one of his soul stirring sermons. On Tuesday night, Rev. A. L. Branch and two of his members from McAlester, was with us. An excellent program was rendered after which a great debate was had. The judges deciced in favor of McAlester. On Wednesday night Rev. Branch preached to a crowded house. All hearts were made to rejoice. The mission sisters were royally entertained by Sister L. Murrel on last Monday evening.

Sister R. E. Mundine, the pastor's wife, is on the sick list.

The Starlight band met Thursday evening at its usual hour. The little one were taught by the director, Sister R. Anderson. The children are delighted to have their circle in operation and are doing a great work.

DOTS FROM ALTUS

Macedonia, on last Sunday, had the Holy Spirit all day. In the morning Rev. E. W. Whitfield came with the same thing that he always carries, and that is a living message. In the afternoon all church members were present to witness another sermon.

Last Sunday morning Rev. Kelly preached a soul stirring sermon at St. John. Rev. Boone of Lawton, made good his promise and gave Uncle Billy an awful licking.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bagley have two little children that they are very proud of. On last Sunday the little girl, age 9, donated to Macedonia over $3.00; Master Altus Bagly donated something over $1.50. Altus is 7 years old.

We wish to correct our error of last week. Our district M. N. G. made her annual visit on the later part of June to Starlight H. H. of R., No. 5235. We, as usual, enjoyed her visit.

The revival conducted by Rev. E. D. Parker and Rev. E. W. Whitfield is a great help to the people and to the church. The devil is busy. He will tell a member that he is subject to indictment to join a church without a letter, but that is his last stand.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

(Judge Rutherford's Lecture Continued from last week.)

REMEDIES—HUMAN

What remedies do men offer to bring order out of chaos and establish peace and prosperity amongst the people The financiers desperately struggle to hold the present financial systems in order; but they have no remedy and know of none to bring about a better condition.

After centuries of effort, political parties have proved their inadequacy to meet the present conditions and to solve the distressing problems. Economists and statesmen, studying the question dilligently, find that they are able to do nothing. And this applies to all political parties and organizations, for the reason that all are composed of selfish, imperfect men; and therefore cannot bring about an ideal condition.

With the cessation of hostilities, statesmen representing the leading nations involved met in conference and (giving them credit for the desire to establish peace and prosperity) the result of their deliberations was a covenant known as the League of Nations. This offered as a remedy for present evils. Will it succeed A league formed amongst all the nations of earth and based upon the principles of justice and righteousness, and in which all the contracting parties would honestly carry out the purpose expressed, would doubtless result in great good. But where selfishness is the chief motive and controls the action of any or all, ideal conditions could not be attained. God in his wisdom foreknew and foretold the formation of the League of Nations; and He likewise foretold that it must fail.—Isiah 8:9, 10.

The including cause for the formation of the League is admittedly fear. Faith in God and His promises is entirely ignored. Because of these facts the League will never accomplish the expressed desire. It is not God's way. He has plainly said: "My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts." (Isiah 55:8, 9). Jehovah's great plan was entirely ignored in the formation of this League of Nations. The prophet truly wrote: "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord." (Psalms 33:12). But a nation that ignores the divine plan, or any league of nations formed which ignores the same, need not expect a desirable result. The Lord's prophet clearly had in mind the formation of the League of Nations, and also the league of ecclesiastical systems, when he wrote: "Associate yourselves, O ye people, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries; gird yourselves and ye shall be broken in pieces. Take counsel together, and it shall come to naught; speak the word, and it shall not stand."—Isiah 8:9, 10.

Ecclesiastical Remedy.

Ecclesiasticism relates to organized church systems, and particularly to the clergymen or priestly class operating and controlling the same. For a long time the Roman Catholic was practically the only creed extant. In the sixteenth century there was a great reformation movement and Protestant ecclesiasticism resulted. The ecclesiastics, therefore, came forward with a proposed remedy for distressed humanity; and since they do so, we are justified in a candid examination of their proposed remedy to see whether or not it is adequate. The ecclesiastical systems both Catholic and Protestant claim that their mission is to convert the world, thereby bringing the people into the churches. Let us suppose they could accomplish this expressed purpose and that the whole human race was brought into one or the other of the churches. What, then, is the hope that they hold out to the people

The Catholic creed or teaching is that the destiny of man is fixed at death and that those who are good and faithful Catholics as death pass on to heaven, a conditions of endless bliss. All other Catholics who have not been faithful in every particular go to purgatory, there to remain for an indefinite period of time (not less than a thousand years), during which time they are supposed to be cleansed and purified and made ready for the realm; that all the others, the heretics, the apostate, etc., must spend teir destiny in hell fire, consciously suffering forever.

The Protestant teaching generally is that the destiny of every man is eternally fixed at death, that, the faithful church member passing at death into glory, a condition of bliss in heaven; and all others spending their eternity in conscious torture, eternal in duration.

It will be noticed, therefore, that if there be any real difference between these two remedies, the Protestant remedy is the worse of the two because it offers no middle ground. It is plainly to be seen by any one that neither the Catholic nor the Protestant creed offers any remedy whatsoever for the present disorder that would lead to peace, prosperity, liberty and happiness and life everlasting on the earth. It follows, then, that if they should succeed in converting most or all of the people to their theories it would be no solution of the problems.

The great difficulty with the systems ecclesiastical is that they ignore the commission given to the Christian and build their homes upon man-made theories, creeds and institutions. They ignore completely the commission divinely given to everyone who has consecrated himself to do the Lord's will. It will be admitted by both Catholics and Protestants that only a small portion of the earth's population has even pretended to embrace the teachings of their respective systems, and the most sanguine amongst them will never claim that they hope to convert everybody to their way of thinking and bring them into the church organization. The facts are that in modern times they have ignored the doctrines and do not ask the people to believe these but to unite in action; and the chief action is the solicitation and collection of money. Seizing the war spirit, the spirit of the world, these ecclesiastical systems now are engaged in raising millions of dollars, saying to the people; "If only we had the money we could convert the world." Iis it not apparent to all that this is a reflection on the Lord, that he needs money to carry out his purposes; and is he pleased to use the unconsecrated funds of the worldings to do his work? Is it necessary to solicit in the name of the Lord money from men who have no interest in the Lord's arrangement but who yield to the importunities of the clergy and pay the money in order that they may have a social or political standing amongst a certain class of people? Could it be said that the Lord must resort to such methods in order to carry out his arrangement? Every reasonable man must say: Surely, not. And again we are reminded of the Lord's words through the prophet, directing them at those who are advancing these worldly theories: "My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the Heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts."—Isiah 55:8, 9.

The wise man, then, is he who seeks to know what is the divine remedy and, finding this, seeks to conform himself to it; for nothing else short of divine power can bring order out of the present chaotic condition and bring to man that which he desires. Let us keep in mind that it has ever been the desire of man to enjoy life, liberty and happiness. This was so uppermost in the minds of the forefathers in laying the foundation for the American government that this placed this statement in the fundamental law of the land. The people, therefore, are wasting their money, wasting their time and energy to pursue a will-o' the-wisp, a man-made theory, in utter disregard of the divine remedy; and, of course, if the people are ignorant of this remedy which the Lord has provided, they cannot pursue it. The great masses are ignorant and their ignorance is due to the fact that the ecclesiastics have been unfaithful to their commission, have failed to teach the Scriptures, but on the contrary have taught man-made theories; and for this reason God, foreknowing that it would be thus, recorded: "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but for hearing the words of the Lord."—Amos 8:11.

After mny centuries of divine favor the clergy of the church nominal as a class has proven unfaithful to the divinely given commission. After six thousand years of laborious effort to establish an ideal government in the earth, the nations are now face to face with a condition of chaos, and mankind is groping blindly about. The people who love righteousness and truth have been without aid, advice and comfort from those from whom they might expect it and who claim to be the messengers of the Lord. These so-called spiritual advisers have torn off the mask and now boldly declare that they ignore the doctrines and unite in action for money and power.

With the great doctrines of Christianity ignored, upon what will the hungry souls feed?—those souls that hunger and thirst for righteousness, from whence will they gather their satisfying portion? (Psalms 107:1-7). Is it not time for all such to seek the divine remedy? Man's extremity is God's opportunity. The whole world is being humbled by suffering and sorrow. Let thise who mourn be comforted by the great and beneficient arrangement disclosed by his word.

Remedy—Divine

The Holy Scriptures contain the expression of the will of God concerning man. The Bible is the only true source of knowledge upon which man can base hope for the future. The Apostle Paul with prophetic vision, looking down to the time of the blessings that shall come to the human race, wrote to the followers of Jesus: "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his spirit: for the spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God."—1 Corinthians 2:9, 10.

It was the great Master who said: 'Sanctify them through the truth: thy word is truth." (John 17:17). Nothing, then, but an understanding and appreciation of the Word of God can lead man into the right way and unfold to him visions of the blessings that are to come; and the understanding of the divine arrangement brings comfort and joy to the heart.

The inspired witness wrote: 'Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world." (Acts 15:18). From the very creation of man the full consummation of his plan Jehovah knew everything and his great program has been working out in a progressive and orderly manner. In order, therefore, for us to appreciate the divine remedy we must first ascertain the real cause of the present condition of strife, turmoil, trouble, wars, revolution, etc., in the earth.

The Cause.

The first man was created perfect and given a perfect home in Eden, endowed with life as a human being, with happiness, with peach, and with all the blessings incident to a perfect life and a perfect home. He was endowed with the power and authority to produce perfect children and to fill the earth with a perfect race of people. His enjoyment of those blessings eternally depended upon his obedience to the divine law; and his disobedience of that law he was informed would lead to the forfeiture of his right to life as a human being, as well as his right to happiness and peace. Man violated the law. This account is briefly set forth in the 3rd chapter of Genesis. Man was sentenced to death, driven out from his perfect home, and the judgment executed by causing him to subsist upon the poisonous elements of the unfinished earth. As long as he existed he was caused to eat bread in sorrow. In all these centuries he has been under the bondage of the evil effects of sin, waiting and hoping for liberation.

It must be observed that Adam did not lose a home in heaven. He was not offered a home in heaven; but what he did possess was a home on earth. with human life in perfection, as man; and his violation of the law forfeited these. Therefore, if man is ever restored to his original favors and blessings it must be to that which he first enjoyed—perfection of life as a human being, a perfect home, and peace and happiness on earth.

The disobedience of Adam entailed upon all of his offspring sorrow, sickness, suffering and death. The perfect pair did not bear children while in Eden; but they exercised this function after the condemnation and after man was earning his bread in the unfinished earth. He was gradually undergoing the sentence of death. He was imperfect, and it follows as a logical and reasonable conclusion that he could not produce a perfect race of people. The result was that his offspring were born in a dying condition. And this is what the prophet meant when he wrote: "Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me." (Psalm 51:5). This is the same thought expressed by St. Paul when he wrote: "Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned."—Romans 5:12.

Marietta is taking on new life with the advent of our school principal.

The citizens were called together and organized themselves into a civic league club having for its object the securing of street lights, sewerage and pavement in our section of the city. In the meantime it elected a local board of school trustees to work in co-operation with the principal and school officials. The first step will be to apply for a larger faculty.

The board has in completion a four room (teacherage) bungalow with all modern conveniences which when completed will cost something over a thousand dollars.

A beautiful plot for a flower garden has been left between the teacherage and the main building. The young people are taking advantage of the building for social purposes. They met and organized a social club known as the Marietta Fast Set which gave its first social Saturday evening and is planning for weekly literary and debating exercises in connection with the social features.

Mr. Herman Evans is president; Otis Weaver, vice-president; Miss Meather McCain, secretary; Miss Molet Combs, treasurer; Mr. Frank Mario and Mr. W. M. Stokes, critics. There will be no dull season this fall, nor winter. Prof. I. B. McCutcheon has been deputized by Grand Chancellor, Dr. C. B. Wickham to re-instate the St. James Lodge, No. 31, K. of P., which seems to bring cheer and joy to the ex-Knights and new applicants. As a matter of fact, a court will follow. Applicants for membership will apply to W. M. Stokes.

The summer term of the Douglas school closes on the 26th. Supt. W. C. Johnson will address the school patrons Friday morning. Principal I. B. McCutcheon leaves Friday afternoon for his home, Atoka, and other points in the state.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER DIE

A Christian's Tribulation

It has become a popular matter to become a member of some church system or to join the Inter-Church World Movement; and the man or woman who contribute the greatest amount of money is the one who receives the greatest honor.

On the contrary, it has never been popular to be a true Christian, a true follower of Jesus; and this is due to the fact that the divine program is; "We must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God." (Acts 14:22). Jesus said: "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." (Matthew 16:24). Jesus consecrated himself fully to do the Father's will. His footstep followers must do likewise. Jesus suffered indignities and persecution at the hands of the religionists of his time. His followers must have similar experience. "For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps." (Peter 2:21). Jesus said: "The deciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord. It is enough for the disciple to be as his master, and the servant as his lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household." (Matthew 10:24, 25). Again he said to his followers: "If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love his own; but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you. Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; If they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also.". (John 15:18-20). Suffering ignominy and persecution at the hands of the nominal religionists and the forces that they can bring to bear is the course clearly marked out for the true followers of Christ Jesus. "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God; and if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.". (Romans 8:16, 17) "It is a faithful saying: For if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him: If we suffer, we shall also reign with him."—2 Timothy 2:11, 12.

The divine arrangement makes it a condition precedent to entering into glory that the true Christian should be perfected through suffering. The church is but a small number, comparatively speaking; and the church, together with Christ Jesus, the head, is called to the high and exalted position in heaven, constituting the seed of Abraham according to the promise, pictured by the stars mentioned in the promise. Hence, because of this exaltation, God permits them to be put through a period of trying circumstances and sufferings in order that they might be afforded the opportunity of proving their faithful, loyal devotion to him. "For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings. For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren."—Hebrew 2:10, 11.

True to the divine arrangement, the church has been put through a course of suffering. The head and the body members have been unjustly accused of crime time and again. St. Paul tells us, as likewise does the Master, that Satan is the god of the world. (2 Corinthians 4:4). Again we read that the whole world lieth in the wicked one. (John 5:19). The governments of earth, therefore, have been the instrumentality he has used for the purpose of persecution. In the days of the Master the scribes, Pharisees, and doctors of the law, who claimed to sit in Moses' seat and represent Jehovah, were the ones who led the persecution against the Master. Jesus plainly told these that they were a part of the seed of the serpent, the devil. It would be most reasonable therefore, to expect that Satan would inject into the minds of his instruments the thought of charging the followers of Jesus with the crime of sedition against his (Satan's) empire. The nominal religionist of his day charged Jesus with the crime of sedition and caused him to be executed on that charge. St. Stephen, the first martyr to the cause of true Christianity following Christ, the Master, was stoned to death after being unjustly convicted upon perjured testimony on the charge of sedition. St. Paul because of his faithfulness to the Lord, was confined in prison for four years under a similar charge and was otherwise ill-treated.

St. John, the Revelator, under similar charge, was banished to the isle of Patmos and required to don a prisoner's garb and beat rocks. The history of the world shows that the true followers of Jesus have met with opposition and persecution upon all hands and at all times.

As an illustration of this fact: the church nominal of England became a part of the political power and those who refused to conform to the state-church were persecuted. A short distance from London stands a building erected to the memory of men who were burned upon that spot because of their faithfulness to the truth. John Bunyan, an humble follower of Jesus, refused to be a conformist to man-made theories and he was tried and convicted and placed in prison. A clergyman then was delegated to wait upon him and tell Bunyan words to this effect: You are going to be kept in prison for three months, If at the end of that time you recant and conform yourself to the church-state you will be released; otherwise you will be put to death. And Bunyan calmly replied: "You might as well put me to death now; I will never conform." He was kept in prison for twelve years and while there wrote Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress, which has been a great comfort and help to Christians who have trod the narrow way from then until now.

Speaking of the evidences concerning the end of the world, Jesus furthermore said: "Then shall they deliver you (meaning his followers) up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake."

It is often ture that advantage is taken of conditions of war and strife to vent some ill-feeling upon others. When the great world war began, in Germany certain Christians, known as Bible Students, who asked to be exempted from combatant military service because of their devotion and faithfulness to the Lord and because of his command to them that they should not kill, were ill-treated, placed in the front ranks of battle, and were amongst the first to fall. In Austria, the very stronghold of one of the great ecclesiastical systems, a number of these same Bible Students were fined or imprisoned, the charge during the period of the war. In Canada many were haled into court and summarily tried without being given an opportunity to offer a defense, and were fined orimprisoned, the charge being that they had in their possession Bibles with certain comments, hymn books which they had used for years in the worship of God, and other literature in harmony with the Scriptures. To the astonishment of many people in the United States there was a wide persecution of conscientious followers of the Master in this land. No Christian permits himself to become embittered because of this unjust treatment, but he recognizes it as a fulfillment of the divine prophecy and one of the evidences given by the Lord to those who yield submissively to the divine arrangements, to assure them that they belong to him. The inspired Apostle wrote: "Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you; but rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's suffering; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy. If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you; on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified."—1 Peter 4:12-12.

Jesus and the members of his body thus developed through trial and tribulation according to the divine arrangement will constitute the seed of Abraham, through which seed God will ultimately extend blessings to all the families of the earth. The Apostle Paul with prophetic vision looking down through the corridors of the age, marking the suffering of mankind and the development of the Christ class, the seed, exclaimed: "The whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now, waiting for the manifestation of the sons of God."—Romans 8:19, 22.

Kingdom Coming In.

The wars, famine, pestilence, distress of nations, etc., upon the earth are the forerunners of the establishment of the Messianic Kingdom. The Lord through his prophet said. "I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come." (Haggai 2:7). And while this great shaking is in progress and monarchs are losing their crowns, aristocratic and autocratic thrones are tumbling to the earth, the words of the prophet ring out clearly in the ears of the followers of Jesus: "And in the days of these kings shall God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever." —Daniel 2:44.

Elijah was a type of the followers of Christ Jesus; and the Lord used him to picture the events transpiring in the end of the world, as we have heretofore mentioned. (See pages 19-22). In fulfillment of the antitype, the Elijah class knew that the war was coming and one of them, the Lord's faithful servant, Pastor Russel for forty years pointed out from the prophecies that it would come in 1914. The Lord is not in the war, meaning that the Lord's kingdom is not yet in full sway. Then follows the earthquake, symbolic of revolution, which has already swept some countries. Then shall follow the anarchy—destructive troubles. Anarchy means a disregard of all law, certain classes assuming to exercise power and authority where it is not granted, causing indescribable suffering and sorrow. In this the Lord is not, but is another means of clearing away the ground preparatory to establishing the kingdom. Then Elijah heard the still small voice. This still small voice is a message from the Lord. The voice is used to symbolize a message or messenger. The Lord has long ago put the message in his word the Bible, for the benefit of those who should live in this hour of stress. The multitudes of earth are clamoring everywhere. They are confused; they are distressed. They are in sorrow, in tears of bitterness. They are almost at their wits' end. But if they could be heard to express their hearts' sincere desire now, without a doubt there would come up from every quarter of the earth this request: Give us a government of righteousness with a wise ruler who will administer the laws in behalf of all; give us peace and not war; give us plenty and not profiteers; give us liberty and not liscense; give us life and not suffering and death. Back from the past comes the sweet small voice of the Lord saying that this request shall be fullfilled: "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulders: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even forever. The Zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this."—Isiah 9:6, 7.

The Jubilee

An understanding of the jubilee system which Jehovah inaugurated with Israel throws a great light upon the immediate future events. The Scriptures clearly show that Israel, while God dealt with them for more than eighteen centuries, was a typical people. Their law was typical, foreshadowing greater and better things to come. The Lord commanded Moses to institute the Sabbath system the year that Israel entered the land of Caanan, which was 1575 years before A. D. 1. (Leviticus 25: 1-2), and that every fiiftieth year should be unto them a year of jubilee. This was done on the tenth day of the seventh month, the day of atonement. "And ye shall hallow the fiftieth year and proclaim freedom throughout the land unto all the inhabitants thereof; it shall be a jubilee unto you and ye shall return every man unto his family." Other Scriptures show that there were to be seventy jubilees kept. (Jeremiah 25:11; 2 Chronicles 36:17-21). A simple calculation of these jubilees brings us to this important fact: Seventy jubilees of fifty years each would be a total of 3500 years. That period of time beginning 1575 years before A. D. 1, of necessity, would end in the fall of the year 1925, at which time the type ends and the great antitype must begin. What, then, should we expect to take place? In the type there must be a full restoration; therefore the great antitype must mark the beginning of restoration of all things. The chief thing to be restored is the human race to life: and since other Scriptures definitely fix the fact that there will be a restoration of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and other faithful ones of old, and that these will have the first favor, we may expect 1925 to witness the return of these faithful men of Israel from the condition of death, being resurrected and fully restored to perfect humanity and made the visible, legal representatives of the new order of things on earth.

Messiah's kingdom once established Jesus and his glorified church constituting the great Messiah, shall minister the blessings to the people they have so long desired and hoped for and prayed might come. And when that time comes, there will be peace and not war, as the prophet beautifully states: "In the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow unto it. And many nations shall come, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem. And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks; nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid; for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it."—Mich. 4:1-4.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

(Judge Rutherford's Lectures Continued From Last Week)

EARTHLY RULERS

As we have heretofore stated, the great jubilee cycle is due to begin in 1925 At that time the earthly phase of the kingdom shall be recognized. The Apostle Paul in the eleventh chapter of Hebrews names a long list of faithful men who died before the crucifixion of the Lord and before the beginning of the selection of the church. These can never be a part of the heavenly class; they had no heavenly hopes; but God has in store something good for them. They are to be resurrected as perfect men and constitute the princes or rulers in the earth, according to his promise. (Psalm 45.16; Isiah 32:1; Matthew 8:11). Therefore we may confidently expect that 1925 will mark the return of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and the faithful prophets of old, particularly those named by the Apostle in Hebrews, chapter eleven, to the condition of human perfection.

Reconstruction.

All the statesmen of the world, all the political economists, all the thoughtful men and women, recognize the fact that the conditions existing prior to the war have passed away and that a new order of things must be put in vogue. All such recognize that this is a period now marking the beginning of reconstruction. The great difficulty is that these men are exercising only human wisdom and have ignored the divine arrangement. We are indeed at the time of reconstruction, the reconstruction not only of a few things, but of all things. The reconstruction will not consist of patching up old and broken down systems and forms and arrangements, but the establishment of a new and righteous one under the great ruler, the great ruler Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace. The Apostle Peter at Pentecost, speaking under divine inspiration, and referring to that time, said: "Times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord; and he shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you: whom the heaven must receive (retain) until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began."—Acts 3:19-21.

Examination of the prophecies from Moses to John discloses the fact that every one of the prophets foretold the time coming for restitution blessings. Reconstruction and restitution mean the same thing i. e., the restoration of mankind to the things which were lost. The reward of the church in heaven is not that which man originally had; but is given as a great reward for faithfulness to the Lord under trying conditions and circumstances. Restitution means the blessings that will be given to mankind in general through the divine arrangement and therefore restoring him to life, liberty and happiness on the earth, once enjoyed by the perfect man Adam and which was included in the promise made to Abraham. This blessing comes to the world through the seed, the exalted, elect class, the Messiah, the Christ.

The Scriptures clearly show that this great time of blessing is immediately preceded by a great time of trouble. This trouble is now on the world. The word Michael used in the following text means: "Who as God," or representing God—Christ Jesus, the great captain of our salvation. His second coming and the establishment of his kingdom has been the hope and desire of Christians for centuries past. In referring to this time, then, the prophet Daniel, under inspiration wrote: "And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book. And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt."—Daniel 12.1, 2.

Millions Will Never Die

Every part of the divine arrangement must be fulfilled; not one jot or title shall pass away unfilled. Every portion of the divine promise, therefore, is important. Answering the question as to the conditions prevailing at the end of the world, Jesus quoted the above prophetic statement from the Book of Daniel, or used words similar, saying: "Then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, nor ever shall be. And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened." (Matthew 24: 21, 22). Thus he shows that the distressed upon the earth will end with a time of tribulation such as the world has never known and that this will be the last. There will never be another. Then he adds that for the sake of the elect those days shall be shortened; and much flesh shall be saved.

We ask, Why would the Lord carry through this time of trouble a large number of people, sparing them from death in the time of trouble, unless he intended to minister unto them some particular blessing? And since God has promised a blessing of restitution to that which Adam lost, and since these promises point to a beginning of fulfillment immediately following this trouble, and since the promise clearly is that the elect, constituting the seed of Abraham, according to the promise, shall be the instruments through which the blessings shall flow, then this statement of Jesus clearly and conclusively proves that many people living on earth at the end of the trouble will be the first ones to be offered the blessings of restoration, which blessings will be offered through the elect, the Messiah. It follows as a matter of course that those accepting the offer as made and rendering themselves in obedience to it shall be restored to that which was lost in Adam, viz, life, liberty and happiness.

The prophet of God offers other testimony in corroboration of this. "And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the Lord, two parts shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left therein. And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried and they shall say, The Lord is my God." (Zechariah 13: 8, 9). Here, then, is a clear statement to the effect that one part God will spare in this time of trouble and that these shall ultimately be his people and he will be their God.

Having in mind that it was an earthly home, human life and attendant blessings that Adam lost, and that these are the blessings God promised shall be restored to man, we can understand the words of the prophet David when he wrote: 'Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the oLrd will deliver him in time of trouble. The Lord will preserve him, and keep him alive; and he shall be blessed upon earth; and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies." (Psalm 41:1, 2). Here he plainly states that those who deal righteously in this time of trouble shall be blessed upon the earth.

How to Live Forever

The church systems would have the people believe that only those who become church members can be saved. The Bible never taught any such doctrine. The Lord never organized the nominal systems, and the true church is but a little flock, who shall inherit the kingdom of heaven, and others of the world do not inherit it. To the church Jesus said: "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom." (Luke 12:32). Jesus died not only for those who will constitute the members of the church, but for all. St. John plainly stated: "He is the propitiation (satisfaction) for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world."—1 John 2:2.

The Apostle Paul, discussing the great Redeemer and his office, said: "We see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with the glory and honor; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man. For it became his, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings." (Hebrews 2:9, 10). Thus we see that Jesus died for every man, not only for a few. Again says the Apostle: "There is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time." (1 Timothy 2: 5, 6). By this Scripture it is clearly seen that in God's due time every creature must hear the testimony as to what Jesus has done for him and know of the plan of salvation. Again says the Apostle Paul: "The gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." (Romans 6:23). There can be no gift without both a giver and a receiver, and this could not operate without knowledge on the part of both. In other words, the giver must intelligently offer the gift to another and the other must intelligently know of this fact before he can receive it. It would be impossible for the human race, therefore, to accept the gift of life everlasting before it is offered. It will be offered only in God's due time and the divine plan shows that his due time is after the seed of promise is developed, after the kingdom is set up; and then each one in his order will be brought to a knowledge of the fact that a plan of redemption exists and that the way is open for him to accept the terms of it and live. Knowledge being exential, it precedes the reception of blessings from the Lord; and knowing this fact, it is easy to be seen why the adversary, the devil, and his agencies so diligently strive to prevent the people from knowing the truth. But when Messiah's kingdom is established we are definitely informed (Revelation 20:1-4) that Satan will be restrained of his power that he might deceive the nations no more; and then the people shall know the truth and nothing shall hinder them from knowing it.

Positive Promise

The words of Jesus must be given full force and effect because he spake as never man spake His speech was with absolute authority. And in God's due time his words must have fulfillment, and they cannot have fulfillment until that due time. Jesus plainly said: "Verily, verily I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death." (John 8: 51). As above stated, no one could keep the saying of Jesus until he hears it, until he has knowledge of God's arrangement. Throughout the Gospel age none but Christians have had this knowledge and all who have kept this saying and keep it faithfully until the end will receive life everlasting on the divine plane. (Revelation 2:10). The remainder of mankind have not hear it; therefore could not keep it. They will hear, however, in due time after the establishment of the kingdom. Then it shall come to pass that every one who will keep the saying of the Lord shall never see death. This promise would not have been made by Jesus if he did not intend to carry it into full force and effect in due time.

Again he said: "Whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." (John 11:26). Do we believe the Master's statement? If so, when the time come for the world to know, then they who believe and, of course, render themselves in obedience to the terms have the absolute and positive statement of Jesus that they shaH never die.

Based upon the argument heretofore set forth, then, that the old order of things, the old world, is ending and is therefore passing away, and that the new order is coming in, and that 1925 shall mark the resurrection of the faithful worthies of old and the beginning of reconstruction, it is reasonable to conclude that millions of people now on the earth will be still on the earth in 1925. Then based upon the promises set forth in the divine Word, we must reach the positive and indisputable conclusion that millions now living will never die.

Of course, it does not mean that every one will live; for some will refuse to obey the divine law; but those who have been evil and turn again to righteousness and obey righteousness shall live and not die. Of this we have the positive statement of the Lord's prophet, as follows: "When the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive. Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions, that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die."

PERRY HERALD

The Blaine School opened Monday, Sept. 5, with a splendid enrollment in both the primary and high school departments. Everybody seems to be anxious to get to work. The Mothers' Club gave their annual picnic Friday evening at the school campus. The affair will be long remembered by those who were present. Those faithful and breadhearted women who are giving their time and talent for the uplife of the race made it pleasant for the pupils and teachers. Many games and plays were the feature of the entertainment, which were engaged in by the pupils and ladies of the Mothers' Club. They all seemed to be school pupils for a time. Dinner was spread at 6 o'clock on the lawn, which consisted of many good things to eat, followed by a course of ice cream and cake.

Too much cannot be said of these splendid women who are striving to better the schools of the city for their children. They are co-operating with the teachers in every movement for good. They are holding outstretched hands to others who will join them in this good work of saving the child. Mr. F. W. Thomas will open his cobbler shop again on the 15th of September.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

(Judge Rutherford's Lecture Continued From Last Week.)

RETURNING YOUTH

The Lord, in the exercise of his loving kindness toward man, has graciously given many illustrations and pictures of the out-workings of his great plan. In the book of Job he gives us a picture of the perfection of man, of his fall, of the redemption by the great Ransomer, and then the subsequent restoration. When the times of restoration begin there will doubtless be many men on earth who will be very old and almost ready for the tomb. But those who learn of the great ransom-sacrifice and who accept the Ransomer shall return to the days of their youth; they shall be restored to perfection of the body and mind and live on the earth foreyer. We note the words of the prophet:

"He (Jehovah) keepeth back his (man's) soul from the pit, and his life from perishing by the sword. He (man) is chastened also with pain upon his bed, and the multitude of his bones with strong pain: so that his life abhorreth bread, and his soul dainty meat. His flesh is consumed away, that is cannot be seen; and his bones that were not seen stick out. Yea, his soul draweth near unto the grave, and his life to the destroyers."

Thus is given a vivid description of the dying human race, individually and collectively. Then the prophet shows how the message of truth will be brought to him and he will learn of the great ransom sacrifice. Continuing, he says: "If there be a messenger (one who brings a message of glad tidings) with him (man), an interpreter (one who exponds and makes it clear), one among a thousand (the Lord) will provide here and there teachers for the benefit of others), to show unto man his (The Lord's) uprightness: then he (the Lord) is gracious unto him (man), and saith, Deliver him from going down to the pit (grave) and the man joyfully says: I have found a ransom. His flesh shall be fresher than a child's: he shall return to the days of his youth."—Job 33:18-25.

When God expelled Adam from Eden he said: "And now, lest he (Adam) put forth his hand, and take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live forever: therefore the Lord God sent him forth from the garden of Eden. . . . . and he placed at the east of the garden of Eden cherubims, and a flaming sword which turneth every way, to keep the way of the tree of life." (Genesis 3:22-24). Thus the Word shows that had Adam remained in Eden, feeding upon the perfect food it afforded, he would have continued to live. The judgment was executed against him by causing him to feed upon imperfect food. Perfect food, therefore, seems a necessary element to sustain human life everlastingly. When the kingdom of Messiah is inaugurated, the great Messiah will make provision for right food conditions.

Thus, when restoration begins, a man of seventy years of age will gradually be restored to a condition of physical health and mental balance. The Lord will teach him how to eat, what to eat, and other habits of life; and above all, the truth, and how to think and how to fix his mind upon holy things. And by the gradual process of restoration he will be lifted up by the great Mediator and restored to the days of his youth and live on the earth forever and never see death.

Resurrection

Not only will those living on the earth when restoration begins have the opportunity of life, but all the dead shall be awakened and brought back in their regular order and likewise be given an opportunity for life. It was the great Master who declared: "Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, and shall come forth." (John 5:28, 29). St. Paul plainly says: "There shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust." (Acts 25:15). In his clear, forceful and logical argument set out in 1st Corinthians 15, St. Paul conclusively proves that the resurrection of Jesus Christ is a guarantee that everyone of the dead shall be awakened and brought to a knowledge of the truth. Then he says: "He (God) hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead." (Acts 17:31); thus showing that during the reign and impartial opportunity for the blessings of life, liberty and happiness.

The brave young men who went to war and died upon the battlefield have not gone to heaven, nor to eternal torture, as the creeds of Christendom would their loved ones believe. They have not shed their bodies and gone floating about in space, as the spiritualists would make men believe. They are dead waiting for the resurrection; and in due time they shall be brought back to the condition of life and restored to their loved ones and be given a full opportunity to accept the terms of the new order of things and live forever.

Many a good mother has spent sleepless nights and wept tears of bitterness because of her loved one who died upon the battlefield. Many a sweetheart, many a father, many a child, has likewise been bowed in sorrow because of the great suffering that the war, trouble and death entailed upon the people.

Clergy's Opportunity

What a wonderful opportunity the clergy has had and neglected the past five years of distress! Instead of misleading the people into reroneous ways, where they have found sorrow reigning in the home because of the death of loved ones, because of the loss upon the battlefield of some dear one, what a splendid opportunity to call attention to the precious promises of the Scriptures. For instance, to say to the weeping mother: "Thus saith the Lord . . . Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears; for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the Lord; and they shall come again from the land of the enemy. And there is hope in thine end, saith the Lord, that thy children shall come again to their own border." (Jeremiah 31:15-17). The land of the enemy is the land of death, because death is the great enemy; and the Lord will call back all who have gone into that condition, and during his reign he will destroy death.—1 Corinthians 15:25, 26.

Appeal to the Clergy

It is not my thought to hold up the clergy to ridicule, but rather would I appeal to them that they fulfill their duty and obligation to the people in this hour of distress. I would remind them that the commission given to all followers of Jesus is not to convert the world and bring them into some organized system. Their commission is not to collect money from the people to carry out these purposes. Their commission is not to persecute others. But their divinely given commission is plainly set forth by the Lord in these words: "The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound; to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn; to appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified."—Isiah 61:1-3.

Never was there such a time to bind up the brokenhearted; never such a time to comfort those that mourn, as now. Why not tell the people the beautiful, wonderful truths contained in the Bible and thereby enable them to look beyond the distress that afflicts mankind, to the new day that is coming in when life, liberty, happiness, and blessings will be offered to all mankind?

Great Joy Coming

It was life, liberty and happiness that Adam possessed and lost. These things Jesus purchased by his own blood. In the time of his reign he will give liberty to all the prisoners in the prison-house of death and under the domination of the adversary, as beautifully declared by the prophet, thus establishing full liberty in the earth: "Behold my servant, whom I uphold; mine elect, in whom my soul delighteth; I have put my spirit upon him: he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles. He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street. A bruised reed shall be not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment unto truth. He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he has set judgment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law. Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth bread unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles; to open the blind eyes, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison-house."—Isiah 42:1-7.

We have heretofore set forth how the Lord will minister life everlasting to all the obedient ones under his glorious reign. And when these favors are returned it will indeed be a time of happiness—a happiness that will come to stay. God's prophet, looking down to that time, under inspiration of the Holy Spirit, wrote: "The ransomed of the Lord (the whole human race) shall return (from the condition of bondage to sin and death), and come to Zion (the Messiah) with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away."—Isiah 35:10.

Then the prophet in beautiful phrase pictures how the earth itself shall become a fit habitation for man. The wilderness and the solitary place will blossom as the rose, and streams shall break forth in the desert; the earth will yield its increase, and everything in the earth give praise to God for the fulfillment of his wonderful promises.

This is the Golden Age of which the prophets prophesied and of which the Psalmist sang; and it is the privilege of the student of the divine Word today, by the eye of faith, to see that we are standing at the very portals of that blessed time! Let us look up and lift our heads. Deliverance is at the door!

Glorious Climax.

The Messiah, the Christ in glory, will constitute the new invisible ruling power; therefore designated in the Scriptures as the new heaven. The righteous government organized in the earth will constitute what the Scriptures symbolically speak of as the new earth—the earthly phase of the Lord's kingdom. St. Peter stated that the faithful ones, according to God's promise, look for such "new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness."—2 Peter 3:13.

When John the Revelator was serving his sentence on the isle of Patmos, our Lord showed approval of him and visited him and graciously granted to him a marvelous vision, which is recorded as a part of the Holy Scriptures. With ecstasy that inspired witness of the Lord wrote: "And I saw a new heaven (invisible ruling power) and a new earth (organized society): for the first heaven and the first earth (the old order) were passed away; and there was no more sea. And I John saw the holy city ((the kingdom of Messiah), now Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. And God shall wipe away their tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful." Revelation 21:1-5.

No one can gainsay this positive and conclusive promise that under the Messiah's reign death shall be destroyed, and sorrow, sighing and crying shall cease, and that all who are obedient shall be restored to life, liberty and happiness. And since the old order is passing away and the new is coming in, we can with confidence proclaim that glad message that millions now living on the earth will be granted the opportunity for life everlasting and those who obey shall never dies, but shall be restored and live in happiness, joy and peace upon the earth forever.

Reader, have you found the fore. going pages of interest? Would you like to have further detailed and corroborative proof establishing beyond a doubt that the war, profiteering, famine, pestilence, the falling away of the clergy and their union with the financial powers and professional politicians to oppress mankind, were long foretold in the Bible? If so, at once supply yourself with a copy of "The Finished Mystery."

"The Finished Mystery" is the first and only book that has ever made clear the prophecies of Revelation and Ezeziel. It supplies additional detaied and abundant proof that the present unrighteous systems must be shortly supplanted by Messiah's government of righteousness in the earth, in which every honest man is interested. Your personal interest and that of your family demand that you read "The Finished Mystery."

It is obtainable from the International Bible Students Association, Brooklyn, New York, U. S. A., at the nominal cost of $1.00.

The dreams of the farmers are coming true—Cotton, 20 cents.

The union club picnic given at the Salem school, Sept. 15, under the auspices of the Salem, Johnson and Pleasant Grove Schools directed by Prof. E. R. Moore, was a grand success. Great enthusiasm was manifested by both club members and patrons. Their exhibits were well selected and showed that the members had given close attention to the instruction of Prof. Moore.

The program consisted of music rendered by the club members, accompanied by Prof. Moore; spelling contest, dinner, judging of exhibits, lectures given by Prof. Moore and others, volley and base ball games.

The citizens of Seminole county are indeed proud of Prof. Moore, their county demonstrator, for the reason that he is a source of information. He is making the boys and girls see the dignity in agriculture that has so long been over-looked. And with his continued assistance and the co-operation of the citizens in general, our boys and girls are obliged to stand out as monuments to our race and country. Let us give him our support in order that our boys and girls of today may get acquainted with nature and learn to share her bounties.

William Burns left Sunday for Langston University to accept the scholarship he won to the above named institution. We wish for him a most successful term.

Miss Essie Mae Wisner and Dorthy Williams left Sunday for Langston University.

Joseph Henry Brown of Sasakwo, Okla., passed through Wewoka, Sunday, on his way to Langston University.

NEWS FROM KONAWA

The Mission Sisters had a nice time at the Bethlehem Baptist Church on Thursday night, Sept. 15, in their entertainment. They netted $8.60.

Saturday, Sept. 17, was general council at the Bethlehem Baptist Church in which we met with our new called pastor, Rev. A. L. Brewer. We had a real good meeting filled with love and harmony. Having an appointment at Ada, Okla., the pastor left Saturday evening but sent us the noble Rev. W. B. Johnson, a young minister, preached two able sermons Sunday. There were quite a number of A. M. E. members present. Total collection for the day $12.05. Our pastor is supposed to be with us the first Sunday in October and we ask all to come out and hear him. Installation program and sermon of the new pastor will be held Sunday, Oct. 16.

Deacon D. B. Brown and wife, Mr. Garfield Meriweather of Tecumseh, Okla., were here Saturday and Sunday on business. They also attended church and visited many of their friends. They left for home Monday.

Mr. Richard Grayson was very ill Saturday, but was able to be out Sunday night.

WAGONER, OKLA.

Sunday services were good at the different churches.

The funeral of Sister James was attended from the A. M. E. Church, Sept. 11. We extend our heart-felt sympathy to the family of the deceased.

Rev. J. S. Keys, pastor of St. Paul, had baptizing Sunday at 3 o'clock. Two candidates and a goodly number assembled around the water-side to witness.

Rev. Spears filled the rostrum at the night services and preached a wide-awake sermon. On an invitation for joiners, two came forward and united with the church by Christian experience. Collection for the day, $10.30.

When your face itches, don't fail to see Messrs. Phillips, Franklin and Dennis for a first class shave and hair cut.

TATUMS, OKLA.

The Masons will give a picnic next Friday at the churches and they will turn out in a parade. The feature of the day will be a lecture by Rev. B. E. Givens to the craft and the visitors. We have a wide awake lodge and well governed under the supervision of our excellent Worshipful Master, J. C. Collins. A reorganization of the Eastern Star is expected in the near future.

Miss Deara Hooks is down from Oklahoma City visiting with her parents, Mr. S. E. Hooks and family; also among her host of friends in Tatums.

Mr. Henry Carter is having a two-story garage erected with dwelling apartments above. Mr. Carter is doing things on the modern plan, having recently installed an automatic electric plant that supplies light to those who desire it at any time. We can now use any kind of an electric appliance and if the present drought lasts very much longer there may be a great many electric fans installed.

Mr. T. C. McConnel has recently built a modern six-room bungalow for Mr. Will Brown at Hennipin. Mr. Brown will have one of the best buildings in that part of the country which will compare favorably with the city dwellings.

A great number of our people are going to different places to pick cotton. We failed to raise any cotton here on account of the boll weevils, but we raised a bumper corn crop and a good crop of every thing else.

Miss Beulah Carter has been selected to fill a vacancy in our school. Miss Carter is a graduate of Western University and with a little encouragement she should make a successful teacher.

Ausbay Mitchell left last Friday for Langston where he will attend school. Ausby makes good use of his school advantages. He goes to school here in the summer and begins the opening day at Langston University where he hopes to complete his education.

TISHOMINGO NOTES

The faculty and students of Washington school were delightfully entertained at luncheon on last Friday afternoon from 3:35 to 4 by the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th grade girls. This came as a surprise to the school after having listened to a spicy little program under the direction of Miss Evans, our very efficient assistant teacher, from 3 to 3:30. The afternoon's activities closed with a few words of commendation from the principal, followed by the singing of a few well selected Negro spirituals, sung as onyl our people can sing them.

The colored school of Tishomingo is progressing nicely and the citizens are co-operating with the teachers to assist in making a better Tishomingo by making a better school.

OKMULGEE, OKLA.

Messrs. Paul and Jowel Gibson departed for Pittsburg, Pa., Thursday evening. They will matriculate at Lincoln University. They entertained quite a number of their friends at their home from 1:30 to 3 o'clock Thursday evening. A number of their schoolmates, teachers and friends accompanied them as far as the depot. Mrs. L. F. Gibson, their mother, is a members of the faculty of Dunbar School.

The East Side Ready-to-Help Club met Wednesday at the residence of Mrs. M. M. Wallace, 619 E. 2nd street. The meeting was interesting as usual. Cash donation to Mrs. S. E. Davis and Mr. Charley Harris. The grand parade of the club Saturday, was one of the big events of the season. This club has an unlimited field in which to operate. The entertainment, Saturday night, marked the closing features of the eventful Booster day for the club. Officers, members and friends are more determined to see greater things accomplished by this club.

The members of Macedonia Baptist Church tendered Rev. Roquemore and other delegates, who attended the National convention at New Orelans, a banquet Saturday evening. The affair was witnessed by a large audience.

The Big Scout Rally which held sway at the Nash Park Saturday evening was quite an enjoyable event. The grand scout drill was one of the crowning features of the program. The scouts were reorganized with J. H. Nash, major. About 30 scout members were present. It is the desire of all concerned to have a membership of five hundred by October 15. Boost the Boy Scouts.

The Okmulgee County Free Fair closed Saturday, the 17. Three busy galla days were enjoyed by thousands of people.

The colored boys and girls club work exhibits attracted quite a deal of comment. From the girls club, forty exhibits consisting of various kinds of garden vegetables and fruits also the Art work exhibits were said to have excelled any similar exhibits on display. The canning exhibits attracted special attention.

John James of Northwest Chapel, received first prize for corn. The judges declared that the corn grown by James was the best of any corn exhibits for the year.

Demonstrator Mann and Home demonstrator, Miss Maude Smith, county demonstrators of this county, are putting real "pep" into club work. They should have the unanimous support of the farmers and teachers in their effort to stimulate club work throughout the county.

Rev. V. McPherson and Atty. D. J. Wallace departed Tuesday for Valliant to attend the synotical meeting of the Presbyterian Church.

Among the Churches

Services were quite interesting at all the city churches.

Dr. S. S. Jones was mingling among friends here Saturday.

WETUMKA NEWS

Rev. Johnson of Okmulgee, has just closed a successful meeting with the First Baptist Church of Wetumka, after having thirty-eight additions to the church. Rev. Johnson was assisted by Rev. Flemmings of the same town.

Sixteen of this number were candidates for baptism.

Some were baptized at 3:30, Sunday and also sprinkled by a shower of rain. The remaining number will be baptized next Sunday at New Hope, four miles west of Wetumka.

Rev. J. S. White, who says his home is somewhere in Texas, left Thursday on the 11:40 train south for some point in the above mentioned state. He remarked he was going where the people will let him preach.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

THE CHURCH DENOMINATIONS ARE GODS WORSE ENEMIES BECAUSE OF THEIR MONEY-LOVING SPIRIT AND THEIR TEACHINGS OF FALSE DOCTRINES.

Dear Friends:

I wish to call your attention to an earnest study of the Scriptures. The eternal Torment Doctrine is blasphemous to the name of Jehovah.

I want to remind the people that the late Pastor Russell was a servant of God and I am glad to be able to tell anyone, anywhere, that the God I serve and the God that Pastor Russell served is not a Fire and Brimstone God.

I denounce all doctrines contrary to the plan of God. I do it because the people ought to know the truth.

Pastor Russell told the people 36 years in advance that the Gentiles had a lease of power for two thousand, five hundred and twenty (2,520) years, from 606 B. C. to 1914 A. D. He told the world that the Gentile time would end about this time (1914). Let the world answer as to whether this is true or not. ,

The two worse things that Pastor Russell did, was first, to throw the water hose of truth on Hell and put out the preachers' fire: He went thru the world telling the truth without money, without price. He gave his fortune of $300,000.00 to the cause of truth, yet more he gave his life to enlightening the world concerning God's plan. Second: he always had seats free, and no collections. The preachers could not stand this. Had Pastor Russell not done that he could have advocated dancing, balling the jack, holy rolling or anything else in the church, if he only had not of advocated seats free and no collection.

Get your Bibles and think. I want you to convince yourselves that Grave means Hell—Psalms 49:14, and Hell means Grave—Psalms 55:15, Marginal reading. They both mean the same thing.

I want to say, Dear People, think! And do not be led off by emotionalism. Most of the preaching done over the country today is explained by a story told of an old Colored man down in Alabama. The old fellow had a large crop of cotton, full of grass. He worked a while and went to dinner, leaving the mule to graze in the shade. When he returned the mule was still standing in the shade. He looked at the mule, then at the cotton, and the grass all around. He saw so much grass and the sun was shining very hot, so he looked toward the sky and said: "O Lord, the sun am so hot, the cotton am so grassy and the work am so hard: I'se b'lieve dis Negro am called to preach." And he has not returned to that cotton patch since. The Colored man is not the only one whose preaching is based upon the principles of this story.

It is necessary for one to know what a thing is before he can properly care for that thing. A man who has never seen a sheep or has no knowledge as to what one looks like could not be trusted to go into a bunch of mixed animals and care for a sheep. Such one is liable to per and care for wolves, bears, goats, etc. All the preachers claim to be busy trying to save souls, but if you would ask one: "What is a soul?" or "What does it look like?" he would possibly scratch his head and say that is to deep for you and if I would tell you, you would not understand it. As a matter of fact the majority of the preachers know nothing as to what a soul is, and would not know one if they met it in the road at noon-day.

Man is a soul. "The Lord God formed man of the dust of the earth and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul"—Gen. 2:7. The Bible declares that man is of the earth, earthly and that he is not spiritual—1st Cor. 15:45-47. Man is not a spiritual being as spirits have not flesh and bones, Luke 24:39. Spirit beings have spiritual bodies and human beings have human or natural bodies—First Cor. 15:44. Adam, the first man, was not spiritual—1st Cor. 15:46. Man is the highest order of animal life and is composed of Body and Breath of Life, which is sometimes called Spirit of Life.

Every creature that breathes is a soul. God applied the word living soul to the lower order of animals, long before the creation of man, possibly 7,000 years before man was created.—Gen. 1:20-30, Marginal. The word soul is applied to both man and beast in Numbers 31.28. It reads thus: "And levy a tribute unto the Lord of the end of war which went out to battle; one soul of five hundred, both of the persons and of the beeves; and of asses; and of sheep." God in His own word declares that both man and beast die alike and go to the same place. The Scriptures read thus: "For that which befalleth the sons of man befalleth beast; Even one thing befalleth them, as the one die so dieth the other; yea! They have all one breath; so that man hath no pre-eminence above a beast for all is vanity. All go unto one place; all are of the dust and all change to dust again.—Ecc. 3:19-26.

All my opponents will have to admit, according to this Scripture, that the lower animals are roasting in eternal torment with man, for the reason that the Scriptures says, they all go to one place at death. My opponents must admit that before one could be eternally tormented it is necessary to have life immortal. Man is not immortal. Man is a soul, man dies therefore the soul dies. There is a distinction between eternal life and immortal life. A creature may live eternally and yet not be immortal. Immortality cannot die and God, even, has not the power to destroy such one. Has God the power to destroy the soul? Jesus answers: "Fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body." My opponents are not able to produce a single Scripture text which says that man has an immortal soul. The only Scripture that might be used which has the appearence of sustaining the immortality of the soul is found in Genesis 3:1-5. "Ye shall surely not die," and that was a lie told by the devil for the purpose of debauching and deceiving Mother Eve. All persons who are advocating that when one dies he is not dead, is sustaining the devil's first old lie: "Thou shall surely not die."

The Bible plainly tells us that God hath immortality—1st Tim. 6:16. There is a wide distinction between man in general and one who is a real consecrated Christian. One line of Scripture applies to man in general and another different line of Scripture applies to the real and true followers of Christ. The New Testament speaks of immortality as a promised reward, not an inherent quality—something man already possesses. Immortality is the reward that God has to bestow upon His creatures who love and serve Him. To the Christian Paul says: "Seek ye immortality."—Romans 2:7. A man does not seek for what he already possesses. Again, this mortal must put on immortality—1st Cor. 15:53. The Scripture here has no reference to the world of mankind, but, the Christians only. The world of mankind will never possess the quality of immortality. It is to the Church the promise is made: "Be thou faithful unto death; and I will give thee the crown of life." The highest element of life is immortality.—Rev. 2:10.

The Scriptures clearly teach that when a man dies he is unconscious, without memory, ceases to speak, breathe, think, feel or hate. The Scriptures in proof of this statement follow: "For in death there is no remembrance of thee; in the grave who shall give the thanks,—Psalms 6:5. "The dead praise not the Lord neither any that go down in silence—Psalms 115:17. "Thou taketh away their breath, they die and return to the dust."—Psalms 104:29. "His breath goeth forth, he returneth to the earth; in that very day his thoughts perish."—Psalms 6:3; 146:4. A dead man ceaseth to love, ceaseth to hate, and ceaseth to anger, Ecc. 9:6. Further more the Scripture clearly states that a dead man knoweth nothing. Ecc. 9:5. The dead stop working. "Whatsoever thy hands find to do, do with thy might; for there is no work nor device nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave whether thou goeth.—Ecc. 8:10.

When a man reaches the point where he cannot remember, cannot give thanks, cannot speak, cannot breathe, does not think, has no feelings, neither loves, hates, or envys; does not work, and knows not anything, he must be actually and completely dead and therefore, unconscious.

Sleep is a symbol of death and therefore since God has made an arrangement to awaken or resurrect the billions of humanity, death is spoken of as a sleep. A man asleep knows nothing, is not conscious and knows nothing of what transpires during his sleep. So it is in death, as is clearly shown in John 11:1-44, in the case of Lazarus who knew nothing and told nothing concerning himself during his four days of death sleep.

The next question which logically follows is where are the dead? The Bible clearly teaches that the dead, both good and bad, are in Hell—the Grave, Oblivion—a condition the same as if they had not existed. Jacob weighted down with sorrow because of the supposed loss of his son, Joseph, said: "I will go down to my son Joseph in Sheol (in Hell) mourning. Gen. 37:35, Gen. 43:38. Many of the Old Testament Prophets whom God approved, said that they were going to Hell. Job was a Godly man and after having suffered the loss of all his earthly possessions; his children killed, his wife turned his enemy, his neighbors taunting him because of his suffering, his body putrid from running sores ;and while suffering bodily pain and mental anguish, he prayed to God that he might go to Hell. If Hell is a place of eternal torment does any sane person believe that Job prayed to go to a place to suffer more than he was already. Oh no. He said that he desired to be in Hell until God's wrath be passed—Job 14:13. He defines Hell. "if I wait Hell is my house; I have made by bed in the darkness, our rest is in the dust—Job 17:13-16. Again Job said that man passeth away, his sons come to honor and he know it not, and they are brought low and he perceiveth it not—Job 14:31. Jesus went to this same Hell as the Psalmist declares in Psalm 16:10: "Thou will not leave my soul in Hell." The fact is that all persons who die go to the same Hell to which Jesus said Capernaum would be brought down to. Matt. 11:23, reads thus: "And thou Capernaum which are exalted unto Heaven shall be brought down to Hell; for if the mighty works which have been done in thee, had done in Sodom it would have remained unto this day.

Kindly understand me. I do not say there is not a Hell. There is a Hell: The Bible Hell. But the trouble is that the preachers have put a lot of things into this Bible Hell. They have put fire and brimstone, forked-tailed devils, etc. in this Bible Hell. The Bible Hell is the Grave, Oblivion, the preachers' Hell is a place where one is tormented by fire-proof devils thru all eternity. It is this creed of clergy's Hell that I attack and denounce as absolutely false and without Scriptural foundation. Exek. 28:18-19 and Heb. 2:14, and 1st John 3:8; Rev. 20:10, we are told that the devil and all of his works are to be destroyed. I want my opponents to tell me and all intelligent persons who is going to keep the fires burning when the Devil is destroyed?

WHO DAVID'S MOTHER WAS

Some few days ago, the question was asked through the columns of your paper, "Who was David's mother?" I have not yet noticed any answer, but would like to say that David was the youngest son of Jesse, but his mother's name is unknown. He was Israel's greatest king, and died about the age of seventy years.

Rev. C. W. Nunn

Pastor Galilee Baptist Church, Meeker, Okla.

MUSKOGEE, OKLA.

Owing to the rainy weather a deal of the members were absent at the Rayfield Baptist Church. However, there are some faithful workers, who go rain or shine.

The lesson was reviewed by Bro. D. R. D. Richardson, who made some timely remarks concerning the lesson. Prayer meeting was led by Deacons Mason and Patton. Scripture lesson was read by Rev. Dye. Rev. Henry preached a great sermon in which he advised us how slothful we were in turning to the house of God.

Mrs. Vann joined the church. Collection $12.00.

Mrs. Mollie Burleson is on the sick list. We hope to see her out again soon.

WICHITA FALLS NEWS

Churches were well attended of all denominations Sunday. The Sunday school superintendents reported with good showing. Rev. A. L. Wright, pastor of St. John Baptist Church, returned from the National Baptist convention, which convened in Chicago, and reports a grand session was in progress.

Miss L. E. Collins of Marshall, Texas, has returned to our city to join the faculty of the Booker Washington school, and is now at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Baker, 311 Brick street.

During these great excruciating hours the wedding bells are still ringing in Wichita. Miss E. V. Thornton of Denison, Texas, and a teacher of the Booker Washington school, was quietly married Friday night, the 16th to Mr. Joe Mazone of our city, and the saddest of all, she didn't even say "beans" to the faculty.

Mr. R. F. North of Oklahoma City, has returned to our city to resume his duties as headwaiter at the Kemp Hotel.

The Lily-white convention is still in progress and each member is making good of their stay.

Mr. Bryce has purchased a new car, so his wife, Mrs. Gladys, is all smiles.

YORK RITE MASONS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The most Worshipful Eureka Grand Lodge, Free and Accepted, Ancient York Masons (National compact) Price Hall origin, held one of the most successful meetings of its history in Oklahoma, at Altus, Sept. 21-24. The good people of Altus showed by their hospitality that they were entitled to consideration by other grand lodges.

The addresses of welcome were excellent. Prof. Dawson made the opening address, which was responded to by H. E. McCullough, Grand Sec'y. Grand Master Smith introduced County Judge Williams, who presented the keys to the city and county. Among the many good things that Judge Williams said was that they invited any and all law-abiding colored citizens to their city. Judge Williams has been county judge of Jackson county for several years.

The Eureka Grand Court Heroines of Jericho held their annual meeting at the same time and place. Mrs. Eliza Hart of Oklahoma City was re-elected Grand Most Ancient Matron, and Mrs. T. J. Beverly of Loveland was re-elected Grand Court Sec'y.

The Grand Lodge elected H. E. McCullough Grand Master and Andrew Fuller, Grand Secretary.

MR. COOPWOOD WRITES IMPRESSIONS OF LABOR MEETING AT SHAWNEE

We are back from Shawnee, Okla., where we went to attend the State Labor Federation which convened at that place in its 18th annual session. There was a lot of work done in the last year and a deal laid out to be done in the next twelve months. In all that has been done and is to be done the colored man has been played fair with. We had a grand meeting and the city of Shawnee was ours from the 19th to the 22nd. We were surely treated royal. There was a number of colored delegates present. We find Mr. Olds and myself in working with the Labor Day committee in getting up or putting on the Labor Day program, we had a hand in all that was done. It is said to be the best ever pulled off. We found the trouble with the Negro working man and white man is the Negro will do the same work for $1.50 a day with longer hours that the white man asks $3 or $4 a day for. I am indeed proud of the honor that has been given me the three months as I have learned so much about what is going on in the labor movement wherein the Negro is concerned. So it is up to us to make good in every walk of life.

EL RENO, OKLA.

Sun Rise Baptist Church was well attended with the assistant pastor, Rev. Oliver, present. Sunday school at usual hour. B. Y. P. U. was good. Night services were good.

Mt. Moriah Baptist Church was well attended Sunday. Sunday school was good and well attended. Night service was grand.

A. M. E. Church was well attended with the pastor, Rev. Banks, present. B. Y. P. U. was well attended. Night services were good.

Mr. and Mrs. Granberry are back from the Association in Chicago.

The pastor of the Sun Rise Baptist Church has not returned from the Association which was held in Chicago.

Miss Thelma Garner, who has been away all summer on a vacation in Colorado Springs, returned home, Sunday morning and she reports a real nice time.

Mrs. Bertha Jackson has returned home after a long visit with Mrs. Jessie Miller.

Mr. Enid White has returned from his visit.

Miss Emma Rupert is back in our city again from Alabama.

School is open again. We have two new teachers added to the school: Miss Hudgins from Kansas City, and Prof. King, from Chickasha, the manual training teacher.

AN APPRECIATION

By Charles Sumner Springer, Kansas City, Mo.

Away down here in Oklahoma where cotton, corn and peas grow in abundance, where oil gushers flow, where "Jim Crow" signs hang conspiciously about you, and where men, sons of Ham, talk in hundreds of thousands of dollars, there is edited and published a newspaper, a heralder of truth, a voice of the weak and oppressed, a paper with a purpose.

There is nothing strange in a mere newspaper being published you think, and right you are; and were it not for the fact that this newspaper, a giant in itself, is edited by one of those unsung heroes of today, one of those Godly, stoic men whose pleasure in life comes through fighting the battles of the weak, I would not move my pen to sing its praises.

A noted writer once said "The world knows nothing of its greatest men" and as he spoke of men, just so I speak of newspapers. Their bravery, their worth to mankind are measured by intelligent Americans not alone by its circulation, but also by the fearlessness with which it upholds Right, and the mercilessness with which it condemns injustice.

Situated in the heart of "Dixie" where the Ku Klux is, where the mob seems waiting, ever waiting for its victim, and where Justice, outraged and ignored, is in tears, there will be found a newspaper, the Black Dispatch, verily a champion of Democracy, a paper with a purpose.

Distrubed by the rumbling of the waters, we turn to find that another life has been snuffed out by the mob, and listening, we hear the mysterious threats that the same, same fate awaits all those who decry publicly the mob's method of procedure, but there is one that remains undisturbed, undaunted in its convictions, and above the voice of these cohorts of hell we hear in no uncertain terms a strong condemnation of these heinous crimes against a helpless people.

To those of us who are "Just citizens, that's all" comes the cry of the oft-time innocent victim pleading, pleading for mercy, and turning helplessly to Almighty God, we ask earnestly: "How long O God, how long? When will this weary, black night of outrages end? Tell us, O God, will the DAWN NEVER come?" In the deep, brief sielnce that follows each prayer, we await anxiously a message from God, and we are not disappointed; there comes a voice as the sound of many waters, a voice Divinely inspired coming NOT from the distant Heavens, but from our own midst, it speaks for us; it defends our battles, and Right in its course, it fears no man. Looking contentedly we recognize it, and turning again unto God our Father, we offer Him our thanks, we outpour our gratitude to Him that He, hearing and answering, has given us the Black Dispatch and . . Roscoe Dunjee.

ANADARKO, OKLA.

Anadarko colored school has closed summer term for cotton pickers; quite an opportune time for the Fair. The two lady teachers, Miss S. B. Giddings, Langston, Okla., and Mrs. Hortense Fields-Jones, Memphis, Tenn., are spending the week-end in Oklahoma City, visiting relatives and friends, after which they leave for their separate homes to spend vacation, making two other short stops to visit schools in Guthrie, Okla., and Little Rock, Ark.

ROSEDALE DOTS

Last Saturday night the Mission Sisters gave a pie supper and raised $25.

Miss Effie Bullocks was happily surprised by receiving a $100 dining room suite as a birthday gift from her sister.

Sunday will be a big day at Wesley Chapel. All of the members will pay $10 each on that day.

Miss Alma Hill and Mr. Geo. Carter spent Saturday and Sunday in Purcell visiting friends.

We learn that the wedding bells will ring again in Rosedale. We wonder who the lucky man is.

Those on the sick list are Mr. J. W. Thomas and Mr. D. H. Thompson.

CHICKASHA, OKLA.

The St. Paul A. M. E. Church was well attended Sunday morning. Rev. J. S. Smith, presiding elder, preached a soul stirring sermon. The ministerial alliance gave a good representation at 3:30 p. m.. At 8:15 Rev. W. C. Watts, pastor, filled the rostrum. His text was found in Heb. 9:12. His sermon was wonderful.

Mr. S. P. Clar has installed an up-to-date restaurant in connection with his barbecue stand, and also an up-to-date dining room. Call on him, he will give you good service. His establishment is situated south of the Peoples Grocery Store.

Mr. Edwin Williams is still confined to his bed. We hope him a speedy recovery.

Sunday school was well attended at the First Baptist Church in spite of bad weather. Children came from all directions.

Rev. D. B. Hill, pastor of New Hope Baptist Church, attended the B. Y. P. U. and Sunday school convention at Nowata, Okla. He reports a splendid meeting.

Mrs. J. C. Corbin also attended the B. Y. P. U. and Sunday school convention at Nowata, Okla.

Miss Wilma Reed of this city, left to attend school at Langston University.

Mrs. C. R. Dickerson has just returned from Nowata, Okla., where she spent a few days visiting her sister, Mrs. J. O. Spencer, and brother, Prof. J. O. Spencer, principal of Nowata Lincoln High School. She also attended the State Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. Convention.

School opened Sept. 12 with an enrollment of nearly 300. The school is thriving under the leadership of Prof. D. M. Lewis as principal, and Prof. W. E. Foster as manual training teacher, has added a lot of new equipment to the school. The manual training department has a set of new machinery and tools and also enlarged the building. Little Cleo Gaines is ill this week.

Little Jessie Lee Robinson of Boley, is here visiting relatives and friends.

Prof. F. R. Walker of Ran, was here Saturday, on business.

The revival at Bethel Union Church of Ran, has been quite a success. Several candidates for baptism have already been added to the church. Our zealous pastor is laboring earnestly for the saving of souls. The Sunday school under our new superintendent, S. M. Smallwood, made a fine showing last Sunday. Several of the young folks were out. Seems that the young folks are getting more interested in the work than ever. Everything is running smoothly with our summer school which would have closed Friday, but on account of failure of cotton crops there is nothing for the children to do. So we decided to go on until the time of the contracts expired. Friday, as usual, the Doctor suddenly appeared on the scent and bore swiftly away, our teachers to the Oil City.

Deacon Nichles, one of Ran's best citizens, is preparing to migrate to Wynnewood. We all regret very much to give him up.

Mrs. Belle Manuel is on the sick list. See Frederica Combs for the Black Dispatch.

FISH MILKED WISCONSIN COWS?

(By the Associated Negro Press)

Doster, Mich., Sept. 29.—Shades of Winsted, Conneticut! The milk-fed and cheese sniffing flounder are swiming in Michigan waters and lapping up all of Farmer Frank Shelp's cows' milk!

He discovered Sunday as he meditated by the still waters of Pine Lake, where all his milk has gone for the past two weeks.

The fish had milked the cows!

To convince himself that bolshevism and I. W. W.'s or Ku Klux Klan Kleagles had not purloined the milk, Shelp took a net and caught a few suckers and catfish. He opened his catch—the lost milk was found, somewhat watered.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

CHURCH DENOMINATIONS ARE GOD'S WORST ENEMIES BECAUSE OF THEIR MONEY LOVING SPIRIT AND THEIR TEACHINGS OF FALSE DOCTRINES.

Will the wicked be punished? They certainly will. God's law is unchangable. In the beginning God provided a penalty for the violation of his law, stating, "In the day that thou sinneth thou shalt surely die." (Genesis 2: 17.) "The wages of sin is death," (not eternal torment) Romans 6:23. God having fixed this penalty for the violation of his law while man was perfect, and before he sinned, could not change the penalty and inflict a different one for the reason that God cannot be inconsistent. "He cannot deny himself." 2nd Tim. 2:13. The Scriptures show that the wicked shall perish like the brute beast—2nd Peter 2:9-12. Will my opponents contend that the mule, the horse, etc. will receive eternal torment. If the doctrine of eternal torment is true, then according to the plain statement of the scripture the brute beast shall perish same as the wicked.

There is no dispute that the dead both the just and the unjust, will be desurrected—John :28-29. Matt. 25: 31-46 shows that the dead will be raised from their graves and come before Christ to be blessed. From where will they be resurrected? Let the Prophet of the Lord answer: But of the dust of the earth—Daniel 12:2. The judgment of the world will last one thousand years and during that time the Devil will be bound so that he may deceive the nations no more. —Rev. 20:1-2. Blessings are to come to the world of mankind through the seed of Abraham. In thy seed shall all the nations be blessed. Gen. 12:3. Who is the seen of Abraham? In Gal. 4:16 we are told that this seed is Christ. And in the 29th verse of the same chapter, we are informed that those who consecrate themselves or who are baptized into Christ are Abraham's seed, this blessing to the world of mankind, will come at the close of the Gospel Age and after the fulfillment of the things mentioned by our Lord in the 24th chapter of Matthew. Which he told us would be an evidence of His presence to take over the kingdoms of the world and bless mankind.

All reasonable minded persons can now see in process the fulfillment of many of the things spoken by our Lord in this Chapter, which is known to Bible Students as the Lord's great prophecy.

Thousands of millions have died and have gone into the tomb in ignorance of Jesus' great sacrifice. My opponents would have you believe that their destiny is eternal torture. Thousands of intelligent men and women of good honest hearts have lived and died not knowing anything of God's great plan. Thousands are living today, who know not the Lord or His Great Plans. All these my opponents would consign to the flames of a burning Hell.

For a moment let us reflect upon the great sorrow that has filled the earth. We see a fair land drenched in the blood of its inhabitants. We call to mind a blood thirsty, conquering hero marching through the country, laying waste the fields and reducing the homes of a peaceful people to ashes. The widow mother and children driven into the cold world; the husband, father and brother slain upon the battle field, the ravages of war, leaving behind broken hearts and broken bodies. For six thousand years the poor human race has suffered under these awful conditions. What hope would my opponents hold out for them? Few, indeed, have ever known of the precious name of Jesus. Few could have known because of the many blinding doctrines that have been taught by two hundred different denominations in this country and thousands of preachers who differ in teachings and doctrines.

Shall we for a moment believe that a just and loving God would permit these poor creatures to suffer so much sorrow and misery at the hands of men and then permit the Devil to burn them in a fire of brimstone and torture forever? Thank God, this is not true. I am glad we have a message of comfort for the hearts of the people in this hour of peril. I am glad to point out that God's word holds forth a message of hope and that the hour has come for it to be understood, and soon this great flood of truth that is rising shall fill the whole earth until all shall know of the just and loving God. What will the Lord do with these creatures if only a few can go to Heaven? What is the office of the Church that is taken to Heaven? The Lord answers through his Prophet Isa. 42:6, 7. "I the Lord God hath called thee and I will give thee for a covenant for the people, for a light of the nation, to open the blinded eyes," to bring out the prisoners from the prison and them that sit in darkness of the prison house."

Again Jesus says: "All in their graves shall hear his voice and come forth, the good to a resurrection of life the evil to a resurrection of judgment." When the Lord brings these forth the first thing they must have is a knowledge of the fact that Christ has died for them and redeemed them from death, and now the opportunity has come for them to live. St. Paul has beautifully declared in these words that God hath appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness by that man, Christ, whom He hath ordained, and of this He has given assurance unto all men in that He raised up Christ Jesus from the dead.—Act 17:31. This day that he hath appointed is the Millennial Day, the one thousand year day of Christ's reign in which all shall come to a knowledge of the truth.

Again what shall be the reward of thise who obey the truth? The Apostle Peter answers: "Repent ye therefore, and converted that your sin may be blotted out when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord, and He shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you; whom the Heavens must receive until the time of restitution of all things which God hath spoken by the mouth of all His Holy Prophets since the world began."—Acts 3:19, 20, 21. In the language of the Apostle this will be the times of refreshing, blessings for the people, for the reason it is the time of erstitution. Restitution means the bringing back to a former condition the things that were lost. What a wonderful hope is held out to humanity! Adam was a perfect man with the right to live upon earth forever in a perfect home with abundance, peace and happiness. Because of sin all of these he lost, and for more than six thousand years his progeny has passed through the vale of tears. Jesus is to se up His Kingdom and His one thousand year reign is for the expressed purpose of restoring to mankind all that was lost in Father Adam. Jesus is able to do this because he bought all these rights that man had lost To use his own words, "The Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost."—Luke 19:10.

The Lord Jesus thrugh John the Revelator gives a wonderful pictrue of the Kingdom of Messiah. A city is used as a symbol of a government, and a Holy City means Messiah's Government. In symbolic language He describes this beautiful government and says: "I heard a great voice out of Heaven saying behold the Tabernacle (dwelling place) of God is with men, and He shall dwell with them and they shall be His people and God himself will be their God, and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes and there shall be no more death neither sorrow nor crying neither shall there be any more pain for the former things are passed away." The nations of the earth, the restored people shall walk in the light, in the purity of this Kingdom—Rev. 21:1-5; 24:26.

We can see a reason why the dead are unconscious while dead. We see that life is the most wonderful thing that one could possess, when it is possessed in perfection. We see that God through Christ Jesus has provided, redemption, resurrection and restitution for all who love righteousness and hate iniquity; that Jesus bought the things long ago, and in His righteous reign He shall restore all the obedient ones of Adam's stock until the earth is filled with a perfect, happy and beautiful race of people. What a glorious prospect! Truly the poet has said: "The earth is old with centuries but not for this she hangs her head. Closer to her heart the sorrow lies, she holds many dead." But thanks be to God the dark night of sin and death is near an end. Soon the prison house of death shall be opened and the sleeping dead shall come forth. We are thankful to God that we are in the dawn of a new and better time, when the Son of Righteousness is rapidly rising with healing in His being. When the brightness of His glorious presence shall shine upon the whole earth then wars shall cease, darkness and ignorance, superstition and falsehood, hatred and malice, slander, crime and death shall be driven away; truth and righteausness shall be enthroned forever.

What will that glorious time of refreshing and restitution mean to the world? Let us forget for a moment the scenes of injustice, misery and woe that prevail in the earth now. And having faith in the precious promise of God, let us picture in our mental vision of the glories of a perfect earth and a perfect people; no more injustice, blindness, no more deaf ears, no more crooked limbs; no an ache or pain, nor any evidence of decay—not even a fear of such things. Call to mind now the most beautiful specimen of human kind you have ever beheld, and then remember that every one of the members of the human family will be of far surpassing loveliness when Christ has completed His reign. The inward purity of mind and heart and moral perfection will stamp every radiant face and mark every face. Every man will sit under his own vine and fig tree. Then men will not build and another inhabit.

Then behold in mental vision a perfect, righteous, peaceful and happy people, rejoicing in the blessings of a perfect earth which the Lord hath prepared for them; the earth yielding its increase; the desert blooming as a rose; the waste and arid land brought up to the condition of Edenic Paradise. Then songs of gladness will fill the earth, and from the rising of the sun to the going down thereof the praises of Jehovah will be heard. "Then they will walk mid the trees by the river with the friends they have loved by their side, they will sing the glad songs of salvation and be ready to follow their Guide.

St. John, as he stood on the Isle of Patmos and beheld in a vision the beauties and glories of a restored earth and people, described in poetic language, how the songs of gladness will fill the earth and how those songs of praise will be caught up to Heaven and wafted back to earth again until every creature which is in Heaven and upon the earth will be heard saying, "Blessings and honor and glory and power be unto Him that sitteth upon the Throne and unto Christ forever."—Rev. 1:3.

In conclusion, I wish to say that the Government is very busy chasing dope peddlers. This dope, I understand, is a thing that will make one feel happy when he is really miserable, will make one feel rich when he is really poor. The Eternal Torment Doctrine is the worse dope that has ever been brought out to mankind. The effect of all of these dopes whether literal or moral is to dethrone reason; a person being effected sufficiently with the eternal torment doctrine will at times try to kick the bottom out of the church house and jump through the ceiling. hollowing: "Glorry and Honor to God." When the world awakens to its sense of justice and truth the fire and brimstone peddlers will be more detestable than the worse dope peddlers of today.

OKMULGEE NEWS

Mr. J. O. Dudley, Taylor and taxi man of E. 5th street received rough treatment Wednesday evening at the hand of two white hi-jackers, who employed him to drive them to Guthrie late Wednesday evening. When said place was reached the hi-jackers forced Mr. Dudley at the point of their six-shooters to drive hurriedly in another direction. When twelve or fifteen miles northeast of the city, they staged the pre-arranged plot. Mr. Dudley was roughly handled, being injured about the head and fingers, and barely escaped with his life. Several shots were made at him. He was relieved of his watch, some money and his car. A passerby brought him to town. The alarm spread like wild fire and a posse of colored and white men put out in search for the hi-jackers. His car has been recovered and one of the hi-jackers has been lodged in jail.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

EARTH'S GREAT JUBILEE TO BE USHERED IN WHEN THE KAISER OF KAISERS IS DETHRONED.

The whole angelic host of God have long before the creation of our earth been watching with great interest the proceedings of God's Great Plans in the Universe. They are so constituted that whatever pleases God, pleases them. While they are holy and happy and know much of God's greatness and love they do not know lengths, breadths, the heights and depths of God's Great Plans. 1 Peter 1:12; therefore they are most earnest spectators of Jehovah's proceedings. It may sound strange to say it but it is true that those who fully consecrate themselves to do the will of God even unto death and under such condition make a careful study of His word are permitted to see more of the depths of Jehovah's plans than the angels. 1 Peter 1:12. The Angelic host shout for joy and applaud every important move in the execution of God's Plan.

When in Genesis we read "In the beginning God created the Heaven and the earth" we are to remember that this beginning relates not to the universe but merely to our planet. The universe was already filled with other planets and holy angels when the Lord began the ordering of this earth for man's habitation; so that it could be said that the morning stars sang together and all the Angelic Sons of God shouted for joy—when the Lord laid the foundations of the earth and made the clouds the garments thereof and thick darkness its swaddling band."—Jobe 38:4.

It is very important that we note clearly the distinction between the creation of the Heaven and Earth and the ordering of these for man's habitation. We have no record as to when the Heaven and the earth were created for, we read in the beginning the earth was without form (order) and void (empty, was dark) but we do have a record, reached by logical deduction as to how long it has been since God began the ordering of the earth for man's habitation.

Just here we wish to remind you that every planet in the universe has its physical heavens (atmosphere) and the heavens herein mentioned are physical and have no reference whatever to the spiritual condition of Eternal Bliss where Jehovah is.—It is well for us to keep in mind that the word day, in the Bible, means any length of time which has a definite beginning and ending and it does not simply mean sun days of 24 hours. When the Bible speaks of the evening and morning being the first, second or third day, it had no reference to sun days for the reason that the sun was not visible until the fourth epoch day. We read of the day of temptation in the wilderness which is a period of 40 years. Psa. 95:8. Note again that we read of the "Day of Christ" evidently referring to the 1,000 year day in which Messiah is to be King over all the earth. (Isiah 2:11). In the common affairs of life we use the word similarly when referring to Caesar's day, Napoleon's day, etc.

We are discussing the stately steps of Jehovah down through the ages in shaping this world for man's habitation upon the logical theory that each of the days of the creative week is a period of 7,000 years for the reason that Bible chronology, fulfilled and unfulfilled prophesies, types and shadows fully proves that the 7th day, the one on which God rested, is a period of 7,000 years it is but logical to conclude that each of the days of the creative week is of equal length.

Friends, I ask you to take a stand with me on another planet while we watch the proceedings of God in shaping the world for the abode of man. First we note this earth to be without form (order) and void (waste, empty, dark). Hark! we hear the angels shout for joy when Jehovah gave orders to begin the foundation work —"Let there be light;" Gen. 1:3. Light is a prime essential in nature. Divine energy began to operate upon this waste and empty earth so that at the end of a period of 7,000 a light corresponding to our aurora borelis was produced thus distinguishing light from darkness and the evening and the morning was the first day. Listen to the commands for the work of the second day: "Let there be a firmament in the midst of the and let it divide the waters from the waters. 2 Gen. 1:6. The work of the second day was wholly devoted to the production of an atmosphere and the arranging of the earth's great pumping system by which the waters of earth are taken up in mid air and at proper times return again in the form of rain. (This system was put into operation after the flood). Gen. 2:5. This brings us to the end of the second day, another period of 7,000 years.

The orders for the work of the third day reads thus: "Let the waters under the Heaven be gathered together in one place and let dry land appear. Gen. 1:9. "Let the earth bring forth tender grass and herb yielding seed and the fruit trees bearing fruit after its kind, in which is its seed upon the earth. Gen. 1:11. The ring theory of Cosmogony is that several rings precipitated themselves upon the earth during this third epoch day. These, according to divine intention, so increased the pressure of earth's crust as to cause it to buckle or wrinkle. These depressions became ocean beds and the upheavals became mountain ranges, and as water drained off the elevated portions of the earth low forms of vegetation made their appearance. The evening and the morning was the third day, another period of 7,000 years. The orders for the fourth day's work is heard in the following language: "Let there be light in the firmament of the Heaven to divide the day from the night, and let them be for signs and for seasons, and for days and for years; and let them be for lights in the firmament of heaven to give light upon the earth." Gen. 1:14. We are not to suppose that the sun, moon and stars were created after our earth but rather during the work of the first, second and third day enough of the earth's rings, which had it wrapped in impenetrable darkness, had fallen so that the sun, moon and stars were dimly visible. The sun and moon are very valuable to man in giving him days, signs and seasons. During this time the atmosphere being heavily charged with carbon was very favorable to the development of giant plant life and these great forests of vegetation being covered under with water and minerals from the falling of earth's rings formed the great coal and oil fields of today. The huge vegetation of this fourth day absorbed most of the carbon of the atmosphere and prepared the earth for the prolific development of animal life. The evening and the morning was the fourth day, another period of 7,000 years.

Get this picture fully in mind and think of the Holy Angels watching with indescribable interest to see what will be God's next move in the carrying out of His Great Plan. Listen to the orders for the fifth day's work: "Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creatures that hath life and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open firmament of Heaven. Gen. 1:20.

The carboniferous qualities of the water and atmosphere having been absorbed by the creaceous organisms of the sea, which formed beds of limestone and into the rank vegetation which went to form the coal beds, the air of the earth began to be pure enough to permit life in breathing animals. Crocodiles and other animals that can live either in water or on land belong to this period. Thus the fifth day's work is ended, another period of 7,000 years.

We are not to get the thought that the work outlined for each of these epoch days was completed at the end of each day but rather that the work of one day lapped into that of another. The orders for the sixth day's work reads: "Let the earth bring forth the living creatures after his kind, cattle and creeping things and beast of of earth after his kind." Gen. 1:24. The various domesticated animals of the present time are part of the work of the sixth day. "Let us make man in our own image after our likeness. (I stop right here to say that some of us have the idea that man has a soul something separate and distinct from the body but such thought is wrong and has served to help out Satan's old lie: "Thou shall not die." All the elements including the breath God breathed in man's nostrals were necessary to make man a living soul. Man has not a soul but man himself is a soul. It takes all the various parts of a wagon properly put together, to make a wagon. A tongue, a wheel or any other part by itself would not be a wagon, therefore, you can readily see that the breath of life that God breathed into Father Adam was not a soul but that breath united with the other elements constituted Adam a living soul. Gen. 2:7) and let him have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the fowls of the air and over the cattle and over all the earth and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth." Gen. 1:26. Take note friends, that Adam's commission to rule was not to be exercised over man. When man was perfect he had perfect control over all the lower animals. Such will again be the case when man reaches perfection.

It was at about the close of the 6th day and the beginning of the 7th that God created Adam and Eve, placed them in the Garden of Eden in a perfectly happy state and rested from his work. God rested in the sense that he did not employ his power to overthrow sin and uplift mankind, but rested the matter in the hands of Jesus to be accomplished through his sacrifice for sin.

It was practically six days of 7000 years each or 42,000 years from the beginning of the ordering of earth's affairs for man's habitation to the time when he was created. We can imagine the great joy and keen interest of the Heavenly Host in witnessing the grand climax of the creative work—the happy pair in the image and likeness of their Creator and with power of procreation. This pair was recognized by Jehovah as being created for His glory. Isiah 43:7. The envy and jealousy of one of the high ranking angels (Lucifer) was aroused because of the creation of this pair and pride and selfish ambitions lead him to betray his trust and attempt to capture them for himself. The first thing he did was to misrepresent God's character and poison their minds against His righteous law which warned Father Adam that in the day he ate certain fruit in that day he would surely die. Gen. 2.17. I beg to say that Adam died in the very day that he sinned. While he lived 930 years he did not live one full day because a day with the Lord is 1,000 years. 2 Peter 3:8. The Devil told a lie in order to complete his deception, telling Mother Eve that she would not surely die. Gen. 3:4, 5. All persons who believe that man is more alive in a hell of fire or heaven of bliss after death are under the binding influence of Satan's first old lie—Thou shall not surely die. God tells us that the wages of sin is death and He desires us to understand that when we die we are dead and the only hope for life after death is through the resurrection of the dead. John 5:25-28.

With what astonishment the Holy Angels must have looked upon that phase of God's plan which permitted our first parent to fall into sin and disfavor with their creator and note that all this was brought about by one of the high ranking angels (Lucifer). God could have prevented all this but for wise purposes He permitted the pride and selfishness of Lucifer to go go to seed in the apparant capture of the first pair. While God looked on without apparant inability to cope with the situation this served as a test of the loyalty of the holy angels. Would they yet remain loyal to a God who apparently had lost control of affairs, or would they decide to follow the example of Lucifer (now Satan) in rebelling against God?

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

EARTH'S GREAT JUBILEE TO BE USHERED IN WHEN THE KAISER OF KAISERS IS DETHRONED.

The Angels fully believed that they could reform man and bring him back into harmony with God. Jehovah knew they could not but in order that they might convince themselves of that fact they were permitted to have the oversight of man for more than 1600 years that they might reform him if they could. Satan induced the angel to try a scheme without consulting God as to the wisdom of the plan. He Satan, suggested that the angels, not having had the death sentence passed upon them, marry the daughters of men and produce a race having life everlasting. Gen. 6:2. The whole scheme ended in a miserable failure and instead of man being reformed he became worse so much worse that the Bible tells us that the imagination of their hearts were evil continually. Gen. 6:5. Finally the time came for God to show His power and love. We all know the story of the flood and how that man was destroyed from the face of the earth save Noah and his family.

One of the characteristics of an angel is the ability to materialize and dematerialize—that is to be able to take the form of a human being and change from that to a spirit form. During the time the angels were trying to reform man they were permitted to materialize and dematerialize. When the flood came all those upon earth who remained loyal to Jehovah were permitted to return to former estate with the Lord but all those who had schemes of their own and who had married the daughters of men were permitted to dematerialize but denied the privilege of returning to their former estate and they were restrained in chains of darkness unto the judgment day. (Jude 6 verse). These fallen angels are back of all Christian science work, hynotism, spiritism, divine healings, etc. They are so cunning that many well meaning persons are caught in their net.

At this point of the development of God's Plan the whole Heavenly host, except Jehovah, seemed perplexed as to what the next move should be. Man is still in sin and further away from God. The angels haev failed to reform him and instead some of them have fallen into sin and lost their first estate. It was a question throughout the Courts of Heaven as to who would be able to redeem man and get some understanding as to what God's Plans are concerning him. (Rev. 5:2). In due time God made it known that there was one worthy to loose the seals of His plans and redeem man from the curse of death.—Rev. 5:5.

Now in the interim before the Great Deliverer came began the earthly phase of the work of redemption, God was making His pattern, in types and shadows of the things to be accomplished, when the deliver, Christ Jesus, came. He gave the Law-covenant to Israel, through Moses, for the purpose of showing them their inability to live righteously and thereby realize the need of a Savior. The covenant and its ceremonies were also instituted for types and shadows of good things to come and also to serve as a tutor in preparing the Israelites to meet the Redeemer when He came. —Gal. 3:24, 25.

About 1920 years ago the Lord Jesus Christ, the Lion of the Tribe of Juda, appeared on the scene, but not in the arrogant manner the most of the proud Israelites expected, therefore they were not prepared to receive Him. He came as a babe. The Angels of Heaven were overjoyed and shouted the good news throughout the world.—Luke 2: 10, 11.

Ever since Satan got the idea that he was as wise as God and lied to Mother Eve and got them into trouble He has been a most bitter opponent of Jehovah. He has been on the alert trying to destroy any seed of the woman that might possibly be a deliverer for the race. He has not forgotten that God told him that the seed of the woman would eventually bruise his head. (Gen. 3:15). He tried to destroy Joseph, Moses and all the Holy prophets, Jesus Christ, all the Apostles and the faithful followers of Jesus even to the present time. Thru His blinding influence he has arrayed, practically, the whole camp of humanity against the Truth because the Truth will make man free. (Jno. 8: 32.) Satan's apparent victory in causing the wicked rulers to crucify Christ and prosecute and even put to death those who try to walk in his footsteps has been over-ruled for good instead of doing them harm as is intended such persecutions and deaths have been the means of helping the faithful to gain the promised reward. God could have destroyed the Devil long ago but in His long-sighter wisdom He sees that in Satan's effort to destroy His righteous plans man will learn valuable lessons as to the exceeding sinfulness of sin.

The Lord has told us through plain scriptures, types and shadows that He has a set time in which He will be loosed for a little season and then destroyed in the Lake that burns with fire and brimstone—which means the second death—a death from which there will never be a resurrection.—Rev. 20:2, 3, 19.

The time when Satan will be chained and his kingdom overthrown and the release of billions of his captives begin is intimated to be about 3500 years from the time the Children of Israel landed into Canaan which would take us to the year 1925.

The Jubilee arrangement was a part of the law. It foreshadowed the restitution to man of all that was lost through the fall of Father Adam. All the Jewish festivals, holidays, sabbaths, and ceremonies as types pointed forward to antitypes far grander, larger and higher than those shadows. The Apostle Paul assures us that those antitypes will be laden with blessings for mankind when He says the law foreshadowed good things to come.—Heb. 10:1; 8:5; Col. 2:17.

"Verily I say unto you till Heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law till all be fulfilled." (Matt. 5:18). We see that according to Christ's words the antitype of the Jubilee arrangement which has a part of the law must be fulfilled. The Jubilee year came around every 50 years and at such times the trumpet was sounded throughout the land announcing the Jubilee year; all bond servants set free; all who desired returned and took possession of their old homestead, all mortgaged and sold lands were to be returned to the owner; all debts cancelled, in fact all had a chance to start life all over again.

"When ye come into the land which I give you then shall the land keep a Sabbath unto the Lord; six years shalt thou sow thy field and six years shall thou prune thy vineyard and gather in the fruits thereof but in the 7th year (from entering Canaan) shall be a Sabbath year and 7x7 Sabbath years—49 years and the 50th year would usher in the year of Jubilee."—Leviticus 25:8.

According to Jehovah's plans the Children of Israel were to keep perfectly 70 of these Jubilees at the end of which the Great Antitypical Jubilee on a world wide scale would be ushered in but the Jews were a stiff-necked people and desired to have their own way. They kept some of the Jubilee years in a half-hearted way and soon failed to give the land its sabbath of rest, therefore the Lord told them that He would punish them for it and give the land its sabbath of rest. (Be sure and read Jer. 25:11; 29:10; also 2 Chron. 36:17-21).

The 70 years usually referred to as the 70 years captivity in Babylon is scripturally styled the 70 years desolation of the land. The plain meaning of this 70 years of desolation is that the Israelites having failed to keep the Jubilee Sabbath years God put them in prison and kept them there for 70 years that the land might lay desolate and keep Sabbath to fulfill three score and 10 years. (Leviticus 26:24, 25, 43.) Each year of the 7 years of desolation represented a Jubilee year; in other words Jehovah made that siff-necked people pay off in full. He made them keep a Jubilee Sabbath year for all those they half way kept and also those yet future which He knew they would not probably keep.

Since the Lord, through the typical Jubilee arrangement and the 70 years of desolation, has given us the key, we can easily locate ourselves upon the tream of time and tell just about when the great Antitypical Jubilee should begin. The typical Jubilees occured every 50 years therefore 70 years of desolation, which represented the full number of typical Jubilees from the time the Israelites landed in Canaan to the time the Great Antitype should be ushered in; 70 x 50 equals 3500 years. According to Bible chronology, 3500 years from the landing of the Israelites into Canaan would reach down to 1925. The 50 years just preceeding 1925 represents the early hour of Earth's great Jubilee. The Jews were a typical people. They represented, in a sense, the world of mankind.

Another feature of the typical arrangements of Israel was the slaying of the Pascal Lamb and the deliverance of the typical first born. It was absolutely necessary that the typical first born be delivered before the Israelites could leave Egypt and go into Canaan to enjoy the typical Jubilee arrangements. So it is in the Antitype. The Lamb of God had to first be slain and all the antitypical first born, the consecrated believers and footstep followers of Jesus, have taken refuge under the blood of the Lamb during this dark night of the Gospel age and they must all be delivered before the antitypical Israelites (the world of mankind) can come into the enjoyment o fthe antitypical Jubilee. —Rom. 8:19, 22.

ROSEDALE RIPPLES

Mr. James Hill and T. Williams left for Purcell on business.

Mr. Jodie Sam returned from Washington, where he has spent the summer. Mr. Sam reports a nice time while away.

Mr. J. H. Griffin returned from Altus Saturday.

Mrs. Lon Williams went to Purcell on business, Saturday.

ADA NOTES

Sunday was a nice day here. Sunday school was good. Each one seemed to get much inspiration from the lesson through the efforts of the superintendent, Bro. A. N. Rowe, and teachers. Much credit was given Rev. C. W. Wilson for his zealous work in the Sunday school and the Sunday school extended him a vote of thanks, in appreciation for same.

Rev. T. H. Mundine, the pastor, being out of the city attending the Association at Lehigh, Okla., we had no services for the day. He, with the other delegates, Mrs. Mundine, Mrs. W. A. Polly and Mrs. C. W. Wilson, returned Sunday evening. They reported a great time.

The B. Y. P. U. met at the usual hour with a good attendance. We must say that we have a very progressive Union. At 8:30 p. m., the pastor entered the rostrum and delivered a wonderful sermon, as usual, to an appreciative audience. One addition to the Church.

Mrs. Fay Nelson left Saturday for her home at Sherman, Texas.

LAWTON. OKLA.

Rev. J. M. Mason and Mrs. P. Kemp spent Sunday in Grandfield working up the Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. of that place. Miss Jessie Easton left Saturday noon for Topeka, Kans., to enter school. We hope for Miss Easton a pleasant and successful school term.

Mr. Robert Brownlee has had electric lights installed in his home.

Among the Churches.

At Shorter Chapel, A. M. E.: Bishop H. B. Parks of Chicago, presiding bishop of Oklahoma and Louisiana, delivered one of his characteristic sermons at 11 o'clock. The bishop seemed to be at himself. His message was given the strictest attention and was pronounced a masterpiece by all who were present. The rally which followed the sermon amounted to more than one hundred dollars. Rev. Kidd can always be relied on to bring to bring to Okmulgee strong characters.

At First Baptist Church: Dr. S. S. Jones held forth with two strong sermons as usual. A large audience greeted him. Dr. Jones has things in readiness for the State Convention which convenes at his church, Wednesday, Oct. 12 and continuing thru the week.

At. Mt. Olive Presbyterian Church: Rev. V. McPherson delivered an able sermon at 11 o'clock. At 7:30 p. m., the sacred concert, the first of its kind to be had in the city, began its program. The program was the best heard in a long time.

This sacred concert was the real drawing card of the season. The seating capacity of the church was over-taxed. Rev. McPherson is being swamped with congratulations for arranging such a program.

BROOKSVILLE BROOKS

Sunday school at both churches was well attended, Sunday. Rev. Shaw (white) preached at the Baptist church to a large crowd. Rev. Brown of the A. M. E. Church, preached at night. He preached a sermon everybody was proud to hear. Rev. Brown has been ill for several days. Rev. Sypert preached at the A. M. E. Church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. He delivered a wonderful sermon.

Mr. Sypert and family spent Sunday in Earlsboro.

The musical cantata will hold their first public concert in Earlsboro next Saturday night.

The entertainment given by Club No. 1, Saturday night, was a real success.

Mr. Montgomery had the misfortune to lose three or four hundred pounds of cotton by fire.

Mrs. Mosely of Oklahoma City, is visiting her son, J. T. Mosely.

One of our good citizens lost all of his chickens (22 in number) one night last week, but by keen trailing and tracking, he and a friend were able to trace the parties right to their door, where he found his chickens: and thanks to the Lord it happened not to be anyone of our race.

Mrs. Roberta Greer and Cora Bruner and Velma Montgomery were callers at the Blackwell home, Sunday afternoon.

Little Brother Williams is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. E. Wilson left Saturday to visit a few days in Holdenville.

Mrs. Lucinda Smith, who has been visiting in Texas for some time, returned Sunday.

Relatives from out of town are visiting Mrs. Phillis Mitchell.

We sure enjoyed the editorial in last week's issue.

LANGSTON LORE

A big time in Langston last Friday and Saturday: the State Fair for Colored people, was held on the University campus. Several thousand people were present each day. Exhibits were brought here from all parts of the state; also delegates were sent from several counties. Many speeches were made on the campus during the day. Friday night was free movies, which showed the progress of the industrial world. It also showed Pres. Marquess making a speech in the city of Chandler, Oklahoma. Saturday night a very fine program, which everybody enjoyed, was rendered.

The fair this year, was the best ever had at Langston and we are sure that the one next year will be better than the last.

The students seem to be glad to take typewriting and shorthand. They all are making good.

Mrs. Dr. Young of Oklahoma City, spent a day or two with Mrs. Marquess last week. Mrs. Marquess spent a day in the city last week with Mrs. Young.

Ex-Dean Pettus of the University, was present last Friday and Saturday during the fair. All students and teachers were very glad to see him.

BOSWELL BITES

Last Monday, the 10th, Mrs. E. Patterson, who has been confined to her bed about six months, was baptized and received into full membership by the pastor of the A. M. E. Church, Rev. E. H. Gilford. She has been improving slowly since that time.

Prof. M. P. Pointer was a guest of Rev. E. H. Gilford Saturday night and Sunday. Prof. Pointer is Sunday school missionary for the Presbyterian church.

ASIATIC LEAGUE

(By the Associated Negro Press)

TOKIO, JAPAN, Oct. 20.—An Asiatic League, with Japan as its head, and with the object of combating the so-called aggressive policy of the white race is being organized in the Far East, according to newspapers here.

Marcus Okuma and other prominent Japanese are said to be behind the project.

"Whatever the weakness of Japan, on her depends the guidance of Asia in the right direction," Dr. Ryu, a Korean, said.

Dr. Ryu added that headquarters for the movement would be established in Tokio, with branches throughout Asia and that a newspaper would be published in Japanese, Korean and Chinese to propagate the idea of uniting all the Asiatic people "against the aggression of the whites."

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

EARTH'S GREAT JUBILEE TO BE USHERED IN WHEN KAISER OF KAISERS IS DETHRONED.

Kind friends, I beg you to picture in your minds the commotion and excitement in the land of Israel when the time came for the sounding of the Jubilee trumpets throughout the country announcing the year of Jubilee: bond servant becoming restless and asserting their rights to freedom and their master in many cases opposing them, husbands, wives, daughters and sons hearts filled with joy in sweet anticipation of being reunited to the family; note the home coming of all the living members of the family and the happy reunion in their old homestead returned to them without debt; think of them being free to start life all over again. Of course all the members of the family because of distance and other conditions would not arrive at the same time but Oh the sweet thought that the absent one is on the way and will arrive soon. We all must agree that the typical year of Jubilee with the typical people brought joy to their hearts unspeakable but I wish to say with all possible earnestness that the antitypical joys that are to be ushered in with the antitypical Jubilee is beyond the ability of feeble man to express. The antitypical Jubilee trumpets, which is God's Truth, is sounding throughout the length and breadth of the world announcing liberty, justice and equity to all mankind. The restlessness that is upon the world today is the result of the sounding of the Jubilee trumpets and this world wide commotion will not cease but will grow worse until the bonds of oppression and injustices are broken. I am glad that restitution to all that was lost in Father Adam will soon be in full swing and the home coming of all the families of the earth begin. In the type only the living members of the families returned but in this antitypical Jubilee year, which is 1000 years long, all the members of the families both the living and the dead will return home. Have we any scriptures for this? Yes, "If there be no resurrection of the dead then is Christ not risen; and if Christ be not risen your faith is vain ye are still in your sins." (1 Cor. 15:13-17.) "The hour is coming in the which all that are in their graves shall hear his voice and come forth unto resurrection of judgment. (Jno. 5:28, 29). I hear some one ask will my friends some of whom were victims of the white plague and other deadly maladies and who were skeletons and frightful to look upon when they died come back just as they went into death? Yes, their characters will be the same as it was when they went into death. They will return with human bodies of flesh and blood but vigorous and healthy. Have we any scripture for this? Yes: "But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased Him and to every seed his own body; 1 Cor. 15: 38. You can rest assured, dear friends, that a body that pleases God is not a sickly, diseased or deformed body.

This brings us to a question that is confusing to many, to wit: Is there a second chance for man to gain life everlasting? A simple illustration, I think, will serve to make this question very plain to all who desires to know the Truth. Let us suppose that one John Jones and wife committed murder and are convicted and sentenced to the pen for life; we will again suppose that they were permitted to live together, in the prison; we will further suppose that they have no children before being sent to the pen; we will again suppose that they live together in the pen as man and wife and have children born to them while in that state of condemnation. In the course of time there would be a number of grand children and great grand children all born and reared under that state of condemnation. Now let us suppose further that some good friend arranges for a new trial for John Jones and wife, and also arrange to give their offsprings an opportuity to prove their worthiness to be recognized as good citizens. Let us further suppose that the one who loved them enough to arrange a new trial for them will be the Judge; and let us suppose that this prospective judge decides to educate a few of John Jones' children to be judges to sit on the bench with him to help judge their kinsmen. With this hypothetical case before our minds, who is so blind as to contend that John Jones' children, born to him in prison under condemnation, have ever had a trial to prove their worthiness to trial until the day set apart for that purpose; Act. 17:31. In the case of John Jones and wife their new trial would be in the nature of a second chance and the only reason that Father Adam is let in on this new trial is that, while he disobeyed God willfully he did not have the experience as the world now has, of the exceeding sinfulness of sin.

The children of John Jones on the day of trial would be having their first chance. John Jones would correspond to Adam and Eve, their children to the world of mankind, the one who arranged for a new trial to Jesus Christ, the few children taken out and trained for judges would correspond to the little flock, the Saints. (I Cor. 6:2.) The time used in selecting and training the few children for judges would represent the Gospel Age. The resurrection of the dead is for the very purpose of giving all humanity, not including Father Adam and Mother Eve nor the Little Flock their first chance for life everlasting.

The whole world is longing for peace, lasting peace but I am sorry to say that such cannot be had until the Devil is dethroned. He is the prime mover of all race hatred, wars, sickness, sorrow, pain and death. He is being hard pushed by the army of justice. The big guns of Truth are thundering as never before against injustice, oppression and error. There will be no armistice between Truth and error, justice and injustice. Unconditional surrender or annihilation is the only orders given by the Captain of our salvation. Allow me to say that every person even in the humblest walks of life who raises his voice or uses his influence against terror and injustice is to that extent taking a shot at the great enemy of man, the Devil. The time is not long when the glad news will ring out through the whole world that the arch enemy of God and man has been dethroned and chained for 1000 years. A short time ago the world went wild over the signing of an Armistice, during that very day every flash over the wire bringing news favorable to peace was hailed with wild applause, and the people tried to demonstrate their feelings of joy in every conceivable way. They were happy even though the broken families were to remain broken and the millions of dead were not to return. Let us try for a moment to picture what the joys to the world will be when Satan with all his agents and all their error, injustice and oppression are dethroned and all the billions of poor humanity began to return home from the land of the enemy, death. This Jubilee shout which is soon to take place will not be for 24 hours nor for one year but for a thousand years. During this time a New Heaven (new power of spiritual control) and a New Earth (new government based upon love, justice and equity) will be in operation; in other words then will the whole world recognize the New Jerusalem coming down to earth and the Tabernacle of God dwelling among men and there shall be no more sighing, crying, pain or death for the former things will have passed away. (Rev. 21:1-4.

The Holy Angels who have, all down the ages, been watching with indescribable interest the proceedings of God's Great Plan will shout the glad tidings throughout the Universe when Satan's Empire is overthrown and the world of mankind restored to all that was lost in Eden.

When we look out upon this wide world and see so much sickness, sorrow, pain, death and destruction of all description how our poor hearts long for that blessed day—Earth's Jubilee. We are glad to know that the poor, ignorant and oppressed of the whole world, including those that have already gone into death, will soon come into their own and have a chance to live life over again and again life everlasting by being obedient to the rules of the New Covenant.

Let us take courage in this hour of the greatest conflict between Truth and error, justice and injustice. We should battle with error and injustice on every inch of ground and never give up the struggle until the Captain of our salvation says there is enough done.

I beg to remain an humble servant for the Truth.

Mrs. Stewart of 14 N. Douglas, has recovered after a two weeks illness, and was able to be in services, Sunday.

TISHOMINGO SNAP-SHOTS

Mrs. Sylvester and Mrs. Herman Perkins entertained at the home of the latter on last Monday night in honor of Miss Fannie Factor of Tulsa. A delightful luncheon consisting of ice cream and cake was served at about 9:30 o'clock. The house was beautifully decorated in a manner which bespoke superior judgment, perfect taste and careful selection on the part of those responsible for the arrangement. The presence of checkers and various others forms of amusement showed one at a glance that the two "Little Hostesses" had spared neither pains nor expense in providing pastimes for the evening. The frivolities continued far into the night and each one went home in the wee hours of morning voting the party a triumphant success and their hostesses excellent entertainers.

Miss Ruby Hill was absent from school on account of a short illness. We are glad to see her out again.

Mrs. Isaac Johnson left for Coffeyville, Kans., this week where she will join her husband, who went there some time ago to look up a location. Tishomingo regrets the loss of such good citizens.

Rev. J. S. Smith, presiding elder of the Ardmore district, held his fourth and last quarterly conference here last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Many were out to hear him. The contribution during the day was $11.86.

Miss Signora Brown of Milburn, Oklahoma, is here this week visiting friends. She is the guest of Mrs. Jane Love. We are glad to see her and hope she will remain with us.

ROSEDALE RUNNERS

Mr. Bill Frazier departed this life, Oct. 20, at 4 o'clock. He was a member of the Red Rock Baptist Church. He was born in 1891 and died 1921. He leaves a mother and father and one sister to mourn his death.

Mrs. Tanzie Verser of Cushing, Oklahoma, was in Rosedale this week; also Miss Everline Grayson. Both spent the week in Rosedale.

Mrs. Blanchie Blue of Ada, spent the week in Rosedale with relatives and friends.

Mr. Julius Grayson of Cushing was in Rosedale, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Goldsmith and Mr. Darrington of Blanchard, Okla., spent Saturday and Sunday in Rosedale.

MARIETTA MURMURS

The Douglas school is progressing nicely. Supt. Johnson (white) addressed the patrons of the city last Friday night.

Sunday school made an unusual showing at Mt. Zion, Sunday. It being the 23rd, our pastor, Rev. P. L. Carter, preached two strong and forceful sermons Sunday morning and night to a large audience. Collection for the day, $16.00 Four were added to the church.

Mrs. Henry Marion has returned home after spending a while in Hot Springs, Ark., for her health.

Supt. Smallwood is bringing things to pass in the Sunday school at Ran. Promptness and on time is his watchword. The school met on time last Sunday and had a fine sitting. Mr. W. M. Stokes of Marietta, was with us and made a very interesting talk. We find Mr. Stokes to be an interesting talker and an ardent Sunday school worker.

Last Sunday was a great day at the Primitive Baptist Church. The noble pastor, Rev. Jas. Hornbeak, preached a wonderful sermon at 11 o'clock, after which they proceeded to take communion, which was carried out in the most solemn manner.

Mr. W. M. Mims, one of Ran's best citizens, has succeeded in securing a portion of the road for repair, which will help out very much in the unemployment situation in the community.

Mr. S. M. Smallwood was a visitor in Ardmore on the 20th.

Mr. Mathis is staying a while in Ardmore.

Mr. W. M. Mims and Prof. F. R. Walker were here Saturday from Ran on business.

ROOSEVELT ROSES

Services were very good Sunday. Rev. Hunt preached a noble sermon and all were made to feel glad. He also preached at night.

Mrs. Hattie Lee returned rome Saturday from Hobart, where she has had her little girl under the doctor for some time. We are very glad to see her able to return home again.

Mrs. R. Jones went to Hobart Saturday to attend the bedside of her cousin, who underwent an operation, but is reported better now.

LANGSTON NEWS

Dr. Payne of Beggs, Okla., spent last Sunday and Monday with us and spoke Sunday night in the auditorium. All seemed to enjoy his speech very much.

The farmers of Langston have organized a union which will enable them to keep in touch with the rise and fall of prices on all commodities.

The University Jubilee Club rendered a program last Sunday evening for the benefit of the student body. It was enjoyed by all.

The college and normal boys have organized a club known as the "Spartans." This being the strongest club or organization in the school they could find no other words that would be more appropriate for the motto than the latin words: "Ne Ultra," which means nothing beyond.

Mrs. R. M. Tyler, the wife of Prof. R. M. Tyler came to Langston last week from Columbus, Ohio, to make her home in this great city of Langston. We are very glad to have them with us.

Mr. Edward Brown left last week for Colbert, Okla., where he will take up his school.

OKMULGEE NEWS

Dr. J. A. Anderson and delegates of [illegible] the State Convention, Morris Faction, at Muskogee last week.

The Dreamland Theatre was forced to close its doors several days ago by reason of insufficient patronage on the part of our show lovers. It is reported that large numbers of our group find time to go to the Yale Theatre (white) where Jim Crowism is the first encountered at the entrance, says one who is in position to know. There is something wrong with us. With a population of from five to eight thousand of our group in Okmulgee, there is no reason why any and all of our legitimate businesses should not have the moral and financial support of our group. To do otherwise is committing commercial suicide. The Dreamland Theatre will open if we say so.

Mrs. Octave Mann, mother of the Mann Brothers, departed last Sunday night, the 16th inst, for the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., where she will take medical treatment. Mrs. P. M. Mann accompanied her on the trip.

The East Side Ready-to-Help Club met at the home of Mrs. [illegible] McMillion at 1101 E. 1st street. A pleasant afternoon was spent. Quite a number of members were present. $1.50 was donated to a sick lady who rooms at the Boyd Hotel. A shower of groceries was sent to the Dunlap family by the club.

Mrs. S. E. Davis is reported very ill.

Mr. Huckaby, a substantial resident of N. Muskogee avenue, died Saturday, having suffered from a stroke of paralysis of the brain.

The funeral of Mrs. J. Y. Young of N. Choctaw, who died last Wednesday was held Sunday, at 2:30 o'clock at East Side Baptist Church. Rev. J. A. Anderson officiated.

Mr. Grayson died Saturday night. Heart failure is said to have caused his death.

Services were well attended at all the churches of the city, Sunday.

Rev. Cousins of Lima, State Sunday School Missionary of the Presbyterian Church, delivered two strong sermons at Mt. Olive Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Kidd and his congregation are getting things in readiness for the annual conference which convenes here, Nov. 1, at Shorter A. M. E. Chapel.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

All Christians believe that the Bible is God's word of truth. All Christians, Catholic and Protestant, agree that the Bible teaches that God created the first man perfect; that this man sinned and was sentenced to death before he begat any children; that he was driven from Eden and later exercised his divinely given functions to beget children, and that his children were all "born in sin shapen in iniquity," (Psalm 51:5) and that for this reason every one of the human race has been born imperfect, inheriting this imperfection from the first man Adam.—Romans 5:12.

All Christians further agree that God made a promise to redeem man from death (Hosea 13:14); that he promised Abraham: "In thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed," (Genesis 12:3); that later, Jesus came to earth; that Jesus was baptized in the Jordan; that he was afterwards crucified upon the cross and arose from the dead and ascended on high.

For the last nineteen hundred years Christians have been preaching these doctrines. If they are true, then the pertinent question is, Why has God permitted the carrying out of such arrangement as above mentioned? What is his real purpose in it? Other Scriptures answer this question conclusively, that his purpose is to provide for the restoration of man to his original perfection and thereby grant to man everlasting life on the earth. —Acts 3:19-21.

Every one of the prophets of old foretold that it was God's purpose to grant restoration blessings to the human race. (Acts 3:24). Only a few persons will go to heaven. Jesus said that there would be but a little flock. (Luke 12:32). What, then, will become of the other millions of earth's population? The answer is: God will give them an opportunity to be restored to perfect human conditions. If restoration of the human race is not true, then the promise made to Abraham must be void; the promise to redeem the human race from death could not be true, and the death and resurrection of Jesus would be wholly useless. We know these are all permitted for a purpose and that the perfect wisdom of Jehovah devised this arrangement and he has been carrying it out for the expressed purpose of blessing mankind.

Jesus plainly said: "I am come that they (the people) might have life and have it more abundantly." (John 10:10). Again he said that he came to give his life a ransom, a purchase price, for man. (Matthew 10:28). Again we read: "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16). Again, that Jesus gave his life a ransom for all, to be testified to all in due time. (1 Timothy 2:5, 6). Unless, then, the opportunity comes to man to know the truth, to obey it, and when obedient to live, these promises are a mockery and Christianity a failure. No Christian will admit that Christianity is a failure because he knows it will not be. God's word must accomplish its purpose.—Osaiah 55:11.

This being true, then, all must admit that a time will come when this opportunity for life everlasting will be offered to the people. The question is: When is the time? Uppermost in the minds of the Lord's disciples was this question. They expected the Messianic kingdom to be set up some time. He had told them it would happen at the end of the world. He told them he was going away and would return again for them; and because they were so anxious to know when the blessings promised to Abraham would begin, they propounded to him this question: "Master, tell us how may we know of your presence and of the end of the world?"

Jesus did not answer this question by telling them that when the due time arrived God would bring forth some strange phenomenon in the skies, but his answer shows that the evidence would be such that when the time does arrive every thinking person could understand. Hence he answered that the end of the social and political order existing then, and still existing in a measure, would begin with a world war, followed by famine and pestilence and revolutions in various parts of the earth. (Matthew 24:7). These things had the beginning of their fulfillment in 1914. According to Bible chronology the gentile times ended there, and Christians expected the trouble to begin, as indeed it did. The famine has come; the pestilence has afflicted the earth; revolution has upset many governments and is now threatening all the social fabric of the world.

Jesus furthermore said that at that time there would be great distress in the earth; men's hearts failing them for fear of what they see coming on the earth (Luke 21:25, 26); and now we see this fulfilled.

He further states that as it was in the days of Noah, so should it be at the end of the world. In Noah's day there giants in the earth. At the present time there are giants. The giants in Noah's day were typical of the giants of this time. At present there are giant corporations which are absorbing all the smaller ones and controlling all the business interests of the world. The big ones are swallowing up the little ones.

Jesus furthermore said that the Jews would return to Palestine and that would be conclusive proof. They have returned.

According to the jubilee system which was typical of the reign of Messiah when the blessing of the world should begin. The time is here. The jubilee types must of necessity end in 1925, at which time earth's troubles shall cease and the blessings of life begin to be offered to the human race. There are millions of people now on earth who will surely be living at that time; hence if they are obedient to the Messianic kingdom, then to be established, they shall live and not die.

Without a doubt that is the time Jesus referred to when he said: "He that liveth and believeth in me shall never die." (John 11:26). And again: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, if a man keep my saying, he shall never see death." (John 8:51). The application of Christ's merit will ilft the curse from mankind; and then, as the Scriptures show, he will teach men how to care for themselves, what is proper food; and gradually they will be regenerated in body and in mind, and thus continuing until all of the human race who are obedient, will reach a state of human perfection and continue to live and not die. Then will be fulfilled the prophetic words of the Master spoken through John the Revelator: "And I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea. And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of Heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; for the former things are passed away. And he that sat up the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write, for these words are true and faithful. And he said unto me, It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely."—Revelation 21:1-6.

In the book "Millions Now Living Will Never Die" each of these points is treated in detail and proven by the Scriptures, more than 500 Scriptural texts being cited.

By Richard J. Hill.

PURCELL GOSSIPS

Sunday, Oct. 30, was a high day at the First Baptist Church. The First Baptist Church Home Mission Society had their sermon preached to a large and appreciative audience. Rev. B. E. Givens was at his best for the occasion and preached a wonderful sermon. Collection $10.25.

Rev. B. E. Givens and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Givens, Rev. Clarence and Mrs. Ellen Givens were called to Wynnewood Sunday to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Mary Allen. Mrs. Allen was an old citizen of this part of the state and was loved and respected by all who knew her. Our sympathy is with the family in this their hour of bereavement.

The many friends of Mr. Ollie Hudson were sorry to hear of him having gotten his leg broken last week by accidently falling off the wagon. At this writing he is getting along fine.

Dr. P. F. Smith, our popular young physician, is under the weather this week. He is having considerable trouble with his eyes.

The sick list this week are: Mrs. Steven Carter, Mrs. Jane Meeks, Mr. James Johnson, Mr. Wilmer Watson and Little Vardie B. Givens.

Miss Wycie Allen of Chickasha, Oklahoma, was in Purcell this week visiting with relatives. Miss Allen is preparing to open up her school at Blue Branch next week.

Mr. W. B. Smiley, who has been in Clinton, Okla., for the last thirty days, returned home Thursday of last week.

Mr. Otto Jefferson and Mr. Essie Steward motored to the Capitol last week on business.

Mrs. Amve Harris of the Capitol, was a Purcell visitor Monday, on business.

GUTHRIE, OKLA.

Mr. C. AChambers, who owns the beautiful stone building at 210 S. 2nd street, has just completed harvesting four bales of cotton, $250.00 worth of watermelons, forty bushels of peanuts, 2,800 bushels of sweet potatoes, all of which he raised on less than forty acres of land. When interviewed by a Black Dispatch representative, he said: "It is not the farmer that plants the greatest acreage that reaps the most effective results, but the farmer that studies well the soil on which he plants a crop and then puts out the labor necessary to bring results."

Mr. Chambers has his potatoes stored in modern kilns in the basement of his building. Farm Demonstration Agents and Agricultural Experts have given him credit for having the most unique potatoe curing plant in the southwest.

Mr. James A. Hawk, 424 N. Broad, who has been lil a long time, left early this week with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Alice Coleman, who is taking him to her home at 2932 William St., Dallas, Texas. It is hoped by his many friends, both black and white, his elderly mother and a most devoted wife, that through the change of climate his cure may be perfected.

Mrs. Alice Findley, 323 S. 3rd St., who has been very ill, was taken, Wednesday, by her son, Mr. Wm. Findley, to his home in Cedarvale, Kans. Mrs. T. Strode, 707 S. 1st St., who has been very low sick, is reported no better.

Remember the Black Dispatch is sold every Friday morning at 324 W. Springer avenue.

The E. L. D. Club met at the home of Mrs. Ida Jones, at 1006 E. Springer avenue, Oct. 13. Besides the appointment of committees, the following officers were named: Mrs. Ida Jones, President; Mrs. Butterworth, vice-president; Mrs. I. C. Love, secretary; Mrs. E. Blackwell, assistant secretary; Mrs. Ella Franklin, Treas.; Mrs. Lizzie Ecton, cor. sec'y.; Mrs. Lula Terrell, chaplain.

The hostess served a delicious luncheon after which the guests left, having spent a very pleasant time with their president.

CHECOTAH DOTS

Miss Ethel Hamilton made a flying trip to Eufaula, Thursday, and returned Friday night. She reported a pleasant trip.

Mrs. Castella Sneed from Okmulgee, is visiting mother and sister, here.

Mrs. Lizzie McGee left for Okatah today to visit her sister.

Mrs. Dr. Maddison has left for Tennessee on account of her father's illness.

Rev. McGee has just returned from the Progressive Wayland Association and reported a nice time. He was elected corresponding secretary. Rev. McGee will leave for Wilburton next Thursday for his conference.

Mr. M. L. Buckhann made a business trip to Muskogee last Tuesday.

Little Walter Walker, the agent for the Black Dispatch, is certainly a live wire. See him and get your paper on time.

Mrs. Kate Woodly from Texas is visiting Mr. J. H. West and family.

Mrs. Madge Hannah has began teaching her school at Paradise. She started Monday.

Miss Irene Burr visited Checotah on her way to school at Clearview.

We had a nice rain. It began Saturday evening at 4 o'clock and rained all night. It was much needed.

PERRY HERALD

Rev. J. Calley, who is conducting a revival meeting at the A. M. E. Church has proven to be a successful minister of the gospel. His sermons have greatly revived the Christians of Perry, who are always glad to have a gospel man to come and feed their hungry souls.

One of the colored men who was killed in Enid in battle with officers, was brought here and buired Thursday.

The Mission Sister held their services Sunday at the Prospect Baptist Church.

Rev. J. Calley, who is preaching at the A. M. E. Church, will close his meeting Sunday night, expecting to come back in the near future.

Rev. Burdette preached at the Baptist Church, Sunday.

Mrs. Myrtle Walker is here from Kansas City, Mo., to visit her people, Mr. and Mrs. Albots and family.

MARIETTA MURMURS

Sunday school at Mt. Zion was not so well attended Sunday on account of a cold norther.

Love county teachers met last Saturday at the Frederick Douglas High school and effected a county organization with the following officers: Prof. I. B. McCutcheon, president; Miss Eliza Mae Davenport, Sec'y.; Program Committee: Miss M. L. Williams of Burneyville; Mrs. I. B. McCutcheon and Mrs. Maggie Grey. The circle meets twice per month.

The High school department is increasing in number and interest. The girls won two debates against the boys last week, one on a civic subject and the other on hygiene. The following girls were on program: Misses Eliza Mae Davenport, Gladis Webb and Fredrica Combs; the boys were: Masters J. C. Clemons, Vernon McCain and Linzy Dailey. It was stated in the teachers' meeting that money was not available to pay several teachers warrants and has not been for the past year. The Domestic Art class under Mrs. McCutcheon, is doing fine.

Wedding bells will ring in Marietta soon. We wonder who it will be.

Ran's Sunday school is still on the upward march. Several brand new Walker, being away in school. Miss students were added Sunday. The permanent secretary, Miss Tommie Jessie Jarnegan was elected assistant to act in her stead. We are striving earnestly to put our school on higher ground. Through the hearty co-operation of the parents we will be able to scale the topmost round of the ladder. Without it we shall not reach a very high mark. The Sunday school needs you, your prayers and your children.

The good roads project has reached our neighborhood under the supervision of Mr. W. M. Mims. We cordially welcome it here because we need both the good roads and the employment.

Mrs. Fannie Albert is suffering with a severe case of sore throat. We hope for her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Mitchell and Mrs. Vela Bryant all of Ardmore, were at Ran alst Sunday, visiting their brother and mother-in-law, Mrs. Emily Wright and other relatives.

Mr. Israel Manual of Marietta, one of the pioneer settlers of this part of the state, died at his home in Marietta on the 26th inst, and was buried at the Ran Cemetery on the following day. The town was very much shocked to hear of his death. Mr. Manuel lived with his third wife and was the father of twelve children. He leaves a large family and a host of friends to mourn his death.

We were also very sorry to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Sallie Russell. Mrs. Russell was the mother of two children and wife of Mr. Mose Russell. She passed away Sunday, Oct. 30. She leaves a family and a host of friends to mourn her death. We only pray earth's loss of these two dear ones mentioned above, is heaven's gain.

All the schools in this vicinity are moving on nicely. Mr. W. M. Brewer of Hugo, Okla., and the Grand Deputy of S. T. Grand Lodge, A. F. & A. M., visited St. Mark, No. 63 and Risen Star Chapter, No.——. We were glad to have him with us.

Mrs. M. A. Guest, president of the Woman Mission Circle of the Zion Hill Association, was in Marietta, Okla., recently, attending the association and board meeting. She report having had a fine meeting.

TATUMS, OKLA.

The Missionary Society of Bethel held their last quarterly exercise Sunday. The features of the program were a sermon to the society by Rev. E. N. Carter, pastor of Pilgrim, and many interesting papers, discussions and songs by members of the society. Rev. Carter encouraged the mission sisters in his sermon and exhorted them to their noble duty of lifting up their homes and the community by Christian examples. The society is headed by Sister W. E. Mitchell, who devotes her whole soul to the work and under her noble leadership, much good will be accomplished in the mission work. At the conclusion of the exercises, Prof. T. G. Slaughter introduced Prof. Melvin C. Fox of Richmond, Va., to the audience, who in a few well chosen words congratulated the president and members of the mission society on the great work that they are doing for humanity and added that he is ever ready and willing to lend his aid to the cause.

Prof. T. G. Slaughter and family returned Saturday from a trip through the eastern part of the state. They visited many interesting points including Depew, their former home, and Sapulpa, where they spent several days with Mrs. Sams, one of our former teachers. They report a delightful trip.

Tatums High School will open for the Fall term, Monday, Nov. 7. We expect every pupil in his place on the opening day.

Prof. Melvin C. Fox, the new member of the faculty will head the Agricultural Department, giving instructions to the boys of both schools. Prof. Fox is a graduate of Tuskegee Institute and he comes to us highly recommended by Prof. Simmons of Tuskegee and Hon. S. O. Sargent, the federal agent for hte Smith Hughes Fund. We feel highly honored to have Tuskegee talent among us because they are the bunch that put things over. Next year we will get federal aid for the Home Economic Department. Both old and young can avail themselves of the opportunities offered in these departments.

ONE NEGRO CHURCH OUN OF DEBT

Ward's Chapel A. M. E., Muskogee, Oklahoma, Debt Free.—Rev. T. M. Greene, Pastor.

Put aside your affairs of the week and just any Sunday morning drop into Ward's Chapel, A. M. E., corner Ninth and Denison streets, Muskogee, Oklahoma, and worship there. The intelligent and fine appearing audience, the sweet-voiced choir and an able sermon, together with the impressive sacredness of the order of worship, all, will thoroughly awaken within again the sweet sentiments of that grand and memorable old hymn, "The Model Church."

Ward's Chapel not only approaches the model church with its splendid order of worship, its sweet-voiced choir and able sermons, but is so in other ways. For instance, when the pastor, Rev. Greene, came to this charge, he found it like many others to which he had gone and the church like many thousands of Negro churches thruout the length and breadth of the country, struggling along and in debt.

Now, the Reverend was not an entire stranger to Muskogee, having previously visited the city from time to time, and no doubt like other passing visitors was greatly impressed with the wonderful progress and achievements of the Muskogee Negroes along business and professional lines—a feat that has gained for them a nation-wide reputation. And because many of these successful race business men were members of Ward's Chapel, it is very likely that as soon as the Reverend had been assigned this charge, had arrived, surveyed the situation here and planned out his course for the year, he determined upon a corse that would appropriate and enlist the splendid business abilities and activities of those same substantial and progressive business men in making greater and more wonderful achievement and progress for the Master—and he did. So with the hearty and active support of his officers—many of whom as before stated are successful race business men of the city—together with the splendid co-operation of the church body and the church auxilliaries soon Ward's Chapel was able to leave the ranks of the many thousands of struggling debt-burdened churches thruout the land and ascend to a higher and more sacred plane of Christian worship and duty. The one Negro church of the city, the one Negro church of the state and the entire southwest, to be alive, active in all departments, working for the Master and debt free. Indeed, one Negro church out of a thousand.

They did not stop there for Ward's Chapel is an active and a progressive Christian organization. They were not content simply to pay off all indebtedness, for hardly was that great task disposed of when another and a greater one was attempted—the task of raising sufficient money in advance to run the church for the entire year. In other words, the adoption of the budget system, which system has been in operation for some time in many of the great and successful private corporations and later adopted by all progressive municipalities thruout the country and more recently adopted by the United States Government itself. The entire church organization dedicated itself to this big task and with the same zeal, co-operation and determination that characterized their former effort once more they succeeded.

Rev. Greene, himself, is a progressive and yet conservative minister. Personally he is entirely different from the typical race minister. He is a very busy man, an active and an important factor in many civic and business race organizations and actively interested in all movements of the city that have for their aim, betterment and uplift, and these activities are not at the expense of his professional duties in the least. A glance at his Annual Report will not only furnish an idea of the extent of the amount of work that a minister of Revv. Greene's type must cover—the receipts, expenditures, balances and items from numerous departments, together with other reports to his Board, but it also furnishes the reader with an excellent idea of the quality of the work given them. Several months ago the Executive Board of Flipper-Key-Davis University met and placed upon the Reverend the responsibility of being President of the University in connection with his ministerial work. While the ministry could ill afford to lose his valuable services, yet he performs his added duties so well that the arrangements made might well be permanent as he brings to bear on the lives of the young people at the college—and at the time that they need it most—just the sturdy and dignified Christianly influence that should characterize those who have upon them, as President of an institution of learning, the nothing-less-than sacred responsibility of shaping the lives, yea even the destinies of our young boys and girls. Thus these and many others are the duties of Rev. Greene, an active, useful and progressive, modern minister.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

THE LAST GREAT BATTLE NOW BEING FOUGHT.

"Put on the whole armour of God ,the ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the Devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of darkness in high places." —Eph. 6:11, 12.

Th Great Master said concerning the Church, "Ye are the light of the world." "Darkness hateth the light." The Church is near the end of its earthly pilgrimage and the hour of the final conflict is at hand. To be forewarned is to be forearmed. The words of Saint John now seem appropriate: "Look to yourselves that ye lose not those things which ye have wrought, but that ye receive the full reward.

For more than 6000 years a great battle has been waged between good and evil—light and darkness. The fight has involved the entire human family. God in his wisdom has permitted the forces of evil to prevail for a time, but the time is near at hand when the tide of battle shall turn. The conflict has resulted in great carnage, thousands of millions having succumbered to the agencies of Darkness. It has been attended with untold sorrow.

The fight had its beginning when our first parents were driven from Eden. It will end only at the end of the Millinnial age.

When Jesus was on earth he fought the same good fight of faith, and for a time it seemed that the enemy had vanquished him, but shortly he proved that he had triumphed over death and the grave. His victory was complete his reward the highest of all. Through him brought life and immortality to light and has made known his purposes to all who have imbibed his spirit and sought to follow in his footsteps.

Since Penticost God has been selecting the Church, the members of which are called to follow in the footsteps of the Great Master, fighting as he fought and who must gain the victory before receiving the crown of life.

There are two great armies engaged in this conflict. On the side of evil is the army of darkness, marshalled by Satan, the prince of Darkness. On the other side is the army of light with Jesus Christ as its field Marshall. leading his host on to certain victory.

Every man and woman on earth is doing service this day for one or the other of these armies. There is no middle ground, as St. Paul puts it, "Know ye not that to whom ye yield yourselves to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey whether of sin unto death or of obedience unto righteousness."—Rom. 6:16.

The Lord's Army on earth is composed of those who have turned away from the world of sin and darkness and are following the Master whethersoever he goeth because of their full consecration and love for him. All such manifest the Spirit of Christ, all others are in the army of Satan. Who is on the Lord's side? Which side are you on?

The Church this side of the vale is the Church militant, meaning the Church at war. It is both an individual and collective warfare. Each one must fight the good fight of faith and be victorious before he can attain to the position of joint heirship with the Lord, and each one having the Master's spirit will fight together with all the other members of the body to maintain the spirit of unity in the body. All such must fight under the leadership of their captain. The same admonition Saint Paul gave to Timothy applies to each member of the body: "This charge I commit unto you. son Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before thee, that thou by them mightest war a good warfare. Fight the good fight of faith lay hold on eternal life whereunto thou wast called and has professed a good profession before many witnesses." (1 Tim. 1:18; 1 Tim. 6:12. Again St. Paul said, "Only let the lives you live be worthy of the gospel that we may know who are standing fast in one spirit and one mind. fighting shoulder to shoulder for the faith and good news. Never for a moment quail before your enemies." Phil. 1:27-28 Weymouth.

To a soldier who engages in war it is of the greatest importance to know who his enemies are, their number and force. A good soldier will study to know what will be the method of attack by the enemy, and seek to strengthen his position of defense that he may repell every assault. In the Christian warfare it is even more vital. Before we can successfully engage in the great and final conflict, the battle that must be decisive with us, it is of the most importance that we carefully consider the number, force and strength of the enemy, and his method of attack

Goliath pictured Satan and his agents. None of the host of Israel would attempt to fight with him until David came upon the scene. Satan found none willing and able to cope with him until antitypical David—Jesus Christ—the companion of the cause of righteousness on behalf of mankind, came. David represent the entire Christ head and body, his experiences foreshadowed the fight in which they must engage.

In our next text the Apostle Paul particularly warns the church concerning our enemies. Another translation renders it thus: "For our is not a conflict with mere flesh and blood, but with spiritual beings in unseen places, despotism, empires, the forces that control and govern this dark world (host of evil spirits) arrayed against us in the heavenly warfare"—Waymouth. The enemies or adversaries may be divided into four divisions, designated as the flesh, the world, the Devil and the evil spirits.

That all members of the New Creation must fight these enemies is clearly shown from the fact that our Master was subjected to such trials, and further evidence thereof is the positive statements of the Apostle. It is important that we take heed to the Master's method of meeting these attacks.

After he had been fasting for 40 days and nights and was weak and emaciated the adversary approached him, first suggesting that he change the stones into bread for the gratification of his own flesh. Jesus met this attack with the sword of the spirit saying, "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." Then Satan suggested to him that while it was true he was to be the king, it would require a long time for him to convince the people, therefore he should go upon the temple and jump into the valley, that Jehovah would save him and thus he would demonstrate to the people that he was more than an ordinary creature. In the same manner Jesus met this attack, thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. Then Satan made a direct attack upon the Master suggesting that if Jesus would join him, he (Satan) would turn over to him all the kingdoms of the earth, only Jesus must recognize and give proper honor to Satan. Yielding to either one of these temptations would have been a violation to his covenant. Jesus met this attack with these words: "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God and him only shall thou serve."

God governs the entire Universe by fixed principles, and every one who is governed contrary thereto is governed by passion. This is clearly demonstrated in Jesus' method of defense against the Adversary. Many seem to not be able to understand what is meant by "Principle." Seemingly that it is whatever they may consider themselves to be right when guided by their conscience, or by the argument of someone else. Principle means a settled rule of action; the governing law of conduct. This rule of action, or governing law of conduct it set forth in the Bible, God's Word, and all who are governed by the word of God are governed by principle. Passion means the capacity of being effected by external agencies; to be controled by outside influence; susceptible to control from external influences. The New Creation must avoid passion and be governed always by principle. If we are influenced or swayed in our judgment, or conclusion about anything by reason of what others may say or do, we are governed by passion. If we prayerfully and dilligently seek to know what is the Lord's will and what his word says on the matter, and are governed by that, we are governed by principle.

Attack and temptation, within the meaning of scriptures, is one and the same thing. We have no power to turn stones into bread, but we have received spiritual powers which may be used for selfish purposes contrary to God's will. For example, making merchandise of the Gospel; preaching for the applause of men, or as the Apostle Peter says: "Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking oversight thereof, not by constraint but willingly; not for filthy lucres sake, but for a ready mind."—1 Peter 5:2.

The spirit of the world is to follow methods that make outward show of great piety to attract attention. Any attempt on the part of a Christian to attract attention to himself is a manifestation of the spirit of the world and a violation of principle and out of harmony with God's methods.

All temptations are the effect of the Adversary's influence. He employs various methods in order that he may deceive. He makes some believe that they are not receiving the proper consideration, notice and honor to which they are entitled. This leads them into a wrong course.

St. Paul emphasizes the fact that the conflict of the church in the end of the age will be particularly with the evil spirits. These evil spirits have been restrained since the great deluge, and their days of judgment is at hand. We therefore, should expect that they would be able to exercise greater power over the human race now than at any time since their restraint. Many scriptures clearly indicate that the real battle ground of the Christian is the mind, therefore, the attack of the evil spirit will be expected along this line. We learn from one who was long subject to the influence of these demons that their method of attack is as follows: First, by suggestion. By this is meant that the demons intrude upon the mind evil thoughts. All Christians realize that they have a conflict in keeping out the mind thoughts that are improper and that it is a constant warfare to keep them out. But where one indulges in evil surmising, lodging another, filling his mind with evil thoughts, such is yielding to suggestions, and persisted in leads to the second stage, which is designated as, Abbreviation. The word "abbreviation" means to cut short. It here means lack of continuity of thought, or lack of concentration of thought. One who finds himself given over to evil surmising and evil thoughts will find great difficulty in concentration of mind upon the study of the Lord's Word the "Scripture Studies," or in prayer. Attempting either prayer or study, the one finds his mind suddenly turned away from the subject and his thoughts turned to or set upon evil things. Thus continuing he loses sight of principles, namely, the great truths of God's word, and this leads to the third stage, designated as Impression, which means that one is moved to act from sources other than the word of God. The word impression means sensible result of influence exerted from without. For instance one says, I am moved to take this course because of what I have heard, or what influence another has brought to bear upon me, at the same time entirely ignoring the word of God cercerning the subject. This persisted in leads to the fourth stage, namely.

Possession, whereby it is understood that the evil spirits take possession of the mind and control his conduct.

The Apostle tells us, "God resisteth the proud but giveth grace to the humble minded." From this we would understand that humility of mind and heart would be a special protection provided by the Lord, and that anyone manifesting spiritual pride or ambition, the Lord would remove from such one this protection and the Galley THREE—3 evil spirits would have special power over him.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

THE LAST GREAT BATTLE NOW BEING FOUGHT

All scriptures indicate that the conflict will become more and more severe as we near the close of the Gospel Age. We may expect that all the Lord's true servants who are actively engaged in the closing hours of the harvest will be attacked thru human agencies by these evil spirits. We may expect that all manner of changes and attacks will be made by them through human agencies against the reputation and standing of others who are engaged in the harvest work, which will constitute a test of all the brethren, as to whether they will be governed by passion, or whether they will be governed by the principles of God's work. The prominent position occupied by one in the harvest work, the more venemous will be the attack. Let each one examine his own heart carefully and see to it that his own conclusions are based upon right principles, namely, the word of God, and not upon outside influence. No other course is safe.

The soldiers of the cross must have special strength in order to stand at this time, and to repell the combined attack of Satan and his host of helpers. If we look at it from one standpoint, we would become dismayed and despair of winning, but looking at it from another viewpoint, we know that He who is for us is greater than all who can be against us, and with him for us none can prevail against us. We are now in the evil day. How then may we have the strength needed? The Apostle tells us of the armour of God, provided for us, which will prove a guarantee against all attacks of the Adversary. "Wherefore, take unto you the whole Armour of God that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand."—Eph. 6:13. The assurance here is that he who has this armour on and keeps it on learns to use it properly will be able to stand.

God is the maker of this armour through human agents. The armour consists of his words, the message of truth, put into proper shape to be used for the benefit of the New Creation. Describing this armour in detail, the Apostle says: "Having your loins girt about with the truth." The girdle is a symbol of servitude, and suggests that no one is safe at this time unless he is a servant of the truth. Those engaged in evil surmising, fault-finding, back-biting, slander libel or other works of darkness are not servants of the truth. Let each one of us see to it that he guards himself against such wiles of the Adversary, and on the contrary that he possesses the zeal peculiar to the house of the Lord and earnestly and zealously follow in the Master's footsteps by serving his cause at this time.

"And having on the breast-plate of righteousness." The breast-plate was used to cover the vital organs of the body, particularly the heart. A proper condition of heart is vital to the New Creation. A righteous heart indicated purity, righteous motives, righteousness of character. "Keep thine heart will all dilligence, for out of it are the issues of life." (Prov. 4: 23.) "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God." (Matt. (5:8). "The eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth to show his strength in behalf of his whose heart is pure."—2 Chron. 16:9.

"And your feet shod with the preparation of the Gospel of peace." The soldier who engages in warfare must keep well his feet. If they are not they become sore, and his attention is directed more to the soreness than to his duty.

The New Creature has now many roads to travel, therefore the feet members should be clothed with the message of peace and see to it that all anger, malice, hatred and strife, ill will, backbiting, faultfinding, accusations of the brethren be put aside. None other will be able to stand. "Follow peace with all and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord." (Heb. 12:14). Those who hunt trouble now will surely find it; they will find little else. Those who avoid trouble find it necessary to diligently keep themselves in the peace and love of God.

"Above all taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fire darts of the wicked." The enemy is constantly firing wicked darts at the soldiers of the Cross. These darts are liable to stir up in your mind, doubts, fears, scepticism. The shield of faith is your protection. Faith means the intellectual understanding and appreciation of the word of God—true principles—and confident reliance upon that word. "Without faith it is impossible to please God. This is the victory that overcometh the world, even your faith.

"And take the helmet of salvation." The helmet fitted over the head and represents the intellectual understanding and appreciation of the Divine Plan. This knowledge of God's word and His method and his information concerning the methods of the Adversary, is absolutely essential in order to protect ourselves against the evil ones of this day. If we have no knowledge of the demons and their methods of attack, we could not be forearmed against them.

"And the sword of the spirit, which is the word of God." This is both an offensive and defensive weapon. We must have it and know how to use it. Jesus weilded it successfully to each attack made upon him. He said: "It is written," and such must be our battle cry. We are not to use carnal weapons, no such weapons as Satan uses. We are to use the truth and let the truth do the cutting.

It is noticed that the Apostle names only six parts of the Armour, where as the armour of the ancient soldier was in seven parts. Seven is also a symbol of perfection. The seventh part, and one not named by the Apostle, was the greaves, and was a metal shield fitting over the front part of the foot to protect it from the darts of the Adversary. The feet members of the Church are now engaged in the fight. The greaves, therefore, would properly and fittingly represent the vow. When it was promulgated our attention was called to this scripture: "When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him."—Isiah 59:19.

How to Put on the Armour.

The words of the Apostle assume that the person addressed have renounced the world and enlisted under the banner of the Lord by making a full surrender of their will to do God's will. Hence he says: (1—Girdle—Servitude) Be zealous and faithful servant of the truth. Let there be but one motive for service—love for God and His righteous cause. By love serve.

(2—Breastplate—Righteou s.n e s s) Having on the robe of Christ's righteousness, now study to be approved of God. Learn the great and vital principles of his word and apply them to daily living; be controlled by these and let them work out in you a righteous character. Keep a pure heart.

(3—Sandles—Peace. Do not hunt trouble. Live in peace with all so long as God's law is not sacrificed. Accept your part of suffering with joy.

(4—Shield—Faith) Maintain an abiding faith in God and his sure word of promise. Rely upon his word and not upon the advice or influence of others. Stand, leaning only on the Lord.

(5—Helmet—Salvation) Strive to increase in heart appreciation of God and the Lord Jesus. Continue in the study of the word. Feed upon the food provided. Keep always before your mind the strong hope of salvation and the high position to which you have been called.

(6—Sword—Word of God) Know God's word, in letter and spirit. Be able to give a reason for the hope you have. Use it deftly in repelling the Adversary. Let your battle cry be: "It is written."

(7—Vow) Daily put in practice the vow in letter and spirit. Take the Lord Jesus with you in all things. Be filled with His spirit.

If you do these things you shall be strong in the Lord and have the power which His supreme strength imparts and be a certain victor.

This is the evil day; the time when every man's work is being tried in the fiery furnace; these perilous times of which we have been warned; it is the last battle, the great and final conflict. The enemy is advancing from every quarter. Shall we quail before our adversary? No, thank God, for he has made ample provision for his people. The whole armour of God is now supplied. It was never so much needed as now. Those who have it on and keep it on will stand; others will not.

Let us not be discouraged, dear soldiers of the cross; let us rise to the importance of the time and face the perils of the hours with confidence in our commander and Lord. The history of Ages is looking down upon us. The Holy Angels of Heaven are beholding the final conflict. Jesus and the members of the Bride who have passed beyond the vale are watching our course, how we are quitting ourselves. It is the greatest battle of the ages, and the enemy is making a final onslaught. God's little band of soldiers are now clothed with the complete armour of the Lord, are marshalled for the last time upon the battle field. We hear the encouraging words of our captain: "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life." Soon this army will emerge from the smoke of battle clothed in wreathes of victory. Soon this army will be asked: "Who is she that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and terrible as an army with banners?"—(Songs of Sol. 6:10). Soon the answer from Heaven shall ring out, "This is Triumphant Zion, whose great leader has forever put to flight the army of darkness." She is pure, just, holy, good, and now stands in the glorious light of Heaven with her glorious Captain. Terrible has been the Christ and will continue to be in the conquest of evil. The dawn of his reign is here, the new government is now to be put in operation, soon all men will have full opportunity to stand in the light of truth and be able by the grace of the Lord to free himself from all the influences of evil and darkness. Be brave, be valiant, soldiers now.

"Hear the call, O Gird armour on,
Grasp the spirit's mighty sword,
Take the helmet of salvation,
Pressing on to battle for the Lord" and never stop until we shall hear his well done good and faithful servant and see him as he is.

CLEVELAND, OKLA.

The Executive Board of the N. W. C. Baptist Association, which met with the First Baptist Church at Hominy, Okla., Rev. J. E. English, pastor, Nov. 4, was a real success, numerically and financially. Friday at 9 a. m. the Moderator being absent, the recording secretary, Bro. J. J. Hammons, conducted devotionals and Rev. Chas. Richardson was chosen Moderator pro tem. After some brief remarks he called the board in session and ordered the president of the Sunday school convention take charge. Rev. Chinn ordered the roll called and began to expedite business. All present took an active part in making this department of the work a success. Very excellent reports were rendered and much good accomplished for the future success of the work. Rev. Chinn is the right man in the right place, and with his excellent staff of officers who are standing hard by him, there can be no failure, having collected $72.28 of which $6.00 was given as a special donation to Rev. Z. H. Hickerson, who is now ill at his home in Muskogee, having undergone an operation. Having accomplished its work, the Sunday school convention closed its sessions.

Next came the W. H. and F. Mission presided over by Sister Patterson of Sapulpa, who called this department to order and got right down to business: calling the roll, collecting money and reports from the various circles. Sister Beaulah Vann, the newly elected missionary, made an excellent report. This department closed having collected $25.25.

At this junction Rev. W. H. Henderson, president of the B. Y. P. U., took charge and accomplished the work of this department. Quite a number of B. Y. P. U.'s enrolled, thus showing their loyalty to their chieftian. Peace and harmony prevailed throughout the session and much good was accomplished. $33.00 was collected and adjournment was made for dinner.

At 2:30 p. m. the convention re-assembled. After devotion, Rev. Chas. Richardson, acting moderator, called the house to order in an executive session proper. Roll of board members was called and all responded. The roll of churches was called and quite a few answered. At this point, the president of the M. and D. Institutes made their reports as follows: Rev. E. D. Williams, No. 7, $7.22; Rev. Early, No. 2, $10.00; Rev. Chas. Richardson, No. 3, $27.0 , all of which was approved.

Rev. W. M. Drake having arrived, the board proceeded to elect a missionary. Rev. T. B. Flanagan was unominated and by a unanimous vote elected. Rev. Chas. Richardson, E. D. Williams, A. C. Chinn and J. J. Hammonds consisted the committee to contract with the missionary.

Friday night we had a gospel treat through a sermon delivered by Rev. Earley. A collection of $15.00 was raised. Having accomplished its work, the board adjourned, having collected quite $100.00. A donation of $7 was given to Rev. Z. H. Hickerson.

Rev. W. M. Drake, Moderator.
Rev. Chas. Richardson, Reporter.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

BE WARNED: STOP GIVING HEED TO SPIRITISM, IT IS THE DOCTRINES OF DEMONS

Just now a stupendous effort is being made everywhere to convince the people that the dead are alive and not dead and that the edad are really spirit beings and able to communicate, through mediums with those who are living. The largest magazines and newspapers in this country are employed to spread the doctrine. And worse of all modern clergymen have drifted away from the Bible and are taking to phychis research. They have forsaken the wisdom of Jehovah and adopted the wisdom of men. They tell us that the dead are still alive, and to prove this they refer to phenomona such as table tapping, spiritual seances, hearing of voices, etc.

Some will insist that such great and learned men as Sir Oliver Lodge, William T. Stead and other eminent scientists in their lifetime were firm believers in the ability to communicate with the dead. The great British novelist, Conan Doyle, is another witness who insists that commnication with the dead is a common thing. We wish to say that there is no doctrine taught in scripture that is unreasonable. God invites his creatures to come and reason with him, "Saying come now let us reason together sayeth the Lord." (Isea 1:18). He expects of course that such a one will reason in the light of the Scriptures, the divine word. But if anyone ignores the Scriptures he cannot reason along such lines.

Just here we desire to sound the warning that the teaching of the doctrine that the living can communicate with the dead is one of the great gigantic frauds that is deceiving mankind. The public press throughout the country, since the war, with big headlines have said: "The war has changed the world's view of life, death and hereafter." Had the writer been familiar with the Scriptures he would not have written such a headline, because the so-called phenomina is not new, but ages old. It is true that since so many homes have been bereaved by the war there is a great desire to know of the condition of the dead friends; hence they are subject to the delusions practiced upon them by the great Adversary. Spiritualism is now sweeping over the world, and when the final accounting is made it will be seen that the clergy are chiefly responsible for this, because they have failed to advise themselves concerning the Bible's teachings and have neglected to instruct the people. Hence the people are falling victims to this monstrous delusion.

That many are able to hear voices, which voices claim to represent their dead friends, there can be no doubt. Instead of attempting to dispute the phenomena we readily admit the happenings of events claimed. But the voices are not the voices of dead friends, because dead people cannot speak. They are not the voices of someone with whom you used to communicate with in the flesh. What, then, are these voices? And from whence come they?

We answer that after Adam had violated God's law and was driven out from Eden, God permitted certain of the Angelic host, Spirit beings, to have supervising control over man. (Heb. 2:5). These Angels were spirit beings, but under the divine permission could materialize and appear unto human beings; for instance when the Angel appeared to Abraham and again to Daniel, and other instances. (Gen. 22:15; Zac. 1:19). The Genesis account is to the effect that the materialized spirit beings cohabited with the daughters of men. These "Sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bear children. And God saw that the wickedness of men was great on the earth and that every imagination of the heart was only evil continually." (Gen. 6:1-5). All the peoples of earth had become so debauched with these degraded angelic beings (materialized as men) that only Noah and the members of his household were free from such. God declared that he would destroy all flesh in the earth. He directed Noah to build an ark in which to save himself and family. When this was completed Jehovah brought the great deluge upon the earth, and all human beings were destroyed, that were not in the ark.

The materialized angels were not human beings, yet they occupied human bodies; and while the deluge would destroy all flesh, it could not and did not destroy these spirit beings. What became of them? St. Peter answers: "God spared not the angels that sinned but cast them down to Hell (Tartarus) and delivered them into chains of darkness to be reserved until judgment." (Peter (2) 2:4. Saint Jude corroborates this saying: "The angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, (proper condition) he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness until the judgment of the great day."—Jude 6.

According to St. Peter these evil spirits were in prison in Tartarus, but not destroyed. Tartarus does not mean the grave, nor a place of torment, but is does signify a condition of restraint in darkness. These evil ones then, were, as stated by the above authority, restrained under chains of darkness; and this restriction must continue until the judgment of the great day. The conclusion must be reached that at the time of the judgment of the great this restraint would be removed, in a measure at least, and these evil spirits permitted to work greater deceptions and wonders amongst the people than ever before. Since the time of the flood they have been in the condition of restraint. The world is now entering the great day of the judgment, as other Scriptures show, and which we hope to show in the course of these articles. We are in a time therefore, when these evil spirits are to exercise and are exercising greater powers of deception than ever before, deceiving many of the brightest minds, and would deceive if possible the very elect of God.

From the time of the flood these evil spirits or demons have been able to communicate in some limited degree with those in the earth. To protect the children of Israel, Jehovah specially provided in his law that it was a capitol offence for anyone to have to do with these demons through instrumentalities of mediums, witches or necromancers. We cite a few provisions of the divine law in proof of this: "Thou shall not suffer a witch to live." (Exodus 22:18). "When thou cometh into the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shall not learn to do after the abominations of those nations. There shall not be found among you any that use divinations, or an observer of times or an enchanter, or a witch, or a charmer, or a counsellor with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer; for all that do these things are an abomination unto the Lord." (Deut. 18:10-12). "A man also, or woman, that hath a familiar spirit or that is a wizard (medium) shall surely be put to death."—Levitt. 20:27.

When Jesus was on earth he found many persons whose minds had been taken possession of by these demons and he cast them out. "When the evening was come they brought unto him many that were possessed with demons, and he cast out the spirits with his word and healed all that were sick." (Matthew 8:1). "And when he was come to the other side of the country of the Gergesenes there met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass that way. And behold they cried out, saying, what have we to do with thee, Jesus thou Son of God? Art thou come thither to torment us before the time? And there was a good way off from them an herd of swine feeding. So the devils besought him saying, if thou cast us out suffer us to go away into the herd of swine.—Matt. 8:28-31.

Saul was the King of Israel. He had been unfaithful to the Lord. The Phillistines gathered to make war against him. Samuel, the good prophet was dead, and Saul could not consult him. He called upon God in prayer, and the Lord answered him not. This story is recorded in First Samuel, 28 chapter, and shows methods that the demons have used down through the ages to deceive men. Being fearful of the enemy the Philistines and getting no answer to his prayer: "Then Saul said unto his servants, seek me a woman that hath a familiar spirit that I may go and inquire of her. And the servant said to him there is a woman that hath a familiar spirit at Endor." Saul knew that the law required him to put to death all spirit mediums or witches and therefore is he appeared as the King the witch would not act in his behalf. So the records disclose he disguised himself and went to the cave at Endor to see the medium and asked her to call up the one whom he would name. The witch, medium, then accused him of laying a trap to cause her death. Evidently the demons revealed to her the identity of King Saul; then he promised her that she should not be punished. The witch then proceeded to call up what was supposed to be Samuel, the prophet, but which, in fact, was the demon misrepresenting the prophet. These demons caused to pass before the mental vision of the witch one like unto the prophet, but Saul saw nothing himself. The description that she gave was that the one appearing was an old man wearing a mantel. We are reminded here that the evil spirits are spoken of as lying spirits and here we see that they lied to the witch and to Saul. Samuel was dead, and therefore could not appear. Being a good man, according to the theory of the clergy, he must have been in Heaven, but he was not in fact, in Heaven. Had he been an evil man he would, at that time, according to the clergy, have been in Hell, fire and brimstone, and his mantel would certainly have been burned away, but he was not in fact, in such a place. The Scriptures plainly state that Samuel was dead and he knew not anything. On that occasion the demons, acting through the medium, informed Saul that: "Tomorrow shalt thou and thy son be with me (dead); the Lord also shalt deliver the host of Israel into the hands of the Phillistines." The well informed demons knew better than did Saul the strength of the Phillistines, their position and their army, and the weakness of Saul's position and army, and that Saul was already panic stricken and would easily be defeated. Anyone familiar with the conditions would know that one day's battle would probably settle the question and that the logical result would be that Saul and his sons would be killed. Notwithstanding, the demons did not fully state the truth for two of Saul's sons escaped and lived for years after. Some scholars even deny that the battle and death of Saul occured the next day, but several days later. We cite this as a Bibical incident showing the manner in which the evil spirits operate.

LUTHER, OKLA.

There are several home-seekers in town this week.

Rev. P. L. Carter, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Purcell, preached for Rev. Mattox last Thursday night.

Mr. Johnson, the father of Mrs. J. S. Andrews, was brought here from Muskogee for burial, Wednesday, accompanied by the wife and two daughters, Mrs. Andrews and Mayfield.

We are in much sympathy with the family.

TULSA NOTES

By M. E. Parrish

Mr. L. H. Lightner, Supreme Clerk of the American Woodmen, Denver, Col., was in the city this week looking over the conditions here with a view of trying to secure loans from that great organization for the Tulsa property owners. Mr. Lightner met with the Colored Citizens Relief Committee in its office, Sunday at 11 p. m., and expressed himself as being well pleased with the good work of the Committee.

The Epworth League of Wesley Chapel M. E. Church had a splendid program Sunday evening. This organization plans to give a high class Christian program every Sunday using the best talent of the city. You and your friends are invited to spend your Sunday evenings with them.

The Mass Meeting held Monday evening by the Colored Citizens' Relief Committee at the A. M. E. Church on North Greenwood avenue, was well attended. Attys. E. I. Saddler and Elisha Scott were the speakers of the evening. They told the people what they are doing for their good. Many of the people expressed themselves as being satisfied with the explanations given by the attorneys and complimented the Committee on the work it has done to the best interest of all concerned. At the close of the meeting everything seemed to have been in peace and harmony. Messrs. C. F. Gabe and J. H. Goodwin proceeded the speakers with short talks along the line of the work that the Committee has accomplished for the good of Tulsa people.

KONAWA NEWS

Last Saturday night week Ramsey Bruner, Sam Humbdy and George had a seemingly one-sided fight, Herod being the single. After the fight in which all were somewhat wounded, Bruner and Humbdy went to the home of Rev. A. B. Samuel in search of Herod, who had fled for his life. As Mrs. Samuels, the wife of Rev. Samuels, appeared, and begged them not to plunder the house, it is alleged that Humbdy shot her in the throat, killing her instantly. She was laid to rest Monday evening at 4.30 in the Grayson Cemetery. She leaves a niece two nephews, a husband, and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

The arrest of Humbdy and Bruner was made by Lige Sanders about 2 o'clock Sunday evening. They were carried through the country by automobile to Wewoka and placed in jail.

Miss Joeanna Franklin left Monday morning for Wagoner, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Lillie B. Elson, and also attend school.

BOLEY NEWS

The marriage announcements of Mr. William Conley Gowdy to Miss Mattie Ellen Glayze was indeed a pleasant surprise to their many friends. They were married on September 26, 1921, in the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cavil by Rev. J. S. Dawson, a former pastor of the bride. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cavil, Mr. H. C. Glayze, father of the bride, and Miss Florence Carroll. Mr. Gowdy returned to Missouri immediately after the marriage where he is employed in government work, and where they hope to make their home after the close of this scholastic years, as Mrs. Gowdy is the instructor of history in the Boley High School. Mrs. Gowdy is also a very active church and club worker, and quite popular with her set. Boley is indeed proud of this cultured young lady, having finished her high school course here, she entered the state university at Langston where she finished her normal course of study. She has also taken post graduate work in the state university at Emporia, Kansas. This is quite a promising young couple, both coming from good families, and having been childhood lovers in the city of Hot Springs, Ark., their former home. Their many friends here are wishing for them many years of happiness and contentment.

RESOLUTION

The International Bible Students Association, in convention at Washington, D. C., bega leave most respectfully to memorialize the International Arms Congress now assembled at Washington, D. C., as follows:

As Christians earnestly striving to follow the teachings of Christ Jesus, our Lord and his Apostles, we hodl:

That war is a relic of barbarism, destructive of good morals and a reproach to Christian peoples;

That the principles taught by the Lord Jesus Christ preclude consecrated Christians from engaging in war, bloodshed or violence in any form; That no nation can be said to be truly Christian which fails to adhere to those principles taught by the Lord and his Apostles;

That the ruling or governing factors of the nations commonly called "Christendom" are now and for some time have been, to wit: FINANCIAL PRINCES, otherwise termed Controllers of Commerce, STATESMEN, or Political Leaders, who formulate the laws, and CLERGYMEN, and other Ecclesiastical Teachers, the last named, both Catholic and Protestant, having, contrary to the Word of God, joined hands with the two first-mentioned factors (which three component parts here mentioned we for convenience and identification designate "The Ruling Powers");

That the delegates and representatives of The Ruling Powers now assembled in international conference at Washington for the purpose of the limitation of armaments, and insofar as possible for the establishment of conditions ow peace and prosperity among the people, have before them a laudable objective.

But we may be pardoned for humbly suggesting that the end desired cannot be attained by a partial or even complete disarmament of the nations. Reformation of men or nations will not result from the destruction of arms, but genuine reformation of men will lead automatically to the complete destruction of all instruments of war and all forms of violence. While war is terrible beyond description of human phase, yet it is not the worst thing to be feared.

Bolshevism, as a great menacing monster, is knocking at the door of every nation, and the destruction of all law and order is threatened. To prevent such terrible disaster and to save the people from indescribable suffering is the tremendous problem which, we submit, requires more than human wisdom. We therefore suggest that the heeding of Divine wisdom and the adoption of the Divine remedy as prescribed by God's holy word is vitally essential at this time.

The kingdom of Christ, the Messiah, for which he taught his disciples to pray, is at hand. This is evidenced by the World War, famine, pestilence, social upheaval, distress of nations with perplexity, etc., all of which constitute the fulfillment of prophecies made by Jesus himself as relating to the present time. Within a short time his kingdom will be fully and completely established and the old order of things completely gone. To that kingdom all earthly powers must be subject either willingly or unwillingly. The trouble upon the nations beginning in 1914 is but the expression of God's vengeance against all unrighteous systems in the earth.

The holy prophets of Jehovah indicate how that the kingdom of Christ the Messiah, may be established without great suffering to humanity, provided that the Divine way be adopted. You will pardon us, therefore, for calling your attention to those Divine prophecies long ago recorded, which in substance indicate what the proper course is, to wit:

1. Let the Financial Princes, the Controllers of Commerce, cease profiteering, cease exploiting and deceiving the people by systematic propaganda, and be content with a reasonable income sufficient to insure their own maintenance and support; let them use their power for the general welfare of the people to the end that the idle may be employed, the hungry fed, and each man be afforded an opportunity to provide for himself and loved ones the things decent and honest in the sight of God and men.

2. Let the Statesmen and Politicians cease to act as instruments of selfish powers and selfish interests and henceforth honestly and impartially represent and safeguard the interest and general welfare of the people.

3. Let the Clergymen and other religious teachers, who claim to be ministers of God's Word and therefore the nobles among the people, divorce themselves completely from commercial and political addlictions, return to their love, recognize God's Word as truth, honestly and faithfully teach the people the principles taught by Jesus and the Apostles, and thereby prepare the people to receive the kingdom of Christ, the Messiah, who alone can and will establish peace on earth and good will toward men.

Let the Ruling Factors by example, as well as by word, lead the people in the right way and prove that they are the real friends of the people; and let all the people heed the words of God, refrain from violence of every kind or form, seek meekness and righteousness, and the occasion for armament and war will cease. These things done, the kingdom of Christ, the Messiah, will be established on earth without suffering.

We shall be pardoned for saying that the prophecies clearly indicate that if the divinely prescribed remedy be ignored, this being the day of God's vengeance, as declared by his prophets of old, his wrath will be visited upon every government and system of Christendom; and both Jesus and the prophets declare that such shall be "a time of trouble such as the world has never known," at which time "Michael (the Messiah) shall stand up, the great prince that standeth for the children of thy people." This standing up of Michael will effect the deliverance of mankind from all forms of oppression and will mark the beginning of righteousness on earth. The result will be God's will done on earth as it is done in heaven, for which Jesus taught Christians to pray.

Great responsibility rests upon the Ruling Factors of the nations of earth now in the hour of dire distress and perplexity; and we shall be pardoned for requesting such to give earnest consideration to the word of God, having in mind that "blessed is that nation whose God is Jehovah."

Resolved that a copy of this memorial be delivered to the Honorable Evans Hughes, Chairman of the International Arms Congress now in session at Washington, D. C.; that copies be furnished to each delegate or representative of the nations attending said conference; that a copy be delivered to the President of the United States, and copies to the members of Congress and to the public press.

Upon motion duly put the above resolution was unanimously adopted by the convention this 27th day of November, 1921.

Signed:

Dr. R. A. Gamble, Cairman of convention.

Frank H. Harrison, Secretary of Convention.

J. F. Rutherford, President, I. B. S. A.

GET THE PICTURE AND THE PAPER FOR $2.00

The Black Dispatch has just released from its presses amost wonderful picture of the desolate, smoking ruins of the Tulsa Riot. The picture is three feet long and six inches wide, printed on heavy Ultra-fine Translucent card board. It shows the view of the devastated section, beginning at Archer and running north to Stand Pipe Hill. The view also begins on the east at the Midland Valley tracks and entends west to Boston. From now until Christmas, the Black Dispatch will send any of its subscribers this picture, with the renewel price of $2.00. The picture is absolutely priceless within itself. If you care to take advantage of our Christmas offer of $1.50 for the year, just add 50 cents more and secure this wonderful picture, which tells the story of tears, of faith and unquenchable spirit. When one gazes at this desolate scene and then realizes that today upon this same spot black men and women have re-erected their homes and businesses, have stood like Daniel in the lions' den, and like the Hebrew children, have remained in the firery furnace, to grasp advantage from disadvantage—the story of "Then" and "Now" is an inspiration. No story handed down to us from Sparta or from ancient Greece can equal the heroism of the valliant black men and women who hace remained in Tulsa and made of that charnel house a fit place for our group to live. Put this picture up in your home. It will give your boy and girl a glimpse of what black men have to face in America. This picture may have the steadying influence to make that boy and girl resolve to help in making of the Negro a potent factor in world equations. Remember, $2.00 gets the picture and the Black Dispatch for one year.

TATUMS NEWS

The Grand Worthy Matron, Mrs. C. T. Tallaferro, was in Tatums last Thursday for the purpose of re-instating the local order of the Eastern Star here. Her mission proved very successful and she left the Star in good working condition. Her business was of such a nature that it became necessary for her to leave for Davis immediately after the installation exercises took place.

Bennie Hawkins was wounded in the right arm Friday about 4:30 p. m. by city marshall L. B. Tatums, while attempting to arrest Bennie for gun "toting." We are informed that the wounded man is getting along nicely at this writing.

Mrs. Florence Lucas and little daughter, Lorena, returned last week from an extended visit among friends at Oklahoma City.

Miss Winnie May Leonard, the teacher of Davis, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Leonard. Miss Leonard will give a series of entertainments during the holidays and she extends an invitation to the Tatums people to be present during the entire Christmas week.

The old building, formerly used as the Tatums school building and church, burned to the ground Saturday night about 9:30 p. m. The building was filled with hay and stubble which lighted up the community for miles around. P. H. Ware owned the building at the time of the burning and he estimates the house and contents, 500 bales of hay and several tons of corn fodder, to be worth upwards of $2000. It seems to be of an incendiary origin and there is no clue as to the origin of the conflagation. The Native Baptist Church had been holding their services in the ill-fated house just a short while ago and all of their church property, including seats, pulpit etc. This building will be badly missed as it has served many public needs such as church house, school house, city hall, moving picture shows, assembly hall and dwelling house.

George M. Hooks returned Saturday from an itinery in the eastern part of the state.

WHERE ARE THE DEAD?

The faithful Job, after suffering great bodily and mental anguish and after praying that he might die and go to the grave and there rest in silence until the wrath of God be over past, asked the question, "If a man die shall he live again?" (Job 14:14). Millions have asked this question since that time and had it been fairly treated and honestly answered by those, the preachers, who claim to teach the word of God, much sorrow would have been avoided in the earth.

According to statistics furnished, approximately nine million men were the victims of the great World War just passed. Within that same period of time, twelve million fell victims to the dread pestilence "Spanish Influenza." For some years now in addition to this the average rate, in the world, has been approximately one hundred thosand per day. When there is a great calamity and many people lose their lives, the peoples of the earth stand amazed and shocked, but in the daily routine of affairs death has become so common that many think it must always be this way. Most naturally the people have looked to something to bring comfort to their hearts concerning their dead friends and something upon which they could base their hopes for the future for themselves. Truly this is an earth of sorrow, the sorrow of a people bowed down under the great burden of sin, groaning and travailing for something that would deliver them from it. The poet has well expressed it when he says:

"The earth is old with centuries,
But not for this she hangs her head;
Closer to her heart the sorrow lies,
She holds so many dead."

From the bloody battlefields broken regiments have returned and some fathers, mothers and sweethearts have waited at the stations and looked in vain for the coming of the one they have dearly loved and they have asked: "Shall we see him again? If they have fallen in battlefield, is there any hope of our being united in happiness and love?" The Scriptures alone answer this question satisfactorily.

The hope of the world lies in the resurrection of the dead. Wonderfully beautiful is the doctrine of the resurrection of the dead and those who see and appreciate it rejoice in the fact that God, in the exercise of his loving kindness, has provided a means whereby those who have suffered death might awaken again, and those waiting in sorrow may have their hearts made glad. "A voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation and bitter weeping. Rachel weeping for her children refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not. (They were dead, not conscious somewhere). Thus saith the Lord, Refrain thy voice from weeping and thine eyes from tears, for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come again from the land of the enemy. And there is hope in the end, saith the Lord, that thy children shall come again to their own border." (Jer. 13:18-17).

Everywhere in the Bible, death is spoken of as an enemy. The land of the enemy, therefore is the condition of death. The promise here is that these dead shall be brought back to their own border namely, the earth, their former condition.

We here submit that if the doctrine of inherent immorality is correct, then there is no resurrection of the dead, for the reason that you cannot resurrect a person that is immortal—death proof. Resurrection means "a restanding to life" and no one could be immortal without having life in its fullness. Hence the doctrine of the inherent immortality of the soul denies the resurrection of the dead. We further state that if the doctrine of eternal torture is true, the resurrection of the dead could not be true for the reason that no one could be eternally tortured without having eternal life, and indestructable existence, and if one is already in a state of life indestructable and subject to eternal torment, a restanding to life, a resurrection, would be utterly impossible. Thus we see that the doctrine of eternal torture is a plain denial of the doctrine of the resurrection of the dead.

We further state that if the dead are conscious and can now communicate with their living friends through influences of mediums or otherwise, that the doctrine of the resurrection could not be true, for the reason that one who is conscious and able to communicate could not be resurrected to life, for they would already have life. Hence the doctrine of Spiritism, or communication with the dead is a denial of the resurrection of the dead.

All these doctrines completely deny the great ransom sacrifice. The ransom sacrifice is the key-note to every doctrine, as to whether or not it is true or false. In other words, it is the measuring rod by which every teaching can be measured and it can be determined whether any doctrine is true or false. Thus we see that if the Bible teaches clearly and conclusively the resurrection of the dead and the doctrine of the Great Ransom sacrifice, the other doctrines of inherent immorality, eternal torment, and spiritualism, are as false as the Devil himself, and this we will prove by the Scripture.

Ransom means literally "according price." God created the first man, Adam, perfect in organism and character. He gave him his law, the penalty of which prescribed death for its violation. He violated the law and death came upon him.

While under that sentence of death he begat children. He did not begat any children while in a perfect state and condition but after he violated God's just law and the sentence of death was passed upon him and he was driven out of the garden. Being legally condemned and having the death process upon him, and feeding upon the poisonous elements of the earth, and being in a dying condition, necessarily Adam could not transmit to his offspring the perfect life germ. The race not being born until after Adam's sin would legally come under condemnation by inheritance. Therefore, all of Adam's progeny were born in an imperfect condition.

Evidently this was David's thought when he said: "Behold I was shapen in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me." (Psalms 51:5). Every child born is imperfect, a sinner subject to death, not because of any wilful wrong doings on its part, but because the child inherited this condition from Father Adam. St. Paul corroborates this when he says: "By one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin, and so death passed upon all men, for they all have sinned."—Rom. 5:12.

Everyone dies therefore, because he cannot avoil it, and this death would be eternal had not God graciously provided a ransom price or redemptive process. Jehovah made promise, saying, "I will ransom them from the power of the grave, I will redeem them from death. O death I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction." (Hos. 13:14). Be it noticed here that he did not promise to redeem or ransom anyone from a conscious state of hell torture, but his promise is entirely consistent with all the other scripture, that the dead are dead, awaiting the progressive steps of Jehovah's plan to awaken them out of death.

A perfect man (Adam) sinned. Nothing but a perfect man could redeem him. God provided in his law, "a life for a life, a tooth for a tooth." Man has ever desired redemption and deliverance, but so carry this out himself was an impossibility. Hence the Psalmist wrote, "None can by any means redeem his brother or give God a ransom for him." (Psa. 49:7).

In his prehuman condition Jesus was the logus. He was God's active agent in the creation of all things. God promised to deliver mankind and the one who should accomplish this deliverence would be honored above all others and He offered this honor to Jesus. Consequently his life was transferred from the spirit to human conditions. "He was made flesh and dwelt among us." (John 1:14). The whole race, being under the condemnation of death, desired life, and Jesus said: "I am come that ye might have life." (John 10:10). Of Him the Apostle Paul writes, "We see Jesus who was made a little lower than the angels, for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honor, that He by the grace of God might taste death for every man." (Heb. 2:9). He was born of a woman, not begotton of man, being begotten by the power of Jehovah. (Luke 1:35). When he reached the age of thirty years he was a perfect man, physically, mentally, in character, every way. He exactly corresponded with Adam in Eden before he sinned. Therefore, He was able to become a ransom, a corresponding price. He offered himself in full consecration of the Father. God accepted Him and begat Him to the divine nature. He was crucified upon the cross and was raised from the dead by the Father's power, and ascended upon high, with the price sufficient to redeem all mankind.

Why did God permit his beloved son to come to the earth and die? "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth on him should not perish but have everlasting life. (John 3:16). His resurrection from the dead is a complete guarantee that all the dead shall be awakened. The apostle Paul says, "There shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and the unjust." (Act. 24:15). Jesus declared that the hour is coming when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of man and live when all the dead in their grave shall be awakened and brought forth to be given a full knowledge of the truth and a trial for life. (John 5:25, 28, 29).

There was a class of clergymen in Jesus' day, known as the Sadusees, who denied the resurrection of the dead. There is a class of clergymen today, who by their teachings deny in substance, if not in terms, the resurrection of the dead. How strange that they have been unable to see that one must be dead before he can be raised from the dead. If alive they could not be resurrected. When Jesus said that God sent Him to earth to die in order that the others might have life and might not perish, it meant that they would perish and could not live except by His death and resurrection and any position or teaching, therefore, that denies the unconscious state of the dead, denies the ransom, and denies the resurrection.

The Apostle Paul emphasizes this argument when he says: "Now if Christ did rise from the dead, then all others who have died must also be brought forth." Emphasizing this fact, the Apostle further says, "If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain." (verse 14). In other words it would be useless to preach anythin about God's Plan, the preach anything about God's Plan, the else if we deny the resurrection of the dead. If we took any other position we would be false witnesses, and so says the Apostle, "Yea and we are found false witnesses of God because we have testified of God that he raise up Christ; whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not. For if the dead rise not, then is Christ not raised. And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain, ye are yet in your sins. Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished." (verses 15-18). Is it not strange that Paul did not say here that even those fallen asleep in Christ are alive in Purgatory, wait- Why not take the Apostle Paul, the Lord Jesus Christ and all of the faithful writers of the Bible word concerning the condition of the dead and Jehovah's stated plan of resurrecting the dead? Why should not the people cast out all and refuse to listen to those whose principal object is to get in all the filthy lucor and undeserved honors they can. It is no wonder the people are so far in the dark concerning the Plan of Salvation. They have already permitted these false shepherds, wolves in sheep clothing (false clergy class) to lead them too far in darkness? The time has come when every honesthearted individual should demand the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth on matters pertaining to God's Great Plan of Salvation.

The Sorosis Art and Literary Club met at the home of Mrs. Blanche Hunter, Friday, Dec. 9. All members responded with quotations. Paper, "Negro women in the Music world," Mrs. Nellie Brown-Clardy; paper, "How can I best spend Christmas?" Mrs. W. S. Dunlap. The club then discussed ways of helping the needy at Christmas. Needle work was then engaged in until the hostess announced that the work should be put aside. A delicious menu of fried chicken, creamed peas, hot biscuit, jello and cake, also punch, was served.

All left wishing the club would be entertained again soon by Mrs. Hunter.

SAPULPA, OKLA.

The Priscilla Art Club found its setting in the beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Rawls, 210 N. Burnett street, for the purpose of a sumptutous entertainment for the benefit of the husbands of the Priscillas.

The home was magnificently arranged with the club color of gold and purple, crepe paper that hung down in clusters from each chandilier, under which were spread on tables the exhibition of art work. In every nook and corner was a bouquet of gold and purple flowers. This made a beautiful scenery, one that any artist would find great pleasure in painting.

The ladies were complimented highly on the exhibition of art work, and the husbands declar that there will be no more disputes about spending money for thread.

After an amalgamation of enthusiastic voices quieted, we were then listening to a splendid recital, whose numbers follow: Instrumental solo, Mrs. F. M. Jenkins; Reading, (Dunbar) Mrs. P. A. Chappele; Quartette, "My Old Kentucky Home," Mesdames Johnson, Howell, Dairs and Rawls; Dialogue, "Mandy and Jim." Mesdames Johnson and Kingston; Remarks by Messrs. Glass, oJhnson, Hancock, Kingston, Jenkins, Taylor and Dr. J. A. U. Carter; Response, Dr. J. W. Rawls.

Some time was spent in amusements, after which a three-course luncheon was served by Mesdames Howell, Davis, Johnson and Kingston. The luncheon was highly acceptable to all. Dr. J. W. Rawls and wife proved to be delightful host and hostess.

WHERE ARE THE DEAD?

In the Apostle's argument concerning the resurrection of the dead in 1 Cor. 15th Chapter, after arguing the negative side of the question, he assumes the positive side and says, "But now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruit of them that slept." (verse 20). In other words, for four thousands years man had been dying and in that time none had been resurrected. Now, Jesus, the perfect one, had come. He had suffered death and God had raised him up from the dead and He was the first that ever was raised up, Continuing his argument, St. Paul says, "For since by man (Adam) came death, by man (Jesus) came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so all in Christ shall be made alive, but every man in his own order. Christ, the first fruits, afterward (after the resurrection of the Christ) they that are Christ's at his appearing." (verses 21-23). Thus he establishes the fact that until the second coming of Christ, the dead must remain dead, wholly unconscious, out of existence, and at the second coming of Christ the resurrection takes place. This same Apostle continuing his argument in his epistle to the Thessalonians, says, "But I would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that are asleep (dead) that ye sorrow not even as others which have no hope for if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so, them which are sleeping (in death) in Jesus will God bring with him. (Otherwise stated, not until the coming of Jesus will those asleep in death be awakened). For this we say unto you, by word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain until the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep. For the Lord himself shall descend from Heaven with a shout and the voice of the arch angel, and the trump of God, and the dead in Christ shall rise first, then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with him in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so shall we ever be with the Lord." (1 Thess. 4:13-16). Here the Apostle, however, is discussing particularly the resurrection of the Church, that these shall be first resurrected. Afterward shall come the resurrection of mankind in general. The purpose of their awakening out of death is to give them a fair trial for life. The Apostle gives this thought when he says, "For it is the will of God that all men be saved and come unto the knowledge of the truth." (1 Thess. 2:3, 4). The salvation here mentioned is the salvation from death provided by the merit of Christ Jesus.

We have reached the point on the stream of time where every earnest-hearted person should say in the language of St. Paul: "Let God be true, though it prove every man a liar." (Rom. 3:4). Then let us settle the question according to the word of God. "The dead praise not the Lord neither they that go down in silence." (Psa. 115:17). "His (man's) breath goeth forth, he returns to the dust; in that very day his thoughts perish." (Psa. 145:4). "For the living know that they shall die; but the dead know not anything, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten. Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy is now perished; neither have they any more a portion forever in anything that is under the sun. Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge nor wisdom in the grave where thou goeth." (Eccl. 9:5, 6, 10). Why should intelligent people pay a large sum of money to Priests (who are nothing but sinful men) to pray prayers for persons in this condition? The Psalmist says, "In death there is no remembrance of thee, in the grave who shall give thee thanks?" (Psa. 6:5).

But I hear someone ask: "Is not there a Hell?" We answer, sure there is. But the Bible Hell is not a place of conscious torment, by forked tail devils, or otherwise. The hell mentioned in the Bible is the condition of death, obliviation, the tomb, the grave, or in other words, it is a condition of non-existence. The only word in the Old Testament translated "hell" is the Hebrew word "sheol," and it is translated more times "grave" than it is translated "hell" and means the same thing in each instance. We give a few samples.

Jacob, weighted down with grief because of the supposed death of his son, Joseph, said: "I will go down to my son, Joseph, in Sheol (hell) mourning. (Gen. 37:35). Later when requested to send Benjamin to Egypt, he said: "My son, Benjamin, shall not go down with you to Egypt, for if evil befalls him you will bring down my gray hairs with sorrow to (sheol) hell." (Gen. 43:18). If hell means conscious torment in fire, we ask: How long would the gray hairs of Jacob last in such a place? Would God make the gray hairs immortal in order to torment them?

Job was a good and Godly man. After he had sugered the loss of all his earthly possessions, his children killed, his wife became his enemy, his neighbors taunted him because of his suffering, his body putrid with running sores, suffering bodily pain and mental anguish, in this awful condition he prayed that God might send him to hell. "O that thou wouldst hide me in hell (sheol) until thy wrath be passed." (Job 14:13). Does any sane person believe that Job prayed that he might go to a place to be tormented and suffer more agony than he was already suffering? If you were in his position, would you ask to go to a place where you would be tormented forever? Job then defines hell. He says, "If I wait hell is my house. I have made my bed in the darkness. Our rest is in the dust." (Job 17:13-16). If darkness, there could be no fire there. Again, he (Job) said concerning man, "His sons come to honor and he knoweth it not, they are brought low and he perceiveth it not." (Job 14: 21).

Jehovah, through his prophets, foretold that Jesus would go to hell, and he did. He went to the same hell to which the other dead go, and he was dead until the third day, when God raised him. Referring to him, the Psalmist wrote: "Thou wilt not leave my soul in hell." (Psalm 16: 10). This text is quoted, with approval, by the Apostle Peter in Acts torment, eternal in duration, thne it would have been impossible for Jesus to have gotten out, whereas the scriptures conclusively prove that he was raised on the third day.

The New Testament deals with the same "hell." As we know, the New Testament is translated from the Greek and the Greek word "hades" means the same as the Hebrew word "sheol." In the Revised Version of the New Testament the Greek word "hades" has been left untranslated. Evidently the translators were ashamed to translate it "hell" after the meaning of eternal torment had been attached to the word. Our common verson renders three different words in the New Testament "hell" and the people have long been taught by false bunches of preachers that these mean eternal torment or torture. In not a single instance, as is well known by every preacher, worth the name, and scholar, does the word "hell" as used in the Scriptures mean a place of conscious torment. Aside from the Greek word "hades" there are two other words from which the word "hell" is translated as appears in the New Testament; to wit: Gehenna and Tartarus. We will examine some text on each of these.

Addressing himself to the people of Capernaum, Jesus said: "And thou Capernaum, which are exaulted unto Heaven, shall be thrust down to "hell." (Luke 19:15). I hope no one is so foolish as to think of Capernaum, the proud city with its lands, houses and population in a place of eternal roasting. The people of Capernaum had been greatly favored and figuratively speaking, had been exalted highly in the standards of the peoples and nations, but because of their misuse of God's blessings, they were told by the Lord Jesus that they as a people should be thrust down to hades; that is to say, overthrown, destroyed, go into oblivion, or in other words that proud city was to be brought to a condition the same as though it had never existed. It is now a historic fact that Capernaum is so thoroughly buried in oblivion that not even the site where it stood is definitely known.

Jesus addressed the people of that time in parables or dark sayings, hence he used symbolic language as above stated. "All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables, and without a parable, spake he not unto them." (Matt. 13:34'. Again he said, 'Thou art Peter (Greek) "petros" a rock or stone one of the living stones—strong minded, of strong character) and upon this rock (Greek "petra," mass of rock, fundamental rock, truth; the great truth that Jesus is the Christ") I will build my church (composed of faithful followers like St. Peter) and the gates of hell (Greek "hades") shall not prevail against it." (Matt. 16:18).

Paraphrased we would understand these words to mean that Jesus established the church, which is his body, composed of many members (Co. 1: 18; 1 Cor. 12:12) and all the bitter and relentless persecution which has been the experience of his true followers throughout the Gospel Age and which has taken them down into hell, the grave, the same place where he went, should not prevail to her utter extermination, because in God's due time the Church would be brought forth in the first resurrection. (Rev. 20:6).

Again Jesus said, "I am he that liveth and was dead. Behold I am alive forevermore. Amen; and I have the keys of death and hell (hades, the grave) (Rev. 1:18). The keys means the power to unlock. Jesus' statement here is that He was dead, but now He has been raised and is alive forevermore and has the power to unlock the tomb, the grave, the condition of death, and bring forth the dead in the time of the resurrection.

"The lake of fire and brimstone" is several times mentioned in the book of Revelation, which all Christians admit to be a book of symbols. However, most of them, under the influence of the teachings of selfish and ignorant preachers, think and speak of this particular as a literal statement, and that it gives support to the eternal torment doctrine, notwithstanding the fact that the symbol is clearly defined as meaning the second death: "And death and hell was cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death .etc. (Rev. 20:14). It is sometimes spoken of as "a lake of fire burning with brimstone." (Rev. 20:14). The element brimstone being mentioned to intensify the symbol of destruction, the second death. Burning brimstone is one of the most deadly elements known. It is destructive to all forms of life. The symbolism of this lake of fire and brimstone is further shown by the fact that the symbolic beast and the symbolic false prophet and death and hell (hades) as well as the devil and all his followers are destroyed in it. (Rev. 19:20; 20:10, 14, 15.; 21:8).

Dear friends, I would be more than glad if some of these false teachers or their followers who believe in the "Lake of Fire and brimstone doctrine" to tell me who is going to keep the fires burning when the devil and all his followers are destroyed in the above mentioned lake? You You know the above cited scriptures plainly states that the Devil will be destroyed in that lake.

All the preachers worthy of the name know that this doctrine of eternal torment in a lake of fire and brimstone is absolutely false but because of their selfish interest (love of money and undeserved honors) they will not out with the truth.

Brother Parsons, take my advice, as one who loves you, if you will tell the truth, and come out for the truth bodily and live with your people. If you don't do this very soon you will find yourself backed in the corner by the demands of the people for the truth. If you wait until that condition is reached then the only thing that you could would be to get out as quickly as you can because the sight of you would become a stench to the mora lnostral of truth-loving people.

ARCADIA NEWS

Luther's basket ball girls played a snappy game here last Thursday afternoon, but in the last half, our girls by putting more "pep" in the game defeated Luther by a score of 15 to 13. But that El Reno game, Saturday evening in that white high school gym where our girls went down to the tune of 22 to 13. The gym floor at El Reno was simply too slick for our girls. They could hardly stand up. Then too, they were up against a speedy club. The game was noted for its peace and harmony. We have never met a more congenial and hospitable crowd of young women. Prof. J. T. King, coach of their club, needs to be congratulated and praised.

Mrs. W. T. Weaver spent Saturday and Sunday in Oklahoma City with her husband, who is operating a successful grocery store there.

Revs. Lewis and Nero filled the pulpit Sunday at the A. M. E. Church owing to the absence of Pastor Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews of Luther, were visitors here, Monday.

WILL THE DEAD LIVE AGAIN?

To those who accept the Bible as the word of God, the Creator and Finisher of all things, there is little difficulty in showing to them through the Bible the fact and philosophy of the Resurrection of the dead.

The faithful Job, after suffering great bodily pain and mental anguish, after praying that he might die and go to hell, the grave, and there rest in silence until the wrath of God be over passed, asked the question, "If a man dies, shall he live again?" (Job 14:14). Millions have asked this question since that time and had it been fairly treated and honestly answered by those, the preachers, who claim to teach the word of God, much sorrow would have been avoided in the earth.

According to statistics furnished, approximately nine million men were the victims of the great World War just past. Within that same period, twelve million fell victim to the great and dreadful pestilence "Spanish Influenza." For some years now in addition to this the average death rate, in the world, has been approximately one hundred thousand per day. When there is a great calamity and many people lose their lives, the peoples of the earth stand amazed and shocked, but in the daily routine of affairs death has become so common that many think it must always be this way. Most naturally the people have looked to something upon which they could base their hopes for the future for themselves and their loved ones. Truly this is an earth of sorrow, the sorrow of the people bowed down under the great burden of sin groaning and travailing for something that would deliver them from it. The Poet has well expressed it when he says:

"The Earth is old with centuries,
But not for this she hangs her head;
Closer to her heart the sorrow lies,
She holds so many dead."

From the bloody battle fields broken regiments have returned and some fathers, mothers and sweethearts have waited at the station and looked in vain for the coming of the one they have dearly loved and they have asked, "Shall we ever see him again" If they have fallen in the battle is there any hope of our being united again in happiness and love?" The Scriptures alone answer this question satisfactorily.

The hope of the world lies in the resurrection of the dead. Wonderfully beautiful is the doctrine of the resurrection of the dead and those who see and appreciate it rejoice in the fact that God, in the exercise of his loving kindness, has provided a means whereby those who have suffered death might be awakened again, and those waiting in sorrow may have their hearts made glad. "A voice was heard in Ramah, lamenting and bitter weeping. Rachel weeping for her children refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not. (They were dead, unconscious somewhere). Thus saith the Lord, refrain thy voice from weeping and thine eyes from tears, for thy works shall be rewarded saith the Lord, and they shall come again from the land of the enemy. And there is hope in the end, saith the Lord, That thy children shall come again to their own border." (Jer. 13: 15-17). Everywhere in the Bible, death is spoken of as an enemy. So the land of the enemy, therefore, is the condition of death. The promise here is that these dead shall be brought back to their own border, namely, the earth, their former condition. We here submit that if the doctrine of inherent immorality is correct, then there could be no resurrection of the dead, for the reason that you cannot resurrect a person who is immortal—death proof. Resurrection means a restanding to life and no one could be immortal without having life in its fullness. Hence the doctrine of inherent immortality of the soul denies the resurrection of the dead. We further state that if the doctrine of eternal torture is true the resurrection of the dead could not be true for the reason that no one could be eternally tortured without having eternal life, an existence indestructable, and is one is already in a state of life, the resurrection, would be utterly impossible. Thus we see that the doctrine of eternal torture is a plain denial of the doctrine of the resurrection of the dead. We further state that if the dead are conscious and can now communicate with the living friends through the influence of mediums, or otherwise, that the doctrine of resurrection could not be true, ofr the further reason that one who is conscious and able to communicate could not be resurrected to life because they would already have life. Hence the doctrine of Spiritualism or communication with the dead is a plain denial of the resurrection of the dead.

All these doctrines completely deny the great Ransom Sacrifice. The Ransom Sacrifice is the key note to every doctrine, as to whether or not it is true or false. In other words, it is the measuring rod by which every teaching can be measured and can be determined whether any doctrine is true or false. Thus we see that if the Bible teaches clearly and conclusively the resurrection of the dead and the doctrine of the great Ransom Sacrifice, the other doctrines of inherent immortality, eternal torment and spiritualism, are as false as the Devil himself, and this we will prove by the Scriptures.

Ransom means literally "a corresponding price." God created the first man Adam perfect in organism and character. He gave him his law the penalty of which prescribed death for its violation. He, Adam, violated the law and death came upon him. While under the sentence of death he begat children. He did not beget any children while in a perfect state and condition but after he had violated God's law and the sentence of death passed upon him and he was driven out of the garden. Being legally condemned and having the death process in him, and feeding upon the poisoneous elements of the earth, and being in a dying condition, necessarily Adam could not transmit to his offspring the perfect life gem. The race not being born until after Adam's sin would legally come under condemnation by inheritage. Therefore, all of Adam's progeny were born in sin, an imperfect condition.

Evidently this was David's thought when he said: "Behold I was shapen in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me." (Psa. 51:5). Every child born is imperfect, a sinner subject to death, not because of any wilful wrong doings on its part, but because the child inherited this condition from Father Adam. St. Paul Corroborates this when he says, "By one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin, and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned." (Rom. 5:12). Everyone dies, therefore, because he cannot avoid it, and this death would be eternal had not God graciously provided a ransom price or redemptive process. Jehovah made a promise, saying, "I will ransom them from the power of the grave, I will redeem them from death. Oh death! I will be thy plague: Oh! Grave, I will be thy destruction." (Hos. 13:14). Be it noticed here that he did not promise to redeem or ransom anyone from a conscious state of hell torture, but his promise is entirely consistant with all the other scripture, but the dead are dead and waiting the progressive steps of Jehovah's plans to awaken them out of death.

A perfect man (Adam) sinned. Nothing but a perfect man could redeem him. God provided in his Law, "A life for a life, a tooth for a tooth." Man has ever desired redemption and deliverance, but to carry this out for himself was an impossibility. Hence the Psalmist wrote: "None can by any means redeem his brother or give God ransom for him." (Psa. 49:7).

REV. E. L. LEWIS SPEAKS

Dear Mr. Editor:

Please allow space in your valuable paper for me to correct the error and also turn on the light a little in the way on an answer to an article of which I read in your last week's issue, written by the Rev. Mr. W. L. Bennett, pastor of New Hope Baptist Church of Sulphur.

Now, I, Rev. E. L. Lewis, wish to state that I am pastor of the First Baptist Church of Sulphur. It seems that the Rev. Bennett did not know or believe that I would not be the pastor of tihs church had the people not have chosen me. Whatever the name of the church may be or he may call it, and I furthermore say, that as a pastor, I know nothing of the church's politics or the form of government of the past days in which the Reverend spoke of. But we do know as real First Baptist, what the name o four church is, and do not have to take the time to write or ask what it is, and I do know that I have a right to the pastorate because the members called me and because they say I am worthy and qualified to serve them, and when their pastor does not favorably serve them the deacons will purpet a move and call a minister who will serve and love the church, and not always finding fault or writing to find out about their church politics. However, since we are finding those kind of D. D. S., the Rev. W. L. Bennett's writing is for that we would not like to receive it.

Rev. E. L. Lewis wishes to say here that we have a church lot given to us by Brother Jene Wilkerson, and we are glad to say that we will begin to build in the spring of 1922. Take note of this.

Rev. E. L. Lewis, pastor of First Baptist Church of Sulphur.

BERWYN NEWS

Grandma Cornelia Childs, who has been ill for more than six moths, died Dec. 20. She was buried at Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Rev. B. B. Givens, of Purgell, Okla., her ex-pastor, officiating. Mrs. Childs was a native of Georgia and was 72 years, 7 mo. and 7 days old at the time of her death. She was known throughout this community by both black and white as a mother doctor for all the people. She never failed to go to the relief of suffering humanity. Money or no money, she went just the same. Her many friends are planning to erect a monument at her grave in honor of her. She lived a good, faithful, Christian life and was a member of Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church. She leaves to mourn her death a husband, Rev. Henry Childs, and the following children: Mr. C. S. Childs of Pilot Point, Texas; J. B. Kirks, W. B. Childs, H. C. Childs, Jim Childs, R. M. Childs, Miss Lilla Childs, all of Berwyn, and Miss Addie M. Childs of Sulphur, Okla., and a number of grand children, together with a host of friends. All of the children were present at her death.

The Christmas tree at Mt. Pleasant school on the 22nd was a fine one. Prof. and Mrs. M. A. Guest did everything they could to make it what it ought to be. Together with the tree, Mr. Roy M. Johnson, our county commissioner, gave every child in our school a nice present. The good people of Mt. Pleasant highly appreciate this great gife. Hon. Roy Johnson has done something that no other commissioner in this county has ever done. We hope for him a success in his term of office.

Our school will open again on Jan. 2, 1922. We are looking for all the children to be present.

ALL THE NEWS FROM THE BLACK JACK HILLS AND VALES OF OKLAHOMA

Richard J. Hill's Weekly Article

NOTICE!

To the dear readers of the Black Dispatch who love the truth and have learned to look forward with interest to the articles written by Richard J. Hill on the various phases of the plan of God; this notice is to inform you that those articles will not appear any more soon for the reason that the various writings of the past and up to the present have been the result of a personal sacrifice on the part of the writer, both physically and financially. I am not either physically or financially able to continue these writings at present.

The Tulsa Race Riot caused the writer to over exert himself along both physical and financial lines.

It may be that if there is sufficient interest in these articles manifested by the people over the country, the Lord would open the way for further sacrificing.

If any of you desire that I talk to you in person, in your church or your school, you may write me and I will do all I can to come and serve you without money or price ir if I cannot come myself, would try and have someone else of like precious faith serve you.

May the Lord bless you and keep you in the love of the truth.

Richard J. Hill.

P. S. You may write me as follows: Richard J. Hill, Route 6, Box 240, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

CHICKASHA JOURNAL

FREDERICK SPARKS

Sunday, Jan. 1, was a great day at St. John Baptist Church.

Rev. J. W. Perkins of Muskogee, came in time. He heeded the Macedonian cry and five were added to the church, one for baptism. Sunday school was good at the churches. The B. Y. P. U. services were excellent. Sunday night, the church was packed to its capacity and Rev. Perkins spared no pains in delivering the message. His text was: "Every man to his place." Our hearts were made to burn while he talked to us by the way. Rev. Perkins simply knows just how to bring things to pass. We are proud of this God-sent man.

The "Smoker," given by the K. of P. Lodge, was a decided success. Two splendid addresses were made by Prof. A. J. Kirkpatrick and Rev. C. C. Clark. A nice luncheon was served with plenty of everything mentionable.

TATUMS, OKLA.

Last Tuesday and Tuesday night the Masons held their annual celebration and a banquet at night. This was probably the grandest disply the Masons have ever engaged in at Tatums. At 1:00 p. m., Worshipful Master, J. C. Collins, ordered the brotherhood to prepare for the parade from the hall at the High School to Bethel Baptist Church, where a sermon and lecture by Revs. Norwood and Givens were delivered. The procession marched to the music of the Tatums Band, which added much to the joy of the day by playing some of their choicest selections as we marched in regalia, suitable to the occasion. The band also furnished music at night. Too much praise cannot be given our boys for their efforts to make everything pleasant for all who were present.

The committee spared no pains in making everything pleasant and everybody welcome who helped to make up the crowded audience at Bethel. A very seasonable luncheon was spread and everybody went away feeling happy, after having enjoyed themselves to the highest.

The Tatums Band gave a concert at the Franklin School last Saturday night and all present report a delightful time. This band is getting to be very popular and more invitations are being extended to them to give their enjoyable concerts than they are able to fill, due to the fact that most of the boys are attending school.

Mrs. Slaughter postponed her concert until next Friday night, Jan. 6, as the band concert was given last Friday night. This will be the best concert ever staged at Tatums High school, and if you fail to come out, you will miss some of the pleasures of mirth that you will have need to regret. The curtains will rise at 8 p. m., and the greatest comedy of the season, "All a Mistake," will begin. Admission 10 and 15 cents.

Mr. Clay Stevens and wife, of Ardmore, and a sister from ——, were over to visit with the McConnell's, his wife's parents. They were family guests New Years Day.

Miss D. Alexander returned New Years Day from a visit with her mother during the holidays. She reports a delightful trip and an enjoyable time.

We are proud to state that last week was very quiet in our city, an unusual thing here during Christmas week. Our laws should be complimented for their vigalence in keeping an eye open to everything that will make for the peaceful protection of our citizens.

MILO NEWS

Christmas and New Year days passed off very quietly. On New Years night, quite a large number attended watch meeting at St. Paul. Rev. A. C. Stevenson, ex-pastor, preached an able sermon.

Saturday and Sunday were regular conference days at St. Paul. On Sunday, services were well attended and each one seemed to have a more determined desire to do more actual church work in the New Year.

Mrs. Amanda Abram is visiting her daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fuhr of Oklahoma City.

The public school opened Monday with good attendance and several parents were out with Prof. Brown in New Years work of the school.

On Thursday evening, Dec. 29, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gant entertained a host of young people at their residence with a most timely reception. The evening was delightfully spent and enjoyed by all. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Claud Nero, Mr. and Mrs. Manley Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Algie Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Al Williams, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Groner; Waiters: Misses Cordelia Stevenson and Myrtle Joseph.

Let everyone keep up their subscription in the New Year.

EL RENO, OKLA.

Services were well attended at Mt. Moriah Baptist Church. Rev. P. L. aCrter, the pastor, delivered the gospel message in both services. All present seemed to enjoy the truths told by him. All the auxiliaries of the church are in harmonious working order.

Sunday school at 10 o'clock, was well attended. The annual election of officers and teachers for the ensuing year was duly carried out, Great things have been planned for the future.

The B. Y. P. U. is gradually growing; more and more interest is beingg manifested.

The Young People's Program, rendered on Friday night last, was quite a success. The social given in connection with it was also a success. Both were given under the auspices of the Sunday school. The quartet contest between the young ladies and young men deserve special note. The music of each was greatly enjoyed. The judges decided that the young ladies' quartet, composed of Misses Juanita Nicholson, Ruby Fowler, Oretha Harris and Mildred Fowler, was the best and they received the prize

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. King were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, W. Foreman street, Christmas Day. These good people are very hospitable to visitors. A very elaborate dinner was served. Mrs. Smith is to be congratulated for her exceptional ability as a cook.

The home of Mrs. Nannie Bonner was the scene of another sumptious Christmas dinner, Monday, Dec. 26, at 2:30 p. m., at which time Mr. and Mrs. J. T. King were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bonner. Rev. ## "BATOUALA" WINS GONCOURT PRIZE IN PARIS

French Black In Literary Sensation Pleads For Brotherhood, Says All Whites Play With Black Man Like Cat With A Rat

(By the Associated Negro Press)

The Literary Sensation of the Times is the recent awarding of the enormous Goncourt prize to Rene Maran. The Associated Negro Press, therefore, reproducing the following Paris dispatch which came to the New York World:

PARIS, Dec. 7.—Few literary events have created such a stir as the winning of the Edmond de Goncourt prize by Rene Maran, the Negro writer, with his novel "Batouala." Maran himself will probably be the last person in the world to learn of his success, for he is now in the wilds of equatorial Africa, three days march from Lake Chad.

In a recent leter Maran told a friend in Paris his only neighbors are nine white men who are scattered among the native villages within the vast area under their administration. Hyenas and panthers prowl each night around Maran's lonely hut at Fort Archambault, where he was sent in disgrace recently for his too outspoken criticism of the white man's methods in the colonies.

Avowedly the apostle of his own race, Maran's book is not the passionate presentation of the cause of the denizens of the Dark Continent, which might be supposed, although he pleads in a vehement preface for kinder treatment of his Colored zrothers by the French colonial functionaries. Maran does not flatter these dusky inhabitant of the African brush. On the contrary, he portrays in the crudest colors their hideous vices ;the sordid existence of masses who think only of sleeping, hunting, eating and women.

Sincerity Marks Book.

"Batouala" is the story of the love drama of ajungle chief, with all the primitive elements, deceit, jealousy, intrigue, hate, community to all humanity in every clime, kindled to unbridled ferocity beneath the glare of the African sun. In the book vivid descriptions abound of villages, orgies, feasts, hunts and native ceremonies in Ubanghi. Probably it is his very sincerity that makes Maran's book one which marks an epoch.

In his story of about 20,000 words, Maran tells of the chieftan Batouala's eighth wife, who for long refused to go the way of her seven sisters and accept the embraces of the sixteen year old casanova, Bissibingui. Ultimately the eighth wife weakens but Batouala arrives and vows vengeance on Bissibingui. This is to be a long planned affair. "The white sees red whereas hate is a long patience you must put everything at the disposal of your enemy. Give him the best of times."

The particular end chosen for Bissibingui is to be eaten by a panther, but the panther springs on Batouala instead and his eighth wife proceeds to live with Bissibingui many weeks beside the dying chieftain. In his delirium the latter speaks once more his mind against the whites, their lying cruelty, want of logic, and hypocrisy.

Pleads for Brotherhood.

There were no whites, no blacks; all are brothers, he says. One should not steal nor beat a neighbor. War and savagery were one. And blacks were compelled to go away to fight the battles of the whites under pain of being hanged.

When in the full bloom of health, Batouala always railed at the whites, laughing at their suffering from the heat, mosquitos, scorpions and flies, their colored spectacles and the baskets on their heads, and he professed disgust at the cadaver oder emanating from their bodies. "The whites! Only their malignity and knowledge made them terrible. What matter if they be Germans or French? Both play with us like a cat with a mouse, finally devouring us. As we must be killed why wish for others than the French to kill us?

"I remember when our people lived peaceably, smoking ,eating, drinking, sleeping, loving. Then came the came the whites.

"The only useful thing they ever brought were absinthe and the bed. They followed us and would impose their customs on us. No more gambling no more drinking, no more dancing, unless we paid. Pay always.

"Of the money we earned we are only allowed to take a particle. We became taxed flesh. What had we to expect of a race which had no heart? The whites even abandoned the children they had from black women.

White Women Worse Than Black.

"As for white women, we had believed them to be precious matter. As easy to win as black women and more venal, they possessed vices our women had no inkling of. And we were asked to respect them!

"We are only beasts of burden. Not even that; the whites feed their dogs and horses. We are less than animals, less than the lowest. Slowly they kill us.

"They treat us as liars. Our lies deceive no one. If sometimes we embellish the truth it is because the latter is unsatisfactory. They lie as methodically as they breathe; hence their superiority.

Maran's only law is instinct without inhibitions; western morality is unnatural and whites display viciousness shocking to the native. In his preface the author instances a village where the population has sunk from 10,000 to 1,000 in the last seven years. This, he says, is everywhere the case since the whites came, bringing drink and disease and compelling the ease-loving native to toil incessantly.

Civilization Built on Corpses.

"But what does it matter? Only that those who fail to adapt themselves to civilization disappear. Civilization, your are building your kingdom on corpses. You are no flame but a furnace. Everything you touch you consume."

Maran is now writing a volume entitled, "A Black Looks on the Whites."

His own countrymen although proud of his success are unanimoue in their disapproval of "Batouala," which according to the Colored deputy, Diagne, will cause "more than 100,000 white men to form an unfavorable opinion of the Colored people whose vices Maran reveals."

Many people in Paris are curious to learn the effect of this Colored man's triumph on American opinion.

McALESTER, OKLA.

The Christmas program "carrying Christ to every child," was carried out effectively, Monday night, Dec. 26, at King's Chapel M. E. Church. A good audience witnessed the childen's activity in the rendition of the program. Opening hymn: "It came upon the midnight clear;" Antiphonal reading by the Euperintendent; prayer for the children of the world, led by the pastor.

Love of Wagoner, Okla., delivered an able sermon Sunday night to an appreciative audience. Visitors are always welcome. The stone for the church is on the ground and work will soon start. School opens Monday. The teachers are all here ready for work. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Glass are the proud parents of a nine-pound girl. Mr. Glass is all smiles. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rider of Muskogee, Okla., were in the city a few days ago and visited Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Hunigan. Prof. and Mrs. J. O. Spencer of Nowata, Okla., were in the city Saturday. The death of Rev. J. H. Value, state missionary of Kansas, was very shocking to his many friends. Rev. Voulue had been in poor health for some time. He died in Los Angeles, Calif., where he had gone to attend the National Baptist Convention. The Baptists of Kansas have lost a faithful minister and one whom we feel had really been called to preach. We bow our heads in humble submission. Words fail to express our heart-felt sympathy toward the bereaved family, whose members now mourn the loss of one so dear to us as a friend and brother. Mr. and Mrs. O. Reddin and family, of Cherryvale, Kans., motored down and spent a few hours here visiting relatives.

INDEPENDENCE, KANSAS

Our pastor, Rev. R. D. Gatewood, preached a soul-stirring sermon Sunday morning. Three additions were made to the church. Collection for the day was $18.00. He preached another good sermon at 8 p. m. Every department of our church is doing fine. It seems as if a revival has broken out at St. John M. E. church.

vention to be held in Muskogee. Mrs. S. S. Higgs spent Sunday in Paris, the guest of Mrs. C. Tuttle. Mrs. Joe Austin left Sunday for points in Texas. Mr. F. P. Williams is in Ft. Towson for a few days. Mrs. A. L. Jackson was hostess to a double birthday party for her daughters, Misses Geiola and Gwenith Barfield, whose birth days are fortunate to fall on the same date. All the guests report this quite an enjoyable occasion. Rev. and Mrs. M. P. Sheppard passed through the city enroute to Ft. Worth to attend the National Convention. Their friends wish for them an enjoyable trip.

ANTLERS DOTS

Sunday school was well attended at both the Baptist and the Church of God churches, Sunday. Bro. J. M. Moody is a live wire in the Baptist church. We need more good families in this vicinity. We have one of the best schools in this section. Prof. R. T. James, our principal, is an educator and his morals fit him for the place. All parents are requested to send their children to school. Mr. Dave Guy, Elmore Colbert and Lenord Lyles returned from Muskogee where they have been visiting relatives and friends for the past month. Mr. G. H. Watson of Poteau, passed through here enroute to Hugo, Okla., and points in Texas. Mrs. Ida Guy is all smiles since Mr. Guy is at home again. Mr. B. J. Johnson and little daughter, Elizabeth, are on the sick list this week. See Master Harry P. Holman for the Black Dispatch every Saturday.

WRIGHT CITY LOCALS

Mrs. Ella Love our efficient teacher, will begin her school Monday morning. Miss Estelle Jackson entertained Thursday night with a "hobo" party. It was an enjoyable and unique affair. Oak Grove B. Y. P. U. entertained a goodly number Saturday night. The groups had as their special guests, Mesdames Ford, Williams, Dunlap of Idabel. Mrs. Ella Scott visited in Idabel Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Thompson, our state missionary, spoke to a crowded house Wednesday night. Mrs. A. Smith has returned from Gibb, La., where she visited her mother.

GRANT NEWS

Miss Johnson of Weatherford, Texas, who has been visiting Mrs. Morris, has returned to her home. Revival services have been going on at St. Paul M. E. church for several days. Mrs. A. Ward left Monday for Arkadelphia, Ark., to attend the Presbyterian meeting. Mrs. Inez Jackson of Virgil, Okla., is visiting Mrs. Marshall Fulbright. Rev. Johnson has begun revival services at New Bethany Baptist church. Rev. Cornell, the district superintendent of the M. E. church, preached a wonderful sermon at St. Paul M. E. church Sunday night. Mrs. Sammie Ward reported having a nice time while visiting her children in Sapulpa, Okla. Rev. Johnson spent Sunday night at the Dillard home. Mr. and Mrs. Willie Asbury of Hugo, were visitors in Grant Sunday. Misses Annie and C. McCullough of Clarksville, Texas, are visiting in Grant.

LAWTON NOTES

Sunday, Sept. 2, was a high day at Barnett Chapel A. M. E. church. At the close of the Sunday school convention at Grant Chapel, Dr. J. E. Toombs, the presiding elder, called a halt and said all aboard for the mother church, Barnett Chapel, to hold his third quarterly conference. The pastor had everything ready and his good members were waiting for orders to march. Sunday school at 11 a. m. was good. The Presiding Elder preached a great sermon. The Holy Ghost witnessed the services. At 3 p. m., Rev. Mattox, pastor of the First Baptist church, preached a great sermon. Rev. R. D. Murphy stayed over with the presiding elder and delivered a great sermon at night. On Monday night a great quarterly conference was held. Mrs. Pearl Lewis has returned from Ft. Worth, Texas, where she has been visiting her husband, Mr. Clifton Lewis. Mr. Chas. Tippon and family left Saturday for points in Oklahoma. Mr. Hubert L. Lewis left Wednesday for Hollis, Oklahoma, to attend to business. Mrs Ida Mills, who has been here attending to business and visiting friends, will leave Monday for San Francisco, Calif. Rev. and Mrs. E. D. Parker have returned from the board meeting at Chickasha, and report a nice time. The members of Macedonia Baptist church, gave Mrs. Parker 25 jars of fruit and many other good things. Services were well attended at the Galilee Baptist church. Sunday school was good. At 11 o'clock, Rev. E. D. Parker gave an inspiring lecture. At 5 p. m. B. Y. P. U. was well attended. At 8 p. m. Rev. Parker preached a scul-stirring sermon from John 8:12. One addition was made to the church. Everybody is asked to help Galilee in her five hundred dollar rally, which will close the second Sunday in November.

Woe, Woe, Woe, Unto All False Teachers

The true prophets of old were to Israel what the true preachers are to Christendom, and as it was the duty of the prophets of old to cry out against the false teachers of their time, so it is the duty of every true preacher to cry out against the false ones of today.

The basis for the first part of our remark will be found in Ezekiel 34:1-11: "And the word of the Lord came unto me saying, Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds, preachers, of Israel, prophesy and say unto them, thus saith the Lord God unto the shepherds; woe to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves! should not the shepherds feed the flock? Ye eat the fat (no rent houses and church collections) and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill them that are fed (discourage and kill the spiritual growth of those who have the truth) but ye feed not the flock. The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost: but with force and with cruelty have ye ruled them. And they were scattered because there is no shepherd: and they became meat to all the beast of the field, when they were scattered. (God's true sheep are scattered in all the different denominations of the world today because of the selfish schemes of these false shepherds. The true Christians are starved and crying for soul-satisfying food—not for bread or water, but for hearing the word of God.—Amos 8:11). My sheep wandered thru all the mountains, and none did search or seek after them. Therefore ye shepherds, hear the word of the Lord: As I live, saith the Lord God, surely because my flock become a and my flock become meat for every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds, preachers, search for my flock, but the shepherds feed themselves, and feed not my flock therefore O ye (false) shepherds, hear the word of the Lord....."Thus saith the Lord God; behold I am against the shepherds; and I will require my flock at their hands, and cause them to cease from feeding the flock; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves anymore; for I will deliver my flock from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them." (O what a time will that be when thousands of over-fed and underworked, big, lazy, scheming preachers will have to earn their own living and get off the backs of millions of poor ignorant but honest-hearted people). "For thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out." (God is going to free his people from these false systems and put all false teachers out of business.)

Listen what the Lord Jesus has to say about these false teachers. They were called scribes and pharisees in his day, but are called preachers and teachers in our time::

"Woe unto you, scribes and pharisees (preachers) for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation—condemnation." (Will receive greater punishment in this evil time—between this and the end of 1925). "Woe unto you, scribes and pharisees for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte and when he is made, ye make him two-fold more the child of hell than yourselves (that is to say, these false preachers make a great show in getting converts and when they get them the preachers stuff them so full of false doctrine concerning God's plane that the convert is in a worse fix than before his conversion, because a person who has his head filled with a wrong interpretation of scripture is in a worse fix than one who knows little or nothing about the Bible.) Mat. 23:14-15—Let us hear our Lord Jesus again in His rebuke of these false preachers: "Ye blind guides which strain at a gnat and swallow a camel." "Woe unto you scribes and pharisees, hypocrites; for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess. Matt. 23:24-25 (Extortion and excess means obtaining things from others under color of right and obtaining more than one has a right to. The thought is that these false preachers under color of right are obtaining money and honors which they have no right to.) The basis for the rest of our remark is found in Matt. 23:26-39. "Thou blind pharisee, cleanse first that which is in the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be cleansed also. Woe unto you scribes and pharisees, hypocrites; for ye are like whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones and of all uncleanness. Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity." "Woe unto you scribes and phairsees, hypocrites! because ye build tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous, and say if we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. (The great majority of these false preachers will boldly declare that they would not have persecuted the prophets, the Lord Jesus and the apostles and yet at the time they will gnash their teeth and say all manner of evil against an humble Bible Student who is guilty of nothing but trying to show the people the truth.) Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, ye are the children of them which kill the prophets. Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers. Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation (condemnation) of hell (destruction). "Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets and wise men, and scribes and some of them ye shall kill and crucify; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues (punish by speaking evil of them in your church houses) and persecute them from city to city. (The Bible Students are persecuted and are about as popular in the cities and churches of the world today as the prophets, the Lord Jesus and his apostles were in their days.)

"That upon you (untruthful preachers) may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Able unto the blood of Zacharias, son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the alter." (The false preachers are to receive the greatest punishment of all people in the world during the day of God's reckoning which is now even at the door). "Verily I say unto you, all these things shall come upon this generation (the generation upon the earth and actively engaged in these sinful practices since 1914). Jesus is the head of the true church and all consecrated Christians who are following in His steps are members of His body. Jerusalem is a type of Christendom and what the head, Jesus pronounced upon Jerusalem His feet members are authorized to pronounce upon the great church systems of today.

"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not; (You false preachers have never permitted God's sheep to all come together in one band and serve God in union, but instead you false teachers have divided them into hundreds of sects for your own selfish purposes; now because of this state of condition God has decreed to destroy the whole fabris of Christendom.) "Behold, your house is left unto you desolate. For I say unto you ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord."

Just as the Lord Jesus was not known or recognized except by the few of the Jews whose hearts were in the right condition, so it is with the true Christian of today. They are unknown to the proud and boastful of Christendom, but mark you well, the time is not far distant when the whole world will know the true Christians and also they will soon recognize the false teachers.

I regret to say that I have been reliably informed that there are some would-be ministers who have stooped to the low-down act of trying to prevent the people from giving heed to the teachings of the International Bible Students and also trying to stop them from buying books from the Bible Students and also some have stooped to the act of burning or destroying the books. No Christian would be guilty of such acts. All honest hearted ministers will agree with me in what I am saying and all who do not agree with me mark themselves as being everything else but a Christian.

Virgin Island Editor Tells Need of People

Asks That Panama Canal Precedent Be Applied to Islands to Avert Starvation and Suffering.

(Crusader Service)

ST. THOMAS, V. I., Sept. 10.—The following article was written specially for the Crusader Service and the newspapers it serves by the Hon. Rothschild Francis, noted editor and member of the local legislature, outlining the situation in these islands and the thoughts of the people as to how the wide-spread suffering can be eliminated and the ancient prosperity won back for the inhabitants of these new United States possessions:

After making a review of the interest manifested in behalf of our people through the liberal press of this nation, we deem it fit and expedient to explain what could be done to bring immediate relief to our present economic plight.

Tit. 111-Sec. 20; of the Volstead Act says: "That it shall be uniawful to import or introduce into the Canal Zone, or to manufacture, sell, give away, dispose of, transport, or have in one's possession or under one's control within the Canal one, any alcoholic, fermented, brewed, distilled, vinous, malt or spiritous liquors, except sacramental, scientific, pharmaceutical, industrial or medicinal purposes, under regulations to be made by the President, and any such liquors within the Canal one in violation hereof shall be forfeited to the United States and seived; Provided, That this section shall not apply to liquor in transit through the Panama Canal or on the railroad.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, was known as a port of call to the shipping of the world for over two centuries. Situated as it is 1440 miles southeast of New York and 1025 miles northeast of Colon, in the direct route of ships from Europe and America to the Spanish Main. In recognizing its strategic importance as a shipping center it was made a free port of call—ships entered at any time, day or night, and received immediate despatch.

At present, St. Thomas, V. I. of U. S., is equipped with cargo docks, large warehouses, oil tanks, a floating dock, a marine repairing slip, coaling stations with electrically operated cranes that despatch 300 tons and over per hous, excellent facilities for repair to ships, a wireless station, cable lines in all parts of the world, efficient telephone service, electric lighting system and a clean little city. Yet with all these facilities our harbor is empty, the shipping of the world passes by and we are left alone with nothing to do.

We beg to suggest that the Panama Canal Precedent be made applicable to St. Thomas as a port of call and that it be so considered especially by all American shipping.

As a winter resort, St. Thomas stands without an equal. The climate is an even one. Our picturesque hills, bays and inlets offer unrivalled opportunities for hotels and sanitariums.

We would suggest that immediate attention be given to the improving of roads, water supply system and also the dredging of our harbor as means towards the general uplife of this community.

GEORGIA MOB KILLS ONE AND WOUNDS ANOTHER

(Crusader Service)

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 11.—One Negro was killed and one wounded early today when a band of white men dashed through East Savannah, a suburb and fired into homes in the colored colony.

The dead Negro is Moses Monroe. Walter Young was wounded by a bullet in the leg. About 75 shots were fired by the white mobbists.

JERSEY YOUTHS, IN KLAN TOWN, HELD IN KILLING

Two White Boys Accused of Burning Brother and Playmate at Stake.

(Crusader Service)

BELMAR, N. J., Sept. 2.—Two white boys, one 17, the other 18, were held without bail after a preliminary hearing today on a charge of emulating, at too early an age and on members of the wrong race, the most Christian practice of lynching of these highly civilized United States. The boys are accused of burning at the stake, real American style, two other boys, one of whom was a brother of the elder prisoner, and the other a chum. Richard Foreman, 17, and Caleb Hubbard, 18, are to wait until the autumn grand jury decides whether to indict them for the incineration of Charles Spindler, 11, and William Hubbard, 10.

Both boys were found on the ground some distance from the burning trees to which they had been bound.

"Dickey Foreman tied me," one of the dying boys cried, according to one of the witnesses. Cook Howland, borough manager of Belmar, the only witness to offer direct accusation against the prisoners, said that William Hubbard, in his dying words, named them.

WIDOW OF ATTY. J. WELFRED HOLMES GIVEN IMPORTANT POSITION IN COUNTY

(Preston News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 11.—Mrs. Alice Holmes, widow of the late Attorney J. Welfred Holmes, received appointment to a position of clerkship in the office of the Assessment and Revision of Taxes for Allegheny County. Mrs. Holmes, an active worker in the Allegheny County Colored Women's Republican Club, says that she owes her appointment largely to the influence of this organization. This is the first time in the history of the county that such a responsible position has been given to any person of color. Mrs. Holmes says:

"I owe my appointment to this position, first to the potency of the women's organization and the untiring efforts of our president, Mrs. Daisy E. Lampkins, and secondly to the broadmindedness of the County Commissioners, Messrs. Gumbert and Cain. I do not think that the question of my ability to fill the position creditably entered into the case, however, I shall not let the race fail for lack of ability." Mrs. Holmes is very modest, but it is the concensus of opinion that she got the position on sheer merit and ability.

ARKANSAS HOLDS TENNESSEEAN FOR DEATH OF NEGRO

(Preston News Service)

MARION, Ark., Sept. 8.—B. H. Sawyer, a prominent and wealthy lumberman from Memphis, is held under a $1,250 bond, to answer to a charge of murder in connection with the death of a Negro pedestrian who was struck by an automobile while walking on the highway near this city.

Rev. J. F. Felix has just organized a Baptist church out west of town and has a nice membership. Messrs. R. M. Butts and W. M. Baccus motored to Eufaula on business Monday. Mr. L. W. Presley made a short visit to our littel town Saturday. Mrs. Nina B. Shands, who has been lingering for some time on her bed of affliction, was invited into her new home in Glory last Saturday morning about 7 o'clock. She leaves a husband, five children, a mother, sisters, brothers and a host of friends to mourn her death. Mr. C. J. Wright of Boley, was in town a few days last week. Mrs. Rena Shelton, who has been visiting her brother in Kansas City, Mo., erturned Sunday. She reports a pleasant vacation. A supper will be given at the A. M. E. church Saturday night.

PONCA CITY SKETCHES

Churches of the city held Sunday school at usual hour Sunday with good atendance. Mr. and Mrs. Davis of 523 N. 9th street, are the glad parents of a fine baby, born Monday. The Ponca City Lodge No. 26, Mason, met last Thursday night to listen to a special lecture by Grand Master W. S. Webber of Hartshorne. C. C. Cooplin, J. B. Boone and P. Owens of Okmulgee were visitors. Mr. Boone and Mr. Cooplin of Cushing, Okla., are members of Lodge No. 26 in Cushing. A special supper was given Sept. 20 by the Eastern Stars at the home of the W. M., Mr. Scott, at 700 S. 6th street. All brothers and visitors were made welcome and they report a lovely time. Mrs. Carpenter of 535 N. 9th street, is in Oklahoma City this week attending the State Fair. Prof. Chas. Carpenter assumed his duties as teacher on the 17th. See Eddie L. Holleman for the Black Dispatch.

LANGSTON LOCALS

Mrs. Daisy Jones has recently returned from a vacation trip to Muskogee. Mrs. Cox and Quinton Jordan have returned from a vacation trip to Okmulgee. Mrs. Cox also attended the National Baptist Convention at Houston, Texas. Mrs. Alexander Morris is at home and feeling some better. The Hutchinson boy from across the river, was shot and dangerously wounded Saturday night at a picnic. Mr. W. A. Giddings, Mr. Lewis and Mr. Jones, all of Oklahoma City, were Langston visitors Sunday and motored back to the city Sunday evening. We hope to have them visit us again soon. There will be a bazaar given at the A. M. E. church, Sept. 27, 28, 29, for the benefit of the church.

MERIDIAN NEWS

Mrs. Glenn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cox, who live in Los Angeles, Calif., has returned home after an extended visit with her parents. Mrs. Glenn says that California is the garden spot of the world. Mr. Boyd, a long time citizen of this community, passed to the Great Beyond last week. All of the children were here at his bedside to see the last of their father. He left a devoted wife and several children, together with a host of friends to mourn his death. Mrs. Buford's daughter, Vassar, and Miss Cooper of near Langston, attended services here Sunday. Mrs. Sylvester Reed, who has been visiting in California, returned Sunday night, to the delight of her many friends, and reports a pleasant trip. The farmers are very busy these days gathering cotton. Rev. McGrew was out and at his post of duty at St. Paul church. He preached a soul-stirring sermon. Do not forget your copy of the Black Dispatch at Brown's.

GIBSON STATION NOTES

Sunday school was good at both churches, St. John Baptist and the C. M. E. churches. Preacning was good at the C. M. E. church. The pastor delivered noble sermons both day and night. Mrs. Addie Love died Monday and her funeral was held by the Rev. C. M. Davis, pastor.

KINGFISHER COUNTY FREE FAIR

Kingfisher County Free Fair which was held at the city park of Kingfisher, Sept. 19-22, was well attended and was a big success in every way. The colored exhibits from all over the county were very creditable and won many prizes. Douglass High school made a fine showing with a beautifully decorated booth in which were displayed several pieces from the domestic are and manual training departments. The domestic art exhibit included a liberty dress form, which drew a first prize ribbon. In fact, the pieces from both departments were literally bedecked with first and second prize ribbons. The fair visitors made many favorable comments on the work done in these two departments. The home economics department of Douglass school is under the supervision of Miss Afla Hutchison and the manual training department under Mr. C. E. King.

POTEAU NOTES

Master Frank M. Smith, who is in Kansas attending high school, writes his mother, Mrs. Nancy Smith, that he is doing fine. Miss T. Record spent the evening with her cousin, Mrs. N. C. Watson, last Wednesday. The A. M. E. people have put on a revival. The B. Y. P. U. was good last Sunday; Mr. J. W. Roberson, president. The duet by Misses Jessie and Bessie Record, was fine. Miss C. A. R. Grant, one of the teachers of Flipper-Key-Davis University, made a lecture to the Baptist Sunday school Sunday, which was enjoyed by all. Master Osborne and little Miss Clara Wade are in Hugo. Mrs. W. D. Cooper is in Kansas City. Mrs. A. McClinton has returned home from several points in Arkansas, where she went to visit relatives. Mrs. L. B. Alexander will not open school until the building is completed. Rev. C. R. Randon and Rev. Flemons were dinner guests of Mrs. O. E. Grigsby while in the city. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kilgore and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Grant were in Spiro attending the C. M. E. Sunday school convention. Little Miss Estella Harris, who has been in Ft. Smith under care of a physician, has returned home.

PERRY NOTES

Sunday was a high day at all the churches. Rev. W. T. Brewer preached two soul-stirring sermons morning and night. Sunday was rally day at the Holliness for their new church on which they will start work next week. Rev. Combs of the Prospect Baptist church, was at his post Sunday. The Blaine school is taking on more pupils every day. The manual training boys have a fine new set of tools. Mrs. Fannie McNeal, who has been on the sick list for quite a while, is not improving much. See Willia Mae Hayes for the Black Dispatch.

BROOKSVILLE NEWS

Services at the various Sunday schools were good. Rev. J. B. Murphy, pastor of the A. M. E. church, returned from Konawa, where he has been conducting a revival. He reports quite a success. The Epworth League was well attended Sunday evening. Several good talks were made by Deacon Larkins, Rev. F. J. Jackson, Mr. James Hicks Williams and others. Prof. G. W. D. Bivens electrified the audience by his wonderful discussion of the Christian soldier. The Cotton Growers' Association will meet Tuesday night in the auditorium at Banneker school. The A. M. E. church will hold their quarterly conference on the 29th and 30th. Rev. Toombs will preside. Everybody is invited to attend. The citizens of Brooksville are very much disappointed at not having an opportunity to vote on the School Amendment, Oct. 2. We hope this amendment will in the future become a law. Mrs. A. B. Sayles is still improving. See Geo. H. Bivens for the Black Dispatch.

Watch All Persons Opposed to Teachings of Pastor Russell; They Are Your Worst Enemies

More than forty years ago Pastor Russell, through a proper interpretation of the Bible, told the world what to look for in 1914—a great world war, which as he explained it, would be the evidence of the beginning of the ending of the old order of things. He further showed that following 1914 there would be nothing upon the earth but distress of nations with perplexity and men's hearts failing them for fear and for looking at things coming upon earth. Luke 21:26. In all candor I ask you did we have a great war in 1914? and have we seen any distress of nations since 1914, and do we see any of those things now? He further showed that this condition would continue until about the end of 1925 when a total collapse of the present order will take place and a large part of humanity go into death. He also shows that following this great time of trouble the great work of rebuilding and restoring the earth and blessing the millions who pass through this time of trouble will begin and continue for a thousand years; during which time the majority of the billions of dead will be resurrected and given a chance to gain everlasting life upon terms of obedience to the new order.

These facts should be and are valuable information to all whose heart is right.

The "Studies in the Scriptures" by the late Pastor Russell, point out thru the Bible, all these matters and no one need be in darkness unless overcome by prejudice. These Studies stand as a living monument to the memory of Pastor Russell as a messenger of God. Upon reading these books, some of which were written more than forty years ago, and looking at the things taking place, it would seem that the writer is standing here now in the midst of conditions writing down the events as they transpire.

Anyone who will advise the people not to buy or study these books is one of the greatest enemies to both God and man. They only desire to keep you in ignorance that they may be better able to continue grafting you for money. If you don't believe what I say, just stop paying them and they will leave you and your church to take care of itself. Remember and don't forget, that anyone who opposes openly or secretly the buying or reading of these books is your worst enemy and I challenge anyone to dispute these statements before my face and the public.

My advice to all who desire to understand the meaning of present day events and what the near future has in store for humanity, is to buy as quickly as possible a full set of these books and begin reading as never before.

The true value of these books cannot be stated in words, but while the campaign is on to place as many of these sets in the home of thinking people as can be done within certain length of time, you can buy a full set of 8 vol. cloth bound, for the small sum of $2.85. Send draft or money order to Richard J. Hill, R. F. D. 6, Box 64, Tulsa, Okla., and books will be sent you postpaid at once.

Misunderstandings Between Bible Students No Excuse for Others To Oppose the Truth.

Bible staudents are not perfect and they do not claim to be, but there is this to the credit of all true Bible Students, and that is they do not and will not teach the people error, neither do they expect or accept pay for their services. They rejoice to tell the truth to others without money or price. These peculiar characteristics of Bible Students put them in a class to themselves. But notwithstanding these noble traints of the true Bible Students they sometimes have grievious misunderstandings among themselves all of which generally end to the benefit of all whose hearts are right. Such difficulties always point out their weaknesses and prepare them for the next attack of the Adversary. Of course, no true Christian will be guilty of speaking evil of anyone.

Persons who are real enemies of the truth will grasp every opportunity to speak against it. Any apparent unfavorable circumstances affecting Bible Students or any misunderstandings between them is readily seized upon by the enemies of truth and the atmosphere is at once filled with slander; mole hills of defects are changed into mountains, etc. But listen, you enemies of the Truth, no shortcomings of Bible Students can change the fundamentals they teach. Whether or not the Students come up to your ideals in Christian character does not justify you in opposing the Truth because it is from God and not from Brother Russell or the Bible Students. Whether Bible Students prove faithful or unfaithful does not alter the foundation facts they teach some of which are these: That God made man perfect in His own image, Gen. 1:25; that because of sin man came under condemnation, Rom. 5:12; that Christ died that man might live, Mark 10:45; that man is a soul, Gen. 2:7; that the soul that sineth it shall die, Ezek. 18:4; that the wages of sin is death and not eternal torment, Rom. 6:23; that there is to be a resurrection of the dead both of the just and unjust, Acts 24:15; that the purpose of the resurrection is to blot out all the sins of the willing and obedient ones and give them a chance for life everlasting and all this must be done during the times of restitution (a period of 1000 years beginning soon after 1925) Acts 3:19-21; that during these times of restitution, all who will not obey that Prophet, the Lord Jesus, will be destroyed from among the people—die the second death, Acts 3:23.

Harreld Asks Investigation of Conditions at Veteran Hospital

Editor, Black Dispatch,
Oklahoma City, Okla.

Dear friend:

I thought I would drop you a line and let you know of my general health, also the tide of persecution is still being directed against us, and is being increased in volume every day.

My condition continues to get worse on account of close confinement in the insane ward (where I am still being held); also because of the climatic conditions and constant worry. I am beginning to have lung hemorrhages, but there is nothing for a patient to do in the insane ward but try to "tough it out."

I have written Senator Harreld, informing him of the existing and unpleasant conditions here. I received a letter from him dated Sept. 6, 1923, informing me of receipt of my letter and advising me that he had referred the matter to the Director of the Veterans' Bureau, Washington, D. C.

He also stated he had requested an investigation of conditions and treatment here and would keep me advised as to results. I have also written the central office of the Veterans' Bureau, Washington, D. C., and the district office No. 14, at Dallas, Texas, asking for a transfer to some other hospital or discharge to return home, but as yet I have received no reply, neither has any favorable action been taken.

Such a storm of protest has been going out from this hospital to Washington and to various district offices against the treatment being received here by the patients, and same has caused so many inquiries to be made from the Veterans' Bureau to officials of the hospital, until threre have been orders issued by the commanding officer of the hospital, "that no more letters of any kind be mailed to any newspaper, government organizations, person or persons, commenting upon the condition of the hospital;" also no letter to be sent out from the hospital without being first read by the hospital officials.

I am told that the postal authorities at Tuskegee have been requested by the hospital officials to return to the hospital all letters bearing the Red Cross insignia and return address of the hospital; and meanwhile, conditions are getting worse.

Since the sending here of two colored dietitians and the discharge of the white woman who was employed in that capacity, orders have been issued by the officials to cut down on the food for patients as well as all colored hospital employees, which was done. Even the tubercular patients who are allowed nourishments in all hospitals between meals, have been deprived of same.

The idea is to cause the patients and colored employees to protest against this and then it will be said that the colored dietians are not efficient, thereby cause to whites to get the position back, as it was in the matter of guards for the hospital, after the white guards stood so heroicly by and let the Klan raid the hospital looking for Mr. Calhoun (the colored bookkeeper who was sent here by the government, and thereby causing the discharge of a white woman) to lynch him, there had been a request made for colored guards.

But the hospital heads took great pains to send out in the rural districts and get men who knew nothing at all about guard duty, instead of hiring ex-service men who were trained in that kind of work. The result was, some of the guards were caught asleep on duty and declared inefficient, and some of them were replaced by the same gang that was supposed to have furnished sheets from the hospital wards for the Kluxers to wear, and served them in the patients' dining room with government food, after they finished raiding the hospital looking for Mr. Calhoun, who was then on his way back to aWshington, having been handed a letter that day by the hospital commander, and which he presented to General Hines when he arrived in Washington. When General Hines opened it, it was found to be a threat from the klan.

The Veterans' Bureau insists on having a white commanding officer at the hospital and for that one particular reason, it is having great trouble getting a full quota of colored doctors, which will be about 36.

All we can do is to wait and hope matters will be satisfactorily adjusted in the near future.

Good luck to you and the Black Dispatch.

Yours fraternally in F. C. & B.,
ALBERT CAREY,
Past Commander, Willie Stevenson Post, 262, American Legion, Ardmore, Okla.

C. Chinn, pastor of the First Baptist church at Pawhuska, and the Rev. R. D. Gatewood, pastor of the St. John M. E. church, Independence, Kansas, are invited to be with the C. M. E. church here next Sunday. The parsonage of the C. M. E. church will soon be under way if the pastor continues his drive. New electric lights have already been installed. Mrs. Ethel Martin has returned home from her trip to Coffeyville with her little daughter, Miss Ruth Martin. Miss Martin is now a student of Douglas high school of this city. Miss Tessie Carr is visiting relatives in Coffeyville, Kansas. Those among the sick are: Mrs. S. O. Robinson, Mrs. Alexander Hazelrigg, Mr. Manning Gaylard, and Mrs. Washington, the mother of Mrs. I. B. Eddwings. Mr. Samuel Hall has returned home from his trip to Parsons, Kansas, where he witnessed the operation of his wife, Mrs. Lula Hall, which was performed Sept. 20 at Woods Hospital, by Dr. E. E. Bawser, Parsons, and Dr. Davis of Independence. Mrs. Hall is reported to be resting fine.

LUTHER NEWS

The exhibit from the Luther fair made a good showing at the county fair last week. Owing to the fact a number of the boys and girls were disappointed who expected to enter the judging contest at the county fair at Oklahoma City. The rally at First Baptist church Sunday, Sept. 23, was a success. Collection $168.10. Mrs. L. B. Hamilton made a business trip to Oklahoma City last week. Dr. L. H. Henry spent the week-end at home this week. The farmers are busy harvesting their crops and owing to the reasonable prices they are all wearing smiles. We are all delighted to see Mrs. H. O'Kelley at home again. She brought her little grandson, James W. Rodgers. Mrs. J. E. Rose is getting along nicely with her little tots in the kindergarten. She has such splendid patience.

ROSEDALE RIDDLES

He was reared near Roxton, Texas, and was a member of the C. M. E. church. He was also a mason. The remains were laid to rest Sunday evening in the Roxton cemetery, his pastor, Rev. Hitawell, officiating.

Book Chat

By Mary White Ovington

"The Widening Light"—By Carrie Williams Clifford. Can be secured through The Crisis, 69 Fifth Avenue, New York. Price $1.50. Postage 10c.

"The Widening Light" is a collection of verse covering a considerable period of composition. Mrs. Clifford is an "occasional" writer, and sings of various happenings in the Negro world, The Negro Players on Broadway, The Silent Protest Parade, The East St. Louis Riots, The Tercentenary of the Landing of Slaves at Jamestown, The Lynching of Mary Turner. She tells of the Negro's lack of opportunity, and she praises the great men of the race, Douglass, Dunbar, Braitwaite. Her poems show a deep horror of injustice and cruelty.

There is a gentler note. A lover of nature she speaks of "the tiny cloud that o'er the hilltop clung" at Grassmere; of the ocean, gripped by the tide, of "the beetling night fading toward the dawn." Her pictures of out-of-doors are warm and fragrant, but the book stands primarily as an indictment of the white man.

"Whose, whose the condemnation then, if I Shame the false lips that lured them with a lie?"
Thus the mother cries who has given two sons, her first born and her last, to war that promised freedom and democracy that ended in a lie. She inveighs against prejudice, the filthy sore

"Polluting all the currents of pure air,
Dispersing its vile atoms everywhere."

And she hopes, wistfully for a future that shall be free of the rank weed, injustice.

What a wasteful thing is race prejudice! Man has taken over this noble planet and is moulding it with his very human hands. Certainly he needs all the love and kindliness and ability of every race to keep his world from becoming a mud ball, grimy, ugly, knawed away by parasites. And yet he spends the fast speeding years in preventing his neighbor from helping him! It is ludicrous as well as pathetic. Mrs. Clifford sees this and thus voices her hopes of the future.

And ye, who view life daily thro' a veil,
At length shall read its riddle face to face!
The hidden springs of beauty and the grace
Of fuller living wait beyond this trail
Blood-stained and steep: there stands the Holy Grail
Whose healing waters shall the woes efface,
Of plodding pilgrims, who still seek the place
Where men of every race shall say, "All Hail!"
To this broad shrine, we too shall bring our gift
Of joyous laughter, song and loyal love;
And rank on rank still surging up, we'll lift
Hosannahs to the God-of-worlds above!
His listening ear will catch our minor sweet,
Making the concord of the spheres complete.

The Difference Between The "Never Die Religion" and the Teaching of Bible Students that "Millions Now Living Will Never Die"

Many well meaning persons are confused and desire to know the difference between the "Never Die Religion" and the positive announcement by Bible Students, that "Millions Now living will never die." The "Never Die Religion" is a gross delusion fostered by the Devil himself, who is always on the alert to deceive all who are looking for the Lord. This doctrine is based upon a misapplication of the scriptures.

According to God's plan many persons, during the Gospel Age, were to have a change of nature. His purpose for permitting any to have this change of nature was that a limited number could be tested, tried and fitted for judges with the Lord Jesus during the Judgment Day. Anyone who has had this change of nature—that is, a mind set on doing Godly things—is called a New Creature. No one can understand the deep things of God unless he is a New Creature, spiritually minded. I Cor. 2:14.

So far as I have been able to find out, through an impartial investigation, every scripture relied upon by the advocates of the "Never Die Religion" is either addressed to these New Creatures of this Gospel Age, or does not apply until this age is ended—after 1925.

Some of the scriptures relied upon by the "Never Die Religionist" are I John 5:20, which is addressed to the New Creatures and not to the old fleshly mind or body; I John 1:2 which simply means that the chance for eternal life was made manifest by Jesus; Rom. 5:14 which simply means that there was no hope whatever for life from Adam to Moses, but after Moses there was a little hope awakened in the Jews only thru the statement in their Law Covenant that he who kept the law would live, but this hope was soon blasted when they found that through imperfection tey were unable to keep the law. The substance of the apostles argument in this chapter is to the effect that the sentence of death was passed upon man and that death reigned over humanity to Moses without any hope of life, and that since Moses, even though the Jews looked for life through the law, death was still reigning and that there was no real substantial hope for life except through the merits of Jesus' death. The Gentiles had no chance for life whatever until Jesus came, because He brought life and immortality to light; 2 Tim. 1:10. No one has been called to life during this Gospel Age but the Little Flock, the spiritually minded New Creatures; and the life to which they have been called is one on the Spirit Plane; they must die before they can receive that life. The call to life life on the human plane is just being announced by International Bible Students and it will not begin to go into operation until after 1925. We are telling the people to put their house in order and be ready to receive the blessings of the New Order when the kingdom is established here in the earth. But be it remembered that the writer and all other consecrated Bible Students are going to die; we are not expecting to live here upon the earth because we have had a change of nature and our eternal life is on the spirit plane; Rev. 2:10.

Another scripture very much quoted by the Advocates of the "Never Die Religion" is John 11:25-26, which shows that the time must come when all, even those who actually die, before Christ establishes His Kingdom, will have a chance for life. The statement in the 26th verse shows that the time for giving life to man on the human plane must be after the Gospel Age is ended—after 1925. No one is considered as live unless he has a legal right to life. One can be actually walking about and yet be legally dead; such as a convict sentenced to death, but not actually killed. Jesus had this legal phase of man condition in mind when he said "let the dead bury the dead," Matt. 8:22. Any reasonable minded person can readily see that the Lord Jesus' statement in John 11:26 "He that liveth and believeth shall never die," must refer to a time when man has a legal right to life; and that time is after 1925.

I feel sure that there are some honest hearted persons advocating the "Never Die Religion" but my advice to these dear people is that they study their Bibles more closely and with an open mind and seek to get out from under this gross delusion of believing that by "getting into Christ and keeping his commandments one can live in the flesh here now and never dies. The fact is that everyone who gets into Christ during this age must die to get the reward promised.

Listen, dear people, every person who died, belonging to the "Never Die Religion," and wha was cast away by their friends and relatives as lost, will be resurrected and given a chance for life and every person of that faith now living will either die within the next two or three years or change their hbelief concerning God's plan of salvation.

In the next issue of this paper we will show clearly the difference between the "Never Die Religion" and the teaching that "Millions now living will never die.

Historical Society To Promote Harmony Between The Races By Acquainting The One With The Other

Harmony between the races by interpreting the one to the other is to be the keynote of the annual meeting of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History, to be convened in Atlanta, Georgia, on the 25th and 26th of this month. "Ye shall know the truth and the truth will make you free" has been exemplified in this effort to publish to the world the signficant achievements of the Negro contrasted with the best elements of the civilizations of other races.

Dr. C. G. Woodson, the Director of the Association, does not believe that everything is to be gained by the mutual recrimination and vilification in which leaders of both races too often indulge. Heeding the exhortation "Come and let us reason together," he enlisted the support of many thinkers of the North and South, who believe that a scientific presentation of the claims of both races will do more for the readjustment of their differences than all the firebrands which have been or will be hurled from either side of the controversy. Many white persons have said that they have changed their attitude toward the Negro since they have learned from the publications of the Association so many significant achievements to the credit of the race.

The Association urges the minister to warn the people against the dire calamities which must inevitably result from racial antipathy kept alive by ill-designed propaganda. This society entreats the press to array itself against the publication of inflammatory matter which easily destroys the peace of communities before truth can get a hearing. The cause appeals also to teachers for their cooperation in using facts scientifically set forth to eradicate from the minds of the youth that bias which stifles the development of liberal-mindedness and so narrows one's vision as to blind him to the beauty of the world and the good in everything. This organization solicits further the support of professional and business men whose influence properly exerted may do as much as any other group in developing in the public mind a sane attitude toward social problems.

This has been the appeal of the Association during the last eight years since its organization in 1915. Though discouraged by numerous difficult problems, the Association has steadily grown from the inpecunious position of no income at all to that of revenue amounting to about $20,000 a years, from an occasional investigation to that of serious research work prosecuted by a staff of well trained scholars permanently employed to devote all of their time to this all important problem of unearthing the salient facts of Negro life and history that the race may not become a negligible factor in the thought of the world

Representatives from clubs studying under the direction of the Association are expected to attend and schools are urged to send teachers desirous og knowing more about the Negro and to learn the proper methods of disseminating such information. Any person with an intelligent interest in the race will be welcomed as an active participant i nthe deliberations of this only organized body in the world devoted exclusively to the scientific treatment of the record of the Negro.

The day sessions will be held at the various schools in Atlanta and the evening sessions at the Wheat Street Baptist Church. On the program will appear such distinguished speakers as Mr. Eugene Kinckle Jones, Executive Secretary of the Urban League; Dr. George E. Haynes, Secretary of the Race Commission of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America; President Lucy H. Tapley, of Spelman Seminary; President John Hope, of Morehouso College; Professor E. Franklin Frazier, of the School of Scial Workers; Dr. Peter J. Bryant, of the Wheat Street Baptist Church; Mr. A. A. Taylor, an Associate Investigator of the Association; Dr. C. G. Woodson, the Director of the Association; Dr. James H. Dillard, of the John F. Slater Fund; and Bishop John Hurst of the A. M. E. church. Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois and Dr. R. R. Moton have been invited also to deliver addresses.

The Association has already achieved much. For eight years it has published the "Journal of Negro History" in which have appeared more than 4,000 pages of valuable documents and scholarly dissertations by some of the most learned men of our time. Inasmuch as this magazine circulates as a serious library publication throughout the civilized world, it has directed the attention of a large number of thinkers to the Study of the Negro as a neglected field. Furthermore, it has demonstrated the possibility and the wisdom of approaching the question in a dispassionate way.

The administrative staff consists of the following: Professor John R. Hawkins, President; Mr. S. W. Rutherford, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. Carter G. Woodson, director of research and editor, together with these members of the executive council: Mr. Julius Rosenwald of Chicago; President Henry C. King, of Oberlin College; Dr. James H. Dillard, of the John F. Slater Fund; Mr. R. R. Church, of Memphis; Bishop R. A. Carter, of the C. M. E. Church; Professor Carl Russel Fish, of the University of Wisconsin; Professor E. A. Hooton, of Harvard University; Bishop John Hurst, of the A. M. E. church; Mr. A. L. Jockson, of the Chicago Defender; Professor Franz Boas, of Columbia University; Bishop R. E. Jones of the M. E. church; President Clement Richardson, of Western College; and Dr. Robert C. Woods, of Virginia Seminary.

The natives showed little interest in the process of jumping from the frying pan into the fire. Yesterday they were misgoverned and exploited. Tomorrow they will be exploited and misgoverned. That is all that the change of government means to them.

COPS UNCLE'S JACK

WILLIAM JACKSON HELD FOR $100,000 THEFT

Veteran P. O. Employee Accused of Stealing Mail Containing Cash And Bonds.

(Crusader Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—William S. Jackson, a colored postal clerk in the Varick Street branch, was held in $1,000 bail by United States Commissioner Hitchcock yesterday on a charge of stealing postal packages containing cash and bonds worth about $100,000. Jackson had been in the service for ten years and his record was good.

The desire of Jackson for such luxuries as $700 rugs, tulip bulbs, jewelry and subscriptions to popular white magazines led to his undoing. Detectives who had been shadowing several post office clerks in an effort to solve mysterious thefts which had been occurring at aVrick branch since July arrested Jackson, who, according to the gum shoe men, broke down and volunteered to go with them to his Ossinging home, where he surrendered more than $20,000 in money of the United States, England and the Argentine. Most of the money alleged to have been stolen is said to have been blowed in by Jackson. Jackson is married. His sister supplied the bail.

Refused Shave; Kills Barber

Porto Rican Fired When Italian Called Him Negro and Refused to Shave.

(Crusader Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—James Formica, 28, a barber, took a trip "West" yesterday when he was shot and killed at 1873 Third Avenue when a fellow workers refused to shave a Porto Rican in the belief that he was a Negro, and thus not entitled to any of the rights and privileges of American citizenship which, even the "blind benighted" foreigner soon learns are not intended for Negroes. The slayer was Julio Rodriguez, 20 years old, who told the police that he had come to this city six weeks ago from Mexico, where he had been employed as a cowboy on a ranch.

Joseph Viviana, the barber who had refused to shave Rodriguez, was wounded in the left thigh by one of the two bullets fired by the Porto Rican. Rodriguez told the police that when he entered the shop and asked Viviano to shave him, the baber said: "We do not shave colored men here. Why don't you go to the colored man's berber shop three blocks down?"

"I had been to two other barber shops before I entered that place, and I needed a shave badly. I lost my head when the barber at the chair would not shave me in the belief that I was a Negro. I pulled out my pistol and began to shoot. I did not mean to kill anybody. I just wanted to scare them."

Klan Stages Family Row

KLAN CORPORATION FORMED IN

(Crusader Service)

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 11.—As a result of a fight between the Jersey local branches of the Ku Klux Klan and the propagation department of the Klan in Cleveland, the New Jersey Ku Klux filed articles of incorporation yesterday.

The promoters said they would mold more than 40,000 Klansmen into a strong body under local officers, which would take an active part in politics and publish a propaganda paper.

Russell Trimble, one incorporator, said, "It is time to come out into the open and show who and what we are."

At the same time, it is admitted that internal dissention is hampering the klan in its efforts to build up the invisible Empire in this state, and yesterday two klansmen, both high officers, were held in $1,000 bail in this city on charges of disorderly conduct with attempting to break up a meeting of other klansmen at the point of automatics.

NEGRO FOLK SONGS

(Lincoln Service )

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 11.—A new sort of service for the House of Correction has been planned this winter. Old Negro folk songs of the South will be used to regenerate the girls who surrender to the charms of such songs as "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," and "Steal Away to Jesus." Because of the belief that many of them are spiritually hungry, it is thought that such songs will aid in turning the girls from drink and drugs.

Problems As Responsibilities

All of us can think of certain words and phrases which are not so much admired, nor so useful as they once were. By dint of repetition they have lost their fresh interest, appeal, and suggestiveness.

An especially superannuated specimen is the word "problem." How tired we are of it, and of the wearisome, all-but-hopeless drudgery which it suggests! The labor problem, the illicit-liquor problem, the immigration problem, the taxation problem, the public-health problem, the problem of the feebleminded, the reparation problem, the Nea East poblem,—how familiar and how irritating they are! They are all "many-sided," "complicated," "baffling"; they all have a "human factor"; and none of them are ever "solved." May it not be a wise and refreshing change of attitude if we cease describing our public tasks and difficulties in mathematical terms (since there is so little about them that is exact and impersonal), and think of them in terms of adventure, opportunity, and responsibility?

Notably would this seem to be appropriate in the case of the so-called "intterracial problem." It faces one all the way round the world. It is apt to turn up at any international conference. It is the heaviest part of the white man's burden—though he does not always realize it; and it surely cannot be "solved" by any kind of mathematics. Regard it, however, as an adventure in human brotherhood, an opportunity for the social and political genius of the race, a chance to prove that "noblesse oblige," a responsibility of the strong to be consilerate of the weak, a challenge to our democracy and to our Christianity, and one's feeling about it changes. There is a lure about the quest of interracial peace and goodwill which calls to the best that is in us.—James E. Gregg in the Southern Workman.

The Spirit of North Carolina

One of the most interesting features of the program of public education on which North Carolina has embarked is the determination to make adequate provision for the thorough training of the colored teachers of the State. With this end in view three institutions have been designated as colored State teacher-training schools—one at Elizabeth City, one in Winston-Salem, and a third at Fayetteville. All three of these institutions are now provided with some excellent modern buildings, but the appropriations already made insure enough excellent dormitories, laboratories, classrooms, and auditoriums within the next few years to make these schools comparable with the leading State institutions maintained for the white people.

The officials of North Carolina have not been hampered by the all to prevalent fear of doing something which might not be universally popular. Guided by an admirable spirit of justice and fair play, supported by the best element of the people in the State, they have looked into the future and laid their plans for a system of public education which will offer the same opportunities to all the children of the State, whether in the country or the city, and whether black or white. This spirit of courageous confidence in doing the thing that is obviously right and fair without trying to measure the results in votes has been a conspicious characteristic of the North Carolina public officials, and they are setting a splendid standard of statesmanship for the Nation. —Southern Workman.

JOHN STEVENS HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 25.—John Stevens suffered a broken left leg and cuts on the head and body when struck by an automobile while crossing at Butler and 42nd streets last Friday morning. Stevens was taken to the St. Margaret Hospital where he received treatment. The automobile was driven by James Cantelno, who is said to not have a driver's license. Cantelno was lodged in jail to await the outcome of Steven's injuries.

MOREHOUSE TROUNCES 24TH INFANTRY 30-6

(Preston News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 19.—The Morehouse Tigers opened the season by giving the powerful 24th Infantry a sound lacing to the tune of 30-6 score. The game was a thriller throughout. The Infantry brought a backfield noted for its broken field runners. They often tore through the Morehouse line for 15 to 20 yards in the first quarter, but their only touchdown came in the second quarter when a penalty placed the pigskin on Morehouse's 10-yard line. Camp Benning then skirted right end for its touchdown. Captain Oliver, Williams and Freeland for the soldiers.

The entire Morehouse team played good football; Franklin in backfield, played a brilliant offensive game making three touchdowns. Capt. Kelly was the best all-around man playing a perfect game. Jordan, fullback; and Forbes, end, played their respective positions in mid-season form. The veteran tackle, Irving, again and again stopped men who tried to pierce the Morehouse line. The Tigers scored in the first seven minutes of play. The ball was carried by Franklin over Camp Benning's tackle, and Hutt kicked goal. In the next quarter Kelly completed a forward pass to Franklin, netting 15 yards. Jordan next hits the line for 5 yards and Franklin carries the ball over again. Coach Harvey then sent in the second team, and the spectators received a surprise when these lads began to rip and tear the Soldiers' line to pieces.

In the second half, Coach Harvey again sent the second team in and Camp Bennings successively carried the ball to Morehouse's 1-yard line, but the Morehouse line stiffened and held the Soldiers for four downs. In the fourth quarter the first team again took the field. Soon afterwards Franklin again carried the ball for a third touchdown. Camp Bennings received the kick-off and resorted to a forward pass. It was intercepted by Jordan, who carried it 15 yards. Kelly nets 15 yards, Jordan 5 yards and the ball was given to Kelly who carried it across.

Hutt, a recent recruit, handled his position as quarterback like a veteran. He kicked three out of four goals and in the last minute of play ended the game with a sensational drop kick from the forty-yard line.

DEATH CLAIMS FOOTBALL PLAYER

(Preston News Service)

AMES, Iowa, Oct. 19.—The death of John Trice of Cleveland, Ohio, a brilliant sophomore of the Iowa State College, and a spectacular tackle on the college football team, resulting from injuries received in a game with Minnesota at Minneapolis, is mourned by millions of football fans in both races throughout the country.

Trice was crushed in a play through his position and was taken to the minneapolis hospital. It was thought that his condition was not exceedingly serious and he was brought to Ames on Sunday and died on Monday evening following. It is said by physicians that he died of hemorage of the lungs.

As a tribute to Trice, who was one of the best liked students at the school, the entire student body and faculty went in mourning as a result of Trice's tragic death. Special funeral services were held in the chapel before the remains were sent to his home in Cleveland for burial.

Trice was one of the most brilliant players in the Iowa line up, and bid fair to equal if not eclipse "Duke" Slater. In addition to this he is said to have ranked exceptionally high as a scholar.

SHORTER COLLEGE FOOTBALL TEAM NOTES

(Preston News Service)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 19.—The first official practice of the 1923 football team was held last Tuesday and Coach Perrin assembled the material he had on hand and was favorably impressed with their possibilities. Coach Perrin thinks that he is confident that he will be able to produce a team that will win the state championship this season. With the help of Prof. Eason, Coach Perrin is getting splendid results from the men. Among the members of alst year's team who have returned are: Captain Thompson, Lewis, Scott, Tollie Moore Charley Minners, Eugene White, Lawrence Greene, Jr., Clayton Reed, N. A. Wingfield, Eddie Blanchard and T. M. Pruitt. The new material looks very promising.

Manager Eason has already arranged to play the following teams: Baptist College and Philander Smith of Little Rock; A. & M. College, Pine Bluff; and Rusk College, Holly Springs, Miss.

HILLSDALE BECOME CHAMPIONS O FPHILADELPHIA

(Preston News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 19.—The Hilldale Baseball Club was proclaimed champions of the Philadelphia Baseball Association when it overwhelmed Billy Whitmann's nine in the final game of the season at Shibe Park here by a score of 18 2. More than 10,000 shivering fans witnessed the contest, which ended in the sixth inning.

DREW MAY HIT CINDER PATH AGAIN

(Preston News Service)

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 25.—According to rumors current here, Howard Drew, famous sprint marvel, who holds a joint record of 9 3-5 second for the 100-yard dash, is to again don the trunks in an effort at a comeback. Drew it is alleged, will go out in an effort to warrant his selection on the 1924 U. S. Olympic team, which will represent this country in France. If Drew should qualify, it will mark the first time in history that a runner has remained out of active training and then returned with enough speed to represent America in international games. Fans are anxiously awaiting the final outcome.

Other Stars Sure to Do Go.

The U. S. Olympic team which will represent this country next year, will have the greatest array of colored talent ever to represent this country in an athletic encounter between nations. Among those sure to be picked are: Charles West, winner of the national pentathlon at the Penn Relay events in Philadelphia last spring; DeHart Hubbard, American broad-jump amateur champion; All-Conference, all-around star and reputed by many to be the greatest broad jumper in the world; Ned Gourdin, former Harvard star athlete and holder of the world's record for the broad-jump; R. Earl Johnson, national five-mile champion, and former ten-mile and cross-country amateur champion, said to be the greatest olng distance runner in the east; and Sol Butler, broad jumper of note, who with Hubbard and Gourdin will form the third angle in the dark triangle of "kangaroo" experts.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 24.—Clem Johnson, western heavyweight, is scheduled to swap blows with "Tiny" Herman, local heavyweight, Friday evening, Oct. 26. The match is to go 12 rounds to a decision. The men were matched by Billy Holke, Minneapolis promoter.

ANGRY FANS SET BLEACHERS ON FIRE

(Preston News Service)

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 25.—Six persons were hurt in a clash with police at Almendarez baseball park last Friday, when angry fans set the bleachers and fences on fire. The park, which holds about 10,000 spectators, was crowded with fans watching Adolfo Tuque's Havana team play the Almandarez nine. In endeavoring to force spectators off the field, a mounted policeman using the flat side of his sword, accidentally inflicted a slight flesh wound on a boy and the clash followed. Part of the fence dividing the field and stand was burned. No damage was done to the stands.

POLLARD AND WILLIAMS NOT IN ST. LOUIS

(Preston News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 25.—"Ink" Williams and Fred Pollard, end and halfback, respectively, on the famous Hammond, Ind., professional foot-ball team, were left behind here last week when the team came here to meet a local eleven.

It is alleged that the Missouri team refused to play against the two colored stars. This is the first time Fritz Pollard has ever been subjected to racial discrimination on the gridiron.

WILLS GETS $9,000 FOR FIVE MINUTES FIGHT

(Preston News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Harry Wills received $9,082.20 for his five minutes and six seconds of fighting with Homer Smith in Kalamazoo, Mich., recently, it was announced here last week. Wills, it will be remembered, rendered his opponent senseless with a number of powerful body blows, the knockout coming after two minutes and six seconds of fighting in the second round. The amount Wills received, if divided into five parts, will show that the Bronze Beauty Panther, got approximately $1,800 a minute. Smith got $3,028.07. The gross receipts including the war tax of 10 per cent, amounted to $28,124.80. The state got 5 per cent. 7,00 fans saw the fight and 6,164 paid for admission.

HILLDALES DEFEAT ATHLETICS THREE-ONE

(Preston News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 25.—Playing before more than 30,000 fans in two days, the largest crowds that ever wended their way through the turnstiles of the Hilldale park, Phil Cockrell, the famous "ace" of the Philadelphia Champions and Champions of the Eastern Association, showed the mettle of which he is made, when he won two pitching duels, taking the first game from the Major League All-Stars 3-0 and then almost duplicating his feat, when the Athletics were vanquished by 3-1 score.

BILL TATE ANXIOUS TO MEET HARRY WILLS

(Preston News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—"Harry Wills can have my $2,500 any time he signs a contract to meet me in the ring." Thus spoke Bill Tate after seeing Wills stow away Homer Smith in the second round of their fight in Kalamazoo, Mich., recently. Tate, Firpo and Kid Norfolk had ringside seats. Tate is going to put up the money with Tex Richard or the Boxing Commission of New York, and the minute Wills signs he can have the money.

Sport writers here say that Tate is the only man in the world aching to get into the same ring with Harry Wills. Tate is willing to go in the ring against Wills because he went the distance with Harry in Oregon over a year ago.

JOHN HENRY LLOYD PARTY IN CUBA

(Preston News Service)

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 25.—John Henry Lloyd, veteran shortstop and former manager of the Hilldale baseball club, with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Eggleston, landed safely in Cuba last week.

The Cuban League started last Saturday and four teams will be in the race. They are the Morianos, Havana Reds, Almandarez and Santa Clares. Lloyd is captain of the Havna Reds, and Alolfo Luque, of the Cincinnati Reds, of the National League, is manager. Eggleston is first-string catcher. "Chet" Thomas and Jim Winters of the Hilldale Club are expected to join the Havana Reds soon.

HOWARD DEFEATS VIRGINIA SEMINARY AND COLLEGE

(Preston News Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25.—The Virginia aggregation went down to defeat alst Saturday on the University field here by a score of 13-0. The local team outplayed the visitors in every department of the game. However, the contest was not at all easy for Howard.

The game was exciting from start to finish. The flashy plays of various men on both teams created thrills for the many fans who witnessed the contest. The Lynchburg lads have a much faster team than last season and deserve great credit for the remarkable amount of fighting spirit possessed. In the face of several discouraging effects of quick-witted plays by Howard, the Virginians fought like demons from start to finish.

TALLADEGA SETS GOOD EXAMPLE

(Preston News Service)

The importance of the stand officials of Talladega College in the matter of making physical education the major feature of past time in school life as a factor for better health, not for the school life alone, but starting students in life with the proper idea of the importance of wholesome exercise for robust womanhood and manhood, cannot here be estimated. It is believed that schools and colleges everywnere will take the same position.

All students need physical training, winning a position of the representative team of the school only serves as stimulus for developing the physical strength and skill to the highest.

TUSKEGEE TIGERS WIN 26-0 VICTORY

(Preston News Service)

TUSKEGEE, Ala., Oct. 25.—Long forward passes featured largely in the 26-0 defeat that the Tuskegee Tigers administered to the fast, plucky eleven of Fort Valley High and Industrial School here on Washington field.

Two minutes after the kick-off as a result of a 30-yard pass and a sweeping end run by Wooten, the Tigers had placed the oval behind Fort Valley's goal for the first counter of the game. This score was quickly followed by another touchdown made by the aerial route with Wooten again carrying the ball over. Bailey

By "The Cameraman"

—o—

"Eureka!" said Mr. Remmell of Arkansas, as he laid his proposal on the table of President Coolidge to establish a Race Commission, and the Col. Giles B. Jackson, of Richmond, Va., and Prof. J. Silas Harris of Kansas City, Mo., could be seen hurrying to the graveyard of racial measures, proving that they were not dead—only sleeping—for the good that men do is enterred with their bones. Thus, there is again resurrected the thought of a tribunal to deal with the matter of inter-racial adjustments in America; to treat with the iniquitous aftermath of the disintegrating processes which wink and blink at certain constitutional provisions, while upholding others; and to wear a Hallowe'en mask to hide the likes and dislikes of citizens of a Republic who have been taught to fear God, and who have sworn to love their country and their fellowmen.

What, though, of Elaine, Ark., East St. Louis, Ill., Chicago, Ill., Washington, D. C., and a dozen other places where disorder has forcefully succeeded order? The Chicago Commission on Race Relations worked valiantly for months in delving into racial relationships in that city. The findings and admonitions of the able men who served on that commission were distributed about the four corners of the country. And yet, thoughtful people assert that so far as interracial peace is concerned in Chicago, but little progress has been made. Its not the Commission's fault. The work it did was well done, but like unenforced laws which lay on the statute books rather than in the minds of those whom they were intended to comfort, they are become as tinkling cymbals and sounding brass. In ghostly attire, they glide swiftly to the cemetery of disuse when hands of flesh and blood reach to grasp them.

Read the cases of Rives vs. Virginia, Strauder vs. West Virginia, and dozens of other cases involving constitutional questions affecting black folk. Note the slow but sure civic and social progress which the sons of Ham are making. Then send for Atty. Scipio Jones, who, by the way, is another Arkansan, and have him make some friendly suggestions to all those who would have a Race Commission in America. And then, if Mr. Jones would have such a commission—which we doubt—circularize every other race in America, that they may also advocate the race commission idea. And if they, too, establish race commissions to deal with their particular racial difficulties, it will take nearly all the other people in America just to keep their books and records up to date, to say nothing of producing remedial solvents.

* * * *

One afternoon last week, when "The Cameraman" was polishing the lense of his favorite camera, a southern gentleman with the purest Caucasian tint in his cheeks, but with the characteristic southern vocal accents, walked into the booth for a friendly call: "I've just come from the South," he said, with a half-smile, "where I've been making some inquiries about the Ku Klux Klan."

"What did you find out?" we asked eagerly, as the lense fell from our nervous grasp and broke in pieces on the concrete floor.

"Well," said he, "I found that the life of the klan is fast ebbing away. It rallies now and then," he added, "but wherever it has been very active in the past, the people are all against it, and they dread the possibility that their community may become blotted by the dark name of infamy that has followed the klan from place to place."

"You see," he continued, emphatically, "that's why you're hearing of the klan just now in Indiana and other middle and western states. Just as fast as a fuse of the Invisible Empire blows out in one state, the only hope of the klan's supporters is to tackle a new state and try to organize it. I attended the hearings in Bastrop, La., and found that after the klan had been thoroughly exposed down there, the Louisianians wanted no more of it. The same sentiments exist in North Carolina; and even in Georgia the klan is slowly but surely dying."

"Another thing," continued our informer, as we gasped in astonishment, "Did you know that the klan was organized chiefly to intimidate the Catholics and the Jews, rather than the Negroes?"

"Well, they sure bit off a bigger hunk than they could chew, and they know that better than anybody else. The movement will die in Oklahoma just as it is dying in the far South, and in a few years you'll hear nothing more about it anywhere."

With a cordial smiles, our visitor left the booth, while we mobilized the last ready cash we had in order to replace the smashed lense. And if we can only interest David Wark Griffith in our new vision, maybe we can get him to help us film a new serial, to be entitled: "The Death of Consternation."

* * * *

Washington.—"Twice Told Tales" were in vogue last Monday night when the White Cross Labor Bureau, a philanthropic employment agency, headed by Dr. Simon P. W. Drew, held a mass meeting for the purpose of discussing the weighty topic: "Shall the Negro Leave the South." The program carried the names of such public-spirited men as Prof. U. S. M. Maxwell, eminent philosopher and historian; and J. Finley Wilson, editor of the Washington Eagle and Grand Exalted Ruler of the colored branch of the Best People on Earth. To add to the psychological tinge which was given to the pre-convention publicity, the name of Rev. W. H. Moses was placed upon the list of oratorical stars.

"Max" and "Fin" needed no introduction in any city in the United States, and it would be a wastage of expensive film to depict their sentiments on the subject, which were, emphatically, "Yes, the Negro Shall Not Stay in the South." For the benefit of our readers, we would explain that this is a sort of a special traverse, which is a direct and then an indirect denial of an allegation. For further emphasis, the "absque hoc" clause is usually added to the traverse.

Now, to return to our story, the White Cross Labor Bureau is a Red Cross Society, absque hoc (without this)—that it is not a Red Cross Society. Past advertisements of the White Cross Bureau have frequently read: "One thousand Negro laborers wanted for Pennsylvania," etc., indicating that the Bureau was engaged in the Red Cross function of administering to the ailing and afflicted workmen of the South. Subseuent advertisements of the Bureau carried the significant caption of White Cross Bureau—a Clearing House for Migrant Labor," indicating a transitory characteristic destined to aid oncoming labor from the South.

With strong proclivities to endure to grow, to widen the scope of its activities and to continue on its peaceful and philanthropic way, supplying labor and shipping migrants, there could be only one sentiment enamating from the White Cross mass meeting last Monday night, and that sentiment is so plain that he who runs may read. And we commend the Bureau, wishing it patience to continue the great personal sacrifices which its supporters are necessarily making, a la "Yes, We Have Made No Sacrifices."

* * * *

Although no one can say that a special session of Congress will be called in the near future, inasmuch as President Coolidge is the only one to decide the need or abandonment of such an anticipated event, and we firmly believe that the President knows his job from A to Z, it seems to be a general belief that there will be no extra session this year. This conclusion on the part of the public has brought some pangs of disappointment to the numerous lobbyists who are wont, during the sessions of Congress, to seek from their representatives et al, special favors ranging all the way from a package of grass seed to a pardon from a life sentence at hard labor. Representatives who are not anxious to do mileage all the way to Washington are doubtless rejoicing, too, from the freedom which they are enjoying from the enforced absence of professional lobbyists.

Already, some sadness has pervaded the mental horizon of some unfortunates who have been separated from their large swivel chairs of ease, and who have been remaining here to personally advocate a renewal of acquaintanceship with Uncle Sam's treasury. More important, still, are the bill draughtsmen, who have some pet measures which they want introduced.

Not a few of the brothers are among the disappointees, awaiting the return of their favorite congressmen. We met one last Tuesday night up on You street in a hot dog emporium. He was said and dejected, as he bought a "barker" and asked for a glass of water, saying: "Congressman So-and-So told me I was to be Official Inspector of the Bureau of Hopegraphy; and when I get that I'll be all set. I've written the Congressman several times, but there's nothing like personal contact, y'know and he wouldn't have been elected if I hadn't swung the ninety-first ward, y'know."

FRENCH DISCOVER THAT SIKI-CARPENTIER FOR NOTHING. NO!

(Preston News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 19.—The French boxing commission claim they suspect commercialism is the guiding star in the bosoms of Georges Carpentier and Battling Siki instead of real and true sportsmenship. It is said that after a year's waiting for these two distinguished Frenchmen to carry out their promise to fight for nothing for the benefit of French charities, the commission will begin an investigation. Thus far the investigation has disclosed the fact that Carpentier is in England and Siki is in America. So they believe that the men do not intend to fight for nothing at all.

Millions Now Living will Never Die

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE "NEVER DIE RELIGION" AND THE TEACHINGS OF BIBLE STUDENTS THAT MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER DIE."

The plain difference between the "Never Die Religion" and the teachings by Bible Students, that "Millions now living will never die," is that one, "the Never Die Religion," is based upon a delusion and also a misapplication of scriptures, while the other (the announcement that millions now living will never die) is a conclusion reached by a careful and intelligent study of God's plan, the Bible. One, the "Never Die Religion" teaches that you can get into Christ, keep his commandments and live here upon the earth in the flesh and never die. The fact is that no person of that belief has been able to live any great length of time since that doctrine has been advocated. They have all been dying the same as other people of the land.

The fact is that according to Jehovah's plan, no one can get everlasting life in the flesh here upon earth until God sets up the earthly not what you do you cannot live here derstand to be after 1925. It matters upon earth in the flesh forever until God's kingdom is established here.

The announcement that "millions now living will never die" is simply giving notice to the world that the kingdom of God is being established in the earth and will soon be in full force and effect and that all who will be obedient to the rules of the new order will be permitted to live here upon the earth in peace and happiness forever. The scriptures indicate that millions of persons will be living upon the earth and will turn from wickedness to righteousness while the kingdom is being established. This announcement by Bible Students is simply a warning to the teachable people to put their house in order and get ready to receive everlasting life and blessing when the kingdom is full established; and it is also a warning that many millions of persons because of wicked works and an unteachable disposition, will go into death between this time and the end of 1925.

Time and space will not permit the citation of the many scriptures in support of all the above statements, but will gladly give them to anyone desiring scriptural proof.

I remain yours for the truth,

ENDEAVOR TO HALT ERECTION OF SCHOOL

(Preston News Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25.—In a petition signed by Mrs. Daniel Murray charges are made that the Commissioners are about to spend $250,000 of the school appropriation fund to erect the new John F. Cook School on a dangerous site.

According to Mrs. Murray the ground has been recently filled and in wet weather is flooded to within a few inches below surface; the ground will not support a sixteen-room building; it is removed from the center of population for the district from which it draws its pupils; the children will be obliged to cross two car tracks to reach the school; and that the ground next the John F. Cook School is available, the District owning three lots there and for others adjoining being for sale at a reasonable figure.

Mrs. Murray points out the recent collapse of the school building in Baltimore and declares that the proposed site for the new John F. Cook School is uite similar.

(Preston News Service)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 25.—At police headquarters last Thursday morning Patrolman White declared that he accidentally shot Harry Harris, a Negro, whom he was endeavoring to arrest, in the left shoulder. Officer White admitted that Harris offered no resistence to arrest, but that his pistol accidentally went off and the bullet lodged in Harris' shoulder.

"We located Harris in a house in Decatur street," White said. "He was wanted for cutting Willie Smith. I got hold of Harris and as I did so, I tripped somehow and my gun discharged accidentally."

Mr. Jackson informed the Grand

By Atty. H. A. Guess.

Some years ago a Tulsa booster in a happy frame of mind coined the oft repeated phase: "Tulsa Will." Since which time, Tulsans are wont to use the phrase when big things are to be put over. I say put over, for the reason that Tulsa has no such word in her vocabulary as failure. The phrase was used to good purpose to accomplish the Victory and Liberty loans. It was this phrase that made the quarter million Y. M. C. A. of Tulsa possible within a ten days drive; that made a realization the Y. W. C. A. of Tulsa within an equal time; that made the St. Johns Hospita of Tulsa a reality within a similar time and made quasi public benevolent institutions spring up hither and thither. It was this same phrase that made Kindall College an institution worthwhile and later converted it into the University of Tulsa with a million dollars endowment.

The question is, will Tulsa raise to the emergency and make good the losses which she has visited upon her colored citizens in the upheavel of June 1st, better known as Tulsa Race Riot? Will her broadminded, bighearted leaders and town and empire builders surrender to the whim of a few political buccaneers and land schemers whose ulterior motive is self-aggrandisement at the expense of the public will, or, will they rush aside some of the cob-webs of legal technicalities and face the issues of facts in a courageous, generous and altruistic spirit that has so signally characterized the triumphal march at the head of modern civilization of the proud Anglo-Saxton race, and proceed to set on foot plans for the rehabilitation of the burned district?

What are some of the things that should be foremost in such a program?

1. Reparation for the damage done. This will restore confidence of those whose faith has been seriously shaken; will give notice to the outside world that, if Tulsa is big enough, strong enough, cosmopolitan enough to hatch the greatest race riot in American history, she is also generous enough, proud enough, rich enough and possesing enough respect for law and order and disdaining anything that savors of greed, graft and legal oppressions, to fail to do entire justice to a sorely tried people whose accumulations, in many instances, of a life-time, were swept away in a few hours and too, without any fault on their part. It may very well be said by Tulsa's legal advisers that there is no precedent for re-embursement in such cases; that a bond issue and election to make good the losses would be illegal. We answer the race riot was also illegal and, since the damage wrought was also great, some way should be found to make good the loss. When a newly elected Governor of a certain state wanted to change the capitol of the state, he did not quibble about precedents; but promptly transported the Great Seal of the state to the capitol city to be and forthwith set up business and the people acquisced. When a recent president decided that he needed more executive authority to jam through Congress his pet policies, h did not hesitate but seized them with gusto while his traducers only squirmed and talked voluably about State rights and Congressional sovereignty. When the great Jefferson decided to purchase Alaska and extend tht boundries of the great Republic which he foresaw in the making, it was urged by constitutional lawyers with much vehemence that theere was no power or authority vested in the Government at Washington to make the deal with Napoleon; but Jefferson found a precedent and Alaska came under the stars and stripes—forever.

When the state of West Virginia was being sued for her share of the state debt of Virginia antedating the former's withdrawal and erection of her state sovereignty, when it was suggested to the United States Supreme Court that, if judgment be given against the state, no way could be found to collect it, the honorable Chief Justice remarked: "The court will always find a way to enforce its mandates." I would not have it understood as augering or insisting that expediency, and not law and precedn,te should govern in such matters; but I do want to say that there is and should be an adequate remedy to adjust every great wrong.

2. If it be desired to turn tht burned district into an Industrial District, there will be no serious objections from the majority of the property owners, I apprehend, provided, full and adequate compensation for such holdings having been first provided. It is idle to talk of moving beyond the hill or on North Lansing Street until these conditions are met. In the first place, if it were entirely agreeable to our people to do so, they have not the means to purchase and build new homes without first having been compensated for the old. For in a great many instances, the savings and earnings of a lifetime were swept away by the fire in a few hours that followed in the wake of the riot.

3. No amount of talk of turning the burned district into an Industrial District can avail as against one out of doors with the rigors of winter staring him in the face. Let us suppose that those owning property in the Industrial District are prevented from building homes and that, because of a severe winter, many contract pneumonia and other kindred liseases and die and the courts of last resort (where this controversy must eventually be lodged) decide that the extension of the fire limits over the district in question on the heels of the devastation was not a proper police regulation, would not the city of Tulsa be morally and legally responsible for every death brought on by exposure because of illconstructed homes?

Mr. Mayor, if your Re-Construction Committee cannot evolve a feasible way out of this nightmare and dilemma with reasonable dispatch, discharge the Committee, put justice and equity above expediency, take the bull by the horns and do justice as God gives you to see the right.

IF DEATH IS WHAT YOU WANT DEATH YOU SHALL HAVE

There are many readers of this paper who have had and are now having the subject "Millions now living will never die" called to their attention and while thousands are rejoicing to hear this message of the hour there are others who turn up their nose and shake their heads in disgust and possibly make the remark that they know that they and everybody else are going to die. I beg to say that such persons have no scripture, when rightly understood, to back the idea that everybody must go into death from this time on, and the worst of all they are so blinded with false doctrine and know so little of God's plan to give the meek or humanity (not including the church, the spirit begot-that they will not even make an intelligent investigation to see if such things could possibly be true.

Dear reader please remember that life everlasting upon this earth will not be forced upon any body. If you believe that you and everybody else are going to die and you don't care to understand that the scripture teaches that there are millions of persons now living that will not go into death, you may rest sure that you are one of those who will not pass through this time of trouble (between this and the end of 1925) you will get your desire—death because the desire of all nations shall come.—Hagai 2:7.

The scripture plainly teaches that God will shorten this great time of trouble when it breaks loose in full, in order that some flesh will be saved. —Matt. 24:21-22.

The scripture also teaches that because of the hard heartedness of the people two-thirds (2-3) of the people of the whole earth will go into death and one-third (1-3) the meek, the teachable will be spared alive and permitted to enjoy the blessings of everlasting life on this earth.—Zecharia 13:8-9.

It is just now time to preach this doctrine. God has his times and ressons. It would have been wrong and largely untrue to preach this to the world before 1914.

Richard J. Hill.

The Broad Ax of Chicago recently contained the following article:

B. G. Fitzgerald, who has for many years conducted the famous Fitzgerald Cafe at Atlantic City, N. J., and a number of other colored men, have formed the Hotel Fitzgerald Corporation, and they wil construct a modern twelve story hotel building, which will cost one million dollars. The ground or the sight alone having cost sixty thousand dollars.

It will contain over two hundred rooms with hot, cold and salt water baths. It will be the palace hotel among the colored people in the United States.

SUFFERING OF TULSA DISASTER SHOULD BE GIVEN RELIEF SENT BY OUTSIDE WORLD

To the editor of The Oklahoma Sun:

Permit me to give the public a little information that may prove of value to all concerned, and tend to clarify some of the things of which the public knows but little.

Immediately following the Great Disaster in the city of Tulsa, Oklahoma, on June 1st, 1921, the undersigned and a few others met at the First Baptist Church and organized what has since been known as the Colored Relief Comfittee or the East End Relief Committee both names in fact represent the same organization.

Following the organization, an appeal was sent over the country to every Negro of any note, and every Negro organization asking relief, and directing that same be sent in the name of the chairman of said committee.

Following this appeal, and das a direct result thereof two or three thousand dollars have been sent to this committee for the purpose of relieving the destitution caused by the disaster; more than sixty days have elapsed since the funds began coming in to this comimttee; we have heretofore, asked, what is the committee doing with these funds which belong to the people? But up to this writing the committee has failed to answer. And yet there are hundreds of people in Tulsa destitute as a direct cause of this disaster, without food, wihout clothing and no work, good women and good men, and yet they are given no consideration. Those who sent these funds to this committee expected that it should be distributed to the sufferers, and not placed in any bank for safe keeping; now is the time for the help; now is the time when the sufferers need help most; ten dollars will do more good now than, twenty dollars sixty or ninety days after now.

Why are those who are handling this money and who have handled it all along, failing and refusing to give an account of their actions?

By virtue of their positions this committee is the servant of the people and should report their actions.

The Tulsa World, The Tribune and the Crisis give daily and monthly reports of all funds of a public nature, in detail, showing every dollar received and what becomes of same; the same is true of the Red Cross of America.

Can the East End Relief Committee or Colored Relief Committee expect to retain the confidence of the out side world and other relief organizations that are trying to help out in this crisis if it fails to take the people who are to be the beneficiaries into its confidence and to make known each week what it has received and how it has expended the relief money? Lay your cards on the table, gentlemen "faces up;" and instead of injuring the cause, you will greatly help, tell the people how much money you have received; from whom and for what paid. The American Red Cross makes periodical reports and has the confidence of the entire world.

We say, these sufferers should be cared for to the extent of that relief fund; this fund was sent for relief and not for the purpose of conducting lawsuits or making preparations therefor.

The people await your report.

Respectfully,
J. H. Spram.

With her special excellent training
She has many things to relate.
Texas educational system,
Has classification among the best,
The fact is very easily proved
When graduates are brought to test.
Miss Grant was awarded three diplomas,
Two are Degrees of Reliance,
The one, Bachelor of Philosophy
The other, Bachelor of Science.
She is quiet and unassuming
As boasting does not always pay,
It is a lack of culture
In a very egotistic way.
She is proceeding to the top,
With constant untiring pace,
And plans to render good service
For humanity, especially the race.
Efficiency is the key note,
To the higher ideals of life,
Partake of this fine element
And eliminate useless strife.
We rise by our zealous efforts,
To make our life a fact worth while,
For this, we reap, a worthy reward,
As the counting is made for each mile.
She now resides in Muskogee,

A city of privileges
And the laws of protection complete.
After leaving C. A. and N. U.
Her intentions are higher still,
Pursuing educational work,
If it is Providence's will.
We wish her a deal of success,
To continue and never stop,
Regardless of many obstacles,
Her place is directly at the top.

TORTURES NURSE, PLEADS AMNESIA

Eighteen-Year-Old Boy Is Arrested as He Tries to Escape Over Back Fence.

New York.—Pleading that he does not remember anything since about eight o'clock Saturday night, Frank Conway, an eighteen-year-old student at Erasmus high school in Brooklyn, on Sunday was held without bail following a spectacular arrest on a charge of torturing Miss Ethel Stewart, twenty years old, a nurse, for more than an hour in her room to force her to tell the hiding place of jewels and money which he insisted she possessed.

The nurse, a student at the Long Island College hospital, lives on the third floor of the nurses' home in an exclusive Columbia Heights section of Brooklyn. She was bound, gagged and beaten by the young man. He struck her on the head with the butt of a revolver and fled through a window by which he had entered, and climbed down a fire escape. Miss Stewart's screams attracted a score of nurses as well as priests attached to St. Charles Roman Catholic church, in the rear of the nurses' home. A policeman captured Conway as he leaped over back fences.

"I Know You Have $600 and Jewels."

At four o'clock Sunday morning Miss Stewart was awakened by the sound of some one fumbling at the catch of her window, which opens on an iron fire escape leading to the rear yard. Frightened, she lay still as the man entered. He switched on the electric lights and, holding a revolver within a few inches of her face, said:

"If you make a sound I will shoot your head off. I want the $600 and your diamonds. I know you have them here."

Shaking with fright, the girl whispered that all the money she had was $10 and that she had no jewels.

"You are a liar!" she says the man whispered.

Dragging the pillow from beneath her head he ripped its case into strips, with which he bound Miss Stewart's hands and feet. He then gagged her with a towel and started to search for the money. Time and time again he returned to the bed, the police say, slapped the girl's face and demanded she tell him where her valuables were hidden.

"I know you have $600 and jewels worth $1,200 more. I'll kill you if you don't give up," he is alleged to have said.

After an hour of intermittent torture the burglar, who removed the gag each time he demanded the money, losing patience, suddenly struck the girl on the head with the butt of the revolver. As she sank back on the bed Miss Stewart screamed again and again.

Druggist Sold Prune Juice for Whisky.

Washington.—Whisky bought on prescription for sick people has in some instances been adulterated with water and prune juice, or other liquids and sold at the price charged for pure liquor, according to complaints made to prohibition enforcement agents. The commissioner warns he will act if such methods continue.

Locked Mischievous Monkey in Jail.

Woodbury, N. J.—The county jail has a new occupant, a man-size monkey. Warden Mayer is ready to give it up to anybody who wants a monkey of that kind. Surrogate F. D. Pedrick, the owner of the animal, who had the beast locked up on a disorderly conduct charge, is anxious to be rid of it.

Mrs. Maggie Hicks, the wife of Rev. A. H. Hicks, one of the men who helped to build Tulsa, left Saturday night for Lincoln, Neb., to spend some time with her daughter.

Mr. J. A. Walton, who has been in Texas for some time, returned home last week.

Miss Savory, the new Y. W. C. A. Secretary arrived here last Saturday, and is now in charge.

Mrs. J. N. Calloway and son of Tuskegee Institute, accompanied the daughters of Mr. R. J. Hill home, and will be the guest of the Hill family during the summer.

"Earth's Great Jubilee" will be the subject of the lecture to be delivered by Mr. Richard J Hill, Sunday at 3 o'clock. The public is invited.

Mr. M. J. Wolker left Sunday night for Los Angeles, Calif., to join Mrs. Walker, who has been there for some time.

Miss Pearl Smith, one of the Sun's good friends, recently gave us a year's subscription for the paper.

Mrs. Edward H. Morris, wife of Attorney Edward Morris, has the distinction of being the second Colored woman to graduate from a law college in Illinois, having recently graduated and successfully passed the bar examination.—The Broad Ax.

IF DEATH IS WHAT YOU WANT DEATH YOU SHALL HAVE

There are many readers of this paper who have had and are now having the subject "Millions now living will never die" called to their attention and while thousands are rejoicing to hear this message of the hour there are others who turn up their nose and shake their heads in disgust and possibly make the remark that they know that they and everybody else are going to die. I beg to say that such persons have no scripture, when rightly understood, to back the idea that everybody must go into death from this time on, and the worst of all they are so blinded with false doctrine and know so little of God's plan to give the meek or humanity (not including the church, the spirit begot that they will not even make an intelligent investigation to see if such things could possibly be true.

Dear reader please remember that life everlasting upon this earth will not be forced upon any body. If you believe that you and everybody else are going to die and you don't care to understand that the scripture teaches that there are millions of persons now living that will not go into death, you may rest sure that you are one of those who will not pass through this time of trouble (between this and the end of 1925) you will get your desire —death because the desire of all nations shall come.—Hagai 2:7.

The scripture plainly teaches that God will shorten this great time of trouble when it breaks loose in full, in order that some flesh will be saved. —Matt. 24:21-22.

The scripture also teaches that because of the hard heartedness of the people two-thirds (2-3) of the people of the whole earth will go into death and one-third (1-3) the meek, the teachable will be spared alive and permitted to enjoy the blessings of everlasting life on this earth.—Zecharia 13:8-9.

It is just now time to preach this doctrine. God has his times and reasons. It would have been wrong and largely untrue to preach this to the world before 1914.

Richard J. Hill.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

From the Los Angeles Times we quote:

"In short, religion has decided to adopt the methods of big business and brilliant financial co-operation, whatever its other multitudious differences may be. Our Christian pastors and masters tell us, vide the advertisements, that 'business associations, governments and the leaders of the great religious bodies have surveyed world conditions, and their verdicts all agree' that nothing but millions can buy salvation for a 'world torn with war.' And they are probably right, since that same world which, we are told 'a great shaft of light has struck,' boasts few humble carpenters and fishermen to renounce all worldly comforts—disciples to follow a possessionless Master today.

"Those expensive advertisements teem with ironical truths. 'The least pretentious business concerns now train their sales forces; can the churches do less, they demand. 'In America we must have Sunday school experts, Bible teachers, skilled fishers of men.' How very far we have traveled from the simplicity of Jesus, from the Sermon on the Mount, from that sublime doctrine, free and gratis for all who cared to take. "The realization of humanity's need for Christ at this time has followed with sudden, blinding brilliance, not unlike that which came to Saul of Tarsus,' we are told. But Sauls of Tarsus seem to be peculiarly rare. Rather are they forsaking the ministry on all sides because of the meager worldly reward entailed. Nothing but millions can lure them back, or create new Sauls. Our modern Sauls don't accrue without expert training and the promised reward of high salaries.

"Every item in those expensive advertisements is quite logical. One cannot take issue with a single assertion. They all reek of efficient promise, of indubitable statements as to conditions and needed reforms. And yet, somehow, they leave us with a feeling of irony that Christianity should have come to such a pass. Perhaps it is the glaring omission of exhortation to our spiritual duty—only our financial duty is emphasized. We are not asked to each and every one of us constitute ourselves a personal missionary without pay. We are not asked to examine the condition of our souls, our own lives, our own spiritual practices; we are only exhorted to pay for the religious education of others, the religious improvement of others. There are numerous paragraphs beginning, 'Your money will,' etc., explaining just how much 'other people's service" it will buy. There are paragraphs referring to our 'duty,' but they all appertain to providing the money for 'other people's duties.' In fact, there is a general impression of buying ourselves off from personal duties other than money and, as the advertisements themselves declare, 'It were folly to think that money alone could carry Christianity forward; the main problem has always been leaders.' 'We must continue to send out men and women who will carry the Christ life into their businesses, their recreations, and their homes.' Send 'other people' out—you seem not necessarily to be those people yourselves. 'Unless you falter, a generation of trained Christian leaders will make your children bless your name,' is another form of exhortation—our faltering strickly taking the form of failing with the shekels.

"They will raise their hundred millions, * * * but unless most of us take our Christianity more personally and individually, unless we recognize a few other requirements in ourselves beside furnishing the money, our reputed Christianity isn't going to do the world much good, and our financial credit won't cut much ice in heaven."

The Way of Women.

When the once-wealthy Mrs. Blank parted from her husband and decided to work for her living, she became a housemaid. Her first employer was a woman who, in other days, had been one of her own servants. It seemed a queer thing to do, but "the wretch always worried me by giving me notice," said the lady in reduced circumstances viciously; "she must hav edone it a half dozen times. So I took the position—to give her notice, the wretch. And I did it, too, after the first week." —Bulletin (Sydney.)

West Africans and the Dictionary.

The "educated" West African negro rivals the Babu in the artless art of misusing English polysyllables. As he appears also to nourish get-rich-quick ideas he bombards firms whose names he finds in the directory with proposals to do big business. A Manchester man who collects these epistles has just received one which winds up with "trusting you are to the same homogeneous cattagory, yoirs equitably, T. E. Atkins."—Manchester Guardian.

Air of Remarkable Purity.

The air is so pure in Arequipa, Peru, that from the observatory at that place, 8,050 feet above the sea, a black spot, one inch in diameter, placed on a wide disc, has been seen a distance of 11 miles through a 13 inch telescope.

TUESDAY STUDY CLUB HAS INTESESTING MEETING

The Tuesday Study Club held a meeting of unusual interest in that it was "Oklahoma Day," of the club's calendar of programs. Roll call was answered by naming Oklahoma writers.

Mrs. S. C. Vinson, as leader, gave a brief outline history of Oklahoma. This was followed with a short sketch of the early political history of Oklahoma by Mrs. L. H. Henley.

A paper, "Pioneer Days of Oklahoma," read by Mrs. W. E. Sunday, was especially interesting and was supplemented with many reminescences of the struggles of the early pioneers of Oklahoma.

"Industries of Oklahoma," was the subject of a well written paper by Mrs. Walter Davis, who told of the many industries that mark the growth of Oklahoma as an industrial center.

The careers of two of Oklahoma's most prominent women were much discussed. Mrs. George Hale led in detailing incidents and characteristics which have caused "Miss Alice" to be one of the nation's leading representatives in congress, while Mrs. Joe Anderson told of the great work for humanity accomplished by Kate Bernard and her efforts in prison reform.

LEGION TO HAVE SPEAKER HERE ARMISTICE NIGHT

The local American Legion Post has made arrangements for Col. Ira L. Reeves, manager of the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce, to speak in Claremore on the night of Armistice Day, Friday, November 11th. Further announcements will follow.

COLORED I. B. S. A. HAS GOOD MEETING

At the I. B. S. A. meeting at the court house, A very respectful crowd gathered to hear Richard J. Hill, but he was not there. Having been called out of Tulsa on an important mission, Julius Johnson also of Tulsa filled the appointment, and proved himself a most interesting speaker, and a profound Bible scholar. Calling on members of the congregation to read from their Bibles quotations which he called for, from memory, showing that Jehovah has promised to redeem man from death, Hosea 13-14. That he promised Abraham that in Him and his seed, all the families of the earth should be blessed, Gen 12-3. Showing furthere that all of the Prophets, foretold that it was Jehovah's purpose to grant restoration blessings to the human race, Acts 3-24. Having read many quoations from the prophecies clearly establishing the point. Then coming to the New Testament Jesus plainly said, 'I am here that they might have Life and have it move abundantly," John, 10-10. Again he said he came to give his life a ransom, a purchase price for man, Matt., 10-28. Again, God so loved the world that be gave his only begotten Son, "That Whosoever Believeth in Him Should not Perish, but have Everlasting Life, John 3-16. That Jesus gave his life a ransom for all, to be testified in due time, Tim.2-5-6. That unless the opportunity comes to man to know the truth, to obey it, and when obdient to live, these promises are a mockery and Christianity a failure; 100 Christians will admit that Christianity is a faiulre, because he knows that God's work must accomplish it purpose: Isiah 55-11.

He proved by many scriptures that the Blessings promised to Abraham and his seed were due to begin at the expriation of the time of the Gentiles.

Then proving by the Scriptures that the time of the Gentiles ended in the fall of 1914. Citing our Lord's own prophecy in Matt 24, that Christian people expected the time of trouble and the breaking up process to begin at that time as indeed it did. The war came pust on time, the pestilence, the famine, have and are even now wonderfuly afflicting the peoples of earth. The revolution has upset many governments and is even now threatening the social fabric of the world. Jesus further stated that at that time there would be great disfailing them for fear of what they see coming on the earth. He further states that as it was in the days of Noah so should it be at the end of the world. In Noah's day there were giants in the earth; at the present time there are giants. The giants of Noahs day were typical of the giants at this time. Giant corporations are absorbing all smaller ones and controlling all the business interests of the world.

Jesus furthermore said that the Jews would return to Palestine. They are returning, by the Jubilee types, and many other scriptures proved that without a doubt we are very near the time that Jesus referred to when he said, "He that liveth and believeth in Me shall never die," John 11-26, and again, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, if a man keep my saying, he shall never see death," John 8-51.

The application of the merit of Christ's sacrificial offering will lift the curse from mankind, and gradually they will be regenerated in body and mind until the obdient of the race will reach a state of human perfection and continue to live and, not die. Then will be fulfilled the prophetic words of the Master, spoken through John the Revalator: "And I saw a new Heaven and a new Earth for the first Heaven and the first Earth were passed away," Rev., 21-1-6.

Then taking up the questions which had been asked of which there were quite a number. He proved himself equal to the occasion by, at once calling for scripture reading which answered and proved satisfactory each one.—Contributed.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT METHODIST CHURCH

All the services were exceptionally good. The Sunday School, altho badly crowded, is full of interest and enthusiasm for all.

Rev. O. B. Morris, District Superintendent, of the Tulsa District, preached at the morning service. A very helpful and inspiring sermon. A duet "My Faith in Thee," was beautifully rendered by Mrs. George Hale and Mrs. Joe Anderson.

At the evening service, Rev. Thomason preached an exceptionally good sermon from the text, "What is Man" dealing with the moral conditions which prevail at the present time.

Mrs. Campbell and son, and mother, accompanied Rev. Campbell here Sunday from Tulsa. He is the pastor of the local Presbyterian church.

Lest We Forget

November 11th, proclaimed by the President of the United States, a National Holiday, marks the third anniversary of the signing of the Armistice which ended the world war.

It is fitting that the Conference on the Limitation of Armament begin on this date.

Those who gave their all that war might be no more have waited patiently for the Governments of the World to justify their sacrifice.

May the Washington Conference make a real beginning toward permanent peace.

On Armistice Day, November 11th, this bank will be closed. National Holiday.

TUX CHAMBERS MARRIES NASHVILLE GIRL

On Thursday, November 3rd, at Tulsa, Mr. Tux Chambers, of this city, and Miss Gladys Schubert, of Nashville, Tenn., were united in marriage by Judge Williams, of Tulsa. They are spending a few days in Claremore with relatives and friends before leaving for Nashville to make their future home. The bride is a former Claremore girl, having attended school here at one time.

LOCAL BOY'S OIL LAND BRINGS BIG BONUS

One hundred and sixty acres of oil lands, owned by Earl Berryhill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Berryhill, of this city, was leased at Sapulpa Saturday for a bonus of $350,000. There were many bidders and the price started off at $225,000. The Gypsy Oil Company was the successful bidder.

The Gypsy Oil Company has been operating this lease and had a sort of advantage in the bidding from the fact that their equipment is already on the lease. The lease came up for re-letting because the old lease expired. Aside from receiving the bonus of $350,000, young Berryhill gets 1-8th of all of the oil and gas produced. The lease has 245 barrels daily settled production at this time.

Mrs. Walter Burgess is again on the sick list.

Mrs. G. O. Bayless, Mrs. G. D. Davis, Mrs. M. M. Bayless and Mrs. Carrie Allen, of Cassville, Mo., spent Tuesday in Miami visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ross R. Bayless.

BLACK BILLY SUNDAY SCORES HEAVILY IN DEBATE ON THE DOCTRINE OF HELL---AS THE PLACE OF TORMENT

ATTORNEY RICHARD J. HILL, AN EARSTWHILE RUSSELLITE NO MATCH FOR THE FIGHTNIG PARSON.

BIG CONVENTION HALL, TULSA'S LARGEST AUDITORIUM SCENE OF THE CLASH.

(Special Staff Correspondence)—National Negro Press Service.

Friday, June 18th will go down in the history of Tulsa, Oklahoma a day long to be remembered by the great crowd of both races that witnessed the much heralded religious debate on the subject of "Hell Fire and Brimstone as the place of Literal Torment for the Wicked." In spite of the inclement weather, early in the evening scores of men and women of both races were making their way to the big convention hall, one of Tulsa's largest auditoriums which had been secured for this forscenic clash between these Gospel gladiators. The cause leading up to the discussion was an unwarranted, an inexcusable attack on the negro ministry by Attorney Richard J. Hill, a clientless lawyer and earstwhile follower of the late Pastor Russell, of Milleneum Dawnism fame. Since the imprisonment of Attorney Ruthford, these delude followers of old Pastor Russell has been somewhat under cover. But they have been quietly working among the negroes, and where ever they can enlist a negro such as this Jobless Barister they furnish money from their slush fund to carry on their wicked insidous propaganda through the publication of a set of so-called Bible discourses in local papers purported to be delivered, when in fact these so-called sermons are prepared in New York and sent out to such men as Attorney Richard J. Hill and given publicity under their names. It was one of these so-called discourses in which the eminent Preacher Barrister grew bold and flayed the negro preachers whom he classed as a set of ignorant "Hell Fire and Brimstone Peddlers," whom he challenged to meet him in a debate and defend the Bible doctrins of Hell as a place of eternal torment. Evangelist J. Gordon McPherson, who is known throughout the country as "Black Bi'ly Sunday," was holding a big revival at Muskogee, Oklahoma. Upon reading this difie accepted the same and date was set. On the night of the debate scores of secret followers of Russellism, among the white people crowded the auditorium to root for their champion, the man of Gath like Goliah of old. After the singing of the old song on "Christ, the Solid Rock," the debaters were introduced and they were warmly received with thunderous applauses.

Master of Ceremonies Attorney E. M. Guess then presented as the first speaker Black Billy, who in masterful way defended the Orthodox doctrin of Hell as a Place of Literal Fire for the Eternal Punishment of the Wicked. He tore into Russellism in his characteristic style and shattered their claims with his unanswerable scriptural argument that set the big audience wild with enthusiasm.

Attorney Hill came on the scene and made a futile effort to rebut the defense put by his eloquent opponent, but his very feeble effort proved that he was no match for the fighting parson, who handled him about in the same way that Jack Johnson handled Jim Jefferies some years ago out in the sage brush state.

What was expected to have been a Hell roaring time so far as Mister Hill was concerned proved to be a very tame affair as this so-called learned minister-lawyer did not make as good a showing as a ten- year old school boy in a corner lot confab. He spent an hour reading a little school boy declamation, but never went in a thousand miles of his proof that Hell was a myth. The nearest he came to it was when he said that Pastor Russell in his life time had put out the Preachers Hell. But Black Billy met his flimsy arguments and drove him from shelter, defended the ministry, scored heavily on Barrister Hill, and his delusion that could only be the insane ravings of a reprobate mind. At the conclusion hundreds of men and women rushed to the rostrum to shake the hand of the warrior preacher, who had journeyed from the capitol city of the great Lone Star state to defend the Gospel, and give a sound rebuke in scriptural defense of the Orthodox belief of the Christian church, and to silence a s'anderer of the Gospel Ministry. In this Black Billy has rendered a great service to the church and race by his fearless exposures of Russellism here in Tulsa, among the negroes, by this puppet hirelings, who would sell their souls for a mess of pottage in order to get their mugs and names in the newspaper. Tis' truly said by one of old fools, "Rush where Angels Dare to Tread."

BOWER NEWS.

A great number of the Grayson and Battles singers attended singing here Sunday afternoon and we must say the musical "tide rolled high." A great time was had and we were loth to leave the place, but about 4 o'clock the benediction was pronounced and we set out for our homes wishing for many more such glad times. Come again. / We are always glad to see you.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Coffee of Wilburton were visiting relatives here Sunday.

The E. Newkirk family attended church at Gowen Sunday.

Quite a number of the Bower young folks saw the circus at Wilburton Friday night.

TROOP 4 WINS CAGING HONORS

First Teams Must Play One, Or Possibly Two More Games.

The final scheduleed battle between the Boy Scout basketball teams was staged last night at the high school gymnasium, although one more game will be necessary to determine the champion of the first teams.

The second team championship has already been won by troop 4, but there remains a game between the first teams of troops 2 and 3 for the pennant. However, should the troop 3 clan pick the honors in the coming game, a tie will exist with troop 5, which will make it necessary to play one more game. The championship game will be played next Wednesday night.

Five games were played last night. Troop 3 first team took the honors from troop 2 by a 19 to 7 score; troop 5 second team shut out troop 1 in the last half without a score, and won by a score of 8 to 2; troops 2 and 3, second teams, clashed, resulting in a 19 to 2 score by the latter; troop 3, third team, won over troop 4 by a 5 to 2 score; and the principal game of the day was staged between the first teams of troops 1 and 5, resulting in a 25 to 9 victory for troop 5.

That troop 5 will win the pennant is likely now, W. J. Hiatt, scout executive, said. The pennants have been ordered and will be here probably next week, he said.

POOR "BUCK", LOOK AT HIM!

No Longer Can He Doll Up, With Non-Regulation Togs.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The snappy "buck private" with visions of out-shining his comrades by the use of a few non-regulation touches around his attire, received with regret today the news that Secretary Weeks had issued an order placing a ban on all non-regulation clothing.

In February 1919, a war department order was issued permitting the wearing of certain non-uniform articles procured during the war emergency. Today's order rescinded that ruling and hereafter officers and men alike will be required to adhere strictly to regulation clothing.

FRED STROUD RECOVERING.

Boy Who Was Shot Accidentally, On Road to Getting Well.

Fred Stroup, 15-year-old boy who was accidentally shot in the left shoulder Tuesday while out hunting, was reported last night as being recovering rapidly. He is in a hospital here.

The boy was shot when a shotgun which was leaning against his shoulder was accidentally discharged. Young Stroups shoulder was badly torn and a large number of shots were removed it is said.

SO GERTIE MAY KNOW.

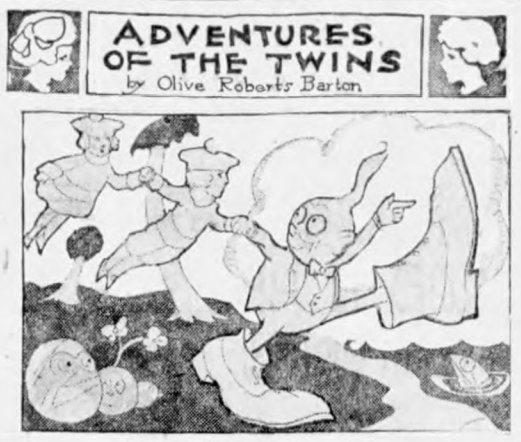
DETROIT, March 23.—On an adhesive plaster, product of her jaded in a New Jersey factory, Gertrude McGillicuddy wrote her name and address. Edward Ratner of Detroit bought the plaster for his sore side the other day. He stood the name. So did his wife. What's the use?



Off they whizzed, the three of them.

"A Queer Land"

"Let's hunt for Mrs. Kangaroo," said Nick. "Does she live near Sqiteak, the circus elephant?"

Mr. Flippety-Flap, the fairy-man, shook his head. "Nope! Nothing like! She couldn't be happy with a million tree-trunks in the road everywhere. She has to have room to stretch her long legs. She lives in a nice grassy plain, far, far away over the ocean. And say, talk about magic shoes, she's got it all over us, my dears! She goes to market in three steps, and leg is quite a summer's vacation. She could be round the world and back again while you and I were getting started, she goes so fast, and takes such long strides."

Nancy looked discouraged. "Then how can we ever find her?" she declared. "Our Green Shoes won't help us one bit."

"You never can tell," answered the fairyman, "but I'm thinking that we shall have to use our wits. Come along, kiddies. S'hoos we start."

Off they whizzed, the three of them in their Magic Shoes, to the place where Mrs. Kangaroo lived. To cross the wide rolling ocean was but the matter of a minute or two, perhaps one and a half minutes at the most, they soon arrived in a very curious place.

Some people call it Australia, and some call it Topsy-Turvy Land, although it wasn't the same Topsy-Turvy Land that the fairies visited on their travels. That Topsy-Turvy Land was in Fairyland and this Topsy-Turvy Land is in the earth.

No wonder it's called so! The flowers grow the loveliest in the world, but have no smell. The birds are the most gorgeous in creation, but cannot sing a note. And the animals—queerest things you ever saw. Look at Mrs. Kangaroo.

LAUNCH SPEED BOAT.

Naval Cruiser Milwaukee Will Take to Water Tomorrow.

TACOMA, Wash., March 23.—The United States naval scout cruiser, Milwaukee, a sister ship of the Omaha—first of her kind—will be launched here tomorrow. Mrs. Rudolph Pfeil, Jr., of Milwaukee, will christen the boat.

The Milwaukee, like the Omaha, which was launched in December, and the Cincinnati which is to be launched within a few weeks, is 550 feet in length and her engines will generate 100,000 horsepower.

Her speed is expected to be about 35 knots, or about forty miles an hour, making her one of the fastest boats in the navy.

TO HEAR 70 CASES.

Judge Christopher Faces Big Docket At Henryetta.

Over 70 criminal cases are set on the superior court docket at Henryetta for trial at the March term of court which opens there Monday, March 28, with Judge H. E. Christopher presiding.

Although liquor cases outnumber any other class of cases, several important assault and murder trials will be called.

EGGS DROP IN "WAR."

DUBUQUE, Ia., March 23.—In a price war among four grocers here today, eggs dropped from 28 cents to 11 cents a dozen with an unlimited supply to all customers.

CAPTURE ESCAPED CONVICTS.

SHAWNEE, Okla., March 23.—Three escaped convicts were captured here early this morning by local police after they had looted the Odil department store at Hildreville of over $1,000 worth of merchandise. They were returned to McAlester today.

BAR FOR0S PAPER.

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 23.—Henry Ford's weekly newspaper, the Dearborn Independent was barred from sale on the streets of Toledo today by Chief of Police Herbert. The order was issued after a street fight among newsboys which crowded the police station.

SMELTER REOPENS DOORS.

FT. SMITH, Ark., March 23.—The Arkhola Mining and Smelter company, whose zinc smelter here has been shut down since January 31 last, resumed operations today. One hundred and fifty men who chose to have a shut-down rather than to have reduced wages were re-employed and the plant is to operate at full capacity.

HOW DID GUARDIAN OBTAIN OIL LAND?

Richard J. Hill, Tulsa Negro, Has Hands Full of Business in Two Okmulgee County Courts.

Richard J. Hill, a Tulsa negro, will have to explain in two courts, how he happens to be in possession of an estate valued at more than $200,000 which, until last year, was the property of his ward, Martha Barney.

Hill is going to have a session in the district court and another in the county court. Before he is relieved of his responsibilities in connection with his guardianship he is going to be compelled to produce his former ward in court even though he says to take her away from her studies at Tuskegee, where it found convenient to send her to school, would be detrimental to her welfare. Martha Barney, the ward, attained her majority in 1919, and on the day after she reached her birthday, she is said to have deeded all her property to Hill and his wife. It consists largely of oil land upon which are many rich wells.

Last week Hill appeared before County Judge Hugh Murphy and asked for 30 days in which to complete his guardianship report. His appearance was in response to a citation issued by Judge Murphy who noted that the statutory time limit had passed and that Hill had not filed his report.

Hill pleaded illness and said he couldn't complete his report in less time, but Judge Murphy ruled against him and gave him 15 days in which to complete it, being it into court and also produce Martha Barney.

In the meantime, Martha's uncle, Joe Barney, went into the district court and charged Hill and his wife with obtaining title to the land through fraud.

The guardian's report is due next Wednesday. Beginning on that day, and continuing for several days it is expected that the Tulsa negro will find his time well occupied.

LIBELOUS STORY ANGERS MURPHY

Negro Would Go To Jail, If He Could Prove He Wrote It.

An article in the Tulsa Star, negro newspaper, a few weeks ago came near sending Richard J. Hill, negro, one of the owners of the publication, and also former guardian of the $200,000 estate of Martha Birney, negro girl, to jail Friday.

And if County Judge Hugh Murphy could have obtained positive proof that Hill was responsible for the article in which Judge Murphy was accused of fraud in connection with the rich negro girl's property, he would have him sent to jail, he said.

Several weeks ago Hill came to Okmulgee for a hearing on a guardianship report of the girl's property and Judge Murphy refused to hear the report until Hill brought the girl, who became of age about a year ago, and who was at that time in a school at Tuskegee, before him.

A short time later the article appeared in the Tulsa negro newspaper, which gave a full account of the controversy, and described Judge Murphy as one who was attempting to defraud the girl, while Hill was using his influence in preserving the valuable properties.

And that wouldn't have been so bad, Judge Murphy declared, had he not been sent one of the papers and the article marked so that it would not be overlooked.

Hill appeared before Judge Murphy again Friday for a hearing of the report and at the conclusion the county judge questioned Hill concerning the article. Hill emphatically denied having anything to do with the [illegible] stated that he would not [illegible] party to such an action.

"You say you didn't write it, but I don't believe you. If I could prove that you did I would send you to jail," Judge Murphy told the negro.

The negro had to be ordered into court in order to get any report of the girl's property, according to Judge Murphy. It is said that the day after the Birney woman became of age, Hill obtained a deed from her conveying to his wife some of her property.

OLD SKELETON JINGLES

Troubles of Divorced Couple Again Aired in Court.

The family troubles of Dr. T. E. Crawford and his wife well known family of Beggs did not cease four years ago when the court granted her a divorce.

Yesterday the court was called upon again to listen to their misfortunes when a motion for additional money to care for the two children now in Mrs. Crawford's care, was heard by Judge John Norman in district court.

When the divorce question was settled, Dr. Crawford was ordered to pay $10 each month for the support of the two boys, but his divorced wife sent them away to a private school and the expenses were much greater, she said. She wanted more money to assist in their support.

After hearing numerous troubles by Mrs. Crawford, Judge Norman decided that Dr. Crawford should pay $20 each for the boys' upkeep.

Mrs. Crawford operates a rooming house at Beggs and she declared that when oil went down some time ago her income was made much smaller and she said she is now unable to keep the children in school.

Dr. Crawford now lives at Drayton.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"Oh," she cried, 'what shall I do? The water's half way to my ceiling."

SAVED.

"Kachoo!" went on muskrat baby. "Sniffle, sniffle," went another through his little pink nose.

And the third one coughed.

"Land a' gracious!" cried out Mrs. Muskrat, putting the baby she had on her lap into its bed of dry sticks and straw, and lifting the others off the floor. "Now your father has done it, tracking enough water into this house to float a battleship! You'll all have your death of dampness." And she went on and on and on that way until Mr. Muskrat's ears must have burned off nearly, wherever he was.

But when Mrs. Muskrat looked at the floor again, there was more water than ever. Really it was quite an inch higher, and the roaring sound outside was louder than ever.

In another minute the water was still higher, quite over her ankles, and the babies' beds were beginning to rock like little boats. Indeed, every time Mrs. Muskrat looked the water had risen still further up the walls, and by and by she grew so alarmed that she forgot to scold.

What could have happened? Where was so much water coming from? Why didn't Mr. Muskrat come home? Would the water ever stop or would it keep getting higher and higher in the little house until all the babies were— She dared not think of it even, she was a good swimmer herself and could have easily ducked through theiff front door under the creek, but she couldn't leave the babies. They couldn't swim yet, or hold their breaths under water. It was a trick they had yet to learn.

"Oh!" she cried, "what shall I do? The water's half way to my ceiling!"

Just then she saw daylight overhead, and a hole that kept getting bigger and bigger. Then a little plump head reached in and lifted her out.

It was Nancy.

DISINTERESTEDNESS.

"Are you sure that your escort has been distinguished by unselfishness?"

"I am," replied Senator Sorghum. "I've watched myself into a hearing with the people in Congress, and none of whom could come out against me and I vote for me every time. I expect to get re-elected."—From The Washington Star.
